After an existence of half a century, the Lakefield Fair is still a pretty spry youngster, and it is an interesting fact that the fiftieth annual affair was in many respects the best in the history of the society, which has in the past been famous for the excellent quality of its annual fairs. Fifty years ago the society held its first fair, and each year since that time it has increased in popularity, and, consequently in size, until now it has completely outgrown the present grounds, and this year it was found necessary to purchase larger grounds, and next year it is hoped that the Fair will be held in the new and enlarged quarters. Nine acres of land, on the west side of the river, have been purchased, and buildings will be erected there next year and a track constructed, and it is expected that with the presence of these larger grounds, the fair will enter upon a new and expanding era in its existence, and that the success of the past, gratifying as it has been, will be but small compared with that of the future.

It is a fact of considerable significance, that the fiftieth fair should be the last to be held on the old grounds, and it is also a fact which is pleasing to the directors of the society that this farewell show on the old grounds should be such a successful one.

The attendance was the largest in the history of the fair, and the grounds were crowded, affording an evidence of the fact, that new and larger grounds were badly needed. The weather man was good to the Lakefield Fair directors, and on both Tuesday and Wednesday Old Sol was on his best behaviour, so that there is nothing to complain of on that score. In fact it would be hard to imagine any feature in connection with the whole fair, in reference to which there would be any room for complaint.

The directors last night were a very highly pleased lot of men, and not without reason, and on every hand were heard opinions expressed that the fair this year was the best in the history of the society, and the directors, many of whom have spent years in that capacity, may well feel that their past record has been a creditable one, and one of which they have no reason to feel ashamed.

The Lakefield Fair is recognized as one of the best township fairs in this district, and yesterday's show was one which certainly bore out the reputation, for in every detail it was an unqualified success.

At this, the golden jubilee of its history, it may not be out of place to refer briefly to the inception of the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society, and compare it with that of the present day.:

The society was organized in Lakefield, in the month of January, 1855. At the meeting Mr. Emanuel Mann presided as chairman, and Mr. M. S. Dean acted as secretary. The following were elected officers at the meeting: President, Lewis Davis; Vice-President, Emanuel Mann; Secretary, M. S. Dean; Treasurer, Jas. Man; Directors, John T. Milburn,

An Exciting Chase For a Fair Fakir

A Shell Game Operator at Lakefield Yesterday.

Broke Away From the Constable and Made His Escape.

At the Lakefield Fair yesterday an exciting incident took place, when the local constable, assisted by a number of persons who had been bitten at a shell game, undertook to chase the perpetrator of the fraud off the grounds, and arrest him.

This fakir, with two cappers, was operating on the street, near the Craig House, when Mr. H. C. Garbutt, the vice-president of the Society, as soon as his attention had been called to the matter, went quietly over to the operator and informed him that he would have to cease his work, as the directors would not allow him to carry on his trade within 200 yards of the grounds.

He promised to stop work, and not to resume operations, but it was only a short time that word was brought to the directors that the man was again operating, this time inside the grounds.

The local constable was sent for and he succeeded in getting the fakir in his clutches, and was taking him through the field, to place him under arrest, when he broke away from him and made a sprint through the crowd, and gaining the street he made a line for the lumber piles across the river from the agricultural grounds, and escaped, though by this time the constable had been reinforced by a number of assistants some of whom had fallen victims to the fake. But the man made good his escape, and did not return during the day.

Before he was stopped, however, he had succeeded in worrying considerable money out of the men who were in town for the fair.

Thrown From a Stock-Rack; Thos. Evans Seriously Injured

Distressing Accident Occurred in Smith Township This Morning--Fractious Team Makes Dash Into Ditch By the Roadside--Patient Sustains Fracture of Collar-bone and Serious Injury to His Head--Now at the Nicholls Hospital.

Thomas Evans, an engineer, well known in Peterborough, was this morning the unfortunate victim of an accident attended by most distressing consequences, while driving in to the city from Emily.

The accident occurred near the residence of Mr. James Middleton, Smith Township, as Mr. Evans was driving in to the city with Mr. Evans Storey, from the latter's residence in Emily Township. The two gentlemen were seated upon a stock-rack upon a wagon, Mr. Storey driving, when his team, a spirited pair of horses, took fright at a wagon driven by Mr. J. J. Bowden, which approached from behind. The horses dashed madly into the ditch at the road-side, throwing both gentlemen from their seats, in the overturning of the vehicle. Mr. Storey courageously clung to the reins, and the now infuriated animals were whirled around six times before brought to a standstill.

Mr. Evans sustained injuries, the result of which can scarcely be predicted, but it is hoped that, unless untoward complications ensue, he will recover. Besides a serious fracture of the collar-bone, he sustained painful injuries to his head.

A severe gash was inflicted above the right eye, while the right ear was almost severed. The patient was removed by Mr. J. J. Bowden to his butcher shop and was immediately taken to the Nicholls Hospital where the fracture was reduced and other injuries attended to by Dr. Morgan. The extent of the internal injuries can scarcely be determined, but it is hoped that despite his advanced age of 70 years, he may recover. He is resting as easily as may be expected.

Mr. Evans is well known upon Kawartha waters where for many years he has been engaged upon the steamers as an engineer. He has recently resided in Omemee.

The Convention at Fairmount

Yesterday in the Fairmount Methodist church, the annual convention of the Women's Missionary Society, of the Peterborough District was held, with a large attendance from this city.

The convention was most successful. A more complete report of the different sessions, will be published to-morrow.

Roy Cavanagh's Condition To-day

An inquiry at St. Joseph's Hospital to-day regarding the condition of Mr. Roy Cavanagh, who was so seriously injured at the Keene fair on Tuesday, elicited the information that he was resting quietly, with no apparent change in his condition. He has not yet regained consciousness.

Lakefield Fair's Golden Jubilee

John Thomas, Matthew Waram, John Galvin, Joseph Treanum, Charles Taylor, Isaac Garbutt, Edward Sanderson, and Adam Hall; Auditors, Mann; Directors, John T. Milburn, The first exhibition was held at Bridgenorth on October 6th, 1855. In those days the Society handled quite a quantity of seeds and plaster for its members; for among the entries in the treasurer's books we find that £71, 14 shillings and 3 pence was paid for clover seed; £3, 12 shillings and 6 pence for turnip seed, and £109, 7 shillings and 6 pence for land plaster. The total receipts of the society for that year amounted to £241, 14 shillings and 9 1-2 pence; while the payments amounted to £246, 9 shillings and 3 pence; leaving a balance due the treasurer of £4, 14 shillings and 5 1-2 pence. The amount paid out for prize money was £28. Following are a few of the prize winners at this exhibition, and the amount won:

Best brood mare and foal—1 Thos. Bell, 15 shillings; 2 Emanuel Mann, 10 shillings.

Best yoke of working oxen — 1 Thos. Bell, 15 shillings; 2 Emanuel Mann, 10 shillings.

Best aged ram—1 Isaac Garbutt, 15 shillings; 2 James Mann, 10 shillings.

Best boar—1 Henry Down, 12 shillings and 6 pence; 2 T. C. Robinson, 10 shillings.

Best two bushels of winter wheat —1 S. Manning, 15 shillings; 2 J. T. Milburn, 10 shillings.

Best half acre of Swede turnips—M. Waram, 15 shillings; 2 G. Fitzgerald, 10 shillings; 3 James Mann, 5 shillings.

Best butter—1 G. Fitzgerald, 2 M. Waram, 3 James Mann.

Ploughman, under 21 years old—1 Thos. Young, Jr., 20 shillings; 2 Edward Fitzgerald, 15 shillings; 3 Charles Fairbairn, 10 shillings; 4 Thomas Walker, 7 shillings and 6 pence.

It will thus be seen that some of the ancestors of the men who are today prominent in the society, were its originators, and among them be mentioned the names of Garbutt, Mann, Taylor, Fitzgerald and Milburn.

The officers of the society for this year are:—

President—R. Q. Dench.
Vice-President—H. C. Garbutt.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. Sherin.
Hon. Directors—T. E. Bell, G. J. Galvin and C. Quinn.
Directors—John Fairbairn, Ed. Fitzgerald, G. W. Mann, Wm. Leahy, R. Garbutt, Thos. Fitzgerald, S. Wallace, A. Johnson and F. E. Kime.
Auditors—W. M. Graham and A. Fairbairn.

The dominating feature of the fall fairs this year seems to be the universal excellence of the live stock exhibits, and in this respect Lakefield was no exception to the general rule. All classes of live stock were well represented, but in horses especially the showing was particularly meritorious, and while the draught horses were good, the roadster and carriage classes predominated. Some splendid animals were shown, and in this respect the fair of 1905 will be recorded as the best in the whole fifty years of its history. Some interesting trials of speed were seen in the ring, and some good sport provided.

In cattle the beef breeds were the most numerous, the grades and Durhams being largely represented. There was also the usual good showing of sheep and hogs.

In the building the exhibits were worthy of special mention. The fruit, and dairy products created considerable very favourable comment, and the ladies' work was also very fine and worthy of much larger shows.

"Remnants of a manure fork made in Peterborough in the early forties, from an old country model."

This was the legend on an entry tag attached to a quaint looking manure fork, which claimed a place on one of the exhibit tables.

This fork had three long prongs, three inches apart, made of the best Swedish iron, and was still perfect and unbroken after so many years use. This curiosity was viewed with feelings of sombre reflection by old farmers. It was owned by President Dench, who has a sort of reverence for old articles.

Those who were exhibitors at this year's fair, with the class of their exhibits were:—

Two good races, a free-for-all and a green race were seen, the results being as follows:

Free-for-all—

Happy King, Dr. Johnston ...	2	1	1
Cadiac, W. Leahy...	1	2	2
Lady Almonte...	3	3	3

Green Race

S. Blewett.....	1	1
J. Bushell.....	2	2
T. Milburn	3	3
W. J. Bullock.....	4	4

The novelty race also aroused considerable interest, and resulted as follows—S. Blewett, Jas. Bushell and I. Snelgrove. The conditions of the race were, horse and cart to be unhitched. Horse to be hitched, trot once, walk once and trot once around the ring and then unhitched.

The prizes awarded in the ladies' driving class were, Miss Garbutt, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. N. Nichols.

There was strong competition in the contest for prizes in the class for best outfit. The farmers of that district are apparently taking pride in possessing a good horse and buggy. The winners were J. J. Bickell, W. B. Deyell, T. Milburn.

In the class for span of horses over 15 1-2 hands high the winners were H. J. Hall and J. Warren, while in spans of horses under 15 1-2 hands the first went to Ald. R. H. Leary, the second to W. L. Taylor and the third to I. Snelgrove.

The prizes for the best saddle horses went to Bruce Snelgrove, G. Mann and W. Clifford.

Bruce Snelgrove also got first for gentleman rider on horseback over hurdles, Geo. Mann getting second prize.

The judges in horses were Ira Nattress and W. Larmer, Millbrook, and W. Shearer, Peterborough.

The directors and officers of the society have every reason to feel proud of the success of the fair of 1905, and they are full of hopes that with the new grounds the successes of the past will be more than duplicated. The receipts yesterday were $316, a considerable increase over those of 1904.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS

"Happy Thought" Ranges, Stoves and Heaters.

The ever-popular "Happy Thought" Stoves made an indelible impression on the minds of the farmers and farmers' wives, at the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Exhibition. So strongly did they burn into the convictions of admiring lookers, that, acting upon the well-known adage, that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush," orders will be booked for quite a number, and good prospects were made for more.

Mr. Ernie Best, of the Best Stove Company, Hunter street, Peterborough, was the exhibitor. Not content with the unusually large sales of "Happy Thoughts" which he has made in the city of Peterborough during the short time the Best Stove Company has been in business, Mr. Best is determined to win similar popularity for the "Happy Thought" in the country as well. He showed a four-holed "Happy Thought" Range, with reservoir, for coal and wood; an "Honour Bright" wood cook; a Quebec heater, for coal, a sheet iron heater for wood, and other stove supplies. The exhibit was made in a prominent section of the building and caught the eye of the crowd.

These stoves are approved and praised throughout Canada by experts in cooking and heating, because of their many practical improvements. Mr. Best claims that there are no cross cooks where "Happy Thought" stove are used. They are so easy to manage and work, so evenly and perfectly, that baking day is robbed of all its worries. "Happy Thought" stoves are made by the William Buck Stove Company, of Brantford, and their claim to have the largest sale of any stove made in Canada is not disputed. They also manufacture the celebrated "Radiant Home" baseburner, the "Honour Bright" wood cook, Buck's steel ranges and Buck's furnaces. The Best Stove Company of Peterborough, carry a very heavy stock of their stoves, etc., so that farmers and their wives will be wise in spending some time in inspecting their display before selecting their new stoves for the coming winter.

Grafton and Company Stand by Their Guns.

Lakefield's annual exhibition, without Grafton's grand display of clothing would be like "Hamlet" with "Hamlet" left out. Year in, and year out, this firm of clothing manufacturers, leave no stone unturned in persistently keeping the many merits of their high-grade clothing before the public attention, in every part of our country. They stand behind their clothing—every garment they sell has their bona fide guarantee of No. 1 value.

The exhibit made at this year's Fair by the energetic representatives of their Peterborough establishment was a convincing one, and occupied a commanding position in the building. It was attractively trimmed and dressed, and showed the season's brightest styles in men's suits and overcoats, and juvenile clothing. Their most popular claims and mottoes for their clothing, were printed on fancy show cards, which enlivened the exhibit: "Union Made Clothing," "From Maker to Wearer," "No Middlemen's Profits," "Premiums Given Away," told of some of their attractive methods. It was an ideal clothing display, reflecting credit on the manufacturers, the local manager and the men in charge of it, Mr. W. Conway, the manager, was on the grounds renewing acquaintances with many of the patrons of the firm. All over the show grounds, and around the entrance to the building, Grafton's bulletin boards were conspicuous for their number and attractiveness.

Lakefield's Furniture King.

Mr. Geo. Hendren, the go-ahead furniture dealer of Lakefield, was too busy to exhibit at the fair grounds as he frequently has done.

But he made up for it by the splendid publicity given at his double warerooms, nearly opposite the post-office. Since he purchased the corner store, next to the old established stand, he has greatly increased his stock of furniture, filling both stores to overflowing. Ranges, handsome sideboards, dining tables, parlour suites, fancy rockers, iron bedsteads, bedroom suites, mattrasses, pictures, etc., etc., occupy the splendidly lighted warerooms, which are not only a credit to Lakefield, but would be a credit to any city. Further improvements are contemplated by Mr. Hendren, which will put his undertaking department on a par with any city system.

The "Daylight" Clothiers Advertising Campaign.

Although not represented among the special exhibits of the fair building this year, Messrs. Lang & Maher, the "Daylight" Clothiers, of 409-411 George street, Peterborough, were largely in evidence on the show grounds. It seems that considerable damage is done to a display of fine clothing by the dust from the sawdust which covers the floor of the building, so that this firm of tasteful dressers preferred to devote increased attention to other legitimate modes of advertising their clothing. In fact, it might be said, "they went the limit" in this respect this year. Their representatives came straight through from the Keene fair the night previous, after billing that village and the surrounding country equal to a circus company.

After snatching a few hours sleep they stole out quietly into the twilight of the morning to commence their plan of campaign at Lakefield. When daylight appeared the citizens of the village had Lang & Maher on the brain. Their illustrated bulletin boards and hand bills were the talk of the town. What these "Daylight Clothiers," and their invincible representatives, don't know about fair advertising, can't be worth woth knowing.

Speaking to Mr. Lang, who attended the fair in person, he said he did not claim to sell the only correct clothing, but that the grade of clothing carried by his firm, was a sure and lasting cure for the custom-tailor habit.

Said he: "If you have been accustomed to spend all the way from $25 to $30 for your suit, all we ask is that you come to the "Daylight Store," soon, while the stock is at its best, and see our lines of men's and young men's suits, at $10, $12 and $15. And the overcoats, for colder weather, that some men must pay $20 and $22 for, to pay for the fun of having a tape line run round them, we will we will be pleased to show you your fit in swell fall patterns; we carry all sizes, at $12 and $15.

Just at the beginning of the Fair season, Lang and Maher, "hit the nail on the head," by buying the balance of a large manufacturer's stock at a good "wind-up" offer — that means of course less than the cost to manufacture. They are now holding a special sale of these suits and overcoats, and giving their patrons the benefit of their exceptionally low buying. See their advertisements and read their handbills for further particulars of this "Great Clothing Capture."

THE best range thermometer ever invented will not produce satisfactory baking from a poor oven. A fluctuating oven heat means guess-work baking.

The Imperial Oxford oven has a steady, even heat. You don't require to touch the fire or move a damper. Baking with an Imperial Oxford is an exact science. Just place the article in the oven and time it—the oven does the rest. It is the Diffusive Flue of the that makes this possible. This flue draws in fresh air from outside the range, it is superheated and discharged through a grating into the oven. This heated fresh air permeates every part of the oven and keeps it at an even high temperature.

Write us for literature explaining more fully the exclusive features of the Imperial Oxford Range and the address of the nearest dealer who can show it to you. 22

A Presentation To Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McLaughlen

A Highly Respected Belmont Family Honoured on Removal.

Will Reside in Norwood—Sports of the Week in Norwood.

Norwood, Oct. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bradley, having spent the last two weeks with friends here, left on Tuesday for Peterborough, where they will visit Mr. Bradley's parents before leaving for their home in Calgary, Alta.

Mrs. McCullough and daughter, Miss Terry, of Los Angeles, Cal., are guests at the home of Miss J. Stewart, Peterborough street.

Miss Kennedy, head milliner at the "Arcade," spent Sunday and Monday in Toronto.

Messrs. G. E. Mills and W. A. Richardson took in the Campbellford Fair on Friday.

Miss Lottie Blezzard is a guest of her friend, Mrs. A. S. Harrison.

Rev. Mr. Camp, of Havelock, was in town on Tuesday.

On Friday evening the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McLaughlin, of Belmont, met at their homestead to spend a few hours with them before their departure for their new home in Norwood. About one hundred of the neighbours were present, and at the close of a very enjoyable evening Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin were presented with an enamelled pedestead, springs, woollen mattress, handsome china table set and an alligator chatelaine containing $10.

The following address was ready by Mr. Matthew Elliott:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin,—

Many a time and often have we gathered at your invitation to spend a pleasant evening and partake of your hospitality. To-night we have again come to spend yet another such evening, and place upon the minds of us all many pleasant remembrances of the last evening spent in your rural home from which you are now retiring to take up your residence in Norwood.

We know that although uninvited, we are none the less welcome, and we also feel assured that our expressions of appreciation of you as friends and neighbours will be accepted as sincere and entirely void of flattery.

We wish to recall your long and valuable service to us as a director in our cheese factory, in which capacity we have ever looked up to and admired your prudent counsel and frank, outspoken manner; in your almost lifelong service to us as school trustee, you have always exhibited the same wise judgment in all matters pertaining to the welfare of our school; and as a neighbour you have set us an example of the full and true meaning of the term.

We would also mention the many acts of kindness shown to us by your worthy partner, Mrs. McLaughlin, and express our gratitude for the same.

In thus giving free speech to our appreciation of you as a neighbour we ask you to accept these presents, not for their intrinsic worth, but as a memento of our esteem for you.

We regret that you are about to leave our community, but while doing so, we take pleasure in the thought that you have reached that position in life where you can rest on your oars and reap the benefits of a thrifty and industrious past.

May your future life in Norwood be as pleasant as it has been useful and prosperous among us, and may the desire for old acquaintance cause the pleasant countenance of you and of Mrs. McLaughlin to be seen as welcome visitors among us very often.

Signed in behalf of your many friends,

Robt. McConnell,
Thos. McNeely,
Harry Elliott,
Thos. McConnell.

Mr. Duncan Campbell, of the Hastings road, has purchased from Mr. D. Mahoney his brick dwelling on Belmont street; price paid, $1,500.

Mr. Jas. Stewart, of High Bluff, Man., is visiting his mother, Mrs. John Stewart.

Mrs. D. J. McLean and daughter, Marjorie, have returned after a month's visit in Toronto, Manchester and Owen Sound.

Mr. Edwin Seallght, who has been in Seattle, Wash., for the past year, has returned to his old position in the shipping department of the Canadian General Electric Works, Peterborough.

Mr. Geo. Sherry has moved into his residence on Queen street, lately occupied by Mr. T. Fraser, Calgary.

Mr. C. J. Scaright has sold his property on the corner of Peterborough and Pine streets to Mr. T. Grady.

Mrs. A. B. Greenbanks has returned from Lakefield.

Mr. Stanley Hendren's valuable hound was killed on the railway track on Thursday.

Miss Mabel Campbell is spending a few days with friends in Roseneath.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Duffield celebrated their china wedding on Friday evening, Sept. 29th.

Messrs. Jas. Cumming and Tom Miller spent Saturday and Sunday in Warsaw.

Mr. D. J. McLean is moving into his new home on Ridge street, lately vacated by Mr. Geo. Sherry.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Roxburgh, Mr. R. H. Leighton, Miss Edna Leighton, Miss May Archer, B.A., and Mr. W. L. Cameron went out to Stony Lake on Friday.

Mr. Mercer, of Toronto, was in Norwood last week in the interests of the York County Loan and Savings Company.

Mr. J. Crowley, of Port Hope is baking for Messrs. W. H. Tucker & Bro.

Mr. T. Hawthorne spent Sunday with his parents in Warsaw.

Misses Ella and Emma Andrews spent a few days in Lakefield, the guests of Mrs. Fred Richardson.

Mr. Douglas Pettigrew has returned to Dental College, Toronto.

The Norwood Junior Baseball team went to Havelock on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 30th, to play a friendly game with the juniors of that town. The game resulted in a victory for the visitors, the score being 14—11. The Public School team also played with the Havelock Public School team, the result being 9—7 in favour of Norwood.

Miss Flossie Nichol left on Monday for South River, Ont., where she has accepted a position as stenographer.

Mrs. Fred Richardson, of Lakefield, is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Andrews of Asphodel.

At a meeting of the Trustee Board of the Methodist Church, it was decided to hold monthly Fellowship and Communion services instead of quarterly as in the past.

Mr. Arthur Townsend has purchased the old land mark on the corner of Pine and Peterborough streets and is removing it to his lot on Spring street.

Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan have taken a driving trip through Roseneath, Baltimore, Cobourg and other places during the past week.

Miss Eakins spent Wednesday in Peterborough.

Mr. A. Eaton, of Toronto Junction, was in town on Thursday visiting his mother and sister, Mrs. W. Eaton and Mrs. A. S. Harrison.

Mr. Alex Kempt left for Midland on Saturday evening.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe attacks, of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.

Council Meeting on Saturday—Interesting Personal Items.

Warsaw, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—Miss Baskin, of Norwood, who is teaching at S. S. No. 1, Dummer, was in the village on Wednesday.

Miss Miles and Miss Cora Crowe, of Clarina, were in the village on Monday the guests of Mrs. Robert Crowe.

Miss Ethel Clute, of Napanee, is visiting friends and relatives in the village.

Mr. Fred. Roy, of Peterborough, spent Sunday with Mr. Walter H. Kidd.

Dr. Douglas is spending a few days in Cobourg on business.

Mr. David Calder, of Peterborough, arrived in the village on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards moved to the village last week.

The Dummer Council meets on Saturday next.

Mr. W. H. Dunford purchased the Galesburg farm this week.

Mr. Gale is moving to Whidby Island, on the Pacific, near Seattle.

The latest in the way of improvements in the village is that a company is being formed to furnish gas light for the houses and streets. The Council will no doubt give their assistance in the way of a grant to pay the costs of the street lamps. Negotiations are under way for the purchase of several 400 light acetyline gas machines.

Silent October Nuptial Function

De Rocher, brother of the bride, and Mr. Frank Pope.

Upon the bride and her maid joining the groom and his man at the centre of the communion rails enclosing the sanctuary, the bride and groom knelt reverently, and the celebrant, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, proceeded with the ceremony. The prescribed form of admonition to the happy pair made by Dr. O'Brien, as well as the rest of the ceremony, was translated through the medium of the sign language by Prof. Dennys, of the Belleville Institution, where the contultants for marriage were at one time pupils. Both fixed their eyes wit hsolemn intentness upon the hands of the interpreter, and it was noticed that when the ceremony had advanced to the formula, "I will," the groom merely nodded his head in token of assent, but the bride used her gloved fingers to signify her assent. The marriage ceremony was succeeded by the nuptial mass, sung by Rev. Dr. O'Brien. At the conclusion of the mass, the wedding guests to a large number repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where a dainty dejounerdes noces was served. Among the guests of honour specially invited were Miss Elsie Garden, Bobcaygeon; Miss Gertie Pilling, Miss Nellie Cushing and Mrs. W. Emery, city; Mrs. Fred. Terrill and Mr. R. McGillivray, Toronto; Mr. W. Hayes, Mr. J. E. Crough and Mr. Dan. Sheehan, city.

At the breakfast, Rev. Dr. O'Brien presided, and delivered a most felicitous address of congratulation. The health of the bride was proposed by Prof. Dennys, who, in introducing the toast said, that as a former, and constant friend of the young couple, he had been requested to propose the health of the bride, Mrs. O'Rourke. He said that he was safe in saying that it would be difficult to find a more genial and lady-like young woman, and he was indeed favoured who thus had borne off the prize. Referring to the bride, he remarked what a fair indication of her disposition was her sweet, sparkling face. The royal sage had remarked that a faithful wife was a crown to her husband, and, from his knowledge of the bride, he predicted that she would prove to be a good wife, and in every way show herself worthy of the earnest affection she had won. Prof. Denys concluded by hoping that their married days would long glide on, unruffled by sorrow or care. Steered by the pole star of religion, their course down the stream of time, could not but lead to the happy haven of prosperity. Of the happy pair, they could well say, with the poet:

"When two are joined in faith so true,
That their fond love is ever true,
God has to them each other given
To lead a life that rivals Heaven."

To the realization of this hope, Prof. Denys asked the company to fervently drink.

Mr. O'Rourke replied in a very hand-some speech.

During the bridal festivities, amongst the congratulations showered upon the happy pair, was a telegram of felicitation from Mr. Mathieson, principal of the Belleville Institute, conveying his own congratulations, and those of the staff and pupils, to Mr. and Mrs. O'Rourke.

The presents, which required to themselves, a room for their display, were many and beautiful. These included presents from the staff and pupils of the Institute — beautiful articles of silverware. There were presents from many parts of Canada and the United States, some coming from as far as Tennessee. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful sable ruff and muff, to the bridesmaid a gold ring set with pearls, and to the groomsman, a pair of gold cuff links.

In the evening the happy pair were escorted to the station, by a large company, who gave them the usual hilarious send-off, in which rice and shoes were prominent ingredients.

The bridal couple enter upon the silent way of wedded happiness under the happiest auspices. Mr. O'Rourke was at one time a member of the Examiner staff, and is at present occupying a responsible position as foreman of the Oakville Star newspaper office. The bride is a young lady of charming personal presence, good education, and domestic accomplishments.

On their arrival in Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. O'Rourke will be tendered a reception by their deaf mute friends at the residence of Mrs. Terrill. On their return from their honeymoon tour in the west, they will take residence in Oakville.

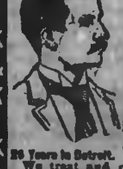
BLOOD DISEASE CURED.

If you ever contracted any Blood or Private Disease, you are never safe until the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. Don't be satisfied with a "patch up" by some family doctor. Our New Method is Guaranteed to Cure or No Pay. No Names Used without Written consent.



Cured When all Else Failed

"Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would not be necessary, though I was no more sinful than thousands of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I Mean the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were first, and finding you had over 25 years' experience and responsible financially. I gave you my case under a guarantee. You cured me permanently, and in six years there has not been a sore, pain, ulcer or any other symptom of the blood disease."

GREATER CANADA.

"It is reported," says the Portland, U.S., Evening Telegram, that the Canadian wheat crop for this year will return a revenue of $75,000,000. This means an increase of approximately 15,000,000 bushels of wheat over last year's crop. The further meaning is an increased acreage, an accelerating material development that has been much in evidence these latter days.

"Canada, as a matter of fact, has begun to loom up big in her industrial and economical character. Her citizens are talking in a serious way of the enormous possibilities of the future. We hear reference to a Canadian Northwest as yet practically untouched, with a splendid wheat producing area, alleged to cover an area at least equal to that of eight states like Illinois — more than 450,000 square miles of wheat producing country, if the estimate as to the quality of the greater portion of it prove true.

"Canadians are doing more than talking of this vast wealth-producing area, simply as a fact of commercial and industrial gossip. They are acting for its development — for its speedy development. Their action devolves direct manifestation of national interest in two important directions; the one in the matter of immigration, the other in that of transportation. The Canadian Government has become an agency of exploitation for the Canadian Northwest; it is about to become surety for the transportation facilities that will make a residence in that section desirable and profitable. Canada has gone into the best markets for the development of her vast wheat fields the home of the progressive farmer of the American Middle West—where she is bidding strongly against the competition of undeveloped sections of the United States. Coincident with this effort, Canada has projected the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, a line that will span the continent from ocean to ocean, with every yard of it built on Canadian soil. Canada is doing all these things with definite and intelligent purpose, with a full realization of their import, of the reward that will be hers by reason of them.

"Canada as a matter of fact, is big, and the knowledge of her bigness is coming home to her. She has reached the point where her international trade, both in foodstuffs and manufactured goods, is becoming a world factor. She provides a field that is attractive to the American manufacturer, not only for the sale of goods made on this side of the international boundary line, but for the investment of capital in Canadian manufactures.

"Whoever watches the trend of Canadian affairs, cannot escape the impression of her fast developing greatness. In making this assertion reference is had to her material, and not to her political progress. The Canadian life is the new spirit that has touched her industrially, the apparently new realization of sources of wealth that have lain dormant, of an empire unpeopled, and of the fixed determination to secure the population, develop the wealth, and thereby insure national aggrandisement. Canada has become infected with the American business spirit. The progress on this side of the border—more wonderful than any made elsewhere in the world — has been an object lesson to her of more than ordinary value. Physically speaking she realizes that her national resources are of the same piece of which Americans have made so much. Canada has turned her attention to the practical application of the lesson she has learned within the few decades last passed. And by dint of wisdom and diligence she evokes from the future most flattering promise.

"Canada presents to American statesmanship of the present day a subject for serious consideration. There is no mistaking her destiny from a material stand-point. There is no dodging her growing affinity between her interests and ours. Whatever retarding influence there may be in the fact that Canada enjoys but a colonial form of government, it must be conceded that she stands but in the shadow of it. Her institutions, her ideas, her aspirations, are destined to become Americanized, though political union with the United States never becomes the fact. With the rapid development—of which she gives such abundant promise—with American farmers and American manufacturers participating in the work, there will in time be two great English speaking nations in North America, with intimate relationship established between the people, whatever the attitude of government might be. In all this there is involved trade rivalry, national, neighbourly, adjustments — many issues in fact — which might better be given some thought before they press for settlement."

Another "Taxpayer" Reasons of Short Hours and Long Taxes

He Argues the Matter Out With Mr. Knapp and Mr. Gandy—He Endeavours to Show That the Burden Eventually Falls Back Upon the Ratepayers of Moderate Means—He Shows That the Wealthier Can and Do Take Care of Themselves.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I have read the letter of Taxpayer in the Examiner, and I have also read the reply of Mr. Knapp. It is not the amount of work performed, the actual manual labour done that the people of Peterborough, as I hear the comments, are complaining of. It is the directions that are given, and the unbusinesslike system applied to the work of the city, which do not give the benefit of the full total of the expenditure upon our streets. Enough money has been spent in ten years to pave the leading streets of Peterborough. There should be some distinct understanding with the Gas Company, and the Board of Water Commissioners, and others who tear up our streets, as to when they will be allowed to destroy the surface of the streets, and if they are at any season of the year to be allowed to place their pipes or mains, then they should be compelled not to disturb the surface of the street, but go underneath the surface. There is no use, in my judgment, of Mr. Knapp endeavouring to complain of the statement of Taxpayer regarding who must shoulder the burden eventually. Everybody knows that there is a greater number of people in moderate circumstances than in affluent circumstances, and that the shorter the hours the more taxes have to be met, and in consequence the burden eventually comes back upon the shoulders of those who are agitating against giving a full day's work for a full day's pay. While it may take a little time to educate the people to this fact, there is no getting away from it, that the great burden of the taxes is borne by two-thirds of the people. Admitting that the one-third would be considered as being able to pay, it would not be considered as a burden. The one-third will get it back from the two-thirds, but the two-thirds cannot cannot get it back from the one-third who have it in their power under any circumstances to make compensatory charges either for manufactured goods, or for the increased taxes placed upon them for the construction or maintenance of public works, that will reimburse them for the extra outlay that they may have to bear owing to excessive taxation, caused by inadequate labour. It may take a little time to educate the people to see these things but they work out just as sure as death.

Unions may fix the union wage, and the union wage may be in excess of the value of the work performed, but it comes back upon them just the same. It is a well known fact that even the rents in our own city, not to speak of other cities, have increased considerably, and all working people have to pay increased rents for their residences —for their homes to live in. This is brought about—how? The increased cost of the labour, and the increased cost of material caused by the advance in the cost of the labour necessary to produce it, make the cost of a home so great that the working man has to pay an additional price, and it is thus taken off him again, so it is with all the necessaries of life in general use.

I have also read Mr. Gandy's communication, Mr. Editor, but I do not see anything to it. My theme is that the shorter the hours, and the less value received for the work performed in every class of life, the more the excessive cost falls upon two-thirds of the citizens, and that the capitalist or the moneyed man will find a way to equalize any increased assessment or increased price he may have to pay, and that the working class have eventually to shoulder the burden they created whether it be in increased taxation, whether it be in house rent or whether it be in the goods that he buys that are manufactured under the shorter hour system. There is a value, fixed generally by the cost of production, to everything, and you cannot get beyond it, and if the working man does not give the value of the work performed in a given number of hours, the burden then falls upon the great majority of the citizens.

When I speak of the working man, I do not refer to those employed upon our streets. I am speaking to our respected mechanics in every manufacturing establishment, to every man whose labour is his capital. John Rockefeller does not care. It makes no difference to such men as Senator Cox. These gentlemen are able to take care of themselves in the manipulation that they are able to make. It all comes back on the great majority of the people, the people in moderate circumstances, who might, perhaps, be respectfully termed the working classes, and the middle classes, speaking from a money standpoint. If it takes $15,000 to do $10,000 worth of work, the $5,000 must be raised, but who has to pay it? That is my point.

I have as much sympathy for the working classes as anyone, and I do not desire to be considered as making any reflections, because that is not my intention. It is only to ask the men to think over what I am saying and see if I am not correct. If I am not correct I would like to see where I am mistaken. It is a fair subject for discussion.

Yours truly,

ANOTHER "TAXPAYER."

Rev. Langfeldt a Woodman

This month's issue of the Canadian Woodmen contains a half tone cut of Rev. E.A. Langfeldt, a member of the local camp, Woodmen of the World, with the following reference to the reverend gentleman:—

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., Rector of St. Luke's Church, Peterborough, is an enthusiastic and highly esteemed member of our Order. He is one of the leading clergymen in Eastern Ontario, and possesses a bright, energetic disposition which makes him popular, not only with the members of his own faith, but many other classes in the community.

Sov. Langfeldt was born in Custrow, Mecklenburg, Germany, some thirty-six years ago.

Sov. Langfeldt had charge of the parish of Omemee for three years and was called to his important duties in this city over four years ago. He is an interesting personality in that anything he has to do or say is instantly carried out. He is a man of fearless utterance, high principle and splendid ideals. He speaks from conviction, and as a preacher he is fluent, strong and impressive. Sov. Langfeldt in his sermons touches on many live subjects, and is unsparing in his denunciation of many besetting sins and evils of the present day. He is a tireless worker, and in addition to being a Woodman, is a Mason and a member of other organizations. He also takes a keen interest in municipal matters, and is a progressive public spirited citizen.

COLD KILLS THE GERM.

Lieut. Perry Says There Are No Bald Heads in the Arctic Region.

The people who come back from Klondike testify to the fact that no native bald heads are there. The evidence is that the cold climate kills the germs that eat the hair off at the root. Lieut. Perry, who went to the Arctic regions, gives the same evidence. Newbro's Herpicide has the same effect as the cold climate. It kills the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, and the hair grows again. Herpicide is the first hair hair remedy built upon the principle of destroying the germ that eats the hair off. Its phenomenal sale demonstrates the correctness of the scalp germ theory. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Regina's Big Sugar Refinery

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—Regina is to have one of the largest sugar refineries in the west. The British Columbia Sugar Refinery Company intend erecting a plant at Regina. Tenders were closed this morning, and it is proposed to have the plant in operation before January 1. Tenders call for a plant larger than anything in the west, barring British Columbia property, and it will be the distributing point for sugar for the Northwest.

Demise Came Unexpectedly

The death occurred suddenly last night at his residence, Dwyre's Corners, Asphodel Township, of Patrick Dwyre.

The deceased, who was about 39 years of age, had been in robust health and was ill for only one day before his demise, which was wholly unexpected.

The cause of death was an affection of the heart. The late Mr. Dwyre was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dwyre, both of whom resided with him. He leaves one son, Daniel. Mr. John Dwyre, 629 Aylmer street, and Mr. Daniel Dwyre, Stewart street, city, are cousins of the deceased.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at eight o'clock, from the family residence, to Norwood Cemetery for interment.

A Charming October Social Event

Nuptials of Miss Ida Stinson and Mr. Edward Wilcox,

District Manager of Mutual Life Assurance Co. Married Yesterday at Hastings.

A charming October wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Stinson, Percy township, about two miles from Hastings, when their eldest daughter, Miss Ida, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward Wilcox.

The ceremony was performed at three o'clock, by Rev. Mr. Elliott, Methodist Minister, of Hastings. The bride was charmingly gowned in white silk crepe de chine, trimmed with silk all-over lace, chiffon and satin ribbon, and wore a silk veil, caught up with white roses and smilax. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Her travelling dress was of green, with silk braid trimmings and buttons, and green velvet toque to match. Attending the bride was her little cousin, Miss Verna Stinson, who made a charming flower-girl, carrying the golden circlet in a basket of pink roses. She was attired most becomingly in a white silk dress, with silk lace trimmings.

The ceremony was performed in the drawing room beneath an arch trimmed with evergreens and asparagus ferns, the corner of the room being banked with angel-wing plants and green foliage. The floral decorations of the dining room were of an appropriate and charming character, and consisted of cut flowers, tastefully arranged. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Ethel Stinson, sister of the bride.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests, who numbered about thirty, partook of a dainty and recherche wedding dejeuner, in the course of which the health of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox was proposed, and felicitously replied to by the groom. Many relatives and friends were present from a distance, including Mrs., Miss Annie, and Mr. George, N. Barnes of Peterborough. The bride and groom were the recipients of a large and sparkling array of wedding gifts, and many congratulatory telegrams, testifying to the esteem in which they are held by a large circle of friends. These included a gift to the bride of $100 from her father, and $25 from her mother. Little Miss Stinson, who acted as flower girl, was the recipient of a handsome gold locket and chain, the gift of the groom, and a beautiful ring from the bride's father. The groom's gift to the bride was a double heart brooch, set with pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox left last night by G.T.R., passing through Peterborough on a short trip to Niagara and Toronto, and will, upon their return, take up residence in Hastings.

Mr. Wilcox, who is District Manager of the Mutual Life Assurance Company, has an office in Peterborough, and his business interests necessitate his presence here during a considerable portion of his time. His large circle of friends in the city will unite in extending hearty congratulations.

A Pretty House Wedding Yesterday

Last evening at 6 o'clock at the residence of Mr. John Anderson, 522 Rogers street, the wedding of his daughter, Frankie to Mr. W. G. Robertson, son of Mr. Geo. Robertson, of Otonabee, took place, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church, in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride and groom were unattended, and the former was dressed in a gown of cream peau de soie, with lace trimmings, and carried white roses. After the ceremony the usual dejeuner was partaken of and the bride and groom left for their new home on Perry street, where an informal reception was held and the young couple received the felicitations of a number of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, who are both well known and popular among their wide circle of friends were the recipients of a large number of very handsome presents, among which was a mahogany table given by the members of the staff of the Canadian Canoe Company with which Company the groom is connected.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson start out in their married career with the best wishes of their many friends.

General Gaol Delivery at Police Court

Magistrate Thought That Ed. Tighe Had Suffered Sufficiently.

Young Girl Charged With Using Vile Language—Bowman Case Enlarged.

A general gaol delivery would be an appropriate summing up of the Police Court proceedings this morning. Three out of the four defendants were discharged, and one case was enlarged for a week.

The proprietors of the Greek Shoe Shining Parlour and Tobacco Shop, had "General" Tighe up for creating a disturbance upon their premises. The General and a companion entered their pool room, in the rear of the shoe shining parlours while under the influence of liquor, to play a friendly game of pool. At the conclusion of the game the pool marker, Paul Jakas, demanded payment and upon being refused, forcibly ejected Tighe. In the mix-up the defendant used several uncomplimentary names towards Jakas and for a while excitement ran high. After being put out of the pool room, Tighe entered the tobacco shop where another row took place. The "General" certainly bore signs of the battle when the smoke had cleared away and the magistrate thought that he had suffered enough without being punished in Court and accordingly dismissed the case.

A couple of young boys were charged with throwing stones, but were allowed to go by the magistrate. Two boys who five months ago were convicted of a serious offence, and who have been under police surveillance since, were dismissed by the magistrate, after he had imparted some good advice on the evils and temptations of the world.

The case of Wm. Bowman charged with conducting a game of chance at the fair, was enlarged for one other week.

The court room was cleared of all except those interested in the case, that of using vile and abusive language to an elderly woman, preferred against a little girl of tender years. After hearing the evidence the court allowed the child to go. His Worship, however, gave her some healthy advice, and warned her not to let the offence occur again or punishment fitting the crime would have to be meted out.

More Typhoid Fever In North End

Acting M. H. O. Young and Chief Roszel Will Investigate To-day.

The Sanitary Conditions in Barnardo Vicinity—Two Cases Developed Yesterday.

Two more cases of typhoid fever have developed in the North End. Willie Hickey, the young son of Mr. Joseph Hickey, was yesterday stricken with the disease, and was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital last night, where he is now under treatment. Fred Casson, the six-year old son of Mr. Wm. Casson, is also a sufferer from the disease.

Inquiry regarding these cases elicits the fact that the water which has been used for drinking purposes by the patients was from a well. The residents in the vicinity, have, it appears, been greatly annoyed by the system of sanitation in the neighbourhood, which has been the subject of so much discussion recently, but with regard to which no action appears to have been taken.

The cesspools at the Barnardo Home, it appears, have been producing anything but satisfactory results, this being especially the case during heavy rains, when an overflow occurs into the creek. The well spoken of, although it may not have been polluted in this manner, is evidently the source of trouble.

An inspection will be made this afternoon of the conditions by acting Medical Health Officer Young, and Chief Roszel, which will doubtless result in some measures being taken.

Wedding Took Place Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon at two o'clock a very pretty wedding took place at 394 Aylmer street, when Mrs. Geo. Wright became the bride of John Sherwood, of town, in the presence of about forty guests of the bride and groom.

The ceremony was performed in the parlour which was beautifully decorated with flowers. Staff Captain McAmmond, of the Salvation Army, tied the nuptial knot. The bride was assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Wright, while the groom was supported by the bride's son-in-law, Mr. Thos. Lucas.

After the ceremony the party sat down to a very dainty breakfast, after which the wedding party drove to the C. P. R. station, where they took the 5.15 train for Toronto. On their return they will reside on Aylmer street. The bride and groom were the recipients of a number of beautiful and useful presents, evidencing the high esteem in which they are held.

Great Success of the Savings Bank Branch

This Department of T. A. S. Work Has Good Prospects.

The First Meeting of the Literary Society—A Good Programme.

Last night saw the opening of the Savings Society in connection with St. Peter's T.A.S., and a large number of members made deposits. The enthusiasm with which the members are taking up this new branch of the work, augurs well for its success. Already more than the required number to open the branch have accounts, and the present prospects are that it will rapidly grow into a prominent feature of the work of the Society. It will encourage the saving of the earnings by the members of the society, and good results are looked for.

On Monday night the first of the series of fall and winter meetings of the Literary Association of St. Peter's T.A.S. will be held. The first meeting will take the form of a lecture and concert, the lecture being by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Emmismore, and his subject will be "Self Education," a subject which should be particularly interesting to the young people. The musical portion of the evening will be under the direction of Mrs. Morrow, and among those who will contribute to it will be Misses M. Kirke, Lakefield; L. Hallahan and B. Hackett, and Messrs. V. Morphett and J. King.

It is expected that this year the meetings of the Society will be even more interesting than they have been in the past, and the members will doubtless appreciate the efforts which those in charge of this branch have taken in the work.

Guard's Band Refuses Big Offer

"$8,000 to play in Chicago! This is the astonishing offer which has been received by Bandmaster Hansell, of the Irish Guards. The tempting offer will be refused, however, for the band has not been given permission to enter foreign territory. The United States people seem very anxious to hear the crack band of the Emerald Isle, for offers have been received also from New York and other large cities on the other side."—Toronto Star.

The band appears in the Brock street rink, Peterborough, on Wednesday evening next, October 11th. The plan for the rink is at Ormond & Walsh's drug store, and seats are being rapidly taken. The band, now on its western tour, is being heard on every appearance by the largest and most enthusiastic audiances that have yet given their attendance to a band from Great Britain. Reserved seats, 75c and $1; general admission, 50 cents. 1t.

Leslie Fife Won Junior Cross Country

In the Collegiate Institute Run Yesterday.

Time Was 18 Minutes—The Other Finishers.

Yesterday afternoon at 4.30, the Junior Collegiate Institute Cross Country Run, took place, the course being the same as on the preceding day, viz., Start at the corner of Water and Murray, cross the creek at McDonel street, re-cross it at Smith street, turn at Smith and Water streets and finish at the starting point.

There were five finishers, the order of their return being: Leslie Fife, Stewart Anderson, Harold Wallace, Stanley Wade, Hugh Maguire. The time was 18 minutes, and the officials, who were Collegiate Institute pupils were: Starter, C. Arnott, Patrol Judges, Harry Hall, Cyril Leah, A. Nicholls.

The time of the senior cross country run, which took place on Tuesday, was incorrectly stated yesterday. It should have been 17 minutes and 27 seconds.

To-morrow afternoon at the Nicholls Oval, the annual Field Day of Sports will be held. The pupils of the Institute will be given a half holiday to enjoy the annual event.

RUGBY.

There will be a meeting of the executive of the Peterborough Rugby Club to-night at the Y.M.C.A. Hall at eight o'clock, and a practice will be held on the T.A.S. grounds at the same hour.

Ormond & Walsh's Drug Store is open each evening until 8 o'clock. When up town drop in and have your ticket marked for the Irish Guards Band Concert—the greatest Military Concert Band that has ever visited Peterborough.

Customs Receipts Still Climbing

The commercial prosperity of Peterborough, as indicated by the steady increase of the returns of customs collections, still continues. The returns for September repeat the same old story of monthly increase. The collections for this month in 1904, amounted to $22,549.83, while the collections for September, 1905, amounted to $25,669.04, or $3,119.21 greater.

On general principles, increased customs receipts represent increased purchasing by the merchants, and this represents increased purchasing power by the people, and this, in return, represents prosperity in all branches of labour and industry.

What Are Piles? You May Ask.

And Why are They Always Relieved and Cured by the Use of Dr. Chases Ointment?

The itching, burning sensations of piles or hemorrhoids, the feelings of uneasiness and discomfort, and the loss of blood, are familiar to many who may not know the name or nature of their ailment.

Piles are small tumours, which form at the opening of the rectum, and are described as itching, bleeding or protruding, according to the symptoms that is most prominent.

The cause of greatest suffering is the intense itching, which is an almost constant symptom, while the greatest danger arises from loss of blood. You can scarcely imagine one a greater misery than the victim of a severe case of piles.

By reason of its remarkably soothing effect Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost instant relief from the dreadful itching. It heals the ulcers, stops the loss of blood, and makes a thorough cure of this obstinate and loathsome disease.

The old idea of a surgical operation, with all the accompanying pain expense and risk, as the only cure for piles, has given way before the extraordinary success of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which has demonstrated its power in thousands of cases where operations have failed.

W. E. Talbot, of Talbot Bros. tobacco merchants, 263 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—It is from a desire to help other sufferers that I offer a statement of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for itching piles. I was for a long time troubled with this unpleasant and torturing disease and through I tried very many treatments remained unsured until I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was highly recommended to me and I find that every word of praise is true. I can truthfully say that I am completely cured and knowing the misery that the ailment produces I am anxious for others to know of the surprising virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Do not make the mistake of dropping this treatment as soon as the itching stops. Make the cure lasting by persistent use. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A Bundle Of News From Lakehurst

Harvey Fair to be Opened on Friday by Hon. J. R. Stratton.

Other Very Interesting Items of Local Happenings.

Lakehurst, October 3rd. — The rain on Monday night was badly needed, as the ground was getting very hard for ploughing.

We are pleased to state that Master Gale Elliott is recovering from his severe illness.

Mr. G. M. Cundal attended the Peterborough exhibition on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Coons visited last week with friends in Burleigh.

Mr. Richard Fawcett spent last Sunday at Buckhorn.

Mr. S. H. Pickup, the Presbyterian student, stationed here the last three years, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday to a large and appreciative congregation. Mr. Pickup goes to Knox College, Toronto.

Mr. Hugh Allan, who has been working on the steamer Lady of the Lake, all summer, is now home for the winter.

Mr. David Wilson had the misfortune to lose a valuable colt last Sunday. The colt broke through the covering of a well during the night. This will be quite a loss to Mr. Wilson, as he was raising a matched team. He had intended to show them at the fair this fall.

Mr. A. G. Shearer now "wears the smile that won't come off," because it is a baby daughter.

Among those who went to the Bobcaygeon Fair last Friday per the steamer Empress were: Messrs. A. Thompson, S. H. Pickup, John P. Smith, F. Trusdell, H. Shearer, E. Fulton, Jos Stabler, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. H. Coons, and the Misses Edna Shearer, Maggie Richardson, Lucila Shearer, Madge Shaw, and Florence Esson.

Mr. Jas. Jopling, butcher, of Bridgenorth, now makes weekly trips through this neighbourhood with his meat wagon.

Mr. A. G. Shearer has installed an up-to-date show case in his store.

Mr. William Irwin from the Government road, is threshing for some of the farmers in this community who have no shares in the company's mills.

We understand that Mr. A. G. Shearer has purchased Mr. Sam Jenkinson's farm. Sammy may go west next spring.

Don't forget Lakehurst Fair on Friday, October 6th. A big day is expected. Hon. J. R. Stratton will open the Fair. Messrs. R. E. Hall, M.P., and T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P., will also give addresses. The secretary has already booked a lot of entries. One of the features of the fair is the horse racing. There are some good horses in Harvey and a great deal of amusement is derived from the different races. Watch Wilson's "Pete," and Tedford's "Dan."

The above are two old turf veterans, and it will keep the young horses busy to wrest the honours from them. Dinner and tea will be served on the grounds, and Mr. A. G. Shearer our general store keeper is laying in a large supply of good things, consisting of several stems of bananas, and a crate or two of oranges, besides pears, peaches, grapes and candies, and about thirty cases of soft drinks. At night the Methodists give an entertainment in the church. It will consist of a lecture by Rev. Dr. Crothers, on "Turning Points in Life." There will be singing and music by the Chemong Indians and the Lakehurst Methodist choir.

Not The System, But Failure To Apply It

Which Constitutes the Faults in Our Schools.

Educational System Provides for Manual Training.

To The Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I notice a communication from Mr. E. G. Paterson, general superintendent of the Canadian General Electric Works, in your Tuesday edition.

I quite agree with the spirit in which Mr. Paterson's communication is written, and believe that his intentions are the best, but when he says "I don't like to say anything that would discredit your educational system," he is unhappy in his phraseology. It is not the educational system that is at fault. The system in itself provides for manual training. It is the School Board that is not availing itself, or the people have not placed it within the power of the School Board to avail itself, to the full extent of the educational system. People complain if the educational system, when it is not the system, but non-application of the system that is the cause of much of the discredit reflected to.

Yours truly,

Justice Teetzel's Opinion On Matters of State

Rules That They Must Be Paramount--The Parliament Housekeeper's Job--Judge at Cobourg Holds That the Premier Properly Exercised His Privilege in Refusing to Disclose Reasons for Failure to Appoint Mr. Bickle --Expected Conservative Ripping-Up Postponed.

Cobourg, Oct. 5.—Political circles in West Northumberland are deeply stirred by a case that revives the memories of the great investigation in 1896, disclosing the facts in connection with a nefarious trafficking in public office, which placed the seat of Mr. George Guillet, the Conservative member at that time, in jeopardy, and resulted in his brother losing the office which it was shown by the evidence had formed the subject of the illegal trafficking. Nine years afterwards, a turn of the political wheel having placed Mr. J. P. Whitney and the Conservative party in power in this province, the plea is entered in a suit at the Assizes here that George T. Bickle, a member of the Conservative party, who was suspected of having disclosed these illegal practices and thereby secured the punishment at all events of some of the offenders, had because of that action been disloyal to his political party and was therefore unworthy to be appointed to the position of Housekeeper at the Legislative buildings or to any other position of confidence in the gift of the Conservative party. This doctrine appears to have received the endorsement of Mr. Whitney and his colleagues, because the day after receiving an assurance from a member of the Government that he had been appointed to the position, Mr. Whitney personally informed the plaintiff that the matter would remain as it was until these allegations were cleared up.

The Appointment Cancelled.

Subsequently the appointment appears to have been cancelled, and a suit for $40,000 damages was entered against four prominent Conservatives who are alleged to have made the statements against plaintiff's political loyalty which caused him to be deprived of the lucrative office for which he had been selected by the Cabinet. Such is the story disclosed by the pleadings recorded in the case of George T. Bickle of Brighton against Dr. J. J. Kerr, dentist, a worker in the Conservative party; A. J. Hewson, president of the Conservative Association for West Northumberland; A. R. Dundas, president of Young Men's Conservative Association, Cobourg, and Frank M. Field, the unsuccessful candidate in the Conservative interest in West Northumberland at the recent Provincial election.

The Case Called.

Mr. E. C. S. Huycke, K. C., Cobourg, appeared for the plaintiff, Mr George T. Bickle, and Messrs. I. F. Hellmuth, K C., F. M. Field, A. J. Armstrong and F. D. Boggs of Cobourg appeared for the defendants. Owing to the court being occupied in hearing other cases it was nearly 6 o'clock before the case was called. Three jurymen were challenged by the plaintiff and four by the defence.

The Premier In the Box.

"Call Hon. J. P. Whitney," said Mr. Huycke. Mr. Whitney took the stand, and after answering the usual formal questions declined to say whether Mr. Bickle's name was discussed in the Cabinet in relation to the office of Housekeeper, but admitted that it was discused outside, and that probably Mr. Bickle was recommended to him. It may have been in the first instance by Dr. Willoughby, but he could not remember. Mr Whitney recollected seeing plaintiff once or twice in the Queen's Hotel, Toronto. He could not, however, have indicated to him there that he had been appointed, because he was not. The Premier could not recollect seeing Dr. Stinson there, and he had no recollection of having asked Dr. Willoughby if he had been telling something, but if he did there must have been some foundation for the question.

A Matter of Public Policy.

"Could you tell me what foundation there was for the statement that he had been appointed?" asked Mr. Huycke. Mr. Whitney replied: "I should like very much to tell you, but the regard which I have for the dignity of the position I hold makes me decline to say, for the reason that it would open the door to a discussion in relation to every appointment."

The Premier's Attitude Justified.

Mr. Huycke asked for a ruling, and after a legal argument Mr. Justice Teetzel held that the precedents and cases cited justified Mr. Whitney in refusing to answer the questions, and further, that Mr. Huycke could not produce secondary evidence of the letters which were alleged in the pleadings to have passed.

In order to take ground for an appeal Mr. Huycke formally tendered secondary evidence of the letters, which the judge refused to accept, adding that Mr. Whitney had taken the only ground possible in accordance with his position as Premier. Hon. J. J. Foy having intimated that he intended taking the same position as his leader, Mr. Huycke expressed regret that owing to the refusal of the Premier to produce the letters upon which the charge was founded, a position he had not expected, he was precluded from carrying the case any further at present and abandoned the effort.

Judge Teetzel remarked that it might seem a hardship, but matters of state must be paramount. On the question of costs the defendants might not make any claim, as all the parties had been friends before, and might be friends again. Right of appeal would be granted for thirty days.

C.P.R.'s Revenue Last Year Over $50,000,000.

REPORT TO ANNUAL MEETING

Resolutions Passed, Among Them One to Expend Above Sum Upon Rolling Stock — President Shaughnessy Says the Line Is Now In the Front Rank — More Successes In Store.

Montreal, Oct. 5.—At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. yesterday, the directors unanimously adopted the report. The retiring directors, Charles Hosmer, Hon. Robert MacKay, David McNicoll and Robert G. Reid, were re-elected.

Resolutions were passed authorizing the construction of the Wolseley-Reston branch and issue of four per cent. consolidated debenture stock in aid thereof; lease of Nicola, Kamloops and Samilkameen Coal and Railway Co.; issue of £800,000 four per cent. consolidated debenture stocks to defray the cost of two new Atlantic steamships; approving agreement with British Columbia Electric Railway for working of Vancouver and Lulu Island Railway; the approval of the traffic agreement with Spokane International Railway Co.; the authorising of the lease of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway; the approving of the requisition of the property of St. John Bridge and Railway Extension Co.

Will Expend $7,500,000.

A resolution was also passed authorizing the expenditure on capital account of $7,500,000 for additional locomotives, passenger and freight cars.

In moving the adoption of the report the president said:

"The 24th annual report gives evidence of the strong and satisfactory position of the company. Your gross revenue from traffic during the fiscal year was over 50 million dollars, and even this large sum should be exceeded by a considerable amount in current years. The business conditions throughout Canada are at the moment more favorable than at any other time in the history of the company, and there would appear to be no reason for apprehending a change in the near future.

"While in all the agricultural territories served by your lines the crops have been excellent, those of Manitoba and the two new provinces were most striking, ensuring a handsome return to the farmers, continued activity in every branch of trade and manufacturing, and a large traffic to your lines.

Road in Front Rank.

"As a result of the expenditure made during the past three or four years for the elimination of curvatures, reduction of gradients and general improvements, I think that it may now be fairly claimed that in physical condition and capacity for the movement of traffic, your railway between Montreal and the Pacific coast is at least in the front rank of transcontinental lines."

At a meeting of the board subsequently held, Sir William Van Horne was re-elected chairman of the board; Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, president and David McNicoll, vice-president of the company.

The unprecedently small attendance of shareholders at the meeting showed clearly that local interests have, to a very marked extent, sold out all their holdings, and the American and English holders simply send their proxies.

Grain Handlers May Strike.

Fort William, Oct. 5.—Unless the wages of the night shifts on the C.P.R. elevators are increased immediately five cents per hour, a strike will be in progress to-day, and as the day shifts will go out in sympathy, danger threatens the free movement of wheat unless the company gives way. Last Monday the employes demanded and received a five cents raise and now they insist on another. The men are getting 25 cents at present.

BRITAIN ACCEPTS PRINCIPLE.

But Foreign Minister Lansdowne Would Know Scope of Proposed Second Peace Conference.

London, Oct. 5.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne yesterday replied to the Russian invitation to Great Britain to be represented at a second peace conference at The Hague, accepting it in principle, but deferring final decision until more fully informed regarding the questions proposed to be discussed and the scope of the conference.

May Not Meet Till 1907.

The Hague Oct. 5.—Official circles here express doubt as to whether arrangements can be completed early enough for the second peace conference to occur in 1906, and do not expect it to assemble before 1907.

What Is the Program?

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5.—The Russian Government has received a large number of replies to the peace conference invitations, all of which are favorable, but contain no suggestions regarding the subjects for discussion. The announcement of the program and the date for the meeting of the conference will be sent out as soon as all the replies are received. The time of the meeting will be fixed without greater delay than necessary to permit all the delegates to reach The Hague.

PEACE TREATY ASSENTED TO Ratified By Japan's Cabinet After Prolonged Meeting.

MARTIAL LAW IS ABROGATED

Co-operation of Foreign Capitalists Will Help Japan to Recover the Ill Effects of the War — Last Treaty Scene Is to Be at Washington— Russia Accepts Japanese Proposal Re. War Prisoners.

Tokio, Oct. 5.—A prolonged meeting of the Privy Council was held here yesterday morning, at which the peace treaty with Russia was confirmed.

Baron Shibusawa, addressing the associated chambers of commerce yesterday, said the development of trade communications and carrying power was of the greatest importance to Japan. He criticized the ultra-pessimistic view taken of Japan's financial future, and said he was confident of greater development of Japan's resources and also those of Corea.

The baron said he was highly delighted to find that his efforts while traveling abroad to invite the investment of foreign capital in Japan were bearing fruit in the present co-operation of foreign capitalists. He believed they would find an extensive field of activity in this part of the world, and especially in Corea. While admitting that Japan was heavily in debt as a result of the war, the baron said he believed that adequate efforts on the part of the business men of Japan would open a way to increasing the wealth of the empire.

Last Scene at Washington.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Diplomatic relations between Russia and Japan were resumed at the State Department for a short time yesterday, while Baron Rosen, the Russian Ambassador, and Mr. Takahira, the Japanese Minister, discussed the forms of ratification of their respective countries.

It would seem certain from this that ratifications of the peace treaty are to be exchanged at Washington.

Exchange of Prisoners.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5.—Russia yesterday agreed to the Japanese proposition to exchange prisoners of war, whereby 1,566 Japanese prisoners in Russia will be delivered at some point on the western frontier of Russia, and 64,000 Russians will be delivered at the ports of Kobe, Nagasaki and Yokohama, whence they will be conveyed to Vladivostock in ten Russian transports, now interned at Shanghai and Siagon, and two or three other ships, which are being sent from Odessa.

The American charge d'affaires is endeavoring to make special and more speedy arrangements for the release of 350 sick Japanese, for whom it is hoped Japan may send a ship direct to the Baltic.

Fire at Trenton.

Trenton, Oct. 5.—Fire yesterday morning scorched Patterson's laundry, A. Gould's tailor shop and J. Carter's piano and organ store. Damage about $1,000.

contains alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. Any one publishing false statements concerning their ingredients will be prosecuted. Doctor Pierce's Family Remedies are compounds of medicinal principles, scientifically extracted from native roots that cure the diseases for which they are recommended. They are medicines which have enjoyed the public confidence for over a third of a century. They are medicines not beverages, made to satisfy a craving for "booze."

"Golden Medical Discovery" regulates and invigorates stomach, liver and bowels, and cures dyspepsia, purifies the blood and tones up the system generally.

"Favorite Prescription" cures female weakness, irregularities, exhausting drains, painful periods and kindred ailments peculiar to women. Accept no substitute for these medicines, each of which has a record of marvelous cures. Substitution means selfishness on the part of the dealer who is looking for the greater profit on an inferior article.

"Our daughter who was attending college became very nervous and we were advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. M. C. Fox, of 57 E. Leonard St., Grand Rapids, Mich. "We did so and then you advised us to get the 'Golden Medical Discovery' also. She took four bottles of the 'Prescription' and three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and you never saw such a change in a person. She said she did not feel like the same person. She was about seventeen years old at the time. I will gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to every one. I advise parents who have young daughters who suffer from nervous troubles to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at once. I am sure it will help them."

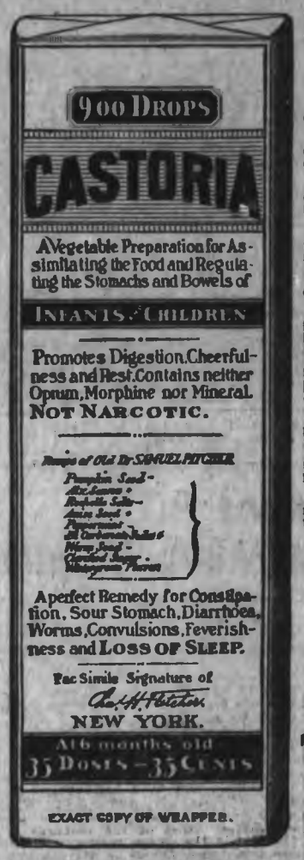
What is Castoria.

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.



EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. F. Gerald Blattner, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustave A. Elsengraeber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. H. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. H. H. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. B. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician say? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Albert J. Weston, of Cleveland, O., says: "I have used your Castoria in my practice for the past eighteen years with the utmost success."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Siser, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

MR. JOHN DAVIDSON WAS ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

The Norwood Case, in Which Great Interest Has Been Taken, is Ended--Judge Finds That Injury Inflicted Was Accidental on Mr. Davidson's Part--The Evidence Brought Out at the Trial Before Judge Weller To-day.

This morning at the Country Court before Judge Weller, the case against Mr. John Davidson for assault was tried.

The evidence brought out at the hearing to-day was practically the same as that in the preliminary hearing in Norwood, but some new witnesses were heard.

Mr. Barber, the victim of the alleged assault, told the story, asserting that Mr. Davidson hit him on the head with a pail, and that he was knocked down and his head was cut and a lump raised as large as a hen's egg. He swore that Mr. Davidson swung the pail over his head, but on this point he was not supported by the other witnesses, who could not say that the pail was swung as he asserted. The witnesses told the story of the dog fight, which led up to the alleged assault, and it appears that in the heat of his anger at Mr. Barber's action in hitting his dog, Mr. Davidson either struck or pushed Mr. Baker. The witnesses examined to-day were Mr. Baker, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. McCleary, Mr. Waters, Miss Waters and Miss Peters.

Mrs. Baker told of the start of the trouble, which was a "scrap" between her dog and that of Mr. Davidson's. She did not say that Mr. Davidson hit her husband with the pail. She did not think that Mr. Davidson intended to injure her husband.

Mrs. McCleary was the next witness, and told how the dog fight impressed her. Describing the Davidson dog, she said it was "an awful dog." She saw Mr. Davidson strike Mr. Baker with his hand on the chest, and then she shut her eyes and went away. She did not remember seeing the pail at all, but afterwards remembered hearing a crash, which she thought must have been the pail. She had known Mr. Davidson for 25 years and knew him to be kind hearted, but thought he was very angry that day, and struck Mr. Baker in his anger.

Mr. R. W. Waters gave his evidence in a clear and concise manner, and his story was convincing. He saw Mr. Davidson push or strike Mr. Baker with the pail in the chest, and he fell down. He could not hear the conversation which passed between the parties.

Miss Waters and Miss Peters were also witnesses, but neither saw Mr. Davidson strike Mr. Baker, though they both saw him fall to the ground.

At this point an adjournment was made for lunch, and at 2 o'clock Dr. Ford's statement was received.

This afternoon Judge Weller rendered his decision in the Davidson assault case, acquitting the accused, on the ground that the affair was an accident.

The view taken by the Judge was that Mr. Davidson had used the pail to ward off the blows of the hammer on his dog, and that he had accidently shoved Mr. Baker over in doing so.

In view of this fact the Judge acquitted Mr. Davidson.

Sanitary Conditions At The Nicholls Hospital

The statement made in the other evening paper to the effect that the sanitary condition at the Nicholls Hospital were unsatisfactory and dangerous, are resented both by members of the medical profession as well as by the hospital authorities.

Dr. Young, acting medical health officer, was seen by the Examiner this morning in reference to the matter, and stated that he had made full investigation, and that he had satisfied himself that unwarranted statements were made. Instead of there being cesspools, as represented, he learned that the hospital had been connected with the sewer as early as four years ago, and that the cesspools which were constructed at the time the hospital was built from plans approved of by the Provincial Board of Health, were filled in after the sewer connection was made. At the present time there is sewer connection even with the stables, so that there is no possibility of any warranted complaint being made on account of the sanitary condition of the hospital.

It is but common justice to the hospital authorities to make a statement of the true state of affairs, and it is to be regretted that the facts should have been so sadly misstated.

Separate School Board Passes The Accounts

The regular meeting of the School Board was held last evening, there being present Mr. Jas. Minty, in the chair, and Messrs. Hourigan, Burns, Hall, Lance, Goselin, Henry Carveth and Primeau.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The following accounts were presented—

DISCUSSION RESULTS IN FAILURE TO REACH ANY DEFINITE CONCLUSION

A Harmonious Meeting to Consider Location of the Collegiate Institute and Armoury Turned Into One of Wide Divergence of Opinion—Joint Meeting Last Night Failed to Accomplish Results Looked for —Matter Will Be Referred to Officers of 57th Regiment and Board of Education.

The question as to the location of the new Armoury is still in just as much an unsettled condition as it ever was, in spite of, or perhaps, it should be said, as a result of a meeting which was held last night in the City Clerk's office of representatives of the City Council, the Board of Education, and the officers of the 57th Regiment.

The object of the meeting was to agree, if possible, on the question, of a site for both the Armoury and the proposed Collegiate Institute, but the meeting failed in its mission, and an adjournment was made without anything being accomplished, and the matter will be referred to the Board of Education and the officers of the 57th to thresh out and decide, since they are the two bodies who are really interested in the question.

The suggestion was made some time ago, but by whom no one seems to know, for nobody seems anxious to father the scheme now, except Ald. McIntyre, that it might be advisable for the Government, which had the deed of the four south lots, to exchange for the north lots, and allow the Board of Education to have the Murray street lots.

This plan finds very few supporters at the present time, either among the members of the Board of Education or the officers of the Regiment. The latter, at the time that the ground was secured, offered to allow the Board of Education to take their choice of locations, with the result that they decided to take that on McDonel street with the understanding that the buildings were to be erected on lots 3 and 4, thus giving two lots in front and the same number in the rear of the buildings. It was later considered in the interest of both interests affected to have the buildings at the rear of the lots, and it was to decide this that the meeting was called last night.

The early speakers were all unanimous, and it seemed that it was hardly necessary to call the meeting, since everyone held the view that the Armoury should be erected on Murray street, and that both buildings should go to the rear of the lots close to the lane.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson was the first dissenter, but it is probable that his objection might have been overcome, and a decision arrived at, had Mr. W. H. Hall not dropped into the meeting, and changed the whole course of the proceedings. He was asked for his opinion, and gave it. While on general principles he thought the Institute would be better on the north side, he thought, under the circumstances, that the south part should be given to the School Board, and that the Separate School building should be allowed to remain where it is, and be used for a Manual Training department in connection with the Collegiate Institute.

He objected to the proposal to put the buildings at the rear, using the argument that the Institute should no the fronted by a parade ground. His suggestion met with the approval of a number of the members of the Council and the result was that no decision could be reached, and as a consequence the matter was referred to the Board of Education and the officers of the 57th to decide.

Those present at the meeting were Ald. Leary, who occupied the chair; Mayor Best, Ald. Tovey, Adams, Mason, Batten, Hall, Crowe, Scott and McIntyre, Messrs. Ferguson, W. H. Hill, V. Eastwood, R. B. Rogers

Horticultural Society Distributes the Bulbs

The distribution of the bulbs, which the Horticultural Society have purchased, has been completed, and 117 packages have been left at the homes of the members of the society for planting. Each package contains from 40 to 45 bulbs for outdoor planting, and may be placed in the ground at once. Included in each package also are five hyacinths, to be placed one in a pot, and kept indoors. They should be placed in a dark room until they have taken root, and afterwards taken to the light.

Messrs. Jordan Bros., through whom the purchase was made, have made the distribution, and issued these instructions in reference to the care of the bulbs.

An official of the society makes the following remarks respecting the care of the bulbs, which are well worth careful planting. They are imported from Holland by the Society, and are supposed to be of the best quality. As stated, these bulbs consist of tulips and hyacinths. As to the latter, the official points out that they may be treated in two ways — they may be either potted or placed in water jars for inside blooming, or planted in beds, like tulips, for spring blooming. The directions given for outside planting, which apply alike to tulips and hyacinths, are as follows. The beds should be dug deep and made mellow, and enriched with well-rotted manure — preferably that from a cow stable. In planting, make a hole about five inches deep, put a handful of sand in the bottom to insure drainage, and prevent rotting, then plant the bulb so that the crown will be within about three inches of the surface of the ground. Bulbs may be planted at once, or any time during this month — before severe frost. After the first severe frost cover the beds with litter of leaves, or loose stable manure, and hold down with branches, and remove in the early spring.

Expired While Family Eat Dinner

Unexpected Demise of Mrs. Thomas Nimmo, of Monaghan.

Death Was Result of a Heart Affection —Deceased Was 71 Years of Age.

In a wholly unexpected manner, came the death yesterday, at noon, of one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of South Monaghan, in the person of Mary Smithson, relict of the late Robert Nimmo.

About twelve o'clock yesterday, the deceased, who had previously been in comparatively good health, notwithstanding her advanced age of seventy-one years, was asked by a member of the family to come to dinner. She replied that she did not care for any. Walking to the end of the room, she seated herself upon a chair, apparently to look out of a nearby window, and a few minutes later, sank down, and expired almost immediately. Medical aid was at once summoned, but she had breathed her last before any assistance could be procured.

Previous to her demise, a slight illness had at times been noticeable, but it had not been considered of a critical character. The cause of death was pronounced to be an affection of the heart.

The late Mrs. Nimmo was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smithson, and she was born upon the farm where her demise occurred. Surviving to mourn her loss are five daughters: Mary, Roberta, Fanny, Louise, and Sarah of Toronto; and three sons, Robert, of New Liskeard, Thomas, of South Monaghan, and Leslie, of Toronto. Two sisters are Mrs. Matthews, of Lindsay; and Mrs. Perrin, of Bowden, N.W.T.

The funeral will take place on Saturday, at two o'clock, from the family residence, to the Methodist cemetery, South Monaghan, for interment.

Man Was Struck By Street Car

A man named Hampton, an employee of the C. P. R., was the victim of a street car accident last night about 9.30 o'clock, at the corner of George and Simcoe streets.

Hampton, it appears, attempted to cross the track immediately in front of an approaching car, and was struck upon the head, and a rather severe scalp wound inflicted, in addition to a considerable shaking up. The injured man was taken to W. H. Hamilton's grocer, and thence by the ambulance to the Nicholls Hospital.

It is thought that there will be no serious consequences. In response to an inquiry the hospital authorities to-day state that he is doing well.

Sixteen Men Were Buried This Morning

In Cave-in of the Vermont Slate Co.'s Quarry.

Dead Will Number Fourteen, Including President of the Company.

Special to the Examiner

Troy, N.Y., Oct. 6.—Sixteen men were buried this morning in a cave-in of the Vermont Slate Company's quarry, near Granville, N.Y. David Cadwallader and Warren Queen, the foremen of the quarry, were rescued. The latter is expected to die. The fourteen dead include J. B. Williams, the president of the company, and Hungarian labourers.

Shocked By A Hanging Electric Wire

The Little Son of Mr. Keough Grasps a Live Wire.

Narrow Escape From Fatal Consequences—Could Not Relax His Hold.

A peculiar accident happened on Park street, at the foot of Gilmour street, this morning, and the little victim received a rather severe shock, although the consequences were not at all serious.

A loose wire was hanging from the transformer on an electric light pole with the insulation partly burned off, and to this last a little boy probably owes his life. Gabriel Keough, the young son of Mr. L. Keough, late principal of the Murray street Separate School, playfully grasped the wire, entirely ignorant of its shocking nature. He found it impossible to relax his hold, and immediately began screaming at the top of his voice. The attention of some ladies coming from church was attracted, and they rescued the boy from his painful position, also receiving shocks while effecting the rescue. The police were notified, and the defect remedied.

Glance Pier Will Be Built

The steamer King Edward went down yesterday morning to Trent Bridge, with a scowload of timber and a new boom.

A force of men, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Yeiland, will commence to-day the construction of the crib work of a new glance pier.

Discussion On Armoury Site

and Jas. Stevenson, of the Board of Education, and Col. Miller, Majors Stevenson and Hayes, and Captains Clegg and Bennett, of the 57th Regiment.

Mr. Hall was the first to speak and reviewed the situation as it stood at the present, viz.—the proposal to erect the Armoury at the rear of the Murray street lots, and the Institute on McDonel street also well to the rear. He pointed out that what was needed was to consider the matter from the standpoint not of the present, but for all time to come. He believed that the citizens wished to encourage the military organizations, and the Armoury which would be erected would have to be planned to meet not only the needs of the local militia, also those of the Midland Distr and great care should be exercised in selecting the best available site for the Armoury.

The gentlemen to whom he had talked, had advocated the construction of the Armoury on Murray street at the west side of the lots. All that was necessary then was for the School Board to give to the Government an agreement that in consideration of allowing them to build on lots 5 and 6, the Board would give the right to drill on lots 3 and 4, which at present are vested in the Board. This would give plenty of room at the front of the buildings to drill, and would give the people an opportunity of seeing the boys drill. They must not lose sight of the fact, he said, that the Government would spend over $100,000 on the Armoury, and that in view of this fact it was advisable to select the best site available, and to encourage and develop a patriotic spirit the citizens should be willing to give the site which would set the buildings off to the best advantage.

Mr. Hall pointed out, in answer to the belief which many held that the Separate School could still be used for school purposes, that it must be remembered that it was Government property, and did not belong to the city at all.

Col. Miller representing the 57th Regiment, followed and said that he was not there with a kick, they were well satisfied. As far as the militia are concerned, they had said to the School Board, "Now, take which ground you like." The militia wanted ground to drill, and were satisfied to take either Murray of McDonel streets. The School Board had select d the north part of the lot, that facing McDonel street, and in accordance with this arrangement the deeds had been drawn out. They had not asked for a change, but if there was any reason from a public standpoint, why a change should be made they would consider them.

The only change they asked was that the buildings should be placed at the rear of the grounds, close to the lane, for the reason that they would look much better, and in addition, there would be more room for drilling.

Dealing with the remark that the drill ground would be rough, he said that this was not the case, as the Government would put a man in charge of the grounds who would have to keep them in good shape. What they wanted, therefore, was to have plenty of ground for drilling, and to have the buildings moved to the west end of the grounds. The public might thus have a chance to witness the soldiers drilling. They thought that since the drill hall would be put to the rear, the Institute should be moved back also. Mr. Ferguson, chairman of the Board of Education, said that the lots to the north side of the park were the better, and that the only question upon which there might be any discussion was that of the location of the buildings. He was of the opinion that the better place to erect the buildings was as far to the rear of the lots as possible. The Board of Education had not changed its mind since it had chosen the lots on the north side of the park.

Capt. Bennett followed, and endorsed the views of the former speakers in reference to the location of the buildings. He suggested, however, that a space should be left at the west end of the lots in order that there might be a space for forming up squadrons of cavalry.

Major Hayes, who represented both the Board of Education and the Fifty-seventh Regiment, also spoke, supporting the views of those who advocated placing the buildings at the rear of the plot.

Capt. Eastwood, also as a member of the two bodies interested, was in unison with the views of the former speakers, as was also Mr. R. B. Rogers, who said that if the Government did not intend to give the School Board the use of the present Separate School building there could be not two opinions as to the location of the two buildings.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson felt that it would be useless for him to offer his opinion. He believed that the better plan was, if possible, to retain the Separate School building, and build the Institute as an addition to that school, and thereby save from $8,000 to $9,000. He did not know how the friends of the thousand or so persons whose bones were reposing on the north of the lot would like to see them dug up, as would be the case were the Institute, which would have to have a cellar, built on that side. He thought that it would be better to make the Government do change the location and erect the Institute on the south side and have the Armoury on the north, and, in the meantime, the Separate School building could be used as an accommodation for a fourth book class. He was of the opinion that the people could not vote the money to erect an Institute of the size of that proposed. The ratepayers would have to be considered, and it was a pity, he thought, to have drawn a building which would cost $100,000 to erect at the present time. He was opposed to the Armoury being erected on the south side of the lots.

Major Stevenson expressed his views, which were in accord with those of the other officers, as did Capt. Clegg.

Ald. McIntyre, who made the motion in the Council some time ago that the exchange of the lots be made, was asked to express his views, and said that while he felt that it was advisable to place the structures at the west side, he was not satisfied that it was wise to pull down the Separate School building, and felt like Mr. Stevenson, that the ratepayers would not look kindly upon the suggestion to tear it down.

This view was also supported by Mayor Best, who doubted if the ratepayers would vote more money for schools if the Separate School building were torn down.

Ald. Adams thought that the question was one which rested largely with the School Board and the militia. At the beginning the suggestion was made that the buildings should be as far forward as possible, with the drill ground behind; but later there had apparently been a change in the plans. The first suggestion was one which was, in his mind, the better, but it was wholly a matter outside of the Council. He was of the opinion that the School Board would be severely criticised if they sanctioned the destruction of the Separate School building and had to rent buildings until such time as the people felt inclined to vote more money to build a Collegiate Institute; then it could be torn down.

Mr. W. H. Hill, of the Board of Education, said that they should approach the question as citizens, not as members of any particular body. In the first place, the militia would never have secured the grounds unless it had been in conjunction with the Board of Education, nor would the latter have secured it alone. In his opinion, the better place to build the Collegiate Institute was on the north side, and he also thought that the two buildings should be built on a line with each other, and the original intention was to erect both buildings with their front lines on lot three, or on the western portion of the present park. His idea would be to retain the present Separate School building, which was in good condition. This building might be used as a manual training building, which was suggested as a necessary part of the school system of the city. He referred to the many advantages of manual training, which had been very beneficial to young men in other cities. While he had favoured having the Institute on the north side, if the Separate School building could be retained he would be inclined to now favour changing the lots, and building the Institute on the south side and the Armoury on the north side. He defied anyone to point out any place in the Province where there was a parade ground in front of an institute. The proper place, in his estimation, for the parade ground was in the rear of the buildings.

The people of the city of Peterborough would not very readily agree to tearing down the Separate School building at the present time. It was finally decided, after considerable discussion, that the matter should be referred to the Board of Education and the officers of the Fifty-Seventh to decide. A joint meeting of these two interests will be held in the near future.

HAD TO HIDE IT

A mother wrote us recently that she had to keep Scott's Emulsion under lock and key—her children used to drink it whenever her back was turned. Strange that children should like something that is so good for them. It's usually the other way. Scott's Emulsion makes children comfortable, makes them fat and rosy-cheeked. Perhaps that's why they like it so much—they know it makes them feel good.

The Convention At Fairmount Was a Success

Women's Missionary Society of Peterborough District Met.

Many Delegates Present From This City—The Business.

The Examiner has received the following report of the convention of the Woman's Missionary Society, of the methodist church of the Peterborough district:

This convention was held in the Methodist church, Fairmount, on Wednesday, October 4, where we arrived, after a very pleasant drive, about 10 o'clock. The opening service was conducted by Mrs. (Rev.) Robison, assisted by Mrs. (Rev.) Sexsmith. Hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," was sung, and was followed by a session of prayer. A Scripture lesson was then read. Hymn, "There Is Work to do for Jesus," was sung, after which the business of the convention was proceeded with, the district organizer, Mrs. (Rev.) Kilgour in the chair.

Mrs. M. A. Turner was appointed secretary for the day.

The different auxiliaries were represented as follows:

Peterborough—George street: Mrs. Jas. Kendry, Mrs. (Rev.) Crothers, Mrs. (Rev.) Campbell, Mrs. Pentland, Mrs. Micks, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Bithray, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Oke, Mrs. Dormer, Mrs. Turner.

Peterborough — Charlotte street: Mrs. (Rev.) Kilgour, Mrs. (Rev.) Jolliffe, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Lightfoot, Mrs. Lyle, Mrs. Switzer, Mrs. Minoghan, Miss Barrie.

Peterborough—Mark street: Mrs. (Rev.) Lewis, Mrs. Wand, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Smith.

Bailliebord — Mrs. (Rev.) Robson, Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. Skitch.

Millbrook—Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. (Rev.) Clare, Miss Burnham.

Fairmount—Mrs. G. Hoobin, Mrs. R. Hoobin, Mrs. Howden, Mrs. Howson, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. F. Staples, Mrs. J. Staples, Mrs. Leaton, Mrs. McBean, Misses Indoe, Staples and Findlay.

Cavanville—Mrs. (Rev.) Sexsmith, Mrs. Howson, Mrs. Fotheringham, Mrs. F. Staples, Mrs. H. Staples, Mrs. Sutton, Mrs. Newton, Misses Coe, Osborne and Swain.

The other auxiliaries, Lakefield, Bridgenorth, Warsaw, Benefort and Bethany were not represented owing to the distance, but sent reports. At this point it was moved by Mrs. Moore and seconded by Mrs. Lightfoot that we send to Mrs. D. Meacham, late president of Warsaw auxiliary, a letter of sympathy in her late bereavement.

The reports of auxiliaries were then received, and all showed an increase, not only in membership and funds, but also in interest. As some auxiliaries reported for the fifteen months since our last convention, and some only for the months since reports were sent to the branch in May, it is impossible to give a detailed report as to finances and membership. Nearly every auxiliary reported having sent bales or boxes of clothing to the Supply Committee. The Mission Bands of George street and Charlotte street churches are reported in a flourishing condition.

Mrs. J. K. Moore, of Charlotte street, gave a very interesting and instructive paper on "The Special Work of Mission Circles and Bands," and some discussions on the subject followed, after which an address was given by Mrs. A. Morrow on "The Chinese Girls' Rescue Work in British Columbia." She began by telling how the work was first started by Mr. Gardiner, and then gave some of her own experiences while engaged in the work there.

The morning service was brought to a close by a few words of prayer by Rev. Mr. Sexsmith.

The visiting auxiliaries were then invited to partake of a bountiful repast provided by the ladies of Fairmount. The afternoon session was opened by a consecration service conducted by Mrs. A. T. Allison. Hymn No. 118 was sung, and Mrs. Morrow was called upon to lead in prayer, after which Mrs. Allison read a portion of Scripture, and then followed a testimony meeting which was closed with a few words of prayer.

Six little girls then gave us a missionary exercise. It was then moved by Mrs. Jas. Kendry that we memorialize the branch; that by-law No. 8 be changed to read as follows: "The report from the Auxiliary to the District Convention shall include all work done, and moneys raised from date of previous Convention." This was seconded by Mrs. (Rev.) Lewis, and carried.

A very helpful and instructive paper on "The Missionary Study Class" was then read by Mrs. Langford Staples, and the subject was afterwards discussed.

Miss Nugent then sang as a solo, "I Love to Tell the Story," requesting the congregation to join with her in the chorus.

In an address by Mrs. Kendry we were given a brief but comprehensive review of our W. M. S. work in the different fields, more particular mention being made of the great progress of the work in Japan, and of the call for more workers in China, where new buildings are required. Mention was also made of the work among the Indians on the Pacific Coast. Mrs. (Rev.) Lewis then read a paper on "Consecrated Giving," and some very good suggestions were given along this line. Hymn, "Hark, the Voice of Jesus Calling," was sung, and the collection was then taken up.

A question drawer was then conducted by Mrs. (Rev.) Campbell. The questions handed in were to the point and of much interest to auxiliary workers, and they were all well answered by Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. (Rev.) Crothers, in a few pleasing words, moved a very cordial vote of thanks to the ladies of Fairmount for their kind hospitality. Mrs. (Rev.) Jolliffe seconded it and said she thought we had been royally entertained. The motion was unanimously carried.

Rev. Mr. Sexsmith then spoke a few encouraging words for our work. Mrs. Kilgour's closing words were that one thing we needed was more prayer. Keep on praying, always praying. The Doxology was then sung, and Rev. Mr. Clare closed the convention with a few words of prayer.

The drive home in the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

TUMORS CONQUERED

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so sly that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse menstruation, accompanied by unusual pain, from the ovaries down the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice free of all charge if you will write her about yourself. Your letter will be seen by women only. Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my monthlies stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor on the uterus and would have to undergo an operation.

"Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After trying five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my monthlies around once more, and I am entirely well."—Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chestnut Street, Bradford, Pa.

The Docket For Assizes Is Large

Two Murder and Five Civil Cases Will be Heard.

Before Hon. Mr. Justice Street at the Fall Sitting, to Open on Monday, October 9th.

There will be a somewhat unusual docket to engage the attention of the Court at the opening, here, of the Fall Assizes on Monday next, before His Honour Mr. Justice Street.

The criminal cases, will be those of Patrick McArdiffe, charged with the murder of Frederick Hudson, and Charles Gow, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Thomas Edward Hall.

Beside these cases, which will naturally attend an unusual interest, there are three jury and two non-jury cases to be disposed of. These are as follows:—

Jury Cases.

Turner vs. Hamblink.—An action for damages of $500, and costs of the action, brought by the plaintiff, Jane Ann Hare Turner, against D. F. Hamblink. Plaintiff alleged that she, on Nov. 15th, 1899, leased to defendant a building and premises in Port Hope for a term of five years, the latter covenanting to keep the premises in good repair, and that he failed to do so, his failure to carry out the conditions, necessitating the expenditure of a large sum of money to repair the property, which is much depreciated in value by breach of covenant. The defendant alleges that the premises are in as good a state of repair as when rented, and offers to restore to their original condition a number of articles which were moved in order that the building might be utilized for evaporating purposes, the cost of this he claims being less than $40.00. Part of the property was dilapidated and fell down without his interference. Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Stevenson, Plaintiff's solicitors; Proudfoot, Hays & Bain, Solicitors for defendant.

Gray vs. Davis.—An action brought by Elizabeth K. Gray against Alfred L. Davis, for $600 principal, and $162.70 interest, on a promissory note; and $1000 principal and $298 interest for moneys lent, and the costs of the action. Plaintiff alleges that the note was made on Aug. 17th, 1900, and that though payment has been demanded, it had not been paid. The amount of $1000 lent subsequently had not been paid.

The statement of defence submits that the $600 referred to was loaned to the Peterborough Peat Fuel Company, and that it (with accruing interest was with her knowledge and consent placed to the credit of her husband, John W. Gray, in the books of the company, and applied on the purchase of 15 shares of the company's stock, at $20 per share, and 46 shares at $10 per share. Defendant further alleges that any liability against him was as surety only, and denies that the sum of $1000 was ever lent him by the plaintiff. E. B. Edwards, plaintiff's solicitor; Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr and Stevenson, solicitors for the defence.

McWilliams vs. The Dickson Company. — An action for damages, brought by Theodore McWilliams, of Peterborough, against the Dickson Company. Plaintiff alleges that during the winter of 1904-05, defendants cut a quantity of timber, amounting in all to 856 saw logs, or about 60,000 feet board measure, upon his lots, Nos. 18 and 19, in concession 5, Cavendish township, under deed from John Cochrane, the patentee, without his permission, and subsequently took them to a point on Clear Lake. On an order made by the Master-in-Ordinary on July 14th, 1905, the sheriff of the county seized the logs, and thereupon defendants offered to pay into court the value of the logs, an agreement being entered into to this effect on July 24th, upon which plaintiff consented to release the logs from seizure. The plaintiff claims the sum of $531.56 as value of the logs and damages for wrongful removal.

Defendants claim that long prior to the date mentioned they were authorized by licenses from the Crown to cut and remove timber from the lands referred to; and also deny the validity of the deed of John Cochrane, and of the alleged transfer from him to the plaintiff. They further allege that John B. McWilliams, father of the plaintiff, and a Crown Timber Agent, an official acting in connection with the purchase of the lands, was interested in the proposed transfer, and it was intended that he should derive benefits therein; and that John Cochrane, a brother-in-law of J. B. McWilliams, was acting on behalf of, and as agent for him, in assisting to obtain possession of the lands. The action of the three parties mentioned was illegal, and the alleged grant was therefore void. The defendants further say that on Jan. 4th Cochrane entered into agreement with them to allow them to take all timber on the lot on payment of the Crown dues, after he received the patents, and that the plaintiffs had knowledge of notice to this effect, and that the latter still holds the lands, subject to the conditions of the agreement. The defendants have offered, and still offer, the sum of $32.80, as provided in the agreement, on condition that it is accepted in discharge of further liability on their part.

The plaintiff, in reply, denies that J. B. McWilliams has, or had, any interest in the lands, or that he has ever been an official in connection with the sale of the lands. The alleged agreement mentioned is invalid, and was a fraud against the Crown upon the part of defendants. Plaintiff also denies that he had knowledge of the agreement before acquiring the lands. R. F. McWilliams, plaintiff's solicitor; Rogor & Bennet, solicitors for defence.

Non-Jury.

McWilliams v. Dickson—The plaintiff, Theodore McWilliams, claims that during the winter of 1903-04 he became the assignee from deontees of lands in cons. 3 and 4, Cavendish Township, and cut a number of logs which were placed on the ice ready to market, and that on May 18, 1904, defendants took the logs forcibly from his possession. In alternative, plaintiff refers to the complaint made to the Commissioner of Crown Lands by plaintiff, that the cutting of the logs was an infringement of their rights as holders of a timber license for the territory. As directed by the Commissioner in his reply, negotiations took place as to the amount which should be paid plaintiff, the ruling being to the effect that the lands be restored to the Dickson Company's license, and that a reasonable sum be paid defendants for cutting expenses. No agreement was ever arrived at. The defendants, subsequently, plaintiff claims, paid to him $5,957.93, which was accepted as a payment on account, but says that a reasonable cost of cutting and handling exceeded that amount. Defendants afterward took possession of the logs by force. Plaintiff claims the $3,000 as balance due on logs still remaining unpaid, and with interest thereon, and costs of the action.

The defendants deny that plaintiff was the assignee from actual locatees, and deny his legal right and title to the lands, and claim to be holders of Crown timber licenses covering these. Plaintiff further alleges that under the provisions of the Statute relating to land grants to volunteers, defendant could not be located, in any event, for more than one hundred and sixty acres, and not more than one such block within one square mile, whereas he wrongfully sets up title to a block containing about one thousand acres. Defendants also set up the provisions of the Free Grant and Homesteads Act and of the Public Lands Act as against the legal right of plaintiff to the lands, and allege that he never performed necessary improvements and settlement duties upon the lands. They further state that the alleged claim was procured through the efforts and intervention and trafficking of J. B. McWilliams, plaintiff's father, and that the claim is void because of the fact that it was acquired by reason of the official position of the latter, who was disentitled to purchase the lands under such circumstances. Defendants allege that the Commissioner of Crown Lands had no jurisdiction in the premises, and that though the plaintiff's title to the timber was subject of contest at the time of cutting, yet this was proceeded with, and allege that plaintiff has been paid as much and more than he is entitled to. On April 12, plaintiff accepted a payment from defendants in settlement of claim, releasing the latter from further liability. R. F. McWilliams, plaintiff's solicitor; Roger and Bennett, solicitors for defence.

Cassidy v. Bolin — An action brought by Mrs. Mary Cassidy, of Peterborough, against Patrick Bolin, to recover the sum of $400 and interest at six per cent., from November 9 until judgment, and the costs of the action, this sum, she alleges, being due upon a mortgage granted to plaintiff upon a property in the Township of Otonabee.

The defendant denies all allegations in the statement of claim, and pleads that any claim plaintiff may have had is barred and extinguished under the Statute of Limitations.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks, of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

CAPT. ALF. SHAW WRITES

AN INTERESTING LETTER

ON WESTERN CONDITIONS

Former Well Known Peterborough Man, in Letter to M. E. S. Clarry, Gives Some Interesting Information—His Troop Was Chosen to Escort the Governor-General on His Trip—Fine Specimen of Men on Mounted Police Force—The Proposed Reduction of the Force.

Captain Alf. Shaw, formerly of the Third Dragoons, and at present holding a commission in the North-west Mounted Police, writes a very interesting letter to his old friend, Mr. E. S. Clarry, of Peterborough. Capt. Shaw is a promising young soldier, and his hosts of friends in and around Peterborough, will be very pleased to hear of his continued success. He is at present at Saskatchewan, and writing to Mr. Clarry from that place, Capt. Shaw says, in part:

"You will see by this address that they still keep me on the move out here in the West. This fort is a small town of about 800 inhabitants, and is sixteen miles north-east of Edmonton. It is a very pretty place and is situated on the banks of the Saskatchewan River. Mr. Darcy Strickland from Lakefield, who used to be the Adjutant of the Third Dragoons, is in charge of this Division. He is a fine fellow, and the best possible to soldier under. He is now very stout, and does not do much riding. I have charge of the drills for the division and like that part of the work very much.

"My troop was chosen as escort to the Governor-General during his trip out here to the inauguration ceremonies, and we had a splendid time. His excellency certainly used us fine. I had 16 men and one corporal in the troop, and the average height of the men was five feet and eleven inches. They were a splendid lot of soldiers, and, needless to say, I was proud of them. The city council of Edmonton, allowed me to choose the horses to draw the Governor-General's carriage. I got four greys, and took our own four-in-hand teamster, and practiced escort work at the exhibition grounds for two weeks until everything ran off very smoothly. They finished up the day with a grand dance in the evening, and the great event was over. The Mounted Police put on a musical ride, and a march past, in the morning, and a musical ride in the afternoon. When it was all over, I was glad to get back to the fort to have a rest.

"This is a very different country from that around Regina. It is all bush here, such as is in Ontario, but it is a splendid farming country. The Canadian Northern Railway is being built through here, and we are having a pretty rough class of men to handle. At present we have three men charged with murder in the guard room. One of these men is Charles King. I still belong to Headquarters at Regina, and they send me all over when they want an officer for a short time. It is certainly a delightful experience. I was at Wetaskiwin for a couple of weeks attending court as a witness. Geo. Henwood, of Port Hope, whom you know, is there. George is Crown prosecutor in a case.

"With the advent of the new provinces, the Mounted Police force is to be reduced, and those who care to will be transferred to the permanent cavalry regiments. I have asked to be transferred to Strathcona's Horse, a new cavalry regiment about to be formed and stationed in the West. It would suit me very well, as I have my qualifications already.

"Just a year ago, I was down on the boundary between Montana and Canada, just one thousand miles from my present station. I do not know when I shall be back home, but not likely for another year."

King Edward Peacemaker

King Edward again has been displaying the tactful and wise qualities which have won him so much credit of late. The speeches of Lord Roberts and the aims of the Ministry in favour of strengthening the British regular army have made the volunteer force to feel hurt in some degree, as though their value was not properly recognised. To counterbalance this, and to soothe their natural feeling of soreness, the King has been at special pains to emphasize his regard for the Volunteers of the United Kingdom. The recent review of Scottish Volunteers at Edinburgh helped to show his esteem for those forces of defence, and possibly the awakening displeasure of the Volunteers against the government will be allayed by the King's politic action. Again, at Marienbad, where the King was recently taking the waters, he was especially marked in his attention to Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman, who is now in opposition in Parliament, but is likely to be the leader of the next government. King Edward has no narrow prejudices in regard to the public men of the country and recognises the labour men in Parliament as readily as the chief of the ancient parties.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SALVATION ARMY.

The corporation of the city of London has unanimously resolved to confer the freedom of the city on General Booth of the Salvation Army, "in recognition of his great work for the moral and social elevation of the people." The honour is a great one, as the custom is to bestow the freedom of the city only on members of the Royal family, and military and naval heroes or statesmen of marked pre-eminence. A very high tribute is thus paid to the work and worth of the Salvation Army. We, in Peterborough, can bear witness to the zeal with which the work of the army is carried on, and the good it has done, and is doing. Many us know of personal knowledge, of the good work it has done. We are aware, from personal knowledge, of the striking examples of individual reform which have been accomplished through its agency — men, who seemed lost to self-respect, and to have fallen into vicious ways, who were of no use to themselves, to their families, or society, but, on the other hand, were encumbrances in all these relations, — we have seen these men brought under the influence of the methods of the Salvation Army, reformed and made useful, industrious, God-fearing members of society. Every new citizen brought into the country, economists estimate, is worth $1,000 to the state. Men like these referred to, practically become new citizens, and thus the work of the army has a money value to the state, not to speak of the priceless value of a wasted life restored to moral sanity and spiritual sobriety. It cannot be said of the army that it carries on its work without much banging of drums, and blowing of trumpets; but that is its way, and so long as its good work is done, none have reason to quarrel with its methods. We have much banging of drums, and blowing of horns in other quarters without any such results as the Salvation Army work produces. Orthodox religion, and orthodox religious methods, seem largely to have come to the stage where they are taken for granted, and as part of a regular routine, representing a social function, from which it would not be good form, to abstain, a form without the power to probe into the depths of men's lives, and dig up the good that is in all of us, though it may be thickly encrusted and overlaid with indifference or overt wickedness. Sometimes extraordinary methods are necessary to arouse men, and put their thinking powers into motion. St. Paul, it seemed, needed to be struck with divine lightning before he could be brought to realize that his zeal in persecuting the saints, and chasing them from city to city, was misdirected activity. So, many men, zealous in wicked works, and deaf to the voice of true duty, need the blow of a Salvation Army drum to waken them to a sense of what they should be. When we see what the army has done, and is doing — though it has come up through great tribulation; how it has overcome prejudice, opposition, and even persecution; how it has shown its faith by its works; how it has reached a recognized place, in the face of the deep-rooted prejudice of metropolitan London; how it has forced recognition of its claims to respect, as a factor for moral improvement; how it has, in a word, in the slang of the day, "made good," one is not surprised that the venerable founder of the army, that grand old recruiting sergeants, General Booth, is to be given the freedom of the greatest city in the world, and of history.

The Brantford Expositor is boasting over the fact that its population tops 20,000. The Telephone City's acquisiton of the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway, seems to make it feel buoyant, through and through. Brantford is justifiably proud of her progress, which Peterborough knows how to sympathize with, for we are growing a little, too. The Expositor prints a long list of her live manufactories, and proposes the holding of a "Made-in-Brantford" exposition.

Taxation Experiments On Trial In New Zealand

New Zealand is a most of experimental plot set apart for trying on the new legal boots the world seeks to stretch to fits its feet. It is the land of radical legislation, and it has it in plenty, both good and bad. Of its compulsory arbitration experiences the world has heard much; but all its radical ventures have not resulted so discouragingly. In 1896 the Colonial Parliament authorized the municipalitites to exempt all real estate improvements from local taxation, personal property having been exempted throughout the colony by act of Parliament in 1891. About sixty taxing districts availed themselves of this privilege, and the results are now being considered. A recent report points out that a comparison of twelve of these towns, ranging in population from 500 to 45,419, and aggregating 92,215, has been made by the Sydney Single Tax League, with twelve other New Zealand towns, ranging from 590 to 37,022, and aggregating 89,917, for the purpose of contrasting gain or loss of population in the Single Tax towns with gain or loss of population in towns that have not adopted the Single Tax. In the twelve Single Tax towns population has invariably increased, with a total increase of 17,265, or 23 per cent. This in itself would prove nothing. When, however, it is found that the several towns that have not adopted the Single Tax have, in the same period—1897 to 1903—actually lost—while the rest have increased but slightly, and the total increase is only 1,576, or less than two per cent., we may fairly concede that the change has tended to benefit them.

The principle of the Single Tax system is the taking for the use of the community only values produced by the community. It asks much where much is given. It does not proceed upon the theory of taking according to a man's ability to pay" that is to penalize industry, and in many cases to reward laziness or prodigality. It says; Pay to the community, according to the benefits conferred upon you by the community. It does not tell the assessors: "Watch closely, and whenever you see a man building a house or a factory, or a store, or improving his property, pounce upon him and hit him with a big tax bill, but treat with all consideration the speculator who holds lots vacant, growing weeds while he waits to take toll of the man who comes to build up the city." It says: "Exempt improvements; tax the mere land values and public privileges enjoyed by a man to the exclusion of his fellows.

Such a system stimulates to building and improvement. It does not punish industry. It does not tend to induce men to button up their pockets and refrain from investment. It does not regard as a public enemy the man who earns and produces. It does not take from any man out of proportion to the benefits conferred on him by the community. And in all these particulars it is as unlike the Ontario Assessment Act as it could well be made.—Hamilton Times.

Will Rate Meet Assesmennt?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I suppose by this time the Peterborough Assessors will have completed their assessment and have returned, or are about to return, their rolls to the city.

If I size up the situation correctly, there will be an increase in the assessment of Peterborough this year of between $500,000 and three-quarters of a million, which at 18 mills on the dollar would give an increased revenue to the city in the neighbourhood of $12,000. Say that there will be an increase of about $12,000, what is the town going to do about it? It is a well-known fact that the property assessment is as close to the full value as it can be disposed for. My property is, I know, and I am assuming that the assessors are honest and are assessing each one at the same way. Now if the Council does not cut the rate and if it allows the full amount to be collected and paid into the city treasury, is an additional sum to be spent? Or are the rates to be reduced in proportion to the increased assessment? It is to be hoped that the Finance Minister of the city and his Worship the Mayor will see to it that the rate is reduced in proportion to the increased assessment, as the rate is sufficient at present to meet all reasonable requirements of the city with ordinary care.

Yours truly,
"CITIZEN."

SOVEREIGN FIRE SHARES.

Issue of Insurance Stock is Being Largely Subscribed.

Interest in the issue of shares in the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company has greatly increased since the publication of the excellent prospectus of the company, which has been widely published throughout the country. The representation and substantial character of the directorate, embracing as it does prominent men in financial, commercial and insurance circles in all parts of the Dominion, has brought about a degree of public confidence in the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company such as is given to few newly-organized financial institutions. The wide scope which the operations of the Sovereign Fire will take, the large amount of paid up capital with which it will begin business, and the vast amount of profitable insurance business already offering, are becoming known to investors, and the issue of stock is being well taken up.

An evidence of the caution and business acumen of those responsible for the preliminary management of the company's affairs is to be found in the decision to offer the $40.00 shares of the company at a premium of 25 per cent. In view of the assured future of the company, the shares, with the premium added, are considered in insurance circles a good purchase, and by disposing of them at a premium the company is ensuring the company a most favourable beginning and an unimpaired capital. Mr. Addison H. Hoover, the President and Managing Director of that sturdy young prodigy among Canadian life corporations, the Sovereign Life Assurance Company, is in charge of the preliminary affairs of the Sovereign Fire, and is receiving the subscriptions for stock sent by mail.

The Perils of Sectarianism Are Feared

Rev. Dr. Symonds Speaks on Church Unity

Exhaustive Address by Rev. E. A Langfeldt at Wycliffe Alumni Association.

The Toronto Globe reports an interesting lecture by Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Montreal, formerly of this city, in Toronto. It says:—

A strong advocate for closer union among Christian bodies is Rev. Herbert Symonds of Montreal, who delivered many succinct remarks upon the subject during yesterday's sessions of the Wycliffe College Alumni Association. The speaker feared that the Anglican Church was in peril of becoming sectarian, although expediency advised and experience proved the advisability of closer union among Christian bodies.

'We should aim at unity, not uniformity,' he said. Christ gave no definite creed, or constitution, formally drawn up, for the Christian Church. The Church was the Divine complement in the universal society of the family and the home. It was much more important to have unity in spirit than in machinery. The Roman Church was unchanging in its attitude towards union, while the progress of union was very manifest among the reformed Churches. Although the Anglican Church held out, the proofs were that the circle of agreement was much larger than that of disagreement. The vision of the prophet, the ideal of the apostle and the prayer of the Master was that we might be one in Him who was our Father and our God.

At the same session Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., Rector of St. Luke's Church, read an exhaustive paper on the "Worship of God by Means of Ecclesiastical Seasons," which was much enjoyed.

New Crown Timber Agent Appointed

Mr. Arthur Stevenson has Been Placed in That Position

Notice of New Appointment Forwarded to Mr. D. H. Moore.

With reference to the rumour to the effect that Mr. D. H. Moore, acting Crown Timber Agent, has been dismissed, which has during the past few days gained currency upon the streets, the Examiner this morning called upon that gentleman.

In reply to an enquiry, he said that he had just received a communication from the Department of Crown Lands, informing him that Mr. Arthur Stevenson had been appointed to the position of Crown Timber Agent at Peterborough, and directing that the custody of the office be turned over to him.

Concurrently with this were received instructions from the same source to proceed with certain duties. Mr. Moore is naturally at a loss to understand the action of the Department. He has for some time been occupying the position of Supervising Ranger.

Some charges, it is understood, have recently been preferred against him by prominent local Conservatives, accusing him of political activity, but of these nothing has been said to Mr. Moore, and no opportunity given him to refute them.

Miss Weyer is Now a Graduate

Second in the list of nurses graduating from St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, published yesterday, is the name of Miss Anne Weyer, of Peterborough.

The graduating exercises in connection with the hospital took place on Tuesday night. Dr. Oldright occupied the chair. Among those present were Vicar-General McCann and Rev. Father McGuire.

Miss Weyer has taken her three years' course at St. Michael's, and her large circle of friends in Peterborough will unite in extending their hearty congratulations.

Health Officers Make Inspection

Acting Medical Health Officer Dr. Young, and Chief Rossel, this morning paid a visit of inspection to the property in the vicinity of the Barnardo Home, the unsanitary conditions of which have recently been the subject of so much discussion.

The cess pools were found to be in a most unsatisfactory condition, their overflow being a constant source of menace to residents upon adjacent property.

The abolition of the undesirable cess-pools was insisted upon, otherwise it will become necessary to order the vacation of the building.

A Western Critic on the Irish Guards Band.

The following is taken from a report in the Winnipeg Tribune, of the Irish Guards Band's appearance in that city.

"A great cry of enthusiastic welcome greeted the appearance of the band of the Irish Guards yesterday afternoon, as the forty-five musicians in red and gold braided uniforms composing this superb organisation, stepped upon the platform in the drill hall on Broadway. A still greater warmth, tantamount to an ovation, marked their entrance at the concert in the evening, the audience being much larger, roared and clapped its hands in all the glowing fervour of national feeling, to be repeated again and again, after 'God Save the King' was performed; with the addition of approving shouts of appreciation, as the beautiful balance of tone was then and there apparent. To begin with, the band has not been over-praised, and by the time forty bars of German's 'Henry the Eighth' dances had been performed—the first music played by the band in Winnipeg—one felt that a master hand was at the helm, whose lightest touch was felt, from solo clarinet, down to the lowest depths of the monster bass, and with it those marvels of crescendo, and diminuendo, that denotes the artistic modern conductor. Such is Mr. C. H. Hassell. No eastern critic who has exalted the surety and unanimity of attack of Mr. Hassel's musicians, their beauty of tone, tenderness in soft passages, and splendour in loud, has overshot the mark. Proof of these special characteristics were given at both of yesterday's concerts."

No one in Peterborough, or this district, should miss hearing the band on Wednesday night next in the rink. Reserved seats, 75 cents and $1; general admission, 50 cents. Plan at Ormond and Walsh's drug store.

Mr. J. S. Larke Will Return To Peterboro'

Commercial Agent to Australia and New Zealand.

Will Speak on the Export Trade of Canada on Oct. 24th.

Mr. J. S. Larke, the Canadian Commercial Agent for Eastern Australia and New Zealand, who is in Canada, has written to Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine, Secretary of the local Board of Trade, to the effect that he will deliver a lecture in this city on Tuesday, Oct. 24th, on the Export Trade of Canada, with special reference to the trade and possibilities of trade with the particular countries in which he is most deeply interested, by reason of the fact that he is the trade representative of the Dominion there. Mr. Larke will be glad to meet any one who is interested in any way in the export trade of Canada.

As Mr. Larke has an intimate knowledge of trade conditions in Australia and New Zealand, the address cannot fail to prove of the greatest interest and it is to be hoped that a large number of the members of the Board will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him. The meeting will be held in the Council Chamber and will be open to all interested in the subject under discussion.

The Board of Health Demands Prompt Action

Mr. W. H. Moore, who is one of the most deeply interested men in sanitary matters, in the city, and who is always alive to the best interests of the citizens, has given the Examiner the following interview, in reference to a question of vital interest:—

It would, he believed, be generally admitted that the composition of our local Board of Health is as fairly good as could be named in the city, and such as should inspire confidence in its usefulness. With this condition granted it might be worth while inquiring why the expectation of citizens had not been realized, and why there is a general feeling abroad that this body is of little account in influencing a healthy state of things in this city; that when individuals accepted nomination to a public office they promised to perform the duties attached to it, and devote as much of their time as was requisite, and as their duties demanded, and also that they would use all the powers vested in them by law to obtain the best issue from their labours. All this was peculiarly applicable to a Board of Health. The office is a most responsible one, for upon the action of the Board largely depended the general health of the city, and in great measure they influenced its prosperity, if they were an active and energetic body. It is not believed the Board has done its whole duty, nor on the other hand that it is altogether responsible for the present opinion of the public; that the law provided that the Board should have an officer known as the Medical Health Officer, who is appointed by the City Council, and the Council's share of responsibility is in its appointment of an efficient and competent man. It would take too much time to go over the many duties of this officer, but all would admit and expect that he should be a medical man, having the confidence of the people, and be capable and energetic, not above middle age, in full sympathy with the most progressive knowledge in sanitary affairs, and with that firmness of character that would insure the best results. Does the City Council think that the present occupant of the office meets these requirements, or is he the proper individual to fill this responsible office? Or does the Council think the people think so, and does the Council imagine they can obtain the services of an efficient officer for the salary paid to the present incumbent? If not why do they not take the matter in hand and obtain the services of one who can fill the bill, and who will be vigilant in and out of season (if he might so express it.) Provided they can secure such a man the salary paid is but a secondary consideration. If the Council is to do any cheese-paring let it not be in relation to the salary of the Medical Health Officer, when they have found the right party. It is a case in which the best is none too good, and our 15,000 inhabitants will be satisfied with no other. He believed the Council and Board, by proper action, and working together, could readily restore a confidence, that under existing circumstances, was lost.

Mr. Moore said he had no personal feeling in his reference to the matter of the Medical Health Officer, who for no fault of his own, owing to advancing years, did not seem able to meet the requirements of a most exacting position which called for the utmost promptitude, decision and alertness.

An "At Home" at the Y.W.C.A.

The Board of Directors of the Y.W.C.A. were "At Home" to the ladies of the city yesterday afternoon. The drawing rooms and tea-tables were prettily decorated and all was homelike and inviting. The many guests received shows the thought and interest given to the work of the Y.W.C.A. by the people of the city. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Eardley-Wilmot and Miss M. Rush. Both solos were much enjoyed. The instrumental entertainment was given by Misses S. Campbell and M. Bradburn. The guests made themselves at home and inspected the gymnasium, boarding department and other interesting rooms of the building. The afternoon was happily spent by both guests and hostesses.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

The Plan of the Brock Street Rink for the Irish Guards Band Concert, is now open at Ormond & Walsh's Drug Store — Those who were on Advance List Will Receive No Further Notice. Mark Your Seat Tomorrow Night — Make It One of the Things You Have to Attend to.

Board Did Not Have Quorum

This morning a meeting of the local Board of Health was called, but none was held because there were not enough members present to constitute a quorum. The matter for which the meeting was called was discussed, however, and Dr. Young, the acting Medical Health Officer, and Chief Rossel, who inspected the conditions at Barnardo Home, reported that the cesspool there was dangerous to the public health.

Discussing the matter, the Board decided that the owners of the property must be notified that it is necessary for them to clear out and disinfect the present cesspool, and build a new one, to be used in the meantime, until a sewer has been constructed. It was considered imperative that some immediate action should be taken to remedy conditions which are dangerous to health.

The following players are asked to turn out for practice on Saturday at 3.30, on the Riverside Park:
Dillon, Meagher, Graham, Gillespie, Ford, Shaw, F. Craig, Collins, Hall, McGrath, Regan, O'Brien, Gilbert, Roddy, Moore, Crowley, Brough, Dixon, Quinlan, Downer, Latimer, Walkey, Carmichael, McDonald, Ross Craig, Mathern, Grady, Hurtubise. Any others will be welcome.

RUGBY.

The Globe says: Manager A. W. McPherson, of the Varsity seniors, returned to the city yesterday. He will get into the game at once. Davidson, the big wing player, was out for the first time yesterday.

• • • •

There is not enough interest being manifested in Rugby this fall to satisfy those enthusiasts who always forecast a good season by a good beginning. A meeting of the executive was called for at the Y.M.C.A. parlours last night, but as only four persons were present they did not like to take upon themselves the responsibility of transacting any business. It's "up to" the boys to look after the interests of the club right away, if they expect to be on the top of the heap at the end of the season.

The line up of the Crescents for the practice match with the Charlotte street Guild, on Saturday evening will be as follows:
Full back, S. Ray.
Centre half, R. McKnight.
Right half, O. Storrs.
Left half, D. Stone.
Quarter, E. Wood.
Half, J. Patterson.
Half, Cunningham.
Right inside wing, R. Robertson.
Left inside wing, W. Brown.
Centre wing, A. Elliott.
Left wing, A. Dawe.
Right outside wing, M. Cameron.

Oddfellows Have Big Initiation

The members of Peterborough Lodge, No .111, I.O.O.F., expect to have a very interesting night on Thursday, Oct. 12th, when several brethren from Havelock, together with some local candidates, will receive the third degrees. The Initiatory Degree will be put on this evening. In the near future, new regalia will be procured, and constant preparation is being made for the visit of the Grand Lodge to Peterborough in August, 1906. Every member is expected to be on hand on the evening of October 12th.

A Reception to Mr. Barker

The grtest event in the Y.M.C.A. for next week is the coming of Mr. B. R. Barker, of Calcutta, India, who is in America on furlough, after having spent seven years as International Y.M.C.A. Secretary in that city.

A reception will be tendered Mr. Barker in the parlours at the building on Tuesday evening next, Oct. 10th, at 8 o'clock.

Members of the Association will be invited to this reception.

Another Visit From W. R. Tiffin

Mr. W. R. Tiffin, Divisional Superintendent of the G. T. R., was in the city yesterday morning having arrived upon his private car, and after spending the forenoon in an inspection of various G. T. R. property in Peterborough, left at noon for Belleville.

Two important reasons are assigned as the cause of the official's visit, both of which have an important bearing upon Peterborough's industrial interests. It is stated that it has been definitely decided to double-track the old G. T. R. line via Omemee, and in this event the heavy freight traffic, which at present passes through Peterborough, from Midland, and seriously blockades the Belleville line, will be diverted to the line via Omemee, and join the main line at Port Hope.

Probably the chief reason for Mr. Tiffin's visit is, however, in connection with the removal of the local freight sheds of the company, which, it is understood, has been definitely decided upon, though their new location, it is believed, has not yet been determined. It is believed, in many quarters, that their situation will be across the river, in the neighbourhood of Auburn, though a south end location is also spoken of. The present position of the sheds, it is said, does not allow of sufficient siding accommodation.

For Anaemia You Must Have Iron

And Anyone Can Use Iron, as it is Combined With Other Ingredients in

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Anaemia or bloodlessness is indicated by paleness of the lips, the gums and the eyelids, and is most frequently found in girls and young women.

Other symptoms are deficient appetite, impaired digestion, irritable temper, shortness of breath, dizziness, fainting, headache, easily fatigued, depression and despondency.

The blood is lacking in the life-sustaining power which is necessary to the proper working of the bodily organs and can only be restored by the use of iron as any qualified physician will tell you.

But iron alone cannot be taken into a weak stomach. In Dr. Chase's Nerve Food iron is combined with certain nerve restoratives in such a way as to be easily assimilated into the blood, and thus afford immediate and lasting benefit to the system.

And more than this, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, through its action on the nerves, sharpens the appetite and aids digestion so that help is also afforded in deriving the full nourishment from the food taken into the body.

On account of these two ways in which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the system, it is beyond doubt the most effective treatment of anaemia and similar wasting diseases that was ever compounded. Note your increase in weight while using it.

Mrs. M. A. McCrea, Tory Hill, Ont., writes: "My system was all run down when I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was weak and very nervous and felt so tired and worn out that I could scarcely drag myself about the house. It seemed impossible for me to get rest or sleep at night and I felt that I was gradually growing weaker and more nervous and irritable. Since beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I feel altogether different. It has gradually strengthened my nerves and built up my system wonderfully. I sleep well now, and am being thoroughly restored to health and strength. I believe it is the best medicine to be had for the nerves."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous recipe book author, is on every box.

Snake Came From City Hydrant

Can it be possible? "If this true, this city"—but we have it in black and white from the Belleville Intelligencer man, he has seen a "water" snake proceed from one of the city hydrants. One thing is evident—that they have Peterborough beaten in the matter of aquatic live stock—the best we can hang out is a collection of typhoid germs. It may be, however, that the poor reptile was only seeking a position of safety in the city water, where it might remain unmolested by thrifty Bellevillagers. Snake-chasing is a favourite recreation down there.

Following are the facts as presented by the Intelligencer:

A green water snake about fourteen inches long, was on exhibition in the Intelligencer office window. It is alleged to have come from a hydrant in front of Docter's hotel, near the G. T. R. station, and the story is vouched for by many prominent citizens. It seems that the hydrant was being used for tests with a hose, and some twenty or thirty people saw the snake come from the hydrant. The place where the snake was first seen was a most unlikely spot for the reptile to have been, and there seems no room for doubt that it came from the hydrant.

Park St. Baptist Deacons' Meeting

The pastor and deacons of the Park street Baptist church met for their monthly meeting last night at the home of Deacon William Kemp, Park street, Rev. A. Brace in the chair. Deacons present were T. G. Gillespie, W. C. Barrie, Albert Inkpin, A. Haddow, Wm. Kemp.

Pastor reported receiving a deputation from the "Diamond" L.O.L., composed of Bro. Geo. Sloan and Bro. W. G. Bantley, requesting him to preach a sermon to the lodges in the Park street Baptist church on November 5, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The pastor consented, subject to the approval of the church. Deacon W. C. Barrie was appointed the pastor's deacon to wait upon and confer with the pastor previous to each service in the vestry.

The pastor reported the change of pulpits, with the Rev. Mansel Iswin, B.A., B.D., Gardon Hill. The pastor will preach the harvest home sermons, and lecture on the Monday night on "The Sunny Side of the Street."

A representative of the Finance Committee reported that the mortgage pledges covered the last payment due the church edifice society on November 2, and guessed that all pledges be honoured the last week in October.—Com.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Mutual Life Investigation

How the McCurdys Milked Mutual Insurance Policyholders.

TWO OF THEM GOT $2,600,000

Mutual Life Insurance Co.'s Money Also Paid to Down the Democrats—Jerome Announces That the Scandals Will Be Submitted to An Extraordinary Grand Jury—Fraternal Insurance, Too.

New York, Oct. 6.—It was brought t by testimony before the Legislative investigation committee, yesterday, that Robert H. McCurdy, son of Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., has received as commission on foreign business, $1,163,829, and on domestic business $541,556, and that Louis A. Thebaud son-in-law of Richard A. McCurdy, has received an aggregate of $926,113 in commissions from the company. Robert H. McCurdy said he expected his income this year would be about $110,000.

Previous to this testimoney W. F. Thummel, an attorney of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., testified that he had paid to the chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee $2,500 in cash as a campaign contribution, which had been given him for the purpose by Vice-President Robert A. Grannis.

Mr. Jerome, in announcing in court that the scandals will be submitted to an extraordinary grand jury, said the inquiry by the Legislative committee had shown "greater moral obliquity and moral obtuseness on the part of the persons important in the business world than did the shocking revelations in regard to the Equitable Life."

Hyde Gets No Favors.

Another incident of the day's developments was the publication of a letter from Charles E. Hughes, counsel to the Legislative committee, to Samuel Untermyer, counsel for James J. Hyde, the former controlling stockholder of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, in which Mr. Hughes said the committee would make no discrimination in favor of Mr. Hyde in his examexamination before the committee.

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday, adopted a resolution declaring that additional legislation is needed for the proper regulation of life insurance companies.

Fraternal Insurance, Too.

In response to a letter of inquiry from a member of the Royal Arcanum, Senator Armstrong, chairman of the Legislative insurance investigating commission, wrote yesterday that "We intend to devote some time to fraternal insurance before we finish our labors."

McCall Must Repay.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 6.—State Insurance Superintendent W. D. Vandiver last night announced that unless John A. McCall resigns the presidency of the New York Life Insurance and repays the money which the commissioners think has been improperly diverted from the trust fund for political purposes, he will immediately take steps to take away the company's charter in Missouri and stop the company from doing business in the state.

COVERED WIDE RANGE.

Tariff Commission's Inquiry at Victoria, British Columbia.

Victoria, Oct. 6.—Hon. Messrs Fielding, Paterson and Brodeur reached Victoria Wednesday night in their tariff investigation tour, and were cordially welcomed at an informal non-partisan reception at the Hotel Dryad. The Victoria sitting of the commission covered a wide range of topics from shipbuilding to oyster cultivation, each applicant being assured the Government's careful consideration.

There now remains only the lumbermen to be heard, and the business of the commission in Victoria wil be at an end.

Might Have Been Worse.

Pembroke, Oct. 6.—A party consisting of H. D. Strickland and wife, W. L. Hunter and wife, met with an accident yesterday morning while driving to the Beachburg Fair The horses became unmanageable and struck a telegraph pole throwing, the occupants out. Mrs. Strickland had her collar bone broken.

THE REAL QUESTION.

The real question of disease is "Can I be cured?" If you or anyone dear to you is losing strength, flesh, energy and vitality, if you are wise you will not spend time trying to figure out just what name to call the disease by.

It is almost impossible to draw the line where debility and weakness merge into consumption. Your trouble may not be consumption to-day, but you don't know what it may become to-morrow. Hundreds of people have been restored to robust health by Dr. Pierce's marvelous "Golden Medical Discovery" after reputable physicians had pronounced them consumptive beyond hope.

Were they in consumption? Nobody can ever know. The important point is that they were hopelessly ill but this matchless "Discovery" restored and saved them.

"I was not able to do hardly any work at all," says Mrs. Jennie Dingman, of Vanburen, Kalkaska Co., Mich., in a most interesting letter to Dr. Pierce, "I had pain in my left side and back, and had headache all the time. I tried your medicine and it helped me. Last spring I had a bad cough; I got so bad I had to be in bed all the time.

"My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but I told him if it was consumption they could not help me. We thought we would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken one bottle the cough was stopped, and I have had no more of it returning. Your medicine is the best I have taken."

Simon Hammer Tells How

Young Hauch Was Shot At the East Zorra Charivari.

CLAIMS IT WAS AN ACCIDENT

Pulled the Hammer of His Revolver Back Too Far, It Slipped, and Striking a Cartridge That Had Previously Missed Fire the Bullet Found Its Billet — Jury Says It Was Accidental.

Tavistock, Oct. 6.—The secret of the shooting affair at the charivari at the house of Mrs. John Wagester, 17th concession, East Zorra, was revealed yesterday afternoon when Simon Hammer of Tavistock, a young man of 21, employed by Daniel Pletsch, lot 26, concession 14, East Zorra, handed to the coroner a 28-calibre revolver, said that he believed that he fired the shot that killed Hauch, and, weeping bitterly, expressed extreme regret at the fatal termination of the accident.

A number of witnesses were called previously, but their evidence threw no light on the shooting. Each had heard a number of shots, but the number heard by any witness was much less than the actual number of shots fired. George Boatman, a member of the charivari party, testified to seeing Simon Hammer standing to the west of Hauch during the charivari. Hammer was then called. He said he went with George Witzel, a neighbor's son, and joined the party a short distance from the Wagester homestead. He admitted having a revolver and the coroner warned him that any further evidence might be used against him afterwards.

Told All the Truth.

He said: "I'll tell the truth, the whole truth." Continuing, he said: "I stood beside Hauch, about three feet to the west. We started to shoot. Hauch fired three shots and I fired three. When I was going to re-load I pulled the hammer back too far and when I tried to let it down to half-cock it slipped out of my hand, striking a cartridge that had missed fire. As it went off the revolver flew up and the bullet struck Hauch in the arm."

"Here the witness broke down, and, sobbing bitterly, said: "I did not mean to do it, and I am sorry that I shot the poor boy."

Hammer afterwards explained that four chambers of his 28 calibre bulldog revolver were loaded and the hammer rested on the fifth, which was empty. He thought he fired the four cartridges, but one had missed and the hammer struck it when he was reloading.

Witness did not know the bullet from his revolver had struck Hauch except that he saw the smoke of the discharge between them, and just after it went off Hauch said: "I'm shot," and fell to the ground. He had no grudge against deceased, with whom he was not acquainted.

The jury, after being out 17 minutes, brought in the following verdict at 9.25: "That John S. Hauch came to his death by a bullet accidentally discharged from a revolver, said revolver being at the time in the hands of Simon Hammer."

WOMAN HORRIBLY BATTERED.

Was Cleaning a Window and Was Probably Fatally Hurt.

Hamilton, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Edward Limber, a young German woman, fell from a window she was cleaning in the third storey of the Hardy Building, at the corner of MacNab street and York street, yesterday afternoon to the cement sidewalk below. Her head was horribly battered, and she was taken to the hospital in what was regarded as a dying condition. She was sitting on the window sill when she fell. She was still living at a late hour last night. Her husband is employed as a tailor by Harry Webster, and they have been in Hamilton only about a year.

Train Rolls Down Bank.

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—Six cars of a freight train left the track at the entrance of the big bridge at Oxbow Wednesday, rolled down a fifty foot embankment, and were reduced to kindling wood, spilling their contents down the side of the hill. The track for about five hundred yards was completely torn up. No person was injured.

Wanted Witness to Perjure Himself.

Hagersville, Oct. 6.—At the investigation into the supposed incendiary fire on the Almas estate here on Labor Day, the evidence did not prove the suspicion of incendiarism, but prosecutions may follow in regard to an alleged conspiracy with reference to the insurance, one of the witnesses making the startling statement that the interested party, one Fenwick, had offered him a substantial bribe to declare the goods had been there at the time of the fire.

Had $500 When Last Seen.

Edmonton, N.W.T., Oct. 6.—A young man named Gorman, an immigrant, has mysteriously disappeared from near here, while returning from the postoffice. He had over $500 on him when last seen. The police are investigating.

Centennial of Chief Brant.

Brantford, Oct. 6.—Arrangements are being made for a celebration to mark the hundredth anniversary of the death of Chief Joseph Brant.

Count Witte Not Worthy

Russians Will Not Recognize His Portsmouth Services.

ONLY CORRECTED HIS ERRORS

Held Responsible For "the Political Mistakes In Which He Has Acquiesced, and Which Were Responsible For the War," by a St. Petersburg Municipal Caucus — Students Threatening Trouble.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 6.—A strong sentiment against Count Witte developed at a caucus of the St. Petersburg municipality Wednesday evening, called to discuss civic action in recognition of his services at Portsmouth. Suggestions that a banquet be given in his honor and that he be presented with the freedom of the city or an address were rejected, and a resolution was adopted declaring that he is not worthy of any special honor because his services at Portsmouth "were only a redeeming sacrifice for the political mistakes in which he has acquiesced, and which were responsible for the war."

Students Causing Trouble.

Despite the grant of autonomy, placing the administration and policy of the universities in the hands of elected rectors and councils of professors who are thoroughly in sympathy with the reform work, the educational situation is darkening, and there is a prospect that the hot-headed zeal of student reformers and the activity of non-student agitators at students' meetings may lead to another suspension of work at the universities. The St. Petersburg students have instituted a boycott of several professors who are disliked on account of their political opinions and have broken up their classes by disorder.

Weeding Out Incompetents.

In a rescript addressed to the Minister of Marine, Emperor Nicholas directs him to retire compulsorily all naval officers who are unable to fulfill the higher requirements which the projected reforms in the service will demand.

WAR COST JAPAN DEAR.

Confronted With a Debt of $1,250,000,000, and An Annual Interest Account of $75,000,000.

Tokio, Oct. 6.—Former Foreign Minister Okuma, leader of the progressive party, before the Associated Chambers of Commerce yesterday, referring to the sudden expansion of Japan's finances, said that when the withdrawal of troops is completed she will find herself confronted with a debt of $1,250,000,000, the interest on which alone, roughly speaking, will be $75,000,000, or nearly twice the revenue of the country ten years ago. The per capita rate of taxation before the war was $2. Now it is $6. The per capita share in the national debt before the war was $6. It is now $25. Count Okuma, however, was not pessimistic. He referred eloquently to the necessity of business men redoubling their energy in the development of productive works of all kinds and thus securing victories in peace as well as in war.

Naval Loss and Cost of War.

Tokio, Oct. 6.—The revised list of the loss of life in the Japanese navy incurred during the war with Russia from the beginning is as follows:

Battles	Killed	Wounded.
Off Port Arthur, Feb. 9, 1904,...	2	69
Yellow Sea, Aug. 10, 1904	65	161
Off Eastern Corea, Aug. 10, 1904	36	96
Detachments landed at Port Arthur June 26 to Dec. 31, 1904	30	313
Sea of Japan, May 27-28, 1905	88	611
Other small encounters and accidents during the war 1,669		541
Total loss 1,891		1,791

The total casualties were 3,682, and of the 1,791 wounded 117 died and 121 were invalided and then released from active service. Thus it can be seen the total death rate nearly equals one-half of the total casualties.

Japan's expenditure on the army during the war amounted to 1,000,000,000 yen ($500,000,000) and 150,000,000 yen ($75,000,000) for the navy, making the total expenditure about 1,300,000,000 yen ($650,000,000) including extraordinary expenditure of 50,000,000 yen ($25,000,000, and the sum of 113,000,000 yen ($56,500,000) to be paid to foreign countries. The expenditure was about 95,000,000 yen ($[illegible]).

The Growth of Fire Insurance in Canada

Canadian Government statistics issued by the Superintendent of Insurance show that during the past thirty-six years the business of fire assurance in this country has increased [illegible] —the total amount of premiums collected in Canada in the year 1869 being $1,785,539, while that of 1904 was $13,174,819 for the same purpose. Of this premium income only $2,688,703 was paid to Canadian Companies, while $10,486,116 was paid to Foreign Companies. The total amount of fire assurance premiums collected in Canada during these thirty-six years amounted to the enormous sum of $201,580,555. Of this amount $156,600,739 was the amount of capital which left Canada in payment of premiums to Foreign Companies.

The Insurance Report shows that for the year 1904 there were but ten Canadian Companies licensed by the Dominion Government to transact the business of Fire Assurance in Canada, and but two of these ten had a paid-up capital for more than $325,000. With such facts and figures before them the incorporators of THE SOVEREIGN FIRE ASSURANCE COMPANY have been convinced of the necessity for a sound, substantial Corporation—the shareholders and policy-holders of which would be protected by a LARGE CASH CAPITAL PAID UP IN FULL, a Government deposit in excess of the Statutory requirement, and a strong directorate of business men which would conserve these resources for the development of Canadian institutions.

PROFITS OF FIRE ASSURANCE COMPANIES.

The average dividend paid by thirty-two British Joint Stock Fire Assurance Companies for the current financial year, corrected down to September 1st, 1905, exceeded 30 per cent. per annum, and the average dividends for ten years ending December 31st, 1904, paid by 136 Joint Stock Fire Assurance Companies of the United States, as compiled from official reports, has exceeded 13 1-4 per cent. per annum. Statistics compiled by the Superintendent of Insurance covering a period of thirty years, from 1875 to 1904 inclusive, show that the dividends paid by Canadian Fire Assurance Companies amounted to $4,460,885.25, and when it is remembered that the rates for fire assurance are to-day practically 50 per cent. to 100 per cent, in excess of the rates charged during the period covered by the Insurance Department, it will be readily seen that the business is now fixed upon a substantial basis and the profitableness of the future is unquestionably assured.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR CAPITAL STOCK.

The capital stock of the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada is TWO MILLION DOLLARS, divided into 50,000 shares of $40.00 each, of which TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS is now offered to investors at a premium of 25 per cent. or FIFTY DOLLARS A SHARE.

PRICE LIST OF SHARES.

5 shares (including premium)	$ 250	30 shares (including premium)	$1,500
10 shares (including premium)	500	40 shares (including premium)	2,000

John McMartin Still Looking For a Wife

Mr. John McMartin, the south end resident, whose advertisement appeared in this paper a few days ago asking for a wife, called on the Examiner again to-day to say that while he had a number of applications in answer to his advertisement, he has not yet made a choice of a life partner. One lady called at his boarding-house when he was out, and he has not yet communicated with her in reference to the formation of a matrimonial agreement. He has also received answers by mail to the advertisement, and he is at present investigating the claims of those who replied in this way.

He wishes it understood, however, that he is still open for negotiations with any good woman, either a widow or a spinster, about thirty-five to forty years of age, who is matrimonially inclined, and asks that they make application to this office, where any information in reference to Mr. McMartin may be procured. This gentleman states that he is well able to keep a wife in comfort, and believes that she would find him to be a lovable and docile husband. At any rate he is of the opinion that it is worth any eligible woman's while to make the experiment.

To Consider Question of Fire Protection

Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, of the Council, is evidently sincere in his desire to improve the condition of the fire department of the city. He recognizes, as perhaps few others do, that at present Peterborough is in a dangerous condition, and that measures should be adopted for the improvement of the system, and with this in view he is calling a meeting of the Committees of the Manufacturers and Merchants of the city, to be held on Wednesday, next, for the purpose of considering measures which have for their object the improvement of the fire-fighting appliances of the city. This meeting will be held in the council chamber.

Big Military Stores Planned For This City

Information was given last night at the joint meeting held to discuss Collegiate Institute and Armoury matters that the Government intended to make this city an important mobilization point, and Mr. Ewart, the Government Engineer, who was here in connection with the plans for the Armoury, stated that in all probability the Government would purchase all the property west of the present Separate School grounds to Aylmer street and that the space west of the school grounds would be used for Government stores and offices. This was considered to be an admirable location, since it was such a short distance from the G.T.R. on Bethune street, where a platform for loading and unloading stores could be made. It is evident from this that there are big things planned for this city in military matters.

Pretty Wedding Solemnized On Tuesday

Nuptials of Miss Mabel M. Humphries and Mr. Peter Gillespie.

The Charming Event Took Place at Asphodel—Many Guests Present.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Thursday, Oct. 5th, at Riverside, the home of Mr. Henry H. Humphries, of Asphodel, when the latter's second daughter, Miss Mabel Millar Humphries was united in marriage to Mr. Peter Gillespie, of Toronto.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings at five o'clock in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk collenne, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her little maid of honour, Miss Marion Fife, was most becomingly attired and carried the golden circlet in a beautiful basket of cream roses and carnations. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Ray Humphries upon a beautiful piano, presented to the bride by her parents.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests present, to the number of about sixty, sat down to a dainty and recherche wedding dinner.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many exquisite gifts and congratulatory favours. The gift of the groom to the bride was a pretty heart-shaped brooch, with fleur-de-lis set with pearls, and to the maid of honour, a handsome opal ring. The many friends in Peterborough of the bride and groom will unite in extending to them hearty congratulations.

CITY NEWS OF TO-DAY

The Millbrook Fair.

—An unusually large crowd left at noon for Millbrook to attend the Exhibition there to-day. It is estimated that over 300 people went down.

A Tip to Men.

If your last year's overcoat needs any cleaning, pressing or repairing, telephone 5-7-5, Wesley & Seymour, and let them spruce it up for you before you need it.

The Minstrels Here.

—The Guy Bros. Minstrel Company arrived in town this morning on the 8.20 G.T.R. They gave a good street parade at noon and will show in the Opera House to-night.

Piano Tuning Promptly Attended To.

—W. S. Rosborough, late of Heintzman & Co., will be in the city for a few weeks. Leave orders at W. G. Lendrum's Photograph Gallery, or W. B. Warne's Patent Medicine Store, 345 George street. 'Phone 527.

No Police Court.

—The moral condition of Peterborough is certainly improving. With the exception of an enlarged case, everybody was discharged yesterday morning and His Worship's chair was unoccupied to-day.

Opera House New Sign.

—An attractive sign "Grand Opera House" is being lettered on the front of the Opera House building. The work is in charge of Mr. Reg. Turner and gives a prominent distinction to the new structure.

The Return of the Roscians.

—The Roscian Opera Co. will appear to-morrow at the Opera House, in matinee and evening performances. The high-class artistic work of the company during its recent visit here presages a large house. They will present El Capitan to-morrow evening.

Winnipeg Free Press.

—Situations and openings in Winnipeg and the Canadian Northwest can be found by advertising in the Free Press, Winnipeg. It contains every day almost four solid columns of "Situations Vacant, Male and Female," advertisements. Sample copy free. Address, Free Press, Winnipeg.

Touring Rice Lake.

—The steamer Empress passed over the lift lock last night on her way to Rice Lake. She had on board a private party, the guests of Mr. W. T.C. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon. They will spend some time on Rice Lake before returning home. The party was made up of a number of prominent Bobcaygeonites.

To Examine Witnesses.

—The following motion was heard yesterday at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, in a case which was heard at the Spring Assizes in Peterborough:—"Keogh vs. Brady.—R. W. Eyre, for defendant, moved for order for commission to examine witnesses in Chicago. D. O'Connell (Peterborough) for plaintiff, contra. Reserved.

Reception in Toronto.

—At St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough yesterday, the marriage of W. O'Rourke, of Oakville, and Miss Nellie De Rocher, of Peterborough, two deaf mutes, was celebrated. The couple came to Toronto last evening, and repaired to 24 Afton avenue, where they were given a reception by the deaf mutes of this city.—Mail and Empire.

Barbers and Cigar Men.

—If you contemplate putting in silent salesman shoe cases, remember they are now being manufactured in your own city, at the "Framery." Our prices are 25 per cent. lower than outside firms. You have no freight to pay; we set the cases in your store, no risk of damage by railways. We can give you terms to suit. See our special "Peterborough" style, now being sold at $2.50 per foot. Quarter cut oak throughout; all plate glass bevelled top. 3d80

Show Windows Improved.

—Quite a noticeable change has been made in the two show windows of Messrs. Lang & Maher, The "Daylight" Clothiers. The sides and back of each window have been completely fitted with large plate mirrors, which produce a striking effect in reflecting the goods displayed. With a flood of light pouring in both front and back of their store, and this range of new reflectors, shoppers certainly cannot complain of any dark corners in the "Daylight" store, 409-411 George street. Almost any article in man's wear is susceptible of an increased prestige if shown in first-class manner and with elegant surroundings.

DIED.

SPLENDID SUCCESS OF THE HARVEY TOWNSHIP
FAIR AT LAKEHURST

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Delivers the Opening Address--Attendance Was Large.

The Exhibits Surpassed All Expectations--The Weather All That Could Be Desired.

Greatest Success In the History of the Association--Many Visitors Present.

Harvey Township's great annual exhibition took place yesterday and resulted as usual in an unqualified success, surpassing in every feature that of any previous year. In point of attendance the great north country fair was especially gratifying, and it is estimated that almost 1,500 people passed through the gates.

In no place, perhaps, in the district, have the advances in the realm of husbandry been so marked as a direct result of the beneficial influences of an annual fair. Not only is this true with regard to farm produce, but in the exhibit of stock the township did itself proud, and the progress made along this line has been the subject of much comment. This was of a quality which bids fair to place the township in the very van of stock-raising sections in the district.

In the absence of Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. Smith, president of the Agricultural Association, in a short speech, called upon Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., to open the exhibition.

Mr. R.R. Hall Speaks.

Mr. Hall, in his opening remarks, expressed his thanks for the honour done him. He expressed his regret at the absence of Hon. Mr. Stratton explaining that it was due to the death of Mr. Coffee, who was manager of the company, of which Mr. Stratton was president. The arrival of the steamer Sardinian, upon which Mr. Coffee's remains were conveyed, was delayed, and for this reason Mr. Stratton was prevented from meeting the people of Harvey upon this occasion, as he had wished.

The speaker congratulated the society upon the beautiful nature of the weather with which they had been favoured, as well as the large attendance. This being his first opportunity of doing so since the election, he took occasion to thank the people of Harvey for their kindness and generous support at that time.

The progress of the Dominion of Canada was then referred to, and the wonderful increase in its exports of dairy products commented upon. Statistics were quoted in which the Dominion's record in this respect was compared to that of other countries, the result being most satisfactory. The beneficial effect of cold storage was pointed out in connection.

Mr. Hall then made reference to the prosperity which was so evident in our Canadian West during the present year, and of the immense influences in the development of that vast section of country which would be extended by the new Transcontinental Railway.

Speaking with reference to local matters, Mr. Hall remarked upon the recent visit of Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, and of the confidence which the latter had expressed in the completion of the highway of navigation between Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario. The success which had attended his efforts in securing the transfer of the swing bridges to the Government thus relieving the County of expense of repair and maintenance, was also spoken of.

The Minister's recent visit was of much importance locally to the people of Harvey, as at that time he and the Deputy conferred with the County Council, and the former had promptly decided that a new dam was a necessity at Buckhorn. He had expressed his intention of co-operating with the County in having the dam built, so that it might be utilized also as a bridge. Engineers were at that moment engaged in surveying for the purpose of securing a suitable location. Mr. Hall, after again expressing his congratulations, sat down amid sustained applause.

Mr. T.E. Bradburn M.P.P.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn also took occasion to briefly extend his thanks to the Exhibition Association for the honour which had been done him. He stated that he had not expected to speak, but took pleasure in endorsing what the previous speaker had said with reference to the industrial progress of the Dominion, and it's unbounded prospects. The many improvements as a result of the friendly competition brought about by the Annual Township Fairs was also commented upon. This was noticeable in all branches of farming and stock-raising. Mr. Bradburn took his seat amidst applause after wishing the people of the township continued progress and prosperity.

The Exhibits.

The live stock exhibits were in every respect the best which have ever been seen at Lakehurst. This was especially true with regard to sheep, hogs and cattle. "In roots and vegetables," as a visitor remarked, "the Township of Harvey cannot be beaten." The sugar beets shown were remarkable, and should this branch of root cultivation be entered into upon a larger scale there can be no doubt that the Harvey Township people will reap abundant results.

The exhibits of fancy work were as a whole most artistic and reflect great credit upon the ladies of the township.

Dinner was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian congregation, and the result of their efforts amply justified their right to the title of "Queens of the Cuisine," the tables literally groaning beneath the array of tempting viands.

The races were of course a feature of the afternoon and the keenly contested events were watched with much interest.

last year and this year, the time for 1904 being 1.03.

220 yds.—1, H. Hall; 2, E. Mann; 3, E. White. Time, 26 seconds.

High Jump.—E. White, 4 ft. 6 in.; H. Hall, 4 ft. 5 in.; E. Wood, 4 ft. 4 in. The winner of this event also broke the record by two inches.

Running, hop, step and Jump.—1, H. Hall, 38 ft. 9 in.; 2, L. Brace; 3, L. Giroux.

The Junior Events

In the junior series only one record was broken that for the high jump, which was broken by two inches over last year. The winners were:—

100 yards—1, H. Maguire; 2, S. Anderson; 3, S. Wade. Time, 13 1-5 secs.

Quarter Mile—1, S. Wade; 2, S. Sheehy; R. Scott. Time, 1.14 2-5.

220 yards—1, S. Wade; 2. S. Anderson; 3, R. Scott. Time, 30 1-5.

High jump—1, H. Wallace, 4 ft. 2 in.; 2, D. Shook and H. Maguire, 4 ft. 1 in., tie for second place.

Running hop step—1, C. Hayes, 28 ft.; 2, S. Wade; 3, S. Sheehy.

There were three open events, the obstacle race, throwing cricket ball and inter-form relay race. Lincoln Brace won the obstacle race, and was the only one who competed it. The contestants had to run one hundred yards and then step and work out a question in long division, Brace being the only one to work it correctly. The other open events were as follows:

MR. HARRY HALL,
Who Won the Senior Championship at the Collegiate Institute Sports Yesterday. He Holds the Staff Challenge Cup.

Throwing Cricket Ball—1, L. Giroux, 75 yds., 3 in.; 2, R. McKnight; 3, L. Brace.

Inter-form Relay Race—Form II. won. Representatives of Form II. were E. Mann, H. Maguire and S. Anderson.

The officials yesterday were: Judges, C. Fessenden and D. Walker; starters, W. H. Hill, W. Pringle and J. Jeffries; timer, A. Gibson; clerks of the course, E. C. Srigley and J. Fife.

Mr. Harry Hall, the senior champion, will hold, for the period of time that he remains the champion, the Staff Challenge Cup, presented by the Collegiate Institute teaching staff.

The junior champion, Stanley Wade, will hold the Macdonald Cup, presented by Mr. H. S. Macdonald. In this connection it is interesting to recall the junior and senior champions since the cups were donated for competition. The winners are as follows:

Senior.
1892—Harry Orde.
1893—Robert Kearns.
1894—Garnet Bell.
1895—Harry Philp.
1896—Fred. Weir.
1897—Fred. McGrath.
1898—Charles Mathias.
1904—Joe Kennedy.
1905—Harry Hall.

Junior.
1896—Fred. McGrath.
1897—Fred. Roy.
1898—Albert Brundrette.
1904—Arthur Bolleghem.
1905—Stanley Wade.

Herbert Klotz Recovering.

—Herbert Klotz, the young man who was the victim of an unfortunate shooting accident at Pigeon Lake a short time ago, and who has since been confined in St. Joseph's Hospital, was well enough to be taken home yesterday on the 5.12 C. P. R. train. The physician in charge reports that Mr. Klotz is doing nicely, and looks for a speedy recovery.

Gaynor and Greene Have Left Country

After Three Years' Fighting Extradition Proceedings.

Were Taken to Savanah, to Stand Trial of Defrauding Government.

Special to the Examiner

Montreal, Oct. 7. — The departure of Gaynor and Greene for the United States after three years of fighting against extradition, was not marked by scenes out of the common. About 7.30, the two men were taken from the jail and driven direct to the Grand Trunk station, where they had breakfast in the restaurant. They afterwards boarded the Delaware and Hudson train, which drew out at 8.40. The only thing to attract attention was the extent of the precautionary measures adopted by the United States marshals who are taking the prisoners back to Savanah to stand their trial for defrauding the Government, the station being alive with secret service men.

The Protests In Ontario Were Dropped

And Six Election Trials Will Not be Held

All the Petitions Were Dropped This Morning.

Special to The Examiner.

Toronto, Oct. 7th. — As was anticipated, the provincial elections petitions in the West Huron, Monck, South Ontario, Sault Ste. Marie, North Norfolk and South Norfolk, were all dismissed when they were called this morning at Osgoode Hall. No costs were allowed in any of the cases.

Stole Wood From The Steam Roller

This morning when Mr. S. Wainwright, the engineer of the city road roller, went to steam up his boiler, which during the night stood on Stewart street, south of Hunter, preparatory to working on Hunter street, which is being macadamized west of the G.T.R. track, he found that during the night some one had stolen the kindling which he had placed on the footboard of the roller ready for lighting the fire this morning. The consequence was that he had to skirmish around and get some more, and it was nine o'clock before the steam was generated, and the roller ready for work.

Mr. Wainwright is of the opinion that the boys in that neighbourhood whom he blames for the theft, are a bad lot.

Photos Can be Taken At Night

Electric Light Pictures Rivalling the Sunlight.

Mr. W. G. Landrum, the progressive photographer, whose ground-floor studio is on Charlotte street, a few doors west of George, is bound to be up-to-date in his studio equipment. He has recently installed a powerful Aristo Arc Lamp for taking photographs at night, and has been kept busy ever since with night sittings. This lamp produces an intensely brilliant, clear light with a beautiful purplish shade, and is equivalent to 10,000 candle power.

Mr. Landrum has been highly successful with the work produced by this light. In some respects the results are superior to that produced by ordinary sunlight—especially in bringing out the minutest details of ladies' dresses.

Sittings can be arranged for between 7 to 10 o'clock any night. One special advantage which Mr. Landrum points out is that it does away with the necessity of laying off a day to have your photo taken. Samples of the photos taken by the Aristo light may be seen at Mr. Landrum's studio window, Charlotte street.

Chief Roszel With Other Chiefs

To-day's issue of the Illustrated Toronto Globe, contains a picture of the members of the Chief of Police Association of Canada, which met recently in Toronto. Prominently in the picture is the well known figure of Peterborough's popular Chief, Mr. G. I. Roszel, who is a member of the Association, and who attended the convention.

New Millbrook G. T. R. Station

Visitors to the Millbrook Fair yesterday noted with surprise the splendid new station which the G. T. R. is erecting at that point to replace the one destroyed by fire some months ago. The new structure is a very handsome one, and would do credit to a much larger town than Millbrook is at present. It is considerably larger than the former building, and is said by travellers to be the prettiest on the system, in any town outside of Allandale. The base of the structure is of brick, and the upper part clap-boards. It will not be ready for occupancy until the earlier part of November.

Mr. Fred Burton, the popular station agent, will probably be most highly pleased when it is completed, for since the former building was destroyed the business has been carried on in a coach.

Manley Cole Has Returned To The City

His Absence Was Not to Escape Giving Evidence.

The Sensational Story of His Alleged "Flight" is Utterly Discredited.

Manley Cole, the Star witness for the prosecution in the McAuliffe murder case, regarding whose departure an evening contemporary recently published a story, evidently intended to be sensational, is in the city, and will give evidence in the case, which will be heard at the Assizes next week.

Cole returned to the city voluntarily, after having completed the business which necessitated his absence, and, it appears, had not the slightest intention of evading his responsibility as a witness, and the publication of the report was without the slightest justification, in fact.

Presentation to Madden Howard

The presentation of the Humane Society Medal, to Mr. Madden Howard, of Hiawatha, for his bravery in rescuing from drowning a young man in Rice Lake, which was to have taken place last week, will be on Sunday, October 15th, and the function will be in the Hiawatha Methodist church. It is expected that a number of prominent public men will be present at the presentation.

Embroidery Class.

—On Monday at 3 p.m. the Y.W.C.A. Embroidery Class will meet for organization. Miss Sherin has been secured to take the class. Everyone is welcome to come this Monday.

BOTH THE PRISONERS ARE CONFIDENT
OF BEING ACQUITTED

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun Feels That Gow and McAuliffe Will Be Proved Innocent.

Denies Saying Defence Will Attempt to Show That Hill Was Shot From Behind.

No Foundation For the Sensational Rumour Published in Toronto Paper.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, counsel for Charles Gow, who will appear at the Assizes upon a charge of manslaughter, when seen this morning by the Examiner with reference to a despatch published recently in a Toronto paper, stated that the information which it contained had not the slightest foundation, in fact. The despatch was to the effect that the defence will rely upon an attempt to prove that the boy Hill was killed by a shot from within the house. Mr. Dennistoun states that neither this nor any other information as to the intentions of the defence have been mentioned by him, as nothing whatever, the status, will be said as to their intended procedure. While they feel the utmost confidence that an acquittal of the prisoner will result, it is considered inadvisable to make any statement at present. With regard to the case of McAuliffe, the defence feel that in the strong case which they are prepared to present, that an acquittal is also bound to result.

CHARLES GOW,
The Dummer Man Who, at the Assizes Which Open Monday, Will Be Tried For the Killing of Thomas Edward Hill.

Work Commenced To-day Upon The Barnardo Sewer

The Barnardo Home sewer has at last begun! At last night's meeting of the Board of Works the matter was taken up and the local sewer contractors who are now engaged upon construction work were asked to submit tenders upon the work. The only one present was Mr. J. E. Hayes, who offered to construct 424 feet at $1.10 per foot and to commence the work to-day with a force of 23 men. He agrees to construct the sewer at least as far as the school this fall.

The commencement of this work will cause a widespread feeling of satisfaction, owing to the anxiety and alarm which has been occasioned by the unsanitary conditions of the cess-pools at the home which have been in anything but a satisfactory condition.

Some Illegal Deer Hunting is Reported

The deer-slaying season is in sight and already preparations for it are being made. G. W. Fitzgerald, game warden, has received blank forms of licenses, which may be filled in and delivered at the hardware shop of Mr. Higgins, Hunter street. Mr. Fitzgerald has already issued five non-resident licenses to persons resident in the United States, for which the fee is $25, and is still receiving applications. The fee for resident licenses is $5.

An Order-in-Council has been passed defining the districts in which bona fide residents may procure licenses on application to the township clerk and the payment of twenty-five cents. This license, like the others, limits the holder's bag to two deer, the same in this regard as other licenses. The districts in this county in which licenses to bona fide settlers will be issued are:

That part of the County of Peterborough, including, and lying north of the north half of the Township of Harvey, the Township of Burleigh, and the north half of the Township of Belmont.

Settlers who shoot deer without licenses are subject to prosecution the same as ordinary individuals. In fact, Mr. Fitzgerald has prosecuted three cases, in which huntsmen residing in North Verulam could not wait for November 1, and shot deer in North Harvey.

The Retail Merchants Association Meeting

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Retail Merchants' Association will be held on Monday night in the assembly hall of the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock. The election of officers will take place, and the reports of the work of the association for the past year will be presented. The future plans of the association will be discussed, and matters of great importance to the retail merchants of the city will be dealt with.

Mr. E. M. Trowern, the general secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, will be present at the meeting and give an address, as well as assist in the formation of plans for the future. As there are a number of important matters to be discussed it is hoped that a large number of the members of the local association will be present.

SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE
WON BY HARRY HALL

And Stanley Wade Took the Junior Championship--Former Will Hold the Staff Cup and the Latter the Macdonald Cup--Annual Field Day of Sports Held Yesterday at the Nicholls Oval--Considerable Interest Taken in the Events.

Yesterday the annual Field Day of Sports in connection with the Peterborough Collegiate Institute was held, and was very successful. There was a good attendance both of the pupils of the Institute and their parents and others at the Oval where the events took place, and considerable interest was evidenced in the affair.

The Senior Championship was won made 36 points out of a total possible of 45, a splendid record, when it is remembered that he did not enter the cross country run. He took seven firsts and one second. E. White was second with 15 points, his winnings representing one first, three seconds and one third. E. Mann was third, with 11 points, he took one first and two seconds.

Stanley Wade took the Junior Championship, with 25 points also out of a possible 45. He won four firsts, one second and two thirds, H. Maguire was second with 11 points, winning one first and two seconds. D. Shook was third, and he won one first, one second and two thirds.

The Senior Events.

The winners in the different events in the senior series were as follows:

100 yds.—1, H. Hall; 2, E. White; 3, E. Wood. The time was 12 seconds, which is lower than that of last year by 1-5 of a second.

1-4 mile.—1, H. Hall; 2, E. Mann; 3, E. Wood. The time was 1.02 3-5, and this also constitutes a record, for last year and this year, the time for 1904 being 1.03.

220 yds.—1, H. Hall; 2, E. Mann; 3, E. White. Time, 26 seconds.

High Jump.—E. White, 4 ft. 6 in.; H. Hall, 4 ft. 5 in.; E. Wood, 4 ft. 4 in. The winner of this event also broke the record by two inches.

Running, hop, step and Jump.—1, H. Hall, 38 ft. 9 in.; 2, L. Brace; 3, L. Giroux.

The Junior Events

In the junior series only one record was broken that for the high jump, which was broken by two inches over last year. The winners were:—

100 yards—1, H. Maguire; 2, S. Anderson; 3, S. Wade. Time, 13 1-5 secs.

Quarter Mile—1, S. Wade; 2, S. Sheehy; R. Scott. Time, 1.14 2-5.

220 yards—1, S. Wade; 2. S. Anderson; 3, R. Scott. Time, 30 1-5.

High jump—1, H. Wallace, 4 ft. 2 in.; 2, D. Shook and H. Maguire, 4 ft. 1 in., tie for second place.

Running hop step—1, C. Hayes, 28 ft.; 2, S. Wade; 3, S. Sheehy.

There were three open events, the obstacle race, throwing cricket ball and inter-form relay race. Lincoln Brace won the obstacle race, and was the only one who competed it. The contestants had to run one hundred yards and then step and work out a question in long division, Brace being the only one to work it correctly. The other open events were as follows:

Irish Guards Band, Who Will Appear in The Brock Street Rink on Wednesday Evening, October 11th.

THE SOVEREIGN FIRE

A Strong Financial Institution.

Large financial interests of half a dozen Canadian cities are said to be interested in the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada, notice of the incorporation of which aroused considerable interest here to-day. The appearance of the company is expected to prove of great importance in the business life of the country, for one of the objects of the new corporation is to secure a large portion of the immense volume of fire assurance business now going to foreign companies. The Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada will be, when it begins business, one of the strongest institutions of its kind in America. It will have a paid up capital stock of one million dollars and a board of directors which will be thoroughly representative of every section of the country. The demand for fire assurance in Canada within the past few years has far surpassed the facilities, and the necessity for a new corporation of sufficient strength to secure the best class of business has long been felt. Insurance men agree that whenever the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada commences operations it will be refusing rather than seeking fire insurance business.

The personnel of its directorate will also, it is assured, give the new corporation a prominent place among the great companies of the continent, and announcement is made that Addison H. Hoover, who will be remembered as the insurance expert of whose work of the recent great success of the Sovereign Life Assurance Company, now one of the most flourishing of Canadian life assurance companies, was attributed, has been secured to manage the preliminary affairs of the new corporation. The appearance of the new company has created a great deal of favourable comment and its shares will undoubtedly be well received by the investing public. They will, of course be sold at a premium and attention is called to the publication of the company's prospectus in (another other column of to-day's paper.

Medical Health Officer Question

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — In your issue of last evening appears a communication from Mr. W. H. Moore, concerning the position of Medical Health Officer. It seems rather unkind, in view of the illness of the present occupant of the position that such a letter should appear, which rather deprecates his fitness for the position. It would be interesting to know how many medical men of the town are acting Medical Health Officers at the present time, and by what authority do they act. Have they received any appointment from the Board of Health, or from the City Council to act as such? If not, are their actions legal, and can they order any changes affecting the sanitary condition of the town?

CITIZEN.

Marl From Lily Lake.

—The Lakefield Portland Cement Company has commenced to convey clay from Lily Lake to their works at Lakefield, by special trains every morning.

Funeral Yesterday.

—The funeral took place yesterday at Norwood, of the late Patrick Dwyer, of Asphodel. The pall bearers were Messrs. Cornelius and Wilfrid Quinlan, John Kerr, Patrick English, John Christie and Chas. Christie. Among the large number of friends and sympathisers with the family who accompanied the remains to the graveside, were the following from Peterborough: Messrs. J. Daniel, Wilfrid and Patrick Dwyer, and Fred Boland. Requiem mass was sung by Rev. Father Conway.

STORM'S SERIOUS RESULTS.

Eighty Per Cent. of the Buildings in Two Districts Destroyed—Many People Killed.

Manila, Oct. 7.—Government reports show that the result of the recent storm is very serious. At least 200 natives and 25 Americans and foreigners were killed. It is impossible to identify many of the latter. The Government's police work the past year in the Provinces of Cavite, Batangas and the Island of Samar, which made possible the largest acreage planted in the history of the island, has been undone, and, it is estimated, retarded development one year in the hemp provinces. In Albay Sorsogon, Masbate and Samar fields have been devastated, warehouses destroyed and stocks damaged. Roads are impassable, and the transportation facilities are crippled. The loss is incalculable. In Albay and Sorsogon 80 per cent. of the buildings, dwellings, schools and warehouses have been destroyed. The storm, in connection with the severe drought which obtained early in the year, will, it is estimated, decrease the receipts of the island 40 per cent. The army is a heavy loser at southern ports.

MORE LIGHT TO-DAY.

Portion of Tuberculosis Remedy From Milk of Immune Cows.

Paris, Oct. 7.—Prof. Behring's announcement of a cure for tuberculosis was the talk of the day in Paris. It was learned through indiscretions that a portion, at least, of Dr. Behring's remedy comes from the milk of cows previously rendered immune against tuberculosis.

As it is scarcely probable that this milk can be used in natural form, there is some reason for believing that serum alone is employed, and it could scarcely be utilized in any other way than by subcutaneous injections.

The Pasteur Institute was besieged by reporters clamoring for information. They were received by Dr. Metchnikoff, who pointed to Dr. Behring's scientific career as a guarantee of trustworthiness. He said the remedy was in the form of a powder. That was all he could say.

Dr. Behring intends to make a communication to the members of the tuberculosis congress to-day on the subject of his remedy, which he calls "T. X."

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW.

Fourteenth Annual Convention Opens at Ottawa on Friday.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—With Lauder Hall filled with delegates from nearly every city in Canada and visitors from the United States, James Catto, Toronto, president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Canada, yesterday morning formally opened the fourteenth convention of the brotherhood. The annual reports showed an active membership in Canada in the 155 chapters who have sent statements of 2,050, as compared with 1,550 in 1904 and 800 in 1903. In all there are 227 chapters, of which 41 are in the Diocese of Toronto. The financial statement showed the receipts during the year, including a balance of $64 from 1904, to be $3,136; the expenditure, $3,116; balance, $20. The junior work in the past year was most successful. There are 34 chapters, with about 300 members.

OLD ARMENIAN CUSTOM.

In Shooting His Daughter at Brantford Kasparian Followed It.

Brantford, Oct. 7.—It appears that in shooting his daughter, Caspar Kasparian, or Salamonie, was simply showing the custom of his country when a daughter refuses to do the will of the family in marriage affairs.

Yesterday the condition of the two wounded persons at the hospital remains about the same. Physicians are hopeful of their recovery.

Over 200 Indictments.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 7.—Thirteen indictments have thus far been returned against Newton C. Dougherty, city superintendent of schools, and president of the Peoria National Bank. Ten of them are for embezzlement and three for forgery. Forty more are being drawn, and it is announced that the total will reach more than 200.

Japan Wants Trade.

Tokio, Oct. 7.—The sessions of the Associated Chambers of Commerce were closed yesterday after the delegates had passed a resolution to memorialize the Government on numerous points calculated to advance and develop national trade, industry and finance.

Canal Open For Traffic.

Ilion, Oct. 7.—Traffic on the canal is being resumed. Fifty steamers which arrived here during the block caused by the blowing up of the dynamite-laden steamer Chatham passed the canal yesterday.

ASK FOR DUTY ON OIL.

Commission Closes Its Investigation in British Columbia.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 7.—The Tariff Commission held its final sitting in British Columbia yesterday afternoon, the day being devoted chiefly to exhaustive consideration of the request of Thomas R. Stockett, manager of the Western Fuel Co., for a prohibitory duty on fuel oil, which threatens to cut largely into the sales of Vancouver Island collieries. Mr. Stockett stated as the opinion of all British Columbia coal mine owners that it would be better for all concerned to have free trade in coal between the United States and Canada.

Hon. Mr. Paterson asked if it might not be well to discriminate specifically against the California Crude Oil as in Eastern Canada. Economical importation of fuel oil was advantageous to the general public.

Mr. Stockett thought this could easily be done. The California oil was known as a asphaltum oil and easily distinguished.

Closing the discussion Mr. Fielding remarked that reciprocity in coal and the growing use of oil fuel in California were matters beyond the commission. Attention would, however, be given Mr. Stockett's representation.

The final petitioners before the commission were Joseph Shaw, representing the farmers of the Nanaimo district, who asked for free trade in agricultural implements if not free trade in everything, and J. R. Anderson, Deputy Ministery of Agriculture, who appeared for the Central Farmers' Institute to request that changes be made in the law to put domestic tobacco on an equality with foreign.

Revision of Tariff Demanded.

Boston, Oct., 7.—With only one voice raised in opposition, the Republicans of Massachusetts represented in state convention yesterday declared for a revision of the tariff.

OFFICIALLY DENIED.

Hon. Geo. W. Ross Will Not Be Lieut.-Governor of B. C.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—The report that Hon. Geo. W. Ross is to be appointed Governor of British Columbia, is pronounced officially to be without the slightest foundation. It is felt that he is destined for a larger sphere. Governorship of British Columbia, in all probability, is designed for a resident of that province.

WHAT A BRUCE MINES MAN SAYS

That he could find no cure for his Dyspepsia till he tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—They are Condensed Comfort.

"I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia for ten years," says Mr. Edward Rousseau, of Bruce Mines, Ont., in an interview. "I doctored almost continually and used almost everything I could hear of but got little benefit until I began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I have taken two boxes and words cannot express the great good they have done me, as I am now feeling like a new man, better than I have felt for years.

"I have proved that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia where other medicines fail."

If you would eat what you like when you like you must remember that you often entail work on your stomach and to avoid trouble you must give the stomach the help it needs.

That help is found in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will digest the food themselves if necessary and are always sure to give the stomach sufficient help to ensure perfect digestion.

Perfect digestion means strength, energy and comfort. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are condensed comfort.

ANCIENT ENEMIES.

England and Russia May Yet Be Friends — Respecting India.

London, Oct. 7.—Following closely upon the publication of the text of the Anglo-Japanese treaty has come considerable talk of the possibility of an understanding between Great Britain and Russia. All the newspapers are devoting columns to the discussion of the question, pointing out that if Russia is sincere in her expressions of a desire for peace in central Asia there is no reason why the two ancient enemies should not come to an agreement that will not only assure peace, but clear away the suspicions leading to friction which have existed for years. That negotiations with this object in view are pending seems possible, though definite official confirmation is lacking.

It is thought here that the present is an opportune moment for reaching a better understanding between the two countries, both the British and Russian papers having strongly advocated it for the past week.

The position of the British Government was clearly stated in a speech delivered by Mr. Gerald Balfour, president of the Local Government Board, Thursday, in which he said: "Great Britain has no intention of making aggressive movements in central Asia. Our object is defence and not defiance, and if the Russian Government desires to come to an understanding with reference to our respective interests in that part of the world, it will not find the British Government backward in readiness to consider any proposals which it might desire to put forward."

CRACK EXTENDS 30 FEET.

Raised Virginian Also Has a Big Hole In Her Bottom.

Quebec, Oct. 7.—Divers were sent down to examine the bottom of the Leyland steamer Virginian yesterday morning and report that besides a big hole in her bottom, a crack extending some thirty feet under No. 2 compartment is the extent of her injuries.

The interior of the vessel is in a sad state, her cabins and other living quarters, engine-room and every conceivable space between decks being covered with mud and slime and a bad odor emanates from her hold.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

The total receipts at the City Cattle Market this week are 242 cars, consisting of 3791 head of cattle, 6276 sheep and lambs, 1673 hogs and 248 calves. In addition to this there were 24 horses. While the early part of the week opened a trifle weak, the latter was marked by a comparatively firmer tone, altho, with the possible exception of really good butchers, no appreciable change in prices could be noted. This week was marked by abnormally heavy receipts, and the prices maintained are regarded as fairly satisfactory. Too much inferior stuff has been offered on the City Market during the past week, but first-class offerings of whatever grade have found a steady market. On the market yesterday only six cars were received, comprising principally sheep and lambs, and these sold at unchanged quotations.

TORONTO JUNCTION LIVE STOCK.

Receipts at the Union Stock Yards yesterday were 220 cattle, 49 sheep and 1073 hogs. For the week the receipts at the Union Stock Yards were 97 cars, composed of 1844 cattle, 117 sheep, 1073 hogs and 2 calves.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Contain No Opium nor Whiskey

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women are a harmless vegetable compound put up in tablet form—chocolate coated, easy to take.

And yet without alcohol, without opium or other harmful drugs, there is no medicine in the world which acts so quickly. Improvement is noticed in one week. The first box starts a woman on the road to health.

The alcohol or opium in liquid preparations invariably, in the end, leave the patient in a more pitiable condition than in the beginning.

Dr. Hugo's Tablets make permanent and lasting cures of all the ills of women.

They make healthy women.

Fourteen Died, Result Of Cave-in

Sides of the Vermont Slate Company's Quarry Collapse.

ONLY TWO MEN WERE SAVED

Warren Queen, Foreman of the Quarry, May Yet Die—President J. J. Williams Is Among the Dead Hungarians — Was a Prominent Citizen of Granville, N. Y.—Four Bodies Have Been Recovered.

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Sixteen men were buried yesterday morning in a cave-in of the Vermont Slate Co.'s quarry, which is situated about two and one-half miles from Granville, N. Y., just over the Vermont State line.

David Cadwallader and Warren Queen, the foreman of the quarry, were rescued. The latter is expected to die. The fourteen dead include J. J. Williams, the president of the company, and Hungarian laborers.

Four bodies had been removed by 11 o'clock. The residents of Granville and the neighboring country are helping in the work of rescue. Mr. Williams was a prominent citizen of Granville.

Hundred Workmen Buried.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 7.—A five-storey building in course of construction collapsed yesterday and a hundred workmen were buried in the ruins. Up to the time this despatch was filed only seven of the men had been extricated. They were seriously injured.

BURNING MINE HOLDS 25.

Electrical Generator Starts Fire In a Colorado Coal Shaft.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 7.—A defective electrical generator started a destructive fire at the Fremont coal mine, near Florence, Colo., yesterday. All the buildings were destroyed.

Thirty-five men were working in the mine at the time the fire started. Ten of them were rescued with difficulty and 25 are still in the mine, though it is confidently expected the entombed men will be taken out alive.

DROWNING OF MRS. M'GUIRE.

Husband and Wife Struggle In Water and He Loses Consciousness.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 7.—A telephone message from Musquash, N. B., says that Mrs. Lizzie McGuire, aged 25, who but a few weeks ago was married to Robert McGuire, quartermaster of the Eastern Steamship Co.'s steamer Calvin Austin, was drowned yesterday in Little Musquash harbor, near their home. They and Mr. McGuire's sister were crossing the harbor, when a squall canted their sailboat, and McGuire and his bride were thrown out. McGuire swam to his wife, and she put her arms around him. Both sank, however, twice, and he says he then seems to have lost consciousness for a brief time, for when he came up the second time she was not with him. How he was finally rescued is not told. At last report the body of Mrs. McGuire had not been recovered.

Boy Shot While Hunting.

Port Arthur, Oct. 7.—A fatal accident occurred at Fort William yesterday, when the 14-year-old son of Ed. Smith, proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, was killed. The boys went shooting to McKay's Mountain, saw a bird and Smith's companion was taking after it with the gun cocked when it went off and the charge of shot struck Smith in the leg. Before aid arrived he had bled to death.

Overcome by Gas.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 7.—Henry Graham, employed as a cranesman at the Lake Superior Co.'s steel plant, was overcome by gas Thursday night and died. Graham laid down beside the reheating pits for a rest, and when found there some time later was nearly dead from the gas. He was removed to the hospital, but died shortly after.

Magistrate at Mattawa.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—Charles Lamarche, ex-M. P. P., has been appointed police magistrate at Mattawa and registrar of deeds for Nipissing, to succeed John Loughrin, who was dismissed for active partisanship. The salary for the registrarship is $600. Mr. Lamarche is made police, not stipendiary, magistrate, and will receive fees instead of salary. His predecessor was paid $1,600 as stipendiary magistrate.

Five Men Remanded.

Ingersoll, Oct. 7.—The five men arrested on the charge of murdering the late Isaiah Wright, were up before Police Magistrate Morrison yesterday afternoon. Owing to the inquest not being completed, the Crown asked that the prisoners be remanded for a week. The request was granted.

St. Paul a Total Wreck.

Eureka, Cal., Oct. 7.—Fast upon the rocks, a mile and a half south of Point Gorda, the San Francisco & Portland Co.'s steamer St. Paul, Capt. Crandall, lies a total wreck. Its ninety-three passengers and crew of sixty-five men are safe.

New York Republicans Nominate Insurance Scandal Prober.

BIG PAY FOR THE BIG HEADS

Insurance Graft as Revealed In the Pay Roll of the Mutual Life Co.—$150,000 Was Given to President McCurdy in 1904, and Other Executive Officers Were Well Looked After.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Republican city convention last night nominated for mayor, Charles E. Hughes, who is at present acting as counsel to the Legislative insurance investigating committee.

CHARLES E. HUGHES.

$150,000 FOR FATHER M'CURDY.

What Mutual Life Insurance Co.'s Pay Roll Revealed.

New York, Oct. 7.—Closing a week, every day of which has produced a sensation that has stirred the country, the special Legislative committee investigating the methods of insurance companies, adjourned yesterday until Tuesday of next week.

In yesterday's testimony the sensational development was when Mr. Hughes demanded the pay roll of the executive officers of the Mutual Co. This was produced, and showed the salaries of these officers since 1877. For the year 1904 President McCurdy received $150,000, two vice-presidents were paid $50,000 each; a second vice-president $17,000, the third vice-president $10,000, and the general manager $25,000, who will this year receive $30,000, and the treasurer, $50,000.

Robert McCurdy said he never knew the salary of his father until yesterday, when he heard it read in the committee room. He thought, however, that there should be no limit to the salary of such positions, because they should be in accordance with the accumulations of the company.

President's Salary.

When asked if it was any benefit to the policyholders to increase the president's salary, Mr. McCurdy said he thought the trustees had considered that when they increased the president's salary. No increase, however, had ever been considered when he was present at the trustees meetings.

Mr. Hughes tried to bring out why C. H. Raymond & Co. and the partners in that firm received larger emoluments from the business than any other agency. Mr. McCurdy said he did not know what Mr. Thebaud received from the business, and had never talked with him about his personal affairs. He said it was a "large reward for large achievements," and that all business of large magnitude was built up on that principle.

During Mr. McCurdy's testimony it was brought out that George Raymond, a brother of Charles H. Raymond, was the general agent for New Jersey, that Howard Lewis, the general agent for Northern New York, with an office in Albany, was a cousin of either the vice-president, Mr. Granniss or Mrs. Granniss; that Dr. E. J. Moss, the medical director of the Mutual Life, married a sister of the president of the company, and that T. Stuyvesant Pillot, an inspector of risks, is a cousin of Louis Thebaud, son-in-law of President McCurdy, and partner of the Raymond firm. G. W. White, a secretary of the company, whom Mr. McCurdy was asked about, said he was no relative of any officer of the company, but that Mrs. White was a niece of Mrs. Granniss, wife of Vice-President Granniss. He knew nine of the salaries of these officers.

How Money Was Spent.

Much interest was manifested yesterday when the expenditures of the company were taken up. An auditor of the New York Life, Mr. Preller, was on the stand, and he was asked as to the method of recording the expenditures. It was gathered that these were passed by an expenditure committee, of which Robert Oliphant was chairman. Three entries on the books of payments to Mr. Oliphant of $25,000 were looked into, but no information could be gleaned. Mr. Preller was asked about the campaign contribution to the Republican congressional committee, which was disclosed Thursday, but said none had come under his observation. The contribution of $2,500 to the congressional committee was looked for when the ledgers were procured, but up to adjournment yesterday it had not been found.

Cleveland, Oct. 7.—The American Civic Association yesterday adopted resolutions calling upon the governing powers of the United States and Canada to do something to save Niagara Falls from what the west termed "Commercial Vandalism."

No Armistice In North Corea.

Seoul, Oct. 7.—A Japanese staff officer yesterday said that after three meetings, the terms of an armistice in north Corea are still unarranged, although no further fighting has occurred. The Russians insist that the Japanese give up their present positions, but the latter refuse to create a neutral zone by evacuating places they have occupied after hard fighting.

The Steamship Line is now Imperelled

Australian Service With Canada May Have to Go.

NEW ZEALAND MAY GET IT

Commonwealth's Policy Will Be Disastrous to Subsidized Steamship Service, and the Subsidy May Be Transferred to New Zealand Line—Shipments Will Be Diverted Via New York.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—Australia's action in declining to except Canada from the new customs regulation adding inland freights from points of shipment to the value of goods when imported into the Commonwealth means that the bulk of shipments from Canada for Australia will go by way of New York.

This spells disaster for the monthly steamship service now maintained by the Union Steamship Company, under subsidy, between Vancouver and Australia. The company might still continue to do business with freight from the United States, but it is no policy of Canada's to subsidize steamships to carry United States goods.

The present contract with the Union Steamship Company is one in which Canada, Australia and Fiji take part. But more than half of the subsidies are paid by this country. The present contract is for one year, from August 1, 1905, but it has been further extended for twelve months from August 1, 1906, unless either party to the agreement gives notice to the contrary three months before July 1 next.

The two years' extension was recently agreed to, in consideration of an additional subsidy of $30,000, which is borne in equal amounts by Canada and Australia. The total subsidy now paid to the Union Steamship Co. is $330,000, which is apportioned as follows: Canada, $135,488; Australia, $182,815; Fiji, $11,730. The failure of the steamship service to Australia may mean the speedy inauguration of a service to New Zealand, with which colony Canada has considerable dealings. Some little time ago the Department of Trade and Commerce received a communication from a well-known steamship company with respect to establishing service with New Zealand. To further this object, the Governor of the island agreed to give an appropriation of $50,000, and Canada likewise made a grant. Nothing came of the proposition at the time, because it was thought that two services on the Pacific would not pay. Now, however, the chances are bright for permanent steamship communication with New Zealand, and it would not be surprising if the Canadian subsidy to the Australian line were transferred to the New Zealand service.

FISH POACHERS BEWARE.

United States Orders Prosecution of Raiders In Canada's Waters.

Detroit, Oct. 7.—The United States revenue cutter Morrill left Detroit Thursday night, having on board Collector of Customs Leach of Cleveland, who will take a hand in the work of putting a stop to the depredations of United States fishing tugs in Canadian waters.

The Morrill will cruise Lake Erie for several days, going as far east as Dunkirk. Collector Leach has a license to investigate the cargo of any fishing boat he comes upon, and any fishermen found guilty of violating the customs law by failure to enter his catch in Canadian waters will be arrested, his cargo and vessel seized, and proceedings of confiscation instituted by the collector.

This puts the poachers between two fires, with both Governments being arrayed against them. It is believed that the latest turn of affairs will largely put a stop to the wholesale taking of fish in Canadian waters by United States fishermen.

In his letter of instructions, Secretary Shaw of the Treasury Department said: "The relations between the United States and Canada are of the most cordial character, and it is regretted that any of our people will violate both the laws of their own country and of Canada."

Hill Starts Road.

Winnipeg, Oct. 7.—J. J. Hill, president of the Northern Pacific Railway, has begun the construction of a line from Portage la Prairie under a provincial blanket charter.

VETERAN LAND GRANTS.

The Farmer's Sun is opposed to the making of the land grants to veterans, in respect of services during the Fenian raid. This is what it says:

"The overwhelming majority of the men who have received these land grants sustained no injury while bearing arms in the country's defence, and those who did sustain injury had already been compensated on a cash basis; these have been in receipt of annual pensions from the time of injury to the present. There were paid in year ending June 30th, 1904, $2,373 on account of pensions for the wounded, or dependents of the dead arising out of the Fenian raid of '66; over $20,000 was paid in the same year in the same way on account of the rebellion of '85; and about $15,000 was expended in other military pensions. Those who have sustained actual injury in the military service of the country receive an annual grant proportionate to that injury; and this is right. But why should those who have suffered no injury be given either land or money, simply because they bore arms? They performed in their prime, nothing more than the duty which each generation in turn must always stand ready to perform. To make such service when rendered, the occasion of bounty giving, in either land or money, is an injury to the material interests of the country, tends to deaden public spirit, and is destructive of the self-respect of the participants in the gifts."

The protest of the Sun is something like locking the stable after the horse is stolen. The honour of the province, and the Legislature, are pledged to give all veterans, who can establish a claim, according to the provisions of the Act, a grant of 160 acres of land from the provincial Crown domain. It is rather late in the day to raise objection. Without going at all into the merits of the arrangement, which was assented to by both parties in the Legislature, the bargain has been made with veterans. A precedent has been established in the form of the many grants made to veterans under the Act, and now the shady subterfuge of repudiation is suggested by Mr. Whitney. In equity and fair dealing Mr. Whitney can no more honourably deny a grant of land to veterans, who have not yet received it, than he can revoke the grants already made. He has just as much legal right to dispossess and evict present holders of land, under the act, as he has to deny grants to others, equally entitled to them. Instead of repudiation, Mr. Whitney and his Government would show a better statesmanship by devising, as the Brantford Expositor suggests, some means for the "honourable discharge of an obligation to which the province stands committed."

PURIFICATION.

Mr. Whitney once declared in one of his plentiful dramatic moments that he was "bold enough to be honest and honest enough to be bold." on some gratitude to that effect. He did not show any more boldness than honesty in his attitude to the job that failed of Mr. Bickle, of Cobourg. It is fair to inquire if Mr. Whitney was quite honest in freezing out Mr. Bickle because he was not "true to the Conservative party." It appears, as the Globe neatly puts it, that Mr. Bickle thought he "was accused of disclosing a questionable bargain by which a postmaster was induced for a pecuniary consideration to resign, that a brother of a Conservative member might be appointed by a moribund Government. Some parties might be inclined to regard it as an act of the strongest friendship to expose its questionable practices and purge it of its guilty members." That is the position Mr. Whitney took once upon a time. We now find Mr. Whitney punishing Mr. Bickle for what he once strongly urged. We all remember the great purity association which supplanted the effete and corrupt Conservative association. The aim of this purity association is associated with its action in raising a big fund on the eve of a general election to put down bribery and corruption. Mr. Whitney gave this purity association his blessing, or rather his approval. One of the cardinal principles of this purity association was to begin the work of reform by making its own household clean. Mr. Bickle acted upon this laudable principle by exposing, as is alleged, a corrupt deal on the part of the Conservative party. Yet for thus putting the principles of Mr. Whitney's purity association into practice, Mr. Whitney turns and sends him and takes away the job promised by a colleague of Mr. Whitney, in the most thoughtless and inconsiderate manner—just as the chalice was placed by the genial Dr. Willoughby to Mr. Bickle's lips, it was dashed away by the relentless hand of the Brutonian Premier, who is "bold enough to be honest," and who was bold enough to take shelter behind the "divinity that doth hedge" a cabinet meeting.

THE GAME OF "BLUFF."

The "affairs of state" which seem to engross the attention of the Whitney Cabinet, and to command public attention, consist chiefly of the question of spoils and decapitating "Grit" officials to make places for the Conservative ward worker. Close on the heels of the Bickle job which did not materialise, comes the report of a conference with the Conservative "Patronage Committee," of Toronto, which had a confab with the Cabinet in regard to the dismissal of Liberals. Mr. Whitney, according to the News, made one of his "bold" statements to the effect that the "would not introduce the spoils system in the least degree nor would he dismiss anyone o mbearsay evidence." This sounds very honest, and on the face of it may show that Mr. Whitney is "bold enough to be honest," but it really shows that he is bold enough to be "dishonest." To use the language of the game, the bluff won't work. It is a well known fact that the Conservative Government of Ontario, are, as they have been doing from the beginning, dismissing as rapidly as possible the officials in the employment of the late Government. There may be some exceptions in cases where there is some sort of "pull" sufficient to hold the position temporarily, but as a rule the axe is working busily and the heads are dropping regularly.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Winnipeg Free Press, which has hitherto been successful in estimating the western Canadian wheat crop, guesses that the crop of 1905 will be between 80,000,000, and 85,000,000 bushels ,or an average of 20 to 21 bushels per acre on an acreage of 4,000,000.

On October 6th, 1847, the first telegraphic message passed between Toronto and Montreal. So great has been the progress in this form of communication, that it is difficult to many persons, contemporary with the establishment of the telegraph, that it is only a little over half a century since this, then wonderful, but to-day common-place, art of telegraphing, became practicable.

Mr. Secretary Shaw of the United States Treasury Department, has shown a distinctly friendly attitude to Canadians, represented by his orders issued that American stealers of fish from Canadian waters shall have their catch and vessel confiscated, because "the relations of Canada and the United States are of the most friendly character. King Edward might be guilty of such a tactful course, and British fair play could not outdo the spirit of the action of Secretary Shaw.

Mr. Rodolphe Forget, M.P., for Charlevoix, was elected as an independent on the promise that he would either secure large government expenditures in the constituency or spend his own money in public works if he couldn't get government money spent as lavishly as he wished. His promises have not been fulfilled and now his constituents are asking him to resign. It is a toss-up, says the Hamilton Herald, whether the prevailing discontent in Charlevoix is more discreditable to Forget or to his constituents. If he bribed them with promises, they were willing to be bribed.

The following from the Globe illustrates the public spirit and foresight of the Ross Government in coming to the rescue of the Soo Industries:—"The annual report of the Lake Superior Corporation shows that under the reorganization effected a few months ago it is steadily improving financially. The surplus revenue for the year, over and above working expenses and interest on mortgage bonds, was nearly thirty-five thousand dollars. Most of the industries at Sault Ste. Marie are in remunerative operation, and so are the Algoma Central Railway and the fleet of steamers. All this goes to show that the guarantee of two millions given by the Ontario Legislature has been amply justified by the result."

For Preservation Of Canadian Forest Areas

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Issues Letter to the People.

A Convention to Consider the Matter Called for January 10th, 1906.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has issued the following letter addressed to the people of the Dominion of Canada, dated at Ottawa:

Canada possesses one of the largest areas of virgin forest of any country in the world, and is ranked by European experts first, or among the first, of the important sources of the world's timber supply for the future.

The preservation of the streams in perennial and constant flow, which is largely controlled by the forests on the watersheds, will have an important influence on the industrial and agricultural development of the Dominion. The expansion of our electrical and mechanical industries will be regulated to a great extent by water, which forms the greatest source of power in all countries, and some of our western districts are dependent on irrigation to ensure the success of agricultural operations.

In all the older provinces the clearing of the soil has been carried to such an extent that the ill effects on the water supply and on agriculture are clearly marked, while on the western prairies the need of sheltering trees for houses and fields is seriously felt by the settlers.

The early construction of the Transcontinental Railway, and of other railways, through our northern forested district and the consequent opening of those districts to general traffic, will increase the danger from fire, which has already been a most active agent of destruction.

These conditions are not new; they have from time to time received public attention, and during the session just closed Parliament authorized the summoning of a convention for the more thorough discussion of the same.

I therefore hereby call a public convention to meet in the city of Ottawa on the 10th, 11th and 12th of January, 1906, under the auspices of the Canadian Forestry Association, and to this convention are specially invited: Members of the Senate and House of Commons, Lieutenant-Governors of the Provinces, members of Legislative Councils and Legislative Assemblies of the Provinces, Dominion and Provincial Forest officials, members of the Canadian Forestry Association, representatives of Lumbermen's Associations, Boards of Trade, universities, agricultural colleges, Farmers' Institutes, railway companies, the Canadian Mining Institute, the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, associations of land surveyors, fish and game associations, and all others who take an interest in Forestry.

An invitation is also extended to the Bureau of Forestry of the United States, the American Forestry Associations and the State Forestry Bureaus and Associations to send representatives to this convention.

WILFRID LAURIER.

NO MORE DANDRUFF

Newbro's Herpicide Destroys the Pestiferous Cause of Annoying Dandruff.

Does your head itch? Is your coat or dress full of white flakes after dressing your hair? That's the effect of dandruff. Is your hair thinning? Are you beginning to get bald in spots? Are you already, in fact, rapidly becoming bald? If so, that is the effect of a measly little parasite that burrows in at the root of the hair, and throws up the scalp in dandruff and cuts off the hair at the root. Science's latest discovery is a destroyer of that pestiferous germ. That destroyer is contained in no other hair preparation on earth but Newbro's Herpicide. Try it, and be convinced. A delightful dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

The City Is Short Of Cement

And Board of Works Insists Upon Fulfillment of Contract.

Street Railway Company is Installing a Pump House—New Crossings.

The Board of Works met last night in the town clerk's office, the following members being in attendance: Mayor Best, Ald. Hall, Adams, Tovey, Hicks, Johnston.

A communication was received from J. H. Larmouth, manager of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, enclosing a blue print, showing the position on Smith street, at which the company wished to erect a pump and lay a pipe to be used at the open air skating rink, which they are preparing for use during the winter. The writer requested permission of the Board to allow them to lay the pipe on Smith street. It was to be used only in connection with the rink, and they would be willing to remove it at any time the Board considered it detrimental to the interests of the city.

Mr. Larmouth stated that the pump house would be heated by electricity.

The request was granted.

Ald. Crowe notified the Board that a large oak tree on Bonaccord street intercepts the electric light, and he was requested to see Mr. Roger, in front of whose property the tree stands, to secure his consent to have it removed.

The chairman referred to the fact that the work of the Board was seriously interfered with by a shortage of cement. The Peterborough Hardware Company had promised that a car, which was badly needed, would arrive this morning.

Mr. Hicks stated that he would have a team leaving Lakefield this morning, and offered to assist the Board by having a load brought down. The cement would cost 25c more than other varieties. There had been complaint that the Peterborough Hardware Company was not supplying a sufficient quantity of cement to fulfil their contract. The cement now being used is not tested, and while the Board pays for testing and storage, it gets neither.

It was moved by Ald. Johnston, that the Board insist upon the Peterborough Hardware Company keeping its cement contract, or otherwise the city shall buy elsewhere, and charge to them the difference in price, and that the city engineer be notified to this effect.

Town Engineer Hay reported upon the Otonabee foot bridge repairs. The bridge is now in bad shape, and the cost of repairs would be $153.

Ald. Tovey moved that the repairs be made at once.—Carried.

The engineer also reported upon the concrete crossings. The present method of building these in sections entailed greater expense than to build in one section. It was decided to construct new crossings as follows:—

On George street — At King, Townsend, Charlotte and Dalhousie streets.

On Charlotte street — At G. T. R. crossing, and Aylmer street.

On Hunter street — At Water and Smith streets.

On Mark — at Hunter street.

Mr. D. O'Connell was heard on behalf of his clients, Messrs. McNamara and Hartley, regarding the Water street sewer. He said the old sewer on Water and Bennistown avenue was put in by request of the residents near by. The people on the west side have no connection, and his clients had built residences and cannot get their plumbing connected with the sewer. He said there was much typhoid in the locality owing to bad sewer connections. "Are these residences to be in an unsanitary condition for all time because the residents on the east side have sewer connection?" Nearly all the residents on the west side have petitioned the council for sewer connection. As the Board of Health has recommended this sewer, the council can easily act.

Ald. Hall said he had some time ago advised Mr. McNamara to get a petition up, but no action was taken; this was before the sewer was put in on the east side. It would now be necessary to have a special assessment made, the residents notified and a court of revision held. It was explained to Mr. Hartley that labour could not be got to do the work this fall. Mr. Hartley will take a petition to all the residents, and try to get their signatures.

Ald. Hicks moved that the council take any action possible in the matter and the engineer be instructed to proceed with the work this year.

An October Dip In The Otonabee

Apparently the water is not yet too cold for those venturesome canoeists, who brave the rushing waters of the rapids at the locks. On Wednesday afternoon, three young men, bound for Hale's Bridge, received a chilly dip in the seething rollers that run high at this part of the river. The party continued their trip, however, and made the nine miles to the bridge without further mishap. Their clothes, cushions and carpets were saturated, and they were decidedly uncomfortable navigators that weighed anchor at the camp of the Trent Canal survey party. The genial cook, Mr. George Scriver, "by the livin's," extended them his sympathy in the way of a much-appreciated repast that somewhat moderated their strong opinions of the Dominion Government in connection with the work at the dock. The boys paddled back and do not feel much the worse for their ducking. However, they still say things about the Government, and in the future intend to take the long pier portage.

NEW MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY IN SIGHT FOR PETERBOROUGH

The Pre-Payment Electric Meter Company (Limited) Organized and Preparing For Manufacturing Operations--An Indispensable and Unsurpassed Automatic Meter to be Turned Out to Meet a Great Demand --Promising Future For New Industry.

The initial step following incorporation of the Prepayment Electric Meter Company, "Limited," seems an incongruous title to apply to a company to exploit another of the "un-limited" demands, which electricity makes upon mechanical ingenuity. Such, however, is the title of a Peterborough Company, recently incorporated and subsequently organized, and one which will add another to the many important manufacturing industries of the city. A few days ago, the Examiner announced the incorporation of the Prepayment Electric Meter Company, Limited, whose charter authorizes them to manufacture "all kinds of electric meters, transformers, electric fans, and all descriptions of small electrical contrivances," but the primary object of the company is to manufacture the "Gowland Prepayment Electric Meter," which will, perhaps, within the month, be under process of manufacture in Peterborough.

The Prepayment Electric Meter is a new one, and is bound to make a stir in the electrical world. It is the invention of Mr. Gowland, of Peterborough, and is the result of years of study and experiment. Mr. Gowland has had a wide experience in electrical matters, and has been connected with the Peterborough Radial Railway, Peterborough Light and Power Company, and Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company. He has had the matter under consideration for a number of years, and has now perfected a meter which is destined to revolutionize the present system of recording the consumption of electric current.

Seventh Day Sabbath Not A Shadow

Why the First Day of the Week is Kept as the Lord's Day.

Christ, the Higher Standard of the Law of Moses, Came not to Destroy the Law, But to Fulfill It.

Editor Daily Examiner,

Dear Sir,—In your paper of September 7 I notice a summary of a sermon on the Sabbath question, delivered the Sunday before in Bethany Tabernacle.

There are some statements in the sermon which, to the ordinary orthodox, Protestant Christian, must appear somewhat startling; to put it in a very mild form. I quote:

"The law of Moses, as a whole, was given to Israel only, and not to the nations, much less to the church of the present age. The law thus given, of which the fourth commandment is a part, is not binding upon Christians."

We are prepared for almost anything in the way of theological speculation in this advanced age, but we are free to confess that we are not yet prepared to believe that "the law of which the fourth commandment forms a part (the Ten Commandments), is not binding upon Christians." And we do not believe that true Christians are prepared to believe such doctrine. Indeed, what more could the most hardened sinner ask for than such preaching as that?

Compare the following with the statement above quoted:

"Although the law given from God by Moses, as touching ceremonies and rites, doth not bind Christians, nor ought the civil precepts thereof of necessity be received in any commonwealth, yet notwithstanding, no Christian whatsoever is free from the obedience of the commandments which are called moral."—Methodist Discipline, P. 31.

As to what is meant by "the commandments, which are called moral," I find this in the Methodist catechism, No. 2, P. 38:

Question—What is the rule of our obedience?

Answer—The moral law.

Question where is the moral law given?

Answer—In the Ten Commandments. Ex. 20, 1-17.

And in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith, Article 5, I read:

"The moral law doth forever bind all, as well justified persons as others to the obedience thereof; and that not only in regard to the matter contained in it, but also in respect of the authority of God, the Creator, who gave it. Neither doth Christ in the gospel in any way dissolve, but much strengthen the obligation."

Such statements, originating as they do, ought to be a sufficient refutation of the doctrine that the Ten Commandments are not binding upon Christians.

But I quote again from your correspondent. He says:

"The Sabbath law with its many restrictions, and death penalty was therefore for but one people, in one part of the world, and for a limited period of time. It was a shadow of things to come, Col. 2; 17. Having the substance, we no longer need the shadow. Consequently, the Lord's Day is neither a continuance nor a modification of the Sabbath. If we keep any memorial day we must look for an entirely new one in keeping with the new order of things in the new age."

Notwithstanding this astounding statement, it is nevertheless a fact that Christians of all denominations, almost without exception, observe Sunday as an act of obedience to the requirements of the Sabbath law, the fourth Commandment; and that almost without exception the day is called "The Sabbath." A few, indeed, here and there, who have observed the inconsistency of calling the first day of the week the Sabbath, when the fourth commandment calls the seventh day the Sabbath, have tried to cover up the inconsistency by calling Sunday the Lord's Day; but few of them, however, have gone so far as to declare that the Sabbath law was local and temporary, as your correspondent has done.

Further, it is declared that the Sabbath is a shadow of things to come, and Col. 2; 17, is quoted in support of the declaration.

The Sabbath days of Col. 2; 17, refer to the annual Sabbaths of Leviticus 23, which were indeed a shadow of things to come; but the weekly Sabbath is not included among them, as all commentators are agreed. The weekly Sabbath is not a shadow, or type, of anything, but it is a memorial of creation, and it is so declared to be both in the original account of its institution, Gen. 2; 2-3; and in the fourth commandment, Ex. 20; 8-11.

The Sabbath was instituted before there was any need of types, not because of them. Types, or shadows, were instituted after sin entered the world, and because of it. They always point forward to some future event, while a memorial always points backward to some event which has occurred in the past. Now, which way does the Sabbath point? to the future? or to the past? Read the two passages referred to above, and it will be seen at once that it is a memorial of creation, and nowhere in the Bible is it ever alluded to as a type of anything.

Again. Your correspondent says, "Having the substance, we no longer need the shadow." But he has neglected to inform us as to what the substance is. Is it the "Christian Sabbath?" (meaning Sunday, the first day of the week, of course) as it is declared in the heading of the article? If so, please, read, or refer to the Scripture which says so. Fifty-nine times in the New Testament alone, the word Sabbath is applied to the seventh day, and no intimation is found that the word does not apply to that day. Now, when a name is applied to a thing by the Author of the Bible so many times, and not the slightest intimation given that that name does not apply to it any longer, I am bound to believe that that is its name. To call the seventh day the Sabbath fifty-nine times when that name does not belong to the seventh day, and not to give any intimation to that effect, and not to give the name to any other day, would be very misleading, not to use a stronger term. But that is the very thing which your correspondent would have us believe.

Neither the term "Sabbath," Lord's Day, nor any sacred title whatever, is ever applied to the first day of the week. Nor was there ever anything said about it, or done upon that day, by either Christ or his disciples to indicate in any way that they regard the day as being sacred, or that they ever intended that anybody else should ever so regard it. Not once was ever a religious meeting held on that day in the day time, and only once at night. Acts 20; 7; and even that meeting was held on Saturday night, the evening after the Sabbath. But even if there had been an account of religious meetings held on the first day of the week that would be no evidence that the day should be observed, unless there is some law to require it. And there is no such law neither expressed nor implied in the Bible.

The term Lord's Day occurs but once in the New Testament, Rev. 1; 10. That passage does not say what day is meant, however, but there is no difficulty in finding out, for the Lord's Day is evidently the day of which He is the Lord. But He is Lord of the Sabbath day. Matt. 12; 8. And the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord. Ex. 20; 8-11. Therefore the Lord's Day is the seventh day, and not the first day of the week.

I quote again from your correspondent:

"Why do we keep the first day of the week?"

1. "Because of its prominence in Old Testament Type. Everything turned on the eighth day. It typified the new covenant, the new memorial day. Circumcision typifying the new creation in Christ was performed on the eighth day. The ceremonially unclean were discharged on that day, type of our sanctification. The consecration of the priesthood was not complete till the eighth day. "First-fruits," representing the resurrection of Christ and our resurrection in Him, was observed on that day. Finally the year of Jubilee was an eighth year, typifying our perfect redemption. Thus our regeneration, sanctification, consecration, and even resurrection are all typified as falling on the first day of the week. Nothing was typified as being fulfilled in the new age on the seventh day. Every spiritual blessing was foreshadowed as secured for the believer on the first day of the week."

A more extraordinary piece of reasoning never came under my observation! Notice it. Because every Jewish male child was circumcised on the eighth day of his life, therefore every gentile ought to observe the first day of the week!

That appears to me to be a pretty big deduction to draw from so small a premise! Why, in order to make it appear that circumcision is a type of Sunday observance, your correspondent would necessitate the birth of every male child to occur on Sunday!

It is too bad to spoil such an argument, but inasmuch as it was not arranged to have all the boy babies born on Sunday, we are forced to the conclusion that circumcision has no relation whatever to the observance of Sunday.

But we have not done yet. Here is some more of the same kind of reasoning: Because the ceremonially unclean were discharged on the eighth day, therefore we ought to observe the first day of the week!

I know that it is cruel to dislocate the joints of this logic, but in the interests of sylogistic reasoning it would seem almost kind to be cruel.

It does not appear to have occurred to your correspondent that in order to make the important event to which he has modestly called our attention, a type of the observance of the first day of the week, it must necessarily occur every time on Sunday; and not only so, but the intervals must correspond with the weekly division of time!

But fortunately, for the sufferers, though it spoils the argument, such a condition of things does not exist. Why! Just think of it! Such a condition of things would make the unfortunate victims unclean all the time and a day over every week! For they were not discharged until the eighth day, and there are but seven days in the week!

Again, your correspondent does not verify his statements. Had he done so he would have seen that the year of jubilee came on the fiftieth year instead of on the eighth year, as he asserts. See Lev. 25; 10.

But the climax of the whole thing is reached in the conclusion drawn from the above statements. He says:

"Thus our regeneration, sanctification, consecration, and even resurrection, are all typified as falling on the first day of the week."

That statement is a little misty. Is it meant that the events named are all to occur on Sunday; that the events which are supposed to typify them all occurred on Sunday; or —. What does it mean, anyway? The statement is a little hazy.

In the name of all reason, what has an event which falls on the eighth day of every Jewish boy's life to do, as a type, with the first day of the week? If there were eight days in the week instead of seven there might be some shadow of reason in considering the eighth day mentioned above as a type of the eighth day of the week; but there is not even the shadow of reason in saying that the eighth day of every Hebrew boy's life is a type of the first day of the week, especially when we consider that this eighth day is as liable to fall on some other day of the week as it is to fall upon Sunday.

Neither can the first day of the week be typified by, nor in any way related to, the eighth day of ceremonial uncleanliness which might happen to fall on any day of the week.

An institution which is obliged to depend upon such arguments for support stands upon a very unsubstantial foundation.

Other points in the article might receive some notice, but they will be reserved for another article.

Respectfully yours,
EUGENE LELAND.

Rev. J. G. Potter has gone to Tweed, where he will preach to-morrow, and Rev. Mr. Banney of that town will preach here.

Miss Mary Pollock, of this city, returned from Alliswick to-day, where she has been visiting friends for the past couple of weeks.

Miss Tess Powley has accepted a position in the telephone office at Peterborough, where she will be engaged in clerical work. — Orillia Times.

Mr. Wm. Donald Brace, medical student of Toronto University, is visiting his parents at the Park street Baptist parsonage.

Mr. J. A. Culverwell, of Toronto, formerly of this city, and the managing director of the Central Ontario Power Company, is spending the day here.

Mrs. Carey, of Hamilton, is in the city the guest of her niece, Mrs. R. H. Fortye, Gilmour street, by whom a reception was given last evening in Mrs. Carey's honour.

Mr. G. Drake, representative of the piano firm of Lits & Co., was the guest of the Baptist parsonage, Park street, yesterday. Mr. Drake intends taking up his residence in Peterborough in the interests of the above firm.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mowat, Master Hubert Mowat, Misses Butcher, Parnell, Grey and Detcher, and Messrs. Thornton and Dodge will furnish music at the Anniversary services of Bethel Methodist church to-morrow.

Miss B. McConkey, of Peterborough, was visiting friends in the village this week.....Mrs. S. Nelson and Miss Ruddkins of Peterborough, were visiting friends in the village this week.....Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hetherington and Miss Ethel, of Peterborough, spent Wednesday in the village visiting friends.—Lakefield News.

Amongst those who came to Orillia on Thursday evening with the Hon. Mr. Emmerson's party were Mr and Mrs. Collingwood Schrieber. Mrs. Schrieber spent her childhood in Orillia at the residence of her uncle, the late Charles Corbould, and had not been in the town for a great many years. She was much pleased with the great progress of the town and was delighted to visit it again, if only for a short time.—Orillia Times.

Mrs. (Dr.) Frank Neal (nee Miss Sara F. T. Raycroft) held her postnuptial reception on Thursday and Friday last, at her home at 298 King street. The drawing-room was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and cream roses. Mrs. Neal was gowned in a handsome dress of white silk embroidered crepe de chine, and she received her guests in the drawing-room. She was assisted in her duties by Mrs. (Dr.) M. A. Morrison, Mrs. S. Clegg and Mrs. Bamrie. In the dining room the decorations were beautiful, especially the table, which was particularly artistic. The features of the table decorations were the white satin ground centre-piece covered with white tulle and trimmed with asparagus fern, and festoons of autumn leaves and fern, while coloured candles burned at each end, and in the centre was a beautiful bouquet of meteor roses. The dainty refreshments were served by Miss Eva Bradd, Miss Ada McBain, Miss Lizzie Scott, Miss Lillian Hamilton and Alta Bradd.

WITH 7,000 PEOPLE
ON THE GROUNDS THE FAIR BREAKS RECORDS

Millbrook's Annual Exhibition This Year Was the Most Successful in Its History—The Attendance Was Phenomenal—The Usual Fine Weather Favoured the Fair—The Live Stock a Special Feature of the Show—Inside Exhibits Also Up to the Average—Parade of Hackney Horses--Good Racing Events.

All conditions conspired yesterday to make the annual fair at the East Durham and Cavan Agricultural Societies' Exhibition, beyond question the most successful in the history of a series of successful fairs. The attendance was away beyond anything that had ever before been experienced, and in other respects the fair was ahead of all past records.

Millbrook has a reputation to sustain in respect to its fall exhibitions, and yesterday's fair was one which in every particular fully sustained that reputation. All the trains running into the town were crowded, and it is doubtful if there has ever been as large a crowd in the town in one time since it was a town, while in addition to those who came by train many hundreds drove from different parts of the country. Cavan furnished, as in the past, its full quota of visitors, while from other parts of Durham county, including as far west as Bowmanville there were a great many persons who attended the fair, many of them for the first time, and attracted, doubtless by the great reputation which the Millbrook fair has enjoyed in the past.

Two other counties were also well represented, Peterborough and Northumberland. The noon train from this city was simply packed, the coaches being filled to overflowing, and the platforms crowded. Many persons at Fraserville, who were at the station intending to take the train were unable to do so on account of its crowded condition.

The directors of the Millbrook fair seem to be specially favoured by Providence, for the oldest man connected with the Society cannot remember when the weather was not favourable, and the weather conditions yesterday were no exceptions to those which have greeted the fairs in the years that have passed. In consequence of this fact the revenue of the society has steadily increased until now there is a good surplus in the treasury and all prize money is paid each year, thus establishing a feeling of confidence in the society and the fair, the result of which is felt each year in an increasing interest, and larger attendance as well as a greater number of exhibitors.

The strong point of the Millbrook fair is its display of horses, and in this respect it is said to equal if not surpass any of the smaller fairs in the province. It is certain that each year, and this year in common with all those preceding, there was a display of horses which was well worth going many miles to see. The farmers of Cavan take great pride in the quality of their horses, and by reason of careful breeding the quality has steadily improved until now it would be hard to find a township in which the quality of the horses is more universally excellent. This was strongly in evidence at the Millbrook fair yesterday, and, the other classes of live stock were almost equally well represented. The cattle were fully up to the usual standard and the same might be said of the sheep. There were not a great many exhibitors of swine, but some remarkably fine animals were shown. The Tamworth breed predominated, and in this class the principal exhibitors were Messrs. Colwill Bros., of Newcastle and Bertram Hoskin, of The Gully. There was considerable rivalry between these two exhibitors for the honours, which were pretty evenly divided.

Millbrook fair always has a splendid poultry show, and this year there was the same feature noticed, though the variety of fowl shown was not as large as last year, which, however, was an exceptional year for poultry.

In the building devoted to the display of classes usually shown indoors there was an exhibit which which would do credit to a much larger fair, and during the whole of the afternoon the building was filled to the doors. The fruit was a prominent feature of the inside exhibit, while in Ladies' Work there was a really excellent display, the judges finding great difficulty in deciding to whom the prizes should be awarded.

The attendance this year was the striking feature of the fair, and a conservative estimate of the number of persons who passed through the gates between twelve o'clock noon and four o'clock was 7,000, and in this respect it put the Peterborough fair to shame. The grand stand was filled to overflowing, and the people simply swarmed over the grounds. In spite of the large crowd, however, there was no accident of serious proportions, and the crowd was well handled.

The races were excellent this year, and in one event, the 2.30 class there were six starters, and some pretty heats were seen. The free to all was also warmly contested, and good time was made.

The list of exhibitors in live stock at the fair this year follows:—

A special feature of the fair was a parade of hackney horses, the property of Messrs. J. H. Staples & Co., of Cavanville, and consisted of the Hackney stallion, Attraction, and eight of his progeny, and many favourable comments were made upon the fine array of animals from the Staples stables. Attraction is a sorrel stallion of splendid action, and almost perfect build, and his get are all of them fine specimens of horseflesh.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

Among the many Peterborough visitors at the Fair, there were quite a number of merchants among them, who evidently considered the Millbrook show of importance to them in their business. We refer below to several exhibits made by Peterborough merchants, which are worthy of extended mention:

Grafton and Company's High-Grade Clothing.

In a tent, centrally situated on the grounds, Messrs. Grafton & Co., the makers of high-grade ready-to-wear clothing, had a good exhibit of their clothing. During the day this exhibit was the centre of attraction for the thousands of visitors, and those in charge of it were kept busy attending to the many visitors who were deeply interested in the clothing shown, the exhibit being composed of representative samples from the splendidly stocked store in Peterborough, managed by Mr. W. E. Conway.

The firm showed a fine line of ready-to-wear men's and children's clothing, including suits, overcoats and raincoats. The exhibit gave but a suggestion of the enormous stock of high-grade clothing which this firm shows in its store in Peterborough.

From early morning the firm's representatives were on the grounds, and the result of their work was that by the time the crowds began to arrive the fact that Grafton & Company made and sold high-grade garments was proclaimed from scores of signs conspicuously placed on every vantage point on the grounds.

The fact that not only is the firm retailers of clothing, but also manufacturers, and consequently paying more attention to the quality of their clothing than a wholesaler would in making clothing, because the firm comes into direct contact with the wearer, is doubtless one of the reasons for their unparalleled success. That Grafton & Company's trade has been constantly growing is an evidence of the fact that good goods are made and sold.

The "Daylight" Clothiers Forging Ahead.

That there is good reason to expect good business results, if the merchant makes an active effort to get it, is borne out by the rapid growth of the progressive firm of Long & Maher, the "Daylight" Clothiers, of Peterborough.

There is no reason to expect that people will crowd to a store for the things they need, unless they are told that the merchant has what they want, and that he is anxious to sell. Messrs. Long & Maher are building for the future, and their activity of to-day means that business must come to-morrow. They don't wait for the demand for their clothing—they create it. Push, hustle and determination are giving them prosperity, and the seven thousand visitors at the Millbrook Fair must have been strongly impressed with that fact by the expensive advertising methods employed by Long & Maher.

This young firm is making a strong bid for business, and, what is more to the point, is getting it in a goodly measure. Mr. J. T. C. Long, the senior member of the firm, who is well, and favourably, known by a very large proportion of the residents of Cavan and Monaghan, was at the Fair, and had charge of the firm's campaign of publicity. The beautifully executed and catchy signs of the firm were displayed prominently from all parts of the grounds, and the visitors could not help seeing them at every turn.

The clothing sold by this progressive firm is known to have a distinctiveness about it which at once stamps it as different from the ordinary ready-to-wear clothing. The high art brands handled by Long & Maher, are thoroughly up to the required point in style, and in most cases just a little ahead of other brands, while the make and quality are of the very best.

The business of this new company is growing satisfactorily, due chiefly to the thoroughly progressive manner in which it is conducted, at their Peterborough stores, Nos. 409-411 George street.

"Simplex" Cream Separator Scores a Success.

Mr. H. G. Dunsford is the Millbrook agent for the popular cream separator known as the "Simplex" Link Blade. He exhibited and demonstrated its superior merits to crowds of farmers and their wives on the Fair grounds. Good results must have been produced by the experienced operation of the "simplex" in the hands of its representatives, Mr. George Gillespie, of the firm of White & Gillespie, Peterborough, the general agent, was also present and assisted Mr. Dunsford in negotiating for orders, which can be done on advantageous terms, for the "Simplex."

Semi-ready tailors do but one thing—but they do that perfectly.

Merchant tailors cannot tailor by the Semi-ready method ---clothing manufacturers won't, it would cost them too much.

Semi-ready garments are tailored by teams of experts. Each tailor is a specialist, working only on that part of a garment at which he is a master.

Thus each Semi-ready garment passes through the hands of about 35 different experts. Each tailors only that part which he can do best, so that the completed garment is the perfection of high class tailoring in every detail. 514

CANADA PAYS BOUNTIES.

Over Two Million Dollars Given by the Government Last Year.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The total amount paid in iron and steel bounties from 1898 up to June 30 last was $5,702,967. For the last fiscal year the amount was $1,540,041, against $903,962 for the previous twelve months. The Dominion Iron and Steel Co. received $676,880, which was the largest amount paid to any corporation. The Algoma Steel Co., Limited, came next, with $404,956. The following were the bounties paid out last year for previous products:

Pig iron	$ 32,666
Puddled bars	7,294
Steel ingots	614,423
Manufactures of steel	292,308
Lead	232,344
Lead exported for treatment	96,800
Binder twine	12,789
Crude petroleum	350,047
Total	$2,224,688

The amount paid for crude petroleum at 1 1-3 cents per gallon, would represent a total production of 52,507,050 gallons.

MANUFACTURES INCREASE.

Over 14,000 Establishments With 374,000 Persons Employed.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The Census Department yesterday issued a volume giving statistics as to the manufactures in Canada in 1901. There were 14,650 establishments noted, representing 264 classes of industries. The value of the total capital employed was $446,916,487, consisting of $269,378,633 in lands, buildings, machinery, motive power, tools and implements, and $227,537,849 in working capital. The number of persons employed on salaries was 36,691, with salaries of $28,676,146, and the number on wages 344,035, and the cost of salaries and wages $118,249,350. The value of the total products was $481,952,875, being for goods manufactured in establishments $469,356,351, and for custom work and repairing $11,796,024.

Virginian is Raised.

Quebec, Oct. 6.—The Leyland Line steamer Virginian, which was sunk at Crane Island, 40 miles east of Quebec on Friday last, was raised Wednesday night and towed to Quebec. The injury to the vessel's bottom is confined to the part communicating with No. 2 compartment. All the rest of the ship is tight. The ship still had 2,000 tons of cargo in her holds, composed of iron, cement, glass, liquors, etc.

Pittsburg is in Terror.

Pittsburg, Oct. 5.—Pittsburg is in a state of terror, caused by the frequent robberies, burglaries, hold-ups and murders that have been committed in the last few days. The police seem to have lost all control, crimes of all kinds are of hourly occurrence and people hesitate about going on the streets at night and are afraid even to remain in their homes. So serious has the matter become that yesterday afternoon Alexander Wallace, superintendent of police, asked for 400 additional men to free the city of present conditions.

Archbishops at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—The fourth annual meeting of the Roman Catholic archbishops of Canada was held at the archbishop's palace here yesterday. The Archbishops of Montreal, Toronto, Kingston, Vancouver, Quebec and Ottawa were in attendance. Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface, sent word that he was unable to attend. The Archbishop of Halifax is expected, but has not yet arrived. The meeting will last for two days.

Superintendent Badly Shocked.

Port Arthur, Oct. 5.—Thomas McCauley, general superintendent of the street railway, had a narrow escape from being electrocuted Tuesday night. In picking up one end of a wire at the power house he formed an arc through the circuit. The shock was a severe one and it was some time before he recovered. His hand was badly burned.

France Distrusts the Kaiser.

New York, Oct. 5.—The Herald prints the following St. Petersburg cable:

It now appears certain that France will refuse to enter into any political combination in the Far East of which Germany forms a part, on account of her thorough mistrust of the Kaiser's sincerity of action or intention.

Ontario's $7,000,000 Loan.

TERRIBLY CRUSHED.

John Morrow Loses Life While on Duty at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Oct. 5.—John Morrow, a car repairer at the C. P. R. yards here, was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon about 4.30 o'clock by being crushed between two cars.

In company with William Porte, round house foreman, Morrow was making an examination of a car on a switch near the grain elevators. A yard engine was shunting in the vicinity, but the two men were intent on their work and did not notice when it switched on to the siding.

Morrow was standing in between two cars, which were about three feet apart. He went to step out, but as he did so the cars came together, and he was caught squarely between the couplers. He was terribly crushed, and lived only a few minutes.

Morrow was 58 years of age, and came here a few years ago from near Prescott. He leaves a wife and two daughters, Miss Mary and Miss Merlie Morrow.

PILGRIMAGE OF DOUKHOBORS.

Ends at Rosthern, Sask., at Hands of Mounted Police.

Rosthern, Sask., Oct. 5.—A Doukhobor party, numbering about 20, were brought here by Tuesday night's train and taken in charge by local mounted police and escorted back to their villages yesterday morning.

The party, made up of men, women and children, kept up a continuous chant as they were marched through Rosthern streets.

This is the party who recently were arrested near Yorkton. They traveled the whole distance, about 250 miles, on foot, avoiding all towns and villages on the way.

The Douks designate Rosthern a "hell," and their mounted police escort "the devil."

DISORDER IN THE HOUSE.

Von Sternberg Throws Glass at Hungarian Interrupter.

Vienna, Oct. 5.—A disorderly scene occurred in the Lower House of Parliament yesterday. While Baron Von Sternberg was speaking during the debate on the Government's declaration of policy he was continually and badgeringly interrupted by Dr. Wolff, the Hungarian leader. Finally Von Sternberg lost his temper and threw a water glass at Dr. Wolff, striking him on the chest. A great uproar followed, and the president, unable to secure order, adjourned the House until to-day.

A BABY CHANGED

"One could hardly believe the change Baby's Own Tablets have wrought in my child," says Mrs. Angus Morrison, Port Cardwell, Ont. "He suffered terribly while teething, vomited his food and was weak and puny. One box of Baby's Own Tablets made him a changed child. They eased the pain of teething, strengthened his stomach and he is now a big, healthy child, growing finely and never sick a day." The experience of Mrs. Morrison is that of thousands of other mothers who have found health for their little ones and comfort for themselves in the use of Baby's Own Tablets. Mothers need not be afraid of this medicine; it is guaranteed not to contain an atom of opiate or strong drug. They could not harm a child of any age, and they are good for them at all ages. Ask your druggist for Baby's Own Tablets, or send 25 cents to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, of Brockville, Ont., and get them by mail.

EXCHEQUER COURT JUDGMENTS.

Man Who Sues the Government in Elevator Accident, Loses.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—Thomas Finnigan of Montreal has lost his case against the Government in the Exchequer Court, for damages for injuries sustained in falling from a lift in the post-office at Montreal.

Finnigan complained that the Government was guilty of negligence in not providing the lift with guards or some protection against falling out of it.

The British and Foreign Marine Insurance Co., who claimed that there was negligence in the construction of one of the entrance piers to Farran's Point Canal resulting in the collision of the steamer Erin with the pier, were refused damages.

Judge Burbidge refused to issue an order to sequester the goods of the National Manufacturing Co., as asked for by one Sharpless, on the ground that the defendants were infringing his patent by using a certain steadying device as applied to cream separators.

To Improve Muskoka Waterways.

Gravenhurst, Oct. 6.—Hon. Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works; F. J. Fairburn, Superintendent of Public Works, accompanied by J. S. Playfair, president of the Muskoka Lakes Navigation and Hotel Co.; F. J. Phillips, vice-president; W. F. Wasley, manager, and Commodore Baily, were up in Muskoka Lakes yesterday on a tour of inspection of waterways, etc., with a view of making better channels to Bala and making the Joseph River navigable for larger steamers, as well as having the dock accommodation at Port Carling enlarged.

We Don't Know Ourselves.

London, Oct. 6.—(C. A. P.)—Sir Henry Knight, ex-Lord Mayor of London, interviewed at Liverpool on his return from Canada, said he thought the Northwest was quite capable of rearing produce enough to feed one hundred million people. Canada had many world wonders, but he was of the opinion that neither Canadians nor Britishers thoroughly understood the country's possibilities.

Indians Had Liquor.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Allegations, which were made by a correspondent to the effect that liquor has been supplied on a large scale to Indians in Kent County, will be enquired into by Chief License Inspector Eudo Saunders. It is said that on September 27 two hundred Indians held a pow-wow in a wood near Renwick and that liquor was supplied freely to them for three nights. Several whites were in the "orgies."

Back From the North.

Father Point, Oct. 6.—The Dominion Government steamer Arctic, Capt. Bernier, from the far north, passed inward at 8.30 p. m. All are well.

A MEZOZOIC MONSTER.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie's Present to An English Museum.

The imitation skeleton of a dinosaur which Andrew Carnegie has presented to the trustees of the British museum has an interesting history. This skeleton is a replica of the one in the Carnegie museum at Pittsburg. In 1898 the bones of an enormous dinosaur were discovered in Wyoming, and Mr. Carnegie requested Dr. W. J. Holland, the director of the museum at Pittsburg, to obtain the bones if possible and have them mounted for that institution Dr. Holland found that this particular monster existed only in fragments, but exploration of the vicinity revealed relics of other monsters of the same family, so that eventually four separate dinosaurs of the diplodocus variety furnished enough bones to make a complete specimen of one member of the tribe. It was set up in the museum at Pittsburg, and in 1902 His Majesty King Edward while at Skibo castle saw a picture of the skeleton. He expressed a wish that the animal might be represented in the national collections of Great Britain, and Mr. Carnegie brought this about, paying not only for the restoration of the original skeleton, but for the replica now in the natural history museum at South Kensington. The monster is known as the Diplodocus Carnegiei, in honor of the donor. The diplodocus is a lizard footed dinosaur, and the dinosaur tribe as a whole belongs to the middle of the Mezozoic period in geology.

DINOSAUR DIPLODOCUS CARNEGIEI.

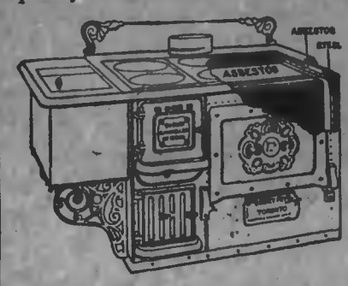
Oxford Chancellor Range

The Oxford Chancellor Range is built to stand the wear and tear of years of usage. The body is constructed of heavy patent rolled steel plates, interlined throughout with asbestos millboard. The steel body is closely riveted together with specially clinched rivets, so that no matter how hot the fire the body will not warp and allow the heat to escape. This construction makes the Oxford Chancellor Range perfectly and permanently airtight. No leakage into the flues, stopping the draft and impairing the oven heat, is possible.



The asbestos interlining insulates the heat of the range the outside of the range never getting overheated.

If you would know more of the Oxford Chancellor Range write us, and we'll tell you all about it and where you can see it.

THE TONIC OF HEALTH

Must be more than a stimulant—must be a food as well.

The "Best" Tonic is FERROZONE, which is both a food and a tonic; it aids digestion, promotes assimilation and converts food into blood, muscle, bone and nerves. No wonder it builds up the weak, makes them strong and vigorous!

FERROZONE

THE GREAT FOOD TONIC

FERROZONE contains exactly what your run-down system lacks. It supplies oxygen to purify the blood, phosphorus to develop the brain, iron to harden the muscles.

No combination of strength-giving, life-sustaining elements can surpass FERROZONE. Instant in effect, lasting in results, no medicine can benefit as much. You'll eat, sleep, think and feel better by using FERROZONE, which is a true tonic. Try it—now.

Ferrozone is sold everywhere in 50c boxes or six for $2.50. By mail to any address from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

More Dairy Meetings Are Required

Canadian Dairyman Speaks With Reference to Dairymen's Convention.

Proper Functions of the Meeting—Matters Which Should be Discussed.

Concerning the interesting discussion held at the last meeting of the directors of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association, in regard to the arrangement of the programme for next convention of the association, to be held in Peterborough in January, the Canadian Dairyman, in its October issue, says:

The trouble is that there are so many matters that need to be discussed at these conventions it is impossible to give any of them as much attention as they require. This proves that more meetings of this nature should be held. These conventions are not the place for the holding of discussions on the care of the dairy cow, the handling of milk, etc. The attendance of farmers is always limited to a few of those living in the immediate vicinity. The reports of the addresses, which appear in the papers, reach many others, but not one out of every 100 who should be reached. Such subjects as those mentioned should be dealt with at smaller meetings which ought to be held in every dairy section.

The time of the Eastern Dairyman's Association at its annual convention should be devoted to the consideration of matters of another nature, such as the licensing of cheese factories, the system of selling cheese, the manner in which butter is shipped, the certificating of cheese and butter makers, etc. It may be claimed that there would be no use debating such subjects as nothing definite could result. This would be true were no effort made in advance to obtain authentic information on these subjects. Such an effort, however, should be made. How many dairymen in Ontario know how many factories in the province would be affected were factories to be licensed? The association has appointed a committee to gain information of the nature and report at the next convention on this whole subject. This report, instead of being read at the close of a morning session, as such reports generally are, might be made one of the main subjects for debate. Should the committee favour the licensing of factories, as seems likely to be the case, it might draft a sample act, such as it would like to see introduced in the legislature, and this act could be discussed at the convention. It is safe to say it would bring out one of the best debates ever held by the association and that the result of the discussion would have a great effect in moulding public opinion all through the province.

We hear a great deal about the system of grading and branding cheese that has been introduced in New Zealand. Would it be too much for several of our associations to combine in bringing over the manager of some large New Zealand creamery to address our conventions on these and similar subjects. Our dairymen seem afraid to grapple with these matters. Until they get over this nervousness and make a determined effort to get to the bottom of their difficulties, progress towards improvement will be slow.

Therapeutic Cocktails Are Placed Under The Ban

A common sense order, issued at Washington, directs, says the Montreal Witness, that all patent medicines, when found to contain an undue percentage of alcohol, shall be classed as spirituous liquors, and their sale regulated as such. The patent medicine men are enraged at this designation of their sure cures as mere intoxicants, to be taxed as ordinary tipple. That is what these compounds are apt to become even though containing some valuable therapeutic principle. People who would shun plain whisky, take them as tonics, in fact the patent medicine habit is known to every medical practitioner, who sometimes find it hard to cure. The trade is known to be immensely profitable, and investigation has shown that it flourishes most in prohibition towns and districts where those who cannot obtain liquor in the ordinary way get what they want in the guise of medicine. The Government order will put a stop to that trade and this is the chief reason why the patentees are petitioning to have it rescinded. When liquor was prohibited in the North west Territories, under the Mackenzie Act, the great quantity of patent nostrums sent there surprised the Inland Revenue Department. But the reason was soon discovered when it was found that the Indians consumed a great deal of certain cures containing about three-fourths alcohol. The order is in the spirit of the law which requires that all foods and compounds intended for human consumption should be plainly labelled as to what they really are, for the protection of the public against false pretences and adulteration. We cannot see why this principle should not be fully applied to patent medicines by requiring their formulae to be printed on the labels.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mrs. James Kinsella.

She Sends a Message of Hope to Other Suffering Women in Canada.

St. Malachie, Que., Oct. 6th. — (Special.) — To those women who suffer in silence — and there are thousands in Canada — Mrs. James Kinsella of this place, sends a message that tells of a cure as silent as their own suffering. As a result of her own experience Mrs. Kinsella says: "Take Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"When I sent for Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mrs. Kinsella says in relating that experience, "I had a pain in my right hip and in the small of the back. I was swollen all down the right side of the abdomen, and and had to pass water every fifteen minutes in a burning, itching sort of way. I could not sleep at night, and was obliged to sit in a chair for two summers.

After taking the first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt much better, so I got more. They have done me a world of good, and I have never slept in a chair since."

There can be no female weakness where there are sound kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills make sound kidneys.

One of the things that they can do better in Europe is the tourists.

Some people seem to struggle so hard to make a living, and, then, after all, it seems such a waste of good energy.

Don't come round singing about the joy of labor to a bodkarrier with a boil on the back of his neck.

Did you ever notice that corns are always acting as though they were afraid you would forget them?

Taking Measures For Pure Food Products

The chief analyst of the Canadian government is doing an excellent and necessary work, remarks the Ottawa Free Press. He is discovering that many lines of food stuffs are adulterated. It is to be hoped that the thieving manufacturers will receive the punishment they deserve. This might properly be called the age of medicine. Producers of foodstuffs and patent medicine men work together to ruin the stomachs and nerves of the race. There is a vigorous agitation against the sale of intoxicating liquors. This is praiseworthy. But it is doubtful if liquor is as harmful, unless it is adulterated liquor, as impure food. It is time the public and press were working together to strengthen the hands of the authorities in putting down this evil. Trade cheats are injuring the health of the citizens of the country and hurting our foreign trade. The reports that have recently come from England of "filled" cheese and defective fruit show that in some quarters there is little trade conscience. Punishments should be severe enough to stamp out the evil. If a vessel owner is caught smuggling, his vessel and cargo are subject to confiscation and he himself to imprisonment. Adulteration of food is a graver evil than smuggling. A heavy fine is scarcely a sufficient deterrent. In China a trade cheat is considered so great a crime that it is the custom to prevent him from sinning in the future by publicly executing him. It is hardly possible to use such drastic measures in Canada, but we might take an example from the pagan and make punishment so severe that such offences against the state would be minimised. We hang men for administering poison in large doses, but too often the man who slowly undermines the health of the entire community through adulterated food is honoured. There would be fewer hospitals and less disease and death if the food and drink of the community were kept pure.

Much of the liquor and prepared food that is imported into Canada has been proved to be adulterated. It would be in the interests of trade and health to absolutely exclude the goods of any firm found guilty of adulterating their products. Merchants are not experts and they cannot be expected to know when their pepper, for example, has been mixed in with wheat flour, wheat starch, maize starch, and stone cells. Like the public, they are largely at the mercy of the manufacturers.

The Hon. Mr. Brodeur is out with his axe after the impure food producers. It is to be hoped that it will fall in the right place and with a severity that will end the nefarious business.

"Is Dr. Chase Your Doctor"

Have You Learned to Cure Biliousness, Indigestion and Constipation With

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills?

A medicine like a physician, is selected because of the actual results it is known to bring about. Most people are slow in choosing either physicians or medicine until they know of cases in which they have proven successful.

In calling your attention to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills it is only necessary to point to their success in the past for they are known in nearly every home.

By means of their direct and specific action on the liver — causing a healthful flow of bile—they regulate and enliven the action of the bowels and ensure good digestion in the intestines. At the same time they stimulate the kidneys in their work of filtering poisons from the blood.

This cleansing process set in action by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, means a thorough cure of biliousness, intestinal indigestion, torpid liver, kidney derangements and constipation.

It means a restoration of health, strength and comfort where there has been pain, weakness and suffering. It means a removal of the conditions which lead to backache, rheumatism, lumbago, Bright's disease, appendicitis and diabetes.

Mrs. H. Trollope, 850 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., states: "I have used two boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them an excellent medicine. I had very severe pains across the back, which came from my kidneys being out of order, and after using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for a time I began to feel a wonderful improvement in my health.

"I have no more pains in my back now and am feeling as well as ever I did. Consequently I am glad of an opportunity to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous recipe book author, is on every box. 2

To hear some men talk you would think that it required remarkable skill to predict the outcome of a battle after it was all over.

A good conscience is one that will roll over and go to sleep when you tell it to.

A New Departure In Farmers' Institute Work

It is understood that this year an important departure will be made in connection with the winter meeting of the Farmers' Institute in West Peterborough. The president and secretary have been advised that the intention of the Department of Agriculture is to have a judging class on one of the three days of the regular meetings. This judging class will probably be held on the second day, and an expert on livestock will be sent to conduct it. It will be held either in a farm yard or in some one of the towns in which meetings are held, and it is expected that great interest will be taken in this feature. The growing importance of the livestock industry makes it imperative that the average farmer should have a more thorough knowledge of the points which constitute a good animal.

It is expected this year that one additional meeting will be held at Selwyn; and the other meetings will be as usual.

The dates of meetings and names of speakers have not yet been received by the local office.

"Canada a Nation"

BRIEF SKETCH INDICATING HER ACCOMPLISHMENTS SINCE CONFEDERATION.

THE FATHERS BUILDED BETTER THAN THEY KNEW

MANHOOD OF THIS COUNTRY IS AWAKE TO ITS POSSIBILITIES.

Our Thirty-Eighth National Birthday and Our First — Contrast Between the Two Periods Is Great and Resembles Strides of a Young Giant —And the Story Has But Been Begun — More Wonderful Successes Will Characterize Canada's Future.

On July 1 thirty eight years ago the act of Confederation went into effect and the people of what then constituted Canada celebrated the first Dominion Day. To them it was an occasion of deep significance. All their statesmen were not agreed that Confederation was the wisest possible step, some, indeed, had fought the movement bitterly, and many people believed it foreshadowed the speedy loss to Britain of this, the larger half of the North American continent. But the great majority of the people thought with the public men who had worked in season and out, ofttimes, seemingly, without advancing the cause they held so dear, that in Confederation lay the only hope of "Canada, a nation."

The Fathers Were Wise.

To-day no Canadian questions the wisdom of the Fathers of Confederation. They builded even better than they knew, and now and in the years to come the most fitting monument to their memory and their work is and will be this robust nation of the north, whose giant strides in progress and development constituted one of the most enchanting romances of modern history. The awakening of Canada dates from that first Dominion Day. Charles G. D. Roberts in the second verse of his "Ode for the Canadian Confederacy" has splendidly expressed this thought in the following words:—

Awake, my country, the hour of dreams is done!
Doubt not, nor dread the greatness of thy fate,
Tho' faint souls fear the keen confronting sun,
And fain would bid the morn of splendor wait;
Tho' dreamers, rapt in starry visions, cry
"Lo, yon thy future, yon thy faith thy fame!"
And stretch vain hands to stars, thy fame is nigh,
Here in Canadian hearth, and home, and name—
This name which yet shall grow
Till all the nations know
Us for a patriot people, heart and hand
Loyal to our native earth, our own Canadian land.

Discerned Its True Import.

Looking over the newspaper files of the period one finds that generally there was a keen appreciation of the true import of the first Dominion Day, says The Toronto Globe. The Globe of Monday, July 1, 1867, for instance, devoted nearly twenty columns of space to a brief history of Canada, from the time of its discovery, an account of the Confederation movement from its earliest beginnings to its consummation, a history of the confederating Provinces, and other pertinent details. In its introduction to the article The Globe said in part:—"With the first dawn of this gladsome midsummer morn we hail the birthday of a new nationality. A united British America, with its four millions of people, takes its place this day among the nations of the world. Stamped with a familiar name which in the past has borne a record sufficiently honorable to entitle it to a more comprehensive import, the Dominion of Canada, on this First day of July, in the year of grace eighteen hundred and sixty seven, enters on a new career of national existence. Old things have passed away. The history of old Canada, with its contracted bounds, and limited divisions of Upper and Lower, east and west, has been completed, and this day a new volume is opened. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia uniting with Ontario and Quebec to make the history of a greater Canada, already extending from the ocean to the head waters of the great lakes and destined ere long to embrace the larger half of this North American continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific."

Amazing Progress.

Canada's progress since Confederation days has been amazing in every respect, and on no better day than this could a little time be spent in attempting to realize that fact by a few comparisons in figures. Here are some: The imports into the Provinces constituting the new Dominion for the year ending June 30, 1866, totalled $75,270,576, of which $53,802,319 were into Canada, $14,281,662 into Nova Scotia, and $7,086,595 into New Brunswick. The exports were: Canada, $56,328,380; Nova Scotia, $8,830,693; New Brunswick, $6,792,626, a total of $71,951,699, or an aggregate trade of $147,222,275. The ordinary revenue of the three for 1865, the latest return then available, was $13,023,169 and the expenditure $14,173,071. Upper and Lower Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia had about 3,000 miles of railways.

Canada's imports in 1904 totalled $253,000,000; her exports, $211,000,000, an aggregate trade of $464,000,000. The revenue for the year ending June, 1904, was $70,000,000, the expenditure $55,000,000 and the surplus $15,000,000. There are now about 20,000 miles of steam and nearly 800 miles of electric railways in Canada and 5,000 miles of railways building.

Organized Canada has increased in size, too. The Provinces of British Columbia, Manitoba and Prince Edward Island have all been born since Confederation, and have all come into the Confederation to make up the Canada of to day.

Towards National Success.

It is not, however, only in trade and in commerce, and in the more material things of life that Canada has made progress. These are essential, but do not make a nation. What is of greater importance is the fact that in recent years there has developed among Canadians a spirit of sturdy self reliance that is carrying the country far toward national success. This is the age of big things, and Canada is not lacking in the ability and confidence to undertake such of them as she deems necessary to her own welfare, or that of the great cluster of nations, colonies and dependencies which forms the British Empire. The trade preference to Britain, the prompt reply in the shape of an effective surtax to Germany's high-handed methods following that preference, the sending of over 8,000 Canadian soldiers to South Africa, the new Transcontinental Railway project, the assumption to-day of the cost of the fortifications of Esquimalt and Halifax, and the responsibility of garrisoning these places, and on September 1 next the erection of two new Provinces in the Northwest—these bespeak the manhood of a country awake alike to its opportunities and responsibilities. These things, dreamed of dimly by some 38 years ago, would have been scoffed at by many others as foolish imaginings. But the Canadian of to-day looks forward to other First of Julys when still bigger things shall have been accomplished or planned.

Canada Not Last.

It is not in Canada alone that Dominion Day is now celebrated. In all London there is now always a big gathering of Canadians on Dominion Day, some living in, some visiting England on business or pleasure, who will loyally honor the day in toast and speech, song and story. Like assemblies for a similar purpose are held in the United States, in South America, in Africa, in Australia, Cuba, the West Indies, and many another country besides, for Canadians are usually to be found in any country where a white man can live, and in sufficient numbers to celebrate the day fittingly. Wherever they go they carry with them their love for the land of the maple, the new nation, the nation of the nineteenth century. Canadians who live abroad or who are visiting foreign lands will sing "The Maple Leaf" as heartily as those who celebrate the day at home, and as they sing they will share in the sentiment expressed in one of the verses of W. D. Lighthall's "Canada Not Last."

Rome, Florence, Venice—noble, fair and quaint,
They reign in robes of magic round me here;
But fading, blotted, dim, a picture faint,
With spell more silent, only pleads a tear.
Plead not! Thou hast my heart, O picture dim!
I see the fields, I see the autumn hand
Of God upon the maples! Answer Him
With weird translucient glories, ye that stand
Like spirits in scarlet and in amethyst!
I see the sun break over you; the mist
On hills that lift from iron bases grand
Their heads superb! The dream, it is my native land!

FACTS ABOUT CANADA.

Gleaned From the Department of Agriculture's "One Thousand Facts About Canada"—A Magnificent Showing.

In no way can Canadians brush up their knowledge of Canada more quickly and comprehensively than by a study of the facts officially supplied in the Department of Agriculture's "One Thousand Facts about Canada," and from it the following extracts, which, unless specially stated, are for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, are taken:

Startling Comparisons.

Canada contains one third of the area of the British Empire.

Canada's proportion of population is only 1.5 to a square mile.

England has 558 and the United States 21 to a square mile.

Canada has nearly a million square miles of practically unexplored area.

Canada is bounded by three oceans.

Canada's sea coast line equals half the circumference of the earth.

Canada has 13,000 miles of coast line—7,000 being in British Columbia.

Canada is 3,500 miles wide and 1,400 miles deep.

Canada is larger in area than the United States, as large as 30 United Kingdoms and as large as 18 Germanys.

Canada is larger than Australasia.

Canada's four organized Territories are larger than France and Germany.

Canada's three northern districts of Mackenzie, Ungava and Franklin are larger than China (proper).

Canada has a continuous waterway of 2,384 miles from the mouth of the St. Lawrence to the head of Lake Superior.

The Mackenzie River is, with its tributaries, 2,500 miles long—equal to the distance from Liverpool to Halifax.

Canada has 6,000 miles of waterways from the St. Lawrence to the Mackenzie, with only 150 miles of land break.

Victoria City is half-way between London and Hong Kong.

The two new Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta will have 275,000 square miles each.

The Yukon district is almost as large as France.

The boundary line between Canada and the United States is 3,000 miles long—1,500 by land, 1,400 through water.

Canada's population by the first census of 1665 was 3,251.

Canada's population at Confederation, 1867, 3,500,000.

Canada's population, 1901, 5,371,315.

Canada's population, estimated, on June 30, 1904, 5,604,328.

Canada began the twentieth century with the same population as the United States began the nineteenth.

Canada has forty countries and nationalities represented in her population.

Canada has 142,101 more males than females.

Canada has more than one-half of the white population of all Britain's colonies.

Canada has enfranchised 25 per cent. of her population.

Canada has 57 per cent. of Canadian-born people: 4,671,815.

Canada has 8 per cent. of British-born people, 495,513.

Canada has therefore 95 per cent. of British-born subjects: 5,077,698.

Another G. T. P. Contract Let.

Montreal, Oct. 6.—The contract for the Lake Superior branch of the G.T.P. from Fort William to Lake Superior Junction, about 240 miles, was awarded yesterday to Foley Bros., Larson & Co. of Winnipeg. This award means about 500 miles of the G. T. P. will be under actual construction by end of October, and it is hoped fully 1,000 miles will be under way by the end of November. The stipulation provides the contract must be done in time to move grain in 1907.

Two Heavy Judgments.

Sarnia, Oct. 6.—Two judgments, one for $3,000 in favor of Thomas MacKenzie, and the other for $2,000 in favor of Joseph Folvey, have been rendered against the Grand Trunk Railway in the Lambton County Court. Both were suits for personal injuries.

An Incendiary Confesses.

Fernie, B.C., Oct. 6.—The mystery of the great fire which started in McDonald's boarding house, was cleared up at the investigation yesterday when Evans, the suspected incendiary, under arrest, told his story, admitting that Mrs. McDonald offered him $100 to set fire to her house. She has been arrested also.

Government Will Pay Widow.

Kingston, Oct. 6.—The Federal Government, it is said, will pay $10,000 to the widow of Capt. Couillard at Montebello, as compensation. Capt. Couillard, it will be remembered, was killed here last April as a result of the accidious gas heavy explosion on the steam-

Pandora Savings

Because the Pandora range utilizes all the heat in the fuel it does the work quicker and better. If a range sends half its heat up the chimney it must burn more fuel to do a given work. It takes longer to burn a large piece of wood or chunk of coal than a small one, also it takes a longer purse to pay for the large stick of wood or big chunk of coal.

The quicker you can get the necessary units of heat to boil the kettle or cook the roast, the quicker your work is done and the less it costs to do it.

Because of the scientific construction of the Pandora range it gets more units of heat from a given quantity of fuel than any other range. It keeps all the heat in the range where the work is to be done.

For these reasons the Pandora range lightens the labor of cooking—eases the drudgery of kitchen work; it helps to make life easier; it gives more leisure because it saves time; it saves worry because it is absolutely reliable, and thus it saves the nerves; it saves the muscles because it is so easy to handle; it requires less attention than any other range; it does its work uniformly; it is an A 1 range in every particular; it is an economical and a handsome range.

It makes Kitchen work easy.

Good Casters ON Ives' Brass Beds

The caster on a metal or brass bed is important.

An imperfect caster is liable to injure carpets or rugs while on polished floors it always leaves marks.

Ives' Brass Beds have a double wheel ball bearing caster. The double wheel divides the weight and its wide face does not mark the floor, while it turns so easily to the motion of the bed that it never injures carpets.

It is attention to important small things that makes Ives' beds the finest in America.

Ask to see an Ives Brass Bed and examine it closely.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

N. C. DOUGHERTY ARRESTED

Speculations Said to Reach Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 6.—Newton C. Dougherty, for many years city superintendent of schools, was arrested yesterday upon an indictment by the grand jury, charged with forgery. The arrest is the result of the examination by the grand jury of the books of the Peoria School Board. Within a comparatively brief space of time a shortage of $75,000 was discovered, but the further discovery was made that the speculations have been extending over a long term of years. The shortage will reach hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Dougherty is president of the Peoria National Bank, a heavy stockholder in the Dime Savings and Trust Co., the Title and Trust Co., and other concerns, and a trustee of the fund of $175,000 held by the National Educational Association.

CHEQUES MISSING.

President McCall of the New York Life Again On the Stand—Some Startling Facts.

New York, Oct. 5.—That John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., borrowed $50,000 from the New York Life Insurance Co. at 1 1-2 per cent. interest, a rate below the market value, was brought out in the insurance investigation last week, but yesterday President John A. McCall of the New York Life testified that he in turn borrowed $75,000 from the Metropolitan at the same rate. This was in January, 1903, the loan was renewed in January, 1904, and ran until March, 1905, when the rate of interest was advanced to two per cent., at which rate it is still running.

Mr. McCall testified that he was a director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., but not a stockholder. The fact of his being a director, Mr. McCall continued, did not deter him from procuring a loan at as low a rate of interest as possible, when it was to his benefit to do so.

Somewhat of a sensation was caused in the late hours of yesterday's session when Nellie F. Towner of Albany was called to the stand and disclaimed any knowledge of the whereabouts of the cancelled cheques of Judge Andrew Hamilton of Albany. Mr. Towner testified that he was associated with Judge Hamilton in the practice of law in Albany. He had no knowledge, he declared, of where they could have gone, or who could have taken them. Pressed by Mr. Hughes, he said almost anybody had access to the drawer in which the cheques were placed.

Mr. McCall, resuming, was asked about a deposit to the credit of Judge Hamilton of $162,641.67, on September 1, 1905. Mr. McCall said the New York Life Insurance Co. had paid Mr. Hamilton no money, but suggested that part of it might have come from the state controller's office by reason of an assignment of tax moneys which would come to the judge by reason of his securing the repeal of the tax law, which relieved the New York Life from payment of taxes.

Mr. McCall enlivened the day's proceedings further when he said that there was no record on the books of the New York Life Insurance of the $150,000 paid the Republican national committee for contributions to presidential campaigns. While he had no personal knowledge that the money was paid, he assumed that it was because he had told the treasurer to make these payments.

Bills For Blackmail.

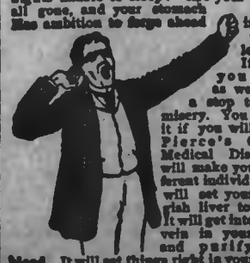
Earlier in the day Mr. McCall, in detailing the general legislation work of Judge Hamilton and the counsel he employed, denied any knowledge of the legislative pool which was disclosed in the examination of Alfred W. Maine, auditor of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, last week. Mr. McCall, on this question asserted that three-quarters of the bills affecting life insurance companies were in the nature of blackmail.

Mr. McCall then went into a history of life insurance in this state, telling of the greater number of companies started from 1875 to 1880 and of the failure of most of them through extravagance and incompetence.

He said that the New York Life Insurance Co.'s expenses for legal services from June 1, 1900, to August 31, 1905, were $1,102,920. Of this amount, Mr. McCall said, Andrew Hamilton received $476,925. In states where Mr. Hamilton looked after legislation, Mr. McCall said he was expected to deal with the men who could produce the results.

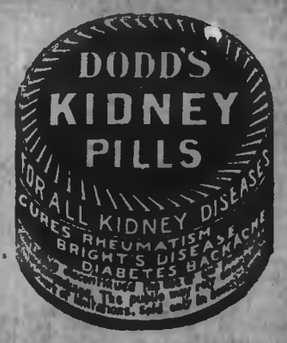
DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold, in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.



O. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 102), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."



OVERHAULS A WRECKER.

Allegations Against Manager of Western Life Insurance Concern.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Bankruptcy proceedings against B. I. Rosenfeld, general manager of the Western Life Indemnity Insurance Co., were yesterday referred by Federal Judge Belhes to referee in bankruptcy court.

The attorney for the plaintiffs told the court that Rosenfeld refused to turn any assets over to the receiver.

Rosenfeld was charged in a bill filed in court Monday with being "A trafficker and a wrecker of life insurance companies for his own personal profit and with an utter disregard for the rights of policyholders."

REVENUE A CONSIDERATION.

One Factor Entering Into Choice of C. T. P. Route.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 5.—The transcontinental railway commissioners were here yesterday. After visiting the proposed routes of the line in New Brunswick, they met at the Board of Trade.

At the meeting Mr. Parent said that while bound to build the shortest, cheapest and easiest operated line, they must also consider the possible revenue from that route as compared with some others. People were not of one opinion in New Brunswick as to route.

It might even be found that another survey in New Brunswick is desirable. They would do the best they could by all sections. Messrs. Parent and McIsaac left at noon for Chipman, to inspect the Central Railway country, and all the commissioners went to Halifax last night.

A despatch says it is generally understood at Fredericton there will be another survey of the St. John Valley route, as a result of the commissioners' visit.

They Back Up Roosevelt.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 5.—The National Carriage Builders' Association convention, with delegates present from all parts of the United States, Canada and Mexico, yesterday adopted a report of David T. Wilson, chairman of the executive committee, denouncing discriminating freight rates and supporting President Roosevelt in his move for the establishment of a tribunal to deal with the subject.

Bomb Throwers Arrested.

Tientsin, Oct. 5.—Six men, supposed to be bomb throwers, including two without queues from Pekin, were handed over to the viceroy for investigation on October 3.

Street Cars Running.

Berlin, Oct. 5.—All the street cars were running yesterday, the strikers of the electrical works being unable to stop work at the power houses.

Iron Workers Strike.

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—Members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers struck yesterday for higher wages. About 60 men are out. Among the buildings affected are the postoffice and C.P.R. hotel.

Scow Sinks and Man Drowns.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—About 9.30 last night Gordon Donaldson, a piano polisher, living at 306 Clinton street, was drowned in the slip at the foot of Brock street. His scow filled and sank, and he could not swim.

Cure For Tuberculosis.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Prof. Behring, the discoverer of the anti-diphtheria serum, announces, according to The Matin, that he has found a cure for tuberculosis. The nature of his cure, Prof. Behring says he will divulge next August.

Nominated for Four Years.

New York, Oct. 6.—Mayor George B. McClellan last night was renominated for the four years' term beginning January 1 next by the Democratic city convention, or Tammany Hall organization.

To Special Committees.

Stockholm, Oct. 6.—Both chambers of the Riksdag yesterday referred the bill regarding the dissolution of the union between Norway and Sweden to a special committee appointed by each chamber.

LAKE SUPERIOR CORPORATION.

Annual Report Says Net Income Was $4,585,539 For First Year.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 6.—The Lake Superior Corporation showed a surplus of $34,862 at the first annual meeting held at Jersey City. The corporation arose from the ashes of the Consolidated Lake Superior Co., and has only lately been placed on its feet, in the face of great difficulties. The report shows that, despite the adverse circumstances under which the company has begun business, the net income for the first year was $4,585,539. After paying interest on first mortgage bonds, amounting to $452,175, and $88,562 for taxes and general expenses, there remains the surplus noted above. All the officers were re-elected, and the old directors were also named again, with the exception that Alfred T. Boller, of East Orange, N. J., takes the place of G. B. Terrell.

President Warren in his report reviewed the work of last year. He stated that the indebtedness has been practically all settled. Plans have been made for an extension of additions to the plant. The report showed that the rail mill manufactured 12,128 tons, and that the blast furnaces produced 11,997 tons of pig iron during the month of August, 1905. More than 200,000 tons of ore were taken from the Helen mine. The sawmill has been operated at a profit. The pulp mill produced 27,817 tons of ground wood, the largest output in its history.

The Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railroad, Manitoulin and North Shore Line, and the fleet of steamers have also been operated profitably. Two traction companies at Sault Ste. Marie have shown a small loss, but the traffic is increasing. The Tagoma Water and Light Co., with a business of comparatively small volume, is mentioned as one of the best properties in proportion to the investment.

A TRIAL FOR TAVERNITO.

Other Italians Swear That He Did the Stabbing.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—In Magistrate Ellis' court yesterday the Italians connected with the murder of Amos Marlow at Mimico, were given a hearing.

Pasquale Tramboli said that Dominique Tavernito "no keel him in bar, he keel him outside."

Tavernito and Bruno Bartello were committed for trial for murder, though T. C. Robinette and J. M. Godfrey tried to establish that the stabbing had occurred during a general melee, so that a manslaughter charge might be substituted.

The Italians held as witnesses swore that Bartello and Marlow started to fight and clinched when Tavernito stepped in and did the stabbing.

Up to that moment he had not been mixed up in the row.

Child Had Eczema

"My daughter, thirteen years old, suffered from eczema for three years. She was treated by our family physician, and used other ointments without any benefit. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment she has been completely cured. This is the only ointment that I feel like recommending." — Mr. Jas. H. Patriquin, 176 Rockdale avenue, Sydney, C.B.

Ramsey Removed.

New York, Oct. 6.—Joseph Ramsey, Jr., was yesterday removed from the presidency of the Wabash Railroad Co., at a special meeting of the board of directors, held in this city. F. A. Delano was elected as his successor. Mr. Ramsey has been engaged in a contest with Mr. Gould for the control of the road. Mr. Ramsey said his removal was entirely illegal.

Horses Killed; Driver Hurt.

Goderich, Oct. 6.—An accident occurred at the Goderich Lumber Co.'s mill yesterday afternoon when John Hutchinson of Port Albert was seriously hurt and one of his horses killed. His team took fright at a Grand Trunk engine and dashed along the track. The engine struck one of the horses. The man was thrown to one side, and was seriously injured.

Canada's End of Gaynor-Greene.

Quebec Oct. 6.—The legal documents necessary for the extradition of Gaynor and Greene, the fugitives from American justice, were signed by the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Louis Jette, and enforced by the Attorney-General, Hon. L. Gouin, yesterday morning, and forwarded to the sheriff of Montreal. The documents will reach Montreal today.

Left In Abeyance.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The conference of Canadian Archbishops of the Roman Catholic Church ended yesterday. Archbishop O'Connor returned to Toronto yesterday morning. The proposal to establish a plenary council was left in abeyance until Archbishop Duhamel visits the Pope this autumn.

The Growth of Fire Insurance in Canada

Canadian Government statistics issued by the Superintendent of Insurance show that during the past thirty-six years the business of fire assurance in this country has increased ten-fold—the total amount of premiums collected in Canada in the year 1869 being $1,785,539, while that of 1904 was $13,174,819 for the same purpose. Of this premium income only $2,688,703 was paid to Canadian Companies, while $10,486,116 was paid to Foreign Companies. The total amount of fire assurance premiums collected in Canada during these thirty-six years amounted to the enormous sum of $201,580,555. Of this amount $156,600,789 was the amount of capital which left Canada in payment of premiums to Foreign Companies.

The Insurance Report shows that for the year 1904 there were but ten Canadian Companies licensed by the Dominion Government to transact the business of Fire Assurance in Canada, and but two of these ten had a paid-up capital for more than $235,000. With such facts and figures before them the incorporators of THE SOVEREIGN FIRE ASSURANCE COMPANY have been convinced of the necessity for a sound, substantial Corporation—the shareholders and policy-holders of which would be protected by a LARGE CASH CAPITAL PAID UP IN FULL, a Government deposit in excess of the Statutory requirement, and a strong directorate of business men which would conserve these resources for the development of Canadian institutions.

PROFITS OF FIRE ASSURANCE COMPANIES.

The average dividend paid by thirty-two British Joint Stock Fire Assurance Companies for the current financial year, corrected down to September 1st, 1905, exceeded 20 per cent. per annum, and the average dividends for ten years ending December 31st, 1904, paid by 136 Joint Stock Fire Assurance Companies of the United States, as compiled from official reports, has exceeded 13 1-4 per cent. per annum. Statistics compiled by the Superintendent of Insurance covering a period of thirty years, from 1875 to 1904 inclusive, show that the dividends paid by Canadian Fire Assurance Companies amounted to $4,400,835.25, and when it is remembered that the rates for fire assurance are to-day practically 50 per cent. to 100 per cent. in excess of the rates charged during the period covered by the Insurance Department, it will be readily seen that the business is now fixed upon a substantial basis and the profitableness of the future is unquestionably assured.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR CAPITAL STOCK.

The capital stock of the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada is TWO MILLION DOLLARS, divided into 50,000 shares of $40.00 each, of which TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS is now offered to investors at a premium of 25 per cent. or FIFTY DOLLARS A SHARE.

PRICE LIST OF SHARES.

5 shares (including premium)	$ 250	50 shares (including premium)	$1,500

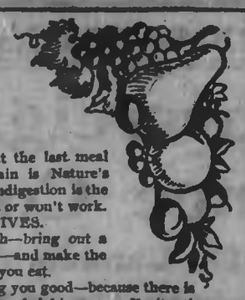
When Indigestion Grips You



it is not merely "something you ate" at the last meal—it is weakness in the stomach. A pain is Nature's danger signal that something is wrong. Indigestion is the stomach's way of telling you that it can't or won't work.

NOW is the time to take FRUIT-A-TIVES.

These fruit tablets rest the stomach—bring out a copious flow of gastric juice at meal time—and make the stomach and intestines digest everything you eat.

You know that Fruit-a-tives are doing you good—because there is no more pain—no more sour stomach—no belching gas. Fruit-a-tives keep the stomach clean and healthy—and ready to digest any sensible meal you eat while the constipation is entirely cured by their use.

"Fruit-a-tives are most valuable in the home. We have used two boxes and are to-day getting a third, which tells our opinion of their merits. I find them especially good for the children, pleasant to take and very cleansing in their action."

Mrs. F. M. NORRISH, Calgary, Alberta.

Fruit-a-tives are pure fruit juices in tablet form. They act gently on all the organs of digestion—strengthen, invigorate, and cure. If there is anything wrong with stomach or bowels, cure yourself with

Austro-Hungarian Trouble Sets Dogs of War Growling

One of the chief doctrines of the evolutionists is that in all life continual changes are going on, and always from the simple to the complex, from homogeneity to heterogeneity. With nations this theory has been strikingly illustrated in the past few months. Norway and Sweden have gone their separate ways after a long and prosperous existence as a united country; now Austria and Hungary are at the parting of the ways. If Franz Joseph remains as firm as that other grand old monarch, Oscar, a rupture is inevitable; but a life of travail and sorrow has surely left its indelible trace on the head of the house of Hapsburg. It is more likely that he will submit to yet another blow than plunge his countries into a fratricidal war. No one looks for Hungary to modify her claims. Austria must give way, or the dual monarchy will become a thing of the past.

German Words of Command.

As was the case with Norway and Sweden, so it is with Austria and Hungary—there is an ostensible reason for the quarrel and a deeper motive that would not be affected even should the surface disagreement be settled. With Norway the Consular system was the excuse for separation, with Hungary the use of German words in the Magyan army is the whone of contention. As the Austrian people are Germans in all but politics, the German language is spoken by the Austrians, and the Austrian army is modelled on that of Germany. The Hungarians, however, are a different race altogether, unlike the Austrians in almost every respect. They want their own language spoken in their own army, and they accuse Austria at aiming to destroy their nationality. The Austrians reply that, as French is the language of diplomacy, and English the language of commerce, so German is the language of war. Furthermore, they insist that in the event of war it would put the Austro-Hungarian forces at a disadvantage if orders had to be given in two tongues.

The Dual Monarchy.

At the back of the quarrel lie nearly three centuries of history, to delve no deeper into the past. Austria and Hungary are bound into a dual monarchy by the famous ausgleich, or compromise, of 1867. This document was primarily the handiwork of the Hungarian statesman Deak. In it are incorporated the most important principles of the historic "pragmatic sanction," through which the question of hereditary rights is settled. By the compromise of 1867 Austria and Hungary are granted the rights of control over their own respective governmental functions. It provides for which control affairs common to both countries. Legislation retaining to foreign and military affairs such as assenting to treaties, providing conditions of military service, etc., is reserved to the independent action of both Legislatures; but practically these bodies are expected to agree. There are three common departments of ministry—Foreign Affairs, Finance, and War. The expenses of these departments are borne jointly by both countries, and both countries have equal control over them. Common expenses are met from Customs, 70 per cent. of the balance to be borne by Austria and 30 per cent. by Hungary. Recently this proportion has been changed 3 per cent. in Austria's favour. The compromise, as a whole, was to be agreed upon for 10 years at a time, but possibility of change during these intervals was arranged for. It was agreed that the monarch was to be called Emperor of Austria and King of Hungary, and the monarchy was to be called the Austro-Hungarian Empire. Such, in brief, is the bond between the nations.

Irreconciable Differences.

The alliance itself dates from the 17th century, and continued unbroken until 1848, when Louis Kossuth caused the famous insurrection in a struggle for greater liberties for the Hungarians. But, though the cause was lost for the time, thanks to the aid of Russia, there have been Magyan statesmen ever since struggling against the Austrian yoke, and endeavouring, by means of legislation and agitation, to wring further concessions from the King of Hungary, who is Emperor of Austria. At bottom the Hungarians are radical and progressive, while the Austrians are extremely conservative, not to say reactionary. In Hungary the Constitution creates the monarchy, in Austria the King gives the Constitution. As Marion G. Scheiblin says, in the course of an able article in the Chicago Record-Herald:—"Racial differences have brought about the anomaly of Francis Joseph, as King of Hungary, placing his royal prerogative on acts that were punished as crimes in Austria." The differences between the two races may be traced to what the divorce courts call "incompatibility of temper."

The Making of a National Party.

Every newspaper reader is familiar with accounts headed "Disorderly Scenes in Hungarian Diet." Every one of these disturbances has marked a crisis in the long struggle against Austria. Until a few years ago the Hungarian Opposition was divided into several parties. One after another would attain office, and would be promptly suspected of losing its virile opposition to Austria. In the past year or so all local differences among the independents, the dissidents, the national opposition and the people's party have been merged in common war against Count Stephan Tisza, "the man with the iron hand," who tried to coerce his people instead of conciliating or deluding them. The result is the strong and united Hungarian party of to-day. Tisza was defeated in the elections, and the Diet became almost solidly composed of dissatisfied Hungarians.

The People in Revolt.

Since then the Emperor and the Hungarian Diet have come to handgrips. The Hungarian people are now in revolt. They refuse to pay their taxes and the officials refuse to accept them. The latter have been discharged; but at once the Magyar noblemen showed their sympathy by reimbursing the officials. There have been fruitless meetings between the Hungarian leaders and his Majesty. On every point but that of language in the army the Emperor has expressed a willingness to yield, but on this question he remains firm. Next month the Diet will again convene, and the matter will be decided, with the probabilities in favour of an Austrian backdown.

Marvellous Surgical Operation

Toronto Doctor Writes of a Feat in Surgery Almost Passing Belief.

Witnessed at Vienna—Operation is a New One.

Vienna has for a long time been the birthplace of many major surgical operations. Some of the most daring feats in surgical work have been first performed in that city. Lorenz and his colleagues are continually working out some new solution to problems that have heretofore been impassable barriers to the world's greatest surgeons. The bloodless method of reduction of congenital dislocations of the hip has for some time held first place in the minds of the general public. Dr. Lorenz's visit to America brought before the surgeons of this land some of the very latest achievements in surgical operations. One of the newest operations, and one of the most startling in its technique, has been devised and performed by Dr. Cadavillo of Vienna. It is described here by a Toronto surgeon.

Shortening of the Leg.

For many years surgeons have puzzled their brains to devise some method of preventing shortening of the leg after a fracture of the thigh, especially the so-called impacted fractures. The ordinary splints have, in some cases, proved absolutely inadequate and as much as two and a half or three inches of shortening has resulted in fractured femurs. This, of course, caused resultant disability and meant the wearing of a cork elevation on the boot or else the patient would walk with a marked limp, which would finally produce a curvature of the spine. Many cases have ao resulted, not from any lack of skill on the part of the attending physician or surgeon, but because he had nothing in his power to hold the lower fragment down to the required length. Until recently no one has evolved any operative measures to remedy these defects. A number of surgeons from various parts of the world were in Vienna the day Dr. Cadavillo first tried his new operation and he very kindly invited me to be present with the others and see the case.

The patient was an Italian, about twenty years of age. The history given was that he had been working on a railway bridge and had fallen a distance of twenty feet and fractured his thigh midway between the hip and knee. He was treated in the ordinary way and at the end of seven weeks was allowed to get up and walk. At this time measurement showed the left leg to be two and one-half inches shorter than the right. The man walked very badly as a consequence and he was brought to Vienna for treatment. It was then that Dr. Cadavillo determined to try an operation he had been thinking of for some time, but had not had the courage to tackle.

The Operation.

When we entered the operating room we found attached to the foot of the operating table the instrument which was to give the extending power. It consisted of an upright piece of gas pipe and another piece at right angles which worked like a set-screw. This was turned by a small handle and at the other end (nearest the patient) was a hook, holding two fine steel chains. On account of the minimum size of the thread in the screw one could get tremendous power by exerting very little force on the handle.

The patient was anaesthetized and placed on the table. His shoulders were strapped to the table and a strong band running under the arms held him fast to the head of the table and exerted counter-extension. Then the surgeon took a five-inch spike nail and drove it through heel from side to side. Then he fastened the chains, one on either end of the nail. Then he quickly made an incision down to the site of the fracture and cut throu the bone with a chisel. An assistant now turned the handle of the extension apparatus and the leg was gradually lengthened out. The power was so great that the leg could have been pulled off, had it been fully exerted. The leg was drawn down until it was half an inch longer than its fellow, because, as the surgeon remarked, there is a great tendency to shortening.

The leg and pelvis above the fracture were incased lightly in plaster of Paris bandages as was the leg below, down as far as the ankle. The extension was kept up, of course, all the time. The surgeon then placed two iron bars, one on either side of the limb. At the upper end of each were semi-circular bars which fitted closely to the plaster already on the limb. These bars were fixed securely to the upper fragment by plaster bandages. The lower ends of the bars were fitted up exactly similar to the bars which ran from the tread to the axis of the rear wheel of a bicycle. The nail, in this case, took the place of the axle of the wheel. The screws were the same and were tightened up so as to hold the lower fragment down to the required length. The upper end of the bars held the leg above the structure and consequently when the screws were tightened the lower fragment was forced downwards.

Encased in Plaster.

The whole apparatus was then encased in plaster as far as the nail through the heel and then the patient was put to bed. Scarcely an hour had passed and very little hemorrhage had occurred. The injured leg was now half an inch longer than the sound limb.

To me the operation was indeed startling. It savoured strongly of the Spanish inquisition. In speaking to the surgeon about it, I asked him if he was not afraid of tearing the heel off. He said he had feared that and on the next occasion he intended driving the spike through the bone just above the ankle where it is more able to bear the enormous strain.

The following day I called with Dr. Cadovillo to see the patient and found that he had suffered scarcely at all from shock and complained of no pain whatever. The doctor tightened the screws up a little and left orders that they should be turned up a little every day.

About two months later I again visited the same hospital and found our Italian friend ready to go home. He walked without a limp and by actual measurement the left limb was only one-quarter of an inch shorter than the right. The operation had thus gained two and one-quarter inches. The patient was delighted with the result and I believe the operation can be done with success in this country just as well as in Vienna, because our people are better fitted physically to recuperate from such an ordeal.

JUDGE OF NATAL SUPREME COURT

Mr. Justice Finnemore Tells of Remarkable Cure of Distressing Eczema by Cuticura—Grew Worse Under Professional Treatment.

OTHER SUFFERERS CURED BY CUTICURA

"I suffered a severe attack of eczema on the scalp, face, ears, and neck, and was for several months under professional treatment, but became worse. My face was dreadfully disfigured, and I lost nearly all my hair. My wife prevailed upon me to try the Cuticura Remedies, which I did with most satisfactory results, the disease disappearing and my hair growing thicker and glossier than before my illness. My wife has purchased Cuticura for other sufferers, with good results in each case.—Robert Isaac Finnemore (Judge of the Natal Supreme Court), Pietermaritzburg, Natal."

AGONIZING ECZEMA

And Itching, Burning Eruptions, with Loss of Hair, Cured by Cuticura.

The Cuticura Treatment is at once agreeable, speedy, economical, and comprehensive. Bathe the affected parts freely with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent, or Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood. This treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning, and scaly humours, and points to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure of torturing, disfiguring humours, from infancy to age, when all other remedies fail.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Props.

The Omemee Root Crops Well Saved

The Local Fall Show May be Revived.

Presbyterian Church Has New Cement Walk—Church Re-opening.

Omemee, Oct. 2.—The root crops are being well saved and turning out well.

J. J. Lamb has another addition to his family.

The people attending Peterborough Show returned exceedingly well pleased and satisfied.

There is a large number going to Millbrook Fair to-day.

We are still in hopes of having our local fair revived.

The weather proved favourable for our Anglican surplice choir to visit St. Thomas' church last Sunday.

Our newly constructed cement walks around the Presbyterian add very much to the appearance of it.

We are to have a grand re-opening of the Presbyterian church about October 29.

The store and business of the late Wm. Bradburn, deceased, has not yet been opened up. His loss is felt very much.

We heard of the sale of Jacob's Island, twenty-two miles north of here, at the mouth of Pigeon River. We hope to have navigation, and this to be one of the chiefest and most attractive places from there.

First Canadian Cement Works

The following letter from Mr. Alvin R. Bravender, of Lakefield, which appears in this month's issue of Industrial Canada, will be read with interest, locally:—

Editor Industrial Canada:

In your issue of June last, which only came to my notice a few days ago, in speaking of the cement industry in Canada you say that the first Portland Cement manufactured in Canada was manufactured in 1891 at the works at Marlbank and Shallow Lake, both in Ontario. This is an error, as there was a plant manufacturing Portland Cement at Napanee Mills, now Strathcona, Ontario, at that time and had been manufacturing cement for a period of two years. At this place the first of the now famous Rathbun's Star was made. At the time the works there were under the management of Mr. E. Bravender, who had made Portland Cement there at first experimentally, using a blue clay that he found near Napanee Mills and marl from the deposits at Marlbank. At this time, 1891, there was a plant using the old wet process making a stiff slurry, running it through a pug mill that formed the slurry into bricks and drying in dry kilns heated with steam. This plant had three bottle kilns and was afterwards enlarged by the addition of a Dietch continuous kiln. The cement manufactured there was exhibited at the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893, when it won the Gold Medal, and I have no doubt that by referring to the Messrs. Rathbun who were at that time the owners of the works, that you can satisfy yourself of the correctness of this statement. In 1894 Mr. Bravender left the works there and went to the works of the Empire Portland Cement Company located at Warners, N. Y. Some years ago he became interested in the Lakefield Portland Cement Company, with which he is now connected.

I write this merely to correct an erroneous impression as to whom was actually the first manufacturer of Portland Cement in Canada on the ground of honour to whom honour is due.

Yours truly,
ALVIN R. BRAVENDER.

Good Bread should please the Eye as well as the Palate.

Why does the dainty housewife delight in snowy napery, glittering cut-glass, burnished silver, delicate china and all other table allurements dear to feminine hearts?

And what man does not appreciate table beauty?

It is not that we appreciate the appearance of our food almost as much as the taste of it?

Bread may be ever so wholesome, well-flavored and made of scientifically milled flour, but with all these qualities we want it to look dainty, appetising, snowy-white, with nut-brown crust, and be firm and silky in texture.

Royal Household Flour makes just that kind of bread.

The electrical purification and sterilization of Royal Household Flour makes it yield not only absolutely pure bread, but bread of snowy whiteness and beautiful texture—bread that will grace the prettiest table or give beauty to the humblest meal served on the plainest dishes.

You can prove this by trying a 25 lb. bag—you must have flour, why not have the best.

Fell From a Bridge And Was Killed

Mr. Daniel Shannon's Sudden Death in Buffalo.

Was a Native of This City—Funeral To-morrow.

Mr. John Shannon, 319 McDonel street, yesterday received a telegram from Buffalo conveying the sad intelligence that his son, Daniel, had been killed there on Saturday. Deceased was working on a bridge, and it is supposed that he fell while at work, though no details are given.

The late Mr. Shannon left here about five years ago and has been living in Buffalo since that time.

He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and baby, three brothers, three sisters, and his father, Mr. John Shannon, 319 McDonel street. His brothers are Patrick, of Prescott; Richard, of Milton, N.D.; and Leo, at home. His sisters are Katie, of Toronto; Mary, of Rochester, N.Y., and Mrs. T. Cavanaugh, of Enniamore.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at Buffalo.

Fire Destroys North Smith Cheese Factory

120 Cheese Were Consumed by Flames.

Loss Will Total Nearly $4,000—$1,850 Insurance.

On Saturday afternoon the North Smith cheese factory, situated on the twelfth concession of Smith, and owned by the North Smith Dairy Company, was destroyed by fire. The fire started about 2 o'clock, and is supposed to have originated around the chimney. Within fifteen minutes after it was discovered, the roof fell in, and the factory and residence of the cheesemaker adjoining were destroyed.

The assistance of the fire-fighting appliances of Selwyn was secured by telephone, but although everything was done to save the property, it was totally destroyed.

There were two hundred cheese in the factory, and of these, 120 were destroyed, valued at $1,500.

The total loss will be between $3,500 to $4,000, and $1,850 insurance, $850 on the building and $1,000 on the cheese.

Mr. Patterson, the cheesemaker, lost his manufacturing appliances and household effects.

The patrons will not rebuild this year, and for the balance of the season will send their milk to the Lakefield factory.

INCREASED ASSESSMENT OF CITY OF PETERBOROUGH NEARLY MILLION DOLLARS

The Assessors' Books Are Returned to City Clerk's Office—Big Increase in Assessment—Population is Now 14,391—Some of the Details Which the Books Show---Business Assessment This Year is $632,372--Small Increase in the Income Assessment---Other Features of the Report---The City By Wards.

To-day the Assessor's rolls were returned to the city clerk, and show some interesting comparisons. By reason of the fact that the system of assessing has been materially changed this year since the new Assessment Act came into effect, it is impossible to make an absolute comparison in every particular, but in some figures it is possible to compare the returns of last year with those of the present.

The greatest increase is in the total assessment of the city. Last year it was $5,884,739, while this year it is fixed at $6,815,976, an increase of $931,237 over last year. One of the largest factors in this increase is that of business assessment, which this year is $632,372, while last year there was no business assessment. In the total income there is an increase of $17,675.

There is an increase in the population of the city as represented by the number of persons in families of persons rated as residents, of 216 persons, the total population this year being 14,391, as compared with 14,175 last year. It must be remembered, however, that the return of the assessors invariably shows less than the number of residents, as there are always some who are missed. In the number of children from five to twenty years of age in the city, there is, according to the returns, one of the great masters in piano pedagogy, the Leipsig Signale describing him as "one of the first teachers of the present time." Mr. Field played, with great success, at a recital in Berlin, Germany, and this led the Berlin Times to speak of him thus: "Mr. Field may honourably claim a position among the leading pianists of the day." Mr. Field especially excells as an exponent of Bach and Beethoven. The advent of Mr. Field into the city is a complimentary recognition of the growing musical importance of Peterborough.

Prize Winners Can Get Money

Mr J. J. A. Hall, the secretary of the Peterborough Industrial Fair, informs the Examiner that the winners of prizes at the recent Fair, may obtain their prize money at the office of the president of the Association, Mr. D. Hughes Charles, at the Bank of Commerce building. The work of posting up the judges' cards and writing the cheques, has entailed considerable work on the secretary, and that he has so early completed his work is a tribute to his efficiency. The prize winners who live at a distance will have their cheques mailed to them at an early date.

Marks An Epoch In City Music

The addition of Mr. H. M. Field, pianoforte virtuoso, and pianoforte pedagogue, to the faculty of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music marks an epoch in the musical life of the city. He was in the city Saturday entering upon his engagement with the Conservatory of Music, and it is a pleasure to state that he has already a good class of advanced pupils, including several from surrounding towns, as Cobourg. This latter fact indicates Peterborough's growing importance as a music centre. This is emphasized by the presence of Mr. Field into the musical life of the city. Mr. Field is a musician of known calibre, and is distinguished both as a virtuoso and master. He was for eight years the associate teacher of the celebrated Krause, at the Leipsig Conservatory of Music, Germany, and is considered

The Lights Must Burn All Night

Orillia Council grants free electric lights to its citizens to place in front of their residences. The Times says: Householders who have a free light in front of their premises are reminded that the light was given on the understanding that it was to benefit those who used the streets, and therefore must be kept burning from dark to daylight. Many of the lights are turned out late in the evening and others are not lit at all some nights. They must burn regularly and all night or the privilege will be withdrawn.

CAPTAIN SHAW TELLS THE GRUESOME STORY OF KING'S MURDER

The Miner Who Killed His Partner and Burned His Body in the Woods--Was Executed at Edmonton Recently--While Awaiting His Death He Was a Charge of Capt. Shaw--Former Peterborough Man Gives Some of the Details of the Horrible Crime--The Murdered Man's Brother Had Dream.

Special Correspondence to The Examiner.

Edmonton, Sept. 30.—To-day Captain Shaw, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, was relieved of a charge which he has held for the past few months, that of the safe custody of Charles King, who was condemned to death for murder. The relief was effected by the death of King by hanging. Capt. Shaw, who is a former resident of Peterborough, has been in command of the detachment of mounted police, in whose custody the condemned murderer was.

King, who was twice condemned for the murder of a young Englishman named Edward Hayward, with whom he left British Columbia for the Peace River district, was hanged at the Northwest Mounted Police Barracks at Fort Saskatchewan. King killed his partner, and burned the remains in a campfire. So certain was he that the had covered the crime that he returned to civilization the same way he started to the lonely north. But the wilderness had a voice; the murder spoke (with miraculous tongue. The never-tired, never-resting justice department enlisted in its service the observant Indian, the trained riders of the plains and the powers of scientific investigation. The result was a case deadly against King.

The facts in connection with King's horrible deed as learned by your correspondent from Capt. Shaw were as follows:

Nearly two years ago Charles King arrived at Edmonton. He was accompanied by an English mining prospector named Edward Hayward. They said they were going into the unexplored north to seek for the mineral wealth hidden there, of which so many fabulous tales have been brought down to civilization during the last few years. In Edmonton they bought an outfit and left for the north, camping on the shores of the Lesser Slave Lake. That was the last seen of Hayward alive.

The Indians' Assistance.

Indian cunning was the result of King's undoing. An Indian named Sikachese noticed tracks that looked strange to him and he decided to look into the matter. He followed them to the lake and then went to Sergt. Anderson, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, and brought the matter to his notice. Kisanis, another Indian, also noticed the tracks and followed them to the men's camp. Here he saw two men. Several other Indians also saw the men in camp. The Indians watched them, and on September 18, 1903, the third night of their stay, they heard a shot in the direction of the camp. Eager to know the meaning of it, Kisanis went to the camp in the morning, but could only see the tracks of one man leaving the camp, while the other man was no where to be seen. This was at once communicated to the rest of the tribe, and King was captured by Sergt. Anderson. King's explanation was that Hayward had taken the Sturgeon Lake trail, while he had come on to the lake. The Indians at once began to look for the tracks of the other man, but could find none. Then they turned their attention to the campfire, while Sergt. Anderson took charge of the prisoner. At the camp they came across an Indian boy named Moostoos, who while hunting muskrats had noticed the smoke of an unusually large campfire. He afterwards saw King pass his grandfather's teepee, and connected the two circumstances. Then, full of curiosity, he went to find the cause of such a fire, well knowing that it could not be for heat alone at that time of the year. The ashes were still glowing and on the surface appeared to be the remains of some garment. He then found a charred button which fell to pieces in his hands. He told his grandfather and other Indians of his find. Then the investigation began in earnest. They found a track, which was identified as King's, leading to a slough, which they searched, feeling with their bare feet, for what intuition told them must be there, while others raked among the still smouldering ashes. They were successful in both cases. In the fire were found pieces of bone and flesh, a gold-filled tooth, a piece of needle and some shot. In the slough, which the Indians drained by order of the mounted police, were found two pairs of boots and the sole of another. In one of the boots was a bundle containing a number of articles, afterward recognised by many witnesses as having belonged to the missing man, and, amongst other things, a broken needle which exactly fitted the pieces found in the fire. A tin kettle was also discovered in the slough, which King claimed, saying he had used it to water his horses. Some little distance from the fire was found some straw covered with blood and what the Indians claimed to be brains. On the strength of this evidence, King was taken down to Edmonton, the nearest town, to stand his trial. In addition to King and the mounted police, some sixty Indians made this long journey of over three hundred miles to give their evidence at the trial.

Work of the Police.

This was the foundation on which the police had to work. They sent to North Mundham, Eng., for Henry Hayward, a brother of the deceased. He identified a number of the articles found in the fire, proving beyond doubt that it was his brother who had been murdered. Several men were then found who had seen the two leave for the north together, and portions of the outfit were recognized as having been purchased from Edmonton storekeepers. So thoroughly did the mounted police work out the case that the defence was based entirely upon technicalities. The trial began in March and lasted many days owing to the great number of witnesses examined, many of whom had been brought hundreds of miles to give their evidence. The accused at first refused to give his name, but afterward said he came from Salt Lake City, and that his name was Charles King. Finally he was sentenced to hang on May 10, but owing to a technicality the Minister of Justice ordered a new trial.

The second trial was another tedious affair, the hundred or more witnesses being all examined again, but on June 28 King was again found guilty and sentenced to be hanged at the Royal Northwest Mounted Police Barracks here on August 31. Owing to the inaugural ceremonies, however, the date was again postponed to September 20.

A Strange Dream.

A remarkable feature of the case is the story told by Henry Hayward, which appeared in despatches from England shortly after the crime. On the morning of September 19 (the day following the crime) Henry Hayward told his sister that during the night he had been visited by a horrible dream. In his vision he had seen his brother Edward shot and the remains burned in a fire. Every detail was perfect. The location was shown, and the features of the man who did the shooting were clearly shown. In confirmation of this it may be said that Henry Hayward had told this story many times before he received word from the mounted police that they believed his brother had been killed.

Married Near Here Fifty Years Ago.

Among the older residents of this city, a few will remember Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wilkes, now of Winnipeg, but formerly residents of this county. The Winnipeg Free Press, of Thursday last, had a passing reference to the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. The article referred to follows:

Fifty years ago yesterday was the wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wilkes, two well known residents of this city. The couple who are to-day, hale and hearty, with apparently a long lease of life yet to run, are having no special celebration of their golden wedding, owing to the fact that they have no near relatives residing in the city. They were, however, the recipients of numerous telegrams of congratulation from far and near.

In speaking of the wedding of 50 years ago, Mrs. Wilkes remarked that it was exactly such another day as this. They were married near Peterborough, Ont., by Rev. Dr. Wilson, a brother of Mrs. Wilkes, who, on the day that he performed the ceremony was exactly fifty years of age.

The Honeymoon.

From the home in which they were married, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes took a honeymoon trip east to Montreal. In those days there were no railways so the journey was made by boat and took two days. On the evening of their arrival Montreal was illuminated in the general rejoicing at the fall of Sebastopol. Since that time Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes have seen many changes both in the east and west, and nowhere have changes been more marked than in the west. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes expect to see many more changes yet before their course of life is run.

An Interesting October Event

Miss Jennie Loucks Married to Mr. J. J. Carter, of Havelock.

A very interesting event took place at the home of Mrs. L. Loucks, third line, Thurlow, on Wednesday evening, when her second daughter, Jennie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Julian J. Carter, of Havelock, C. P. R. brakemen. Rev. L. P. Steele officiated.

The bride looked exceedingly pretty, dressed in pearl, grey crepe de chine, with chiffon ruching, and all-over lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Nellie Carter, of Hastings, sister of the groom, was prettily dressed in reseda green ladies' cloth, with all-over lace and ruching trimmings, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of roses. The flower girl, little Miss Blanche Vandervoort, of Colborne, a niece of the bride, was tastefully dressed in white silk, and carried a basket of flowers. The groom was supported by Mr. Harry Curtis, of Hastings. The ceremony was performed in the parlour, under an arch of evergreens and leaves.

Promptly at 7.30, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the parlour to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Lala Ross of Thurlow. After the bride and groom had received the congratulations of their friends, a sumptuous wedding dinner was served, which all partook of heartily.

The bride's going away dress was of gold and blue basket cloth, with hat to match. The presents were numerous and costly, showing the esteem in which the bride is held by her many friends.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold chain, and locket, set with rubies and pearls; to the bridesmaid, a locket; a gold chain bracelet to the little flower girl, and a set of cuff links to the groomsman.

The happy couple left on Thursday evening, amid showers of rice and good wishes, for their future home in Havelock, where they will residence in their new residence on King street.

Visitor At The Dominion Fair

Perhaps the only present resident of the city to attend the Dominion Fair, which this year is being held at New Westminster, B.C., and to help which a grant of $50,000 was made by the Dominion Government, is Mr. W. C. Ackerman, who is at present travelling in the West in the interest of the firm of which he is one of the members.

In a letter to this paper Mr. Ackerman states that the grant has made the fair "quite a success. The agricultural products are particularly good, but the fair lacks the people, something very necessary to make it a success, financially."

Before his return Mr. Ackerman will visit the Portland Fair.

Life Would Have More Happiness

If The Liver Were Kept Active By the Use Of

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Most people realize that, if they could only avoid the suffering of indigestion and keep the bowels regular and active life would have for them much more of comfort and happiness.

We believe that these results are best accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and let us tell you why.

It is the liver, which, by filtering bile from the blood and passing it into the intestines, ensures good digestion, and the natural, healthful action of the bowels. Keep the liver active, and you are sure of the proper working of the digestive and excretory systems.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and specific action on the liver. By invigorating this great filtering organ they guarantee the collection of bile from the blood, where it is poison, and the passing of it to the intestines, where it is necessary for digestion and a proper action of the bowels.

It is not as a mere relief from indigestion and constipation that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are recommended, but as a thorough and lasting cure. Put them to the test. The dose is one pill at bed time, as often as is necessary to keep the bowels regular.

Mr. J. Edwards, of Colborne, Ont., and who is employed by the Kennedy and Davis Milling Company, Madeay, Ont., states:—"I have been taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for some time, and can positively say that they are the best medicine I ever used. I was troubled very much with my kidneys and had dreadful pains in my back, which were increased by leaning over.

"I can testify to the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills because they have cured me, and shall gladly recommend them to anyone enquiring about them."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, on every box.

THE TURN OF LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for It. Two Relate their Experience.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Powless and Mrs. Mann:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"In my opinion there is no medicine made for women which can compare with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you have no firmer friend in the Dominion than I am. At the time of change of life I suffered until I was nearly crazy, and was not fit to live with. I was so irritable, irrational and nervous that I was a torment to myself and others. I surely thought that I would lose my reason before I got through, when fortunately an old friend recommended your Vegetable Compound. I took it for five months and then off and on until the critical period had passed, and it restored me to perfect health. My advice to suffering women is to try your Vegetable Compound, and they will not be disappointed."—Mrs. H. Powless, Desaunto, Ont.

Another Woman's Case.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"As I owe my splendid health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very pleased to write and tell you my experience with it. I am the mother of three children grown to womanhood, and have safely passed the change of life, and feel as young and as strong as I did twenty years ago, and I know that this is all due to your woman's friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used it before my children were born, and it greatly assisted nature and saved me much pain during the change of life. I took it off and on, for four years, and had but little trouble and sickness that most women have to endure."—Mrs. James K. Mann, 606 Bathurst Street, Toronto, Canada.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Powless and Mrs. Mann, it will do for any woman at this time of life.

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that baffled physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Anniversary Services Very Successful

Mark Street Yesterday Celebrated Appropriately.

Sermons Were Preached by Rev. Dr. Galbraith, of Toronto—Features of the Day.

Yesterday the anniversary services in connection with Mark street Methodist Church were held, under circumstances which were very favourable, and the result was a gratifying success from every standpoint. The attendance at both the morning and evening services was large, and both were much enjoyed, the sermons by Rev. Dr. Galbraith, of Toronto, who has been heard frequently in this city, and whose sermons are always appreciated, being appropriate to the festive occasion, and were forceful and to the point.

The Mark street church has adopted the modern method of raising money for the maintenance of its enterprises, and instead of holding the tea meeting, for the purpose of raising funds, a scheme, which was in earlier days, and is to-day, in some places, the usual method employed, this church believes in educating its people to give as a straight offering, and the results following the adoption of this system have demonstrated its advantages. Yesterday the adherents of the church were asked to place a goodly sum on the plates as a free will offering, and, that they are a people who recognize the claims which the church has on their purses was demonstrated at the close of the evening service, when it was found that the request of the Trustee Board, had been granted, and that the finances of the church were again placed on a satisfactory condition.

In keeping with the spirit of the day, that of thanksgiving, the church had been decorated appropriately, in view of the fact that it was the harvest time, the altar was a mass of flowers, interminglied with grain in the straw, and vegetables, while to each window arcade and chancel there was also a display of garden produce and fruit. The whole decorative scheme was admirably planned and carried out, and the ladies of the congregation, in whose charge the work was are to be warmly complimented, upon the taste which they displayed.

The beautiful weather both in the morning and evening, doubtless had its effect in swelling the attendance, for at both services the church was filled, and at the latter service difficulty was experienced in finding seating accommodation for those who crowded into the sacred edifice.

In his sermon at the morning service Rev. Dr. Galbraith gave expression to some pertinent opinions which he chose, in reference to the Christian church of to-day, among them being the statement that what the church needs to-day is not machinery or organization for it has plenty of both, but it needs a baptism of the Holy Ghost in order that it may be successful in its work. He repudiated the idea, expressed by some that the reason the church of to-day was not doing more effective work was because it had not ministers who were filled with the Holy Spirit, but rather attributed it to the fact that the church as a whole, ministers and people were not so filled.

The text, from which he preached his morning sermon was Acts 2; 1—4, "And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. And suddenly there came a sound from Heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost." The speaker referred to the three great feasts which the Jews celebrated, the Passover, the feast of Tabernacles and the day of Pentecost, which was the fiftieth day after the Passover. He spoke of the similarity of the spirit of the day of Pentecost, and the harvest home service, both were times when the goodness of God is brought home to us, the former awakening the spiritual blessings, and the latter, the material.

From the events of the day of Pentecost, recorded in the chapter from which the text is taken, and which the speaker briefly reviewed there were two lessons to be gained, the first being the fact that now, through Jesus Christ everyone has the privilege of receiving the Holy Ghost, and, in the second place, the results which follow its reception. He explained that the Holy Spirit, which he referred to was not that power which enabled the possessor to work miracles, for that power was given to old testament prophets, and later, in Christ's time, before His glorification, to His disciples, but that power which sanctifies its possessor.

The reverend gentleman spoke of the scene in the upper room in Jerusalem, at which the 120 disciples were gathered when this mysterious power which transformed their lives, was received by them, and said that the fact was afterwards learned by them that this power was not confined to the Jews, but, to the latters' surprise the Gentiles also received, and the people in "the uttermost parts of the earth."

The benefits which followed the reception of this spirit were then referred to by the speaker, who said that they were three-fold, first coming to the individual believer, then to the church in its collective capacity, and afterwards to the world at large. As evidence of the benefits which resulted to the individual, the case of Peter was cited, and his conduct before he received the spirit, when he denied his Lord, with that afterwards, when, on the day of Pentecost he preached the remarkable sermon, as a result of which three thousand converts were added to the church, was compared.

The benefits to the church in its collective capacity were then referred to by the speaker, who contrasted the present position of the church with what it might be if this spirt were received by it. The possession of the powers referred to was the greatest want of the church to-day, declared the speaker. He asserted that there was machinery enough and organizations without number, but where, he ask, was the power to set them in motion, to come from? Nothing could, he believed, serve as a substitute for the Holy Ghost.

Concluding he dealt with the benefits resulting to the world at large, and said that the reason there were such a large number of conversions in the early days of the church, at Pentecost, was because the people were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and the preachers alone, and to-day, he declared, in order to reap the benefits, the church as a whole must be filled with this spirit.

The music, which was of an appropriate character, was in charge of Mr. John Miller, and was much enjoyed by the large congregations.

NO SUBSTITUTE

has yet been found for cod liver oil. There are so-called extracts, wines and cordials of cod liver oil that are said to contain the active principles but not the oil itself. This is absurd on its face. You might as well extract the active principles of wheat and make bread with them. The best form of cod liver oil, that can be digested and assimilated most easily, is Scott's Emulsion.

The Lindsay Business Man's Cheese Episode

Claims That Limberger Was Rubbed Into His Hair.

An Interesting Experience Which He Met With the Other Night.

The merchants of Lindsay must be of a different stamp to those in this city, as evidence the following article from the Post:—

Cheese sold for 113-4c at Peterborough the other day, but this was not the brand of sweet smelling Limburger, which is given away in Lindsay without the asking. The other night a sample was distributed as a hair tonic to one of our Kent street merchants, it happened this way:

Saturday night this merchant left his store at an uncertain hour, and proceeded in the direction of his home, but meeting a couple of acquaintances he entered into a discussion with them. Just then a couple of young men came along, one of whom took hold of the merchant's arm for the purpose of showing him the way home. Now comes the conflicting and contradictory evidence, which is too lengthy to give in detail. In police court this morning the merchant said that when he and his helper were near an alleyway three or four men who were following him tried to push him down into the dark lane, but he got away. Some minutes later he was again tripped up, this time falling off the sidewalk, and there, he claimed, he was administered a big dose of Limburger cheese, which was applied on his face and scalp and well rubbed in. He was a bit under the weather at the time, but his olfactory organ was in good working order, and the sensation was vile. The smell, exceeded the best efforts of a dozen angry pole cats.

The accused told a different yarn. He had helped the merchant part of the way home and knew nothing about the Limburger until he smelled it.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks, of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.

Rev. Dr. Torrance Spoke at Y.W.C.A.

Sunday At the Gospel meeting at the Y.M.C.A. Dr. Torrance spoke from Prov. 31, on "Women at Home and in the Church."

A book written on women of the Bible would be very helpful. The Gospel has taught us to look upon a true woman with reverence. She is regarded very differently in heathen lands. The home is the women's sphere. There she influences to the best advantage the community at large. Women should be possessed of unflagging industry and liberality. Wesley's maxim applies well to women. "Make all, save all, give all." Women stood by Christ throughout all His life, ministering to Him. It is woman's privilege to minister in the church.

Next Sunday Mrs. H. P. Kennedy will speak.

Fifth Annual Meeting Will Be Held Here

"Christians" of Peterborough District to Gather This Month.

Three Days' Meetings to be Held in the Gospel Hall—The Programme.

The fifth annual meeting of the "Christians" of the Peterborough District, which extends from Belleville to Orillia, will be held in this city, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 27th, 28th and 29th, in the Gospel Hall, George street, Peterborough, and it is expected that the fifth annual meeting of the members of this religious body will be the most successful in its history. Between 150 and 200 delegates will, it is expected, be present, and participate in the meetings, which will be of a purely religious character.

The order of meetings is given in the printed invitations, which are being sent to the brethren in outside places, and is as follows:

Friday and Saturday, meetings for Prayer, Praise and Ministry of the Word of God, at 10.30 a.m. and 2.30 p.m. and Preaching of the Gospel at 7.30 p.m.

Sunday.—"Breaking of Bread," (Acts 20, 7), at 10.30 a.m., addresses to Christians at 2.30 p.m.; and Preaching of the Gospel, at 7 p.m.

There will be a prayer meeting on Thursday, October 26th, at 7.30 p.m.

It is hoped that Mr. W. H. Hamber, of New Bedford, Mass., who has previously conducted meetings in the city, will be present, and take part in this annual convention.

That the members of this body are somewhat pessimistic in their views of the present spiritual condition of the world, is evidenced by the message in the invitation, which says, in part:—

"Amid the increasing darkness and abounding lawlessness of these dark and perilous times, we esteem it a privilege to again invite you to spend three days with us at "The Throne of Grace," and over the Word of God. We trust that you will arrange to come; meanwhile brethren pray for us."

Arrangements are being made for the free accommodation of all who come to the city to attend these meetings, and, since the Thanksgiving Day rates will then be in effect, it is expected that the attendance will be large.

The committee of arrangements is composed of Messrs. John Williams, H. A. Fife and T. C. Yonge.

A Jibe at Peterborough.

—The Lindsay Watchman-Warder, perpetrates the following joke:—A Peterborough citizen, who saw the sea for the first time this summer, was much impressed with the effect of the blue water, and asked a fisherman if he would sell a gallon for 50 cents. "Sure!" said the fisherman, and he disappeared, returning in a few moments with a jar of water. The man departed with his purchase. Returning later in the day, after the tide had gone out, he gazed in sobest wonder at the water which had receded far beyond the beach. "Lummee!" he exclaimed, don't they do a trade!" The Warder's joke is as much behind the times as its habitat.

VALUE OF "OZONE"

The value of Ozone (it is really liquid oxygen) is well known to medical science. It kills the germs of internal disorders. If taken in concentrated form (and that means "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind" it insures a speedy cure for asthma, bronchitis, Bright's disease, kidney trouble, malaria and rheumatism. This stringent remedy needs with it a tonic laxative to secure the best results. SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

LITTLE EXCUSE NEEDED.

It doesn't take much to set the Toronto News off on a race and creed cry. Mr. Whitney, and Dr. Reame, French-Canadian representative, in the Whitney Cabinet, are to be banquetted in the city of Montreal. Instead of seeing in this a tendency to inter-provincial rapprochement, the News sees only calamity, as it explains, in the following paragraph:

"For years in every Cabinet that has been formed in this province, we have been obliged to recognise the Roman Catholic element, and now it seems that for the future we must also give ministerial office to a representative of the French-Canadians. The whole tendency is petty and vicious to the last degree. In the organizations of Governments neither race nor creed should be considered, and it as mischievous to select a man for Cabinet rank because he is a French-Canadian or a Roman Catholic as it would be to reject his claims for such reasons. Although Mr. Foy is a Roman Catholic no one questions his right to a seat in the Government, and if Dr. Reaume continues to discharge efficiently his duties as Minister of Public Works, it will not be necessary to advertise his race in order to establish his right to the place which he holds."

THIS YEAR'S ASSESSMENT.

This year's assessment has been completed—all but the Court of Revision aftermath—and the assessors made their returns this morning. The round result of the application of the new assessment is a very substantial increase in the total assessment. In 1904 the total assessment was $5,884,739, this year it reaches the considerable figures of $6,815,976, or an increase of nearly a million — $931,237. As to the business assessment there are no former records with which to make comparison. The business assessment this year is $632,372, a sum representing if it does not compose a large part of the total increase of assessment. The increase in the income assessment is $17,676, the figures being, $91,960 for 1904 and for the present year, $109,636. The reported increase of population is only 216—14,176, in 1904 and 14,391 in 1905. This seems to be a very small increase. The figures may be right but they may fall short of completeness especially in view of other anomalies revealed by the latest assessment returns. For instance the number of persons between five and twenty-one years of age was returned last year as 3,296, this year the total under this head has dwindled to 2,237, or 1,059 fewer. In 1904 the number of ratepayers was returned as 4,052—this year the number is given as 4,502, or 150 fewer. In 1905 the assessors unearthed 621 dogs, etc. This year there seems to have been serious canine mortality or exodus, or dog owners have become expert in the art of concealment. Last year the assessment rolls showed 621 dogs; this year the figures are only 370—a decrease of 251. In connection with this is the fact that this year 352 dogs were decorated with the license to live, so that if the assessment figures are correct there have disappeared from the view of the assessors 402 dogs.

All these details, are, however, of trifling moment compared with the all important question — What will be the relation of the increased assessment to the rate of taxation? With nearly a million dollars increase in the assessment, will there be a proportionate reduction of the taxation rate? Last year, a rate of 18 1-2 mills on the dollar yielded a revenue of $114,611.27. Now, the question is, shall we have to raise more money for general city purposes next year? If we only require to raise $114,611.27 next year, the rate (with the increased assessment) can be reduced to 16 mills on the dollar; and unless the increased levy of taxes is very large, the rate can easily be placed anywhere between 16 and 18 1-2 mills on the dollar. The increased assessment is of itself no matter of complaint, but, perhaps, rather, of congratulation, if, as is claimed, the burden of assessment is more evenly distributed. But the tax rate is the thing that counts. All depends upon what use the city fathers make of the increased assessment, and what adjustment of the rate is made in relation to it.

DUMMER PEOPLE TO VOTE LOCAL OPTION

Township Council Decides to Submit the Question to the Electors--Vote to be Taken Probably at the Next Municipal Election--Only Two Hotels in the Township --One at Warsaw and One at McCracken's--Warsaw Ministers at Head of the Temperance Movement.

The probabilities are that at the municipal elections in Dummer, next January, the electors of that township will vote on the local option question.

At the council meeting held on Saturday last, at Warsaw, a request was made to the council, by a body of electors, headed by the ministers of Warsaw, who for some time have been working for the interests of local option, to take the necessary steps to have the matter submitted to the people at the time of the next elections, and the council accordingly passed a resolution to that effect.

It will be remembered that about six years ago, the people voted on local option in that township, and it was carried by a small majority, but was not made effective because of some technicality. Since that time, until comparatively recently, the matter has not been creating any great interest, no complaints, or at any rate, very few, being made against the conduct of the hotels in the township, but during the last few months the interest has been revived, and the result was the request to the council on Saturday.

There are but two hotels in Dummer, that at Warsaw, and the Victoria House, at McCracken's Landing, both conducted by Mr. Fred Morgan of Warsaw.

The general feeling in the township, as far as can be learned, is that the measure for the abolition of the bars will be carried, though it is stated, no fault is found with the way in which the two hotels are kept. There is practically but one hotel, since that at McCracken's Landing is open only during the summer months.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Chinese, it appears, put snakes into their wine—a more direct way than that employed in the crude west, where snakes are developed gradually.

The political campaign is on in earnest in the new provinces. The resourceful Conservative Eastern firebrand journals have introduced 'Disgusted Liberal," and the "Old Liberal," into the contest. Thus we may consider the field fairly off and the race on.

The pace still holds in Ontario's march of progress. Last week no fewer than twenty-one companies were incorporated under provincial laws. While several of these owe their existence to the Cobalt mining boom, the majority of the companies have to do with commercial and industrial development operations.

While the breezy West, especially in the neighbourhood of Winnipeg, is supposed to be capable of giving enterprise pointers to us slow easterners, yet the Eaton Company has dropped into Winnipeg like a bomb, and eastern enterprise has, to use an occidental colloquialism, made the Winnipeggers "sit up." Since the Eaton Company's new departmental shop was opened in Winnipeg, prices have fallen, there is more advertising done, and a general fillip given to local enterprise.

THE SOVEREIGN FIRE.

A Strong Financial Institution of Our Dominion.

"Fifty million dollars of Canadian fire assurance is now carried by the American companies not licensed to do business in Canada."

This astonishing statement published in the Toronto Telegram on Feb. 18 last was one of the causes which led to the formation of the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada, the incorporation of which with a capital stock of two million dollars was announced to-day. The Telegram drew attention to a condition of affairs which insurance and business men had been considering for some time, viz., that many of the home fire companies are unable to accept all the risks offered, and to protect themselves are compelled to reinsure in foreign companies not authorized to transact business in Canada. To prevent in some measure this unnecessary drain upon the country is one of the objects of the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada, although its incorporators do not profess any other motive than that of earning substantial dividends, in which local business men are inclined to agree they will be successful.

Few financial concerns have begun their career under auspices so favourable as those that will surround the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada. It will have practically an unlimited field, and will have the enormous advantage of a large capital stock, fully paid up, and a body of directors who will be representative of business and financial interests throughout the entire country. Mr. Addison H. Hoover, director of the Sovereign Life Assurance Company, and to whom a great amount of the tremendous success of that organization is attributed, has been secured by the provisional directors of the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada, and will devote considerable attention, it is said, to the preliminary organization of the new corporation. The attention of our readers is called to the company's prospectus published upon another page of this paper."

Were Wedded In Cobourg

Miss Muriel Dumble Becomes Bride of Dr. T. F. Archibald.

On Tuesday, October 3, a pretty wedding took place in St. Peter's church, Cobourg, when Miss Muriel Dumble was united in marriage to Dr. T. D. Archibald, of Toronto. The ceremony was conformed by Rev. Canon Scragge, and the church was very prettily decorated with ferns and flowers. The bride looked charming in a gown of white panne crepe trimmed with Limerick lace, lent by the bridegroom's mother. The bridesmaid, Miss Tait, Toronto, was becomingly gowned in white pompadour silk with black hat. Miss Dumble performed the part of maid of honour. Mr. Allan A. Magee, Montreal, supported the groom. The bride was given away by Mr. Cagreol, of Toronto. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding repast was served at the home of the bride, George street. The numerous presents were handsome and valuable. Some of the relatives from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Archibald, Halifax; Mr. D. W. Dumble, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Cagreol, Toronto, and Mr. Gibbons, London, Ont.

Grand Jury Empanelled--Charge by Hon. Mr. Justice Street--Non-Jury Case of Turner vs. Hamblink Proceeded With--Finding of Grand Jury in Gow and McAuliffe Cases Will Probably be Reached To-day.

The Fall Assizes opened at one o'clock this afternoon at the Court House, Hon. Mr. Justice Street, presiding. The Court room was well filled and much interest was manifested in the opening proceedings.

The bar was represented as follows:—Edward Meredith, K.C., London; Crown Prosecutor, County Crown Attorney Wood; W. H. Proudfoot, Toronto; C. S. McInnis, R. M. Dennistoun, R. F. McWilliams, E. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, George Edmison, G. H. Watson, K.C., Toronto; John Green and E. B. Edwards.

The Grand Jury was empanelled as follows:—

Alfred MacDonald, lumberman, Peterborough, Foreman.
Thomas Barrie, merchant, Peterborough.
A. L. Davis, agent, Peterborough.
Wm. Faint, manufacturer, Peterborough.
Richard Killen, farmer, Ennismore.
Ernest Mason, merchant, Peterborough.
Sandy Matchett, farmer, Otonabee.
John McConkey, farmer, Smith.
Wm. Robb, farmer, Dummer.
Dennis Shaughnessy, farmer, Otonabee.
James Stothart, farmer, Smith.
Wm. Tucker, farmer, Anstruther.
John Watt, candy maker, Peterborough.
Geo. E. Elliott, Peterborough.

His Lordship's Charge.

Hon. Mr. Justice Street in his address to the Jury, explained the nature of the cases upon the Criminal Docket, these being two in number, one upon a charge of murder and the other of manslaughter. His Lordship in his reference to the first mentioned charge explained that cases of homicide were of two classes, first by design and second by criminal carelessness, without the direct intention of causing injury. The case had arisen from a wrangle in a barroom, and death had not ensued for some time. This does not affect the legal result, which is the same if death follows within one year and one day, as when it follows instantaneously. It would be necessary to determine: First, whether the blow was struck by the prisoner; secondly, what was the effect upon the person struck, and thirdly, whether death was a result of the blow.

The effect legally is the same, whether it merely hastened the death of the deceased, if he were otherwise in physical decline. The speaker also pointed out to the jury the nature of justifiable homicide.

In the other case the Crown does not charge the prisoner with an intention to kill. The charge was that a young man had fired a rifle, the result being the death of a boy. This was what is known as criminal carelessness, which is manslaughter. His Lordship took occasion to point out several examples of manslaughter arising from criminal carelessness.

The jury retired at 2 o'clock to consider and arrive at a conclusion upon the criminal cases.

The non-jury case of Turner vs. Hamdink was then proceeded with. This is an action for damages of $500, and costs of the action, brought by the plaintiff, Jane Ann Hare Turner, against D. F. Hamblink. Plaintiff alleges that she, on Nov. 15th, 1899, leased to defendant a building and premises in Port Hope for a term of five years, the latter covenanting to keep the premises in good repair, and that he failed to do so, his failure to carry out the conditions, necessitating the expenditure of a large sum of money to repair the property, which is much depreciated in value by breach of covenant. The defendant alleges that the premises are in as good a state of repair as when rented, and offers to restore to their original condition a number of articles which were moved in order that the building might be utilised for evaporating purposes, the cost of this he claims being less than $40.00. Part of the property was dilapidated and fell down without his interference. Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Stevenson, Plaintiff's solicitors; Proudfoot, Hays & Blair, Solicitors for defendant.

Good Prospect For Peterboro' Shovels

Mr. R. H. Fortye, General Manager Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, has returned from Montreal and Quebec, where he has been introducing Peterborough shovels. Harold Barber Dies In St. John's

Mr. Rollis Denne received a telegram to-day from St. John's N.B., containing the sad intelligence of the death this morning of Harold, the young son of Mr. J. H. Barber, formerly of Peterborough. Mr. Barber's many Peterborough friends will be much pained to hear of his grievous trouble. The remains will be brought to Peterborough on Wednesday for interment.

Anniversary At Bethel Church

Anniversary services were held in Bethel Methodist Church yesterday and large congregations attended both morning and evening services. Rev. Mr. Fusee, of Campbellford, was the preacher for the day and the congregations had the opportunity of listening to two very instructive sermons. Music was supplied by a choir from Peterborough. In addition to the anthems duets were contributed by Misses Parnell and Gray and Miss Parnell and Mr. Thornton, while a mixed quartette consisting of Misses Parnell and Gray and Messrs. Thornton and Dodge, gave two numbers in an excellent manner. Master Herbert Mowat was heard in a vocal solo at both services and as usual proved to be a favorite. Mrs. Mowat very efficiently performed the duties of organist.

Fall of Scaffold The Cause of a Double Accident

Alderman Johnston and Robt. Ritchie Are Badly Shaken Up.

An Insecurely Constructed Scaffolding Charged With the Mishap.

An insecurely fastened scaffold was the cause of a serious double accident this morning. While working on the construction of Mr. Fred Bolan's new house, 358 George street, the scaffold that supported Ald. W. J. Johnston and Robt. Ritchie, broke down, with the result that both the workmen fell from the ground 20 feet below. Medical aid was at once summoned and the injuries of both men attended to.

Ald. Johnston escaped with a broken thumb and a badly bruised arm, besides a rather severe shock. Mr. Ritchie, however, was unfortunate enough to light upon a pile of bricks, and while he did no limbs broken, severe internal injuries are feared.

Ald. Johnston was able to return to his residence, but Mr. Ritchie was conveyed to the Nicholls Hospital in the ambulance. From latest inquiries it is learned that in the case of Ald. Johnston no serious consequences are likely to follow, but it is impossible to yet ascertain the extent of Mr. Ritchie's injuries.

The neighbours in the vicinity of the accident very thoughtfully rendered all the aid possible and both the injured men are very grateful for their painstaking efforts on their behalf.

Adequate Docks Are Needed At Peterborough

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Peterborough, Oct. 9, 1905.

Dear Sir,—I do not see that any of the Peterborough papers or the Mayor or Town Council have given, or are giving, any consideration to the matter of the erection of suitable docks along the river front in the city of Peterborough. Where is all the material going to be cut? There are thousands of cords of wood coming down from the north, and the more handling that has to be done, the more expensive to the citizens of Peterborough.

There is any quantity of material coming up the river and down the lakes that requires a large dock. I am told that this year there were between eight and nine hundred leakages through the lift lock, which gives some idea of the usefulness of the dock to Peterborough at least.

I think it is time the Town Council grasped the situation fully and commenced to provide suitable docks.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

Local Y. M. C. A. Night Classes

Few of the cities having Y.M.C.A.s can offer such a complete programme of night studies for men as the local Y.M.C.A. The schedule includes ten subjects, all in charge of competent instructors.

The school opens this week and it is desirable to the work as well as advantageous to the students that every one who intends taking a course, be in at the start.

The following are the courses:—Mechanical Drawing, Algebra, Electricity, Shop Arithmetic, Steam Engineering, First Aid, Employed Boys Courses, including writing, arithmetic, spelling and reading, The Debating Club, Show Card Lettering and Designing and Telegraphy.

The two latter courses have been added since the folder has been issued.

The class in show card design and lettering will be taught by Mr. Neddo, with Messrs. Richard Hall & Son. Mr. Neddo is an expert with large experience.

The class in telegraphy has been added by request and two stations will be established in the building with full sets of instruments for use of the class. An experienced telegrapher will have charge.

The cost of all these courses is small so that no young man need miss the benefit of them.

Fred Lynch a Member of the Champion Team

Former Peterboro' Lacrosse Player Helps His Team to Win.

New Westminster Defeated Vancouver and Won the Championship.

Mr. W. C. Ackerman, of the firm of B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company, writes to the Examiner from Vancouver, B.C., and sends of copy of the Vancouver World, in which the lacrosse game between Vancouver and New Westminster to decide the championship is reported. Mr. Ackerman saw the game, which was won by New Westminster by a score of 4-1. The fact will have special interest to many in the city, since Fred. Lynch, a former Peterborough boy, is a member of the winning team and secured the first goal in this game. An extract from the World's report of the game follows:

Fair Grounds, New Westminster, Sept. 30.—(From the World's Staff Correspondent)— At least twenty thousand people witnessed New Westminster win the lacrosse match between Vancouver and New Westminster at the Dominion fair this afternoon by a score of four to one. Long before the races that preceded the match were finished, the people were pouring through the gates of the park in solid streams as the relays of cars from Vancouver and the trains from outside points discharged them. The grand stand was packed at an early hour, the bleachers were crammed when there were still two heats in the trotting race to run besides the consolation race, and before the match started thousands dined the dance three and four deep, while every point that commanded a view of the lacrosse field over the heads of those in front was fully occupied.

Bright sunshine, a blue sky, a fresh breeze, the bright green of the rain-freshened grass, and the feeling of life, pleasure and gayety with which the pleasure-seeking multitude filled the air, rendered the scene one to be long remembered by those who came under its influence at the moment approached for the two rival teams in ancient opposition to make their appearance.

Sharp at 2.30 the teams came out to the ground, Vancouver leading by the south gate and New Westminster coming in shortly after amid loud applause from 15,000 expectant witnesses. Before starting the game both teams were lined up before a camera and their photos put on imperishable plates, for the future reference of those who in years to come will learn to look back on what their memory will say was one of the greatest games in the history of Canadian lacrosse.

At 3.35 the ball was faced off, and quickly dropped into Vancouver hands, going with a quick rush up to the Westminster goal, where the "old guard" defence broke the combination and passed it out again; but a moment later it was returned and the red shirt goal was threatened for a second time within two minutes. Quickly passing down the field it threatened Vancouver for a moment, then up and down once more, this time Peele getting a shot on the Vancouver goal, which Godfrey stopped. For three or four minutes it was violent play by both sides, no advantage resting anywhere, and several misses being made on account of the slippery nature of the ground.

Then Gray got a shot which Gibbons stopped, but on the return it landed in Lynch's stick, who scored the first for Westminster on a short quick shot; time, six minutes.

After the draw a fast combination brought the ball to Dick Dougan, who made the first good shot for Vancouver, striking the goal post. It passed up the field again in Westminster hands and Gray shot. Alex. Turnbull made a grandstand play, rushing into the goal to block Gibbons, but the little fellow inside and Alex. landed in the net like a genuine mookers.

Rugby Club Had A Good Practice

The attendance at the practice of the Rugby Club Saturday afternoon was certainly very gratifying to the supporters of the local team. The interest displayed is an assurance that the boys will do their best to carry off the pennant this year. The weather was ideal for good work and the kickers had a splendid workout. Considering the earliness of the season the form displayed was excellent. After the grounds had been measured and the goal posts erected, sides were chosen and the players indulged in a hard practice. Conspicuous amongst those who turned out were:—Crough, Quinlan, Fitzpatrick, Bradburn, McFadden, Carson, Callaghan, Gilbert, Graham, Crowley, Walker, McDonald, Bonner, Tandy, Dilks, Synder, Caniff, Gillespie, Walkey, Collins, How, Mulhern, Regan, Whitcroft and Sisson.

PICKINGS.

In spite of the fact that the season has just begun, several of the fellows have already swelled heads. Some resounding cracks were heard on the bleachers yesterday.

• • • •

The back division should be strong, with such men as Crowley, Shaw, Walkey, Ford, Graham, and Mulhern to choose from.

• • • •

A practice is called for to-night at eight o'clock. Let everybody turn out and get in shape for Saturday's game.

Long hair will soon be the prevalent fashion in orthedox sporting circles.

A Close Game On Saturday

Peterborough's new rugby team, the Crescents, gave the Charlotte Street Guild team the stiffest kind of an argument on Saturday afternoon, and though defeated by 5-4, made things decidedly interesting throughout.

Like most untried teams the Crescents were weak in passing, but kicked and tackled splendidly. Charlotte Street, with Moore, Roddy, Webb, Toban, and Henderson, presented a pretty heavy line and used their weight effectively at all times. Ira Moore tore off some sensational runs and was responsible for all the Guild scoring. Roddy also figured prominently in good dodging sprints, and was closely watched.

For the Crescents Stortz, McKnight and Ray shone. The wings also worked well, checking hard and following up fast.

The teams lined-up as follows:—

Crescents.—Back, Ray; halves, McKnight, Main, Stortz; snap, Wood; wings, Cummings, Elliott, Dawe, Hilliard, Stone.

Charlotte Street. — Back, McGill; halves, Derocher, Roddy, Moore; quarter, O'Brien; snap, J. Henderson; wings, Williams, Webb, White, Taylor, and Patterson.

Referee—Thornton.

The Crescents have arranged a game with T. C. S. Port Hope, for Thanksgiving Day and from present indications the boys should make a fine showing.

Sunlight Soap does not harden or shrink woollens

It is injurious chemicals and adulterations in common soaps that destroy your clothes. It is adulterations that harden your woollens and the excess alkali that destroys and shrinks them.

The Lindsay Market Is Rapidly Declining

Lindsay is situated in the very centre and heart of a rich farming country, which is noted for its fine productions in every line of agriculture, says the Post. This being the case, should not Lindsay, the county town, be the hub for a big market, where seller and purchaser could arrive at a bargain, and both be satisfied?

There is no reason why this should not be, yet where has the former Wednesday market disappeared to? It has been gradually fading into insignificance, and is now out of existence. The Saturday market is not much better, although it will likely improve during the winter. There is no competition among the sellers, who ask what they please, and sell the surplus to the grocery stores for less. Many of our citizens have found this to be so, and have patronized the store instead of the market.

Something should be done to better our market. There is no reason why Lindsay should not have two good market days, as Wednesday and Saturday.

Junior Cresents Defeat Lakefield

The Crescents journeyed to Lakefield on Saturday and defeated the Lakefield Preparatory School by the score of 16-7. For the Crescents Fontye at quarter-back played a sensational game while Mills, who, played full-back did well also. The wings played a steady game all through. The score at half time was 11-0 in favour of the Crescents, while one minute before time was scored the Crescents made another touch down, A. Hall doing the trick. The teams were as follows:—

Crescents.		L. P. School
	Full backs.
Mills.		Gordon
	Half backs.
Hatton		Aylsworth
Layfield		A. Patterson
Lewis		G. Patterson
	Quarter backs.
Fontye		P. Nellis
	Snap backs.
A. Hall		Moore
	Wings.

Mr. MacKenzie, as referee, handled the game very satisfactorily.

RUGBY.

The Victoria Seconds, who are picked by a great many as winners of the Junior O.R.F.U., will play the locals at the Riverside Park next Saturday afternoon. A large crowd of supporters should turn out and root for the homesters. It must be remembered that while a small gathering can raise quite a disturbance, financial enthusiasm is what is gratifying to the treasury department.

Brantford Wants To Play Prof.

After all the talk about a professional hockey team and all the anticipation of a big paid league in Western Ontario this winter, it seems that Brantford will be represented by nothing better than a junior O. H. A. team. It was not from lack of energy in Brantford that there was no professional league started. There were men in this city who were willing to put time and money into it, feeling reasonably certain that seven or eight hockey players could not run away with as much money as a dozen or so lacrosse artists. But the other places would not come to the line. They pointed with distrust towards the showing made by the Brantford lacrosse team of last year. They saw big $2,000 deficits swelling up before them. They would not venture where the water looked cold. Some of them thought their places of abode would not stand for professional sport, while again others held the opinion that Brantford already had all the good players gathered in. And so the scheme fell through. It is not right to knock other places for not jumping right in. They probably know their own supporters best and are perfectly entitled to their own opinion. Then again there are certain things that can be said against professionalism. But at that it seemed the only way in which the big new rink could be the scene of a big struggle.—Brantford Expositor.

BASEBALL.

This week the Cobourg Baseball Club received through Mr. T. J. York, the handsome pennant presented by Spalding Bros., for the championship of the Midland League. It is a huge white pennant, about 21 feet in length, with the words "Champions 1905" in large in large red letters. It will be used at the ball park next summer.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair, denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

Anniversary Of Gilmour Memorial

Special Sermons Preached Yesterday by Rev. James Desson.

Appropriate Floral Decorations and Special Music—Large Attendance.

The anniversary services held yesterday at the Gilmour Memorial Church, on the Chemong Road, were attended by large congregations, both in the morning and in the evening. The services were brightened by the addition of special music of a most charming character, a male quartette, which will sing at the 'tea to be given this evening, rendering, with splendid effect, a selection at each service.

The church was adorned beautifully for the occasion with floral decorations, which added greatly to it's attractiveness.

Special sermons were preached by Rev. James Desson, of Norwood, who exchanged services with the pastor, Rev. L. McKinnon. Mr. Desson at the evening service preached a forceful and convincing sermon from the text, St. John xvii; 16:—"As Thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world."

The subject of the sermon was the Church's Mission. For what purpose does it exist? asked the preacher, in his opening remarks. Did God call mankind out of spiritual darkness merely that he might be saved? The great purpose in view was that the church might create of mankind a great combined host, working for the salvation of the whole world. As Christ came to the world to save sinners, so he sent the church. This was the great commission given to men and women, and fully consecrated to the same great purpose as was our Lord Jesus Christ. Christianity is not a life of selfishness but a one of self-denial.

We sometimes get a wrong idea of the work which God has called us to do. Merely to go reverently to the House of God on Sunday, with our Bible under our arm is not sufficient, we must lend our endeavours toward the salvation of others. The church of the living God was intended as a strong army sent to bring the whole world into subjection to the great truths taught by our Saviour. We are called upon to be agents or representatives of our Lord in the world; and if we are to be His agents, three things are necessary:

1. Preparation.
2. Consecration.
3. Expectation.

It is not those who merely believe that God has use them, who accomplish much in His service, but those who believe that He will use them. If we are going to be useful to God we must be prepared. How are our hearts to be prepared? Only by a deep repentance that lays hold upon the very depths of our being. After this must come confession of our wrong doing in the past.

Every Christian must receive the blessing of God if he will be a blessing to others. Jacob did not receive the blessing of God while he was wrestling with his self-life, but when he grew helpless, undone and weak, and clung to the Angel crying "I will not let thee go unless you bless me." We require a more spiritual life—one which will stand the test of the world. The coming of the great blessing into the lives of some people will cause a great, consuming desire for the salvation of their fellow-men. Do we wonder that the spirit which filled the heart of Paul resulted in the saving of thousands. We need a zeal and enthusiasm which is infectious to bring about that which is deserved. Enthusiasm will lead people to go out of their way and to press forward over all obstacles.

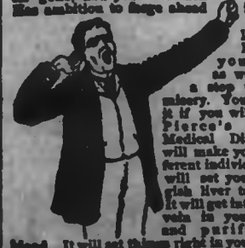
The statement advanced by many, who say, "We do not want any such excitement," was treated upon by the preacher. If we see a human being saved from a burning building by the heroic action of a fireman we may ask, "Was there excitement there?" We grow excited over the saving of a single mortal soul, yet as it is written "there is joy among the angels at the saving of one sinner." The joy of saving is the greatest in the world. We also need the Holy Spirit to assist us in the world. God is willing to grant us the Holy Spirit in baptism.

The power of concentration is essential. When men and women are satisfied to make a sacrifice to save souls there will be a concentration of power. What are you going to do to save your fellow-men—it may perhaps be members of your own household? Think of the value of a soul when you think that God gave His only begotten Son to save sinners. Shall we not stretch forth our hands to save brands from the eternal burning?

I trust, said the speaker in conclusion, that God may turn His thought into our hearts and minds that as He sent His only Son into the world to save sinners so He sent us. And may He give us zeal and earnestness to go about our work so that before another anniversary many new souls may be saved.

DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.



O. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 309), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got quite better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised and much lauded remedies but got no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months time I was feeling better than I had for years before.

"Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

Rural Deanery At Brighton

The Deanery of Northumberland, of which Rev. J. C. Davidson is rural dean, will be in session to-morrow and Wednesday in the parish of Brighton. Rev. Rural Dean Davidson and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt from this city will be in attendance.

The programme will be as follows:—

Tuesday, 10th October.—5.15 p. m., Clergy meet at the Parsonage.

8.00 p. m., Evensong; 3 addresses,—1, Rev. A. J. Reid, "The Layman's help; its profit and power"; 2, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, "Parochial Finances"; 3, Rev. F. G. Plummer, "Public Worship".

Wednesday, 11th October—9.00 a. m., Holy Communion and Address;

10.45 a. m., Paper "Faith and Morals", Rev. E. W. Pickford.

11.45 a. m., Greek Testament, St. Jno. XVII.

12.30 p. m., Business.

1.00 p. m., luncheon at the parsonage.

2.30 p. m., Paper 'Liturgical study and Prayer Book revision", Rev. G. R. Beamish.

3.30 p. m., "The Deanery", Rev. Rural Dean Davidson.

E. W. Pickford, Secretary.

Howard Peters Was Committed

The case of Howard Peters, charged with the theft of $145 from James Rannie, of Preneveau, was heard at Havelock on Saturday before Magistrate Matheson, Brown and Johnston.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty. The evidence taken was wholly circumstantial, but was considered sufficient to commit the prisoner for trial and the case will probably be held at the assizes, which opened to-day.

Busy Day at The Market

There was a large attendance of buyers and sellers at the market on Saturday morning. The farmers are evidently taking advantage of the good roads and beautiful weather. The selling was good and the prices remained pretty steady. There was no beef for sale by the quarter, it being a little too early. Butter ranged from 22 to 25 cents, onions 25 to 30 cents per peck. Apples sold at 50 to 75 cents per bag; potatoes brought 75 cents per bag; chickens sold at 50 to 60 cents, while geese sold at 65 to 75 cents.

The Trent Canal.

—Work on the Balsam-Simcoe division of the Trent Valley Canal, with the exception of the lift lock at Kirkfield will be practically completed this fall.

A Great Sacred Picture Conception of Calvary

The Examiner has received from the John Hyland Publishing Company, of which Mr. J. J. Sheehy, formerly of Peterborough, is secretary-treasurer, a copy of a remarkable picture, now on exhibition in Chicago. With their characteristic enterprise, Messrs. Hyland & Co., have purchased the right to reproduce this picture and the splendid success of the reproducing artist, shown by the clearness with which the multitude of figures and scenic environments which fill a canvas 45 x 195 in area is given in the reproduction 17 x 25 inches. Those interested in art will be pleased to know a little of the history of this famous picture to which His Holiness the Pope gave his approbation in an illuminated document together with his blessing to the distinguished artist.

Golgotha, "The Crucifixion on Calvary," by the distinguished Polish artist, Jan Styka, is one of the greatest paintings of the greatest tragedy the world has ever known. This marvellous and magnificent production is 195 feet long and 45 feet wide. That he might become thoroughly familiar with the sacred places in the Bible, and be enabled to reproduce them on canvas, the artist visited and spent several years in the Holy Land. The result of his pilgrimage, with his studies and devotions at the Holy Sepulchre, at the River Jordan, by the Dead Sea, in and around Jerusalem, at the Church of the Nativity, in Bethany, and along the Mount of Olives, was this grand painting, "The Crucifixion on Calvary." He spent two years in Jerusalem, alone, amid the scenes of Christ's life and death.

This masterpiece, "The Crucifixion on Calvary," it was designed to place on exhibition in the Russian Department of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, at St. Louis, in 1904. Like a true patriot, Jan Styka demanded that it should be marked as the "Product of a Polish Artist". This the Russian government declined to permit, and then it refused to allow the great painting to be taken out of Russia, until the French Government and His Holiness the Pope, specifically requested that this magnificent canvas might be exhibited to the people of America. Many and long diplomatic delays ensued. Meanwhile, France offered to exhibit the painting in the French Department of the Exposition. The delays made it impossible for this marvelous work of Styka to reach the United States until it was too late to install it in the Exposition at St. Louis. It is, therefore, to be placed on exhibition in Chicago, for the first time in America. "The Crucifixion on Calvary" was exhibited in Moscow, and was such an important artistic event that the Grand Duke Sergius of Russia formally opened the exhibit. It was also shown in Warsaw, and was everywere hailed with veneration, inexpressible devotion and satisfaction. The heroic proportions of this grand painting require a special building in order to exhibit it properly. For the purpose of giving it a satisfactory setting, the Golgotha Exhibition Company, which has the exhibition in charge, has leased the commodious building 1451 to 1453 Michigan Avenue, directly in the rear of the Coliseum building, which will be completely remodelled for the installation of this marvellous picture.

Second Address At Y. M. C. A. Men's Meeting

Rev. Dr. Crothers Spoke Upon "Men Who Lost."

Large Attendance at Meeting Yesterday —A Young Man's Birthright.

Rev. Dr. Crother's second address on "Men Who Lost" attracted an even larger number of men than on the previous Sunday. The address was plain, practical and forceful, and it was listened to with the keenest of interest. The character depicted was Esau, whose story was very pathetic.

He was a big hearted fellow who started out well in life, but whose mistakes brought his ruin. He was the victim of Jacob, the trickster. He lacked the self-control that a man must have to-day in order to overcome. He lost his birth right because, like modern young men, he put no value upon it.

The Dr. then went on to show what a young man's birth right was—including that of a good body and a good intellect.

The greater was the birth right of his soul. The possessor of it was the one who was to determine its destiny. The speaker closed with a stirring appeal for young men to accept Christ now—not as an escape from hell, but as the best thing possible for the life now. How men lived now would determine conditions in the life to come.

The Music At Charlotte Street

The music at Charlotte street church yesterday was of an especially interesting character. In the morning service Mr. Jas. Brown was heard in Johnston's "Face to Face," and his rendition of this beautiful selection was much enjoyed. He has seldom been heard to better advantage. Mr. Howard Russell, of Toronto, a young baritone of great promise, also sang two excellent solos yesterday. In the morning his selection was "The Plains of Peace," and in the evening he sang "The Holy City," and in both selections he delighted the audience.

The Growth of Fire Insurance in Canada

Canadian Government statistics issued by the Superintendent of Insurance show that during the past thirty-six years the business of fire assurance in this country has increased ten-fold—the total amount of premiums collected in Canada in the year 1869 being $1,785,539, while that of 1904 was $13,174,819 for the same purpose. Of this premium income only $2,688,703 was paid to Canadian Companies, while $10,486,116 was paid to Foreign Companies. The total amount of fire assurance premiums collected in Canada during these thirty-six years amounted to the enormous sum of $201,580,555. Of this amount $156,600,789 was the amount of capital which left Canada in payment of premiums to Foreign Companies.

The Insurance Report shows that for the year 1904 there were but ten Canadian Companies licensed by the Dominion Government to transact the business of Fire Assurance in Canada, and but two of these ten had a paid-up capital for more than $325,000. With such facts and figures before them the incorporators of THE SOVEREIGN FIRE ASSURANCE COMPANY have been convinced of the necessity for a sound, substantial Corporation—the shareholders and policy-holders of which would be protected by a LARGE CASH CAPITAL PAID UP IN FULL, a Government deposit in excess of the Statutory requirement, and a strong directorate of business men which would conserve these resources for the development of Canadian institutions.

PROFITS OF FIRE ASSURANCE COMPANIES.

The average dividend paid by thirty-two British Joint Stock Fire Assurance Companies for the current financial year, corrected down to September 1st, 1905, exceeded 30 per cent. per annum, and the average dividends for ten years ending December 31st, 1904, paid by 136 Joint Stock Fire Assurance Companies of the United States, as compiled from official reports, has exceeded 18 1-4 per cent. per annum. Statistics compiled by the Superintendent of Insurance covering a period of thirty years, from 1875 to 1904 inclusive, show that the dividends paid by Canadian Fire Assurance Companies amounted to $4,460,885.25, and when it is remembered that the rates for fire assurance are to-day practically 50 per cent. to 100 per cent. in excess of the rates charged during the period covered by the Insurance Department, it will be readily seen that the business is now fixed upon a substantial basis and the profitableness of the future is unquestionably assured.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR CAPITAL STOCK.

The capital stock of the Sovereign Fire Assurance Company of Canada is TWO MILLION DOLLARS, divided into 50,000 shares of $40.00 each, of which TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS is now offered to investors at a premium of 25 per cent. or FIFTY DOLLARS A SHARE.

PRICE LIST OF SHARES.

5 shares (including premium)	$ 250	30 shares (including premium)	$1,500
10 shares (including premium)	500	40 shares (including premium)	2,000
15 shares (including premium)	750	50 shares (including premium)	2,500
20 shares (including premium)	1,000	75 shares (including premium)	3,750
25 shares (including premium)	1,250	100 shares (including premium)	5,000

THE CONDITIONS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

A cash payment of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) per share, with subscription, and the balance in equal payments at 30, 60 and 90 days. The Directors reserve the right to accept only such subscriptions and for such amounts as they may approve to advance the premium on stock and to close the subscription books without notice. Cheques, drafts, money orders, express orders and other remittances on account of subscriptions for stock must be made payable to

The Roscians Again in El Capitan.

—For the third time this season Peterborough has been honoured with the finished production of "El Capitan" as presented by the Roscian Comic Opera Company. This excellent organization produced that popular comic opera at the opera house last Saturday night. Their excellence as singers and actors has been commented upon in the columns of this journal before, and it is sufficiently flattering to say that their entertainment on this occasion was fully up to their previous performances.

Large Fire Hose Purchase.

One of the largest single orders for fire hose placed by a private corporation in the Dominion, has just been announced.

Some weeks ago the Canada Car Company, of Montreal, invited tenders for providing their enormous plant with fire hose. The quantity required totalled 4,400 feet. A large number of tenders were received, and the result has just been given out.

The successful tenderers are the Canadian Rubber Company, of Montreal, Limited, who will supply 4,400 feet of their new three stripe "Star" Underwriters' 2 5-8 inch cotton fire hose, with couplings attached. This hose is manufactured and supplied in conformity with the rigid requirements and specifications of the National Board of Underwriters, Chicago, and also the Boston Mutuals.

Delivery of this large order is to be made complete within two weeks.

The Canada Car Company was incorporated some few months ago, and is the largest concern of its kind in the Dominion.

THE RETAIL MERCHANTS ENDORSE PROPOSAL OF IMPROVED FIRE PROTECTION

At the Annual Meeting Held Last Night This Body Appointed Delegates to Represent Views of the Association---The Election of Officers---Mr. Robt. Fair Again the President--Address by Mr. E. M. Trowern, General Secretary---He Speaks of Some Legislation the Retailers Want---Have in Past Been Soft End of the Community--Ald. Mason Speaks of the Box By-Law ---Gets Expression of Opinion.

Last night the annual meeting of the Peterborough Retail Merchants Association was held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, when the election of officers for the year took place, and an address was delivered by Mr. E. M. Trowern, the Secretary of the Provincial Board.

This was the first annual meeting of the Association that has been held since April 1902, and as an organization it has been more or less in a dormant state. But recently an increased activity has been noticed, and it is expected that from this time forth the retailers of Paterborough will be a more united body, and that they will be more energetic in advancing their own interests.

The local association was the first to be organized outside that in Toronto, and for this reason it perhaps stands in a closer relation to the parent body than any other association. Since its organization, 90 have been established in the Province, and there are 5,000 members.

The feature of the meeting last night was the address of Mr. E. M. Trowern, the general secretary, and in it he gave the retailers some exceedingly pertinent advice. He was of the opinion that in the past the merchants had constituted the soft part of the community, and that other part had run on them, until it had come to this, that they simply had to organize in order to protect themselves. Mr. Trowern is a vigourour speaker, and his address was much appreciated.

You need the Semi-ready guarantee, on your clothes now, more than ever before.

This season there is more shoddy masquerading as honest tweed than ever before.

Your only test of ordinary clothing is the wear it gives you after you buy it.

Semi-ready garments are tested before you see them—tested in the Semi-ready Tailory by harder tests than you could ever give them.

Every thread of Semi-ready materials has passed through the hands of experts before it can be accepted. Our label guarantees this.

Illegal Sawdust Dumping Reported

Complaints have reached the Examiner to the effect that certain gentlemen are making themselves a public nuisance by dumping sawdust on the river bank in the village of Lakefield just above the dam. Steps should be taken at once to stop this illegal practice, and the proper authorities should look into the matter without further delay.

"Little Duchess" In Lindsay

Mr. R. H. Bradburn had made arrangements for the presentation of "The Little Duchess" in Lindsay on Monday, Oct. 16. This opera is one of the finest that will be given in Canada this year, and Mr. Bradburn is fortunate in securing it for the Lindsay and Peterborough people. A special train will leave the city on Monday night for Lindsay, and a number of the best seats have been reserved for the Peterborough patrons. It is expected that a large number from this city will embrace this opportunity of witnessing this production, the star of which is Miss Elsie Jarvis.

Ministering Hands Brighten Last Hours of Patient

The life of a bright young man, who less than one year ago had abundant prospect of a happy and useful career, was this morning prematurely cut off, under circumstances of the most pathetic character, when at about four o'clock the death ensued, after a lingering illness of Dr. Armshaw.

A detailed reference, it will be remembered by Examiner readers, was made some weeks ago in these columns to the particularly distressing conditions amid which the young man was lying, struggling for life against the ever-tightening clutches of the monster, tuberculosis.

The knowledge of the pitiful facts of the case presented at that time brought a generous response from many charitable citizens, and the last days of the patient were brightened by the kindly assistance ministered by many helping hands. The prompt response which was made when the facts were known, speaks volumes for the generosity and kindly sympathy of Peterborough citizens when the occasion demands. Coal, provisions and many other of the necessities of life were forwarded in large quantities, and in many ways have added materially to the comfort of the family.

Prominent in the work of charity was the assistance rendered by the King's Daughters, of St. John's, which (have been spoken of by one acquainted with the circumstances, as having been of a most noble and self-sacrificing character. The patient, it has been learned, was attended during the latter part of his illness since his arrival in Peterborough, by Dr. Marshall, who both in pecuniary and other ways, has contributed a most generous assistance of which too much cannot be said in commendation.

The children of the deceased were removed about a week ago to the Children's Aid Shelter, the younger one a babe of two weeks having since been placed in a private home by the secretary of the King's Daughters.

The late Dr. Armshaw was a graduate in Electro-Therapeutics of a Montreal College, and was born in that city 24 years ago. Just previous to his demise he expressed a wish to see his wife who has been confined in the Nicholls Hospital since the birth a few weeks ago of the youngest child. She was at once conveyed to their residence, Ware street, but was unfortunately too late to see her husband alive.

The funeral will take place tomorrow to Little Lake Cemetery at 2.30 o'clock.

Crushed To Death Beneath Trolley Wheels

'Cyclist Struck at Corner of Queen and McCaul Streets, Toronto, To-day.

Motorman Placed Under Arrest and Arraigned on Manslaughter Charge.

Special to the Examiner

Toronto, Oct. 10.—Cyrus O. Rockwood, aged 35 years, a stereotyper on the Telegram, was crushed to death at the corner of Queen and McCaul streets, this morning, while riding his bicycle on the way to work, beneath the wheels of a Bloor and McCaul trolley car, which apparently had got beyond the control of the motorman. The car jumped the intersection of the tracks and ran 30 yards across the Queen street roadway. Shortly after the accident John Dean, the motorman, was placed under arrest and arraigned before the police magistrate on a charge of manslaughter. He was remanded until Friday, bail being refused.

The Gilmour Memorial Annual Tea

Re-union and Concert Was An Unqualified Success.

Large Attendance and Satisfactory Financial Outcome.

Last night the annual tea meeting and concert in connection with the anniversary services of the Gilmour Memorial Church, was held, and was an unqualified success. The attendance was large and $105 was received as a result of the evening's entertainment.

The fowl supper which constituted the chief attraction of the early part of the evening was thoroughly enjoyed, and a number of persons from this city were present, and evidently enjoyed this function.

Rev. W. L. McKinnon, the pastor of the church, occupied the chair, and in his opening address expressed his great pleasure at seeing such a large number of persons present. Other speakers were Rev. R. McQuade, of Bridgenorth; Rev. Jas. Deason, of Norwood; Rev. F. J. Scott and Mr. D. Campbell, of McMaster University, Toronto.

The musical portion of the programme was especially enjoyed. A male chorus from the church and Messrs. Campbell, who were heard in a duet, were much appreciated.

The Irish Guards Band.

—Took first prize in the great international military band competition held in Glasgow two years ago. The Coldstream Band and the Grenadier Guards Band were in the competition, as were also the most famous bands in the British Empire. The band was personally complimented by H. M. King Edward VII.

An Accident On Rubidge Street Sewer

Mr. Robt. Pethick Was Injured Last Night.

Two Ribs Broken by Waggon Upsetting —How It Occurred.

Yesterday afternoon an accident occurred on the Rubidge street sewer. Mr. Robert Pethick, of Ida, was in the city and undertook to drive down that portion of the street which was closed temporarily to allow the sewer construction to be carried on.

His waggon, drawn by a team was upset, passing between the sidewalk and the pile of earth. Mr. Pethick was trying to right the waggon when a piece of heavy machinery, which was on the load fell off, and pinned him to the ground, and breaking two of his ribs. He sustained some other injuries, which, however, were not of a serious nature.

The Dan Spence ambulance was called and the injured man was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Chapman.

Inquiry this morning elicited the information that he was resting easily, and that he would soon be able to leave the hospital for home.

He was very fortunate to not sustaining any more serious injuries than those recorded, and his experience should, and doubtless will prove a lesson to those teamsters who are careless in driving on streets which are torn up.

Sewers seem to be fatal to residents of Cavan. A few years ago when the sewer was being put down on Charlotte street, a Cavan man was found dead at the bottom of the trench into which he had fallen.

Were Guests Of Girls' Guild

A Pleasing Function at All Saints' Church Last Night.

An open meeting of the Girls' Guild was held last night in the basement of All Saints' church, at which the young people of the church were the guests of the Girls' Guild. A delightful social evening was enjoyed. Games were played and a delightful musical programme given. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the entertainment.

The following contributed to the programme:

Instrumental, Miss English; vocal solo, Miss M. Elliott; vocal solo, Miss Rickey; vocal solo, Mr. Coleman; vocal solo, Mr. L. Downes; instrumental, Mr. Berry.

The different selections brought forth hearty applause, and Miss Marion Elliott and Mr. Coleman were forced to respond to encores.

The Guild is in a very flourishing condition this year and everything points to a most successful season.

Retail Merchants Endorse Proposal

The attendance at the meeting last night was not large, but Mr. Trowern advised the members not to be discouraged at what they might consider a lack of interest.

Mr. Robt. Fair, the President of the Association was chairman of the meeting last night, the first business of which was the reception of the minutes of the last meeting, which was held on April 22nd, 1902. Mr. Jas. J. Connell, the Secretary-Treasurer, presented the financial statement, which showed a credit balance of $49.00 in the treasury. The report was received and adopted. The secretary urged greater cooperation among the retail merchants of the city.

Address of the President.

The President's address was then presented by Mr. Robt. Fair and is as follows:—

To the Peterborough branch of the Retail Merchants' Association:

Gentlemen,—As presiding officer of this association, to which position you were kind enough to elect me some years ago, I deem it my duty to make a report of the good work accomplished by the local branch and the general association.

When the local board was first organized our attention was directed to the abolition of trading stamps, a system that was not only detrimental to the interest of the merchants but conferred no benefit whatever on the purchasing public. The general association took up this matter, and after a vigorous campaign, in which we were opposed strongly by the trading stamp concerns, legislation was passed by the Ontario Legislature abolishing their use. Last year the good work was extended and an act passed by the federal parliament making the use of stamps illegal and abolishing the system within the confines of the Dominion.

This is only one of the many abuses that encroached on the welfare of the merchants generally, which the general organization has been successful in having removed.

Other matters that I might mention that have been accomplished are the proper labeling of foodstuffs for the protection of the public and a fairer and more equitable assessment of large corporations and department stores, and the abolition of open misrepresentation of the quality and value of goods by these gigantic organizations.

City Prosperity.

Since our last annual meeting I am pleased to report that so great has been the advancement of Peterborough that it has assumed the dignity and status of a city. Our growth in industrial and commercial matters has been steady and most satisfactory. New factories are constantly being established and older ones extended and their capacity greatly increased. I am pleased to notice also that there is a marked improvement in nearly all our business houses and I can safely say that, for general appearance and up-to-date features, the majority of them are no where surpassed in Canada.

Another evidence of the solid character of the city's progress and increase of business in Peterborough is the establishment of branches here of two of the leading banks in Canada—The Bank of Nova Scotia and the Bank of Ottawa.

Packing Case By-law.

During the year a city bylaw was enacted, but since repealed, which if put in operation would have seriously affected a large number of merchants who are unfortunate enough to occupy premises that will not permit of the receiving and opening of goods, without serious inconvenience and hardship. I refer to the bylaw prohibiting the receiving and unpacking of goods on the sidewalk.

While I am free to admit that the privilege extended to retail merchants in this respect has been abused, and, in some cases, to an unreasonable extent, still this association would enjoin its members and all other business men who are not members that in the matter of receiving and unpacking goods, the work should be done as rapidly as possible and the cases removed forthwith. If this is done no further action on the part of the city council will be necessary.

During the past week as president of this association I have received an invitation from the fire, water and light committee to confer with the city authorities, the Board of Trade, the manufacturers and property holders generally, to consider and devise some improvement to our fire protective system that will be more in keeping with the rapid growth of the city and the important interests represented.

Protection From Fire.

During the past year owing to the large conflagrations in other places, rates have advanced to such an extent as to make adequate insurance on the part of merchants, manufacturers and house holders generally very burdensome.

Insufficient insurance in case of a great fire causes heavy loss and distress and, in some instances, ruination. Personally, I heartily endorse the action of the city council in calling this meeting and I would urge upon this association to appoint delegates to assist in improving and strengthening our fire department and in the carrying out of a general plan that will be acceptable to all interested. I trust that the scheme devised will be such as to commend itself to the people and that they will give the matter their endorsation, should such a bylaw be submitted to them at the forthcoming election in January as I believe it should. It is needless to say that if a suitable and well appointed fire station is built and properly equipped and manned there would be such a material reduction in rates, not to speak of the advantages of adequate protection, that the small tax imposed would be but a trifling amount compared with the great benefit and sense of security which would be experienced by all. This is a matter of vital importance to every merchant, manufacturer and householder within the city limits.

Organization.

I would enjoin upon the merchants, especially those who are not members, the importance of thorough organization—not for the enhancing of prices but for the advancement of our mutual interests and the protection of the public generally. I would like to say a word on behalf of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition and the advisability of the merchants according this institution a more general and hearty support, the procuring of suitable property and the erection of adequate buildings which would be not only encouraging to ourselves and the exhibition association, but also to those engaged in agricultural pursuits. The merchants must recognize that our exhibition must continue to be in the future as it has in the past, an important factor in the upbuilding and development of Peterborough.

We are also indebted to the local press for full report of our meetings and matters effecting our interests and welfare.

Trusting that our meetings in future may be more largely attended and that every member when he receives a notice, will make it a point to be present, and thanking my fellow officers for their hearty support and co-operation, I would ask in conclusion that my successor may be tendered the same sympathy and assistance as I have received and also thanking the Y.M.C.A. for the use of those rooms for holding our meetings, I remain, gentlemen,

Yours sincerely,

ROBERT FAIR,
President.

The address, on motion of Mr. H. LeBrun, seconded by Mr. T. C. Elliott, was accepted, and a vote of thanks tendered the president for his services in the past.

For Fire Protection.

A resolution endorsing the proposal to improve the fire fighting appliances of the city, was introduced by Mr. Elliott, and seconded by Mr. LeBrun, and finally adopted by the meeting.

The resolution follows:

"That in the opinion of this meeting it is of the utmost importance to the retail merchants of the city of Peterborough, as well as all householders, manufacturers, and others, that adequate fire protection facilities be provided, and that we urge upon all the citizens of the city to support such measures as will provide sufficient funds, so as to enable the municipal authorities to instal, properly equip and man such a system as the urgent needs of the city demands. And that delegates be appointed by this meeting to cooperate with all other bodies interested in carrying out this desirable object."

Some discussion took place on the resolution before it was passed. Mr. F. J. R. Mitchell ventured the opinion that it was not much use for the people to vote on bylaws, as their wishes were not carried out by the council, and cited the case of the sidewalk plebiscite passed at the last municipal elections, and which, he said, had been ignored by the council.

The Officers.

The election of officers followed, and the result was:

President—Robt. Fair.
1st Vice-President—H. LeBrun.
2nd Vice-President—T. C. Elliott.
Secretary—W. Oke.
Treasurer—Jas. Connal.

The president and two vice-presidents were appointed a committee to name the additional members of the Executive Committee, each branch of merchandise to be represented on the committee.

Mr. Fair asked to be allowed to retire from the presidency this year, but was prevailed upon to accept it for another year.

Mr. Elliott brought up the question of securing single fare rates on the railways to Peterborough for Saturdays, but it was stated by the president that an attempt had been made to carry it out in the past, and had failed.

The Box By-law.

Ald. Mason, as a representative of the merchants, though not a member of the Association, addressed the meeting in reference to the bylaw regulating the placing of goods on the sidewalks, and opening boxes, and asked for an expression of opinion from the Association as to the hours which they would suggest as to the limited time for receiving goods on the streets. A resolution was finally passed, asking the council to allow the merchants the use of the streets, if necessary, up to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The General Secretary.

Mr. E. M. Trowern, the General Secretary, of the Ontario Association was introduced by the president, and addressed the members for an hour, on matters of interest to retailers, who had, he remarked, ever been the safe end of the community. The manufacturers, the labour men, and the farmers, had organized; he the poor retailers, were the only men who had not banded together for mutual benefit, and it was time, he thought, that they did so. As a class they paid two-thirds of the taxes, and yet they were the most often imposed upon.

Mr. Trowern spoke of some of the lines along which the Retail Association was trying to get legislation, and which was that which would enable them to collect up to $100 in Division Court, on payment of a nominal sum. They were also trying to make corporations amenable to the law as individuals at present are. Another reform they were after was the abolition of the fees for inspecting weights and measures. They also intend to get after the pedlar, and are asking that legislation be enacted allowing municipalities to increase the fee for a double horse rig to $250, a single-horse rig to $200, push cart, $100, and peddling by hand to $200.

Mr. Trowern spoke most encouragingly of the work of the Association, and stated that in their efforts looking towards organization they had been very successful.

Mr. W. H. Robertson moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, and this was seconded by Mr. LeBrun, and carried.

The delegates appointed to attend the meeting on Wednesday night to discuss the question of fire protection, are the five elected officers.

Kissing Versus Tuberculosis

Paris, Oct. 7.—Among the various antiphthisis measures discussed at the International Tuberculosis Congress yesterday was one vehemently advocating the discontinuance of kissing. Prof. Fornier opened the denunciation, and other delegates strongly supported him, adducing numerous instances of the mischief done by kissing, and giving scientific reasons why it should be abandoned. One learned physician described it as "that unpleasant custom." Some referred to the custom with impudence hardly removed from disgust, while others treated it as being almost criminal.

A good baking oven is what every housewife requires in a range. Other advantages add to the usefulness of the range, but an easily regulated, perfect baking and roasting oven is an indispensable feature. It is the perfection in operation of the oven of the that has made it such a striking success.

It is in the oven construction that the greatest difference is found between the Imperial Oxford and any other range on the market. The diffusive oven flue draws the cold air from the floor, super-heats it, and distributes it throughout the oven, keeping it at an even temperature in all parts. This flue also makes it easy to regulate the heat of the oven and secures a marked saving in fuel. If your dealer doesn't handle the Imperial Oxford, write to us direct and we will send you our catalogue and tell you where you can see the range.

MANY DESTITUTION CASES

ACCOMPANY APPROACH OF COLD WINTER MONTHS

Serious Problem to be Faced in Peterborough--Many Cases With Which it is Feared Children's Aid Society Will Be Unable to Deal--Splendid Work by Kings' Daughters--Assistance is Required.

A serious problem, to which charitably inclined citizens may, to good advantage, turn their attention, has arisen in Peterborough. It appears that with the rapid industrial and increasing business activity in a town or city, there invariably comes the regrettable accompaniment of distressing scenes of want, which, while not always apparent to the public view, are nevertheless being enacted in tragic earnestness. The coming of the winter months will, it is certain, bring to a crisis, a situation in Peterborough, the gravity of which has been much felt by those acquainted with the circumstances, for some time. This is with regard to the means to be pursued to render relief to the large number of destitute and suffering, who will, with the approach of the cold weather, be placed in a position of extreme danger, unless prompt measure of relief are taken.

An inquiry this morning elicited the information that never before in the history of the town have the conditions been so distressing in this respect as at present.

Mr. George Cochrane, inspector for the Children's Aid Society, states that the number of cases attended to by the Shelter authorities has been far in excess of that in any previous year, there having been over forty cases as compared with the average number previously of twenty five or twenty-eight. There are at present nine inmates. The large increase in cases has of course necessitated a greatly increased outlay. The funds of the Society, it is feared, will be entirely insufficient to cope with the situation which is at present arising. There are, Mr. Cochrane states, many cases of infantile privation and distress, which are daily progressing towards a more acute stage with the approach of the winter months. The children have struggled along during the remarkably fine weather of the summer in anything but desirable conditions. The Society is at a loss to deal with the many cases in prospect, which are much in excess of those of previous years. The present inmates of the Shelter are, unfortunately, of such a class, but it will be extremely difficult to "place" them.

It is to be hoped that some effort will be made to assist the Society in the splendid efforts which it is making, and, if possible, to strengthen it sufficient in a financial sense to cope with the work in prospect.

The charitable work being performed by the King's Daughters has been the subject of much appreciative comment. This society has been most indefatigable in its efforts, and results of its work are apparent on all sides. Among others who have lent their efforts most generously are Miss Bourcher, the energetic secretary, Miss Barlee, Miss Halliday, and Mrs. Dr. Poole.

Canada Life Agents Form Association

An Interesting Gathering Held Here Yesterday.

Mr. W. E. Cox Was Elected Vice-President of the Association.

Yesterday the agents of the Canada Life Assurance Company, of the Midland District, met in this city for the purpose of forming an Association. The meeting was held in the office of Mr. W. E. Cox, the local manager, and was most successful.

There are about fifteen agents in the district, which embraces East York, Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Haliburton and Peterborough counties. The association was most successfully launched, under most favourable circumstances, the officers of the new organization being:

President—T. A. Sills, Toronto, District Manager.

Vice-Presidents — W. B. Widdis, Lindsay, and W. E. Cox, Peterborough.

Secretary-Treasurer—Captain Robertson.

Meetings will be held quarterly, and the first will be in January, in the local office of the company. The objects of this association are to discuss objects of mutual interest to Canada Life agents, and it is expected that in this respect it will be most beneficial. Those in attendance at the meeting spoke extremely hopefully of the prospects for business this fall, so that the meeting was of a particularly pleasing character.

The agents were the guests of Mr. Sills at dinner in the Oriental Hotel, and afterwards were driven to the Lift Lock, and visited other interesting points in the city, leaving for home on the 5.30 train.

Peterborough Boy's Habit of Rising

"Jimmy" Leonard's Rise From the Key to General Managership.

Begun His Career in Town of Peterborough.

Some of the old timers will remember well "Jimmy" Leonard, who was in charge of the tape at the Midland Railway station in Peterborough—tape, for in those days telegraph messages were received on paper tapes—will be pleased to learn that he has received another stunt up in the railway world. A despatch from Montreal says:

It is officially announced that Mr. J. W. Leonard, superintendent of construction of the Toronto-Sudbury line, has been appointed assistant general manager of the Canadian Pacific lines east of Fort William, with headquarters at Montreal. This is a new office with the Canadian Pacific Railway, but it is understood that it will embrace the duties hitherto performed by Mr. Spencer, and that Mr. Leonard will continue to act as superintendent of construction of the Toronto-Sudbury line.

Being promoted seems to be a habit in which Mr. Leonard has fallen. As stated he began as a telegraph operator in Peterborough in 1872. His next step upward was station agent for the Victoria Railway, 1878; Dec., 1878, to March, 1880, assistant manager same road; March to June, 1880, assistant to General Superintendent Credit Valley Railway; June, 1880, to Nov., 1883, general passenger agent, same road; Nov., 1883, to May, 1884, Master of Transportation Ontario & Quebec Railway; May, 1884, to March, 1887, Superintendent C.P.R. at Toronto; March 1887, to March, 1890, Superintendent at Kamloops; March, 1890, to March 1893, Superintendent of Mines east of Montreal same road; March, 1893, to April, 1901, General Superintendent Ontario and Quebec division; April, 1901, to March, 1903, General Superintendent, Western division, at Winnipeg; March to April, 1903, General Superintendent Central division, at Winnipeg; May, 1903, Assistant General Manager C.P.R. lines west of Lake Superior; 1905, Chief of Construction of Sudbury branch and of Guelph and Goderich extensions. "Jimmy" Leonard's rise began at the beginning of his railway career. He was a hale fellow well met, but he never let any consideration of pleasure interfere with his steady devotion to duty, and by making effective discharge of his duty the first consideration, an experience developed his capabilities is one of the open secrets of his making the grade so successfully.

Cured Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Fred Hills, Walton street, Port Hope, Ont., writes: "I was troubled for some time with kidney diseases, and though I tried a great many different remedies I never succeeded in obtaining relief until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By the regular use of this preparation for a time I was completely cured of kidney disease."

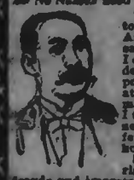
DRS. KENNEDY & KERGAN

Specialists in the Treatment of Nervous, Blood, Private and Sexual Diseases of Men and Women. 15 Years in Detroit.

No Names used without Written Consent. Cures Guaranteed.



Thousands of young and middle-aged men are annually swept to a premature grave through early abuse or later excesses. Chas. Anderson was one of the victims, but was rescued in time. He says: "I learned an evil habit. A change soon came over me. I could feel it; my friends noticed it. I became nervous, despondent, gloomy, had no ambition, easily tired, evil forebodings, poor circulation, pimples on face, back weak, dreams and drains at night, tired and weak mornings, burning sensation. To make matters worse, I became reckless and contracted a blood disease. I tried many doctors and medical firms—all failed till Drs. Kennedy & Kergan took my case. In one week I felt better, and in a few weeks was entirely cured. They are the only reliable and honest Specialists in the country."

READER—We guarantee to cure you or no pay. You run no risk. We have a reputation and business at stake. Beware of frauds and impostors. We will pay $1,000 for any case we take that our NEW METHOD TREATMENT will not cure.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Canadians are becoming sobere but also sloppier. The revenue returns show that less spirits and more beer is drunk. By the way, we spend in drink and tobacco in this blooming young country $3 per head on an average.

Northumberland needs a House of Refuge as badly as Peterborough. It appears that there are over forty persons confined in Cobourg jail who are not guilty of, or even charged with, any crime. The grand jury at the Assizes strongly condemned the locking up of persons who are simply poor and friendless, with hardened criminals. The authorities need a stronger form of condemnation than verbal reproach. There seems to be good reason for enforcing the law which requires counties to provide houses of refuge.

"Toronto the Good," seems to be an obsolete title, so far as applicability is concerned. That city has the "abomination" of Sunday cars and ladies high on the social ladder, are given to having "high old times." At least that is the charge of Rev. Dr. Tovell, formerly of this city, now of the Queen street, (Toronto) Methodist church, who said in his sermon on Sunday evening last that "he could mention names of women in the upper social rank of this city (Toronto) who were carried home intoxicated from the palaces of this foul domon." A little more plain language like that and Toronto will be classed with the "Cities of the Plain."

AS TO TEMPERANCE HOTELS

Saturday Night.

A couple of hotels in Owen Sound have been purchased by a company, who intend operating them on temperance lines. Periodically we hear of attempts being made to conduct hotels in Ontario without liquor licenses, but scarcely any have been successful. It is not difficult to discover why they have not been successful. Temperance people will not support temperance hotels to any greater extent than they support temperance candidates. In speaking of temperance people in this connection, I mean the demonstrative element. Many of this class will clamour loudly and long against the liquor traffic, but they will neither sacrifice comfort nor pay money to any considerable extent to swamp the evil that agitates them so greatly, any more than they will sacrifice party prejudices at the polls for the same reason. A temperance hotel cannot furnish accommodation as cheaply as a licensed house because the bulk of a hotel's expenditure is incurred in connection with providing the public with food and lodging. The saloon end of business is operated at a small expense, and with large profits. The restaurant end is operated at large expense with small profit. It will be possible to conduct a temperance hotel profitably when a constituency is created for it, and only then. The temperance man of the back concession, who drives in town, puts up his horses in the hotel shed, warms himself at the hotel fire, uses the hotel wash room, writing desk, etc., and then eats a home made sandwich in the hotel sitting room, is perhaps an exaggerated type. He can be taken, however, as a useful caricature, illustrating the spirit that exists among temperance agitators as a class. They would banish liquor from the land, regardless of consequences—to other people—but not regardless of cost to themselves.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland Block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 8, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead, and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and to-day my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

GOW MANSLAUGHTER CASE

OPENED THIS MORNING;

TRUE BILL BY GRAND JURY

The Opening Address by Crown Prosecutor Meredith---Evidence Was Largely Repetition of That Previously Taken---A Number of Witnesses Were Examined This Morning---True Bill Returned Last Night by Grand Jury---Case for the Crown Closed This Afternoon.

The Court room was comfortably filled at the opening this morning at the Assizes, when the Gow manslaughter case opened before Hon. Mr. Justice Street. The crowd in attendance was scarcely as large as was anticipated in view of the general interest which has been manifested in the case in all sections of the Dominion.

The Court opened at 9.30 o'clock, and the empannelling of the jury was immediately proceeded with, twenty jurors being challenged, before the following were determined upon:—

Harry Snider.
Robert Taylor.
Robert Sherin.
Richard Coughlan.
Andrew Brown.
Thomas Emmerson.
R. H. Fortye.
Thomas Wood.
Erastus W. Wood.
George Hutchinson.
Charles Greene.
Roland Johnston.

Considerable evidence was taken this morning, it being largely a repetition of that previously taken at the preliminary hearing of the case at Norwood.

MR. R. M. DENNISTOUN,
Counsel for Defence in the Gow Manslaughter Case.

Thomas Meredith, K. C., London, Prosecuting Attorney, and Crown Attorney Wood conducted the case for the Crown, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun conducting the case for the defence. Very few new or surprising facts were elicited from the witnesses, with the possible exception of the evidence of Mabel Hill, who admitted that she had not seen the face of Stewart Murphy behind the flash of the gun on the night of the shooting, as she had previously stated.

The prisoner, Charles Gow, against whom a true bill was returned last night by the Grand Jury, appeared quite bright and cheerful as he entered the box, and paid throughout to the box, and paid throughout a close attention to the examination of the various witnesses. The crowd in attendance was to a large extent composed of his friends from Dummer, who express confidence in his aquittal.

The charge of Crown Prosecutor Meredith, to the jury was an eloquent and forceful effort, and produced a marked effect upon his auditors.

Charge to Jury.

Mr. Meredith, after charging the jury that their duty was to bring in a fair and impartial verdict in the case without reference to newspaper reports, or without considering the standing of the respective families in the community, briefly outlined the evidence to be presented by the Crown as follows:

On the 24th of August last, at midnight, Thos. Edward Hill, a little lad of about eleven years of age, was sleeping in the south end of his father's house with his nine-year-old sister, Mabel. A noise is heard at a distance of about two hundred feet and they creep to the window, which is up about eighteen inches, to see what the noise is, the little girl nearest to the road and the lad next to her. They heard a shot fired, which the little girl believed struck the side of the house. The next shot struck the little lad and he was carried down stairs.

It appears that there is a family called Dewart out there, and a family called Murphy, and it is said that this Dewart had made some arrangements to meet Gow, and that Gow was going to take him for a drive. He did meet this prisoner. The prisoner knew perfectly well that there was intense feeling between the Dewarts and Murphys and the Hills, and strangely enough he drove a distance of a mile to where James and William Dewart live, and going there he says he drove his own horse. While there two Murphys came in, and there was a boy called Gallagher, who was apparently working at Jas. and Wm. Dewarts' place, and after some talk Edward Dewart takes his rifle, which he had left at his brother's for the purpose, he says, of shooting ground-

ROBERT D. HILL,
Father of Thomas Edward Hill, Who Testified To-day.

hogs. They start away from there with the two Murphys and Gallagher, who says he is going over to sleep at Murphy's for the night. Gow is a crack shot, a captain in the volunteers. According to the story put forward, Edward Dewart jumps in and drives the horse, and nothing is said between them to show why he should drive. The prisoner is on the side next to the Hill house, and the two Murphys and Gallagher start ahead. It looks to me very much like a plot that these boys were to rouse the family, and that the prisoner, following, should fire at the house, whether to do any harm or not, but at all events to frighten the inhabitants of the house. The prisoner, according to his own admission, did fire the three shots in the direction of the house with a 44-calibre Winchester that will kill at eight hundred yards. We have eight hundred yards. We have extracted the bullet that struck the side of the house, and it is apparently from Gow's rifle. The next bullet entered the window, struck the second finger of the little girl, entered the left side of the little lad and came out about the eleventh rib and then lodged in the foot of the bedstead. The third bullet lodged in the verandah. The last two bullets were lost at the inquest. There will be a great many scientific problems introduced into this case, but it is a plain case that there was no other person upon that road with a gun but the prisoner at the bar.

There was consequently no one else who could have fired these shots.

The Evidence of the Engineer.

William Heathcote, sworn, testified that he is a civil engineer engaged in Peterborough, and had visited the Hill homestead, where he made a plan, which was produced. He had found a bullet hole about two and a half feet from the corner of the house, under the verandah, and at the upper window where he had found bloodstains. Witness described the location from which the bullet had been fired. At the upper window he could not locate the originating point of the bullet too closely, owing to the fact that the bed inside the window which had been struck had been moved. Witness produced a plan from which he explained his calculations as to the different points upon the road from which the shots had been fired.

To Mr. Dennistoun, witness stated that he had gone out about one week after the shooting. He did not know when the bullet holes had been put in the house. He had inserted a ram rod in the bullet holes to make a sight. There were some drops of blood upon the window sill upstairs. He had made a line from the blood marks on the window sill to the bed. The bed may have been moved. If the bed had been moved the bullet might have stopped in the bed, but could not have come through the window.

To Mr. Wood, witness stated that the bed was standing five or six feet from the south wall, leaving ten feet between the bed and the north wall. Had the bullet been fired from within the house it must have been fired from close to the north wall. He had seen no marks of powder upon the bed.

Robert Hill's Testimony.

Robert Hill, father of Thomas Edward Hill, stated that he is a farmer living in Dummer township. He and Mrs. Hill slept in a south bedroom down stairs. Thomas and Mabel, his son and daughter, slept in a bedroom above them. There was one window in the south end of his room. The house is one and a half stories high. On the night of the shooting, on August 24th, the whole family had retired about the same time; one light was left turned down upon a table in the living room. About 11.40 o'clock he heard a disturbance upon the road, with shouts of "A mob! a mob!" He recognized the voices of William and Stewart Murphy and George Gallagher. He heard a buggy approaching from the north, and further shouts of "Hurrah! Hurrah!" proceeding from about the gate. The buggy was at this time between the barn and the gate. When the buggy was at the gate he recognized the voice of Ed. Dewart, and a stranger. He heard

"True Bill" Found For Manslaughter

The Grand Jury at the Assizes this morning made its presentment in the case of Patrick McAuliffe, the prisoner, charged with the murder of Frederick Hudson, in June last.

A verdict of "No bill" was returned upon the murder charge, a "True bill" being found upon a charge of manslaughter.

The case will probably be proceeded with at the conclusion of the hearing of the Gow case, the end of which, it is expected, will be reached either to-night or to-morrow morning.

Separate School Work Progresses

With three more fine days the roof will have been completed on the new Separate School building, and all that remains then to be done, is to proceed with the lathing and plastering. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by January first, when the old building on Murray street will be abandoned for the new structure.

The architect, Mr. E. W. Argus, states that the cost of the building, including fence, grading the grounds, and furnishing the building will not exceed $25,000, and the school will for that figure be a credit not only to the portion of the community which will use it, but to the city as a whole.

Nobody Out To Practice

Although a practice was called for last night nobody turned out. The locals seem to regard the Victorias as an easy proposition. That team will probably come here in the best condition, however, and may spring a surprise upon the home aggregation. The good practice on Saturday was seemingly too much for the boys to stand but when they run against the real thing they will probably find that considerably harder. Let everybody get into the game from this on. The season is still in its infancy and there is no danger of overtraining.

• • • •

Yes, somebody was there! Hurtubise waited in vain.

• • • •

The pigskin needs a good deal of training to get in the habit of going over the enemy's line.

Professionals Getting Busy

Houghton furnishes some items of hockey news this week. Riley Hern, the diminutive goal-tender, has returned from his Canadian home, and will be in harness again. He is the only man likely to play on the Portage Lakes, who is now in Copperdom. Dr. Gibson's retirement from the game after several years of excellent service, in which he, more than any other man, helped to introduce hockey in the United States is confirmed. In addition to Hern, the only others of last year's Lakes expected to return are Holden and Lake.

The Houghton despatch also refers to hockey doings in Calumet, and adds the stamp of surety as to its origination by its reference to Hod Stuart. It says that Stuart has been banned from the International League on account of his rough playing, adding that last winter that player plainly showed his grudge against the Portage Lakes. That is, however, news about the rest of the circuit. Jimmy Gardner, Calumet's left wing man, is announced as captain of the Calumets for the coming season.

Barrie After A Championship

Barrie, Oct. 9. — The officers elected for the Barrie Hockey Club this winter are as follows:—Patrons, Mayor Ross, James Kelly, H. J. Grassett, W. D. Morton, S. Dyment; Hon. Pres., Frederic Nicholls; Hon. Vice-Presidents, W. R. Tiffin, Dr. Smith and J. C. Seeley; President, H. D. Jamieson; Vice-Presidents, F. M. Wards, A. G. Habbick, Alex. Tomlette; manager, Dr. MacLaren; secretary, J. R. Todd; treasurer, Dalton Milne; Executive Committee, G. Caldwell, C. G. Hinds, E. Brownlee, J. R. Beath and R. W. Groves.

Barrie is out for the intermediate championship and has the material that should pretty nearly deliver the goods. Most of last season's players are available, and several fast men have taken situations in Barrie during the year, among them being Gee of Markham, Harvey Corteau, of the champions Victoria Harbour septette, and Rowe of Meaford, the fastest junior in this district. The line up will be somewhat as follows:—Goal, Thomas; point, Gee; cover point Williams; centre, Vair; rover, Corbeau; left wing, Caldwell. For right wing there are Rowe, Brownlee and a very speedy player who has not yet committed to get into the game this winter.

RUGBY.

Mr. Horace Walkey, secretary-treasurer of the local rugby club, received the following telegram from Toronto this morning:—

"Victorias will send team to Peterborough October fourteenth. Am writing."

Fred. Lynch Still Starring In Lacrosse

Mr. "Jack" Ross Writes Interesting Letter From His New Home in the West.

A letter was received to-day by the Examiner from Mr. "Jack" Ross, a former member of the news room staff, who recently left to take a position on the Vancouver World. The many friends here of Mr. Ross will be pleased to learn of his success, since taking up residence in the West. The letter will be read with much interest locally containing, as it does, much information concerning former residents of Peterborough, now living in the West.

Among others spoken of is Mr. "Jack" Paxman, who is prospering amid Western conditions. The letter is as follows:—

The Dominion Fair is at present being held at New Westminster, which place is about twelve miles from here and is connected with Vancouver by both the C.P.R. and an electric railway.

The fair was opened last Wednesday, by the Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, Sir Henri Joly de Lotinbiere, who pressed the button, which started the machinery in motion in the Industrial Building, and incidentally opened the fair to the public.

Many attractions are to be seen, including horse racing, broncho busting, balloon ascensions, and lacrosse matches, besides the displays in all the big buildings of vegetables, fruits and many other things.

The musical programme for the fair includes concerts by the Irish Guards' Band, 6th Regiment band, of Vancouver and the 5th Regiment Band, of Victoria, besides a competition between six Indian bands representing as many different tribes along the Pacific coast, the prize being composed for being a purse of $200.

A feature of yesterday's programme was an exciting lacrosse match between Vancouver and Westminster for the Western championship for 1905, the latter team winning out by a score of four to one. It will be interesting to Peterborough people to hear that Fred. Lynch is still in the game out here, and in the game yesterday was of great assistance to the team, Westminster. He scored the first goal in six minutes.

The B. C. Electrical Railway has a very good service as between Vancouver and New Westminster and can handle 12,000 people a day quite easily. They transported the 6th Regt. of Vancouver and the 5th Regt. of Victoria to the Exhibition grounds to-day, where a drumhead service will be given by the massed bands. To-morrow, Monday, a military and naval exhibition will be put on by the two regiments and a detachment of marines and sailors from H. M. S. Shearwater.

During an exhibition of broncho busting the other day, one of the "bronks" made a dash for a "bunch" of spectators and knocked a man and a boy down, but they were not seriously hurt. The show is put on by several cow boys from up-country ranches and is both interesting and exciting to watch, the horses seemingly are possessed with a desire to stand on their heads, perform a cakewalk, or in fact, do almost anything but what is right.

The main avenue at the fair is known as "Sockeye Run" and is lined on both sides with all kinds of side shows, Ferris Wheels, merry-go-rounds, and refreshment booths and all seem to be doing a thriving business, despite the rather inclement weather. British Columbians seem to mind the rain about as much as the people in Ontario do a couple of inches of snow in the middle of winter.

Mr. Donald McGregor, of Toronto, who is, I think, quite a favourite in Peterborough, made a great hit while here. He is touring with the Irish Guards' Band, which he joined in Toronto. All the newspapers here are giving him great puffs for his splendid work.

The Ottawa Capital lacrosse team arrived here yesterday and sized up the game played between Vancouver and New Westminster. They think that the game as played out here is slightly more strenuous than that played in the east and are asking for two referees in their games here. They think that one cannot watch all the rough work and I think they are pretty nearly right. Their are several lacrosse matches to be played here this week between Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and the Caps. The latter seem to have the poor end of the betting, for the present, but you can't tell what may happen.

The fair winds up next Saturday and has so far been very successful. 10,000 people were on the grounds yesterday afternoon, many going from this city to take in the lacrosse match. Though they returned home rather disappointed at the result of the game they were satisfied that they got the worth of their money as the game was fast from start to finish.

The Trial of Charles Gow

two men on the road, north of the barn shout, "A mob! a mob!" James and William Dewart, whose voices he recognized, are his wife's nephews. When the party behind the barn was shouting the other party was about at the knoll by the gate. The next thing he heard was the bullet strike the end of the house. He was then at the front door. He heard the report of the gun. After the first shot he heard the report of the second, which appeared to be upon the road farther to the south than the first. He heard nothing but the report. Mabel came down stairs, and said her hand was bleeding. She said that Tommy had been shot. Willie was at the door crouched down. The third bullet struck the verandah about the height of his son's breast from the ground. Witness went up stairs. It was quite light at the time. Tommy was lying face down upon the floor with his head to the east. Tommy was dead when he went up. There was blood upon the floor. Witness carried the dead boy down stairs. Witness here became visibly affected. The boy was in robust health. Witness did not look for bullet holes until next day.

To Mr. Donnistoun witness stated that it was the constable who had found the bullet holes in the house. Dr. Douglas took one bullet out of the house and Archie Moore, another. The third was found later in the day by Mr. Cochrane, but was not extracted till about a week later. He had heard shouts from the buggy in the voice of Ed. Dewart say "Bill's come out in your shirt-tails." Witness stated that he may have been mistaken in saying at preliminary investigation that the people in the buggy had said nothing. He denied saying that Ed. Dewart had said nothing. He had not heard them till they were south of the barn. He was certain that James and William Dewart were there. He had heard their voices behind the barn, "A mob! A mob!" and "Let her fly!" Witness was positive upon this point. Witness did not know that Gow was in the buggy, but knew there was a stranger there.

He had heard the report of the rifle and the sound of the bullet when it struck the house. The moon was just about raising and shed enough light to enable one to see without a light.

The witness has in the house two guns, a rifle and revolver. He carried the latter for protection. He had heard the report of the third shot, but did not see the flash. He was just inside the door. The evidence he had given previously may be wrongly reported.

Witness had been unfortunate before in criminal life. He had been in penitentiary, upon a charge of attempted murder, and also served a term for stealing later. He denied being convicted at another time for stealing.

To Mr. Wood witness stated that the first charge against him was laid thirty-five or forty years ago, and the second, twenty-five or thirty years ago.

The Little Girl's Evidence.

Mabel Hill, the little sister of Thomas Edward Hill, stated that on the night of the shooting she was sleeping in the bed with her brother. She was nearest the window. She heard shouts of "A mob! a mob!" She and Tommy got up and went to the window to look out. She was nearest the road and was stooping down to look out. Tommy was also stooping. She had heard a buggy upon the road, and had seen the blaze of a shot, and heard a bullet strike the end of the house. She had then heard another shot which struck her finger, and Kentered Tommy's breast. Dr. Douglas saw it the next morning. When the bullet struck him, Tommy said, "I'm shot! Mamma!" and fell backwards from the window. Tommy had put the window up when they heard the noise. She afterwards heard a third shot when she was turning away from the window to go downstairs. When she got downstairs, Willie and her father and mother were coming in from outside through the screen door. The bed has always been in the same position.

Cross-examined by Mr. Donnistoun, witness remembered telling him that she thought that she saw a man. The little witness here broke down, sobbing pitifully. She knew Stewart Murphy well. He lives not far away. She had said before that she thought he was standing upon the third knoll. She thought she saw his face behind the flash. She knew Mr. Wells. He had talked to her about the case, and told her that she did not see Stewart Murphy. She did not remember saying she did. There were some men behind the barn who said, "A mob! a mob!" Witness stated that she was wrong in saying at Norwood and at the inquest that she had seen Stewart Murphy twice. She thought that she saw Stewart Murphy standing up with his face towards the house. KWas not right in saying she saw his face behind the flash. There was nothing else to show her Stewart Murphy except the flash. She had heard a buggy, which was a distance of two or three minutes back from where she had seen the flash. Tommy fell beside the foot of the bed. He had nothing except a shirt on. It was not usual for her and Tommy to occupy the same room; she had been sleeping in that room for a week or two.

To Mr. Meredith the witness said Mr. Wells had asked her what had happened. She had heard the buggy between the gate and the knoll.

George Cochrane, High Constable, sworn, testified that upon his arrival the day after the shooting he had found two bullet holes, one in the side of the house and another at the upper window; the third had Kbeen found later. Upon his arrival the bed was standing with the head to the west. From the window to the bed was a distance of about four feet. The foot of the bed was a little farther east than where the boy fell. After examining the house witness went to see Stewart and William Murphy, and also talked to the Hill family, and the Dewarts. He saw Gow at Warsaw on the next morning. Witness was at the hotel when Gow and Miller arrived. One of them enquired if he were at Hill's on the previous day. Witness said he was. Gow then said to witness, "I am the man who did the shooting." Witness and Gow went inside. Gow said that he had fired three or four shots in the direction of Hill's house at about 12 o'clock. When asked as to the reason why he had shot, Gow stated that he had been shot at before when passing Hill's. Witness recognized the exhibit of a piece of board which the bullet had entered. The board was about two feet six inches from the corner of the house and about four feet from the ground. The bullet mark in the bed was somewhat higher than the bottom of the window.

In cross-examination by Mr. Donnistoun, witness stated that Gow had told him that he had not put the rifle to his shoulder when he shot. There was no shadow of suspicion upon Gow before his arrest.

Archie Moore, County Constable, swore that he had arrested Gow in Peterborough on George street. He had seen Gow previously at Warsaw and the latter had made some statement, but was warned by witness. Gow stated to him that he had fired three shots in the direction of the house with the rifle over his left arm. A fourth had been shot into an elm tree.

Dr. Douglas Testifies.

Dr. Thomas Douglas, of Warsaw, testified that he had gone to Hill's upon the day after the shooting. The first thing he did upon his arrival was to examine the hand of the little girl, the middle finger of whose left hand was injured. While discussing the wound, Mrs. Hill told him that a shot had been fired which injured the finger and also struck the boy. When he saw the body he found a wound in the breast about one inch in diameter, and also a wound upon the back slightly to the left of the spinal column at about the eleventh rib. The wound was made obliquely. He had examined the bed clothes and had found the bullet imbedded in the wood. He extracted the bullet. He did not know the calibre.

Cross-examined by Mr. Donnistoun, witness stated that the bullet hole had frayed edges. The wound was located at about the second rib. The wound in the back was smaller.

The edges of the wound in front were dark in colour. There was no indication of gowder. He would not swear that the wound was not made in the back.

The Coroner's Evidence.

Dr. J. W. Gray, coroner, testified that he had held an inquest upon the body of Thos. Edw. Hill on August 26. The last time he had seen the bullets, which were produced at the inquest, they were upon the table. Asked to describe the bullet produced by Dr. Douglas, he said it was almost intact. There was a small dent on one side. The grooves were not disturbed.

To Mr. Donnistoun witness stated that there would be a difference in the size of a puncture made by a 38 and a 44-calibre bullet. There is 6-100 of an inch difference. It would be trimming a statement pretty fine to get down to a fraction of 6-100 of an inch.

Crown Case Closes.

The witnesses examined this afternoon were Edward Dewart, the man who drove with Gow in the buggy; Dr. Young, Dr. Bradd and Detective Wells. This closed the case for the Crown.

The first evidence taken for the defence was that of William Hill.

A Non-Jury Case.

The non-jury case of Turner vs. Hamlink, heard yesterday at the Assizes, resulted in a judgment for the plaintiff, Jane Ann Turner, who was awarded $95 and Division Court costs. The amount of the difference between Division and High Court costs to be paid to defendant by the plaintiff.

The case, it was ruled, was one coming properly under Division Court jurisdiction. The difference in costs will probably be heavy.

A rich man died the other day. He died in the very midsummer of life, and he left his family $1,000,000. The doctor's certificate showed that death resulted from typhoid fever. The doctor himself said to a friend: "That man was a suicide. He had a splendid constitution. I could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by hasty meals, snatched in intervals of business and by neglect of symptoms which have been warning him a year past, that his stomach was failing in its duties."

The symptoms of a disordered stomach are, among others, variable appetite, sour risings, heartburn, undue fullness after eating, dull headache, dingy complexion, discolored eye, fluctuations in physical strength, nervousness, sleeplessness or peevishness. No person will have all these symptoms at once.

The restoration of the stomach to sound health, begins with the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The cure progresses until the functions of the stomach are in healthy operation. Then the nerves are quiet and strong, the appetite healthful, the sleep restful, the eye bright, the complexion clear.

"Please accept my thanks for the benefit which my child received from your medicine," writes Mrs. W. A. Morgan, of Silton, Ohio. "He had been troubled for nearly a year with liver complaint, indigestion and constipation. I gave him your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and they did him great good. I gave him the 'Discovery' about eight months, and several vials of the 'Pellets.' He seemed to be perfectly well now."

If you want a cure accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Those ORIGINAL Little Liver pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago, have been many imitated but never equaled. They're made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles extracted from native American roots and plants. Dear Sir,—Will you ask the aldermanic magnates to tell us why the wandering part in its occasional journeyings stops short at Cross street opposite Mr. McCreary's residence and does not sprinkle the rest of Gilmour street west? I should like to know why distinctions are made between citizens in a matter of public convenience.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Our council get so much abuse these days that perhaps a word of commendation might be extremely welcome, as the season for elections approaches. As one who uses the road a great deal, I wish to express my appreciation of the road improvement on McDonel street west and also Hunter street, between Water street and the bridge. We ought to have more of it. Also the new crossings are all right.

DRIVER.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—What do our city despots mean by putting down crossings on streets intersecting George street, and none on George street? True, they pretend they are going to pave George street, but judging by the rate they move that won't be for years, and in the meantime the public using George street will have to use the beautiful mud crossings. The aldermanic mind is a massive conundrum and I give it up. Can you tell me, Mr. Editor, how they spend so much intellect in devising means not to do things?

Life Would Have More Happiness

If The Liver Were Kept Active By the Use Of

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Most people realize that, if they could only avoid the suffering of indigestion and keep the bowels regular and active life would have for them much more of comfort and happiness.

We believe that these results are best accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and let us tell you why.

It is the liver, which, by filtering bile from the blood and passing it into the intestines, ensures good digestion, and the natural, healthful action of the bowels. Keep the liver active, and you are sure of the proper working of the digestive and excretory systems.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and specific action on the liver. By invigorating this great filtering organ they guarantee the collection of bile from the blood, where it is poison, and the passing of it to the intestines, where it is necessary for digestion and a proper action of the bowels.

It is not as a mere relief from indigestion and constipation that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are recommended, but as a thorough and lasting cure. Put them to the test. The dose is one pill at bed time, as often as is necessary to keep the bowels regular.

Mr. J. Edwards, of Colborne, Ont., and who is employed by the Kennedy and Davis Milling Company, Lindsay, Ont., states:—"I have been taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for some time, and can positively say that they are the best medicine I ever used. I was troubled very very much with my kidneys and had dreadful pains in my back, which were increased by leaning over.

"I can testify to the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills because they have cured me, and shall gladly recommend them to anyone enquiring about them."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

REV. FR. FITZPATRICK
GIVES AN ADDRESS
ON "SELF EDUCATION"

At Last Night's Opening Meeting of St. Peter's T.A.S. ---Hall Packed to the Doors by an Appreciative Audience---Presentation of Medal to Miss M. A. O'Connell---Programme Presented.

A large and delightful audience last night packed to the doors the T. A. S. Hall upon the occasion of the opening meeting of the society. The charming programme presented more than justified the expectations of the large assembly, which placed standing room at a premium early in the evening.

The chief feature of the evening was, of course, the address given by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, upon "Self-Education," the subject being treated by the speaker in a broad and comprehensive manner, in which much information of practical value was imparted. The quaint touches of delicate humour, presented in the speaker's inimitable manner, sparkled forth throughout the address and lent to it an added charm.

Presentation and Programme.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the presentation by Rev. Father McColl to Miss M. A. O'Connell of a medal presented by the Ladies' Literary Society for the best essay handed in during the past season. The subject of Miss O'Connell's contribution was "Canadian Poets," and

REV. FATHER FITZPATRICK,
Who Gave the Lecture at the T. A. S Literary Society Last Night.

her clever work has won for her much appreciative comment.

The medal, which is a handsome trophy of solid gold, bore the following engraving: "Miss Annie O'Connell: presented by Rev. M. J. O'Brien, D.D., for Prize Essay, T. A. S. Literary Association, 1904-05."

The chair was occupied last night by Mr. Robert G. Begley. The first number was a pianoforte selection by Gavatte, by Bach, cleverly rendered by Miss Myrtle Kline. Mr. Vernon Menphot contributed a vocal solo, "The Song of the Reaper," in good voice and with musicianly interpretation. Miss Bernadette Hackett's vocal solo drew from the audience a most enthusiastic applause, to which she was forced to respond.

Work of the T. A. S.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, in his opening remarks, spoke of the large assemblage, which brought a reminder of the fact of the inadequate size of the hall. The new one, now in course of construction, would, however, be of ample size to accommodate all to meet all requirements.

The speaker then passed on to remark upon the magnitude and importance of the work of the society, paying a tribute to the energy and tireless efforts of Rev. Dr. O'Brien, the result of which, to the members, was a moral and pecuniary standing which otherwise would not be attained. A hearty co-operation had been lent by members, and the result was one for which they had every reason to feel grateful to Almighty God. In the neighbouring parish of Ennismore the work was carried on with no less earnestness, and under the same difficulties with which Rev. Dr. O'Brien was forced to contend.

Self Education.

Speaking with reference to the subject of the evening, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick first commented upon the vital question to young men involved in the choosing of a profession or vocation in life. There are some who claim that it makes no difference as to what the choice may be so long as one enters upon it with earnestness and zeal. If we be what God and nature has intended us to be, remarked the speaker, we will be happy; if not, unhappy. Everyone has an inborn aptitude for a certain work in life. This was illustrated in the boyhood of many of the greatest men, and examples were cited of the youthful propensities of the great Napoleon, Lord Nelson, Michael Angelo, Smeaton and others, which were but foreshadowings of the great careers which followed. The success of the Jesuit priests, one of the greatest bodies of educationists in the world, resulted from the study of the aptitude of their students who were thus placed in their proper positions, as God intends. Parents should study the character and actions of their children to give them a chance to develop along the lines for which they are most fitted. Many foolish fathers and mothers choose for a child a profession because they consider it a more honourable career than the handling of a hoe, and after a degree is obtained, honours are pressed thick upon his empty head. It is better, the speaker continued, to be a bootblack than a brieftess lawyer, seated, perhaps, in a cob-webbed room, like notcessity, "knowing no law." The point was illustrated by many anecdotes narrated in a manner in which the humourous aspect proved most infectious.

Parents are not always a reliable guide to the choosing of a profession in life, imagining, as they frequently do, through over-fondness, that their children are fitted for any walk in life. Once it is ascertained what a boy is best intended for, let him stand firmly by the decision. An all-round man is seldom a success in the present day when there is too much to learn. The present is not an age of the universal knowledge. Cicoros and Dantes are not to be found. The great advances during the past half century preclude the idea of attempting to acquire a mastery of more than one subject. In physical science alone more has been discovered within that period than had been previous to that since the beginning of the world. One thousand things must be left unlearned to master one. This lesson is taught in the lives of Davy, Moore, Harvey, Adam, Smith, Edward Gibbon and a host of others.

Concentration.

Concentration of aim is essential. In political life, those who have succeeded have been politicians first, last and always. The early boyhood struggles of Pitt were referred to, in illustration, and the efforts of the great statesman in fitting himself for his brilliant parliamentary career described.

In the days gone by there were more masters of the English language than there were to-day. Why? inquired the speaker. Because more time was spent in the study of English and the classics. Our university curriculum of to-day is too extensive. The power of teachers, whom Parson Adams classed as the greatest of all characters in the moulding of the plastic mind of youth, was commented upon. True education not only trains the mind, but trains the heart, and any which starves all faculties but one is injurious. The direct benefits in character building of the overcoming of difficulties is often greater than any assistance one may receive. Many of the best men are those whose cradles were rocked in the humble cottage.

As to Money-Making

The speaker, in the concluding portion of his remarks, dealt comprehensively with the question of the acquirement of money, which was, in many respects, a strong educative influence. The besetting dangers, both of a life amid conditions of affluence and poverty, were pointed out. The self-denial entailed in acquiring money was a commendable virtue if not carried to penurious extremes.

The folly of a spendthrift existence was pointed out, and the many influences leading to this commented upon. The principle cultivated by saving is really of more prime importance than the amount saved. Debt should under all circumstances be avoided, destroying, as it does, the independence of the individual.

At the conclusion of the address a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the speaker on motion by Inspector O'Brien, seconded by Rev. Father Barthentory, of Hastings. Rev. Father Phelan also added a few remarks.

Miss Lavina Hallihan then rendered with exquisite effect an Ave Maria. The "Message of the Rose" was given in good voice and musicianly interpretation by Mr. J. King.

The accompaniments of the evening were played with sympathetic taste by Mrs. W. J. Morrow, who had charge of the musical part of the programme, much of whose success was due to her clever supervision, all the performers who acquitted themselves cleverly being her pupils.

Complimentary To Mac's Ads.

In the October issue of the Canadian Cigar and Tobacco Journal, the centre of the page on "Retail Advertising," is taken up with a reproduction of one of Mr. T. McDonough's cigar advertisements, displayed, as it appeared, in a September issue of the Examiner. The expert who contributes to this interesting page of the Journal, speaks in the following complimentary terms of Mac's "advt."

"I have chosen for special mention this month an advertisement of Mac's cigar store, in Peterborough. It contains a good forcible story told in a good forcible way. A good introduction that is sure to catch the eye of a smoker, then after drawing attention to his new stock he gets right down to business, and quotes prices on his own leaders, finishing up with a polite invitation to drop in and see the sporting bulletin after seven o'clock. The ad. is a good one, and I am sure if followed up by a series as strong as the sample the results will be most satisfying.

"There is only one thing that I would add to it, and that is the name of the town at the last. It should be remembered that a large number of papers are sent out daily to the surrounding towns and villages. You can look for business from readers in these places, as well as in the home town. Let them know where you are situated."

This is the second occasion during the past three months that the Journal has made special mention of Mac's ads.

Wants to Postpone Public Meeting

A prominent business man called upon the Examiner to-day to say that in his opinion it was a mistake to hold the meeting for the purpose of considering the question of improved fire protection on Wednesday night. The Irish Guards Band, has been engaged to play here and since this will be an opportunity of a life time to hear such a musical organization, the great majority of the business men and manufacturers will want to attend the concert, consequently it will be impossible to get as representative a gathering at the meeting in the Council Chamber as there should be to discuss a matter of so much importance to the citizens and property owners.

He expressed the hope that the meeting would be postponed.

Returned From Purchasing Trip

Mr. A. H. Stratton, of the Peterborough Bookstore, returned last night from New York, where he spent a week on his semi-annual purchasing trip in the interests of the Bookstore. Mr. Stratton reports the trip as having been a pleasant one, and that he was successful in securing some especially attractive Christmas novelties, including books in fancy bindings, and the latest books. He also picked up some particularly good lines of stationery, leather, as well as other goods, which will be here in time for the holiday trade, which this season promises to be more brisk at the Peterborough Bookstore than ever before.

Cesspool Was A Nuisance

Jos. Hecley Did Not Pay the Dog Tax.

At the police court this morning a resident of the north end was charged with having a nuisance in the shape of a cesspool upon his premises. He claimed that in spite of petitions to the Council he had no sewer connection for his property. The Magistrate enlarged the case for a week and warned him against using the cesspool in the meantime.

Jas. Hecley was charged with keeping a bitch without paying the necessary license for it to live. The Magistrate imposed a fine of $2 and costs.

JURY SAYS GOW IS GUILTY OF DEATH OF THOS. HILL

A Strong Recommendation to Mercy is a Rider in the Verdict---Fourth Act of Celebrated Case Closes in a Dramatic Manner at Assizes This Afternoon---Addresses of Counsel and Judge's Charge Concluded at Noon---Verdict Reached at 2.30 O'clock After Two Hours Deliberation.

The curtain fell upon the fourth act of the celebrated Gow case this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, when, after two hours deliberation, the jury returned to the court room at the Assizes, with a verdict of "Guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy."

As the jury filed in, a hush of expectancy fell upon the densely-crowded court room, and towards the foreman, as he pronounced the words, all eyes were turned. In the interval which followed scarcely a quiver could be heard throughout the room. A look of keen disappointment overspread the faces of many, and for the moment the prisoner seated in the box, was the cynosure of all eyes. His composure was momentarily disturbed, and he was observed to bite his lips slightly, as in disappointment, and gave a slight convulsive movement, as if labouring under intense mental excitement.

CHARLES GOW,
The Prisoner Convicted This Morning of Manslaughter.

Many Dummer friends of Gow who were present, while they, of course, recognised the strength of case of the Crown, against the prisoner, hoped for an acquittal, and while they were disappointed, were not surprised at the result.

The prisoner will probably receive sentence in the morning. In view of the nature of the verdict it is most difficult to even surmise the probable sentence, though many express the opinion that it will not be heavy.

The jury upon the case was composed as follows:—

Andrew Brown, Foreman.
Harry Snider.
Robert Taylor.
Robert Sheris.
Richard Coughlan.
Thomas Emmerson.
R. H. Fortye.
Thomas Wood.
Erastus W. Wood.
George Hutchinson.
Charles Greene.
Roland Johnston.

Addresses Given This Morning

The conclusion of the addresses of the respective counsel and the charge to the Jury of Mr. Justice Street was reached at noon to-day, and at 12.30 o'clock the jury retired.

The attendance at the Court this morning was considerably larger than that of yesterday and a keen interest was manifested in the proceedings.

The address of R. M. Dennistoun, counsel for the defence was commenced upon the opening of the court at 9.30 o'clock. A strong and eloquent plea was advanced by the counsel upon behalf of his client, and his words produced a visible effect upon his auditors. Prominence was given to the theory advanced by the defence that the shot had possibly originated from within the house, and that the fatal shot had been fired from behind, entering the boy's back, as it was thought to have done by Dr. Greer.

The address of Crown Prosecutor Meredith was a strongly worded argument in which a conviction was urged. The address was not to such an extent a review of the evidence, as an effort to impress upon the jury what was held by the speaker to be an obvious duty.

The charge of Mr. Justice Street was a careful and dispassionate review of the facts of the case, and was practically confined to this, the inferences being left wholly to the decision of the jury. The Judge concluded his charge at about 12.30 o'clock, when the jurors withdrew.

Mr. Dennistoun's Address.

Mr. Dennistoun commenced his address upon the opening of the Court at 9.30 o'clock o'clock.

In his opening remarks he stated that the evidence given yesterday had been repeated three times and it had been practically the same on all these occasions. He gave the jury five or six points on any one of which it would be their duty to discharge the prisoner. In the first place the evidence of Mabel Hill, Wm. Hill and Robt. Hill, Jr., went to prove that they believed the man who fired the shot was Stewart Murphy, who was standing a good way from the buggy in which Gow and Edward Dewart were driving. Three witnesses stood in the box and swore that it was Stewart Murphy who fired those shots, and Murphy was never called by the Crown to deny it.

The Crown had also undertaken to prove that the little boy was shot by a bullet which came from a rifle in the hands of Chas. Gow. So far as the evidence showed the bullet might have been in the mud pont for years. The bullet was left on the dining room table of the Hills house and at disappeared at the inquest. Now if that bullet had been a 38 calibre it would have thrown suspicion on the nearest owner of a 38 calibre rifle which was young Hill.

Now four witnesses swear that there was a shot fired from the Hills house that night. Two of them said that they saw the flash of the shot. Only Robt. Hill Sr., said that there was no shot fired from the house.

On considering the wound which the boy received, Dr. Greer's evidence must be borne in mind as to the position of the splintered rib which would indicate that the shot embarked from the back driving the rib inward and came out at the chest. But the strong evidence with regard to that bullet was that anyone who had ever fired a rifle and three witnesses were called to prove that a bullet makes a small wound at the point of entrance and a larger tearing wound at exit. There was nothing but the statement of the little girl that she thought the bullet entered through the window. If through some blunder or accident the rifle had gone off down stairs it could have come through the floor entered the boy's back, came out at the chest and struck the little girl's finger in the same way.

Then young Hill said that when he went down stairs that night he did not go up again to his brother Thomas' room. Young Murphy said that he had told him that he did go back. Which was right? Also every member of the Hill family swore that William and James Dewart were behind the barn that night. But Miss Dewart had said that her brothers were not out that night. The Hills said they had heard them call out, "Let her fly," and immediately someone shot, and Robt. Hill put up a statement never heard before, that some man in a buggy cried "Hands up," "mob, mob." If it was true that Jas. and William Dewart were down behind the barn, and that there was this man in the buggy and that Stewart Murphy was over on the knoll doing the shooting, it was evident that these circumstances must have taken place after Gow had gone, because it was clear from the evidence that Gow was never there in such a combination. Now, there was one branch of the evidence which he would go into with great confidence and satisfaction. It was the evidence given by Charles Gow himself, who took the most unusual course of standing up in his own defence, and frankly making his statement, inviting the most severe and bitter cross-examination. He stood in the box and gave his evidence in such a way as could not help but convince everyone that he was telling the truth. He was going down to Ottawa to shoot in the rifle matches, and for the purpose of making some arrangements for getting down to the station, he went to see his friend, Edward Dewart, and they drove, as they had often done before, out to the Dewarts. Ed. Dewart had lent his brother his rifle, and he thought that he would take the rifle home. When Gow had untied the horse he got in on the left side, and, as Dewart was on the right side, he naturally took up the lines to drive, a thing that they had often done before. Then, when opposite the Hills' house, the boys in the exuberance of their spirits, commenced cheering. Then they hear a shot fired from the Hill house. Gow takes his rifle and holding it in such a manner as would prevent him doing any damage to the Hill house, fired three shots, which the Crown did not allege to be an unnatural thing to do. They merely claim that through carelessness the boy was shot. Did the shot that Gow fired kill Hill? The evidence was all the other way. The young man's character had stood the test of the searchlight of public opinion in a wonderful way. It took twelve men of course to come to a conclusion in the matter, and he asked the jury to consider carefully the five points he had submitted: 1st, Did Stewart Murphy fire the shot? 2nd, the bullet, 3rd, the wound; 4th, the unknown men behind the barn; and 5th, the mysterious shot from the Hills.

In conclusion, he exhorted them to do their duty, by their God, their country, and also by the prisoner at the bar.

Address of Crown Prosecutor.

Mr. Meredith in his opening remarks, congratulated his learned friend upon his very able address, and with making the most possible out of the case. He pointed out to the jury that they must remain unbiassed by any outside influence or feeling. He had been told upon the public streets of Peterborough that there was no chance of his obtaining a conviction with the present jury, as a number of them were friends of the counsel for the defence, but although he was a stranger here, he believed from the manner in which they had watched the evidence that nothing would interfere with their rendering a fair and impartial verdict. The defence had said that the Hills made certain statements that Murphy fired the shot, and they no doubt stated what they believed to be true, but that fact had nothing to do with it, as from the evidence of the prisoner himself, the shots were fired by him. What were the admitted facts? The prisoner came to the Dewarts, and the Murphys and young Gallagher were there. They left the house. Edward Dewart got in the buggy and drove the prisoner's horse with, but a word being said about it. The Murphys and Gallagher went ahead. There was only one weapon, and that

Gressman's

A Big Blaze At Marmora

Marmora, Ont., Oct. 11.—Marmora was last night visited by another disasterous fire. The fire started at three o'clock this morning in St. James' Hotel sheds, burning the cement arabies and drove sheds, Warren's blacksmith shop, Wiggons & Gray's barn, sheds and storehouse, Dr. W. G. MacKechnie's stable, J. W. Pearce's storehouse and barn, Mrs. C. W. Bleecker's residence, Mrs. Geo. Bleecker's residence, Glenaby McDonnell's store, Dr. Jones' residence, Mrs. Wilkinson's residence and B. C. McCoy's residence. The Pearce lumber yards caught, but the fire put out before doing much damage. There was a high wind blowing, but the rain started to come down quite heavily, and no doubt this saved the town from being a total ash heap this morning, as there is no fire protection of any kind.

Postponement Was Granted In The McAuliffe Case

The case of Patrick McAuliffe, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Frederick Hudson at the Royal Hotel, in June last, has been adjourned until the Spring Assizes.

When the case was called at Court this morning, Crown Prosecutor Meredith stated that the Crown was not at present prepared to proceed, owing to the fact that some important evidence was not at present available, and requested the adjournment of proceedings.

To this strong objection was taken by Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, counsel for the defence, who urged that it should not be held over for various reasons, chief of which was the fact that the death had occurred in June last, and the intervening time had therefore been ample for the preparation of the case, and that a delay might in various ways affect the case of, and be an injustice to, the prisoner.

The Judge, however, agreed to the postponement and bail was again fixed upon his order. This was reduced from the original amount of $7,000 to $4,000, in two sureties—Eugene Maloney and Philip Crough, of $2,000 each.

The prisoner appeared in Court, and does not appear in any way affected by the strain under which he notoriously has been during the past few days.

Examination Of Witnesses Concluded Last Evening

Startling New Feature to Gow Manslaughter Case Brought Out in Evidence of Physician Who Assisted at Post-Mortem—Prisoner Gives His Testimony in a Nonchalant Manner—Evidence Was in Many Respects a Repetition of That Previously Given.

Yesterday afternoon saw the close of the now famous Gow case as far as the evidence was concerned, and at six o'clock the counsel for the defence announced that he had presented his case, and all that then remained was for the Crown prosecutor and the counsel for the defence to address the jury, and the judge to deliver his charge, which was the first proceeding this morning when the court opened at nine thirty. It is doubtful if ever in the history of the county a case had been tried in which greater interest has been taken than that in which Charles Gow was charged with having caused the death of Thomas Edward Hill, and an evidence of this universal interest was the very large number of persons who crowded into the court room during the two sittings of the court yesterday. A very large proportion of those present were residents of the township in which the affair occurred, and these took a deep interest in the progress of the trial.

A considerable portion of the evidence brought out yesterday was along the same lines as that at the preliminary hearing, but at the afternoon sitting the theory upon which the defence rested was revealed, and that theory was none other than that the shot which had caused young Hill's death was fired from behind, and not from the front—from the inside of the house, not the outside, as the Crown was trying to prove.

The only evidence which supported this theory was that of Dr. Greer, one of the three physicians who performed the post-mortem examination upon the body of the deceased. Dr. Greer stated that in his opinion, based on the state of the wounds, the shot had entered the body from the back, and the bullet had emerged from the chest. His reason for coming to this conclusion was the fact that the wound in the back was smaller than that in the front of the body, which, according to his belief, would show that the shot came from behind. Another circumstance which substantiated his theory in this direction was the fact that the rib which was fractured by the bullet was slanting towards the front of the body instead of towards the back.

In this statement, however, he was at variance with the opinion of the other two doctors, who were associated with him in making the post-mortem examination, for both gave evidence that the splintered rib was towards the back.

Mr. Denniston also sought to prove by witnesses that William Hill, the eldest brother of the deceased, had told them that after hearing the noise on the road on the night of the shooting he had gone into the room in which the boy, who is now dead, and his sister were sleeping, before he had gone downstairs, but His Lordship ruled that this could not be accepted as evidence, and William Hill, when questioned himself on the subject, said that he had not gone into the room prior to having gone downstairs. What he evidently intended to show was that William Hill had, on hearing the shots, run, with his loaded rifle in his hand, into his brother's room, and that, accidentally doubtless, the rifle had been discharged, and the bullet had entered his brother's body.

The greatest interest was centred in Gow, and when he was called into the witness box to give the evidence upon which his fate would largely depend, the stillness in the court room was intense. His evidence was largely a repetition in effect of his previous statements, but in one particular it was more positive. Yesterday he swore that he was certain that on the night on which the affair occurred he had heard a shot fired from the Hill house before he fired his first shot, whereas previously he said that he was "almost sure." He did not take kindly to the severe cross-examination to which he was subjected by Mr. Meredith, but held to his story that the shots which came from his rifle were fired entirely at random, and he was equally positive that they were not close enough to the house to have hit the boy, his statement being that none of them were nearer than one hundred yards.

The Evidence.

At the afternoon session of the court Ed. Dewart was the first witness called. He was in the crowd that raided the Hill house that night. He admitted that he was a bitter enemy of Hills. He was a friend of Gow, and on the night of August 24 he and Gow met at Dewart's home with Gow's horse and buggy and drove to William and James Dewart's house, which is north of Hills. He went for the sake of the air. While there he was joined by James Dewart, Stewart Murphy and Gallagher. He got there about nine o'clock. The others arrived about half an hour later. He stayed there over two hours, talking and amusing themselves, until about 11.20. He called for the rifle and was going to take it home. He heard Constable Moore's evidence regarding taking the rifle for protection, but he said that it was wrong. The rifle belonged to witness, but had been at Dewart's for a month and a half. He thought he would take it home. They left the house at 11.30. The horse was tied to the fence. Dewart carried the rifle to the buggy. Gow untied the horse. Dewart drove. He said it was customary for him to drive some times. He had said nothing about driving to Gow. Gow carried the rifle when he got into the rig, and was sitting on the side nearest Hill's house. Gow is a crack shot, and witness was not much of a shot. Murphy and Gallagher were ahead walking. They left a few minutes in advance, so as to get home. Witness' gun was the only gun there. The others were about three hundred yards in advance. Gow and Dewart started to trot the horse to make headway. He heard a noise of shouting, but could not hear what was said. Gow had one hand on the rifle and the witness was driving. The butt of the rifle was in the bottom of the buggy and the barrel in Gow's hand. The top of the buggy was turned back. The two Murphys and Gallagher were the only persons on the road. He passed Hill's place and had not gone very far when he considered he heard a shot from Hills at their gate. They went on a short distance when Gow fired a shot. He did not see Gow fire the shot. No word was passed between the witness and Gow before the shot was fired. The gun was pointing to the east before the shot was fired. Gow fired another shot, but he did not see either shot fired. Between the first and second shots they travelled perhaps twenty yards or more. He did not know why the second shot was fired. The rig was going pretty fast at the time, and after going on a short distance again another shot was fired, but he did not know why, as no word was passed between him and Gow. They then caught up to the rest of the crowd after going about two hundred yards. He could give no reason why Gow fired the shots. Witness went straight home afterwards. Going home after they passed the other boys, witness' asked Gow "Are you sure none of those shots passed near Hill's house?" Gow said he thought not as they were too high. He heard no other shots except those which he thought were fired from Hill's. The next afternoon about half past two he went over to see Gow. This was before he heard of the boy's death. He told Gow then that he heard there was trouble at Hill's the night before. This was not the sole reason why he went there, but there was no particular reason why he went, outside of this.

Gow showed him something he had been doing, and witness told Gow that he heard there was trouble at Hill's on the preceding night. Gow said that it did not bother him as he had done no harm. He was at Gow's about twenty or twenty-five minutes. He heard that the boy was dead about three o'clock that afternoon. He did not go to see Gow again that day, but saw his brothers and Gallagher.

When they caught up to the boys on the road the night of the shooting, Gallagher said he heard Hills fire a shot, but Gow remarked that he had not done them because he had fired more shots. To Mr. Denniston witness explained why Gow had driven him out to witness' brother's, which was to arrange for his brother James to drive Gow to Norwood. Upon going home that night witness suggested that he should take the rifle, which was his, home. It had been borrowed to shoot groundhogs. He did not know whether the rifle was loaded or not. Witness was driving and Gow steadied the rifle. The reason he was not sure that he heard the shot from Hill's was that the road was rough and gravelly, and the buggy made considerable noise.

Gow in shooting the rifle did not place it to his shoulder nor lean against witness. When he said that Gow fired at the house he did not mean to convey the idea that he aimed and fired at the house. The horse did not stop when shots were fired. The next day he saw the doctors going to Hill's, and knew by that that there was trouble there.

The persons who were ahead on foot were boys, two of them. He heard no shouts "a mob!" "let her fly!" or any other such words. James and William Dewart were home at the time.

To Mr. Meredith witness said that the buggy top was half down.

The Post-Mortem.

Dr. Young was the next witness to testify, and was examined by Mr. Wood. He had been instructed to perform a post-mortem on the body of the deceased.

He found that the body was about five feet in height, and was of a boy about 12 years of age. A hole was found just below the collar bone, also another on the back between the 10th and 11th ribs. The hole passed between the 1st and 2nd rib, and went through the heart and the left lung. The wound was sufficient to cause almost instant death. The boy would, however, be able to make exclamation, as this boy has said to have done. The wound showed that the shot had entered the body from the front.

The other organs in the body were as far as he could tell, normal.

Dr. Bradd was the next witness, and to Mr. Wood, he said that he had accompanied Dr. Young in this examination and agreed with him in his evidence. The fracture of the 10th rib showed that the shot had been fired from the front.

Mr. Wells the next witness said that he was the Government detective, and on Aug. 21st went up to the Hill locality. He saw the architect make the examination of the house and saw the bullet which was taken from the end of the house. The bullet was produced by Mr. Wells. The hole in the wood from which the bullet was taken would fit a 44 calibre bullet. The weight of a 44 calibre bullet is 200 grains, and that produced was 195 grains weight. Dewart's rifle was a 44 calibre, and Hill's was 38-55, or in other words a 38 calibre, and the bullet weighed 255 grains.

To Mr. Denniston witness said that it was by the weight that he told the calibre of the bullet which he had in his possession. This is the witnesses' first homicide case.

Witness denied having threatened young Gallagher that he would slap his face if he gave evidence at this trial similar to that which he had previously given.

To Mr. Wood witness said the rifle was sighted at 800 yards, and would kill at that.

This completed the case for the Crown.

Deceased's Brother's Story.

Willie Hill was the first witness for the defence and he told the story of the events of the night of the shooting. On hearing the disturbance he was in bed, and got rifle and went downstairs and went out into the hall, where he heard a shot, which was the second, the first having been heard on the way downstairs. The third shot he saw the flash, and heard the report. He saw a flash and thought he saw a face, which could probably have been Gow's, but he thought at the time it was Stewart Murphy's. It was only a thought which, he said, was not worth much. He heard James and Willie Dewart's voices behind the barn, as well as the three boys ahead. He also heard the buggy. The men behind the barn said "A mob! A mob," and "Let her fly." He heard three shots, and did not say that he heard more than the three.

Eczema Known By Intense Itching

IF NOT CURED IT SPREADS AND BECOMES CHRONIC—WHAT TO EXPECT FROM

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The stages of eczema are marked by redness of the skin—heat and inflammation — swelling — watery discharges—formation of a crust or scale and a most constant itching, varying from that which is simply annoying to that which is positively beyond human endurance.

The beginning is often neglected chaffing and skin irritation, or a small pimple or sore which has been poisoned by the clothing.

Too frequent washing is to be avoided but the affected parts should be thoroughly cleansed with Packer's Tar Soap and tepid water. After careful drying (not rubbing) with a soft towel, apply Dr. Chase's Ointment plentifully.

The ointment may seem a little severe at first but this is necessary to a thorough cleansing of the sores for relief from the dreadful itching will come after the first few applications and thorough cure will be the reward of persistent treatment.

One thing you can be certain of, and that is that you are not experimenting when you use Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, saltrheum, psoriasis, tetter and similar skin diseases. It has acquired its world-wide reputation by the positive cure of these very diseases, and while using it you can see that gradually and certainly it is allaying the inflamation and healing up the annoying and distressing sores.

Mr. Hiram Fry, Norwood, says: — "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on the leg. The itching was terrible and when scratched the blood would come. The doctors said they could not cure me. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left.

"My little girl, two years old, has also been cured of eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we had to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clean of even the scars which the ugly sores made and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven itself to us."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Saleswomen's Peril

GRAVE DISEASES, DUE TO STANDING

Facts About Miss Merkley's Dangerous Malady That Complete Cure

Have you ever thought why so many women or girls rather walk an hour than stand still for ten minutes?

It is because most women suffer from some derangement of their delicate organism, the discomfort of which is less trying when they are in motion than when standing.

In some states laws compel employers to provide resting places for their female employees.

But no amount of law can regulate the hard tasks of these women. They must get the strength which this work demands or run the risk of serious diseases and the surgeon's knife.

Read about the experience of Miss Margret Merkley, 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis.:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Gradual loss of strength, nervousness, bearing-down pains and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration of the womb, and advised an operation if I wanted to get well. I objected to this and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I soon found that all the good things said about this great medicine were true. The ulceration soon healed, backache, headache and nervousness disappeared, and in a short time I was strong, vigorous and perfectly well. I wish every working girl who suffers would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and strengthens the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the case of any sick woman as with Miss Merkley.

Doctor Hugo's Health Tablets

These tablets will cure all menstruation and uterine troubles even when chronic.

They take away the backache, constipation and dragging-down pains, which are symptoms of a run-down condition or some serious disorder.

As the weak and diseased organs (no matter which they may be) are made strong and well, that tired feeling, nervousness and irritability which come from a run-down condition, disappear.

Women are writing us every day testifying to their gain in health since taking these tablets. Improvement is noticed in a week's time.

A Midland Opera House Circuit Planned

The Lindsay Post says: The running of an opera house business seems to be a prosperous undertaking. Recently Lindsay's fine Academy of Music underwent extensive improvements, which, although not altogether completed, place Lindsay playhouse far above the average theatre. Improvements are also under way in Orillia opera house, which is owned by the town. The stage will be enlarged and in other ways the room will be remodelled. They expect to have a stage that will be exceeded in only four of the cities in the Dominion. Peterborough expects to open its new opera house the second week in November. It will be an up-to-date and commodious theatre and will get some of the very best plays.

With such good opera houses as Peterborough, Orillia, Belleville, Barrie and Lindsay will soon have, there should be no difficulty in the way of attracting first class companies, and we understand a movement is on foot to form a theatrical circuit comprising the Midland district. This venture will have the co-operation of Mr. Small of Toronto, manager of the Toronto circuit, which covers practically all Canada, and if the circuit were formed we might expect to get some of the attractions which appear at the Princess Theatre, Toronto, booked for Lindsay during the season of 1905-6 or 1906-7.

Mr. Edmonds Describes The Wheat Fields

Detroit City C. P. R. Agent Tells of Canada's Great West.

Is Related in This City, Where He Visited on the Trip Referred To.

The Detroit Journal in a recent issue contained the following article, which will be of interest to many local persons. Mr. Edmonds is a son-in-law of Mr. Wm. Cowie, Simcoe street, and visited here with Mrs Edmonds, who took the trip to the coast with her husband.

"A. E. Edmonds, local passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific, has just returned from a trip over the company's lines that took him from Montreal, through Ottawa, northern Ontario, Manitoba, the Northwest Provinces, British Columbia and down the Pacific Coast as far as Seattle, Wash. The trip occupied a month, and Mr. Edmonds enjoyed it to the utmost.

"Miles and miles of wheat fields, stretching from east of Winnipeg clear to the Rockies, met his gaze in Manitoba. It was a wonderfully inspiring sight, and Mr. Edmonds spent six days watching the rapid work of the harvesters. In two days alone 650 cars of wheat were moved out of Winnipeg by the C. P. R. R. The threshing of the immense yield was a novel spectacle to Mr. Edmonds.

"There are no barns in Manitoba, and the farmers draw their wheat directly to the thresher. This huge machine stood out alone in the prairie and was fed constantly with wheat. The straw was stacked to one side as it was thrown out, and so many farmers kept arriving, with great caravans of the staple that there was no chance to dispose of the stacks of straw that grew like hills during the day.

"At night they were fired, illuminating the prairie for miles around, while the freight cars hurried along on the nearby tracks laden with the precious staple that was found cast the garnish food for the rest of the world.

"Mr. Edmonds says the scenery along the north shore of Lake Superior and in the Rocky Mountains is too beautiful and grand for words to fully describe. Vancouver, Seattle, Portland and Tacoma, he says, are building up with almost incredible rapidity. Canada looked very prosperous to Mr. Edmonds, who says there are chances out west for millions of people. He also thought the service of the C. P. R. exceptionally good, and heard much praise of the line from fellow travellers, who had no idea he was connected with the line.

"The trip was of great benefit to Mr. Edmonds' health, but he took it more for the purpose of educating himself on the route so as to be able to "talk turkey" to ticket buyers. Now he's fully primed to do the talking."

MRS. MARY GREGOVICH

Of Philipsburg, Montana, Tells How She Was Cured of Dandruff.

Mrs. Mary Gregovich, of Philipsburg, Montana, under date of Nov. 26, 1899, writes: "I had typhoid fever this summer, consequently was losing my hair terribly, and my head in places was perfectly bald. Newbro's Herpicide had just come into use in Philipsburg, and the doctor strongly recommended it to me. After 3 or 4 applications my hair stopped falling out, and is coming in again quite thick. I used to be troubled greatly with dandruff, of which I am now quite cured." Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

Medal Donated By Rev. Dr. O'brien

In the Examiner's report of the presentation of the handsome gold medal to Miss M. A. O'Connell, of the separate school staff, at the literary association meeting on Monday night, it was stated that it was donated by the Ladies' Literary Association, which, it is learned, is incorrect, as Rev. Dr. O'Brien was the donor of the very beautiful and highly prized medal. Miss O'Connell is to be warmly congratulated upon securing such a valuable recognition of her ability as an essayist.

Daring Burglaries In Lindsay.

The burglarizing of stores is becoming an easy thing for Lindsay crooks. Some time ago O'Halloran's butcher shop and Riggs' store were entered by thieves and goods gotten away with. The trick was repeated again Saturday night about 12 o'clock—but not on the same parties. The individuals to suffer this time were Mr. George Calvert, the Academy butcher, and Mr. Corse, grocer. Mr. Calvert's shop was entered through an open window on Kent street, letting the thieves into the cellar, which had access to the shop by an open stairway. As a result, Mr. Calvert, when he entered the shop Monday morning, found he was minus 15 lbs. of Clark's canned beef, 31-2 lbs. of butter, 6 lbs. of headcheese and 11 bottles of Chili sauce, in all amounting in value to about $6.

Mr. Corran's grocery store was entered at the back by breaking a light of glass in a window of the warehouse. He was deprived of 30 bottles of sherry wine, a bottle of vinegar, 10 lbs. of peanuts, a bottle of lime juice, two baskets and a lamp, in all valued at about $7.

The thieves evidently had the intention of starting up a small grocery and butcher shop in the distant future, as they stored their goods in a healthy and maturing place. Chief Nelson located all the stuff except the wine hid in a stable occupied by James Workman, on York street, the wine being hidden outside the stable door in a manure pile. Everything was found except ten bottles out of eleven of Chili sauce. The Chief knows the thieves, and though they have skipped out of town, he will have them in the toils before long.—Post.

YOU NEED THE OTHER

Ozone is a germ killer and a valuable remedy, but to get the best results from it you must have a tonic laxative to take with it. "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" is the purest and best form in which Ozone is sold. Every bottle of this remedy contains a coupon which entitles you to a package of "Celery King" the well known remedy, free.

In buying this solution, you get about twice as much Ozone for your money as by buying other brands, in addition to getting a package of "Celery King" for nothing. You thus save money in two ways besides getting Ozone in its purest and most concentrated form.

Ask your druggist for "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" and if he does not keep it you can get it from the Public Drug Co., Bridgeburg, Ont., by writing for it. Sold by W. B. WARNE. 5

Garden Hill Methodists Celebrate

Rev. A. H. Brace Delivers Address Upon "The Sunny Side of the Street"

Miss Reesor, of Markham Contributes Delightful Vocal Selections—Large Attendance.

Garden Hill, Oct. 9th.—Yesterday was the twenty-sixth anniversary of the Garden Hill Methodist church, and the occasion was favoured with the most perfect weather, and large and attentive congregations. The event passed off more successfully than even the expectations of the most sanguine looked for.

The three services, morning, afternoon and evening, were all remarkably well attended, the greatest number of worshippers of course, being present at the evening service.

As previously announced, Rev. A. H. Brace of the Park street Baptist church, Peterborough, conducted the morning and evening services, while Rev. William Johnston, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Garden Hill, conducted the service in the afternoon.

Both the reverend gentlemen preached strong and eloquent sermons, and were listened to with close attention and much profit by those present. The music for the day was in the hands of the Presbyterian choir, under the able leadership of Mr. Beal. Hoover, and assisted by Miss Carrie Reesor, of Markham. This talented artist has a rich soprano voice of great power and sweetness and thoroughly delighted everyone present on the three occasions on which she sang.

To-night (Monday) was held the annual entertainment, which was in the form of a lecture by Rev. Mr. Brace, and a musical programme, chiefly by Miss Reesor.

After the usual devotional exercises followed a duet, "The Old Missouri Shore," by Miss Reesor, and Miss Edythe Hoover. This was well received and was rendered in a most excellent manner. Miss Hoover possesses an alto voice of rare merit and one thoroughly under control.

Then followed a short Scripture reading by the pastor, Rev. A. M. Irwin, who acted also as chairman, after which Miss Reesor gave as a solo, "The Carnival."

Rev. Mr. Irwin then gave a short address, followed by another song by Miss Reesor, "Happy Days," the violin obligato being taken by Mr. Percy Little. Then came an interesting part of the evening's entertainment, the lecture by Rev. Mr. Brace, entitled "The Sunny Side of the Street," which for real humour and sound sense was unsurpassed. For over an hour the lecturer held the attention of the large audience and perfect order was maintained. In fact many expressions of regret were heard that the lecture was not of greater length, which is certainly a proof that the Rev. Mr. Brace is an interesting speaker.

During an intermission in the lecture, Miss Reesor sang by request, "The Bird with the Broken Pinion," and as an encore, "Daddy."

The singing of the Doxology brought to a close one of the most successful entertainments, financially, as well as otherwise, which has been held in this church for many years.

Miss Mabel Hammill, organist in the Presbyterian church, kindly acted as accompanist for Miss Reesor.

Cured Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Fred Hills, Walton street, Port Hope, Ont., writes: "I was troubled for some time with kidney disease, and though I tried a great many different remedies I never succeeded in obtaining relief until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By the regular use of this preparation for a time I was completely cured of kidney disease."

Petty Thefts From Merchants

Only one prisoner faced the magistrate at the police court this morning. A young lad of fourteen was charged with the theft of a trifling article from a prominent George street merchant. The prisoner pleaded guilty, and the case was adjourned until five o'clock this afternoon.

The merchants of Peterborough are greatly annoyed by petty thefts of this nature, and it is high time the practice was stopped. They unanimously declare that from this on no leniency to the culprits will be extended, and they intend to deal rigidly with future offenders of this kind.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks, of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.

PRESIDENT COMMERCIAL CLUB

OF LOUISIANA, SAYS:

"THERE IS NO FINER MEDICINE THAN PE-RU-NA."

Suffered With Kidney and Liver Trouble for Twelve Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Him—Feels Better Than for Twenty Years.

Hon. William Watson Washburn, President of the Louisiana Commercial Club, and a very well known man of New Orleans, La., writes from 657 Canal street:

"I am satisfied that there is not a finer medicine placed before the public to-day than Peruna. I have been troubled for nearly twelve years with kidney and liver trouble, and at times I have been a pretty sick man, unable to attend to my duties. I had about made up my mind that no medicine could help me, when one of your booklets was brought to my office which I read in a leisure hour. I then decided to give Peruna a trial and found that I had at last secured the right medicine for me. For two months I used it faithfully and then felt so well I was like a young man once more. This was over a year ago and I have not had any trouble since. Although I am in the seventies I feel better and more active than I did thirty years ago."—W. W. Washburn.

Most derangements of the kidneys are due to catarrh of the kidneys. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. This explains why it is that Peruna cures a great number of kidney diseases in which the usual remedies fail.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Sir Wm. Mulock Resigns Office

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—(Globe Special)—Sir William Mulock, Postmaster-General, is retiring from the Cabinet, primarily, it is said, on account of his health. His resignation is believed to be in the hands of the Prime Minister and will be accepted by the latter with extreme reluctance. Indications point strongly to Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, K. C., as Sir William's successor. The Governor-General returns to the city on Sunday or Monday.

His Excellency will then probably take official leave of a trusted adviser and welcome another to the Cabinet. Until then an official announcement of the changes impending is deferred. Neither Sir Wilfrid Laurier nor Sir William Mulock will say a word in confirmation or denial of the report. This line of action, however, is strictly in conformity with constitutional usage. Until the Prime Minister has first advised the Governor-General he is not at liberty to speak.

As for the Postmaster-General he has invariably maintained the utmost reticence with respect to matters within the Cabinet. His silence on the present occasion, therefore, is in keeping with his procedure ever since he was entrusted with a portfolio. Sir William's retirement from the Government will occasion keen regret throughout the Liberal party, and if, as it is currently reported, the state of his health compels him to seek less onerous duties, the hope for a speedy improvement will be generally expressed.

SIR WILLIAM MULOCK.

Mr. Aylesworth, who is in Peterborough as counsel in the McWilliams vs. Dickson Co. suit at the Assizes, when seen this morning by the Examiner, was asked as to his opinion of the loss sustained by the Laurier Administration by Sir William Mulock's retirement.

Mr. Aylesworth stated that he would at present say nothing politically, his visit here being purely of a legal character.

Questioned as to whether he would accept a cabinet position, he was equally reticent though he did not deny that he would accept the position.

Presentment of Grand Jury Was Received

At Conclusion of Judge's Charge in Gow Case at Noon

Public Buildings Were Visited, Found Generally Satisfactory.

At the conclusion of the charge of Mr. Justice Street to the Jury in the Gow case at noon to-day at the Assizes, the Grand Jury, Mr. Alfred McDonald, Foreman, made the following presentment and was discharged:—To the Hon. Mr. Justice Street:—

We, the Grand Jurors of the Court of Assize for the County of Peterborough, beg to respectfully present that we have, we hope satisfactorily, in compliance with your Lordship's directions, completed the work for which we are empanelled.

We found two criminal charges to engage our attention, both of a serious character, involving the death of a human being and we have, in accordance with the evidence presented, returned true bills in both cases.

In the further discharge of our duty, we carefully inspected the gaol premises and are pleased to report, that, so far as respects the duties of the general officials, we found everything in good order, clean and, to all appearances, sanitary. Our attention, however, was directed to the case of a young man serving a term of imprisonment in the goal for an offence for which he was convicted by the Police Magistrate of Peterborough—the sentence including the administration of fifteen lashes, before the term of imprisonment shall expire. Your jurors are advised that this young man is of unsound mind, having, it is said, more than once been committed for insanity, and that there is reason to fear that the infliction of the punishment of whipping will have a very detrimental effect upon his mental condition. Your jurors therefore submit the matter to your Lordship's consideration, with the hope that you will direct the taking of such steps as the circumstances seem to demand, and, if found advisable, recommend the remission of that part of the punishment liable to have permanently bad results.

We visited the St. Joseph's Hospital and House of Providence, associated institutions, and found in the former twenty-two inmates and in the latter seventy-two. The Nicholls' Hospital was also visited and found to contain thirty inmates, and to be in general, well managed, but the lady superintendent informed your jurors that among these inmates, is a young man suffering from epileptic insanity, who, at times, becomes very violent and difficult to control. It is suggested that this is not a proper case for admission or for retention, in a general hospital and it is the opinion of your jurors that measures should be adopted to remedy these undesirable conditions and to prevent the possibility of a recurrence of them. At the Protestant Home we found twenty-two inmates and at the Children's Shelter, six. All these institutions seem to be carefully and efficiently managed, with due regard to the several conditions and requirements of the inmates, and, in general, to be in a very satisfactory condition with the exception above cited.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALFRED McDONALD, Foreman.

Grand Jury Room, Peterborough, October 11th, 1905.

Mayor Best Endorses the Improvement to System

Mayor Best was seen this morning in reference to the meeting called for to-night to discuss the situation in connection with the fire-fighting appliances of the city, and suggested that since it was very desirable that the meeting should be a thoroughly representative one it might be desirable to postpone it until some day when there would be no attraction to interfere with the attendance of the business men, as he feared that the Irish Guards Band concert would seriously affect the attendance at the meeting. He was of the opinion that to have the meeting reach its best results it was desirable that those attending should be fully representative of the business interests.

Personally, he was heartily in favour of any scheme which would improve the fire-fighting system of the city, and thought that the first thing needed was a new firehall, as it was useless to purchase new engines and ladders unless there was some place to put them, which the city does not possess at the present time. The question as to whether it would be advisable to buy a new steam engine at the present time was a debatable one, and he was not prepared to say which was the better course to pursue. He thought, however, that with the laying of the new mains the pressure and volume of water obtainable would be greater, and consequently there would be less need for a steam engine. A chemical engine, however, was, he thought, a necessity.

Incendiary Fire Fiend Almost Caused Big Fire

Mr. B. Luster, the George street merchant is very much annoyed at the action of some persons at present unknown, who, early Tuesday morning set fire to a pile of packing cases which were standing at the rear of his store. Mr. Luster has been in Toronto for the last three days on a holiday and business trip, and upon his return learned of the very narrow escape which his premises had from being destroyed. He had, it appears, a large number of empty cases standing at the rear of his store, and about 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning they were set on fire. Fortunately the neighbours saw the blaze in time to send in the alarm before the fire had gained any great headway, and the prompt arrival of the brigade prevented a serious conflagration.

Mr. Luster, in this issue has a notice offering to give $25.00 reward for information which will lead to the conviction of the person or persons who started the fire, which was undoubtedly of incendiary origin and had not the blaze been stamped out as promptly as it was, without doubt a most serious fire would have resulted.

Port Hope Thinks This City Should Co-operate

In referring to an editorial reference to the energy which has characterized the advocacy by the Port Hope people, of the completion of the canal, by that town, and comparing it with the apparent apathy of the great majority of people in Peterborough on the subject, the Port Hope Guide says:

"Modesty might prevent the Guide from adding anything to the above, but, in the interests of the canal outlet, we can hardly allow this opportunity to pass. If we admit that 'Port Hopers are thoroughly saturated with canal,' we must say it is only because the facts are so self apparent.

"For instance, the saving of time, distance and money: We cannot understand why any person in the city of Peterborough should want to even consider an outlet by the longest route, and to go by a way which, after travelling for the better part of a day, would find one at a point in the river fully seven miles north of Peterborough, the starting point, and farther away from Lake Ontario than when the journey was begun.

"Of course it is admitted that it will cost less money by Port Hope, and there is not the slightest doubt but that the city of Peterborough will gain the most by a short and speedy outlet to Lake Ontario. Fortunately for Peterborough it is surrounded on all sides by a rich and magnificent farming country. We have but half the territory, for the lake cuts us off to the south. This canal opening at Port Hope will practically make the city of Peterborough a lake port, with none of its disadvantages, but will still further extend its advantages as an inland city.

"Why, it is nearer to reach Lake Ontario from Hastings via Port Hope than it would be by the eastern outlet.

"But on one point we can hardly agree with the Examiner. True, we have all been urging the merits of the Port Hope route for many years but we have been extremely modest and reticent, considering the merits of our cause, but are now confident that the best interests of the whole country will prevail, and the canal outlet will come this way."

Ladies Literary Society to Meet

The first meeting of the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. A. S. for the season of 1905-06 will be held in the association hall of the society on Friday, October 13. Rev. M. J. Death of Walter Leahy

The death occurred last night at St. Joseph's Hospital, of Walter Joseph, the youngest son of Mr. Wm. J. Leahy of Lakefield. The deceased child, who was only five years of age, was taken violently ill with pseudo-membraneous croup at his home in Lakefield last Monday. The child was immediately conveyed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where everything possible was done to save its life. All the skill of the attending doctors, however, proved unavailing, and he passed away at 8.45 o'clock.

The funeral took place this afternoon at four o'clock to St. Peter's cemetery.

The New City Creamery Nearly Ready

Milk May Be Received on the 2nd of November

Remarkable Progress Made in the Erection and Completion of the Factory.

It must be very gratifying to Mr. P. Downham, the proprietor of the new City Creamery, just erected on Aylmer street, to have been so successful in accomplishing what he had in so short a period of time. Scarcely six weeks have elapsed since first ground was broken for the foundation of the new factory, and yet to-day finds the brick building completed and the roof on, the heavy cement creamery floors laid, the boiler installed, the furnace room built, a business office erected, the interior woodwork finished, the tank floors upstairs all ready for the machines.

It is seldom that works of this description have been pushed ahead so fast, and that the hindrances have been so few that progress has actually gone ahead of the contractors.

It was Mr. Downham's ambition to have his creamery completed and ready for operation by the first week of November. And yet, while it is true the machinery has not all been set up, business might be commenced at least two weeks ahead of time.

Farmers and dairymen especially will be pleased to learn that such satisfactory progress has been made in connection with the erection of our new City Creamery. Thanks to an exceptionally fine season, grass is plentiful and will continue so for some time yet, and as a consequence, milk is plentiful. And it is to the dairymen milking cows that the City Creamery will prove to be so great a boon. Milk-gathering factories are springing up in good dairy sections throughout the country, and milk producers are finding them a most satisfactory outlet for their milk. Indeed, they have been proved to be much more remunerative than the cream-gathering factories, because of the ready sale of cream and so uniform a quality.

The skim-milk is, of course, a valuable dairying product, and makes the best possible calf food—in fact, fully as nutritious thus used as the whole-milk itself. Some users are actually getting greater actual returns out of their skim-milk than other farmers get out of their whole-milk.

Then the cream, which is so much used for commercial purposes, is so rich and pure that no other system can be considered in comparison with the creamery prices. Its product is the sweetest, freshest, most uniform, and freest from taints. In all the large cities, and many smaller places as well, the best local retail trades can only be satisfied with "Creamery" cream, and the price is no greater, for this betterment.

Mr. Downham states that he will be ready to receive milk at his factory on Thursday, 2nd of November.

He expects that all will take sufficient interest in the new institution to warrant them becoming enthusiastic patrons. So far, wherever he has been throughout the country, he has been successful in enlisting the co-operation of the farmers, and the encouragement received is very gratifying. Mr. Downham invites all to call at the factory and interview him when in town. He will be glad to show them over the premises and give full information on all matters.

Credit is due to the contractors and workmen who had charge of the various details of the work. These were Messrs. Jones and Davidson, carpenter work; Mr. Thos. McFadden, brick work; Mr. Howard Shuter, cement work. Messrs. White and Gillespie, our local grocers and dairy supply dealers, have the contract for installing the machinery and plant, which is now being done under the direction of Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie.

To-night, Irish Guards' Band. Every reserved seat for to-night's Band Concert is a chair—no benches. This will be the greatest musical event in Peterborough for some time. If the weather is disagreeable it will pay you to put up with the inconvenience to attend this great treat. General admission 50c.

Peterborough Choral Society Organized

Large and Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Evening

Preliminary Measures for Organization Adopted.

Last night there was a large and enthusiastic gathering of musicians at the studio and residence of Mr. Alfred Davies, corner of Harvey and McDonel streets, the object being the formation of a choral society for Peterborough. Though there were only about twenty persons present, the gathering may be regarded as large, considering the object of the occasion, for all were practical singers representing an excellent quality of voice and, with the quality of enthusiasm which makes for effective work in the domain of practical music.

Mr. John Crane, organist and choirmaster of St. Paul's Church, occupied the chair and in a few preliminary remarks warmly commended the proposal to form a Choral Society for Peterborough, an organization that was greatly needed in the interests of musical progress and development, and referred to the encouraging character of the attendance at the initial meeting. Another feature in favour of the successful existence of such a society was the fact that Mr. Davies, the promoter of the idea was not connected with any church choir in the city, and would thus be in a better position to unify the musical elements represented by the several choirs and thus promote harmony of personnel—an essential to success in a large degree, as harmony of tone.

Mr. Davies, who will be the musical director of the society, also referred to the gratifying character of the attendance and also to the fact that his relations to the vocal musical talent of the city was not hampered by connection with any particular church organization. He also mentioned the fact that the society would begin work with the practice of high-class music of not too difficult a character, probably good part music, and work up gradually to a cantata of recognized merit. Mr. Davies also stated that in undertaking the organization of a choral society he had no idea of direct personal profit, but in common with the citizens he would benefit by the development of the musical spirit and capabilities of the vocal musicians of the city.

The fee for membership was placed at $1.00, but in case the expenditure for music should surpass anticipation, a small supplementary fee might be necessary. A general committee in whose personnel the various city churches is represented was appointed to submit at the next meeting the names of patrons and officials who were informally discussed at the opening meeting and also to select a small musical committee which will practically constitute the executive committee of the society.

As a result of the opening meeting the society enters upon existence with a membership of about thirty which it is expected will, without much difficulty, be increased to fifty, but practice will be begun with the present membership. The first practice will take place next Tuesday night and will be preceded by the completion of organization by the election of patrons and officers.

The first practice will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall next Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock, the permanent place of practice will be announced later.

Though the Peterborough Choral Society will be officially launched with the election of officers, it is now practically in existence. No time will be lost in beginning work. An order for the necessary music was despatched last night.

With the active co-operation, with the energy and musical ability of Mr. Davies, of the capable vocal elements of the city, and the practical sympathy of citizens interested in the development of our musical forces, the Peterborough Choral Society should enter upon a prosperous career.

Popular Young Man Secures a Promotion

Mr. Reg. Thompson to go to Head Office, Toronto

Promoted to Toronto Office of Central Canada Loan and Savings Co.

Mr. Reg. Thompson, who for the last six years has been a member of the staff of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, of this city, until recently filling the position of teller, has received word of his promotion to the head offices of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company, Toronto, an associated institution. Mr. Thompson will leave on Monday to take his new position which is a decided upward step for him, and while his departure will be deeply regretted by his many friends here, they will also congratulate him on his well-deserved promotion. Mr. Thompson has been identified with a number of young people's organizations, and was this year elected vice-president of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild, after holding the office of treasurer since the guild was first organized some years ago. He was also treasurer of the Grasshopper Club, an organization with the establishment of which he was closely identified.

Mr. Thompson will take with him the best wishes of his large number of friends for his continued success and prosperity.

Mr. J. W. Wood succeeds Mr. Thompson in the position of teller in the local office.

LATEST SPORT

RUGBY.

The footballer who with hands or foot foully assaults an opponent should enjoy, the Ottawa Journal says, the five-minute cuss only once, if that. Either at once, or at the least, on a second offence, he should be ruled off for the rest of the match. His case should be reported to the football authorities and if it develops that his tendency is to enter the maniacal mood when he is getting the worst of it, he should be put out of the game for keeps.

In that way the executive officers of football clubs would learn what they don't seem to have learned just yet, and that is that so-called player who on account of his own foul work is obliged to spend any time at the fence is of less use to his team than he is to himself. And that is usually mighty little.

In the next place it would be well to place in the rules a provision that if a man after a single warning by a match official is ruled off for assault, his side should be penalized either by loss of say five yards of ground, or by free kick by the opponents.

Such a system might stop rough play. If not, there is always the police.

Pigskinettes.

There will be no practice this evening! Pigskinettes.

It was too dark for the Charlotte Street Guild team to hold their practice called for last night. The team will practice in Boswell's field, at the end of King street, next Thursday evening.

The secretary of the club Mr. H. Wakley, received a further communication from Dr. D. Wood worth, secretary of the O.R.F.U. this morning. The despatch states that the Victorias will bring down as strong an aggregation as possible. A number of seniors will figure on the Toronto line-up.

The locals had a light practice last night in the Central Park. About twenty kickers put in appearance on the grounds. The moon was clouded over and the evening was rather dark for good work. Several of the boys took a run for the benefit of their wind. The team should be in pretty fair shape for Saturday's game.

The Victorias, with probably a senior line-up should make worthy opponents of the locals on Saturday next. This game will start the ball a rolling for this season and everybody who takes any interest in the welfare of the home team should be on hand Saturday to cheer the boys on to victory. If we can't put a good husky bunch on the field this year there'll be no showdome next winter.

It is a funny thing about Toronto aggregations. The Victorias think probably their shamrock are pretty good and will "send down as strong a team as possible." The Marlboros, the Toronto hockey favourites, realized that they were up against it when they played there some time ago and the Toronto papers stated that "the champions were represented by a weak team." The reason, of course, is obvious.

An Interesting Social Event In Otonabee

Miss Jennie Neish, Married to Mr. Charles Hunter

Lamented Death of Mr. William Connal.

Special to the Examiner

Keene, October 11th. — A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Neish, on Wednesday, October 4th, when their daughter, Miss Jennie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Charles Hunter.

The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of cream basket cloth. Her sister, Miss Jessie Neish, acted as bridesmaid. Mr. Warren Hunter of Toronto supported the groom.

After the marriage ceremony the guests to the number of about 25 sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast. The happy couple will reside in Otonabee.

Keene, October 11th. — We regret to announce the death, from diabetes, of Mr. William Connal, the only son of Mr. William Connal, sr., Keene, in his 19th year. The death occurred on October 4th, after only a weeks illness, the deceased taking sick the previous week while attending the Peterborough Fair. He was not thought to be seriously ill until a couple of days before his death, from which time he sank rapidly.

The funeral was held on Friday, October 6th, and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Wilson conducted the services after which the remains were interred in the Keene cemetery. The pall bearers were R. Elmhirst, H. Elmhirst, B. Humphries, S. Taylor, R. Starke and A. Starke. The deceased was a very popular young man and much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved family.

A number of Keene people attended the Norwood Fair to-day.

Mr Frank Adams of Peterborough, was in Keene on Tuesday.

GROWING UP

There's something the matter with the child that fails to grow up. A child that grows up too much, however, without proper filling out of flesh, is almost as badly off. Nothing will help these pale, thin "weedy" children like Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the rounding out of flesh and the rich inward nourishment of blood and vital organs which insures rapid growth a healthy and uniform development.

125 Cents on the Dollar Was Declined

Highly Satisfactory Annual Meeting of Central Milling Co.

Dividend of 8% Declared — Earnings Equalled 16% of Capital Stock.

There was a good attendance of shareholdoms at the annual meeting of the Central Milling Co., held yesterday afternoon in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street. The reports presented were of a highly satisfactory nature, a dividend of eight per cent. being declared for the year.

President John Stothart occupied the chair. The auditor's report was presented by Mr. G. K. Martin, and Mr. H. A. Mulhern, manager of the company, presented a report which was most gratifying.

A matter which arose for discussion was that of an offer received recently to purchase a month's option on the property at a rate of 125 cents on the dollar. The shareholders decided to decline the offer, lucrative as it was. The company's prosperity during the past three years ending March 29 is evidenced by the fact that in this period 26 per cent. has been paid in dividends, while the total earnings during the past year have been 16 per cent. upon the capital stock of $40,000.

The officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, John Stothart; vice-president, D. Canaw; Board of Directors, Peter Dawson, W. J. Hall, George Taylor, J. G. Armstrong, Jas. Fields, manager, H. A. Mulhern, secretary, W. M. Matchett.

A change was made in the date of the annual meeting, which will henceforward be held on March 1, which is the ending of the financial year.

Returned From Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. William Bell returned yesterday from a three months' visit with their daughter, Mrs. M. B. Maybee, and son, Mr. W. A. Bell, of Calgary, N.W.T. Both report having had a most enjoyable trip, and speak in terms of highest praise with reference to western conditions and prospects.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell were accompanied upon their trip out by their son Mr. Edward Bell, who has taken up residence in Calgary. While away, visits were paid to different points in the West, including a trip to the Rockies.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell are at present visiting with their son, Mr. Joseph Bell of Monaghan, who will probably take up residence in Peterborough for the winter.

Bible Society Meeting at Mt. Pleasant

Interesting Discourse by Rev. D. A. Thomson of Hastings

"What Lack I Yet"? Sermon by Rev. Mr. Sexsmith.

Mount Pleasant, October 10. — The annual meeting of the Mount Pleasant branch of the Bible Society, was held in the Presbyterian church, on October 1st, the agent, Rev. D. A. Thompson of Hastings, giving a very interesting discourse on the great work done by the Bible Society in the past, and the necessity of sending the Bible to every land ready to receive it.

Rev. Mr. Sexsmith used for the basis of his discourse, the words, "What lack I yet?" The sermon gave every evidence of careful preparation, and was very suitable for the age we are now living in.

The large number of people attending our county exhibition gave satisfactory evidence of the prosperity of Canada, the overflow of the purses of the farmers and the accumulation of bank accounts.

Miss Mabel S. Marsh of Richmond Hill, is visiting at the home of Mrs. C. Lough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith have gone on a business trip to Dakota.

The farmers are rejoicing at the prospects for a good crop of fall wheat. The growth has been remarkable this fall.

Mr. Bert Fee has left the farm and obtained a position in the Bank of Toronto, Peterborough. We hope he may reach the highest rung of the ladder.

Examination of Witnesses

He did not remember having said at Norwood that there were more than three shots. Mr. Dennistoun quoted the witness' evidence at Norwood, which in some particulars differed from that given at this time.

He had nothing against Gow, except that he had shot his brother. Up to that time the Hill family had no trouble with Gow. On the night of the shooting he had been at Cavanagh's and had returned home shortly after 8 o'clock by his clock. He denied that he had been at his gate that night with a rifle.

Witness admitted having complained of the threats made upon him and the family by the Dewarts, and that James Dewart had hit him on the head with a stone. On this night he carried his rifle for protection, and for the same purpose he kept it at his bedside. There was no 44 rifle in possession of the family.

To Mr. Meredith he said that no shots were fired from the Hill house that night.

Story Corroborated.

Robert Hill, a brother of the last witness, was next examined. He affirmed in answer to Mr. Dennistoun that he had told the truth at the inquest, and at Norwood. He described the shooting and said that he saw the flash of the shot, and thought he saw the face of Stewart Murphy on the knoll. This man whose face he saw was on the ground. The buggy was stopped opposite the gate. He saw the gun at the shoulder of the man, pointing it towards the house.

He too heard James and William Dewart behind the barn. He heard a strange voice cry, "Throw up your hands."

To Mr. Meredith witness said that no shot was fired from the house that night. He was on his knees when he saw the flash. There was an open space between the house and the place where the man who shot stood.

George Gallagher was the next witness, and to Mr. Dennistoun said he was 14 years old. He spent part of the evening at James Dewart's. Going home he observed near Hill's house and later heard a shot and saw a flash from Hill's house. Gallagher started to describe a visit which Detective Wells paid to his house at the time of the delivery of the subpoenaes for the Norwood trial, but counsel for the Crown objected and witness was not allowed to conclude.

To Mr. Meredith witness said that he left James Murphy's about 9 o'clock for Dewart's, leaving the latter place after 11 o'clock to go to Murphey's to stay all night, intending to come back in the morning to Dewarts.

He and Willie Murphy started off ahead of Charles Gow and Edward Dewart, who were driving. Opposite Hill's all started to cheer, for no special cause, but just for fun. They did not expect the Hills to come out. All started to cheer together. He did not remember saying at the inquest that the three cheered at the barn. They did not cheer at the barn. After the cheers he heard a shot, and a noise which sounded like boards being torn off the verandah.

He saw the flash from the front of the house, at the verandah, outside the door. He saw no gun or no man. He heard other shots from behind. He could not say that they were from the buggy.

He did not tell Constable Moore that he was home all evening and did not go out. He saw Moore at Dewart's barn alone, but did not tell him that he was in bed all the evening nor did he tell Constable Cochrane the same. He heard the next day about 2 or 3 o'clock that Hill was dead, and did not see Gow until the next day at the inquest.

William Murphy, the next witness, and to Mr. Dennistoun he told the story of the night's proceedings. He corroborated Gallagher's story in reference to the noise, and the shot from Hill's verandah.

Cross examined by Mr. Meredith witness said that he had seen Constable Cochrane on the day before the inquest and had a conversation. He did not remember telling him that he was home all the previous evening. He and Gallagher cheered below the gate, but could not say why. No words were spoken at the time of the cheering. After the cheering he heard a shot from the verandah. It might have been ten minutes after the cheering, when he heard the shot. They were below the orchard and south of the elm tree. Looking around he saw the flash from the outside of the house.

Other shots were heard but they were behind him, and may have come from the road, but he was not sure, on this point.

Clara Dewart, was the next witness and was examined by Mr. Dennistoun. She said that it was at her brother's house that the party took place the night of the shooting. There was nothing unusual about the gathering. She swore that her brothers, William and James Dewart, remained in the house after the others left, and did not go out.

Shot From Behind.

Dr. Greer followed, and gave evidence as to the nature of the wounds on the chest and on the back. He submitted sketches showing the wounds, the one in the chest being larger and more ragged than that at the back. According to his opinion the bullet entered at the back. This opinion was reached because the wound at the back was 1-2 of an inch smaller than that in the front. He concluded that the bullet entered at the back because the wound there was smaller than that at the front, at which there was greater destruction. The rib which was broken pointed rather to the front than to the rear. In his experience of many years, the doctor said that he had never seen a bullet wound in which the entrance wound was not smaller than the exit wound.

Cross-examined by Mr. Wood, witness said that the relative size of the entrance and exit wounds would not be relatively affected by the distance from which the shot was fired. The fact that there was discolouration at one wound, and not at the other, was not, in his opinion evidence as to where the bullet entered. He admitted that the fact that there was discolouration at one point and not at another might evidence that the shot had entered at the point of discolouration. The wound at the front was circular, and he could not tell if the shot had been fired while the body was upright.

Dr. Young drew his attention to the fact that the rib was splintered. Dr. Greer then quoted from his notes made at the time of the post mortem examination, in company with Dr. Young and Dr. Bradd. Witness did not remember hearing Dr. Young saying that the sliver of bone was pointing to the rear. He reiterated his statement that in his opinion the bullet entered the body from the rear. The rib was driven forward which led him to this conclusion. He was examining the body with his bare hands, while the other doctors wore thick gloves.

Thomas Parker was next called, and produced a piece of block of wood, showing shots of .32 and .44 bullets fired through it. Another block was seen showing the same shots in the same gauge in a thinner piece of wood.

In his experience as a hunter he had never seen a bullet wound smaller at the point of exit than at the point of entrance.

To Mr. Wood, the witness said that he did not profess to be an expert, but spoke from his four or five years experience as a gunsmith. The cartridges he used in his experiments with the blocks had soft headed bullets.

George Fitzgerald followed with his testimony, and to Mr. Dennistoun he said that he was with Mr. Parker at the time the experiments were made with the shots on the blocks, and he corroborated his evidence. He never knew the size of the entrance wound being larger than the exit wound, and he had years of experience in hunting.

The Prisoner's Story.

The prisoner, Charles Gow, was next called, and to Mr. Dennistoun said that he had lived in Dummer for eleven years. He had seen .44 calibre rifles in a number of houses in Dummer, a total of nine within a radius of 2 1-2 or 2 3-4 of a mile.

Gow described taking Edward Dewart to his brother's on the night of the 23rd for a drive. The Dewarts were friends of his and had visited him often. It was nothing strange that Edward Dewart should be driving his horse. He was in South Africa thirteen days and never fired a shot from the time he left Peterborough until he landed back. The first time he knew the rifle was going home with him was when Edward Dewart brought it from the house and put it in the buggy; when he got in the buggy he took the rifle and stood it up with its butt on the bottom of the buggy. When he got opposite Hill's house on the way home, he heard a shot from Hill's house. He then picked up the rifle and pulled the trigger. There was an empty shell, and there was no explosion afterwards. He then pumped the rifle which placed a loaded shell in its place, and fired the rifle, the shots going on the east side of the road, about 100 yards from the house, in a south-east direction and high in the air. He fired in answer to Hill's shot. The second and third shots were fired at the same angle, and in the same way. He is accustomed to the use of firearms and understands their handling. He stated that he was the president of the Young Peoples' Guild of Warsaw, holding the position for two years.

On the morning after the shooting he saw Mr. Cochrane at Warsaw, and told him that he had fired three or four shots on the night before and near the Hill house. He had then told Mr. Cochrane all the facts in connection with the affair of the night before. He had never heard the words, "A mob! a mob!"

To Mr. Meredith he said he did not know who killed the boy, and had no theory as to how he had met his death.

Only four shots were fired, three by him and one from the Hill house. He was sure that he did not kill the boy.

He heard the cheering during the night, but it was not the same to being the Hill family out. He was trotting his horse when he heard the cheering, and was about 150 yards from the boys walking ahead. He did not know why Gallagher went out that night with Murphy. When the first shot was fired he was about ten yards south of the Hill house. He said that he was sure that he had heard the shot from the Hill house. It was less than one minute after he heard the shot before he fired; the shot was fired straight in the south-east, directly away from the Hill house. He had fired his rifle in the same way at night before. It was just to fire it off, and to let the Hills know that he was armed that he fired the rifle. He fired a second shot for the same reason. The distance between the first and second shots was about the length of the Court House. He never said a word to his companion from the time that he heard the shot from Hill's until he had fired the three shots. When they caught up to the boys Gallagher said something about the Hills firing the first shot, but witness said that he had outdone them in the number of shots. He told Constable Cochrane that he fired three shots in the direction of the house, but did not remember telling Constable Moore of same. Edward Dewart came to him the next day, and told him that there was trouble at the Hills. He had told David Miller that he had fired the three shots the night before, and said that if he thought that he had done the deed he would feel like leaving the country. He had gone to Mr. Cochrane to tell him that he had fired the shots.

To Mr. Dennistoun he said that he had been told by Mr. Moore that he could go to Ottawa all right and that probably when he came back the affair would be all over.

Mr. John Darling, Reeve of Dummer, was then called, and was examined by Mr. Kerr to whom he said that he had known Gow for 10 or 12 years and was well acquainted with the family. The reputation of the prisoner was good. Prisoner has a reputation for being careful in the use of firearms, and in his treatment of his fellows he has the reputation of being kind.

Mr. Dennistoun explained to His Lordship that he had a number of witnesses to whom the Hill family had made a number of contradictory statements, and asked for the privilege of calling those, but it was not allowed, the Judge ruling that their evidence had no bearing on the case.

William Hill was again called and said that he remembered ploughing in a field and across the fence was talking with John Murphy, but did not tell him that he went into Tommie and Mabel's room before he went downstairs. He denied saying that he came home from Cavanagh's early in the morning, but repeated that it was shortly after 8 o'clock. He had told Cavanagh in a joke that he had a 44 rifle, at different times.

John Murphy was called, and examined by Mr. Dennistoun, and spoke of the conversation he had with Willie Hill, in which the latter said that he ran into Tommie's room and saw a buggy on the road. He further said that Tommie raised the window.

To Mr. Meredith witness said that it was about the last week in September that he had this talk with Willie Hill. He was neither on good nor bad terms with Willie Hill. He had told this conversation to his brother only.

Frank Cavanagh was next called and said he lived about a mile from Hills. He told of Willie Hill being at his place on the night of the shooting. Witness said that Willie Hill had told him that he had a 44 rifle, but whether it was said in a joke or in earnest he could not tell.

Mr. Cochrane in answer to Mr. Meredith said that he had a conversation with Stewart and William Murphy in reference to their action of the night of the shooting, and they had told him that they were home before dark.

Constable Moore was also questioned by Mr. Meredith, and said that George Gallagher had told him that no one had the rifle the night before. He said he had been at James Dewart's the night before, and that at 10 o'clock he had gone home.

This closed the case as far as taking evidence is concerned, and all that remained were the addresses of the counsel and the charge of the to the jury.

No joy or pleasure on this earth quite equals that which comes into the home when baby arrives. Who can describe the happiness of man and woman, joined in wedlock, as they look upon the fragile, delicate mite that is blood of their blood and flesh of their flesh? And who can depict the hopelessness and dejection that hover about the home where the wife is incapable of becoming a mother? Barrenness proceeds from some derangement of the distinctly feminine organs. Many of the common ailments known as "female troubles" cause it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes barrenness by stamping out diseases of women, and by healing and curing ulceration. It tones up the system, stops drains, and restores strength. During gestation it modifies morning sickness, gives elasticity to the overstrained parts concerned, makes the hour of baby's coming short and almost painless, and gives wonderful recuperative power to the patient. By making the mother strong and cheerful, it makes the little one healthy, vigorous and good natured. Insist upon the medicine dealer giving you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when you ask for it. Substitutes are often dangerous.

Mrs. James W. Hacker, of 629 Catherine St., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby."

MONTREAL.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

For Improvement of Fire Protection of City

To-night in the council chambers the meeting called by Ald. Johnston, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee to discuss the question of improved fire protection will be held, and it is urgently desired by those interested that a large number of the business men turn out to the meeting.

Ald. Johnston has taken a right step in calling a meeting of the business men, merchants, manufacturers and others interested in the improvement of the fire system of the city for a conference as to the best method to pursue in bringing about this improvement, and the opinion is freely expressed among the business men that the effect of this co-operation will be beneficial to the scheme for improving the fire fighting appliances.

One of the largest merchants on George street to-day informed the Examiner that if the fire fighting appliances of the city were improved as has been suggested, it would mean about $75 a year to him in reduced fire insurance premiums, and the other merchants and manufacturers would be benefitted in proportion.

Ald. Johnston is anxious that this effort to place the fire protection system of the city on a sound basis, shall receive the hearty support of the large property owners, and with this end in view he has asked them to meet and discuss with him the situation.

Jury Says That Gow is Guilty

was in the hands of Gow and Edward Dewart, and it had never been contended for a single moment that there was any other rifle in the party. The whole circumstances pointed to a plot. These people were at deadly enmity, and the shooting at the Hills' gate was done for the purpose of getting these people up. There were only three shots fired, and if so, what other shot destroyed that boy? The defence said it might have been somebody else. They say a shot was fired from Hills' place, but that shot could not have done it, for the evidence showed that they saw the flash of a gun and it was outside on the verandah and could not possibly have entered the window. They had accounted for the three shots. Four feet up and two and a half feet from the side of the house was a bullet mark, then along the side of the verandah was another shot, and the damning evidence of the other shot was in the wound received by the little girl at the window which also caused the boy's death. Was there any doubt at all that the shot entered the window from the front, passed through the boy's body and lodged in the bed? Dr. Greer's evidence amounted to nothing. The little girl's evidence that the three shots came from the front could not be got away from. Such a thing as this should not be allowed in the County, of Peterborough. The defence asked for guilty, not for the unfortunate family nor for the little dad whose soul was launched into eternity, but for the man who did the deed. Where did the prisoner go the next day. Strange to say he went down to Ed. Dewart's. Probably a guilty conscience took him there. Did he go near this unfortunate family to condole with them? This man, with the great heart, who was so merciful, did not go near these unfortunate people with their dead child in the house. Then what did he do when the inquest was to be held? He went to the High Constable and told him that he had fired the shots at the house. Now, is it not trifling to say that he meant that he fired the shots one hundred yards east of the house? But he said he did fire the shots in the direction of the house, and there is no suggestion that anybody else fired them. He unquestionably shot, and killed that boy upon his own showing. Edward Dewart said at the inquest that he thought he pointed the rifle at the house. Dewart said he asked the prisoner if he did not strike the house, and the prisoner answered that he had fired too high. He did not say that he had not fired in the direction of the house. There never was a clearer, stronger case than that against the prisoner at the bar, and he called upon the jury to do their duty manfully and conscientiously upon the evidence. With the result of the verdict they had nothing to do. The country had placed the matter of sentence in the hands of His Lordship, who had power to sentence the prisoner to one day's imprisonment, to one hour, or to let him free on suspended sentence. They simply had to decide as to whether he did carelessly kill the boy. It must not be said that these people in the dead of night could be roused from their beds and that they could be shot in such a manner without justice being done. All the sympathy that the unfortunate father had received was to have an act of thirty years ago brought up against his character. He concluded by again urging them to consider carefully the evidence, and if they believed the boy was killed by the prisoner through carelessness to bring in a verdict accordingly.

The Judge's Charge.

Judge Street, in charging the jury, described the crime of manslaughter as unlawfully or unjustifiably causing the death of a human being. There is no doubt that it is the duty of every person who discharges a firearm or any weapon of any kind to take proper precautions to see that in using it he does not cause death or injury to another. If he does use any weapon, however little he may desire to cause injury, without taking proper precautions and causes the death of another, then it is proper for a jury to find that he has committed the criminal offence of manslaughter; that he has been guilty of what is called criminal negligence in using the weapons. The questions to be considered were these: First—Was the child killed by the discharge of a rifle in the hands of the prisoner, and, secondly, if so, was the rifle fired without taking proper precautions to find that no harm was done to any person.

If the jury found that the child was not killed by a rifle in the hands of the prisoner, or if they found that although the child was so killed, there was no carelessness on the part of the prisoner, then he should be pronounced not guilty. If, on the other hand, they found that the child was killed by the rifle in the hands of the prisoner, and the prisoner did not take proper care in the handling of the weapon, the verdict should be guilty. They were expected by the community at large to do this.

The judge then proceeded with a summary of the evidence, dealing with the different points in a most impartial manner.

Do you credit, he said in his concluding remarks, the statement made to the constable or that made yesterday that he did not fire in the direction of the house. There is a further circumstance found in the statement of Ed. Dewart, who asked Gow when in the rig if he was sure that he did not hit the house. Yesterday he said he was sure he fired too high to hit the house.

With reference to the suggestions made by the counsel for the defence, His Lordship commented upon the statements made by young Hill that he recognized the face of Stewart Murphy. The latter had not been called to give his testimony. The statement was made that there was a bitter feud between the Hill family and the Murphy family. This may have been the cause of a delusion on the part of the Hills to fasten the crime upon Stewart Murphy.

Then it was said that the 44-calibre bullet was not taken out of the house until some days later. The hole was discovered next morning, however.

The weight of the evidence was that a shot was fired from the house. The strongest theory set up by the defence was that the shot fired from the house may have killed young Hill. The boys had sworn that the shot was fired at random from the verandah. If it was fired in the house it must have gone up through the floor, in which case it could not have struck the bed as described by Dr. Douglas. All the suggestion made by the defence was to account for the shooting in some other way than by Gow.

Dr. Douglas has sworn that the edges of the wound were dark. Dr. Greer had arrived at the conclusion from certain other circumstances, that the bullet had entered at the back. The fractured rib was driven towards the front. With regard to this and other circumstances if any reasonable doubt is entertained this should be given to the prisoner. This matter should be considered in all its bearings.

With regard to the voices behind the barn, His Lordship explained that it was not understood by this that these were of men in hiding, but rather upon the road. James and William Dewart, who some witnesses swore were there, were proven to have been at that time at home and in bed, and in this respect a mistake must have arisen.

WHAT CUTICURA DOES FOR WOMEN

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills in the antiseptic cleansing of the mucous surfaces, and of the blood and circulating fluids, thus affording pure, sweet, and economical local and constitutional treatment for weakening ulcerations, inflammations, itchings, irritations, relaxations, displacements, pains, and irregularities peculiar to females. Hence the Cuticura remedies have a wonderful influence in restoring health, strength, and beauty to weary women, who have been prematurely aged and invalided by these distressing ailments, as well as such sympathetic afflictions as anæmia, chlorosis, hysteria, and nervousness.

Women from the very first have fully appreciated the purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, certainty of speedy and permanent cure, absolute safety, and the great economy which have made Cuticura the standard humour remedy of the civilized world.

October Wedding In Cartwright

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on October 4th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ferguson, Cedar Dale Farm, near Blackstock, Cartwright township, when their eldest daughter, Minnie, was united in marriage to Mr. Simeon Sanderson of the same place. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Phelan of the Blackstock Presbyterian church, in the presence of a number of friends of the contracting parties. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very charming in a gown of cream silk, trimmed with chiffon, while her sister, Miss Maggie, who acted as bridesmaid, was similarly attired. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Bert Sanderson of North Monaghan. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome presents.

The room was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens. After the ceremony the wedding party sat down to a dainty dinner, and a pleasant hour was spent, after which the happy couple left amid showers of rice, and congratulations, to visit with friends in Peterborough and other points, and on their return they will take up residence in Blackstock.

$200.00 IN PRIZES

For the Best Memorandum of Events Kept in Dr. Chase's Calendar Almanac for 1905—Be Sure to Get Your Almanac in Before January 15, 1906, as the Contest Closes on That Date.

The special feature about Dr. Chase's Calendar Almanac, which makes it so popular among the people, is the space left on each calendar page for memoranda.

Thousands of persons throughout Canada have formed the habit of setting down opposite the days of the month certain items of interest, such as dates of births and marriages, of receipt and payment of money, of promisory notes or notable purchases, of the time of planting, of hiring help, of setting hens or when the mare is expected to foal, etc.

In order to encourage this custom, which is not only of interest but of considerable value to the person keeping this diary, we have decided to give prizes amounting to $200 in gold and to be divided as follows:—First prize, $100 in gold; second prize, $50 in gold; third prize, $25 in gold; fourth to ninth (each), $5 in gold.

Anyone who has kept a memorandum of events in Dr. Chase's Calendar Almanac during 1905 is eligible for a prize. The preference will be shown for the record which is most likely to prove useful for future reference.

The competition will close on January 15, 1906, and it will be necessary for your almanac to reach our offices on or before that date.

The awarding of prizes will be entrusted to a committee of three well known newspaper men and the names of the winners announced in the newspapers throughout Canada.

It is not necessary to send a letter, but be sure to write your name and address on the front cover of your almanac and mail it to Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. If you desire it we shall return your almanac, at our expense, as soon as the competition is closed.

If you have not been keeping a record of events during 1905, you will be interested in this contest next year, as the prizes will be of the same value.

Dr. Chase's Calendar Almanac for 1906 will be mailed to every name on the voters' lists throughout Canada, and if you do not receive a copy by the 1st of January it will be sent free on receipt of your request.

ELECTRIC WIRE CAUSED DEATH OF HAVELOCK MAN

Asher Wiltse, a Tinsmith, Instantly Killed There Last Night--No One Saw the Accident But Deceased is Supposed to Have Caught a Live Wire---Dead Body Was Found by Mr. Harry McEwan--Coroner Grey Opens an Inquest to Discover Cause of Death.

Special to The Examiner.

Havelock, Oct. 12.—Last night Mr. McEwan, a jeweller of this town, made a startling discovery, when about 6 o'clock he saw in the tinshop at the rear of F. McMaster's hardware store the dead body of Mr. Asher Wiltse, a tinsmith in the employ of Mr. McMaster, lying in a heap in the corner of the shop.

Death, it is believed, was due to an electric shock, though how he obtained the shock is as yet not particularly clear.

Mr. McEwan was closing a door which connects his store with the tinshop, preparatory to closing business for the night, and through a glass panel in the door he saw the body of Wiltse lying huddle up in a corner. Going up to where he was lying, Mr. McEwan saw that the man was dead, and his employers were at once notified of the sad fact, and Dr. Crawford was called, but the application of the usual restoratives failed to produce any signs of life.

The supposition is that he received a charge of electricity from a gasoline lamp fixture, around which was an electric light wire from which the insulation had been partially worn off. Death must have been instantaneous, for none of the employees in the building or the other occupants heard any outcry.

Just what voltage the man received has not yet been learned. The light which the wire connecting with the gasoline fixture was an incandescent one, and probably of 104 volts, under ordinary circumstances, not sufficient to cause death, unless the one receving the shock had a tendency to a weak heart.

The suggestion that the arc light direct current wire had become crossed with the incandescent wire seems hardly probable, since if that were the case the connection of the high voltage direct current with the low voltage alternating current would doubtless have blown the fuse and extinguished the light.

The deceased was 35 years of age, a widower, with one child, a daughter, Myrtle, 14 years old. He had been residing in this town for some time and was well known.

Dr. Grey, the County Coroner, was notified of the occurrence last night, and High County Constable Cochrane arrived here on the local to inquire into the circumstances and to secure a jury, to act at the inquest which the Coroner has ordered to open here this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Up to the time of his death the deceased had been in the best of health to all appearances, so that it is not probable that the first theory advanced, that of heart failure is not substantiated.

You have often said or thought "How could a man buy such a suit?"

You've seen men in the street wearing clothes you could'nt be hired to wear---and you wondered.

Mr. Merchant Tailor did it.

You see, they bought their suits from a roll of cloth, and were probably as much surprised as you when the suit was delivered.

A very handsome cloth in the piece often looks very ugly when made up.

When you buy Semi-ready tailored garments you first see the suit on you—can judge of its fitness to your individuality. You don't buy a pig in a poke, nor take any chances of looking ridiculous. 516

RECOMMENDATION TO MERCY INFLUENCED THE JUDGE IN SENTENCING CHAS. GOW

Young Dummer Man Found Guilty of Manslaughter Gets Three Months in Common Gaol--Mr. Justice Street Gives Reasons for Imposing the Light Sentence--How the Prisoner Accepted It--A Surprise Even to His Most Intimate Friends.

The fifth and last act in the Dummer Township tragedy closed this afternoon at the court house, when Charles Gow, found guilty yesterday by "twelve good men and true," of manslaughter in connection with the death of Thomas Edward Hill, was sentenced by Hon. Mr. Justice Street to a three months' term of imprisonment in the County Jail.

The prisoner took his place in the box at 2.30 o'clock, apparently collected, and prepared for the unknown penalty which was so soon to come. His counsel, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, stood beside him. Many spectators gathered at the court room to await the decision. As the members of the bar arose at the entry of His Lordship, a perfect hush fell upon the entire gathering, and not a whisper could be heard as he took his seat. Crown Attorney Wood arose and asked that the judgment of the Court be passed.

"Charles Gow," said His Lordship, "have you anything to say before the judgment of the Court is passed upon you?"

Mr. Dennistoun arose and asked permission to say a few words in behalf of the prisoner.

Mr. Dennistoun made a most touching plea for the mercy of the Court, which produced a visible effect upon the entire Court, as the heretofore excellent character of the prisoner was pointed out, and many reasons advanced for a lenient judgment.

Mr. Dennistoun Speaks.

Mr. Dennistoun addressed His Lordship as follows:

If your Lordship will permit me on behalf of the prisoner, and on behalf of his father, who is an old man, and whose support and stay this young man is, I would like to say a few words in his behalf, and to request your Lordship to exercise your judicial clemency in passing sentence upon him. I am prompted to make this request of your Lordship with some confidence, when the fact is recalled that the Coroner's Jury, representative and well-known men in the community, upon the same evidence which was adduced here yesterday, came to a different conclusion from that which this jury in the exercise of its functions, came to yesterday, and I also recall the fact that yesterday, when the learned Crown Prosecutor was addressing the jury, that almost his parting words to them were, that the prisoner at the bar, if found guilty, by them, might be sentenced to a very short term of imprisonment by your Lordship, or your Lordship might even go so far as to impose a fine, or even to let him go on suspended sentence. With these words of the Crown Prosecutor on their ears the jury brought in a verdict of guilty, but they added this most important rider—"with the strongest recommendation to mercy."

The young man is just entering upon the active period of manhood and I submit, with great deference and respect, that a lengthy term of imprisonment would have the effect of blasting his life beyond the hope of any recovery. His own character has stood the test of this trail well. He occupies a position in the community which testifies to his worth and popularity. The Reeve of his Township, the most representative man of the neighbourhood that could be called, appeared and said what he could for him; and all that he said was good. His clergyman, Rev. Mr. Atkinson, was called, but did not answer. He telephoned me last night from Warsaw that he had been detained by the serious illness of his wife, but he authorized me to state on his behalf, that he would only have been able to state what was good and favourable of the prisoner. The young man has acted throughout in a noble manner. He has been frank and outspoken. He came forward voluntarily and told what he knew. Later he returned of his own free will from Ottawa and gave himself up to the authorities and has gone into the witness box and told all he knew. I think I am entitled to add that the Crown Prosecutor, Mr. Meredith, assured me that he would concur heartily in my application for leniency, to your Lordship. I therefore appeal to your Lordship with great respect and deference for the exercise of your judicial leniency.

Sentence is Delivered.

Not a quiver could be heard throughout the crowd and all eyes fastened upon the judicial bench, as His Lordship commenced to speak in his calm, deliberate manner. His address to the prisoner in delivering judgment was as follows:—

Charles Gow, you were yesterday found guilty upon evidence which could leave no doubt in the mind of any intelligent person that the bullet which killed this boy was fired from your rifle. I do not think the jury could properly have found any other verdict than the one they did. It is not charged by the Crown that there was any intention of murdering on your part, but that the death was caused by gross carelessness on your part. The jury in their recommendation to mercy have absolved you from any intention of doing any harm to any of the persons in the house, otherwise they certainly could not have recommended you to mercy, and with such an intelligent jury a recommendation would not otherwise have been made. But you still stand convicted of gross carelessness in the use of firearms which has caused this death. Part of your punishment will be throughout your life the deep regret that you must feel at the result which has followed your lack of ordinary care. It appears that there are many firearms in the neighbourhood. It is necessary that some substantial punishment should be awarded in order to mark the danger of such a careless handling of firearms as you have just been found guilty of. The sentence of the Court is that you be imprisoned in the common jail for three months.

At the conclusion of Mr. Dennistoun's remarks, His Lordship spoke briefly in passing sentence upon the prisoner, who sat, apparently unmoved, throughout the ordeal.

As His Lordship in his quiet manner, began to speak all eyes were fastened upon him in undivided interest. Not a sound was heard from the crowd until, directly after the sentence was pronounced, when as if by one accord a sigh of relief went up and many eyes were observed to brighten. The prisoner's face relaxed, and as he chatted with Mr. Dennistoun, appeared thankful at the outcome.

In connection with the case, keen observers who have watched the trial, have the feeling that much credit is due the local legal talent engaged on the case, mention being made of Mr. R. E. Wood on behalf of the prosecution, and Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun and F. D. Kerr, who looked after the prisoner's interests. Mr. Dennistoun is receiving congratulations upon the manner in which he has discharged his duty to his client. His Lordship remarking at the conclusion of the delivery of judgment, that the latter owed much to his counsel's efforts on his behalf.

Were Taken Over The Lift Lock

This afternoon Mr. J. H. McClellan invited Mr. Justice Street and a number of other prominent gentlemen to take a trip over the lift lock. The party consisted of Hon. Justice Street, Messrs. G. H. Watson, K.C., A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., Hon. E. J. Davis, E. R. Heal, M.P., Mr. White, assistant Minister of Crown Lands, Mr. Gibson, Inspector of Mines, Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, Sheriff Hall, R. M. Dennistoun, G. M. Kerr, K. Eardley-Wilmot and D. Hughes Charles.

The party left the Criminal hotel in cabs at 1.30 o'clock and proceeded to the lower reach at the lift lock where they boarded the Government steamer Empire, and made the trip over the lock. They then were shown through the lock by the superintendent of the canal.

Mr. Justice Street and the other gentlemen from out of town, who have been in Peterborough attending the assizes, spoke in very warm terms of the great advantage the early completion of the canal would be to the country. They expressed great pleasure in being given the opportunity of seeing the lift lock which most of them had seen for the first time.

NORWOOD FAIR HAS FIRST SET-BACK IN THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS

Rain Yesterday Spoiled What Would Have Been the Best Fair in Society's History—The Entries Were Fully 20 Per Cent. Greater Than Ever Before—Directors, However, Are Undaunted by This Partial Failure—The Attendance, in Spite of the Rain Yesterday, Was About 1,000—Live Stock Exhibit a Credit.

For the first time in the thirty-seven years history of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society, a continuous downpour of rain for over fifteen hours almost killed — not the fair, but the attendance at the fair—yesterday. So lucky has the society been in the past regarding the great desideratum of good weather for their annual exhibition, it is stated on the authority of President Birdsall, that only on one solitary previous occasion, has bad weather interfered in any manner with their show, and that only occurred on the first day on that particular occasion.

Notwithstanding the serious setback of this year, the attendance yesterday must have been at least one thousand. But if in the matter of attendance, there was a serious failure, involving a loss to the society of perhaps a thousand dollars or more, the exhibition in every other respect, was a record-breaking success. In the number of entries there was at least a 20 per cent. increase over that of previous occasion.

Last year the entries numbered over 1700; this year the number was over 2000. The actual number of members last year was 121, this year it was 150, according to Secretary Roxburgh's books.

The prospects on Tuesday for a highly successful fair, never looked brighter, and before evening the whole show field was dotted with tents, for exhibits, and special attractions. The "Midway" was much more extensive than in former years and promised to be very lively and entertaining. Meal tents, fruit stands, candy tents, side shows and merry-go-rounds loomed up conspicuously, and space was taken for almost every variety of attraction, which thrive at the country fair.

The entries were not only more numerous, but there was a very noticeable improvement in the quality, especially in poultry, cattle, horses, etc.

The outside special exhibits, which always formed prominent features at this fair, promised to be numerous up to Tuesday night. But of course the unpleasant rain sealed their fate, to a large extent. Some of the more enterprising advertising corps in connection with Peterborough firms, were in evidence, and while they were prevented from making displays of their goods, they billed the show grounds profusely.

The prizes will of course be paid, the directors being determined to keep faith with the prize winners, regardless of their serious loss.

The partial failure of this year will mean, doubtless, that the extensive improvements which the directors had practically decided upon, after this year's show, if it had been as successful as they had anticipated, will not be proceeded with at the present time. It was expected that new stock sheds would have been built to meet the ever-increasing demands for space for the stock, which each year is becoming more numerous at this fair.

But, while the effect of the partial failure of yesterday will be the temporary set back of the fair, it will be only for the time, because the directors are of the kind who are not disappointed at this touch of ill-luck, and they will only redouble their efforts for the future success of the fair.

Outside of the fact that there was not the usual crowd in attendance, the fair was a huge success. As has been stated, the exhibits were not only much more numerous, but they were of a decidedly better quality than at any previous fair.

This was particularly true of the live stock, and the display of cattle was really phenomenal.

It is doubtless if any of the smaller fairs can produce such an exhibit of cattle as that at the Norwood fair yesterday, and if the rain had not fallen there would have been still larger display, but that which the visitors saw yesterday would have done credit to any of the minor fairs of the Province.

On Tuesday night the directors were in a dilemma as to how to provide accommodation for the stock which was simply pouring into the grounds, and if the rain had not come the stock display would have been simply tremendous. But the cattle and horses were at last given shelter, and the rain, which fell continuously from 2 o'clock yesterday morning until the close of the show, did not seriously affect them, but the poultry, sheep and swine had to spend the night in the rain, and the effect on the former was considerable, the birds presenting a much bedraggled appearance yesterday morning when the judging took place. The increase in the number and quality of exhibits was not peculiar to the stock, for the inside showing was also materially improved on that of last year. The fruit, vegetables and ladies' work were especially fine, and those who braved the elements and visited the fair were repaid by these features of the show alone.

An interesting exhibit in the building was the collection of noxious weeds, made and exhibited by the pupils of S. S. No. 12, Asphodel, of which Miss Law is teacher. This collection included seventy-six specimens, each accompanied by a description of the weed and its habits.

Mr. J. A. Fife, who was the judge, in making his report, said that there was "only one exhibit, but a most creditable collection of the noxious weeds of the district." The pressing and labelling were neatly and carefully done. Another feature of the exhibit is the short description of the habits of each weed. It is to be regretted that more of the schools of the riding do not compete in this department.

Lieut.-Col. Miller, commanding officer of the 57th Regiment, was present as judge in the competition for volunteer troops, but only one company entered, the Norwood High School cadets, who turned out and paraded to the grounds, where they were inspected by Col. Miller, who complimented them on their appearance and awarded them the prize.

The list of entries in the livestock and poultry were as follows:

Keep Your Grip On Health

When Physical Bankruptcy Threatens Build Up With

Dr. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Gloomy foreboding, fear of the future, apprehension of something dreadful to befall you, worry over little things, restlessness, insomnia, irritation—these are the indications of an exhausted nervous system.

They tell more plainly than words, more plainly than pains and aches, that gradually, but certainly, the nerve force of the body is being consumed more rapidly than it is being created. They point to physical bankruptcy—to helplessness of mind—and body—to prostration, paralysis—or locomotor ataxia.

There are certain elements of nature which go to form new blood and new nerve cells—to create new nerve force, the foundation of life, energy and vitality. These elements are so combined in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as to be easily assimilated by the weakened human body.

Being composed of such ingredients, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cannot possibly fail to be of benefit to you, and its regular and persistent use will build up and revitalize the most exhausted and discouraged sufferer.

You cannot compare Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with any other medicine you ever used, for it cures by the building-up process, whereas most nerve treatments merely soothe and deaden the nerves. Test this treatment by noting your increase in weight.

Mrs. J. Hatcher, 224 Somerbrooke street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is a moulder at the Hamilton Foundry, states: "I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which left me in a very run-down state of health, and, in fact, my whole nervous system seemed exhausted and worn out. I could not sleep and at times the pains in my head were almost unbearable. As a result of these symptoms I was unable to attend to my house work, and felt miserable most of the time. On the advice of a friend I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that it has proved of great benefit to me. I am able to do my own work now, and feel stronger and healthier than I have for years. I can truthfully state that this is due to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I consider a great health builder."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks, of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.

Pigskinettes.

The Victorias picked the team that will play here next Saturday, at the conclusion of their practice last night. They will arrive in the city on the 11.33 C.P.R. express.

* * * *

A few "plain clothes" enthusiasts were abusing the pigskin at Central Park this afternoon. There's nothing like it, boys; take advantage of all your spare time.

* * * *

The Victorias held a special practice at Moss Park Rink, Toronto, last night to pick the intermediate team to come to Peterborough on Saturday.

* * * *

There is no talk of a City League being organized this year. A couple of seasons ago when the Britannias, Rough Riders, and All Saints, comprised the City League, considerable interest was taken in their welfare by local enthusiasts. There is yet plenty of time to form the league and the rugby fever seems to have a good hold upon the younger athletes.

* * * *

The Charlotte Street Rugby team will practice to-night at 7.30 o'clock in Boswell's field at the end of King street. The following players are requested to be out and others wishing to join:—I. Moore, W. Thornton, S. Caniff, S. Alford, B. Lang, W. Dickson, A. Williams, J. Sanderson, H. Roddy, H. Webb, R. Walker, G. Crowe, B. Holland, A. Crumfield, W. Allen, L. Patterson, B. Bell, L. Naylor, M. Miller, E. Carr.

* * * *

After the practice to-night the team to represent Peterborough next Saturday, will be chosen.

* * * *

A large turn-out is requested at the Charlotte Street Guild practice, Boswell's field, to-night.

TURF.

Contrary to the eager expectations of a local journal, Dan Patch, the world's greatest harness horse, will not grace the Peterborough turf with his hoof prints. Here's another good chance for the "horse laugh!" The facts of the case are that Toronto is the only Canadian City where Dan Patch will perform. The sporting editor evidently needs a "patch" on his "think tank".

HOCKEY.

Fred. Whitcroft, the hockey player, is practising rugby with Peterborough. There are other hockey players on the Peterborough team, but athletes in that town are all-round sports.—Toronto Star.

BASEBALL.

It was too wet for New York and Philadelphia to play the game in the world's championship series in Philadelphia yesterday. They will play in New York to-day.

* * * *

Falkenburg, the former Toronto pitcher, who figured on the Boston nine this year, had only one defeat registered against him for the past season.

YOU NEED THE OTHER

Ozone is a germ killer and a valuable remedy, but to get the best results from it you must have a tonic laxative to take with it. "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" is the purest and best form in which Ozone is sold. Every bottle of this remedy contains a coupon which entitles you to a package of "Celery King" the well known remedy, free.

In buying this solution, you get about twice as much Ozone for your money as by buying other brands, in addition to getting a package of "Celery King" for nothing. You thus save money in two ways besides getting Ozone in its purest and most concentrated form.

Ask your druggist for "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" and if he does not keep it you can get it from the Public Drug Co., Bridgeburg, Ont., by writing for it. Sold by W.B. WARNE. 5

THE DOG POISONERS,

MR. GEORGE HATTON STRONGLY CONDEMNS

The Practice of Some Persons in This City is Scathingly Denounced by Mr. Hatton—Thinks It Is Up To The City Authorities to Take Some Steps to Stop It—The Dog Poisoners are Characterized as Cowardly "Whelps."

Mr. G. W. Hatton sends a communication to the Examiner in which the practice of dog poisoning, which has been carried on in the west end of the city, which he strongly condemns. Mr. Hatton says:—

For some time past poison has been so placed in parts of the west end of the town as to result in the killing of many valuable household pets, especially dogs. In the neighbourhood of Gilmour streets and King street west of Park has this been particularly in evidence.

Surely if the miserable specimen of humanity who is so careless of animal life could but experience the death struggles in fearful agony of one of these animals as it endeavours to return to its home and afterwards, should it be able to get there he would never again be so inhuman.

Last evening for over two hours from six o'clock until after eight with the evening meal untouched, did a family and especially the mistress of the home struggle with a strychinine poisoned valuable terrier so powerful that it took two men to hold him; jaws that snapped gags and vessels that were inserted in attempts to force emetics—with hands covered with cloths. The remedies used in such cases were forced down the animal's throat as his condition would permit from spasm to spasm. Now rigid, now staggering blindly, striking his head did this powerful specimen of a royal bred bull terrier fight for his life amongst his heart-broken playmates—and this was a most inoffensive dog, hardly ever leaving the grounds except accompanied and called by members of the family, generally after school accompanying the boys to the recreation ground, where the dog had many fiends, and it was there yesterday evening just before six o'clock the poison was taken.

It is now up to the town authorities to take such steps as will bring to justice the brute who has been placing the poison about. For what else is the dog tax of $400 and $700 a year collected from the dog owners? Poisoning has been going on for years in this city. Many valuable animals have been destroyed, and nothing whatever has been attempted by the authorities to prevent it.

Mr. T. P. Coffee Laid to Rest In Toronto

Late Manager of Trusts and Guarantee Co. Buried.

Many Honours Were Shown Memory of Deceased Gentleman.

The funeral of the late Thos. P. Coffee who died suddenly in England, took place yesterday morning from the residence, 41 Maple avenue, to the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, Sherbourne street, where the solemn Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. Father Mahoney, rector of the Cathedral at Hamilton. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends of deceased, many present being from Hamilton, Ingersoll, Guelph, Berlin, Peterborough and other outside points. The pall-bearers were Senator McMillan, Alexandria; Messrs. C. Kloepfer, Guelph; J. L. Murphy, Windsor; Hon. J. R. Stratton, B. Hughes, F. M. Holland, Bruce Macdonald and A. C. Macdonell, M.P. The interment took place at Mount Hope Cemetery.

The city of Guelph sent as representatives Mayor Sleeman and Ald. Newstead; the C.M.B.A. of Guelph was represented by President Ritchie and Grand Deputy Sam Heffernan; the Guelph Bar by C. L. Dunbar, James E. Day, and W. E. Buckingham; the St. Patrick's Society by President Manley Doherty, Frank Nunan, J. E. McElderry, Dr. Coghlan, Jos. Heffernan, M. Sweetman, E. Carrol; South Wellington Conservative Association was represented by C. Kloepfer, ex-M.P., Joseph P. Downey, M.P.P., Thomas Ingham and H. Gummer. Other citizens of Guelph were Messrs. D. E. Macdonald, A. M. McKinnon, James Kelcher, T. J. Day, G. Sulis, W. Carnill, H. Lockwood, H. Schofield and McMillan.

Among the floral tributes were wreaths from the Trust & Guarantee Company, the Dominion Permanent, the People's Life, the National Trust, Union Trust, Macdonell & Boland, Hon. J. J. Foy, Liberal-Conservative Association, Guelph; St. Patrick's Society and C.M.B.A., Guelph; J. L. Cosgrave, J. W. Lyon, Guelph; J. J. Warren, Bruce Macdonald.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Permit me to correct an item appearing in your issue of yesterday, to the effect that the Orangemen and 'Prentice Boys would attend Divine service at the Park Street Baptist Church on Sunday next. A special service has been arranged to take place at the above mentioned church, which the neighbouring lodges of Orangemen and Prentice Boys will attend on Sunday, November 5th, at 3 o'clock p. m., to commemorate the tercentenary anniversary of the discovery of the gunpowder plot. Rev Bro. A. H. Brace has kindly consented to preach an appropriate sermon for the occasion. It is probable that a similar service will be held in the George Street Methodist Church at 7 o'clock in the evening of the same date.

Very truly yours,
W. H. G. ARMSTRONG,
Secretary West Peterborough County L. L. L.,
Peterborough, October 12th, 1905.

First Aid to the Injured.

—The class in First Aid to the Injured, which will be taught by Dr. M. McClelland, will begin at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, October 12, at 8 o'clock.

The Tuesday Night Address At the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. B. R. Barber Spoke Upon the "Young Men of India."

Address Will Doubtless Result in Increased Interest—Large Attendance.

A new interest in foreign work, and particularly the work of Mr. Farquhar, in Calcutta, India, will no doubt result from the visit of Mr. B. R. Barber, to the Y.M.C.A. Tuesday night.

An impromptu reception was tendered him in the parlour, where Col. E. B. Edwards, president of the Association, introduced him to the many who gathered there.

A meeting was then held, opened by a hymn and prayer offered by Rev. Dr. Torrence.

Col. Edwards then very briefly and fittingly presented the claims of the foreign work on the Y.M.C.A., pointing out especially the claims, as well as the needs, of the young men of India. He then introduced Mr. Barker, who was given a hearty, reception, and gave a telling address on the work.

He said the people of India were a people with a great past and a great future. The Y.M.C.A. had only gone into places where the missionary societies had pastedly called them. There were sixty secretaries in the foreign field. The aim was to develop native secretaries. India had 120 associations, 8000 Y.M.C.A. members and 19 buildings. There were 370 colleges in India and 5 university centres. The Y.M.C.A. policy was first to reach men in these colleges.

The Indian young man's greatest temptations were impurity and intemperance. Calcutta had a million people and two Y.M.C.A. buildings, including one for Europeans. The work was conducted on much the same lines as here. There was a present need for twenty more foreign secretaries. Many associations were doing nobly, and it was to be expected that soon Peterborough would support a man of its own.

Over $120,000 was contributed last year by the North American Association; half of this came from individuals. Peterborough was pledged to raise $200 before December 1st, $75 of which had been secured in pledges. Every member should have some share in it.

A full discussion followed the address as to the best policy for the local association to adopt, and a number of pledges were made to the amount needed.

Barnardo Work Will Suffer No Interruption

Supt. Owen Says That Work Will Still Progress.

A Council Will Conduct the Operations in Future.

Mr. Alfred B. Owen, superintendent of the Barnardo Boys' Home on Farley avenue, Toronto, who has just returned from England, was asked if the death of Dr. Barnardo had been followed by any change in the conduct of the work. In reply he said the work would go on much the same as when the great philanthropist was alive. Mr. Owen then pointed out a statement by one of the members of the Homes' Council, taken from The London Times, as follows:

"Dr. Barnardo knew for some years that he could not live long, consequently he set about systematizing his work, and now that he is dead it will be continued without a break.'

Council Takes Charge.

Asked as to how the organization would be directed, Mr. Owen explained that a Council had been elected some eight years before, which, although passive while Dr. Barnardo lived, would now take up the direction of the work which had formerly been directed in every detail by the doctor himself.

Dr. Barnardo, however, had reserved the right to name his successor, and if among his papers there was found anyone so named, that person would at once be nominated as director.

Mr. Owen was entrusted with the duty of marshalling the procession, over two miles long, which followed Dr. Barnardo's remains through the streets of London to their last resting place.

"The work in England," said Mr. Owen, "is progressing by leaps and bounds. The prospects are that a larger number of boys than ever will be sent to Canada this year. Very few are now being sent to Australia and South Africa, as Canada has abundant room and splendid opportunities, and the authorities are not slow to recognize that fact."

Ladies Literary Society to Meet

The first meeting of the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. A. S. for the season of 1905-06 will be held in the association hall of the society on Friday, October 13. Rev. M. J. O'Brien, D.D., will open this season's literary by an address on his recent visit to the great Total Abstinence Convention held at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

All registered members for this season as well as those desirous of joining the association are cordially invited to be present at this, the opening meeting. The young ladies of the committee are requested to attend a meeting after the evening's entertainment.

$1,125 Raised For University Fund

Rev. J. J. Wright has recently returned from Keene and Westwood, where he has been working in the interests of the special endowment fund of Queen's University. During the ten days that Mr. Wright worked in that district he secured $1,125 in collections for the fund, which is considered a very satisfactory amount, particularly in view of the fact that these two charges, over which Rev. D. D. McDonald presides, are already supporting a missionary, Rev. Mr. Harcourt, in India.

From here, Mr. Wright will go to Sarnia Presbytery, where he will work in the interests of the fund.

CROWN TIMBER LANDS CASE AT THE ASSIZES

The McWilliams-Dickson Company Suit Now Being Heard by Mr. Justice Street--Plaintiff Claims $531.56 for Logs and Asks Damages for Wrongful Removal--Defendants Claim Prior Right to Cut Timber--Deny Validity of Transfer of Deed--Eminent Counsel Conducting the Case.

The case which engaged the attention of the Court of Assizes yesterday, at the conclusion of the Grow manslaughter case, was that of Mc. Williams vs. the Dickson Company, and is one in which considerable interest is being taken, not only locally, but outside the city as well. Two of the most eminent counsel in the Dominion are handling the case, Mr. A. B. Aylesworth representing McWilliams, and Mr. G. W. Watson, the Dickson Company, while as witnesses on the case there are present Hon. E. J. Davis, the late Commissioner of Crown Lands, Mr. Aubrey White, Assistant Commissioner of Crown Lands, and Mr. T. W. Gibson, Director of Bureau of Mines.

The particulars of the case as set forth in the statements of claim, are as follows:—

McWilliams vs. The Dickson Company. — An action for damages, brought by Theodore McWilliams, of Peterborough, against the Dickson Company. Plaintiff alleges that during the winter of 1904-05, defendants cut a quantity of timber, amounting in all to 856 saw logs, or about 60,000 feet board measure, upon his lots, Nos. 18 and 19, in concession 5, Cavendish township, under deed from John Cochrane, the patentee, without his permission, and subsequently took them to a point on Clear Lake. On an order made by the Master-in-Ordinary on July 14th, 1905, the sheriff of the county seized the logs, and thereupon defendants offered to pay into court the value of the logs, an agreement being entered into to this effect on July 24th, upon which plaintiff consented to release the logs from seizure. The plaintiff claims the sum of $531.56 as value of the logs and damages for wrongful removal.

Defendants claim that long prior to the date mentioned they were authorized by licenses from the Crown to cut and remove timber from the lands referred to; and also deny the validity of the deed of John Cochrane, and of the alleged transfer from him to the plaintiff. They further allege that John B. McWilliams, father of the plaintiff, and a Crown Timber Agent, an official acting in connection with the purchase of the lands, was interested in the proposed transfer, and it was intended that he should derive benefits therein; and that John Cochrane, a brother-in-law of J. B. McWilliams, was acting on behalf of, and as agent for him, in assisting to obtain possession of the lands. The action of the three parties mentioned was illegal, and the alleged grant was therefore void. The defendants further say that on Jan. 4th Cochrane entered into agreement with them to allow them to take all timber on the lot on payment of the Crown dues, after he received the patents, and that the plaintiffs had knowledge of notice to this effect, and that the latter still holds the lands, subject to the conditions of the agreement. The defendants have offered, and still offer, the sum of $32.80, as provided in the agreement, on condition that it is accepted in discharge of further liability on their part.

The plaintiff, in reply, denies that J. B. McWilliams has, or had, any interest in the lands, or that he has ever been an official in connection with the sale of the lands. The alleged agreement mentioned is invalid, and was a fraud against the Crown upon the part of defendants. Plaintiff also denies that he had knowledge of the agreement before acquiring the lands. R. F. McWilliams, plaintiff's solicitor; Roger & Bennet, solicitors for defence.

After the noon recess yesterday, the case was taken up, and the first witness examined was the plaintiff, Mr. Theodore McWilliams, his evidence being as follows:—

Q.—You are the plaintiff in this action?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Your action is brought to recover the value of a quantity of timber, hereafter set out in the statement of claim, which comprises basswood, hemlock, cedar, etc.?
A.—Yes.
Q.—You began these proceedings last July, and obtained an order to take possession of that wood or timber?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Do you know where it was at that time?
A.—At Young's Point.
Q.—That is a point in the river at the foot of Clear Lake?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Where was that timber cut?
A.—Lot 18 in the 5th concession of Cavendish.
Q.—That is about forty miles or more back of this?
A.—Yes.
Q.—You claim to be the owner of that lot?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Getting it how?
A.—A deed of it through John Cochrane.
Q.—You know the property?
A.—Yes.
Q.—The Lake Cachesoma covers a large part of 19 in the 5th?
A.—Yes.
Q.—And it lies on which side of the lake?
A.—It lies at the west side.
Q.—Where does Cochrane live?
A.—19 in the 6th North.
Q.—Had you any claim on either of these lots before the patent?
A.—No.
Q.—I thought you bought them at a tax sale?
A.—Did not mention that.
Q.—Do you remember whether you saw the treasurer and the warden sign this deed?
A.—Cannot swear to remember that.
Q.—How did you come to buy this property from Cochrane?
A.—In 1897 I had bought some of these lots for taxes with the intention of making a ranch out of them.
Q.—There are a number of lots forming a peninsula?
A.—Three sides bordered by water.
Q.—That peninsula being in concessions 5, 4 and 3, and jutting out into the water towards the east?
A.—Yes.
Q.—You say that in 1897 you had bought some of these lots at tax sale, with the idea of establishing a ranch?
A.—Yes.
Q.—I was asking you how you came to buy from Cochrane?
A.—He said he had no objection to selling the lots. I then closed a bargain with him.
Q.—Can you tell me what time of the year that would be?
A.—It would be in the summer or fall before the deed was drawn.
Q.—What did you do about getting the deed?
A.—I spoke to him about getting the deed and he said it would be all right.
Q.—Did you instruct the deed then to be prepared?
A.—Yes, it was then prepared.
Q.—Do you remember when it was signed?
A.—I cannot remember.
Q.—Was it signed the same day it is dated?
A.—No; later.
Q.—Approximately, how much later?
A.—Five or six weeks.
Q.—Did you know anything at that time of the claim of the Dickson Company having any claim?
A.—The latter part of September when they cut the timber—1904.
Q.—What did you find out then?
A.—I found out they had cut the timber.
Q.—Where is your place of residence?
A.—In town; Peterborough.
Q.—When did you last go up there before September a year ago?
A.—About June.
Q.—Then in September you heard they had cut the timber?
A.—Yes.
Q.—What did you do?
A.—I heard they cut the timber about the latter part of the month, and I did not do anything until I saw Mr. Aikens, the late walking boss.
Q.—What does walking boss mean?
A.—The outside manager for the woods department.
Q.—You spoke to Mr. Aikens about it?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Was the timber cut? Had the timber then been cut?
A.—Yes; the timber was cut there.
Q.—Did you cut it? Did you go out there to the premises?
A.—No.
Q.—When did you first go up?
A.—About February of this present year.
Q.—Of this present year?
A.—Yes.
Letter from Theodore McWilliams to Dickson Co. containing an offer of settlement, (produced).
Q.—How did you come to write that letter?
A.—After my talk with Mr. Aikens.
Q.—They declined that offer?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Then when you went there for the last time after the cutting had you anybody with you?
A.—William White.
Q.—What did you do out there?
A.—Measured the logs and painted them.
Q.—With what?
A.—Paint.
Q.—Marking them you mean?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Where where the logs then?
A.—On the skidway on lot 18.
Q.—That township is not very well settled?
A.—No.
Q.—Now let me know about the township. Are there any roads?
A.—A Government road.
Q.—Running?
A.—Running every direction.

IRISH GUARDS BAND CAPTURE PETERBORO'

They Present a Splendid Programme at the Brock Street Rink—A Well Balanced Organization With Incomparable Capacity of Execution and Interpretation—Heard With the Greatest Enthusiasm—A Musical Treat Unparallelled in the History of the City,

"Caed mille failthe" will be the cry should the band of His Majesty's Irish Guards visit Peterborough again, especially on the part of the audience which heard this splendid musical organization in the rink last night; for to hear their peerless performance is an unalloyed delight, so perfect is the balance of instrumentation, and so perfect are both execution and conducting. The audience last night was not as large as it should have been by any means, and the loss is not to the promoters of the concert engagement, but to those who missed hearing perhaps the best military band that has ever visited the city. There is no wish to compare the Irish Guards Band with the Coldstreams or the Black Watch, but the Irish Guards left the impression last night that they were, if not superior, easily on a level with those others, with a more finished and artistic style of performance. Though they are not as strong by seven or eight members as the bands mentioned, so excellent is their balance of instrumentation, so perfectly in their ensemble work performed that they produce most satisfying results. Though every section of the band is first-class, last night brought out the beauty of especially the brass and reed sections. The brass was beautifully mellow, and, on occasion, strong, without stridency. In reference to this, nothing could be more perfectly satisfying than the brass of the exquisite accompaniment to Mr. McGregor's "Killarney." One beauty of the band's performance is that it grows on one. The more it is heard the more intense becomes the sense of appreciation.

The programme presented last night was well adapted to show the breadth of capability of the organization. The opening number was a group of Moore's Irish melodies, in effect a concerto, for it served to display in its varied movements the capacity of the band in all musical moods. This was followed by an overture, "Robespierre," by Litolff, depicting an episode of the "Reign of Terror," in tone pictures of eminent expressiveness. At times, one familiar with the gruesome story could hear in the music the frenzied mobs deliriously singing the Marseillaise, and almost hear the laden tumbrils rolling through the streets to the Place de Greve, and see Madam Dufarge and La Vengeance counting the stitches in their knitting as they counted the heads dropping into the basket of "Monsieur de Paris." It was realism set to music. A special delight was the cornet solo by Sergt. Hunt, a most capable performer, with a tone of exquisite quality, smoothness and facility, with charming phrasing and artistic technique. He performed Gounod's "Quand tu Chantes," and in response to an encore call, "Callet Herrin." He was equally happy in his splendid performance of a selection from Il Trovatore, "Ah che la Morte," in the prison scene. Instead of using the gallery to give the idea of the tower, he played his solo with muted cornet and with delightful daintiness, and softness of tone. The accompaniment by the band with the chimes, and the aria prelude by the clarinets, were simply beautiful, and combined to form the charm of this artistic feature of the programme.

Mr. Douglas McGregor, the young vocalist, scored a triumph in his numbers, the first being Adams' "The Veteran." He was most enthusiastically applauded, and sang "The Song of the Blacksmith," by Capps. On his second appearance, his singing of Killarney, brought him a double recall, and he sang "The Highlandman's Toast," and "Dear Little Shamrock." Mr. McGregor is a great singer and it is the highest praise to say that he is in every way worthy of the company he keeps—as good in his way, as the band is in its way. The best work of the band was divided between the Tannhauser overture, and "William Tell." While the complicated musical structure of the former was beautifully unravelled, the beauty of performance of the latter could not be improved. The climaxes that mark the closing passages of the Rossini number were simply perfect, and the composer, if he now takes interest in earthly music, could not ask a better interpretation. The variations in a German folk song, were a sparkling medley of musical comedy. The imitations of the varied styles of Mozart, Wagner, Gounod, etc., whose styles were humourously reproduced in the variations of the simple theme, were delightful. The programme concluded with a military fantasia descriptive of "A Soldier's Life." Among the incidental selections, the performance of "Abide with Me," at "Evening Prayer," in its beautiful devotional spirit, and the triumphal paean of "Victory" — "See the Conquering Hero Comes," and "The Maple Leaf," roused feverish enthusiasm in the audience. The Irish Guards were given a splendid reception, and were most obliging in complying with the rather exacting demands of the audience for more. Their repertoire of 150 pieces made them equal to any demand, and the Irish good nature of the genial conductor, Mr. Hassell, did the rest. The visit of the Irish Guards to Peterborough will long remain a delightful memory, and the thanks of the music loving public are due to the energy and enterprise of the young gentlemen who were instrumental in bringing the Guards Band to the city.

Miss Ethel Morrison Becomes Wife of Mr. Thos. Batten.

One of North Monaghan's Most Popular Young Ladies Married.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, when Mr. Thos. Batten, an employee of the Toronto Electric Railway Co., was united in marriage to Miss Ethel Morrison, daughter of Mr. John Morrison, of North Monaghan. The ceremony was performed by Pastor A. E. Steuernagel, at the home of the bride, in the presence of about thirty of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who was beautifully attired in pure white silk, was assisted by Miss Flora Morrison, while the bridegroom was supported by Mr. Richard Batten, both of North Monaghan. The bride was given away by her father while the wedding march was played by Mrs. Wallace Batten. Among the presents was a beautiful gold watch, the gift of the bridegroom. After a sumptuous banquet, the happy couple were accompanied to the Grand Trunk station where they took the nine o'clock train for Lindsay and other points after which they will be at home in Toronto.

Mr. J. A. Tully Accepts Position With Oddfellows

Former Peterborough Man Made Inspector of Agencies.

A Prominent Oddfellow Gets an Important Position.

The many friends in this city of Mr. Jas. A. Tully, will learn with pleasure that at a recent meeting of the Executive he was the first choice of the Odd Fellows' Relief Association, and that he has accepted the position offered by the Board as Inspector of Agencies for the Province of Ontario. His duties will be to visit every Odd Fellows' lodge in Ontario and assist the local agents to spread the good work of the Association. There is no doubt Mr. Tully's unanimous choice of the Board was from the able and successful manner in which he handled the local agency while in Peterborough. "Jimmy" is an out and out Odd Fellow and his friends join in wishing him success in his new undertaking. He will commence his duties Nov. 1st, and may possibly move his family back to Peterborough, making this city his headquarters.

Quiet Wedding On Downey St.

Miss Margaret Oldham Becomes Bride of Mr. S. Thompson.

A very unique October wedding took place last night at the home of Mr. Thomas E. Oldham, Downey street, when his third daughter, Margaret, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Thompson, of Simcoe street. The wedding was strictly private in consequence of recent bereavement in both families, and only the near relatives were invited. The bride was led to the drawing room by her father, and wore a beautiful cream cashemere gown, and the bride and groom were unattended. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. H. Brace, of the Park street Baptist church of which the bride is a member. A sumptious feast was much enjoyed by the happy group The presents were very choice and sensible.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will take up their residence in Peterborough.

Sudden Death Of Young Wife Last Night

Mrs. Robt. Carter Died After Two Days' Illness.

Deceased Was Only Twenty Years of Age—The Sad Particulars.

Last night at the Nicholls Hospital a death, attended by very pitiable circumstances, occurred, when Marie Meagher, the wife of Mr. Robert Carter passed away. The deceased had been ill only since last Tuesday morning, and up to that time she had been in perfect health. She retired Monday night feeling well and on Tuesday morning complained of a pain in the chest and retired to her bed again, thinking that in a short time she would be well. Her husband thinking her indisposition a slight one, went to work. A short time afterwards Mr. Carter's sister, with whom he and his wife were boarding, went upstairs to see how Mrs. Carter was, and found her lying on the floor in a convulsion. The ambulance was called and she was removed to the Nicholls Hospital, but she never regained consciousness, passing away last night.

Deceased was only 20 years of age, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Meagher, of this city. She leaves besides her parents, four sisters and one brother, with her husband to survive her. These are Miss Lizzie Meagher, of Rochester; Mrs. Jos. McGinty, of Lindsay; Mrs. P. J. Doris, of Ottawa; Miss Maggie Meagher of this city, and Mr. Thos. Meagher.

The funeral will take place from the residence of deceased's brother-in-law, 81 Lock street, on Saturday at 2.30 to the Little Lake cemetery.

Earning $1 Per Day in Fees

Mr. Aubrey White, Deputy Commissioner of Lands and Mines, and Mr. T. W. Gibson, Director of the Bureau of Mines are to-day earning $1 each as witnesses in a lawsuit at Peterborough. Thus does the Crown as the dispenser of justice get even with the Crown as administrator.

The suit in which Messrs. White and Gibson have been called is between J. B. McWilliams and the Dickson Lumber Company, and involves the Department of Lands and Mines through veterans' land grants being located and timber being cut therefrom, although the lots were on timber lands under lease to the lumber company.—Toronto Star.

Crom Timber Lands Case At The Assizes

Q.—General direction is north, though?

A.—Yes.

Q.—How does that road lie with reference to 18?

A.—Runs through 18.

Q.—How much of 18 would be on the side of it away from the lake? About how many acres?

A.—About fifty acres on the west side of the road, and the remainder of the lot on the other.

Q.—Is there any fence?

A.—Wire fence.

Q.—Where does it run?

A.—It runs the east side of the lot.

Q.—The whole length of the lot?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Then fence goes to the north end of 18? And when that fence gets to the north end what becomes of it?

A.—It runs easterly to the lake, on the east side to the Government road to the concession between B and C, then turns and runs down the line across two lots to the lake.

Q.—Is that a substantial fence?

A.—Yes.

Q.—How high?

A.—About four or five wires.

Q.—When did you clear them?

A.—First of September, 1903.

Q.—The year before this cut; that is last fall?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Is there any fence on 18 on the west side of the road?

A.—There might be some now.

Q.—Was there at the time of the cut?

A.—No.

Q.—Was this cut limited to one side, or was it on both?

A.—On both sides of the road.

Q.—When you were up in the winter, where were the logs that had been cut?

A.—On the skidway in the field and had not been hauled to the water. Went over with Mr. White and marked them.

Q.—Did you see all the returns to the company of this cutting?

A.—I saw the number of feet.

Q.—You were present when Shook, the manager of the company, was examined the other day. Did you see then the returns of the cutting at that time?

A.—No.

Q.—Will you tell me how White's measurements corresponded with theirs?

A.—I saw the sworn affidavit of Smith, their foreman.

Q.—I asked you how that corresponded with White's? — then did you go back to the property at any time after the first of February, visit?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—How did White's measurements agree with this?

A.—Which measurement?

Q.—Have you got White's measurement?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Where you present when he made this measurement?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you assist him?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Where has this document been since Mr. White made it? Whose hand wrote them down?

A.—Mine.

Q.—You were there?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Are these measurements correct?

A.—I expect they are. I was there when he made them.

Q.—You have had the document since?

A.—Yes.

Q.—When did you go back to the lot again?

A.—In the spring.

Q.—What time?

A.—I do not know exactly.

Q.—Do you know what month it would be in—March or April?

A.—April.

Q.—What did you find then?

A.—The logs had been moved from the shore to across the lake. I went back with the intention of marking them with a hammer.

Q.—You found the logs in April, where?

A.—Across the lake.

Q.—Did you go to them at all?

A.—I saw them there.

Q.—How were they kept together?

A.—By a boom.

Q.—Is there any pins among the logs? Did you see any when you were there in February?

A.—No; I did not think there was any pins among them at all.

Q.—What use could you make of such property as you had on this Catchecoma Lake?

A.—Only to run the logs.

Q.—Is there any sawmill?

A.—I would have to bring them down to Lakefield for cutting.

Q.—Are there any sawmills nearer to this lake than those at Lakefield?

A.—There is Kelly's, at Bridge, north.

Q.—Is there water connection between Catchecoma Lake and Lakefield?

A.—Yes.

Q.—There is Gull Lake, Misaisauga Creek, Clear Lake, and Otonabee River.

A.—Yes.

Q.—Where would be the nearest mill for such logs?

A.—Lakefield.

Q.—Is there anybody there that deals in this business?

A.—The Dickson Company and Lilligan & Tate.

Q.—Did you take any steps towards taking possession of the logs?

A.—Not any more than to keep track of them.

Q.—There would be no market for them up there?

A.—No.

Q.—Did you go up again after April after the time of the seizure?

A.—Yes; I went up some time in June. I went up there to make inquiries. I could not find them until I came to Burleigh Falls.

Q.—Where did you find the logs?

A.—I found them in a drive at Burleigh Falls.

Q.—Had they passed through Mississauga Creek to get there?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Where they all at this place?

A.—I saw logs in the drive that I had numbered.

Q.—What is the drive?

A.—Ford's drive of logs.

Q.—Ford was the foreman?

A.—Yes; for the Dickson Company.

Q.—What quantity would there be in this drive where you found your logs?

A.—It was a large block of timber thirty or forty pieces.

Q.—How many times as large was this quantity of timber as your logs?

A.—About twenty-five times as large.

Q.—Did you know whether they were all mixed up in this drive or not?

A.—Not until I was told.

Q.—You did not examine them?

A.—No.

Q.—That would be some time in June?

A.—Yes.

Q.—What did you do?

A.—I came down to arrange for raising the logs, and commence this suit.

Q.—When the Sheriff had made his seizure there was an agreement?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And that agreement being made you had no further concern with the logs?

A.—No.

Q.—Supposing a person had just that quantity of logs, and no more, in Lake Catcheocoma, as these were, could you give me any idea of what the expense would be to bring them to Lakefield, or to the nearest market place?

A.—I do not know; I never had experience; it would cost quite a lot to bring down a small quantity of timber.

Q.—There are about 800 pieces in this lot?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Can you tell me what it would cost to bring them to the mill compared with the value after getting them there?

A.—It would be as expensive to bring down 800 pieces as a larger number.

Q.—Would it cost as much as they are worth, less or more, to bring them down?

A.—I cannot tell exactly; it would probably be two or three times what they are worth.

Q.—Have you any equipment for hauling or driving logs?

A.—No.

Q.—What quality of timber was this?

A.—Good quality of timber.

Q.—Can you tell me anything of the dimensions?

A.—It would be about seventy feet board measure to the piece. There was a lot, of cedar smaller, the hemlock would measure probably nearly ninety feet.

Q.—Can you tell me anything as to the value, based on the price you had got the year before?

A.—About $500.

Q.—Had the market fallen any from the year before. How did prices compare at this time with a year before?

A.—Prices were about the same. I had an offer at about the same figures.

Q.—From whom?

A.—Kelly, of Bridgenorth.

Q.—How did this price compare?

A.—About the same as the prices I had the season before.

Q.—You have a memorandum of prices?

A.—Yes; they are basswood: $11 per thousand feet.

The witness then produced a memorandum purporting to show the values of different woods; basswood $11 per M., hemlock $6.50, ash $10, birch $10, elm $8, maple $10, cedar $9.50, balsam $10, hemlock booms $6.50, which would, it was estimated, make the total value of this quantity of timber $441.56, which would not include anything for getting the timber to Young's Point, the nearest market, at least forty to sixty miles away. This he estimated at at least $1.50 per M. more, and there were about 60,000 feet. This timber was growing timber, which would have increased in value and standing, would, he estimated, be $250 or $300. Of the 60,000 feet cut, about 49,000 feet was hemlock.

To Mr. Watson the witness said that he was a shoemaker, but had not been doing anything since the lawsuit started, or since the spring of 1904. He was a son of Mr. J. B. McWilliams, who had been supervisor of rangers in the Province of Ontario for about thirty years, with headquarters in Peterborough. Prior to the commencement of the first action the witness had been in and about his father's office and also his brother's, but not to do any work there. Mr. Cochrane was his uncle. He lived in Cavendish. He had interviews with Mr. Cochrane some time prior to the execution of the deed of February 26, 1902, from his uncle to himself. The deed was made prior to the issuing of the patents to his uncle, which was dated March 26, 1902. The deed was not signed because they were waiting to get lot 18. Witness did not know that his uncle was making application for the lots, but he might have been told some time during the summer. He was speaking to Mr. Cochrane about getting the whole of the lots, and he said he had no objection to giving witness the lots he had applied for. Witness could not say whether he knew that his father had paid the Crown fees for the issuing of the patents and had never been repaid by Cochrane or anyone else, but he would not be surprised to learn it. He did not think his father and Mr. Cochrane had ever been working much together. The witness said he had means of his own, and had never got a dollar from his father in his life until he got into this difficulty. He could not say whether he had ever paid his father for the issuing of these patents. He did not know who had been the original applicant for the property. There were old clearances on the property, but he did not know who made them. Part of the property was got under tax sale, but he did not know by whom the taxes were payable, but he knew that the property had been abandoned by the previous applicant. He did not know at the time that his father had given his consent on the witness' behalf to the issuing of the patents to his uncle. He heard afterwards that Cochrane had the patents issued. Witness registered his deed in November, 1905. He also made a transfer of property to his brother, but did not know that this particular property was covered. He had always been intimate with his uncle. His uncle had told him he did not want the lot, and if he had known that witness wanted it he would not have interfered with him, but the merely wanted the lot to prevent Mr. Westlake from getting it. Witness wanted a block of about eight hundred acres of land for ranching purposes, but he also wanted whatever timber there was, so as to make some money.

He did not think he had ever discussed the matter with his father much. He himself had been in the employment of the Crown in the fall of 1897, 1898, 1899 and 1900 and was working under the direction of his father. Was engaged as work in connection with the lumber camps, but had not been in the employment of the Crown at the time of the tax sale in 1897. The money he earned at that time was in connection with his father and the Crown business, but he had got none for some little time. He could not swear as to whether or no Mr. Cochrane was acting as his father's agent in getting the patents for these lots. From the time of the tax sale up to 1903 he did nothing on the lots. In 1903 he did a little plowing. In September of 1904 the Dickson Company were cutting, and in October witness gave them notice. He took no steps in the matter until February, 1905, and then the logs had been got down to Young's Point. He fenced his land off, but did not think he included any lands that were not his, unless it was part of lot 18, and his father got an assignment of that for him from the holder, for which he gave his father the money. He did not know at the time that Westlake was applying for the lots which were got by Mr. Cochrane.

To Mr. Aylesworth the witness said that his father had not made application for these lots on his behalf. When Mr. Cochrane applied for the patent there was no understanding between him and the witness. Also when Mr. Cochrane gave the lots to him his father had nothing to do with the making of the bargain between Cochrane and himself. Witness said he had paid Cochrane $50.00 for lot 18. The witness first heard of the agreement between Cochrane and the Dickson Company in October or November of last year.

Questioned again by Mr. Watson, the witness said that the dues were $48 on 18, and $.. on 19, paid by his father. He was not sure whether he paid Cochrane the $50 besides this amount for 18, or whether the only payment made was the $48 to his father. On this point he could not be clear.

F. J. A. Hall, Deputy Sheriff, examined by Mr. Aylesworth, said he had gone up to Young's Point to make a seizure of a quantity of logs, about 800. The Manager of the Dickson Company showed him a boom of about 46,000 and told him to pack them out. An agreement was made whereby defendants made a payment of $500.00 which was still being held by the Sheriff subject to the order of the Court.

Jas. Swanson, a cutter in the employment of the Dickson Company, said he had done the work of measuring and cutting the logs cut by the Company on lot 18, in the 5th concession of Cavendish. These logs were kept separate. The logs were good sized timber.

Mr. G. W. Hatton gave evidence as to a sale of timber he had made to the Dickson Company. He had only seen his logs in the water and did not know how they compared with the logs cut on lot 18 under dispute.

Mr. W. B. Keddy, of Bridgenorth, gave evidence as to the value of timber the year before last. He figured that the total value of these logs would be about $423.00 at Catchacoma Lake. Cutting, drawing and delivering into the water would be about $6.50 per thousand, and $1.50 per thousand would be a fair price for driving.

This closed the case for the plaintiff.

John Cochrane, examined by Mr. Watson, said that he lived in Cavendish, about 36 miles from Peterborough.

Q.—Did you ever make application for lot 18 in the 5th concession?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Who made the application?

A.—I did.

Q.—How did you do it?

A.—I do not know.

Q.—Had Mr. J. B McWilliams anything to do with it?

A.—No.

Q.—Who paid the money?

A.—I did not pay the money.

Q.—Who did pay the money?

A.—I do not know.

Q.—Whose was the property to be?

A.—Theodore McWilliams.

Q.—Do you recollect signing the agreement with the Dickson Company?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Did Theodore McWilliams ever know about that sale by you to the Dickson Company?

A.—I did not tell him at the time.

Q.—When did you tell him?

A.—Six months after.

Q.—After you signed it?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—You made a deed to Theodore McWilliams of lot 18?

A.—Yes.

Q.—At that time did Theodore McWilliams know that you had sold the timber to the Dickson Company?

A.—I could not say whether he did or not.

When witness deeded the land to Mr. McWilliams he did not tell him that he had agreed to allow the Dickson Company to have the timber. He wanted to get the land and he could not get the land unless he let them have the timber. He had never talked with J. B. McWilliams about the matter. He gave the lot to Theodore McWilliams but never got anything for it. The patent from the Crown had never been in his possession, and he could not say who first got it from the Department in Toronto. He had never heard anything about any money that would have to be paid for the patent. There had never been anything said by Theodore McWilliams about paying money to his father or the Crown, and he knew nothing of any payment for the patent. He had never paid a cent for it.

To Mr. Aylesworth he said that the agreement with the Dickson Company had been brought to him written out and he had signed it. He thought he had to sign it to get the land. He did not know that when his application was made to the Crown Lands Department, the Department wrote to the Company asking if they had any objection to his getting it. He never got anything for signing the agreement with the Company. Asked again about the patent, witness said he did not recollect whether it had ever been in his possession. He remembered signing the deed to Theodore. Theodore had brought it out to him. He did not remember telling Theodore when asked if he would give him the lot, that he was willing to do so because all he wanted it for was to keep Westlake from getting it.

To Mr. Watson witness said that when Theodore went out to his house to get the deed signed J. B. McWilliams was drunk him. He did not remember what was said. Witness did not want the lot, he got it for Theodore. At the time he applied for the lot in the first place it was for Theodore. He had some conversation with Theodore before the application was made but he did not recollect what it was. Witness also said that Theodore wrote out the application for the patent and he signed it, and Theodore mailed it.

Aubrey White, Assistant Commissioner of Crown Lands, was examined with regard to the lots in question. A copy of correspondence with the Department relative to the application was read, and also the order-in-Council of the 26th of March, 1895, by which all timber licenses are made to expire on the 30th day of April next after the date thereof. Under the regulations licenses were renewable as a matter of right. It was the practice of the Department to notify licensees of any applications for lots under license, and the lots were not granted without consulting the licensee. If the objection made was not a valid one, the lot would be located despite the objection.

Mr. J. C. Shook, the manager of the Dickson Company, said that he had been in that position for nearly five years. Mr. Eakins had obtained the agreement between John Cochrane and the company, acting under instructions from witness. The company had a timber license covering the property. He gave his consent to the sale of the land to Mr. Cochrane, as a result of obtaining the agreement from him. The company proceeded to take the timber out in the fall of 1904, and nothing had happened in the meantime to affect the agreement. He knew some time during the summer that Theodore McWilliams made claim to the property, when he fenced in part of it. The timber was cut in September, and in October a letter was received from Mr. McWilliams regarding the matter. The company took the logs to Young's Point, and no objection was made by Mr. McWilliams, so far witness knew, to the logs being hauled out. He considered $.50 or $4 per thousand, a fair price for cutting and hauling the logs to water, and $1.75 per thousand for driving. The logs had since been sawn by the company. Witness did not quarrel with the value put upon the logs as they were at Young's Point, $500. They were brought down to Young's Point separately, but were there mixed with the others. The Crown dues on the 60,000 feet would be about $32, for which the company sent Mr. Cochrane a cheque, but which he returned. He would not accept the cheque but there was no repudiation of the agreement. That was about March, 1905, before the logs were got down to Young's Point. Witness had never had any talk with Mr. J. B. McWilliams about the matter. He wrote Mr. Cochrane after the latter returned the cheque.

To Mr. Aylesworth witness said that he had succeeded Mr. Richard Hall in the management of the company. In the spring of 1904, witness found that Theodore McWilliams was cutting a quantity of logs on the lots adjacent to this lot, 18, in the 5th con., and he protested to the Department, and there was an investigation, and a ruling of the Department upon it. Then the logs were taken by the company. It was not as a result of that fact that the company went to cutting on lot 18, in September, 1904. He said the trouble with McWilliams had nothing to do with his cutting there. He went to cut there with the idea that he had the right to do so under the agreement with Cochrane. The agreement was in witness' handwriting, and Eakins got Cochrane to sign it. Witness had not said that he would not have given his consent to Cochrane's getting the property if he had not signed the agreement. When asked if he had in mind the fact that Mr. Hall had given his consent more than two years before, witness said that he knew that Mr. Hall had given his consent to take logs out, but did not know that it covered this lot. Witness had withdrawn his consent, as far as possible, by letters to the Department. He did not know whether he would have got the letter from Cochrane if the latter had known that consent had been given years before. The company agreed to give Cochrane the Crown dues, and the cheque was sent to him because they had agreed to do so. The prices quoted by McWilliams for the logs were about right. Witness would say $1.75 instead of $1.50 for driving, on account of their having been brought separately across Gull Lake. Witness understood that his consent to Cochrane's obtaining the patent was not an essential thing, but he did not instruct Eakins to tell Cochrane that unless he signed the document he could not get the lot. He understood from Eakins that Cochrane was quite willing to give the letter.

This Bad Boy Objected Going To School

"Billy" Bowman Was Remanded Once More.

Disturber of the Peace at the Opera House Severely Dealt With.

The Police Court is assuming its usual aspect now. A goodly number of cases were disposed of this morning.

A Peterborough citizen was charged with not sending his boy to school. The principal of the Separate School, Mr. McDonald, stated that the boy was had only attended school half a day this term. The defendant said that the boy was incorrigible and that he had been under the impression that he was going regularly to school. His Worship advised him to either make the boy go to school or else put him to work.

H. Bellaghem was charged with creating a disturbance in the opera house at Bijou Company's performance last night. The court thought that this kind of offence was altogether too common and fined the culprit five dollars, and in default of payment, ten days in gaol. A step has assuredly been taken in the right direction. The abominable habit of the gallery element disturbing plays and annoying the audience is altogether too prevalent in Peterborough.

A youth was charged with throwing an apple through the window of one of the coaches of the Lakefield train. He was not ready to go with the case and was, at his own request remanded until to-morrow.

The case of Wm. Bowman will come up to-morrow morning. His counsel Mr. F. D. Kerr, was unable to be present.

Mr. Jas. Healey, who was a short time ago found guilty of harbouring a vicious dog for which he had no tag, and who was unable to be present at the first hearing of the case, proved to the satisfaction of the court, that the dog was not his, and the charge was consequently dismissed.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS

Every stable, pen and shed in which live stock could be got in under cover, away from the cold pelting rain, was uncomfortably crowded. The number of individual thoroughbred exhibits was unusually large. But out in the open field there were no special exhibits of machinery or domestic manufactures—the few that were made in these classes being crowded into the exhibition building with the roots and ladies' work.

Birdsall and Son's Shorthorns and Sheep.

From the stock yards of Messrs. F. Birdsall & Son, Otonabee, there was an interesting showing of eleven head of shorthorns and eleven sheep. Most of these, particularly the calves, the three-year-olds and the sheep, were from the run of the field, and had not been in any way specially prepared for exhibition. They carried off, however, a creditable number of firsts and seconds, notwithstanding, unusually severe competition. Mention is also made of the Hobbs imported ram, included in the Birdsall sheep pens, which, although not on the grounds, has a high reputation as one of the best and surest breeders in the country. Their sheep and lambs shown were very fine. Recently Messrs. Birdsall & Son made a sale of 32 of their lambs to one party.

Howard's First-Prize Harness.

"Keep everlastingly at it," seems to be one of the mottoes of Tom Howard, the harness king of Hastings. He sent another trim exhibit of his hand-made harness to the Fair, as usual, and, by the same token, it was [illegible] with the first prize red tickets. He showed two sets of superior buck harness, with plated decorations and high Scotch collars; one set of heavy draught farm harness, and several walk made bridles and blinds. Each set were closely inspected by hundreds of harnessmen, who crowded in larger numbers than than ever before into the building, where this display was made, on account of the rain.

Peterborough's Youngest Clothiers—Messrs Lang & Maher.

This ambitious Peterborough firm of clothiers and outfitters made their second appearance at the Norwood Fair, and did their level best to advertise their business. Jupiter Pluvius tried hard to debauch their painstaking work of the previous day. But, like Noah's Ark, "when the waters prevailed on the earth," the Daylight Clothiers' banners and bulletins came safely through all the flood of Wednesday, and did duty all over the show grounds without shedding a coloured tear. This wide-awake firm of clothiers have a taking way of leaving a good impression on the crowds of farmers and visitors at the fairs by their systematic campaign of advertising. The persistence shown in advertising the claims of their clothing, and their lowest watermark prices throughout the district, must be productive of good results. The members of their advertising staff arrived in Norwood on the afternoon of the first day of the Fair, and had their work well executed before the rain began to do its worst. Their various coloured bulletins decorated the show grounds profusely; wherever the eye rested, the name of Lang & Maher was focussed. Fancy cards and aluminum combs, bearing their name and address, were distributed at the entrance gates, and handbills and circulars were handed to the crowds throughout the grounds.

It is not saying too much, from what customers of this firm say, that when you put on Lang & Maher's clothing you are wearing clothes that have been made by smart tailors and made under the most favourable conditions. Their entire stock is brand new, and is composed largely of the perfect "Northway" garments and the "Sovereign" brand—so much like the merchant tailor-made clothes. The bulk of these high-class brands of clothing are sold only in the larger centres, and wherever there is a wide-awake enterprising clothier seeking the best to suit before his customers. The usual defects of sagging collar and sloping shoulders of the coat are not to be seen in their "Sovereign" brand and other high-class styles of clothing. The collar is hand-fitted, stayed and close fitting, the shoulders nicely concaved, and every detail that custom-made garments have are to be seen. Lang & Maher seem to have got out of the beaten path, and got into the way of the clothing maker who has originated something which excels in every respect. Style and economy walk arm in arm at the "Daylight Store"—there's no high ruling prices because the quality is high. The firm claim that you could not get more service if you paid a merchant tailor nearly double their prices.

For men who want to be warm and well dressed, their line of overcoats present strong claims for attention. They have a full and complete range of winter top coats in every material wanted by the up-to-date dresser of to-day, and the goods are as represented or back goes your money. Everything in their store being new, it's a good and reliable store for winter underwear, gloves, hosiery, and gentlemen's outfittings of every kind. To make a long story short, get a date on with Lang & Maher, quick.

Grafton's High Grade Clothing.

The representatives of the Peterborough branch of Messrs. Grafton & Co., clothing manufacturers, drove to Norwood on the afternoon of the last day of the Fair. They started to work and staked out their ground for their usual large and effective display of high-grade clothing under a large tent, and had everything ready to place their goods the following morning. But, unfortunately, the heavy rain of the night, and its incessant continuance on Wednesday practically put an exhibit out of the question. They persisted, however, in putting up their pictorial signs in the most conspicuous places in the vicinity of the show grounds. The great feature of Grafton's advertising is the reliability behind every statement; and in their own spacious building on George street, Peterborough, their stock is beyond question the finest they have ever made, and without doubt the largest. The garments will be found of the very latest, in fact the only competition they will have will be from the most exclusively custom tailors. Grafton & Co. own and operate a great chain of large stores throughout Canada, enabling them to purchase the cloths and material for manufacturing in immense quantities for spot cash at prices impossible to other dealers. Every garment sold is manufactured by them in their own large factory at Dundas, so that the customer is buying direct from the maker closer to cost of production than is possible for him to do from any other Canadian concern. Mr. Herb. Conway, Mr. Alf. Kingscote, and Mr. Robt. Howland, the firm's agile advertising man, showed good judgment in placing the signs and advertising matter. Along the main street, on the fences and buildings of the show grounds, and the precincts of the Fair, the large coloured litographs of the firm were prominently displayed. This firm offered three special prizes for the best teams of general purpose horses in horses and wagon, which brought out quite a number of close contestants.

No joy or pleasure on this earth quite equals that which comes into the home when baby arrives. Who can describe the happiness of man and woman, joined in wedlock, as they look upon the fragile, delicate mite that is blood of their blood and flesh of their flesh? And who can depict the hopelessness and dejection that hover about the home where the wife is incapable of becoming a mother? Barrenness proceeds from some derangement of the distinctly feminine organs. Many of the common ailments known as "female troubles" cause it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes barrenness by stamping out diseases of women, and by healing and curing ulceration. It tones up the system, stops drains, and restores strength. During gestation it modifies morning sickness, gives elasticity to the overstrained parts concerned, makes the hour of baby's coming short and almost painless, and gives wonderful recuperative power to the patient. By making the mother strong and cheerful, it makes the little one healthy, vigorous and good natured. Insist upon the medicine dealer giving you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when you ask for it. Substitutes are often dangerous.

Mrs. James W. Bledsoe, of 69 Catherine St., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby."

For 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, you can get a free copy of that admirable doctor book, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, illustrated. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

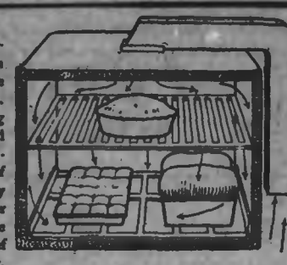
THERE has only been one real improvement in cooking ranges in many years. That improvement is the Imperial Oxford Diffusive Oven Flue.

While other makers were adding dampers, racks, door openers and shakers in a vain attempt to make improvements, we studied the heart of the range. We knew that the only improvement you wanted was a better oven, an oven that would help you bake better bread, pies and cakes, roast beef to a turn, retaining its juice and flavor.



Our investigations and experiments produced the oven-heating system of the

The important feature of this system is the diffusive flue which draws in fresh air, superheats it and distributes it evenly throughout the oven. The article on the bottom shelf farthest from the fire is getting as much heat on all sides as the article on the top shelf next the fire.

We would like to explain this more fully. If your dealer doesn't handle the Imperial Oxford Range, write us for particulars. We will send catalogue and tell you where you can see the range. 14

BLOOD POISON.

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, sickness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Province, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Citizens' Meeting Will Be Held on Friday

The meeting which was announced for last night for the purpose of considering the question of the improvements of the fire system of the city was not held, a majority of the Aldermen were present, and President Fair and Vice-President LeBrun, of the Retail Merchants' Association, but it was considered inadvisable to attempt to hold the meeting in view of the fact that many of those who were invited to be present were not on hand. It was felt that the weather had an effect on the attendance, as well as the concert of the Irish Guard's Band, and not to any material lack of interest in the project among the business men of the city.

It was decided, therefore to postpone the meeting until Friday night when in the Council Chambers another effort will be made to gather a representative number of citizens to thoroughly discuss the situation.

The notices will be sent out again to those to whom the first invitations were sent, advising them of the change, and asking them to be present.

Ald. Johnston is determined to give the business men an opportunity of expressing their views on the matter, and if they do not support the proposals to improve the fire-fighting appliances of the city the responsibility will then rest with them and not with the Fire, Water and Light Committee and the Council, both of which bodies will then have done their duty to the public.

It is to be hoped that on Friday night there will be a representative gathering of the citizens who are, or who should be interested in providing for the city, especially its business portion adequate fire protection.

The meeting will be called at eight o'clock on Friday night in the Council Chamber.

All members and any wishing to join are asked to be present.

Rural Deanery Meeting Was Held Yesterday

Two Local Clergymen Were It Attendance

A Resolution of Appreciation of Rural Dean's Services Passed.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rural Dean, of the Deanery of Northumberland and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M. A., rector of St. Luke's have returned from Brighton where they attended the quarterly meeting of the Deanery.

There were about sixteen clergymen present and the sessions were most interesting.

On Tuesday evening the meeting opened with morning prayer in the Brighton church, at which the choir boys of St. Paul's Church, Cobourne, were present and led the musical service. Three addresses were given, Rev. A. J. Reid, of Campbellford, speaking on "Lay Helpers", Rev. E. A. Langfeldt on "Parochial Finances," Rev. F. G. Plummer, of St. Augustine's Church, also gave an address.

The Wednesday morning session opened with the celebration of the Holy Communion, and Rev. E. W. Pickford, of Norwood, read a paper on "Faith and Morals", which was much enjoyed. A reading in Greek and dispussion on the 17th chapter of St. John, followed, Rev. C. H. Brooke, of Grafton, being the exponent.

General business was then considered and a pleasant feature of this session was the adoption of a resolution, moved by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, seconded by Rev. A. J. Reid, expressing most hearty appreciation of the energetic and faithful work of Rev. Rural Dean Davidson, in connection with the promotion of the interests of the deanery.

It was decided to hold the next meeting in Campbellford on the invitation of the rector of that church, and the Rural Dean, the secretary and Rev. A. J. Reid, were appointed a committee to complete arrangements.

The clergy attending the meeting were pleasantly entertained by the members of the Brighton Church, who exerted themselves to make their stay in that town enjoyable.

Nurses' Action Is Commendable

The Examiner learns that prior to the death of the late Dr. Armstrong, Misses Haggarty and Laing, two trained nurses, living at the Y. W. C. A. building, were commissioned by the King's Daughters to attend the patient and to the credit of these charitable young ladies it must be recorded that even after their engagement with the King's Daughters was terminated they continued to minister to the member of the afflicted family, for which they would accept no remuneration. This kind-hearted action will commend them to the public of this city.

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old.

In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain as long as possible one's youthful appearance.

It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxurious growth of hair.

The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness.

Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use.

Herpicide marks an excellent hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure.

Accept no substitute—there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

The Bride Was Related Here

Miss Bella Thompson Married in Port Hope.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Thompson, Pine street, Port Hope, when their eldest daughter, Bella, was united in marriage to Mr. Reginald Black, the Rev. J. E. Trotter, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

The bride looked very pretty in a gown of rich chiffon taffeta trimmed with seed pearls and silk applique. Miss Sarah Black, who acted as bridesmaid, looked very becoming attired in crepe de nette over pink. Mr. J. I. Thompson, Peterborough, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

After the nuptial ceremony, a dainty dejeuner was served, and the bride and groom received the congratulations and best wishes of all present.

A large and costly selection of presents testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held by all who knew them. The groom's present to the bride and bridesmaid were pearl pins, and to the groomsman a pearl tie pin.

Mr. and Mrs. Black will make up their residence on Hope street. Their host of friends wish them many years of wedded felicity.

The out-of-town guests were Miss F. Tinney, Cobourg; Miss Black, Toronto; Mrs. W. J. Nelson and Mr. J. I. Thompson, Peterborough.—Guide.

J. SUTCLIFFE & SONS

TARIFF COMMISSION WILL, WHEN COMING EAST, SIT IN PETERBOROUGH

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., In Response to Urgent Request is so Advised by Hon. W. S. Fielding—Action by Board of Trade is Imperative—Importance of the Visit, to Peterborough Industries, Will be Great—Commissioners Now Proceeding East.

In response to an urgent request made by him, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., yesterday received a communication from Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, in which the latter advises him that he has no doubt that the Tariff Commission will visit Peterborough. It is expected that the Commission will take upon their Ontario work on their way east, and due notice of the dates upon which the Ontario meetings will be held will be given. The members are now upon their way east from Vancouver.

The sitting here of the Commission means much to the city and county of Peterborough, and representatives from surrounding towns and country districts will no doubt be in attendance at the sitting to advance their views.

The Commission is composed of Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, (Chairman;) Hon. Sir Richard Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce; Hon. Wm. Patterson, Minister of Customs, and Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue.

Mr. Hall has taken an exceedingly active interest on behalf of Peterborough's industries, and in respect to the tariff as it affects the workingmen, and farmers of the riding, by by inviting representations respecting changes which should be made. It is imperative upon the part of the Board of Trade that it take steps immediately to organ allise the representations in regard to changes which should be made in the best interests of this city and county.

The growing city of Peterborough is interested to a much greater extent in tariff alterations than is the case ordinarily, owing to their vital importance to the branches of industry located there, and those in prospect.

It is hoped that a concerted action may be arranged previous to the Commissioners' visit which will be representative of the best interests of the community as a whole, and the variety of interests involved.

In securing the sitting here of the Tariff Commission, Mr. Hall has conferred upon all classes of his constituents what may result in benefits of a lasting nature and that his efforts are being accorded a merited appreciation is certain.

PETERBOROUGH BACON IS DEMANDED IN SCOTLAND

Mr. Andrew Mitchell, of Ayr, Scotland, in the City to Form a Trade Connection—Was the Guest of Mr. T. F. Matthews—Bacon Manufactured Here is Greatly in Demand in the Old Country—Compared Very Favourably With Best Danish Bacon.

That the eyes of the old country are being turned more and more to Canada, for dairy and farm produce, is demonstrated by the visit to Canada, of the representative of a very extensive Scotch produce product firm. Mr. Andrew Mitchell, sr., representing Walter Mitchell & Sons, Ayr, Septland, arrived by the Majestic on Wednesday afternoon. After spending a day or two in Montreal, he arrived in Peterborough last evening on a flying visit.

Mr. Mitchell, on behalf of his firm, is investigating the capabilities of Canada for cheese, butter and bacon, with the idea of establishing trade connections in these articles. In the matter of Canadian bacon, Mr. Mitchell says it is of excellent quality and compares very favourably with the best Irish and Danish products. Last night Mr. Mitchell had a business interview with Mr. T. F. Matthews, of the George Matthews Company, in regard to bacon products, but as Mr. Matthews went out of the city last night at midnight, and Mr. Mitchell went west on the early express this morning, no information as to the result of the conference is available.

It is pretty certain, however, that if Mr. Mitchell is looking for the best bacon in Canada, he will have come to some understanding with the producers of it.

Snow Fell At Catchecoma

Mr. Robert Gibbs Reports Snow Storm There Yesterday.

Mr. Robt. Gibbs, who was at Lake Catchecoma yesterday reports that there was a fall of snow in that region during the day. For fully five minutes the white flakes fell and the ground was almost covered with its white mantle.

It did not remain long, however, the sun afterwards coming out and the snow disappeared.

It is a taste, however, of what we may expect before long.

Social Next Monday Night.

SURVEY OF GEORGIAN BAY END COMPLETED

Engineer Kerr Has Finished the Work of Surveying Various Routes From Lake Simcoe to Georgian Bay—Will Now go to Meet Party Coming North From Toronto—Prospects for the Early Completion of the Whole Survey.

Engineer Kerr, of the Trent Canal survey staff, arrived in the city last night after having spent about a year surveying the various proposed routes for the outlet of the canal from Lake Simcoe to the Georgian Bay.

These surveys have been submitted to the engineer in charge, Mr. Walsh, and it is expected that his report will be ready by the time of the next session of Parliament.

Mr. Kerr left for Hastings, where he will now make his headquarters and conduct a survey of the proposed route below Hastings Falls to meet a party which for some time has been working from Trenton north.

The fact that the work of surveying is being prosecuted so vigourously, is a happy augury for the early completion of the canal, and it now seems probable that within a few months at the latest the whole route will have been surveyed.

Mr. Kerr's force consists of about ten men.

The Postoffice Changes Will Be Made Saturday

To-morrow night the changes in the interior arrangements of the post office will be commenced, and it is expected that they will be completed by Monday morning.

The office will be closed at six o'clock to-morrow night, and the staff of workmen under contractor Bellegham, will endeavour to make a rush job of the changes. Considerable more boxes will be provided and the interior will be practically re-modelled. When the citizeans go for their mail on Monday morning it is probable that they will find an entirely new appearance of the office.

Extension In Prospect To Perkins, Ince & Co. Premises

Work upon the building of an extension to the warehouses occupied by Messrs. Perkins, Ince & Co., wholesale grocers, Charlotte street, will, it is understood, be commenced in the near future, if the plans at present under consideration are carried out.

The expanding business of this progressive firm, it is said, has created the necessity for increased facilities, to be secured only by an increase in warehouse space.

The new building, the plans in view for which are for a one-storey brick structure forty feet in length, will be situated at the northern end of the present warehouse. The contractor for the work, it is understood, will be Mr. James Graham.

Dummer Plans Demonstration Of Welcome

To Charles Gow, Upon His Release, Three Months Hence.

Much Discussion Created Over the Result—General Sympathy Expressed.

Special to the Examiner

Warsaw, Oct. 12th.—The result of the Gow trial, and the sentence imposed yesterday is regarded by the host of friends of the prisoner here with considerable satisfaction, since the removal, by the light sentence, of the feeling of apprehension created by the verdict of the jury.

There has been since the sentence was announced a very considerable talk throughout the whole countryside of arranging for a huge demonstration of welcome to the prisoner upon his home coming three months hence.

Just what form the affair is likely to take is, of course, as yet undecided, but Gow's general popularity and the feeling of sympathy which prevails toward him warrant the belief that, the proposal will be carried out upon a huge scale. Throughout the whole episode nothing but expressions of sympathy toward the prisoner, and regret at what was regarded as an unfortunate accident was heard in connection with the case.

Considerable apprehension was, of course, felt after the return of the verdict of the jury, that a heavy sentence might result.

Just what tangible result may eventuate from the project to extend a welcome of a public form is, of course, a matter of conjecture as yet, but it appears, certainly to meet with popular favour if the considerable discussion which it has created may be regarded as a criterion.

Degree Night At The I.O.O.F.

Members of Peterboro' Lodge Spend Enjoyable Night.

The members of Peterborough lodge No. 111 I.O.O.F., had a sort of "field night" last evening when several visitors from Lakefield and Havelock Lodges were present. The Lakefield contingent drove to the city and the Havelock brethern came up by train.

The first, second and third degrees were conferred on a number of the visitors by the degree team of Peterborough lodge. The work was ably put on, being exemplified in a most efficient manner. At the close refreshments were enjoyed in the dining hall and a pleasant time spent by all. Afterwards a meeting of Cyskus Sanctorum was held and the Oriental degree conferred upon eight candidates. The evening was a most successful and enjoyable one in every respect.

WAS ASHER WILTSE'S DEATH CAUSED BY AN ELECTRIC SHOCK?

Coroner's Inquest Opened at Havelock Yesterday—No Positive Proof That He Met His Death From Causes Stated—Post Mortem Will Probably Reveal the Cause—Electric Light Company Had Trouble at the C. P. R. Round House Previously—Inquest Adjourned Till Monday.

The coroner's inquest into the cause of the death of Asher T. Wiltse of Havelock, the circumstances in connection with which were recorded yesterday, opened in the Council Chamber, Havelock, yesterday afternoon, before Coroner Gray, after a jury had been empannelled by High County Constable Cochrane. No verdict was reached, and the inquest was adjourned to meet again in Havelock, on Monday next, at one o'clock, and, in the meantime, Dr. Young and Dr. Crawford, will make a post mortem examination of the body of the deceased, until which is done it will be impossible to arrive at a definite decision as to the cause of Wiltse's death.

The general impression seems to be that his death was due to an electric shock, but no evidence at the inquest proved this conclusively.

It is probable that at the adjourned inquest on Monday, an expert on electricity will give evidence.

The Coroner stated to the jury that a post mortem examination would be necessary, and the jury agreed to have Dr. Young and Dr. Crawford perform it.

Dr. Young was the first witness called, and said that without making a post mortem examination it would be impossible for him to state what the cause of death was, and he considered that a post mortem examination necessary to determine the exact cause of death.

The next witness was Mr. Alex. Rose, secretary of the Havelock Electric Light Company, who said that he was unable to account for the death of Mr. Wiltse. Questioned as to the voltage which left the transformer and entered the house in which the accident occurred, witness said that he could not tell. The voltage on the wire entering the house, though, could not be higher than 110, and it might be as low as 85 or 90. The load on the wire to the transformer from the power house is 4,400 volts, and as the machines were built and wound for that load, they could not carry more. There was, he stated, a transformer about a quarter of a mile from that place at McMaster's, on the main line to the power house, and there is an arc light transformer between these two. The latter was for the purpose of reducing the voltage to 104.

Mr. Rose stated that a short time ago, the company had trouble with their wires in the C. P. R. round house. A workman, carrying a lamp by a cord, got a charge of electricity, and, as a result, the C. P. R. changed all the wiring in the round house. At the time of the accident at the C. P. R. the wiring there was similar to that at the McMaster store. The wiring was done by Phillips Bros., by contract, and afterwards changed by order of the expert from Toronto. He had examined the wires at McMaster's yesterday and could find nothing wrong. As far as he knew, only 110 volts entered the building at McMaster's.

He could not account for the accident, except that deceased had held the lamp in one hand and had touched it with something in the other, which completed a circuit. If he had known that McMaster's wires were not right he would have told him, as he had Mr. Webb. Witness stated that his son, J. W. Rose, was employed all his time inspecting the wiring of the town. The company had no fault to find with the way in which McMaster's building was wired.

Mr. Charles Easton was the next witness examined, and testified that he was an engineer at the power house, and gave statements as to the horse power generated. There were never more than 110 volts sent in to Havelock over the wires. He stated that at about 6 o'clock on the night of the accident, he noticed a drop in the voltage of about four volts, but on a wet night this often occurs, and may be caused by a bush striking the wires.

Mr. J. W. Rose, a practical electrician, as far as inside work is concerned, according to his evidence, was next called, and he could not account for deceased's death. He had heard complaints in reference to the wiring in the C. P. R. round house, the trouble being caused by a drop cord. When his company made a connection, he examined the wiring, and also keeps an oversight, as far as his time will permit, over all inside wiring.

Mr. H. T. McKeown, the one who found the body of the deceased, was the next witness, and said in his evidence that on the night in question he had been cleaning an electric light bulb, and on touching the shade he had received a slight shock. He called the deceased to look at the wire, and the latter had advised him to leave it alone, as he might "commit suicide." About half an hour later he had found Wiltse in his shop, dead. Through a door he saw the body of the deceased on the floor, with his head leaning back on a chair. He thought the deceased must have been working around the bench when he received the shock. Witness stated that the bulb from from which he received the shock was on the same wire from which Wiltse was supposed to have been killed.

Mr. G. C. McIntosh, one of the men to whom McKeown told of Wiltse's death, gave his evidence, as to the finding of the body.

Mr. F. C. McMaster, in whose employ the deceased was, stated that he had been working for him since last March, and he had never heard him complain of illness. Between 5.30 and 6 o'clock, he had been in the shop, and at that time the deceased was all right to all appearance. A short time afterwards he had been found dead. He had never had any trouble with his lights before.

Dr. Crawford was called, and he gave evidence that he had been called about 6.10 p.m., but that he had found the man dead. He was unable to state definitely what the cause of death was; only a post mortem would reveal that.

The inquest was then adjourned until Monday next, at one o'clock.

A Tribute To Mr. Dennistoun

The Globe of yesterday in it's report of the Gow manslaughter case, concluded yesterday at the Assizes, speaks as follows with reference to the address of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, counsel for the defence:—

The morning's proceedings were marked by some brilliant oratorical efforts on the part of both the prosecuting and defending counsel. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, who has defended Gow with consummate ability from beginning to end, made a most eloquent and convincing address when the proceedings opened this morning. Without playing to the gallery in the slightest degree, his remarks were characterised by an earnestness which showed that the at all events was convinced of his client's innocense. He commenced with a reference to the responsibility which devolved upon an advocate in defending a man upon so serious a charge—a charge which if proved might result in imprisonment for life for the accused, or, at all events would have disastrous effects upon the young man. "The responsibility," he said, "is very hard for counsel to bear, and it is a relief after doing what he thinks proper on behalf of this client to transfer that responsibility to the twelve men who are sworn to try the case faithfully upon the evidence."

An Enjoyable Social Event

A very enjoyable at home under the auspices of Companion Court, No. 276, Independent Order of Foresters, was given, at their hall on Simcoe street last night. Dancing formed a prominent part of the evening's entertainment and about forty young couples tripped the light fantastic to the excellent music supplied by Miss McCabe. Mr. H. Gainey was the very efficient floor manager. Cards were also played and refreshments served during the evening.

These pleasing social functinos will be held monthly during the coming fall and winter months and will no doubt be very largely attended. The affair was arranged by the lady members of the society and it was no doubt owing to their untiring efforts that it was such an unqualified success.

Billy Bowman "Done" For Twenty 'Plunks'

Gerge Stevens Had to Pay the Costs.

Ten Days For Breaking a Window—Other Cases at the Police Court.

At the Police Court this morning a well known Peterborough man was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He promised to reform from "rushing the growler" in the future and his Worship took his word for it.

S. Kennedy was charged with assaulting his wife Julia Kennedy. She did not appear to give evidence against him and the charge was dismissed.

"Billy" Bowman was the next defendant to hear the dreaded words from the bench. Crown Attorney R. E. Wood requested the magistrate to be as lenient as possible with him. His Worship imposed a fine of twenty dollars, the lightest possible. F. D. Kerr, who has put up a very able fight throughout this case, appeared for the defence.

Geo. Stevens has been keeping the bones his "junk solicitors" have gathered in a place where the surrounding inhabitants could get the benefit of their decomposing odor. The Magistrate told him that after this the nuisance must be remedied. He was permitted to disappear after paying $7.10 costs.

"Down went McGinty to the bottom of the stairs." This was not the doughty Charlie of the local force, but a man who was charged with breaking a pane of glass in one of the windows of Steve Holland's hotel. He pleaded guilty and was fined two dollars. Paddy didn't have the cash so he took ten days on the hill. His Worship hinted that if he didn't do the "Dan Patch" stunt upon his release, he would be given an opportunity to experience the delights of Central Prison life.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. The Vegetable Compound acts in harmony with the laws that govern the entire female system, and while there are many so called remedies for kidney troubles, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing down pains, urine too frequent, scanty or high colored, producing scalding or burning, or deposits like brick dust in it; unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back running down the inside of her groin, she may be sure her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years with what the doctor called kidney trouble and congestion of the womb. My back ached dreadfully all the time, and I suffered so with that bearing-down feeling I could hardly walk across the room. I did not get any better, so decided to stop doctoring with my physician and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am thankful to say it has entirely cured me. I do all my own work, have no more backache and all the bad symptoms have disappeared.

I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all women suffering with kidney trouble to try it.

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 636 Third Avenue, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it; and it has cured me when everything else had failed. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from kidney trouble, or any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of the great volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than likely she has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Late Dr. Buller Student of Late Dr. Burnham

The Emminent Eye Specialist Who Recently Died in Montreal.

Was One of the Many Students of Late Local Doctor.

Many Peterborough citizens will remember Dr. Buller, the famous eye specialist, of Montreal, whose death took place on Wednesday. In company with his cousin, Dr. Boucher, Dr. Burnham, the late Dr. King, the late Dr. Benson, of Winnipeg, Dr. Clanton, Dr. McDonald, Dr. Coulter and others, he studied under the late Dr. Burnham, of this town. At the time of the accident to Princess Louise in Ottawa he received much notice in the English papers, the history of his family, the same as that of Gen. Buller, being given at some length. Amongst the most noted of his operations was that upon Lady Strathcona. He was called to London by a cable, and performed the operation, for which he received £1,000, it is said.

He was a man of distinguished ability and had been professor of McGill for many years.

Dr. rank Buller was 61 years of age, having been born at Campbellford, Ont., May 4, 1844, the fourth son of the late Charles G. Buller. His preliminary education was received at the High School, Peterborough, and in 1869 he graduated in medicine from Victoria College, Cobourg, being then 25 years old. Dr. Buller shortly afterwards went abroad to take a post graduate course in England and Germany, devoting himself especially to the eye, ear and throat.

Among the famous men from whom Dr. Buller received instruction in early life were Helmholtze and Von Grafe, at the University of Berlin. During a portion of the Franco-Prussian war Dr. Buller received valuable experience in general work as an assistant surgeon in the military hospitals of North Germany. In 1872, just before his return to England, he served on the staff of the Grafe-Ewers Ophthalmic Hospital of Berlin.

Dr. Buller became a member of the Royal College of Surgeons in England, and was appointed senior house surgeon in the Royal London Ophthalmic Hospital. It was in 1876 that Dr. Buller came to Montreal, where he soon rame to the front of the profession. For seventeen years he held the posts of ophthalmic and aural surgeon to the Montreal General Hospital, but resigned a few years ago to accept the same position with the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Dr. Buller was married twice, his first wife being a sister of Mrs. P. A. Peterson, whose husband was formerly chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Dr. Buller's second wife, who survives him, was a Miss Brien, of New York, sister of Mrs. Samuel Coulson. He leaves four children, two by his first wife and two by the second. Dr. Buller was a member of the Church of England.

Lindsay Wants Game With Locals

The Lindsay Post has visions of a baseball game in which "Rube" Kissenger will be the chief attraction. It says:—"As we predicted before, the baseball season in Lindsay is not over yet, and who knows but we may have a grand wind-up game on Thanksgiving day. Now, we'll start all over again. Lindsay has just woke up and from now on will win all their winter games. On Tuesday afternoon next the Agricultural diamond will be the scene of a desperate struggle for supremacy between Peterborough and Lindsay, the old-time rivals. This will be the strongest attraction of the season. Peterborough have secured the services of "Yabbo" Flaherty to do the twirling, and the Porridge City chaps expect to put it all over the locals, but just listen—Lindsay has secured the services of no other than "Rube" Kissinger, of Buffalo Eastern League. So it may be expected to be a hummer. "Rube" will likely be given a free lunch after every innings to keep up his spirits, as the Lindsayites are noted for playing—did we hear errorless ball? Citizens would do well to patronize this game, which is under worthy auspices, namely as a benefit for the Sylvester band. Come up and see Bill Cinnamon catch the remarkable spit balls which Rube will deliver. All balls are guaranteed to be zig-zaggers.

BASEBALL.

In the world's championship series at New York yesterday, the home team beat Philadelphia nine to nothing.

HOCKEY.

Jack Frost whispered last night that its pretty nearly time to get the runners ground.

• • • •

There is already talk of a City League next winter. Should one be organized a seven representing the local banks will probably be entered.

• • • •

The Marlboros have organized for next winter. Herb Birmingham, the centre player, will captain the team.

• • • •

How are prospects for a team here next winter? It's time to consider the matter.

• • • •

RUGBY.

Pigskinettes.

The Charlotte Street aggregation is entering into the game with the right spirit. About a dozen kickers were in attendance at the practice in Boswell's Field last night. The team will be in good shape for their game with the Crescents next Saturday.

• • • •

About a dozen players chased the sphere "in the evening by the moonlight" at the Central Park last night. Hurtubise, Crowley, and a number of other able standbys were in evidence. The night was cool and the boys certainly "moved" some, although the light shed by the moon was by no means brilliant.

• • • •

Ford is suffering from a minor injury and will not be able to play on Saturday. He has consented to act as referee and should be able to handle both teams to perfection.

• • • •

Secretary Walkey has received fifteen copies of this year's official rule books from F. D. Woodworth, secretary of the O.R.F.U.

• • • •

The man that runs into "Jean" next Saturday will probably discover a few new planets. He certainly shines as an astronomical demonstrator.

• • • •

The Victorias will probably want one of their own men to act as umpire.

• • • •

Chris. Graham says he wont don his uniform this year. This is a sad blow to local fans. But he'll probably change his mind a little later in the season. Chris is very seldom a spectator when there's anything doing in athletics.

• • • •

For the first time in the history of the game in Peterborough there will be seating accommodation at Riverside Park. With this necessary convenience the crowds should be much larger this season than those of former years.

• • • •

The following will represent the Charlotte Street Guild team in their game with the Crescents next Saturday. Back, McGill; halves, Roddy, Thornton, and Moore; quarter, Sanderson; Snap, Caniff; wings, Williamson, Weir, Hamilton, Taylor, Cranfield, and Holland.

• • • •

The light sentence imposed upon Gow will certainly not tend to eliminate rough play.

• • • •

The President of the team, Mr. A. A. Hollingshead is trying to secure the drill shed for practice purposes. It will not do much to illuminate the

• • • •

Riverside Park by electric light. With unexcelled seating accommodation and good grounds this surely won't be the condition of affairs next fall.

• • • •

McPherson will play for Varsity against Queens, in the Varsity field on Saturday.

• • • •

Last night's Star says:—"The Victoria team for Peterborough will be picked at to-night's practice on the Moss Street Rink."

• • • •

Walter Camp, probably the most famous American football authority, will be a spectator at the Hamilton Tigers-Toronto game in Hamilton a week from the coming Saturday.

• • • •

The following players are requested to be in uniform at Riverside Park on Saturday at 2.00 p. m., sharp:—Shaw Gillespie, R. Craig, Quinlan, Meagher, Sissen, Gilbert, McDonald, Fitzpatrick, Crough, Mulhern, Regan, Hurtubise and Dixon. The Brock street rink may be secured for practices next week.

• • • •

Now that the City League is a live topic in city rugby circles, let somebody hunt up the youngsters. Get right into the game boys. The members of the present team are liable to be all called off this fall.

• • • •

Somebody said that Shaw will be in Toronto next Saturday. Deny this Doc!

POOL AND BILLIARDS.

Now that the cold weather is coming on the "sharks" will soon be getting in their good work.

• • • •

Mr. Wm. Willard of the Oriental proposes holding his pool tournament about the 25th of this month. Pool is a very popular game in Peterborough and the local cue experts should be able to make the pockets "sing some".

• • • •

"Murphy" Sullivan plays pool in his sleep now. There'll be no rest for him until the tournament is over.

THE TURF.

The rate on both railways for the Dan Patch performance will be a fare and a third for parties of ten and over. Several local turfmen will probably take advantage of this opportunity to witness the "International Stock Food Champion."

• • • •

There will be a matched race tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock at the Driving Park between Little Jap, owned by R. J. Munro and Lady Gothard, owned by Martin Connors. This race is for a side bet of one hundred dollars.

• • • •

The Canadian Sportsman says:—Keswick, by Jay Gould, the sire of Maud Keswick, 2.08 3-4, Minnie Keswick, 2.11 1-2, etc., etc., died a few weeks ago. He was owned by Mr. Curtis, of Lindsay, Ont., and in view of the great reputation gained by his daughter this season on the Grand Circuit, his death is a serious loss. He would have been liberally patronized next season by the breeders of Ontario.

Presentation To Miss L. Chiles

Popular Young Lady Removing to Peterborough Honoured.

Miss Lottie Chiles, who with her parents is living Havelock to reside in Peterborough, was presented recently with an address and a handsome music rack, by the members of the Presbyterian Choir at the residence of Miss Anna Mathison. Miss M. Graham read the address and Miss McDurmey made the presentation, both of which were presented as tokens of the high esteem Miss Childs is held by her fellow members.

Dallas and Herbert Free

Two Men Arrested Here Were Discharged at Cobourg.

Some two weeks ago Chief Roesel secured the arrest of two young men, Donald Dallas and Herbert Elliott, acting at the request of Chief of Police Reges, of Cobourg, who held warrants for the arrest had these men on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. They were sent to Cobourg and at their trial there on Wednesday Mr. Frank M. Field, their solicitor, in a letter to this paper says that they were honourably discharged and their prosecution condemned by His Honour Judge Benson. The evidence adduced exonerated both young men from the charge of fraud and demonstrated that the business in which they were engaged here and at Peterborough and elsewhere throughout the Province was a legitimate business conducted in a legitimate manner.

They were charged with having solicited illegitimately advertisements for hotel owners' cards, but this charge was not substantiated.

ALL IT NEEDED

There is more real oxygen in a liquified form in the "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" than in any other preparation of a similar nature. As a prompt cure in the killing of all inside germs of thirst, lungs, stomach or bowels, it has no equal when coupled with "Celery King" the famous laxative. That the stringent Ozone needed a tonic of this nature to procure the best results was so apparent that the Public Drug Co., of Bridgeburg, Ont., offer through your druggist a free package of "Celery King" with every fifty cent or one dollar bottle of "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind." POSTMASTER-GENERAL RETIRES.

In view of the record of Sir William Mulock as postmaster-general, his retirement from that office is, in one sense, a public calamity, but the great loss thereby sustained will be mitigated by the fact that he has put Dominion postal matters in so excellent a condition that a successor of fairly capable qualities can carry on the work to good advantage. The loss of almost any other member of the Dominion Cabinet would, perhaps, be less felt than that of Sir William Mulock. His work in connection with the reorganization of the post-office represents practically a work of resurrection from the dead—which was, practically, the condition of the post-office department in 1896, when Sir William took charge. He found it with a deficit of over $700,000 a year. Under his vigourous administration this was reduced year by year till 1903, when the deficit of three-quarters of a million dollars was changed into a surplus which has since grown to over a quarter of a million of dollars. All this was done in the face of the fact that improvements and facilities were provided, involving a complete reconstruction of the entire postal business of the country, and, to a certain extent, that of the world. When proper management had reduced the annual deficit to $47,000 the postal rate on letters was reduced by one-third, from three to two cents, a boon to the people. In 1898 Sir William was instrumental in convoking a postal conference in London, the result of which was the adoption of the resolution making a special inter-imperial postal rate of two cents instead of five cents. In spite of the reduction of sixty per cent. in the imperial rate of 33 1-3 per cent. in the domestic, and extensive increase in service in all directions, in 1902 the revenue of the department showed a surplus, the first in the history of the country since 1851, when the department came under the control of the Canadian Government, and all this was accomplished in the face of the prediction of the Conservatives that the reduction of the rate from three cents to two cents would lead to a deficit of $1,200,000. In a word, the Canadian post-office department has been placed upon a self-sustaining basis and made a revenue producer instead of a revenue consumer. This has called for strenuous work which has been given, with the result that Sir William's health has suffered, and he now seeks rest in retirement. His public services have been of the highest character, and the retirement of no Cabinet minister in our country has carried with it so great a sense of loss and of regret.

However, there is no place in public life that cannot be filled, and efficiently filled by some other man. If rumour is correct, the entrance of Mr. A. B. Aylesworth into the Cabinet will represent the most important accession of ability and fitness for years. Not only will he bring into phenomenal ability and wide experience, but a resolute spirit of patriotism, independence and sense of what is due to Canadian dignity and Canadian rights, greatly needed fitting him in this regard to be one of His Majesty's advisers. His refusal to sign the Alaska boundary award constituted him a worthy champion of Canadian rights, which will be safe in his hands as a minister.

THE SPOILS SYSTEM.

(The Wiarton Echo.)

The Liberal press throughout Ontario have been well disposed towards the Whitney Government, and have been ready to give him credit where credit is due. The leader of the Government has shown himself to be a man of decision, and able to grapple with large public questions in a statesman-like way, but he apparently has not been able to head off the hungry hords of office seekers. Ever since he came into power it has been dismissals North, South, East and West. The Government had the unquestioned right to appoint their own license commissioners, but every other officers belongs to the civil service of Ontario, and he ought not to be removed save for the most serious reasons. When dismissed officials are demanding an investigation there is only one conclusion, that is they are having pitch-forked out to make room for others.

The whole business will bring about a most unhappy state of affairs in our public life. The Government at Ottawa has been most lenient, but if these official dismissals go on the Liberals will undoubtedly request them to make it an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth. It may be taken for granted that the Liberals will not look on very long at a one-sided game, and this will make the tenure of life in petty offices a mighty uncertain affair.

SIR WM. MULOCK'S RETIREMENT.

The public service of Canada has suffered a serious loss in the retirement of Sir William Mulock from the Laurier Ministry. He resigns his portfolio because of failing health, recurring rheumatic attacks having been an occasion of concern to his personal and political friends for some time past. For public life he is exceptionally adapted having the political bias strongly developed, and being endowed with good natural ability, exceptional business capacity, and robust personal independence. It would be impossible for him to become the mere echo or thick-and-thin supporter of any leader, though he has always been known as a loyal and self-sacrificing member of his party. For a certain noticeable brusqueness of manner he amply atones by genuine kindness of heart and a generosity of disposition which makes reconciliation easy, if not inevitable.

To Sir William Mulock belongs the unquestionable credit of permanently raising the reputation of the Post Office Department as a branch of the public service. Before his incumbency it was notoriously the refuge of weak Ministers, whose presence in Cabinets was deemed necessary, but to whom no more important portfolio could for party reasons be assigned. The annual deficit had been so long chronic that it was regarded as inevitable. Sir William has changed all this. Second in administrative ability to none of his colleagues in a Cabinet of notables, he promptly made up his mind to abolish deficits while giving the public the advantage of lower postal rates, and he succeeded beyond the expectation of his most intimate friends and most appreciative admirers. One of his great achievements was securing the assent of the British Government to the adoption of ocean penny postage between Great Britain and Canada, and if this low rate in the near future becomes general throughout the empire, or between Great Britain and foreign countries, public opinion will incline to the view that he is entitled to the chief credit for bringing about this great social reform.

Though himself a member of the capitalist class, Sir William has never been suspected of partiality to private corporations. While always willing to give capitalistic enterprise a fair field, he has drawn the line in granting favours. On the other hand, he has been in his attitude to labour and the wage-earning class not merely democratic but sympathetic. He has striven persistently to ameliorate the relations between employers and employees, and has been directly or indirectly the means of averting strikes and composing conflicts which but for the intervention of the Department of Labour would have inflicted great industrial loss on the whole community. All disposition to question his good faith in the administration of this department has long since disappeared, and in this respect, as in the administration of the post office, he has established a record which will tax the efforts of his ablest successors to surpass or even to reach.

The great service rendered by Sir William Mulock to the whole community by his deep interest in the nationalization of the long-distance telephone as an appendage to the post office will probably be better appreciated hereafter than it is at present. In order to get the subject before the people of Canada he made legitimate use of the machinery of Parliament. By a special committee, of which he was chairman, an immense amount of evidence was taken, and this, when digested into suitable form, along with many written communications on the subject, will inevitably become the starting point of, perhaps the basis for, legislation which cannot be long deferred. The substitution of one head of the department for another may cause delay, but the new Minister will find himself face to face with an aroused public opinion which cannot long be ignored. The telephone has become so important a means of communication, not merely in towns and cities, but in rural districts, that to have it placed under Government operation will soon appear as legitimate as it now seems to entrust the latter with the transportation of letters and parcels by post.—Globe.

A BALD NEWSPAPER MAN.

Getting a New Crop of Hair, and Has No More Dandruff.

Everybody in the Northwest knows Col. Daniel Searles, the veteran journalist and publicist of Butte. Jan. 10, 1900, the Col. writes: "I used a couple of bottles of Newbro's Herpicide with marvellous results. The dandruff disappeared; a new crop of hair has taken root, and the bald spot is rapidly being covered." Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ that digs up the scalp in scales as it burrows its way to the root of the hair, where it destroys the vitality of the hair, causing the hair to fall out. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR BRIGHT PUPILS OF THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

The Examiner to Conduct a Short Story Competition Open to All Institute Pupils

Hon. J. R. Stratton Offers Valuable Prizes for Three Best Stories Submitted.

Must be Founded on Some Historical Fact in Connection With Peterborough Town or County.

The recognized function of a newspaper is to advance the public interests in every way and to be an influence for good in the community. In pursuance of this policy and in order to give effect to the excellent training being given the students of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute by the able staff of teachers, the Examiner is able to announce to-day that Hon. J. R. Stratton has decided to offer three prizes with the object of developing the literary talent of the local Institute students, many of whom have already show a decided inclination to, and aptitude for, this branch of work.

These three prizes will be given to the three pupils of the Institute who write the best stories founded on some historical fact in connection with the town or county of Peterborough. The story need not be confined strictly to facts, but its basis must be fact. This will give scope for originality, and at the same time give the writer a knowledge of the history of this locality, the possession of which will be necessary in order to form the foundation of the story.

This competition will be confined to the pupils of the Collegiate Institute, and the stories submitted must be at least 1,000 words in length, and must not exceed 2,000 words, or from one to two newspaper columns.

All manuscript must be in not later than Nov. 15th, 1905, and each must be accompanied by the writer's name and a photograph of the writer. The stories will be published in the Examiner, one each Saturday, or oftener, if necessary, and after they have all been published, three impartial judges will decide which of those submitted are worthy of prizes. None of the judges will be connected with this office in any way, and the prizes will be awarded solely with respect to the literary excellence of the stories submitted.

Mr. J. Jefferies, the English Master of the Collegiate Institute, has already acquainted the two hundred odd pupils of the Institute with the offer which Mr. Stratton has made and they have taken up the suggestion with enthusiasm. The prospects are that there will be a large number of manuscrips submitted for competition.

The excellent manner in which "Collegiate Echoes," the Institute paper, was conducted during the last few months of the term which closed at midsummer, has demonstrated that the pupils have decided literary ability, and this will afford an opportunity for the further exercise of this ability.

All manuscripts should be addressed to the Editor, and endorsed "Collegiate Story Competition." Each manuscript should be accompanied by the latest photograph of the writer.

Further details in connection with this competition will be given later, but in the meantime those who intend to enter stories should be gathering the data upon which to found them. Any information desired may be obtained from Mr. Jeffries, or from the editorial department of this paper.

Mr. R. C. Newhall Is Visiting Here

Mr. R. C. Newhall, of Knutford, Cheshire County, England, arrived yesterday to visit for a short time with his cousin, Mrs. John Holmes, Orchard Park Cottage, North Monaghan. This is Mr. Newhall's first visit to Canada and thus far his trip has been a series of revelations to him and Canada already to him is a totally different light to that in which he had previously regarded it. He will, after spending a few weeks here, proceed on his trip across the continent to the Pacific Coast.

A Good Lecture At Ennismore

A most successful illustrated lecture, under the auspices of the St. Martin's T. A. S., Ennismore, was given last night by Mr. Jas. Stubbs.

A large audience was present, a fair sprinkling of Peterborough people being in the gathering. That the lecture was much appreciated was shown by the rapt attention and warm applause of the spectators during the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Stubbs spoke on his recent tour of the British Isles also touching on American scenes of interest. The lecture was illustrated throughout by splendid limelight views.

The financial returns were particularly gratifying and the committee in charge is to be heartily congratulated on the production of such an excellent entertainment.

Will be Honoured by "Grasshoppers."

Mr. Reg. Thompson, of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, will be tendered a complimentary banquet at Long's Palm Parlours tonight by the Grasshopper Club, of which he is a member, at ten o'clock, prior to his departure for Toronto.

Mr. Thompson, who has been promoted to the Toronto office of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, will be very much missed by the younger people of Peterborough.

HAS FORTNIGHTLY CLUB LOST ITS USEFULNESS?

A Small Attendance at the Annual Meeting Held Last Night—Election of Officers Did Not Take Place—President Thought it Selfish to Bring Lecturers to City to be Greeted With Handful of People—At a Later Meeting a Decision as to the Future Will Be Reached.

The attendance at the annual meeting of the Fortnightly Club last evening in the Y.M.C.A. was disappointingly small, and on motion it was decided to leave [illegible] officers until another meeting, when in addition, a subject will be discussed by the members.

The president, Mr. J. H. Burnham, referring to the last season's career of the Club, said that in some ways it had been a good year, while in others it had been a failure.

In the matter of finances the Club had come out about even, and a good course of lectures had been given. The chief failure had been in the attendance at the meetings. It was selfish on the part of the Club to ask lecturers to come from a distance to address the Club, and then to have them greeted by a handful of people. He said that he would not have anything to do with bringing eminent people to lecture before the Club again.

Rev. Mr. Davidson said that he would not like to see the flag hauled down now. He thought that there was a field in Peterborough for the Club. While he agreed with Mr. Burnham that it was not right to bring lecturers from a distance, to be disappointed by small audiences, he thought that the Club could at least have papers read by Peterborough people. The Club had broadened out since its organization and perhaps had broadened too far.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown coincided with the previous speakers that it was an imposition to have eminent speakers insulted by having to address a few people. He would not however, like to see the meetings discontinued.

The meeting adjourned without transacting any business, with the exception of deciding to hold another meeting at the call of the President to elect officers and to discuss a subject to be selected.

Life Insurance Merger Has Been Effected

Peoples' Life and Home Life Have Been Amalgamated.

Hon. J. R. Stratton Becomes President of Home Life Association.

An important Canadian life insurance merger was announced yesterday. The insurance contracts of the People's Life Insurance Company, amounting to about two and a half millions of dollars, have been taken over by the Home Life Association of Canada. This gives the latter company, with its four and a half millions of insurance business now in force, a business of about seven millions, with an annual premium income of about a quarter of a million. The contracts in force with agents of both companies in the Dominion will, it is understood, not be disturbed by the new management of the Home Life. The amalgamation will, it is said, result in a saving in general expenses of about $40,000.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, former Provincial Secretary, becomes President of the Home Life Association of Canada, Mr. J. S. King remains Vice-President, and Mr. J. K. McCutcheon becomes Managing Director of the amalgamated companies. The board is not yet fully organized.

Conclusion of McWilliams--- Dickson Company Case

Addresses of the Counsel for Plaintiff and Defendant--His Lordship Sums Up the Case--Gives View of the Evidence and Reserves Judgment in Respect to the Points of Law Envolved.

The following is a continuation from yesterday's issue of the report of the evidence in the McWilliams-Dickson Company case:—

Mr. J. C. Sheek, cross-examined by Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, testified that he had not recently bought standing trees from Mr. Cochrane—so far as he knew. The stumpage value upon lot 18 con. 5 would be about $2.50 per thousand.

John Westlake testified that he is the owner of two lots adjoining those which are the subject of dispute. He was an applicant for lot 18 at one time. He had received a letter from Mr. McWilliams.

Witness had not spoken to Mr. McWilliams about his application.

To Mr. Aylesworth witness stated that this lot is No. 17 con. 5. Nos. 18 and 19 are east. Buckhorn road runs through his lot. He had done some clearing between the road and the lake. This was before he found he could not get the lot.

Some nineteen years ago witness wrote the department making an application for the lot. He had made some improvements about the year 1890, chopping about five acres, through which the line was run. It went through his clearing.

To Mr. Watson witness stated that he had a boat-house on lot 18, upon the lake, which he reached by going through the lot.

Hon. E. J. Davis, late Commissioner of Crown Lands, to Mr. Aylesworth, testified that he had retired from that position in November last. He identified his signature to a letter produced.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams stated that conveyance of lot 18 was signed in his office by Cochrane.

To Mr. Watson witness stated that he knew that at the time he drew the deed for lot 19 that the patent was not issued.

J. B. McWilliams, sworn, testified as follows to Mr. Aylesworth:—

Q.—You are the plaintiff's father, Mr. McWilliams, the man who has been referred to more or less. Are you connected with the Crown Lands Department?

A.—Not since the first of October.

Q.—Previous to that time you had been for a great many years?

A.—For thirty-three years.

Q.—In what capacity?

A.—As Crown timber agent and then as inspector.

Q.—What were the duties?

A.—To go to the lumber camps and see the lumber taken out, and also, to report on the work done by the different agents.

Q.—Having your headquarters where?

A.—Here.

Q.—Had you anything to do with the sale of Crown Lands?

A.—No.

Q.—Then a letter is here applying for the patent of lot 18 con. 5, Cavendish, dated December 12, 1899, from you to Mr. Aubrey White, the assistant Commissioner. Have you any recollection of it?

A.—Yes.

Q.—How came you to write such a letter?

A.—At Mr. Cochrane's request.

Q.—Cochrane is married to your wife's sister?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And you are on intimate terms?

A.—Friendly terms. Always stop at his place when passing back and forth. The idea was ranching on this peninsula. He lived next door and wanted it for his son.

Q.—You know, I suppose, that Theodore had the tax deed of it?

A.—Yes.

Q.—That is your letter in the original? (Letter is exhibited.)

A.—Yes.

Q.—Cochrane swore that that document was in the hand-writing of Theodore?

A.—This is in Theodore's hand-writing.

Q.—Do you remember how you got that paper?

A.—Mr. Hall brought it to my office.

Q.—Did you know beforehand that he was going to. Well, you have some knowledge from what Aikens said that it would be given? Then Mr. Hall brought them into your office. It is dated December 5, and Cochrane's application is dated December 8. How did you come to interfere? Tell me, please, how you came to interfere in this matter—to take any part in it?

A.—At Mr. Cochrane's request. I do business for any person who comes to the office in my line. I have done in the last four or five years some forty or fifty cases, exactly similar to this one.

Q.—Any of them relatives?

A.—One of them.

Q.—Have you any personal interest in this lot?

A.—None whatever.

Q.—It was said by Mr. Cochrane that you advanced $48?

A.—I paid the $48. I did that for Cochrane.

Q.—You got it back?

A.—Yes, in a settlement in April, 1901.

Q.—Have you anything to do with the giving of the deed from Cochrane to Theodore?

A.—No.

Q.—Then a letter is put in here yesterday—a copy of it—from you to Mr. White, the assistant Commissioner of February 7, 1900, saying that this letter to you of a previous date in reference to Mr. Cochrane's application had been received, and that there was only one mail a week to Cavendish, and that it would likely take a couple of weeks to get a reply. Were those statements true?

A.—Yes.

Q.—What did you mean by saying this to the assistant Commissioner?

A.—So that he would understand if there was any delay.

Q.—Was that a sham?

A.—No.

Q.—And have you purchased any lands?

A.—In certain cases I did.

Q.—Knowing that in your office you are not permitted without special ruling?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Whose writing is that?

A.—It is Theodore's declaration, made by John Cochrane on Dec. 14th, 1901.

Q.—That is the handwriting of your son, Theodore?

A.—Yes.

Q.—That is on December 11th 1901?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And you knew of the project to get a ranch up in that district?

A.—It had been discussed for years with Mr. Hazlitt, and Mr. Cochrane, and Theodore, too.

Q.—You knew of the project?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Your son was in the office for the most part, as I understand, after the year 1897?

A.—Part of three seasons.

Q.—And that was upon your recommendation?

A.—In a way it was.

Q.—And after that he was in your office more or less?

A.—Not doing any work. He dropped in sometimes in my office, and solicitor's office.

Q.—And you have been financing for him in connection with this ranching property?

A.—I endorsed for him after the Dickson Company had given him trouble.

Q.—In connection with the adjoining property?

A.—Yes.

Q.—That is in connection with the ranching properties?

A.—Yes.

Q.—You have been advancing money to him?

A.—I have been endorsing for him.

Q.—You mean to say that the banks would advance money to him?

A.—He had money himself in the bank.

Q.—But you have endorsed to the extent of $8,000 or $10,000?

A.—I think about $1800, at present.

Q.—But how much?

A.—I cannot tell; he was running an account. Sometimes it would be $1,000. I cannot tell you. Whatever he wanted in connection with it he got.

Q.—In whose name was the account kept?

A.—In my son, Roland's.

Q.—And was Roland on the paper, too?

A.—Part of it.

Q.—And you were on the paper?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And was your son, Theodore, on the paper?

A.—Yes.

Q.—You paid the money for these patents, I understand?

A.—Yes.

Q.—No question about that?

A.—No question.

A.—One was $48 and the other $23.

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—When the patents were sent from the Department they were sent to you, I understand?

A.—I think so; I don't know about the first; the second one was.

Q.—And you returned the patents?

A.—Mr. Cochrane had them first. He had the one of the 18th, but never had the one of the 19th.

Q.—Why did you pay this money?

A.—I have often paid money in this way. In fact, I paid $300.

He Does not Owe me One Cent.

Q.—When was it repaid by him?

A.—In April, 1901.

Q.—Have you got any records of the repayments?

A.—I have here in my pocket some of the dates.

Q.—Whose writing is that? (Referring to the list of dates.)

A.—My own.

Q.—But where is the original?

A.—It is a check.

Q.—That is a check dated April 13th, 1901. How much was the check for?

A.—$400.00.

Q.—Do you say that that check included this $48?

A.—It included all business transactions between us to that time, and we have not had anything since.

Q.—Yet you state that the $48 was included in that check?

A.—It included everything, everything I had.

Q.—So you got the $48 from him by check?

A.—I paid that $400.00 in settlement?

Q.—And was he credited?

A.—Yes.

Q.—You paid him?

A.—Paid her.

Q.—You paid her $400 at that day?

A.—That is what I say.

Q.—At what date did you pay the $48?

A.—At the time of settlement.

Q.—Do you recollect at what time you paid the $48?

A.—It was on the 12th of March, 1902?

Q.—You also paid $23?

A.—Paid it 3rd March, 1902.

Q.—Then you're not sure you got that back?

A.—No. I got that back from my son.

Q.—Why did you not bring with you a statement of the accounts between you and Mr. Cochrane?

WHAT IS THERE IN IT?

Scott's Emulsion is a careful blend of the purest cod liver oil, hypophosphites of lime and soda, glycerine and a dash of flavoring. A.—I haven't got a statement of accounts.

Q.—But you are a business man?

A.—I have no statement, I have not an entry in my books.

Q.—Did you make any entries in your books? Was there a statement of debts and credits at the time?

A.—I don't think I have an entry at all.

Where is your book?

A.—In the office.

Q.—You keep books; you are a business man?

A.—Not in that way, not between friends or between my sons either, if anyone of my three sons want money I lend it and leave it to them to pay it back when they can.

Q.—And you cannot tell when the $400 was arrived at but you know that you were repaid at that time?

A.—Yes.

Mr. Watson's Address.

Mr. Watson, in opening his address, referred to the different sections of the act applicable to the right of persons in the employment of the Crown Lands Department to acquire lands directly or indirectly, and quoted from various statutes bearing on this question.

He said that the evidence given by the plaintiff's witnesses was very conflicting, and there was also much confusion arising from the examination of Mr Cochrane. Mr. J. B. McWilliams was Crown Lands agent. His son was described as a bookkeeper, but had not been engaged in any occupation for some time. For the most part he had been with his father since 1897, when he was working. His father made application for these lots in the name of John Cochrane, his brother-in-law, the project being to establish a ranch. The father had already purchased the lots in the name of the son under tax sale. The son was an employee of the Crown Lands Department in 1897, 1898, 1899 and 1900. The records showed, as a matter of fact, that he was a commissioner under the Department, although he himself was not clear as to this point in his evidence. That makes him at that time an agent of the Department, and thus brought him under section 40 of the act. Of course, it was to be borne in mind that the plaintiff had sworn that he had no knowledge of any application by Cochrane for the patents that if he had had such knowledge he would have intervened; and further, he said that he never gave his father any authority to consent on his behalf to the application, and that he would not have given such consent. The position of the father was extraordinary. He pressed the claim of Cochrane, and in connection with it he overlooked the rights of his son and gave consent for his son,

Eczema Known By Intense Itching

IF NOT CURED IT SPREADS AND BECOMES CHRONIC—WHAT TO EXPECT FROM

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The stages of eczema are marked by redness of the skin—heat and inflammation—swelling—watery discharges—formation of a scrust or scale and a most constant itching varying from that which is simply annoying to that which is positively beyond human endurance.

The beginning is often neglected chaffing and skin irritation, or a small pimple or sore which has been poisoned by the clothing.

Too frequent washing is to be avoided but the affected parts should be thoroughly cleansed with Packer's Tar Soap and tepid water. After careful drying (not rubbing) with a soft towel, apply Dr. Chase's Ointment plentifully.

The ointment may seem a little severe at first but this is necessary to a thorough cleansing of the sores for relief from the dreadful itching will come after the first few applications and thorough cure will be the reward of persistent treatment.

One thing you can be certain of, and that is that you are not experimenting when you use Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, saltrheums, psoriasis, tetter and similar skin diseases. It has acquired its world-wide reputation by the positive cure of these very diseases, and while using it you can see that gradually and certainly it is allaying the inflamation and healing up the annoying and distressing sores.

Mr. Hiram Fry, Norwood, says:—"I was troubled for ten years with eczema on the leg. The itching was terrible and when scratched the blood would come. The doctors said they could not cure me. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left.

"My little girl, two years old, has also been cured of eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we had to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clean of even the scars which the ugly sores made and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven itself to us."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Peterboro' Man's Sleigh Drive In Winnipeg

Mr. John Benson Had the First Drive in Cutter.

Western Metropolis Has Its First Touch of Winter

A special despatch to the Toronto News, from Winnipeg, says:

"The first snowfall of the season came to-day, and the city at noon was covered with a thin mantle of white. The weather last night turned decidedly colder. John Benson who for 34 years, has held the record as the first to drive a sleigh in the city, drove down Main street this morning, and has the distinction again of being the first with a sleigh this year."

The John Benson mentioned in this despatch, was a former resident of Peterborough, and was well known here as "Jackie" Benson, and his family was very highly respected. He left this town about 35 years ago for the west, and has lived there ever since. His many friends in Peterborough will be interested in learning of his distinction.

In connection with the cold wave mentioned above as having visited Manitoba, it may be remarked that its influence has been felt as far east as Ontario, over which it is now travelling on its way to the Atlantic. To-day at noon a few flakes of snow were to be seen lazily drifting with the breeze. This is the first of the beautiful to be noticed this fall.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks, of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.

McWilliams-Dickson Case

and behind his back, to the issuing of the patent. The father paid $48 for the patent, although his action in the matter of advancing this money had not been very satisfactorily explained. Then Mr. J. B. McWilliams found that Westlake was about applying for 19, and immediately he made application for that lot and again advance dthe $23, the Government dues. The son had the tax deed in his possession, as he said, at least it was held in his name since 1897. There had been no application for a patent. He said that he had no knowledge that the application was made on behalf of Cochrane, and he believed himself untitled to it, and always intended to have the land. Now, putting two and two together, it was extraordinary that the conveyance by Cochrane to the plaintiff was three weeks after the date of the patent itself. Cochrane had paid nothing for the lot—the father had paid everything. The patent was dated the 4th or 6th of February, and the deed to the plaintiff was dated about three weeks later, all showing, as submitted, that the intention was, from the beginning, that the son should have the land, the father paying for it. The son said he repaid the father, but according to the father's statement, that was untrue. Where was the truth to be found in all these matters of contradiction? There was hardly a point in accordance between the father and son, except in one matter in which they both said the fate hdar no interest whatever, but apart from that they were at variance on almost every point. The son had no knowledge of what the father was doing; had no knowledge of any application being made; never gave his consent, and said repaid the father the fee for the patent. Did not the whole of this lead to the conclusion that the father was acting for the son, that the father was interested as for the son, and advancing the money, and indirectly making the purchase, clearly within section 40 of the Act? It was clear from the son's evidence that he did not pay anything to Cochrane. This came out in his examination, although afterwards he had sought to make out that there was an obligation on the part of Cochrane to repay his father, and that he had assumed the indebtedness. However, it was perfectly manifest that there was no payment to Cochrane for this property. According to the father, Cochrane paid the $48, and where did he get recouped for it. Why would he give the deed of property to the son, getting nothing? The only explanation of that was in the evidence of Cochrane, who said he had never paid anything; that he never was to; that there was no liability or indebtedness on his part; that no claim had ever been made upon him for it, and also that he had never received anything from Theodore for it, and never was to. He said he had got it from Theodore, and that, of course, was through the father, who was participating in it, and that it was always intended for Theodore, was put in Cochrane's name for Theodore, and that it was arranged that it so issue. Cochrane would be the agent or representative of the son. There is strong evidence coming from the plaintiff's side, and confirmed by the other parties that this was a combination, that it was prompted and put through by the father in the name of Cochrane for the son, the father advancing the money.

Then Cochrane did what he had a perfect right to do under the circumstances and what they could not complain of. They had put the property in his name between them, and while it was in his name he made the agreement with the Dickson Co. The agreement was made with the company and for consideration, which is perfectly valid and which is noted upon, that is, the company's getting a letter from Cochrane agreeing to give them the timber on lot 18 for a certain price, which price was thereafter to be paid, and which was afterwards tendered.

Reference would likely be made to the letter written by Mr. Hall with regard to the lots, but Mr. Shook explained, and it was shown in his letter to the Department that the consent previously given by Mr. Hall was practically withdrawn by the company. Mr. Shook also said that he was relying upon the agreement from Cochrane when he gave his verbal consent to the issuing of the patent, and would not have done so otherwise. There was therefore this prior agreement with the company, and it would appear that they never expected to, nor wanted to get the timber until afterwards. They thought that it would be of some value if they could get it. Of course, the question of the value of the timber brought it down to about $500. The cost of cutting, hauling, and driving was shown clearly to be $5.25 per M., and was confirmed by the evidence of Mr. Kelly, which for the 60,000 feet would be $315. This taken from $500 leaves $185. Mr. Shook had said that the timber standing would be worth about $2 per M., and the plaintiff himself said from $2.50 to $3. The claim was a small claim, and should really have been tried in a County court, but as the evidence stood, the counsel claimed that the plaintiff's case must fail.

Then, under those circumstances, the patent was issued. Was it ineffectual? The Dickson Company had never said one word to the contrary. They had given their consent to the lands being sold for the ranching scheme. The moment the land was sold there was an end of their timber license, with regard to everything, except pine. Mr. White wrote the Dickson Company ten or eleven days before the agreement between Cochrane and the company, and six weeks before the patent is issued, that an application had been made by Cochrane for the lot. They never replied, but, on the contrary, rushed over to Cochrane with this letter. The issuing of the patent, which they now said was a tremendous fraud, was done with their knowledge and consent. The property was vested properly in Cochrane as patantee from the Crown. If he were trustee, what would make him trustee? He never was trustee for J. B. McWilliams, and it never was suggested. As to Theodore, there never was any trusteeship. There was an agreement prior to the issuing of the patent, but acted on subsequently. He was not a trustee, it was submitted, the few days between the issuing of the patent and the transfer to Theodore. The grant to Theodore was made; it could not be considered as of any consequence whether that was upon money being paid or not. Theodore said in his testimony, that he paid the $48 dues to Cochrane. Mr. Watson protested that this was not correct, according to the evidence. Mr. Aylesworth said it was true that Cochrane denied it, but there it was in the transaction between J. B. McWilliams and Cochrane's wife, when various matters had been settled between them. But he would the defendants possibly claim a title? Mr. Shook said that his claim here was under the agreement from Cochrane, and yet they were contending that the purchase had never been rightly made by Cochrane. It could not be thought that the agreement between Cochrane and Theodore McWilliams was at all extraordinary. The plaintiff said that he told his brother to get the deed ready, so that it might be executed as soon as possible. It accordingly was prepared a couple of weeks before the patent is dated. Now, with regard to the agreement between Cochrane and the Dickson Company, Mr. Shook had said to Mr. Watson that Cochrane would not have got the patent, but for the signing of the agreement but he had also told him (Mr. Aylesworth) distinctly that he did not suppose the company's refusal would have prevented the issuing of the patent. There was therefore no consideration to Cochrane for it. But when the company received word from Mr. White that Cochrane was applying for the lot, they did not reply to the Department's letter, but they went over to Cochrane's with this document, which, upon its face, was a fraud upon the public, designing to prevent the Government getting any longer the timber dues, which would be payable to the Crown if the land was not patented, and the license was the title. Moreover, the company had previously given their consent by the letter to the department from Mr. Hall. Mr. Shook had said that he had withdrawn the previous consent, but it was, in fact, no withdrawal at all. It seemed to him that the claims must prevail against the claims of the defendants. Nothing was done whatever by the defendants during the year 1902, nor the year 1903. They take no steps whatever to act upon this permission. In the year 1903, in August, a fence five feet high, was built for a mile and a quarter, or more, all along one side of this lot 18, and one end. That is the most substantial indication that it is in the plaintiff's possession. Mr. Shook knows from hearsay, but goes and searches the registry office. He must see that that lot is patented, or going to be patented. He sees this fence being built in 1903, after it was patented, and he has a clear intimation that either the patentee was taking possession, or some other party. Not a thing done for twelve months, and then the present company in August, goes to cutting without any intimation to anyone. The letter put in this morning is of value as fixing the date of the cutting. It was written on the 6th September, and states that they will be finished on Thursday. It fixes the date as being during the first week of September. The logs are then put in the skidways, and McWilliams cannot interfere to prevent it. The company had gone on without notice to anybody and cuts down that timber. As soon as McWilliams heard of it he went out, and inspected it, and wrote a letter upon it. They had cut this wood altogether on lot 18, there was no question of 19. They had cut this quantity of 60,000 feet or so. What was the measure of damage? If the plaintiff had known before of it he should have obtained an injunction. That has been proved. This man did not want the wood cut. That was more valuable to him standing. He had a right to have it left standing. Viewed as wood, wood cut down, it was worth $250 to $300. But standing it might have been worth double or treble in a year or two more. It is not the mere measure of the cordwood or the measure of this value as utilized by the defendants. It was said that it would be worth $200 to $300 for mere purposes of manufacture. If they are in the wrong they had no business to do that. If in the right the action may be dismissed. The plaintiff went there in September and found the logs down, he made the proposal and it was rejected. He kept his eye on it from time to time and went back in September and marked it. It was afterwards removed from the skids to the ice in the lake without notice to him of any kind. He saw it lying in the booms still in the lake. When lying in the booms it was worth $3.50 a thousand more. The other $1.50 was the expense of bringing it from Lake Dutchecoma to Young's Point. Mr. Shook said the called this $1.75 because they had brought it by a much expansive way and had not mangled it with their own drive. If it had been brought with their own it would have cost only $1.50. Now what value has this? They were practically together on the question of expense. He showed that that property was worth from two to three hundred dollars as it stood there. It had been figured out that it would only be $2 a thousand, but if looked at it the other way it was not so far apart. In that estimate was included $90 for the expense of bringing the stuff from the booms in the lake where it was put on the ice. As to the $90 it could only be shown that it was work done by the defendants with the idea of benefitting those people by the additional expenditure. It was practically nothing substantial when they were bringing down 20 or 30 times that number of logs. At any rate it is simply by taking the general cost of that whole drive of 40 or 50 thousand and this additional lot of material and dividing the total cost by the number of thousands that the value of the lumber will be reached. Even if that $90 is not allowed the plaintiff was entitled to $440 as the fair value of this stock, as it laid there when we knew of it. Then we have another view. In the ordinary course if the defendants had not mixed it with their own property the plaintiff would have been entitled under his point to the stock and it would have been worth to him as they seized it the full $580.00. The issue then would have been whether the defendants should have recovered how the parties have themselves by agreement substituted a different arrangement. The parties have said, "Let the defendants take the goods and use the bond and the defendants will put $500 in the hands of the sheriff." The defendants have taken this property which was the plaintiff's, and which he was entitled to and they have agreed to put in the hands of a stakeholder, subject to the order of the Court, a sum of money in lieu of the stuff. The defendants could not put themselves in a better position than if the plaintiff had taken the logs on his part and made the most out of it. I submit then that we are entitled at all events to the $500. If they are the logs they are worth that."

His Lordship then proceeded—not so much it is understood to pronounce judgment, as to give his view on the evidence before him—reserving his decision upon the points of law involved in the case. His Lordship said:—

"There is a great deal of difficulty about arriving at the truth of the facts in this case. The evidence of the plaintiff, and of his uncle Mr. Cochrane, and of his father, Mr. J. B. McWilliams, is full of contradictions, and the view that I have taken of what really is the true nature of the transaction is one which I am obliged to take and I think the one which affords the fewest difficulties with regard to the admitted facts of the case. The tax deed was in the name of the plaintiff in 1897 or 1898. The plaintiff does not appear to have been a man of means at all. He has been engaged in various small occupations and for some time past since he began going to law has been engaged in no occupation. His father seems to have been a man of credit and means and he held an office which I think is within section 40 of the Crown Lands Act, as an office or employment in the Department of Crown Lands. He held that office all through the transactions in question. The son is unable to say whether he purchased this land at the tax sale himself or whether his father did it for him, as he says. I have no doubt it was done with the knowledge of the father who furnished the money for it at all events. The young man so far as it appears had no means for clearing this large tract of land which he says it has always been his ambition to procure. It is evident that either the father or the son were anxious to acquire this lot 18 in the 5th. At the time they wished to acquire it in December 1899, when they first seem to have desired to buy it of the Government, neither of them was in a position to make the purchase in his own name, because the son was at

ANGEL CHILDREN.

Is there any happier woman in this world than that mother whose each successive little one seems to her but one more darling angel to continually lift her thoughts toward the sunshine of perfect happiness? But sorry is the lot of that poor mother to whom motherhood has ceased to be a cause of rejoicing, but has become instead a burden to be dreaded and looked forward to with melancholy and apprehension.

"About three months before our last baby was born (which is our fourth)," writes Mrs. Nellie Carl, of Myrtlepoint, Coos Co., Oregon, "my health was very poor. I had been troubled for about eight years with female disease. I doctored with good physicians but obtained no relief, so I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, and was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did so, and am happy to say my health began to improve and I did my work up to the last, and felt splendid.

"I got along finely during confinement, and have the healthiest baby I ever saw. When he was three months old he weighed eighteen pounds; he is now seven months old and weighs twenty-four pounds. I can say I have had no return of my old troubles. I thank you very much for the good you have done me."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, residing upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

The Second Case Now Claims Court's Attention

McWilliams-Dickson Company in the Second Suit--Amount Involved in This Action is $3,000.00 Balance Due on Logs and Interest--Defendants Deny Plaintiff's Legal Right to Lands--Further Claim That Alleged Claim Was Procured by Plaintiff's Father by Reason of His Official Capacity--The Witnesses Examined in the Case.

Yesterday afternoon the second McWilliams vs. Dickson Company case was opened before Justice Street, his judgment on the first case being reserved in regard to legal points. The particulars in the second case as set forth in the statements of claim are as follows:—The plaintiff, Theodore McWilliams, claims that during the winter of 1903-04 he became the assignee from locatees of lands in cons. 3 and 4, Cavendish Township, and cut a number of logs which were placed on the ice ready to market, and that on May 18, 1904, defendants took the logs forcibly from his possession. In alternative, plaintiff refers to the complaint made to the Commissioner of Crown Lands by plaintiff, that the cutting of the logs was an infringement of their rights as holders of a timber license for the territory. As directed by the Commissioner in his reply, negotiations took place as to the amount which should be paid plaintiff, the ruling being to the effect that the lands be restored to the Dickson Company's license, and that a reasonable sum be paid defendants for cutting expenses. No agreement was ever arrived at. The defendants, subsequently, plaintiff claims, paid to him $5,957.93, which was accepted as a payment on account, but say that a reasonable cost of cutting and handling exceeded that amount. Defendants afterward took possession of the logs by force. Plaintiff claims the $3,000 as balance due on logs still remaining unpaid, and with interest thereon, and costs of the action.

The defendants deny that plaintiff was the assignee from actual locatees, and deny his legal right and title to the lands, and claim to be holders of Crown timber licenses covering these. Plaintiff further alleges that under the provisions of the statute relating to land grants to volunteers, defendant could not be located, in any event, for more than one hundred and sixty acres, and not more than one such block within one square mile, whereas he wrongfully sets up title to a block containing about one thousand acres. Defendants also set up the provisions of the Free Grant and Homesteads Act and of the Public Lands Act as against the legal right of plaintiff to the lands, and allege that he never performed necessary improvements and settlement duties upon the lands. They further state that the alleged claim was procured through the efforts and intervention and trafficking of J. B. McWilliams, plaintiff's father, and that the claim is void because of the fact that it was acquired by reason of the official position of the latter, who was disentitled to purchase the lands under such circumstances. Defendants allege that the Commissioner of Crown Lands had no jurisdiction in the premises, and that though the plaintiff's title to the timber was subject of contest at the time of cutting, yet this was proceeded with, and allege that plaintiff has been paid as much and more than he is entitled to. On April 12, plaintiff accepted a payment from defendants in settlement of claim, releasing the latter from further liability. R. F. McWilliams, plaintiff's solicitor; Roger and Bennett, solicitors for defence.

Prior to the opening of the case Mr. Aylesworth addressed the Court, giving his view of the facts of the case.

R. F. McWilliams was the first witness and was examined by Mr. Aylesworth. The evidence follows:—

Q.—Do you know this man Boyle?
A.—I do.
Q.—Did you witness this signature?
A.—I did.
Q.—Is that his signature?
A.—That is his signature and my signature as witness.

To Mr. Watson.—

Q.—Where does Richard A. Boyle live?
A.—In Peterborough.
Q.—Did you yourself see him?
A.—I did not see him excepting when he was signing that document, that I remember of.
Q.—Did you go to him?
A.—In order to get him to sign this? No.
Q.—Who did go to him?
A.—So far as I can tell you what happened was this. I was instructed by my brother to draw up a form of assignment of a Veteran's claim that would hold under the law.
Q.—You mean assignment of script?
A.—Assignment of whatever veteran's rights were. (All right, go on.) and I drew up a form of assignment to be adapted to different cases with the necessary changes of words, of which this was one, as my brother intended to purchase a number of veteran's locations and Boyle, and several other men signed these transfers.
Q.—Who is D. Conroy?
A.—A young man living in Peterborough.
Q.—What does he do?
A.—He is a member of a firm of contractors.
Q.—What had David Conroy to do with this?
A.—David Conroy or his brother were buying such locations.
Q.—Do you mean buying the script that veterans held?
A.—Buying whatever was the right of the veteran's to land they were entitled to.
Q.—Did Mr. Boyle show you his script—certificate of his right to apply?
A.—Mr. Boyle's certificate is attached to—that is the form of certificate which is given to each veteran. I drew up a general form of assignment and necessarily changed it for each veteran.
Q.—You understood at that time that the veterans had not made any selection of land?
A.—At the time of the assignment—I could not say positively as to that.
Q.—What was your understanding as to that?
A.—I cannot say positively.
Q.—You had an understanding about it?
A.—I had nothing to do excepting to draw up the legal papers.
Q.—You afterwards wrote and asked to have an assignment made?
A.—No. I wrote a letter enclosing the assignment.
Q.—From that do you not know that the script holder had made no selection of the land?
A.—I do not know whether there was any conversation or anything done by Boyle as to which piece of land he would be located for. All I know is that Boyle and my brother or Conroy made an agreement by which Boyle could sell his interests in the land to which he was entitled to under the certificate. I drew up the necessary legal papers.
Q.—How much was Boyle paid for his?
A.—I think the transfer says.
Q.—How much?
A.—I do not know outside the transfer.
Q.—It says $30.00.
A.—I presume that is right.
Q.—Paid by whom?
A.—Paid by either Conroy or my brother.
Q.—What had you to do with it?
A.—Nothing other than drew the papers.
Q.—Did you not make advances or payments at the time of this particular transfer?
A.—Of my own money? No.
Q.—Your father was there, in Peterborough?
A.—I think he was.
Q.—Do you know whether or not your father had seen Mr. Boyle?
A.—To the best of my knowledge my father never spoke to Boyle in any way.
Q.—You do know that your father negotiated the purchase of some of this scrip?
A.—No, I do not.
Q.—The scrip holders are here?
A.—I see Boyle here, and the Grays here.
Q.—Have you any knowledge on the matter? Will you swear that your father did not see them?
A.—No; I cannot say that.
Q.—Where is your office—in your father's office?
A.—In the same apartments. There is a common entrance, but they are in separate rooms.
Q.—Then you assist your father sometimes in the course of his official capacity?
A.—When my father is away, if there is anybody comes in to attend to business that I know about, I do it.
Q.—And your brother, the plaintiff, is also there?
A.—That is the only place he has for an office.
Q.—He has no office—then who fixed upon the lands for which the location was asked, do you know?
A.—So far as my conduct was concerned I was instructed by my brother; what the dealings between him and Boyle were I do not know.
Q.—But you were throughout largely interested financially in those transactions of your brother?
A.—From what time?
Q.—Almost from the commencement?
A.—I was interested financially from some time in August, 1903.
A.—Were you not interested financially before that time?
A.—No; I was not.
Q.—But after that how much money did you put in? Did you advance money to your brother?
A.—I did.
Q.—Did you afterwards take a transfer of his rights and interests in this property?
A.—As security for these advances.
Q.—Did you take a transfer?
A.—Yes.
(Transfer read.)
Q.—That is the signature of your brother, Theodore McWilliams?
A.—Yes.
Q.—And this is the letter you wrote to the Department, Mr. White, enclosing it?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Were these lands ever re-assigned to your brother.
A.—They were, on the 28th day of April, 1904, the consideration being $200.
Q.—Was that the only document you ever re-executed in his favour for these lots?
A.—Yes.
Q.—You never executed any other assignment to him?
A.—Not that I know of.
Q.—Then I see by an affidavit made by you on the 24th December, 1903, that you advanced to him $6000. Is that correct?
A.—If it is stated in my affidavit. Q.—Is that correct? $6,000 is a large sum of money.
A.—If it is stated in my affidavit, it is correct. I do not remember the exact amount.
Q.—Then do you recollect how much you advanced? How much altogether?
A.—I do not remember.
Q.—You are a young solicitor, practising only a few years?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Not a gentleman of large financial means?
A.—No.
Q.—You did not have the cash to advance, of course?
A.—No.
Q.—Did you get it through your father?
A.—How do you mean through him?
Q.—In any way through your father did you get this money?
A.—My father endorsed the most of it.
Q.—Your father is the only one of the three with financial credit?
A.—I am not a good judge of my own honesty.
Q.—I did not speak of your honesty.
A.—I think credit depends upon a man's honesty.
Q.—You think the financial credit a man gets depends upon a man's honesty?
A.—Partly.
Q.—You said largely; do you think that a poor man or a man without means, if he is honest, can get security as well as a man who has means?
A.—No.
Q.—Then I ask you if your father is the only one of the three with fair financial credit?
A.—He is the only one of the three who is worth any considerable sum of money.
Q.—You could not have obtained this money without your father taking an interest?
A.—I do not know.
Q.—You did not try?
A.—No.
Q.—What bank did you get it from?
A.—A good deal from the Bank of Commerce.
Q.—Had your brother anything to do with the banking?
A.—I do not think so. That was transferred to me.
Q.—Who kept the bank account?
A.—I did.
Q.—Was it kept in your name or in your father's name?
A.—Kept in my name.
Q.—You issued all cheques?
A.—I did, except some small payments that were made in cash by my brother. They amounted to a considerable sum if you took them all together.
Q.—A matter of $100?
A.—They altogether amounted to about $1200. I paid him the money.
Q.—Of course that was the result of a considerable consultation with your father?
A.—I do not know that it was?
Q.—You had considerable consultation with your father at the time the arrangement was made?
A.—I do not think there was any considerable consultation.
Q.—$10,000, or $12,000, or 6,000 would have been a large sum for even your father?
A.—It would have been a considerable sum. At the time we entered the transaction no one had any idea what it would cost.

At the time of going to press this case is still in progress, and a summary of the evidence with its conclusion will be published to-morrow.

McWilliams-Dickson Case

that time, in December 1899, employed under his father and paid by the Department of Crown Lands, and was therefore, it is claimed not entitled to make any purchase of Crown property, and it is claimed that his father was forbidden by section 40 to do so. The father by his evidence appears to have been of that opinion himself. Then according to Cochrane's evidence the purchase was made through him. He did not want the property, he says, he had no idea of buying it. He never considered himself responsible for any part of the purchase money, but the application was made, signed by him and made in his name. That was in December 1899. Nothing was done for some year or two afterwards but the money was paid to the Government early in 1900. It was paid two or three months after this application was made and it was paid by Mr. McWilliams the elder. He says that he paid it for Cochrane at Cochrane's request, but Cochrane denies that it was paid at his request, denies that he ever was liable for it, denies that he ever paid it back. Mr. McWilliams says that it was paid back to him in settling up the affairs of some estate in which Mrs. Cochrane was entitled to some money and that a settlement was come to and a cheque given by him of $400 or thereabouts to Mrs. Cochrane in settlement of all matters between them. He says that this money, this $48 was included in that, but that is included in the denial by Mr. Cochrane who says he never was liable, never was asked to pay for it in any way, shape or form, and Mr. McWilliams the elder is unable to give any particulars whatever or produce any books or accounts to show that this amount was included in any settlement with Mrs. Cochrane. Then there is the further contradiction, the deed from John Cochrane to young McWilliams, the plaintiff. It appears to be for the consideration of $50. He says he never got $50. He made the application for the land because he intended it for McWilliams and at young McWilliams' request. The land was to be for young McWilliams and Cochrane was not to pay anything for it. Young McWilliams did not show whether he ever paid anything for the land. That is the impression that I get from the evidence, and I think he probably would have remembered. He would not have had so many of these large transactions that he was not likely to remember it if he had. Then he says he paid his father. Well, if he did pay his father the Government fees, which are $45, and I rather gather from his evidence, in fact I think he said, that the $48 he paid to his father was probably instead of the $50 which was the consideration for the deed. The father's evidence says that his son never paid him the fees which he paid to Mrs. Cochrane, so that the whole matter is involved in a mass of contradictory statements. The conclusion that I have come to is that really the property was purchased by the father, who was a man of means. He may have intended it for his son, but I think he must be held to be the purchaser because he advanced the money, and it is not satisfactorily shown that he ever got the money back. Then another matter that leads to that conclusion is that he appears to have acted as the owner on person interested in the property. He undertook, for instance, when his son was away, to apply for the patent in the name of Cochrane, and when they wanted to get the patent he assured the Department that his son, who had the tax title to the land, had no objection. He assured the Department that there was no adverse claim, and they could safely make the deed, although at the time the tax title was held by his son. Against that view is the fact that the son says that he built the fence, and there is no contradiction to that. Of course, he is not asked where he got the money for it, but he says he built the fence about the place. So that the conclusion that I come to is that the property was never purchased by Cochrane at all, that he never had and never intended to have any personal interest in it, that he only bought it at the request of the son, and it was to be for the son. So that either the father or the son, one of the two, was the person who purchased the property in December, 1899, from the Government, and of the two between whom I am obliged to choose, I should think that the probabilities were that it was the father rather than the son. They apparently did not quite understand themselves which it was to be, but the money was paid by the father, and it does not appear to have been given back, or rather, it has not been satisfactorily shown that he ever received it back. That is the way that I find with regard to that part of the disputed evidence.

Then regarding the question as to the circumstances under which this transfer or license to take the timber off the property was given by Mr. Cochrane to the company at the time that he held the property or before the patent issued, I should come to the conclusion that from all the circumstances, from the evidence that has been given, from the letter that has been written from the defendants to the Department giving their consent, or rather the giving of their verbal consent, whichever it may be, I should come to the conclusion, and I do not see any reasonable contention against it, that Mr. Cochrane, being of the opinion that for some reason or other the patent could not be strictly issued unless he got the consent of the Dickson Company, signed the transfer for the timber in exchange for their consent to his obtaining the patent. It may be that their consent was not necessary, but if was probably very desirable to get it if they wished to get a patent out, as they appear to have done. I think that the evidence is sufficiently clear to enable me to find that fact, that the agreement was given in exchange by Cochrane to the company, that the exchange for his consent in their taking off the timber was their consent to the immediate issuing of the patent. There is no evidence whatever that that consent was given upon any express authority from the father or the son. The son says that he was not aware that it was given. I do not think the father was ever asked if it was given with his knowledge or not. But I think I am right in saying that the application for the issuing of the patent was made by him at the time through Mr. J. B. McWilliams, all the correspondence shows that it was through him. All that I can say is that I consider it extremely unlikely that Mr. Cochrane would have taken the step of giving the timber on properties that he did not own without the knowledge of the people for whom he had obtained the patent."

With regard to the amount that would be entitled to recovery, His Lordship thought the plaintiff would be entitled to recover the value of the logs, as they were at Young's Point, should they be found, upon a consideration of the questions of law to be entitled to recover.

"Then the questions of law, which, it appears to me, are to be considered, are whether the plaintiff and his father, or either of them, were within section 40, and if they were within that section then, whether the defendants can set up disqualification by the Act. Then whether the defendants who claim under this license from Cochrane can dispute Cochrane's title, which is the title of the plaintiff. Then as to whether the Registry law applies, and whether there is any consideration for the grant or license to the defendants from Cochrane for this timber. These are the questions which it seems to me that I have to determine, and I reserve them."

This case is one in which considerable interest is being centered, and the judgment will be awaited with some anxiety, especially by those more vitally affected.

THE POST MORTEM SHOWS THAT AN ELECTRICAL
SHOCK CAUSED DEATH

Inquest on Death of Asher T. Wiltse, of Havelock, Resumed This Afternoon--Dr. Young Gives Report of Post Mortem--Death Was Due to Shock--Dr. Crawford Supported This View--The Inquest Being Conducted at Present Time.

Special Wire to the Examiner

Havelock, Oct. 16, 2 p.m.—This afternoon at 1 o'clock the adjourned inquest on the death of Asher T. Wiltse opened before Coroner Grey and County Crown Attorney Wood. The first witness called was Dr. Young, of this city, who performed the post-mortem examination on the body of the deceased. The doctor's evidence summarized it as follows: He stated that he examined the body of a man well nourished. Height about 5 feet 10 1-2 inches; weight about 140 pounds; age about 40 years. Rigor mortis well marked. Post-mortem changes in the abdomen.

External marks—Palm of left hand blistered at first, second and third fingers; mark on palm about the size of a fifty-cent piece.

No other external marks, but ecchymosis in dependent parts.

Brain slightly congested about membranes, otherwise normal. Pleural cavity and lungs normal.

Pericardial cavity contained from one to twelve ounces of serous fluid.

Heart normal.

Abdominal cavity, right kidney contained a small quantity of pus. Left kidney normal. All the other organs normal. Cause of death, shock.

Dr. Crawford, of Havelock, who was associated with Dr. Young in making the examination, was the next witness, and corroborated the evidence of the former witness. It was thus established beyond doubt that death was caused by an electric shock, and other witnesses were called to ascertain, if possible, upon whom the blame for the accident should be laid.

At the present time the inquest is still in progress, but it is expected that it will be concluded this afternoon.

BRAVERY RECEIVES ITS WELL MERITTED RECOGNITION AND REWARD AT HIAWATHA

Madden Howard, the Mississagua Indian, Presented With Humane Society Medal--Hon. J. R. Stratton Made the Presentation Yesterday--Addresses Were Given by Messrs. R. R. Hall, M.P., and T. F. Matthews, of This City--An Interesting Event Which Took Place in the Methodist Church at Hiawatha.

The pretty little Methodist church at Hiawatha was the scene of a notable gathering on the occasion of the interesting ceremony of the presentation to Mr. Madden Howard of the medal of the Royal Humane Society in recognition of his brave act in rescuing two men, W. H. Harris and S. A. Ebels, of Port Perry, from drowning in Rice Lake in July last.

Rev. Mr. Dunkley, the pastor, preached an appropriate sermon. At the conclusion of the religious services, Mr. Dunkley said that he had been requested by the officials of the Royal Humane Society to have its medal presented to Mr. Howard in a public manner by representative citizens, so that the bravery and heroism of the man might be fittingly recognized and prove an incentive to others to act similarly in similar circumstances. He stated that he had invited to be present at the occasion Mr. John Finlay, M.P.; Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P.; T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.; Mr. John Lang, ex-M.P.; Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P.; Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. T. F. Matthews and others, but only three of these, the three latter mentioned, had responded to the invitations to assist in the presentation—the others were absent for various reasons. He asked Mr. Stratton to make the presentation.

Hon. Mr. Stratton Presents Medal.

In so doing, Mr. Stratton stated that he was both pleased and honoured at being present on so interesting occasion. On the last occasion he visited Hiawatha it was to assist in the opening of the pretty little church. That was an important occasion, but the present was a much more important one. He was greatly pleased to be present with the good people of Hiawatha on an occasion of this kind. It was an honour to be associated with doing honour to a brave and deserving man—which honour reflected honour upon ourselves. The circumstances which had brought them together had their origin in the daring act of Mr. Howard in rescuing from a watery grave in July last two young men, Mr. Harris and Mr. Ebbels, of Port Perry. The circumstances would be remembered by many. There was a terrible gale blowing. Nobody but Mr. Howard had seen the accident, which put two human lives in deadly peril, and no man but Mr. Howard would have risked his life by setting out to the rescue in a frail craft like a canoe, and he only could have done so under a strong sense of duty and the promptings of the highest humanity. In speaking of Mr. Howard's noble act, Mr. Stratton referred to the expression of Scripture, that "all that a man hath will he give for his life," as illustrating the supreme value of a human life. If it were a noble act to save one life it was doubly noble to save two. Mr. Howard's action was no surprise to those who knew him. He possesses skill, courage and a level head, which never played him false on occasions of emergency,—when the use of his head was of value to others. It was a good thing to have skill and courage, but it was a greater to use them for the good of others. Mr. Howard was a hero in respect of a brave action, and was more worthy of decoration with a medal than great soldiers; for the medals which blazed upon their breasts represented the destruction of perhaps thousands of lives, but the medal of Mr. Howard represented the saving of two lives. Mr. Stratton heartily congratulated Mr. Howard upon being worthy of the medal. He hoped he would have a long and happy life and that he and his family would appreciate the honour which he so well deserved and treasure the medal which he had the honour of presenting to him.

As Mr. Howard accepted the medal the choir sang the appropriate hymn, "Rescue the Perishing."

Mr. Hall's Endorsation.

Mr. R. R. Hall, being called upon made a neat speech suitable to the occasion. He referred to the heroism of Grace Darling, who at the risk of her own life, saved human lives by an act unparalleled in the annals of life saving. He referred to the daring act of Mr. Howard who had taken such a terrible risk, to save two strangers—involving the possibility of losing his own life and leaving his wife a widow and his children orphans. The speaker cordially endorsed all that Mr. Stratton had said in relation to the heroism of Mr. Howard's action. It takes a strong arm, a level head and a big heart to do what Mr. Howard had done. If he had for a moment lost his head at any stage of the rescue, three lives would have been lost. He referred to the fact that the Indians of Canada had all kind hearts and the action of Mr. Howard was worthy of his race. They all know Mr. Howard and were not surprised that he had done a deed of heroic character, otherwise he would not have been honoured with the medal of the Royal Humane Society, who bestowed this reward only after the most careful investigation. He congratulated Mr. Howard and all with whom he was associated, upon receiving such an honour, but more on being worthy of it.

Mr. Mathews Speaks.

Mr. T. F. Matthews on being called upon, expressed his pleasure at being present on so important and interesting an occasion. He remembered the striking incident which had made this occasion possible. He had known Mr. Howard and felt that he was worthy of all the honour which had been bestowed upon him and of all the praise which he had received. The action of the Royal Humane Society in recognizing his bravery was one that all would approve. He congratulated the people of Hiawatha upon the beauty of their church and the excellence of the singing by the choir in both Indian and English.

Rev. Mr. Dunkley in conclusion, in behalf of Mr. Howard, expressed his appreciation of the kind words said of him. The recognition he had received, both at the hands of the speakers and of the Royal Humane Society, was greatly appreciated though he had not been influenced in what he had done by any hope of reward. Speaking for himself, Rev. Mr. Dunkley said Mr. Howard's action was quite natural. It was his instinct to help others, and his action on the occasion under consideration was only in keeping with his past record.

The interesting meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the King."

Another Fire In a Grating On Hunter St.

Defect in Fire Alarm System Caused Brigade a Run.

Two Calls Sent in Last Night—A Warning to Store Owners.

Two alarms were sent in the fire hall last evening, and neither of them were for fires of any consequence. About 6.30 an alarm was rung in from the box in No. 4 ward, and in remarkably short time the brigade was galloping up George street on their way to extinguish what they supposed to be a serious conflagration, but after searching for the blaze they discovered that the cause of their run was the fact that the wires in the alarm box had become crossed, thus creating a circuit and sending in the alarm.

This is but another evidence of the fact that there is an urgent need of a more efficient fire alarm system, in the city.

About 10 o'clock another alarm was sent in, this time, however, there was need for the services of the brigade. Mr. Fred. Whitcroft was passing Minipola Brothers' fruit store on Hunter street, when he noticed fire burning in the grating, over the cellar window, and sent in the alarm, but again there was something wrong with the system, and instead of going to where the trouble was, the brigade started to go south on George street, the alarm indicating that it was in that direction, where the fire was. Fortunately, however, someone directed them to the proper spot and the fire was quickly extinguished. This is the second time within the last few weeks that serious fires caused by careless persons throwing lighted cigars or matches in the gratings along Hunter street, have been narrowly averted. Fortunately, in both cases, someone happened to be passing, and saw the fire in time to prevent what would undoubtedly have proved to be a bad fire. The frequent recurrence of fires from this cause should lead owners of stores in front of which there are grates to clean them out occasionally, and thus lessen the danger of fire from this cause.

Re-opening Of Sunday School Room Shortly

Charlotte Street Methodists Will Hold Special Service.

Rev. D. O. Crossley Will Preach—Improvements Have Cost Nearly $4,000.

Two weeks from yesterday the Sunday School room of Charlotte street Methodist church, which has been undergoing repairs and enlargments during the past few months, will be re-opened, and in connection with its re-opening, special services will be held. Rev. D. O. Crossley, a former pastor of the church, will be here on that day and will preach, and on that day the new school room will be used for the first time. The new structure, for it is practically rebuilt, will present a very great improvement over the old school room. The roof has been raised six feet to permit the erection of galleries accommodating twelve class rooms, six on the north side, and three each on the west and east ends. Ten feet have been added to the primary class room, and a kitchen for the ladies built at the rear of this class room.

The platform will be placed along the south side in an alcove, and a coloured window has been placed at the rear of the platform.

The improvements, which have been carried on by contractor Ruthen ford, will cost in the neighbourhood of $3,000 to $4,000.

During the time in which the work has been in progress the sessions of the Sunday School have been held in the church.

On Monday, October 20, a concert will be given in the new school room in connection with the re-opening ceremonies.

It is expected that Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe, of Toronto, will take part in the programme, which fact alone is a guarantee of its success.

The Sunday School officers and the church are to be congratulated upon the handsome new school room which has been thus erected.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff, it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp — it will kill the germs hair is sure to result.

Some Interesting Facts In Newspaper Circulation

Figures Which Show That Nearly 90 Per Cent. of the People of This City Are Regular Readers of The Examiner--Some Facts Which Advertisers Would Do Well to Investigate.

On Saturday the Examiner printed, and issued, 2,300 copies. There were no special orders in for extra copies, all the papers being disposed of in the regular way, by newsboys and counter sales, and to-day there is not a copy left. The figures of the above furnish an interesting deduction to advertisers.

Everyone of those 2,300 papers went into a home, and was read on an average by at least six persons, or in other words, between Saturday night and this morning 13,800 persons read Saturday's Examiner.

There are, according to the last reports of the assessors, 14,391 persons in this city, so that, accepting these figures, 89.06 of the people of this city read Saturday's Examiner.

It is doubtful if in any city in Ontario, any one paper so fully covers the field as does the Examiner. Saturday's issue was the regular week-end run, and the average issue of this paper, taking the six days in the week as over 2,200 copies, or some hundreds more than the circulation of all other Peterborough daily papers combined.

The Examiner does not ask advertisers to accept this statement without proof. Come into the press-room any day of the week, and see for yourself the press register, or watch the papers being printed.

The moral is not hard to find. Advertisers who want to reach the buyers of Peterborough can do it better through the medium of the Examiner than through any other papers.

Circulation counts, and the Examiner has the circulation.

Fix these figures in your mind, and think what they mean; 13,380 out of the 14,391 of Peterborough's population, read Saturday's Examiner.

Improvements Proceeded Over Sunday

And This Morning the Post Office Was Opened.

New Boxes were Installed Yesterday Ready for Business To-morrow.

The improvements to the Peterborough Post Office, which have been in progress during the past few months, reached an advanced stage on Saturday night, when the change in the boxes was commenced. At 6 o'clock the office was closed to the public, and within an hour the old boxes were on the street, and the installation of those which will replace them was commenced.

The work proceeded during Saturday night and yesterday, and the office was again opened to the public at noon to-day. The installation of the boxes was not completed, but the public was served as well as possible under the difficulty in which the staff was working.

It is expected that by to-morrow the office will be ready to resume the regular business in the regular way.

W. R. G. Higgins' Steel Ranges

Mr. W. R. G. Higgins, the enterprising Hunter street hardware merchant, is a new advertiser in the Examiner columns, and he is to be congratulated upon his business foresight in selecting the Examiner as the medium through which he makes his announcements to the public.

Mr. Higgins is one of the younger business men of the city, and has built up a trade, which will doubtless increase even more rapidly now that he has decided upon the policy of newspaper publicity. The Canada Steel Range, which he has the agency for, is described as the "Kitchen Queen" of steel ranges.

A full line of hardware in all its branches is handled by Mr. Higgins, and his stock is a well assorted one.

This Week At St. Luke's

The following meetings will be held in St. Luke's during this week:—

To-night at 8 o'clock, the Girls' Auxiliary. The members are asked to turn out in large numbers to complete arrangements for the entertainment on Oct. 20th.

To-morrow afternoon at 4.30, Confirmation Class.

The first meeting of the season of the Mother's Guild will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The adult Confirmation Class on Wednesday at 5 o'clock.

At the classes this week the Rector will give instructions on "The Holy Catholic Church."

The W. A. meeting on Thursday at 2.30 and the Mission Band on Saturday at 2 o'clock.

Stricken With Paralysis

Mrs. W. R. Sutherland, St. Andrews, Man., writes: "I was stricken with paralysis, and lost power of the tongue and leg. For six months I obtained no relief either by doctor's prescriptions or other medicines. My husband got me Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which has revitalized my nerves and given me full power of the paralysed parts. I am strong and well now, thanks to this great medicine."

Trafalgar Day To Be Observed Next Sunday

The Local Anglican Churches Will Hold Special Services.

Letter From the Bishop of Toronto Requests It.

The local clergy of the Anglican church have received a letter from the Bishop of Toronto, in reference to the celebration of Trafalgar Day, and in accordance with the suggestion contained in the letter, next Sunday will be observed in the Anglican churches of this city.

The letter says, in part:

"This occasion will be celebrated throughout Great Britain and the Colonies. In this Diocese the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, in alliance with the Navy League, have undertaken to make arrangements for the celebration. They have requested that Sunday, October 22nd, be observed as a National Anniversary, with special services and appriopriate sermons.

"In accordance with this suggestion I hereby invite you to set apart that day in your churches for the commemoration of the great victory which gave Great Britain the command of the seas, a power which guarantees protection to every subject of every race under the British flag; and also to direct attention to that great principle of devotion to duty, of which our National Hero was so great an example."

Little Finger Badly Crushed

Mr. Ed. Davis Injured at Otonabee Power House.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Ed. Davis, an employee of the Otonabee Power Company, at the power house, at dam No. 5, met with an accident which may mean the loss of one of his fingers.

He was working around one of the machines in the power house, when in some way he got the little finger of the left hand caught, and it was badly crushed.

Dr. Young was sent for, and made a hurried trip to the scene of the accident. He dressed the injured member, and is doing his best to save it, though whether he will be able to succeed he is not able to tell yet.

Mr. Davis lives at Dam No. 5.

PROFIT AND INTEREST

People usually read a newspaper for information, for the purpose of keeping track of incidents and watching the swift current of events. But there are many who watch a newspaper for the purpose of acquiring profit. The classified advertising in The Peterborough Examiner offers many exceptional opportunities for liberal profit-making. There isn't a day in the year that these advertisements do not contain a series of bargains in real estate which assure substantial returns on an investment. Not only in this department, but in many other classifications, are there offered bargains which are at least money-savers and, therefore money-makers. The classified advertising in The Peterborough Examiner, is not only interesting, but is also profitable to readers.

Youthful Prisoner Escapes;
TWO BURGLARIES OCCUR
In East City Last Night

Herbert Taylor, a Youth Recently Committed to St. John's Industrial School by P. M. Dumble, Escaped Yesterday--Was Seen in Peterborough This Morning--Stores of Wm. Collins and M. O'Brien Burglarized Last Night Taylor Had Sum of Money To-day Which He Stated He Got In "Clean-Up" Last Night in Ashburnham--Expected That Arrest Will Follow.

Herbert Taylor, the fourteen-year-old youth who a few weeks ago broke from confinement in the Havelock lock-up, and was sentenced by Magistrate Dumble, a few days later, to an indefinite term, not to exceed three years in St. John's Industrial School, broke away yesterday from confinement at that place.

A telegram conveying the information of the boy's escape was received this morning by Chief Roszel from the superintendent of the school. The message requested that a sharp lookout be kept for Taylor, and stated that any charges involved in his return would be paid by them.

Almost simultaneously with the reception of the message mentioned above came the information of two burglaries which occurred last night in East City. One of the places visited was the grocery of Wm. Collins, in which place the till was taken from its position, and its contents, a sum of about $2, extracted.

Mr. Collins, when seen to-day by the Examiner, stated that in the till were five or six "toadskins," or twenty-five-cent notes and a number of coppers, possibly twenty-five. This money, together with a quantity of tobacco, was taken. The till was lying upon the counter when he entered this morning. How the entrance to the store was effected is more or less a mystery, but it is thought that it was through a cellar window at the rear. The back door and window were both opened, but must have been opened from the inside, as they were securely hooked.

Mr. Collins visited the store at about nine o'clock last night, when everything was in its usual condition.

Mr. O'Brien's butcher shop across the street, was also entered during the night, but nothing was taken, the till being empty. It was, however, examined by the marauders.

Herbert Taylor, the boy who escaped yesterday from St. John's Industrial School, was seen upon the streets this morning by a number of people, among whom were Mr. Roy Galvin and Mr. Thos. Guerin.

The two young men mentioned met Taylor this morning about 8.30 near the corner of George and Charlotte streets.

Speaking to Mr. Galvin, Taylor stated that he had escaped yesterday from the Industrial School, in accomplishing which he said he had struck a man upon the head with a bat. During the short conversation which ensued, Mr. Galvin states that he produced a sum of money from an inner pocket, and quickly replaced it, saying, "Look here!" Being questioned as to where he got it, he replied, "Oh, I made a little clean up in Ashburnham last night." He also made a remark to the effect that he would require all the money to go where he intended.

This ended the conversation. No further trace has been discovered of the escaped boy, but it is strongly suspected by the authorities that he has gone to Havelock, and it is probable that his arrest will follow in the immediate future.

Mr. A. B. Aylesworth Is Now Postmaster-General

Special Wire to The Examiner.

Ottawa, October 16th. — Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, was sworn in at Rideau Hall this afternoon as Postmaster-General, to succeed Sir Wm. Mulock. Accompanied by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and Mr. J. J. Magee, clerk of the Privy Council, he went to Rideau Hall at 1.30 o'clock. He will attend the Premier's farewell dinner to Sir William Mulock to-night.

RETURNED MISSIONARIES
WILL GIVE ADDRESSES
AT ANNUAL CONVENTION

Official Programme of the Women's Missionary Society Which Opens To-morrow--Executive Meeting Tuesday Morning--General Meeting in the Afternoon--The Open Sessions on Tuesday and Wednesday Nights.

The 24th annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada, will open to-morrow in the George street Methodist church. The Executive Committee will meet in the morning and the general meeting in the afternoon.

Six missionaries will be present at this meeting, Miss Brimstin and Dr. Henry, of China; Miss Howie and Miss Lang, of Japan; and Miss Spence and Miss Jackson, of British Columbia.

Last year $63,000 was raised by this Society and this was all expended under the direction of the officers of the society without having been handed to the General Board.

The programme for to-morrow will be as follows:—

10.00 a.m.—Meeting of the Executive.

Interruption Of A Sunday Game

A quiet little card game, which was in progress in an office on Water street, was interrupted yesterday afternoon, by P. C. Stewart. The participants, who numbered thirteen, were young men and boys, ranging in age from 14 to 20 years.

The names were taken by the officer for use in case of prosecution.

The key of the office, it appears, was in the possession of one of the young men, and the matter of prosecution will rest with the officials of the company, whose office the boys were occupying. At the entrance of P. C. Stewart the cards were swept from sight, but were produced upon the order of the officer.

A GOOD TIME TO INVEST

is when you can purchase attractive property at attractive prices, and get your real estate "on time". The tendency of prices for Real Estate is upward and those persons who thought they could buy property at reduced prices in the fall have been very much mistaken. With the manifest growth of the City we fail to see any reason why the price of choice property should depreciate. At present we have some of the very best properties in the City for sale and these shall not be offered at sacrificed prices, but at prices in keeping with the value of the properties. The prices range from $ 200. to $ 800. for choice sites and choice buildings. Also we have some very desirable homes from $ 1000. to $ 2000. Farms also we have for sale. Do not overlook the the fact that we buy and sell any listed stock on any Exchange and that our present Correspondents are J. R. HEINTZ & CO. of Buffalo, N. Y. Established in 1879.

Conclusion Reached In McWilliams-Dickson Case

Q.—Then was he going into this speculation, endorsing to the extent of $6,000, $7,000 or $8,000 just to get his expenses?

A.—Nothing more and nothing less.

Q.—And what was your father to get out of that?

A.—Nothing at all.

Q.—And it was always regarded as more or less speculative?

A.—No, the thing was considered at first a very small transaction, and would have been had it been allowed to go on.

Q.—Why have you not been doing anything since this action was brought?

A.—Because I was trying to get the thing settled and get these lands restored now that the timber was gone, and then I could go on with the cattle ranching.

Q.—Is that the only reason?

A.—No other reason.

Q.—There is no place where there is more work to be had than here?

A.—I do not know about that, I could get away if it was not for this.

Q.—Plenty of work here?

A.—I have never tried.

Q.—Living with your father at the present time and have done so all the time?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Do you pay your board at home or have you been living there with your family in the usual way?

A.—Just in the usual way.

Q.—Not paying any board, or not being charged with it?

A.—Not paying any regular board.

Q.—Any money you have required for spending purposes during the last couple of years I suppose you got from your father?

A.—No I have got no money.

Q.—Was it early in 1900 that you came down?

A.—April.

Q.—So that you had no other occupation since 1901?

A.—No.

Q.—You have not been in receipt of revenue or income from that time on?

A.—No.

Q.—And this matter of correspondence with the Department you do not know anything personally about that I suppose?

A.—Not at all.

Q.—It was a matter that was not brought to your attention personally?

A.—They may have told me.

Q.—But that was a matter that was attended to by your brother and by your father?

A.—Yes, mostly.

Q.—And I suppose the relationship at your house is the same as it is ordinarily? You are a happy family together?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Your brother Roland is not in a much different position financially from you?

A.—I do not know anything about that at all whatever.

Re-examined by Mr. Aylesworth:

Q.—Your brother Roland is a married man? Since when?

A.—September of 1903.

Q.—Since then has he been living at your father's house?

A.—No.

Q.—Then this $200 that is mentioned in this document from you to Roland? Did you get it in any one sum?

A.—Yes, I think it was in one straight sum, a cheque for the amount.

Q.—How would that be with reference to the beginning of the money transactions? How near to the beginning was that?

A.—I cannot tell just exactly.

Q.—Had you been paid any money before?

A.—No; that was the first that had been given to me.

Q.—And the amount of it was $200, and that was the beginning?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Do you know what the amounts are of the notes that are outstanding that you and your father are on?

A.—About $1800 altogether.

Q.—Is Roland on any of the notes?

A.—I do not think that he is on anything at all.

Q.—Do you know when that situation first arose—when was the last that he was on?

A.—I think when he gave me back the transfer that released him.

Q.—And he is not on any of the papers since?

A.—No.

Q.—That would be in the spring of 1901?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And the notes outstanding, that you and your father were liable for, have these notes been reduced any since then?

A.—Yes.

Q.—So that there is now about $1800?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Where are those notes?

A.—In the Bank of Toronto and the Bank of Ottawa.

Q.—Then you said to Mr. Watson, when he was asking about how the business was done, referring, I think to the business with the Crown Lands Department, who did you mean it was done by?

A.—My brother, Roland, as solicitor.

Q.—Then the judgment that was mentioned outstanding against you—do you know about when it was recovered, the one that went by default?

A.—I would not swear positively, but I think some time in February or March, 1902.

Q.—Who is the holder of it now?

A.—Mrs. Hurrup.

Q.—You think that she is still the holder of that judgment against you?

A.—I could not say.

Q.—I am told that your father has paid it, has taken it up.

A.—I understood that he had.

Q.—Then he is the holder; do you know when that was?

A.—About a year or so ago.

Q.—Then has that anything to do with this transaction?

A.—No.

Q.—That was some former mix-up?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Can you say about what the amount of the judgment was?

A.—About $2300.

Mr. Watson:

Q.—You said $1800?

A.—You asked me $1000, or over.

Mr. Aylesworth:

Q.—Do you know what your father gave for that?

A.—About $1200.

Q.—Now, you were asked about the transfers. You know your father had nothing to do with Boyle or McKinley. Who made the bargain with Grey?

A.—I spoke to Grey. I do not know whether Conroy ever spoke to him or not. Grey came in to see me.

Q.—And did you arrange with him for the transfer of his rights?

A.—I did not see Grey at all when he came into the office. I was away. I think my father paid him the money, and Roland prepared the transfer, and when I came home I paid my father back.

Q.—Did you alone have anything to do with Grey?

A.—I do not think that I saw Grey before that.

Q.—Did you at any time have anything personally to do with Copeland?

A.—No.

Q.—Whereabouts does he live?

A.—Hall's bridge, or Buckhorn — twenty miles away.

Q.—Does it lie between here and Cavendish?

A.—Yes, to the north end of the township of Smith, or the front of the township of Harvey.

Q.—And Copeland lives about half way between here and Cavendish? Then, how was it that your father went to see him? Did you know before your father went that he was going?

A.—Yes; I had intended to get an assignment from him some time earlier myself. I had been up and down the road, but neglected, and my father was going up on one of his trips, and I said that he had better take that assignment, and see if he could see Mr. Copeland, and get it for me.

Q.—And he did so, and brought it back?

A.—Yes; that is all.

Re-examined by Mr. Watson.

Q.—Why did you give me to understand that the judgment against you referred to was outstanding? You did give that understanding?

A.—I said it was outstanding; I had never paid the judgment.

Q.—Has your father ever asked you for the money?

A.—No.

Q.—Did you know when you were giving me the answers before that your father had purchased it?

A.—I understood that he had.

Q.—Why did you not say so?

A.—Because you did not ask me.

Q.—That was for $2500?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—You knew that I had the understanding that it was about $1000?

A.—That was your question, $1000, or over; I did not go into any explanation of it.

His Lordship: You completely misled the counsel and me with regard to this matter. That was not the way you gave us to understand the matter at all.

A.—I did not understand it in that way, your Honour.

Q.—You certainly gave us to understand that you were intending to pay this as you thought best.

A.—I intended paying my father back; in that way I was going to pay it off.

Mr. Aylesworth: What he was keeping back was to his own advantage.

His Lordship: That may be, but he certainly misled me.

Mr. Watson.—

Q.—Is it within the last few months that your father has done that?

A.—It is some time; a year ago or more.

Q.—Will you swear it was this year?

A.—I could not say.

A.—Will you swear that it is not within the last two or three months?

A.—I would not swear anything about it. I know that he had paid it for me, that he had taken it up for me.

To His Lordship.—

Q.—Did he tell you that he had taken it up?

A.—He told me that he had arranged for it.

Q.—When did he tell you that?

A.—About five or six months ago.

Q.—Was it more than two months?

A.—Yes. It was more than two months.

Q.—Was it more than five?

A—To the best of my recollection it was about a year.

Mr. Watson.—

A.—You said a while ago five or six months. How much did he pay?

A.—About $1,200.

Q.—Why was not the whole amount to be paid?

A.—I do not know. He made all those arrangements.

Q.—You thought it was a compromise because you were unable to pay it?

A.—He took the matter up without consulting me at all.

Q.—Against your will. Would you have allowed him to do it if you had known of it? Would you have consented?

A.—I do not know that I would. This closed the case for the plaintiff.

Mr. Watson called as his first witness Mr. T. W. Gibson, Director of the Bureau of Mines. He was one of the Commissioners before whom the investigation was held in the Crown Lands Department on the 17th of December, 1903. Asked as to what took place at the investigation with regard to the cutting of timber, his best recollection was that just as the parties were about to leave, McWilliams asked as to whether or not the logs might be hauled. Mr. Roger, he thought, expressed his dissent. At any rate, he did not give his approval. Mr. Gibson said he had given no permission as to cutting as that was one of the points of the investigation. He also knew that the Department had previously forbidden cutting. He did not think Mr. McWilliams could fairly have carried away the idea, as he said he did, that any permission was given by the Commissioners to cut.

Mr. White did not understand the matter in the way Mr. McWilliams had, as the Department had previously forbidden cutting. He also wrote Mr. McWilliams afterwards informing him that complaint had been made that they were continuing cutting in spite of the Department's order.

Mr. G. M. Roger said that the matter of cutting timber was never mentioned, and that he had neither assented nor objected to the removal to the ice of what was cut. There certainly had been no arrangement in the matter between the parties, as Mr. McWilliams stated.

Jesse Grey was questioned with regard to what took place in connection with the transfer of his certificate. He met Mr. J. B. McWilliams on the street, who asked him if he would sell his scrip, and he said he would. Mr. McWilliams said he would give him $25 for it. He had written Conroy to see what he would give, and he said $25. Witness went home and got his papers and took them to Mr. McWilliams' office and signed the transfer, and got Mr. McWilliams' check for $23, as he charged $2 for drawing the transfer.

Mr. Copeland gave evidence as to the assignment of lot 20 in the 4th, which he made to Mr. J. B. McWilliams. McWilliams had gone to his house at Buckhorn and asked him for it. He signed the assignment willingly, and although he did not want to accept it he was given $5 for it. He had never had any interview previously in Peterborough with regard to the matter. Wm. McKinley received $25 for his scrip in Mr. J. B. McWilliams' office, but not from him. He thought it was one of his sons.

Mr. Jno. Crane, manager of the Ontario Bank, said that Mr. R. F. McWilliams had deposited in his bank the check from the Dickson Company for $5,457.93 on April 13. He wished to divide it into two amounts of $5,000 and $457.93. A check for the $5,000 afterwards came through the Bank of Commerce.

Mr. Harry Rush, of the Ontario Bank, remembered that the check was deposited before dinner on the 13th.

Mr. Hughes Charles, manager of the Bank of Commerce, was called with regard to the loans by the bank to Mr. R. F. McWilliams on his father's endorsation. He also saw the father with regard to the matter, who explained his son's rancher proposition, and it was arranged to let them have $2,000 and subsequent amounts totalling $5,000 or $5,700 in all. In April, 1904, the amount had all been taken up but $1,200, which was in Theodore's name, and which had been reduced to $300.

Mr. Watson closed his case by reading extracts from the examination for discovery.

In rebuttal Mr. Aylesworth called Mr. J. B. McWilliams. He said that Mr. Grey had come to him at the office and asked him if Conroy would buy his scrip, and the witness told Grey that they would pay $25. He had spoken to both his son and Conroy in the meantime. Grey wanted the money and as witness could not see either his son or Conroy the gave Grey his cheque less $2 for drawing the transfer. He could not recall whether he had ever been paid the $23 back. He also said that Copeland had come to his house two years ago and had said that he did not want to go back to his property in Cavendish and was willing to give an assignment of it. The assignment was drawn then but was not signed until the following February when he went to see Copeland, and gave him $5.00 for it.

Q.—How did you come to go to Buckhorn?

A.—To inspect the camps north of Buckhorn.

Q.—How did you come to take the assignment along?

A.—It had been in my satchel. It was my own suggestion. I took it along and expected to get it signed.

Q.—Now had you any interest in those lots?

A.—No I never had any interest in these lots. I have my own veteran's certificate—

His Lordship—Never mind all these other matters, just answer the questions.

Q.—How did you come to endorse?

A.—I wished to see Theodore in some business in the open air on account of his health. I have spent a great deal of money on the other two boys. I was prepared if I had the money to hand it to him to go into business. I had not the money so I endorsed for him.

Q.—How old is this ranching idea?

A.—Almost immediately after the Dickson Company got the limits. It was discussed with Mr. Hazlet first.

To Mr. Watson witness said that Mr. Grey had been mistaken in some of his evidence.

Q.—Do you deny what Mr. Grey says is so?

A.—I deny it the way he puts it.

Q.—Did you meet him on the street?

A.—I do not remember ever meeting him on the street.

Q.—Will you deny it?

A.—I have no recollection of meeting him on the street until after the trouble with the Dickson Company and he said the Dickson Company wanted him to give evidence—

His Lordship—Mr. McWilliams, if you will be good enough to confine yourself to the questions asked you instead of enlarging upon every answer that you make, it would be much better.

Q.—Will you deny that you met him, or that he met you on the street and that you asked him if he would sell you the scrip?

A.—Yes, I deny asking him anything.

Q.—Did you meet him on the street as he says?

A.—No.

Q.—Will you deny that?

A.—I will not deny that because I have no recollection of meeting him on the street.

Q.—Did that occur on the street?

A.—No, that did not occur on the street.

Q.—How do you know?

A.—I know what took place in the office. And what took place there I could not have seen him on the street.

Q.—So you are just drawing conclusions?

His Lordship—There is really very little difference between the two stories.

Q.—Then in the office you said that you told him that you would see if your son was buying the scrip?

A.—I knew that they were buying some, but I did not know if they had all they wanted.

Q.—Did you say you would see if your sons were buying scrip?

A.—I did.

Q.—You knew that they were?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Then about that judgment against Theodore, did you pay that off?

A.—There was only $90 paid on that. I was anxious to see it all paid off and see him free from it.

Q.—He says that you paid $1,200 on it?

A.—It was in the matter of an estate that was being settled up. I was to let them have the $1,200 so that matters might be straightened up. They may be settled up any day now.

Q.—Then did you write a letter to the Department of which this is a copy?

A.—I wrote the Department.

Q.—How much had they bought?

A.—I do not know whether I knew or not.

Q.—Do you say that you would not have bought the scrip without seeing your son?

A.—No I would not, because I did not know how much they wanted.

Q.—You paid him $23 by cheque; you agreed to pay him $25?

A.—I was told by my son to keep back the two dollars for drawing the document.

Q.—Then you saw Mr. Copeland at his house?

A.—Yes.

Q.—You paid him $5?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Where did you get that money—your own money?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Were you ever repaid that?

A.—No.

Q.—Were you repaid the $23?

A.—I cannot tell whether I was or no;t I am not very exact about such matters.

Q.—He says that the matter never was spoken of before that time?

A.—He was in Peterborough in August and September; it was spoken of then.

Q.—You heard his evidence, and you challenge his accuracy?

A.—The old man would not say anything wrong, if he knew it, but he saw me about it then.

Q.—You knew at the time you went up there that a ruling had been given?

A.—No; I did not know until that night when I came home.

Q.—When did you leave?

A.—I left on the morning of the 3rd of February.

Q.—The ruling had been made on the 1st?

A.—I did not know it at all.

Q.—Your son, Theodore, has always lived with you?

A.—Yes.

Q.—What were you getting for all this endorsement?

A.—Nothing at all.

Q.—To what extent did you endorse?

A.—Whatever was in the bank.

Q.—How much was it?

A.—$5,000 or $6,000.

Q.—Did you keep any record, any books or papers?

A.—No.

Q.—Did not keep any books regarding it?

A.—None at all.

Q.—Is that a copy of the letter?

A.—So far as I can see from looking over it, what I said is contained in that. I could not swear to it sufficiently to say that that is an exact copy.

Q.—You did write such a letter to the Department of which this is a copy?

A.—I could not say that that is an exact copy.

Mr. Aylesworth: I suppose an angry man might say things that he would not say at other times.

Mr. Watson:

Q.—You said what was in that letter?

A.—No I could not swear it was an exact copy.

Q.—That is all I want of you. This closed the evidence.

Mr. Aylesworth's Argument.

On Saturday morning Mr. Aylesworth addressed His Lordship, as follows:—

"There are eleven lots under consideration here and it is possible that they may not divide themselves absolutely into classes. There are the cancelled and uncancelled. All do not stand in the same position. The earliest history we have of any of them is in regard to 19 and 20, of the 3rd; 20, in the 4th, was in the same category, but 20 in the 4th, has been cancelled, so I say nothing of it. These lots were granted to Copeland in 1894.

"Assuming that there was a license by the Dickson Company of the lots in 1894, it expired on the 30th day of April, 1895. On the 26th of March, 1895, there was an order-in-council passed that all timber licenses should expire on the 30th of April next after that date, but as to lots sold or located through currency of any license, same shall immediately after sale or location be withdrawn from the operation of such license, and that has been in force as an order-in-Council ever since it was passed in March, 1895. Accordingly on the expiration of the Dickson Company license, these two lots, 19 and 20, ceased to be within the operation of the Dickson Company's license, assuming that one was granted, in 1895, for the subsequent year. From that time forward, they have never been to this day included in the Dickson Company license.

"It is sufficient for us to point out that they cannot have been lawfully included since 30th April, 1895, but I would refer your Lordship to what is said by Mr. Gibson and Dr. Kennedy in their report to the Commissioner in this matter, in which they said the Dickson Company of Peterborough held a timber license covering all the lots excepting 19 and 20 in the 3rd concession, which appeared to have been struck from the license. That is, of course, a matter entirely of record in the Crown Lands Department; and we are in a position to know the report from the head of the Department, it being a matter of departmental record. I say then as to 19

CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD

A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL

Miss Emma Cole Says that Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Saved Her Life and Made Her Well

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were ripening into womanhood! How many irregularities or displacements have been developed at this important period, resulting in years of suffering!

Miss Emma Cole

Girls' modesty and oversensitiveness often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, because they withhold their confidence at this critical period.

A mother should come to her child's aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start the menstrual period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Miss Emma Cole of Tullahoma, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"When fourteen years of age I suffered almost constant pain, and for two or three years I had soreness and pain in my side, headaches and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think it saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are passing from girlhood to womanhood, for I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

Conclusion Reached In McWilliams-Dickson Case

and 20, we started with the view that the Dickson Company never had the remotest claim from 195 forward, and in 1897 these lots were sold for taxes which had matured due to the 1st of January, 1896, and were conveyed in 1898. Copeland tells us he had no further concern with them, and his interest was conveyed in 1898 by tax deed to Theodore McWilliams. That deed was probably sent to the Department. His title then to lots 19 and 20 in the 3rd is recognized completely by the Department, recognized by the ruling that the Department made when this matter was investigated. Then as to the condition of the license. We have as exhibit 21 the license of the Dickson Company issued on the 5th of May, 1903, the one that covers the time in question here, and that license includes in the 3rd concession of Cavendish lots 1 to 18 and 21 to 30, so that it does not include 19 or 20, and the conclusion is that any claim of the Dickson Company to the timber cut off 19 and 20 is without colour of authority. They took it forcibly against our will. They had the stronger hand and power to do it. Now they must submit to recovery for whatever has been cut off these two lots. Then before going further in that regard, I speak of 18 and 19 in the 4th, which are also among the uncancelled locations, but which have a different history. Those are the Grey military locations. I understand these are the lots which are spoken of as the old Scott locations, but we have no written history of that location. All that is written of that so far as this location is concerned appears to be the application for them by a man named Jesse Grey, made in May, 1903. Now, as to that, we have the same position to that which had previously taken place with regard to Boyle and McKinley, but with the difference that there had been no work done during the season of 1905 upon these lots. The Department recognized the fact as shown by the letter of the 11th of May, 1903, from solicitor McWilliams to Mr. White, "I hereby make application for lots 18 and 19 in the 4th concession of Cavendish for Maxwell Theodore McWilliams, enclose affidavits that the lands are clear and have no prior claims; also $16.50 to pay for thirty-three acres overplus, that the tax deed had been lying for four years on file in the Department, and that M. T. McWilliams purchased the lots by tax sale. The letter then aims to have the location made out to M. T. McWilliams. This is answered by the letter of 6th of June, which simply says, "In answer to your favour ..... I beg to say that application for Jesse Grey for lots 18 and 19 in the 4th concession has been allowed. Now, the fact of the allowance was, I say, to take these lots from that day, 6th of June, 1903, out of the license of the Dickson Company, which had been issued a month before. Their license in 1903 gives them in the 3rd concession license over lots 1 to 30, and refers in the 4th concession to lot 20 only as located. So that I submit that by the location of the 6th of June they would have no license to cut on these lots so far as the license goes. Then from the 5th of June, 1903, there was location to the extent of 160 acres under the right given by the military statute. That lot is, I say, by act of the official in the Department in making his entry in the Lands book, located and sold, or located or sold as from the 6th of June, 1903, as to the 160 acres of this location. As to the thirty-three acres, they were sold and purchased, $16.50 being paid and received for them.

Then I call attention to the sections of the Dickson Company. Their license is subject to conditions, namely, the order for withdrawal therefrom of all lots sold or located. So that taking their license on these conditions, and subjecting it to the terms of the order, these two lots were beyond the operation of the license, and they never were restored in anyway. I say then, as to all timber that came from these two lots must plainly have been taken from the lots, and the company must pay the value of it. Now, the amount that came from these two lots it is impossible to ascertain with absolute accuracy. To get the results would be more expensive than the amount involved. The parties recognized this in their efforts to arrive at a commission on the subject. We claim that from these four lots as against the other seven there come at least thirty-five per cent., based on the proportion of one quarter of the whole. I believe they offered as high as twenty per cent., but payment was refused. Payment was finally made by them to the extent of twenty-five per cent., but we claim at least thirty-five per cent. Then your Lordship will recollect that immediately upon their seizing it we applied for an injunction to prevent their removing it, and on the 26th of May, 1904, came the order of Chief Justice Falconbridge stating that the amount to be paid to the defendants should be estimated on the proportion of timber taken from the lots. So we have it that we are entitled to show, if we can, that twenty per cent. came from these four lots, and we charge that we shall show that 35 per cent. of the timber came from these lots although we offered as low as 30 per cent. for the sake of compromise. There is no question that over a million feet was cut, and we think we can show 35 per cent. of that million feet attributable to these four lots. They said we could not show more than 20. We in the effort to effect a compromise placed it at 30. The difficulty was to find out how much of this million feet came from the four lots, when the price had been agreed upon. When the cheque was paid, we considered it did not pay us in full, and then applied for an injunction to prevent them from removing the logs. Then I say we are entitled as a right to ascertain what that percentage was. We claim it to be substantially larger than 20, which they for the purpose of settlement offered. I say then as to the certain percentage we are entitled to reference upon the terms of the contract whereby we may increase the percentage above 20.

The next step in advance I seek to take is in regard to lot 20 in the 4th, which stands in a sort of midway position. It was located to Copeland in 1894 along with the other two lots. There is no tax title to it, but being located to Copeland in 1894 it at once passed out of the operation of any Dickson license, and has never in any way been included in the Dickson license. When we like the Dickson license at the time this work was done, the license of 1903, we have that lot expressly excluded. It takes in lots 1 to 30 in the 4th, subject to the location or exception of any located lots, which includes 20 in the 4th under date of location, Aug. 10th, 1894. Their license of May, 1903, current at the time gives them prima facie right to lots 1 to 30 in the 4th concession with the exception of lot 20, so that at the time of these operations they had no license for lot 20, and they never had any title to the timber upon it until the ruling of the 9th February, 1904, whatever its legal effect may be. Now, I say as to this lot 20 the Dickson Company never had one scrap of paper title. They never had the slightest right to touch the hardwood, or hemlock that came from lot 20 in the 4th until the ruling of the 9th of February was made, and the question rests absolutely and exactly on that ruling.

Judge—"Had you any title?"

Yes. Copeland became located on the 10th of August, 1904, and that gave him right to the hardwood. He assigned to the plaintiff by instrument which was executed early in February, the 6rd of February, Mr. J. B. McWilliams says he thinks it was. It was an equitable assignment. Its language is, "I, David Copeland, of the township of Cavendish.....having been located for lot No. 20 in the 4th concession, hereby grant, transfer and assign all my right, title and interest in the said lot to Roland F. McWilliams." Roland was at that, holder of the title. I say then that this was assigned, and he had no further claim when he assigned to Roland. We claim that we had title to cut off lot 20 on the 4th. I appeal therefore that we say as to the action of the Commissioner or Crown Lands Department in the ruling of Feb. 9th, that it would have no legal effect, which defendants must show if they want to establish any kind of right to the cut on the 4th. This was the position we were in with regard to that lot at that date. It had undeniably been located by Copeland, nobody disputes that. Then from 1894 it remained Copeland's. Possibly there was some date in that interval in which the lost his right by failure to do necessary settlement duties. When a settler or locatee comes upon land he must do certain settlement duties. Supposing he does not do it, that does not give any stranger or any tramp or any Dickson Company the right to trespass upon his lot. It gives the Department the right to cancel his location either on motion or by legal process. He may dispute the fact, he may assert his right, and decline to accept the cancellation. If he asserts his right there may be means found to try, and until there is forfeiture established he is certainly entitled to the lot. The legal right is always in the locatee until it is foreclosed by some official act on the part of the Crown. Well now at the time of the cutting there, during the fall and winter of 1903 and up to the 9th of February, the legal title of the lot and timber upon it was in Copeland. The plaintiff had equitable title to the land, and therefore equitable title to cut timber by virtue of Copeland's assignment. As to this lot then, inasmuch as paper title was in Roland, it was in a different position from any of the other lots. He was personally located for it through the assignment of Copeland. With regard to the defendants' title they surely must rely upon the ruling of the Department for it, and in that regard possibly the lot is in a different position from any of the others, and is to entirely excluded from their license by virtue of the location of 1904. Then I attack the validity of that ruling altogether. If we are not entitled to the price of the timber in the same way as we are to the timber on the four lots, the defendants must pay us the cost of cutting, because their only title is under the ruling, and they cannot take it except upon the terms the Department gives it.

Judge.—"The property at this time was cut in the plaintiff, but in the Crown."

But the Crown has given it to the defendant on terms which it cost to consummate it. That is why I refer to the ruling. This lot stands possibly in a different position from any of the others for that reason. I contend that it is not in the same category as the other lots, and therefore falls under the percentage. If it does not, then how do the defendants, who never had license over this timber, bring it under the ruling of the 9th of February? Copeland's location covered lots 12 and 20 in the 3rd and 20 in the 4th, but the location's interest in 19 and 20 in the 3rd only was conveyed by tax deed to B. F. McWilliams. Lot 20 is in the same position as Boyle's and McKinley's and should be treated in the same way. Then comes the ruling of the Department cancelling Copeland's location, and restoring it to the Dickson Company's license in the same way and under the terms as the Boyle and McKinley lots. So that the only right of the Dickson Company to take this timber from us is in this ruling. It comes to them from the Crown, and upon the condition only that they comply with the terms of the ruling, and they must pay us the cost of manufacture. They rely upon this ruling. We say they must comply with the terms and conditions of the ruling.

Judge.—It appears to me that the matter of lot 20 in the 4th stands this way. Copeland had located it in 1894. The plaintiff's only title accrued on the 3rd of February, 1904, and that title was only to the land and not to the timber, for the timber had been cut prior. The timber remained therefore either in Copeland or in the Crown, and never passed to the plaintiff at all. It was never cut by Copeland, it was cut by a trespasser at the time, so that. I should think it would pass to the Crown, and if it was in the Crown, then it passed to the defendants by the ruling of the 9th of February, and they would be required to pay the cost of cutting.

Mr. Aylesworth.—Well, then, I say they must comply with the terms, must pay with respect to the timber on that lot, and they, of course, recognized their obligations to do so to the extent that they have already paid us for the timber cut on that lot, or for what they choose to say came through that lot, at the rate of $4.30. We say that is not enough. In their check for $5,000 they pay us at the rate of $4.30 per 1,000 for such timber as they claim came off this particular lot.

Now, as to the other six lots, 21, 22 and 23 in the 3rd, and 21, 22 and 23 in the 4th. Four of them are McKinley location, the three lots in the 4th and 23 in the 3rd. 21 and 22 in the 3rd are Boyle. I am merely outlining, because until I hear my learned friend I will not discuss the position which I understand the defendants take. I say, however, that we hold paper title by assignment and location. Then as your Lordship has indicated, you will not refuse the work of the Crown Lands Department, I contend that we, having cut under paper title, the timber was ours and remained ours until this ruling of the following 1st of February.

With regard to these four lots, they are located in April, 1903, before any cutting taken place, the letter stating that location has been made of the Boyle and McKinley property.

His Lordship.—"Let me see how this question arises before we go into it. Why does the Crown hold that this timber and this location was to be cancelled?"

Mr. Aylesworth.—Solely on the ground of non-performance of the necessary settlement duties. They say that under the statutes you will have to do settlement duties within one month of location. Under the practice of the Department they never forfeit unless there has been at least six months. Now, taking the six months' period counting from the 2nd of April we have the 2nd of October, and up to the 2nd of October there had been done nothing else than cutting. No duties had been performed.

His Lordship.—That part I would not interfere with.

Mr. Aylesworth.—Then what the Department says on the 1st of February, 1904, is, "We have cancelled that location because you have lost it." They gave it to us on the 2nd of April, 1903. They said, "On the 2nd of October you lost it, and we have on the 1st of February so declare."

His Lordship.—So that you say that as you had cut the timber in the meantime, that was yours?

Mr. Aylesworth.—That was our property, and we are to be paid for it. The Dickson Company do not get any title by that ruling. That did not die in the grant of the Crown. They did not cancel: they restored the location to the license. I am arguing that the ruling is inoperative to give defendants the property. I say it was entirely beyond the jurisdiction of the Commissioner as to that.

His Lordship.—I understand the contention.

Mr. Aylesworth.—Properly, then, the timber remains to us. If this was the reference should be to determine the percentage and the proper value of the timber at the prices agreed upon.

Then failing that I put my case as to these six lots on the alternative that they fall within the condition imposed by the Department and must be paid for at the cost of cutting.

Mr. Watson's Address.

Mr. Watson—My learned friend has to a very considerable extent, I think, misplaced the position of the parties during his argument. He has been throughout taking the title of the defendants to the property as if the onus was upon the defendants of making out a title against the plaintiffs, whereas the whole question is, has the plaintiff such title in the property? Has he established such title as would entitle him to recover against the defendants? It is not a question therefore so far as the plaintiff's title is concerned whether they are under timber license to the defendant Company or whether they are not. The plaintiff must show strict legal title to the property before he can recover. I propose to show to your Lordship that the plaintiff never had a legal title to these lots. For a little bit I am not going to follow the order of my learned friend in regard to the purchase lots. It is not quite convenient. I take it first on the broader basis and then come to it a little later and as shortly as possible. All of the lots excepting 19 and 20 in the 3rd concession and also excepting 20 in the 4th, — the plaintiff of course never had all: of course never pretended to have 20 in the 4th.

His Lordship.—What, I feel inclined to do is to hold that the timber is in the crown and that it was transferred to the defendants by the ruling of 1904. Do you contest that?

Mr. Watson.—I contest that.

All the lots excepting 19 and 20 in the 3rd, and 20 in the 4th, are said to have passed to the plaintiff directly or indirectly, under the provisions of the so-called Military Act. The right and title therefore in respect of all the lots other than the three upon the alleged grant or location under this Land Grant Act to Volunteers, which is Chapter 6; 1 Edward VII. The plaintiff's title to all these other lots depends upon that, right of the lots.—

Mr. Aylesworth—Of course we are claiming as to the Grey lots under tax title.

Mr. Watson—I did not think that was quite serious. It was very weak. However, we will see how it stands.

This act was a special act passed for the particular purpose of enabling the Crown to aid a particular class of persons; an act that was passed for the purpose of applying only to particular persons who are expressly referred to in the Statute itself. No doubt the act was passed for the purpose and as a recognition of public service by certain persons, and in that way was passed upon public, and it might be said, even national, grounds. The application of it is limited to particular persons. The power of the Lieutenant-Governor to make these grants is limited by the act and the power of the Commissioner under the Lieutenant-Governor is limited by the provisions of this act. It is manifest, I think, by referring to just two or three sections of it how the limit is expressly made. The first section of the act provides that the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may from time to time designate by proclamation within two years after the passing of this act such lands as he may deem proper for these particular purposes hereinafter mentioned.

Section 2.—"The lands so set apart shall be reserved for location by any of the following classes of persons: For those serving in the South African war, the next of kin, etc., etc.

Judge—It is not disputed in it, that these people come within the terms of the act?

Mr. Watson.—No, my Lord; and it is not disputed that these people, Mr. McWilliams and Mr. Conroy do not come within the terms of the act.

So that they are not persons, a class of persons for whom the property is reserved.

Judge.—That is plain, let us get to what is disputed.

Yes my Lord. Then the next section is that persons claiming the location of lands under this act shall furnish evidence satisfactory to the commissioner of Crown Lands that he is a member of one of the classes of persons designated in section 2.

Judge—These people did furnish the evidence by the original persons who were so entitled.

Mr. Watson.—The certificate or scrip had been issued to these persons, Grey and Boyle—and McKinley that they were of the class. They did not claim the location, have never claimed the location. The person that has claimed the location was the plaintiff in the action. Their evidence shows that they did not claim the location and the written documents show that they did not claim the location. The section is that any person claiming the location under this act shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he is one of the classes of persons named in section 2. That was never been complied with. There never was such a title also all claims for location of lands shall be filed within a certain time, and the time was afterward extended. But the position is that, so to speak, the persons who might receive these free grants (because the lands were to be free) have never claimed the location of any of the lots in question. It is just the same therefore as if a stranger to the classes named had come forward, and claimed these locations. There is no evidence at all before the court that these men McKinley, Boyle and Grey, were located and they never claimed such and have never selected the lots. Their evidence puts it clearly that they never contemplated a location at all. Of course we have the material before the Court, that these men transferred their scrip, as has been shown, to two people, the plaintiff and Conroy. It could not be contended that, except through these men, anyone, any corporation, or lumbering company, for instance, could come forward and make an application, and obtain a grant, under this Act. A person not within the classes has not only no right, but the Government, or Department, has no power to grant, except to a member of these classes; so that, assuming the grant made in accordance with the application, in accordance with the claim that grant is absolutely void, because, under the words of the Act, there was no power to make the grant. It purports to be a free grant. Free grants may be made by the Government, or under certain statutes which have been passed under the Free Grants Act, and certain grants under the Public Lands Act, but no grant can be made as a free grant. Except by virtue of some statute, there is no power to make such a grant, and the statute here is the one referred to, and it is limited to these classes, to a person who must be an applicant.

"I state that there never was a grant of any of these lots, 18 or 19, in the 4th, 21 to 23 in the 4th, and in the 3rd concessions. These lots have never been granted; they have never passed out of the Crown at all, by any valid title, and the plaintiff has no right or interest in them any more than any stranger. Another section of the Act emphasizes that, and shows that the location was intended to be personal. Section 10 says that lots located or patented under this Act shall not be subjected to any writ or attachment heretofore issued against any person entitled to be located. Now, my position is, that having regard to these sections of the Act, that there never has been any title or any right that has passed to Mr. McWilliams or to Mr. Conroy.

Judge—Have you called this objection to the attention of the Government?

"Then the Government has not interfered, and the location has not been cancelled. Who should cancel it? You see, if the Crown, if a Minister, recommends that 160 acres should be granted to me as a veteran, and I am not a veteran, and I get a patent, surely I can hold that land until it is taken away from me. The Crown has authority to cancel the patent or a location under a mistake, but until that is done, no person but the Crown can take it away from me.

Mr. Watson: This is a matter, not between us and the Crown, but a matter between the plaintiff as to title, and if the title is worse paper there is no difference whether it goes to Mr. Brown or Mr. Smith. They have to show a good valid title, and they have to show the right of the grantor to grant.

His Lordship: I have always understood that it was perfectly well established that a Crown patent or a Crown location, stood in the one position, that so long as they remained they were good title. Have you any authority for your proposition that a Crown location or a Crown grant is ever void ipso facto?

Mr. Watson: "I do not know of a case where the Crown has assumed to make a grant which it was wholly unempowered to make. That is a case which very rarely occurs. There is a case as to misrepresentation as to facts, but not where there has been an absence of power.

His Lordship: Surely the Courts should not hold that the Crown has no right to convey land, when the Crown itself does not interfere?

Mr. Watson: The Court may say as to whether or not this Act has been complied with.

His Lordship: The Attorney-General, we assume, advises the Crown that this is perfectly correct, then who is to set the cancellation in motion?

Mr. Watson: The Attorney-General has no right to define the law, any more than my learned friend has or than I have. My position is that under those circumstances the Crown has exceeded its powers.

His Lordship: Your contention is that unless the Crown grant or Crown location is strictly in accordance with the Act it is absolutely void.

Mr. Watson: It is practically in the position of waste paper under the title. I say, my lord, in this connection that we have the undoubted right to question and to contest and to have the Court determine the validity of the plaintiff's title. I point out that it is not a question of a mistake of fact. It is mistake in the application of the Statutes. So that goes to the root and foundation here of the whole plaintiff's claim. Then again under that Act there has been no excess of authority. Under section 4 of the Act, location is limited to 160 acres to any one person. So that, assuming that the Crown has the power to grant, that power is limited to the 160 acres. Now again, under section 5 of the Act, there is no location here established at all. This provides that "the Commissioner of Crown Lands shall issue a certificate to the person so located, which certificate shall describe the lands located and shall declare that the same are located under and subject to the provisions of this Act." There has nothing of this kind been done. There is a letter which says that the application has been allowed and that is all. No assignment can be made in any event before location. Section 6 of the Act provides exemption from settlement dues, and certain taxes provided they are held by the original locatee. Upon a transfer being made the land passes under the Free Grants Act and the Public Lands Act, and these one only be read in the view that before location no assignment can be made. So that neither Mr. McWilliams nor Mr. Conroy were in a position at that time to obtain any right or title to this script or to be put in the position of applicants for location. Of course the sections of the Act have not up to this time been subject to controversy in the courts at all, but I submit that the interpretation of this is reasonably clear and plain. These parties, the three parties at the time of the transfer had no location, they had no lands to transfer. They did not even hold any certificate under section 6, so that I submit that those transfers were wholly invalid. Then the transfer to the plaintiff was invalid as well under the Free Grants Act, which is to be read in connection with the Public Lands Act. Then again under section 8 of the Military Act it is provided that not more than one location in the square mile shall be located.

His Lordship: But it does not say that no square mile shall contain more than one location.

Mr. Watson: But it is the intention that there is to be one location within the square mile and that there is to be no other one near it.

His Lordship: That is just one way of interpreting the Statute.

Mr. Watson: That is evidently the meaning. But even under the other construction, forced as it is, there was more than 160 acres in that particular square mile. Of course Your Worship will see that this is a deliberate attempt to get what the Statute does not allow. This is a speculative purpose or project not intended for the purpose of the Act at all? The applicant, Mr. McWilliams, had no idea of placing himself in the position of one of these veterans.

His Lordship: It is only a question whether it is a violation of the Act or not.

Mr. Watson: Then the grant of the surplus was not a valid grant. The lands were not apart under this special Act and there is no power to separate.

His Lordship: Oh yes, they admit that. They say they paid for it.

Mr. Aylesworth: It is not a free grant at all.

Mr. Watson: It is under the Free Grants Act. They only paid the amount under the Act. Section 7 says that a locatee must make an affidavit that he has not been located for any land under this Act. There was no attempt to comply with that at all. Also there can be no purchase for more than 200 acres. Here the plaintiffs are seeking to be placed in the position of purchasers of more than 200 acres. Then their only title to 19 and 20 in the 3rd is a tax title. Now the sale for taxes was inoperative and void. At the time of the sale for taxes no right or interest existed in the previous locatee. The evidence is distinct from Mr. Copeland himself. More than that the plaintiff has made no attempt to comply with the provisions of the Act as to lots 18 and 20 in the 3rd since the tax sale, nor 18 in the 4th, and his rights have therefore ceased. It is not necessary that any Acts shall be done by the Crown in order to establish that determination, but if it is shown that default has occurred the Statute says the right shall cease. The amendment of the 18th of May, 1899, to section 16 of the Crown timber regulations precedes the next point that I was going to take, that the locatee has no right to sell or to cut the timber. The question arose also as to what the Crown do seeing that the Crown had no right to take possession? My learned friend said that proceedings might be taken by the Crown to get possession. I am speaking of what is the property of the Crown. Section 25 of the Public Lands Act makes special provision for the re-taking of property by the Commissioner of Crown Lands. The plaintiff proceeded to cut after the notice of the 9th and 11th of December, and in defiance of that and in defiance of the ruling, and the plaintiff under those circumstances could not be held likely to have acquired any right or title. The payment of the 18th of April by the defendant company was a payment in full and was so accepted, and that is an end of the matter.

His Lordship: If a payment is made of the amount in full, of all his claims and he writes back and takes it on account, then he does not take it in full.

Mr. Watson: There is authority for this point, that that must be done before the cheque is used. There is the point of distinction. It is not sufficient that he uses it and then afterwards says "I apply it on account." He must before he uses it give that notice. The letter sending the cheque was the 13th of April. The cheque was received before luncheon on the morning of the 18th. The letter acknowledging was dated the 15th. The evidence of Roland McWilliams shows that it was written, I take it, in the afternoon, and the letter was not received until the morning of the 14th by Messrs. Roger & Bennett.

His Lordship: I shall hold against you there, because they were practically contemporaneous.

Mr. Watson: Then my lord, the whole proceeding falls under the Public Lands Act, referring to Sections 46 and 9 of that Act, I say that Mr. J. B. McWilliams, who is clearly within those sections and clearly within section 46, is, if I may be pardoned for using a sort of slang phrase, the "whole show" here. It is to all intents and purposes his undertaking.

His Lordship: Is it not quite open to construction that Mr. McWilliams was doing all this for the benefit of his son. He places the title in his son. He could give it to his son I suppose. Supposing that he is the purchaser he could give it to his son and he has practically paid or advanced the money for his son. But suppose that he does not own the land. Supposing that he bargains for a piece of property, maybe contrary to the law, and gives it to his son, having purchased the property, and puts it in his son's name, it may be that he is liable to a penalty for having bought the land, but it having passed out of his hands it cannot be forfeited by the son.

Mr. Watson: But here, my lord, no person holding such office shall while holding such office or employment directly or indirectly purchase any right, title or interest in any land.

His Lordship: Assuming for the sake of this argument that Mr. McWilliams did traffic in this way, and if he had taken the title in his own name then there would have been some ground for your contention, but he does not hold it, he gives it to his son.

Mr. Watson: But it is not necessary that he should have it in his own name.

His Lordship: The prohibition is against his trafficing. The forfeiture is on him if he traffics and holds the land in somebody else's name, then would be forfeited. But I should hold that this property was clearly on his credit for his son and not for himself. He may have trafficed in it in acquiring it for that son.

Mr. Watson: I want to refer your Lordship to a little bit of evidence as to that.

His Lordship: I have thought it over a great deal and that is the conclusion I have come to. I have thought it all over a very great deal and I do not see any answer to that.

Mr. Watson: Your Lordship will see that the evidence of J. B McWilliams has been positively and clearly discredited.

His Lordship: Assuming that it was Grey's story and Copeland's story that were correct, they differ very little indeed from Mr. McWilliams, and I have no very clear idea as to what I should find as to that, but I do not think it affects the matter.

Mr. Watson: But take the surrounding circumstances as we have had them referred to in the witness box, not only in this case but in the preceding case where everything emanates from the father. The son has no means whatever.

His Lordship: But the property is vested in the son. But I think the question is whether it is a sham whether it is held by the son for the father.

Mr. Watson: Take the evidence of the father that he has no idea of what the son is worth.

His Lordship: That part of it may be, but I do not think it matters.

Mr. Watson: Then there is this. There are so many of these points, so many parts of the evidence that are manifestly incredible that where is any credence to be placed? The whole foundation is taken away by reason of its incredibility. There are so many of these statements. Take again what is said about the judgment. The statements are altogether incredible. He is the person who advances eleven or twelve thousand dollars. Has no knowledge about it, no books, no accounts, no particulars of the transactions. All these circumstances, every business condition points absolutely to the fact that he was the owner. It was his transaction. And Roland's evidence is to the same effect. Look at it in this way for a moment. Who is he acting for? It was not for himself. Now can it be thought for a moment that he was acting for the plaintiff and not acting for the father? The plaintiff says he knew nothing about what the brother Roland was doing. No knowledge of the transaction at all. Not only had he no knowledge but never inquired and to this day does not know anything about it. Roland was handling the father's money. There is no question about that. Then who was he acting for but the father? He says he was not but it could not be said that he was acting for the brother under those circumstances. I think it is irresistible upon these facts that he was acting for the father. Then again take the position that Mr. Roland McWilliams is in, not having kept any books, or any accounts, nothing but little memoranda, and then with all the experience that he has had has actually destroyed these slips of paper a short time before the commencement of this action and prepared a book of account for the purposes of this action. Now what can be said of that? I say this, my lord, that all that clearly leads to the non-acceptance of the evidence as being so unsatisfactory as not to lead to any conclusion in their favour. Everything points the other way. That charge of $150 is upon its face a very extraordinary thing as well, and I do not think it has been explained. It is perfectly clear that the plaintiff is not a business person. There is no one that knew that better than his father and his brother.

His Lordship: So the father and the brother kept all the business out of his hands.

Mr. Watson: He knew nothing of the money transactions does not know now. He says he had $700 or $800 and then he had to borrow $600 from the Peterborough Hardware Company.

His Lordship: Oh, yes, if I had to depend upon his evidence I would be in a very bad way.

Mr. Watson: His father is in the same position. His son's evidence about that judgment was positively and clearly wrong. The evidence of all of them is, I am not putting it too strongly, repugnant to the common sense and understanding of men in ordinary business transactions. I submit it should be held that section 46 is applicable and that therefore this claim is contrary to the Statute.

His Lordship's Address.

His Lordship: Now as to that in this case I am against you clearly and absolutely in considering the facts in evidence with regard to this ranching property. I am just covering this one matter. I am not against you in this extent that Mr. J. B. McWilliams could not hold these lands. He is forbidden by the Statute to hold them. He has assisted his other sons. This son is evidently not in good health. Mr. McWilliams says his object was to put this young man to work in the open air and to set him up as he had set up the others. The evidence is all consistent with that statement. It is true that the whole thing is on the credit of Mr. J. B. McWilliams. It is true that he and Mr. R. F. McWilliams carried on the whole of the financial matters in connection therewith. There is no great advance in the matter because if they should recover any considerable sum in this action (I do not know whether they will or not) there will be no liability upon them. If they do not recover the liability will be only $300 or $900, so that it is not a very great advance for Mr. McWilliams to make to set his son up in life. I think the whole of the evidence is consistent with that and I do not see how I should assume that J. B. McWilliams was taking this property for himself, but holding it in his son's name. So that I think his intention is throughout to benefit the son and that it was the son that the property was intended for, that that you cannot succeed upon that contention. It may be that Mr. J. B. McWilliams in making a bargain with Grey and with Copeland may have committed a breach of his duty under the Public Lands Act. Whether he did or whether he did not, I do not think that matters, because he is not the owner of the land now but his son is, so that matter is disposed of.

Mr. Watson: With regard to that ruling, it was ultra vires. In no event is there a passing of property by that ruling. The lands were restored to the Dickson Company's timber license to occupy the same position as before. I am setting up that the plaintiff has no title. We are not stopped by the payment made by the Company from denying the title of the plaintiffs. That is as far as I want to go. The matter of title is still open.

His Lordship: Yes, the matter of title is still open.

Mr. Watson: I submit that upon the case as it stands the action fails.

Mr. Aylesworth addressed the judge shortly in answer to some of the arguments of the defence. The Court then adjourned.

Severe Cold in the Chest

"My fourteen year old boy had a very severe cold in the chest last winter and I really thought that he was going to die. He coughed nearly all the time, and sometimes would spit up blood. I can positively say that he was completely cured by two bottles of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and he has not been troubled since." — Mrs. J. Provost, Renfrew, Ont.

Peterboro' Boy Wins Success In Railroading

Mr. Jas. Doris, Formerly of This City, Climbs Upward.

At 28 He Was Made Passenger Conductor on the N. Y. Central—Mr. John McCann's Visit.

Mr. John McCann, Inspector of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, returned on Saturday after taking a trip through a portion of New York State. While he was away Mr. McCann visited Rochester, Watertown, Syracuse, and a number of other cities. Naturally, he was interested in the street railway system in those cities and made it his business to ascertain in what respect, if any, the systems in the places visited, were improvements over that in this city. In no city, he reports, did he find cars which were more modern or more comfortable than those used on the system here, while in other respects, considering the relative size of the cities, the local company's equipment was found to be fully up to that in any of the cities visited in Watertown, which is a considerable larger city than Peterborough, there is only a single track system.

One of the most pleasing features of M. McCann's trip was meeting Mr. Jas. Jas. Doris, a son of Mr. Wm. Doris, who lives on Aylmer street. Mr. Doris left here fifteen years ago, and has made a splendid success in Uncle Sam's domain. Starting as a brakesman on the New York Central and Hudson River Railway, thirteen years ago, he was four years later promoted to the position of freight conductor and eight years ago, when he was twenty-five years old, he was given a passenger run, and at the present time is on one of the fast New York Central trains his run being from Cape Vincent to Watertown, and lives in the former city in one of the prettiest homes in the city. At the time that he was made passenger conductor Mr. Doris was one of the youngest conductors on the whole system. His rapid promotion was due not to influence or pull, but solely to the fact that he was industrious and efficient in any position in which he was placed. His many friends in this city will be glad to learn that Mr. Doris has been so successful. He has been home once since he went away, and in the interval has been married. He entertained Mr. McCann royally while he was in Cape Vincent.

Thanksgiving Was Subject

Of Mrs. Kennedy's Address at the Y. W. C. A. Yesterday.

At the Gospel meeting at the Y.W.C.A., on Sunday, Mrs. H. P. Kennedy spoke on Thanksgiving. Her address was inspiring and was listened to with close attention by the large number of young women who gathered at the afternoon meeting. Mrs. Kennedy said that we should praise God with hearts overflowing. We need to cultivate a spirit of gratitude to God and to those around us. We all have many temporal blessings but is there always the spirit of appreciation. Though all are given many things which mark gratitude, the Christian has most. The Christian realized Christ's personal interest and feels the satisfaction which comes from a knowledge of redemption through Christ. Peace and joy and happiness are some of the results of gratitude and praise. Prayers of petition when breathing thanksgiving are more acceptable to God. God would love to give us all that we desire. He does give us all that is good for us, and if we but count our blessings, our hearts will sing praises to God, and we will be made a blessing. Let us beware lest we forget.

Mrs. Miller and Miss Kidd sang a duet.

Next Sunday Miss A. Weir, B. A., will speak to self-supporting young women.

Qualifications Of Model Wife Are Explained

Interesting Sermon Preached by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe.

Some Good Advice Given to Wives and Those Who Will Become Wives.

There were evidently a large number of persons in this city interested in the question of matrimony, an evidence of which fact was furnished last night when, in Charlotte Street Methodist Church, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe preached a sermon on "The Model Wife," the edifice was crowded to the doors in spite of the fact that the weather, just at the time at which the service began was most disagreeable, a heavy rain having been falling for some time prior to the hour of service.

A noticeable feature of the large audience, also was the fact that about half those present were young ladies, all of whom, of course, expect sometime to be model wives.

The standard of wifehood set up by the preacher in his sermon was a high one, and if the wives and prospective wives who heard it, live up to the ideal pictured, there will, it is thought, be little room for a complaint that they are not model wives.

REV. W. J. JOLLIFFE, B. C. L., Who Preached the Sermon on "The Model Wife" Last Night.

This sermon was the first of a series of two special discourses, which Rev. Mr. Jolliffe will give, the second one being on "The Model Husband", and will be delivered next Sunday night.

The speaker remarked in introduction that while it had been comparatively easy to find a text from which to preach the sermon on model wives, he had experienced difficulty in selecting one upon which to base the sermon on model husbands, the inference being, naturally, that there were none, at any rate at the time in which the Scriptures were written.

The wife described in Proverbs, 31 chapter, was the one which Mr. Jolliffe set up as a model, and some of her qualifications were referred to and in some cases, comparisons made, with the conditions as they were found today. The speaker was of the opinion that by many young people, the question of courtship and marrying were not looked at in a serious enough light to-day, and the consequence of a marriage, prior to which proper consideration as to what it meant, had not been given, was that there was unhappiness.

A number of necessary qualifications of model wives were enumerated, the first being that of industry, and an example of this virtue was given in the woman spoken of in the text. In this age, the speaker thought, there were many false ideas in regard to work, many acting as if they considered it vulgar to work, and a crime to stain their hands with toil. Uselessness, he said, was not a virtue, and the useless person does not count for much in this world. He advised girls who expect to be wives soon not to have any such false ideas, and he also advised mothers to train their daughters properly in this respect. The practice of staying out until early morning on the part of young girls, and they having their mothers carry their breakfasts up to them in the morning was strongly condemned. These girls, if the practice was continued, would make them totally unfit to properly fill the duties of wifehood.

The second qualification was that of neatness, as exemplified in the subject of the text, and in this connection some good advice was given on the question of dress, the reverend gentleman advising all to dress according to their station in life, and not to wear clothes belonging to the storekeepers. Speaking a word to the husbands, as an interjection, he said, that no dry goods should be considered to be too good for a good wife.

Executive ability was also a qualification of the model wife. Every woman should know how to manage a horse, and should be taught to make money go the farthest.

A model wife also has sympathy and benevolence in her nature.

Another qualification is the management of her tongue and temper. This gives evidence of the character of the woman. The theatre of a wife's action is in the home, which is the centre of her power, and this he advised his hearers to remember.

He thought that it would be well for all young women to learn domestic service, because it would be better for them to learn it and not have to use it than to have to use it and not know how. Some good advice was given to mothers on the training of children, and the result of proper training would be that the children would rise up to call the mother blessed.

The next sermon, that on "The Model Husband" will be awaited with considerable interest.

"The Church And Modern Society"

First of a Series of Sermons by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt.

Large Attendance at Services Last Night—Much Interest in the Discourse.

Last night in St. Luke's church Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., preached the first of his series of sermons on "The Church and Modern Society," and from all indications this series will prove most helpful and instructive. There was a very large attendance, and great interest was manifested in the subject, which was dealt with from a practical standpoint. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt preached from the text, I Thess., iv, 7; "For God hath not called us unto uncleanliness, but unto holiness."

In opening his address the reverend gentleman said that there was one very wonderful and mysterious fact in every individual life, of which we do not take sufficient consideration—that fact that each individual is called by God to his or her place in the general constitution of the divine purpose for the universe in which they find themselves. We are Christians, not because we choose to be, but because God ordained that we should be. "Ye have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you," is as true of each of us in regard to God as it was of the disciples to whom Jesus addressed the words. God does interest Himself in, and bestows his attention upon, each individual life of each one of His creatures. Each one of our lives has been and still is the object of the individual, personal care of Almighty God. God has called us to our particular work in the world, and expects us to do it to the honour of His name and the well-being of our fellow-men. Whatever our work may be, and however different the sphere in which it is to be done, all of us are called to be holy—individually and corporately; holiness is the vocation of mankind. This, therefore, is the claim of God upon modern society, that it be holy.

What is implied in this vocation to holiness?

To put it in general terms, we may say that it implies that we are called to a higher, purer life, than the unbelieving world around us; that we are called to act, like the handful of leaven in the barrel of meal, as an influence for good upon those about us; that we are called to be an example of patience and purity and self-sacrifice to all with whom we come in contact; that we are called to be witnesses sin the world of the power of faith and of the Holy Ghost; in a word, that we are called to manifest the Christ-life and bear the Christ-character.

How are we responding to it? If you look around on modern society, a society, remember, which professes to be Christian, how do its members seem to compare with such a standard? Some say, the standard of the Christ-life and the Christ-character, is not suited for the ideas of the 20th century. However, while not professing to know anything about the first or twentieth century, Mr. Langfeldt said that he knew that the vocation of Christians was to live according to the ideas of Christ, and that "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, to-day and forever."

Whatever, therefore, was the idea of Christ about holiness, that we Christians are called to live to-day, we cannot shirk the claims of Jesus Christ, by saying that they are not not the ways of modern society; so much the worse for modern society. Such an excuse would never hold good at the judgment seat of Christ.

By the way some people live in these days, they seem to think their vocation to holiness a matter of the utmost indifference, and that the words of the text might be as well reversed: God hath not called us unto holiness, but unto uncleanness. However the fact remains the same. "Heaven and earth may pass away, but My words shall not pass away." As long as the world lasts so long will the claims of Christ upon those whom He hath called to be holy, be reiterated; to each succeeding age will the Church, the mystical Body, re-state, re-enforce, re-declare the claims of Jesus Christ. Those claims are as much made upon modern society, as they are upon the men and women who heard and responded to them nineteen centuries ago. If you want to know what those claims are, take your Bibles, read, mark, learn and inwardly digest, the Sermon on the Mount. There you will find the code of personal, social and commercial morality which Christ demands of those who follow Him,—demands of us to-day. We are called to be holy. It is our vocation to lead the Christ-life, and bear the Christ-character.

The subject for the next sermon in the series will be: "Is Modern Society Christless?" and it will be preached next Sunday evening.

The choir rendered some special music, and Mrs. Morris, after the sermon, delighting the audience with her rendition of "Be Thou Nigh."

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

Don't Wait!—Now's the Time to Buy Underwear!

So many people delay their purchase. There's a witchery about these Fall days that makes one disinclined to think seriously of the cool, crisp autumn weather that is coming so soon.

There's danger in the chilly mornings and evenings, unless one is quite prepared—and the possession of underwear—not TOO heavy, but firmer in texture than the summer kind—if a preventive of colds and illnesses.

Our New Season's Supply is on Hand

We've driven a bit better bargains with the manufacturers than ever before.

So your're sure of finding what may be justly called (even at the beginning of the season) BARGAINS in Underwear.

We make it easy for you to lay in a sufficient stock of just the good, worthy, durable quality you want for a very small expenditure.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—We saw some time ago in the columns of this paper, where a Lindsay young man was given six months for taking a quiet little trip in an engine injuring nobody, while in last evening's paper we saw where Mr. Gow, who had launched a soul into eternity without a moment's warning was let off with the short term of three months on the hill. We would like to [illegible] that could have been the judge's reason for imposing such a light sentence. So taking into consideration all the circumstances surrounding the McAuliffe case, where the crime of manslaughter was committed while under the influence of liquor, and judging from the light sentence meted out to him who was found guilty of the same crime, while in his right senses, it does not seem at all necessary to try the case at all. But doubtless that is the reason the McAuliffe case was not tried this fall, as they could not very well let one man off with a lighter sentence than the other, both having committed the same crime and they did not care to let Mr. McAuliffe off so easily.

Hoping I have not taken up too much space, I am,

Respectfully yours,
JUSTICE.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I wish to call attention to a little matter viz., the habit some people have of opening letters addressed to other parties and then returning them to the post office marked "opened by mistake". It seems to me, a straightforward person would drop them back into the letter box as soon as received and I am at a loss to know whether it is from ignorance, curiosity or what, that this practice is followed. A case in point occurred this week when I received a letter dorn open and marked as above, which had been posted in this city on October 7th and reposted on October 12th. The address was type-written very clearly and the surname is I believe the only one in the city.

Yours truly,
EAST CITY.

Editor Post Card Column:

Mr Editr,—If Friday's issue of your paper gives a correct idea of Dunmer's plans, I am disgusted with public opinion in that locality. I am quite unprejudiced in the Gow case, as I know nothing of the young man in question, but that intelligent people could so far lose sight of British fair play, as to plan a demonstration of welcome to Chas. Gow on the expiration of his three months' term, as if he were a hero returning to his home crowned with his country's honour, is to me monstrous. No matter what Edward Hill's parents are, is there any sympathy for the poor innocent boy who was cut off so cruelly? This will surely afford encouragement to some other young Dummerite to try and win fame for himself in a similar way.

ABRITISHER.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Canada gets the name of being very patriotic. How is it that when the Irish Guards' Band played the "Maple Leaf" that only one gentleman honoured it enough to stand. The citizens should have a book on patriotism.

Yours truly,
PATRIOT.

C. G. E. TEST DEPARTMENT

DINE AND LISTEN TO INTERESTING ADDRESS

Mr. H. D. Burnett Delivers Address to Young Men at Charming Function at Long's on Saturday Evening--Subject, "The Incandescent Lamp," Treated in a Comprehensive and Interesting Manner--About Twenty-five Were in Attendance.

The inauguration by the members of the Test Department of the C. G. E. Co., of what promises, throughout the coming winter months, to be a most enjoyable as well as profitable, series of addresses, took place on Saturday evening in Long's Palm Parlours.

The affair of Saturday evening was the first of the kind held by the young men of the Department this season, and it was a jolly crowd of about twenty-five which assembled at the festive mahogany to discuss the recherche menu of Mine Host Long. After partaking of the tempting array of material good things, in which the caterer it may be said, excelled himself, followed an intellectual treat in the form of an address, by Mr. H. D. Burnett, Superintendent of the Works, upon "The Incandescent Lamp."

The subject was comprehensively treated by the speaker, who is qualified to speak upon such a subject, in both a practical and a theoretical sense. His remarks were listened to with close attention and much information, which was at the same time, entertaining as well as beneficial, was given. Many of the different points elucidated by the speaker were graphically illustrated by means of diagrams.

Mr. Burnett in his opening remarks spoke of the pleasure which it afforded him to be present at the luncheon, which he considered a fitting introduction of the series of addresses in prospect. Speaking with regard to the subject of the evening, he first treated upon the invention and introduction of the incandescent light, and the immediate far-reaching results in the world of electricity. The lamp though small and simple in appearance is, in fact, in some respects quite complicated. The abuse to which it is subjected by many of its users who make no effort to learn of the care which it properly requires was commented upon.

The subject, the speaker remarked, was one of too great magnitude to be treated in the space of time at his disposal. He therefore, passed on to briefly enumerate some of the difficulties in the handling of the lamps arising chiefly from ignorance. The essential features of the lamp were the all-glass receiver,—exhausted of air, the leading-in wire of platinum, and the brass base. The mechanism involved in manufacture was also commented upon. In the introduction of the platinum wires, the glass has a tendency to weld and he had never discovered a simple case in which a leakage of air occurred at that point. The air was exhausted by means of a pump, this being under the present system accomplished in less than one minute, whereas the old process required many hours. The filament was of extreme importance. These are now manufactured of cotton instead of bamboo as they formerly were. Some factories use silk. It is uniform in size. The vacuum of the lamp was also an important feature. The different troubles arising from the following causes were then briefly commented upon. 1st, faulty manufacture; 2nd, faulty packing; 3rd, faulty installation.

Spotted filaments were a common cause of trouble. Cracked bulbs and leaky joints were determined by the dim light. Troubles in installation might be due to faulty wiring, though three-quarters of the troubles were due to faulty voltage. Life percentage and efficiency charts were explained in conclusion.

The thanks of the assembly were then expressed to the speaker by Mr. A. Webster, the chairman, after which brief speeches were made by many present.

Those in attendance were:—Messrs. A. Webster, W. Fairweather, L. Ramsden, W. Baldwin, A. Lang, S. Caniff, W. Hatton, G. Hill, H. Hamilton, W. Van Norman, N. E. Bell, R. Cotton, J. Lowes, R. Coffin, W. Jardine, C. E. Sisson, E. Hook, W. Madill, W. Mackie, and Examiner representative.

The pleasant evening was brought to a fitting conclusion by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. C. C. Malloch, of Ottawa, is registered at the Oriental.

Mrs. Lane and her daughter left this morning for Napanee, where they will visit.

Dr. R. R. B. Fitz-Gerald is in the city for for a few days visiting his sister, Mrs. R. W. F. E. Davidson.

Mrs. McDonald, of Toronto, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Burgoyne, Murray street.

Engineer Kerr of the Trent Canal staff, accompanied by Mrs. Kerr went to Hastings this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wood, 342 Charlotte street, went to Toronto this morning where they will reside until spring.

Dr. D. C. King and Mrs. King left this morning for Belleville, Napanee and Prescott, on business connected with the Provincial Health Department. He will return on Wednesday.

Afd. Stroud, of Ottawa, head of the Stroud Tea Company, with a branch in this city, was here yesterday visiting his son, Mr. W. Stroud, local manager of the firm's business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and Miss Raota, Mr. Adams, Miss McDaniel and Dr. Snelgrove, of Millbrook, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Dr. Gray, Coroner; Dr. Young and Mr. R. E. Wood left at noon to-day for Havelock, to attend the Wiltse inquest in that town.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Matchske, of Brooklyn, N.Y., are with Mrs. Matchske, 114 Dublin street, on their annual visit. Mr. Matchske has gone up to Catchecoma Lake for a week's shooting and fishing.

Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., who has been in the city for the last four days, acting as counsel in the McWilliams-Dickson Company case, left on the midnight train for Ottawa, where he went to be sworn in as Postmaster General.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, member for West Peterborough, accompanied by Mr. R. A. Morrow, and Mr. Knapman made a run through Harvey and Galway this week, to inspect the road work that has been done lately with the Government grants.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

Peterborough Opens The Season With a Win

Splendid Victory of the Locals Last Saturday--Visitors Were Outclassed--Peterborough Wing Line Played in Splendid Form--Victorias Kicked Well--Game Was Comparatively Free From Rough Play--Nobody Was "Manslaughtered"--Good Prospects for the Intermediate Cup.

"Victoria" is a good ambitious name and in latin means victory, but in Rugby language it does'nt always spell victory—as witness, the result of the match on Saturday between the Victoria juniors of Toronto and the Peterborough intermediates. The locals have made a good beginning, and with their full team on should give any of the O. R. F. U. intermediates a hard game. In spite of the ideal weather and the first-class seating accommodation, the crowd was disheartening, probably because many people were dubious as to the calibre of the home team. After their decisive victory over the strong Vics, excellent crowds should witness their future games.

The work of the local wing line, Gilbert, Regan, Craig and Hurtubuise particularly distinguishing themselves. The half-back line, with the exception of Crowley who played the best game on the field, was by no means sure. Bert Crowe and Fitzpatrick missed some easy catches and their running was not up to the mark. Mulhern at full-back never displayed better form than he did on Saturday. His running and punting were features of the game.

The Game

Peterborough kicked first and sent the ball near the Vic half line. After considerable close work Gillespie got the ball, but was quickly downed. The pigskin travelled up and down the field quickly and Murray grabbed it and made the first sensational run of the day. He was tackled and downed about centre field. Victoria kicked into Peterborough territory and followed up quickly. Crough missed an easy one, but Fitz jumped on the ball just in time to save it from the grasp of a Vic wing. The leather was perilously near the home line, but Crowley made a nice run and carried it out of touch, well past the centre field. Shortly after the throw in Gattenby got it, but made little ground before he was tackled. Murray carried it near the Peterborough line and kicked. Peterborough returned to Vics, who kicked. The ball travelled over the dead line and the visitors obtained the first point, score 1—0.

The Vics' score only braced up the locals and they proceeded to "dig in" in grand style. Crowley caught the ball and sprinted down the field. His progress was stopped, however, but the homesters were gaining ground. For the next few minutes it was zigzag back and forth. The Vics kicked, but Crough missed. Victoria seemed to be getting better. Gillespie made a good tackle. Peterbotough got the ball soon after and carried it over the Vics line amid loud cheers. Score 5—1.

Shortly after the kick-off Thorogood was hurt and the game delayed for a few minutes. Both teams slowed down a little and the play for a while was rather monotonous. It was not long before "Jean" embraced the pigskin and he was pushed over the line. Neither one of the above tries were converted. Score 10—1.

Victoria spruced up and Murray did some wonderfully good kicking. Peterborough seemed unable to locate the ball. The play was near the Peterboro line. Victoria sent the ball over the bar on a pretty drop. Score 10—3.

There were no more notable features in this half. Here ended the first half. Score 10—3.

Second Half

The second half saw some pretty ragged playing on the part of both teams. Hurtubise, who played snap in the first half, changed to quarter, but the benefit of the change was not particularly noticeable. In this half the Victorias chewed the rag a good deal more than was necessary.

Victoria kicked from centre and Gilbert got hold of it. He made a pretty run before he was downed. Gilbert's work throughout the game was good. After the scrimmage Regan made a good run and gained about twenty yards. At this juncture Hurtubuise got into a scrap with the umpire and was ordered off for three minutes. Referee Ford was having troubles of his own. Victoria kicked strenuously against his decisions. Crowley made another of his ground-gaining runs. Fitz missed an easy one. Mulhern got the ball and made the prettiest run of the day. The crowd yelled like mad. Crowley passed to McDonald, who made considerable ground. Peterboro forced things and had a scrimmage near the Victoria line. Crowley was playing a "horse" of a game. Graham was laid out but soon recovered. Hewitson caught the ball right on the line and sent it up the field. Regan did some fast work. Peterborough rouged. Score 11—3.

Mulhern was again conspicuous by his good work and ran and punted well. Victoria got the ball and tried hard to score, but the wings were too closely watched. Murray kicked and the ball flew to Crough who planted a good one into Victoria territory. Gilbert made a good run and the play was on around the Victoria line. Shortly before time was called Peterboro again carried it over. Score 16—3.

The Victorias seemed to get a little rattled, but worked hard. The play was pretty even, but the locals had a little the better of it. Peterborough was about forty yards from the home goal when the time-keeper's whistle announced the conclusion of the game. The final score was 16—3.

The teams lined up as follows:

PETERBOROUGH		VICTORIA
Mulhern	Back	Hewitson
Fitzpatrick, Crowley	Halves	Gattenby, Murray
Crough		Whale
Gillespie	Quarter	Regan (Capt)
Hurtubuise (Capt)	Snap	Buck
Craig, Dillon	Inside	Chamberlain, Russell
Meagher, McDonald	Middle	Minns, Graham
Gilbert, Regan	Outside	Elliott, Thorogood

Pigskinettes

Thorogood is an awful "bucker."

F. C. Waghorn is the right sort. Wag. repeatedly told the Vics to be quiet, but it was no go.

"Doc" Shaw did go away after all. He was badly needed on the back division.

With Walker, Shaw, Ford and Graham in the game, we should make it lively for any of them.

The ball was carried over the line a couple of times during the second half when off-side interference spoiled the scores.

In a couple of years none of them will hold Mulhern.

Chris. coached the boys from the grand stand. The "crowd" could hardly keep him off the gridiron.

Jean was "there with the goods."

The Sunday World says we trimmed the Victoria seniors. What do you think of that?

The Dundas twelve beat the Hamilton Tigers (seniors) by a score of 29—0. Bert Cameron who played with the Peterboro team last fall held down outside wing on the winning team.

Through the kindness of the directors of the Peterborough Hockey Club, limited, the Rugby Club has secured the Brock Street Rink for practice purposes.

RUGBY.

The people down east are getting sick of rough play. Ovide Lafleur of the Ottawa Rough Riders has just presented the city with $10 as a token of the slight esteem in which he was held. No wonder, either. He held nearly kicked the life out of Flannery of the St. Patrick aggregation!

• • • •

Practice will be held on the Brock street rink to-night at 7 o'clock. All players are requested to be on hand—only players and club members admitted.

• • • •

The Charlotte Street Guild team defeated the Crescents at Roswell's field last Saturday by a score of 16-7. The winners lined-up as follows:—Hart, McGill; halves, Moore, Thornton, Roddy, quarter, Sanderson; snap, Naylor; wings, Williams, Webb, Collins, ——field, Holland, Each team played a man short.

Lady Gothard Won in Three Straight Heats

Matched Race at the Driving Park on Saturday.

Attendance Was Not Large—Track in Excellent Condition.

A small crowd witnessed the matched Race for $100 a side on Saturday afternoon at the Driving Park, between Mr. Martin Connors' Lady Gothard and Mr. R. J. Munro's Little Jap.

The race had awakened a very considerable interest among the horsemen of the city and the outcome was a matter of much speculation. All doubts were, however, set at rest by the victory of Mr Connors' speedy mare in three straight heats.

The win was a somewhat easier one than was anticipated though both horses showed lots of speed.

In the first heat Lady Gothard got away with a slight lead which she increased somewhat and finished about two lengths ahead. The time for the heat was 1.12 for the half mile in which the heats were run.

In the second the time was clipped to 1.09 2-4, Lady Gothard coming under the wire by a substantial lead.

The third was a procession the time being 1.12 1-4.

The judges were messrs. P. Clunan and George Graham.

Little Jap was driven by Kechen and Lady Gothard by Neville. The track was in excellent shape for the event.

BASEBALL.

There is nothing to that big space-filler that the Lindsay Post inserted in its sporting column a short time ago. Mr. Martin Connors, told the sporting editor that the home team had quit the game for this year. It's up to Lindsay to do the same. The Lindsay ball team must be an oyster aggregation, good in the "R" months only. Cinnamon is not like an oyster, however, he never closes up. Throw the horsehide into the lake, Lindsay, and wrestle with the pigskin awhile. But its no use talking, and they need the practice for next summer anyway. Lindsay will probably be playing baseball until the frozen mud sticks up through the snow-banks on Kent street. Puzzle:—Why is the Lindsay ball team like the caboose on a freight train?

FOOTBALL.

GOLF.

The Port Hope lady golfers have winning ways. They won in a friendly game of golf on their own links on Thursday.

CROQUET.

The Principal of Upper Canada condemns some of our favourite school games as unfit for college athletes. Perhaps he thinks croquet affords a good athletic training for the strenuous life.

POOL AND BILLIARDS.

The proprietors of the different pool rooms should run a series of tournaments this winter. There are plenty of local players who can fill the rack in short order. "Bill" Willard expects to see his cushions palpitating on the 25th.

There is a city on the Other Side where a pool room pays a $5,000 license. In return the city has issued an injunction restraining the police from interfering. That "dive" must be a regular Paradise for live pool "sharks".

Junior Crescents Defeat Lakefield

The Crescents added another victory to their list on Saturday morning by defeating the Lakefield Preparatory School in their return game with the Groves by the score of 16-13. At half time the score stood 15-4 in the Crescents favour, which showed that the Lakefields spruced up in the last half. For the Crescents Lewis, better known as "Stonewall" played a very sensational game and shone particularly at tackling, while Alysworth for the Groves was a regular ringer and by all means their star player. CONCLUSION REACHED IN McWILLIAMS-DICKSON CASE

The Evidence in This Interesting Civil Case All In—Court Adjourned at Noon on Saturday After Hearing the Evidence and the Arguments of Counsel—His Lordship Reviews the Facts in the Case --Judgment Reserved on Points of Law.

The conclusion of the McWilliams-Dickson Company case was reached on Saturday, and the Court adjourned at noon. The evidence of witnesses and the addresses of counsel, are published to-day, and are as follows:

Theodore McWilliams.

Mr. Aylesworth questioning.

Q.—Do you remember what you paid for the purchase of the tax deeds?

A.—The amount was small.

Q.—I see $300 stated on the deed?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And you had three purchased so far?

A.—Three.

A.—At that time, 1897, you would be a young man of 25. How long had you been earning money?

A.—I went to work in '88 as a clerk for the first three years. I earned ten or fifteen dollars a month and before I left I had thirty or forty.

Q.—And had you saved any of it? After you left did you cease earning money?

A.—No; I worked for three years for the Government.

Q.—Come to the position you were on three years, 1902—at the end of the year 1902—had you anything?

A.—I had something over $700.

Q.—In November or December, of 1902, let me know what money you had?

A.—I had $700.

Q.—Had you any other property?

A.—I had lent some money.

A.—How much?

A.—I had lent $300 or $350.

Q.—Had you any village lots?

A.—I had two or three lots.

Q.—What could you have sold them for?

A.—About $200.

A.—You were living at home and had no occupation?

A.—No.

Q.—How came you to get any of these veterans' claims? What was the idea?

A.—The idea was to get them for ranching purposes.

Q.—Then what did you do?

A.—I said to Mr. Conroy that he knew some of the boys, and to send them around.

Q.—And how many claims did you and Conroy get?

A.—About ninety.

A.—How much did each claim cost you?

A.—$22 a piece.

Q.—So each payment cost you $22?

A.—Conroy got four and owed me $80.

Q.—So that for the nine you paid nine times $22?

Q.—Whose money paid the veterans for their claims?

A.—My money.

Q.—Did your father have the least tarest in it?

A.—No.

Q.—You had previously arranged with Cochrane with regard to his lots?

Witness said that after he had got the assignments he had nothing more to do with getting out the patents, as he left the work with the Department to be done by his brother. He had heard from his brother of the claims being allowed. He went up to the property about the beginning of April. He did not do much; had some conversation with some parties. There was some timber cut; some small pine on lots 20 and 21 in the 3rd and 4th. There were about 25,000 feet of pine cut. He tried to get the Rathbun Company to do the cleaning for them. He wanted to get the land for ranching and did the cutting in good faith with that intention. There was not enough in it for the Rathbun Company to make it worth their while. He then put on a team for plowing and went on fencing. After he started these operations he arranged with his brother to get the necessary $2000, which it was estimated it would take. A bargain was made for the disposal of the timber, which would have repaid the amount. Work was commenced in the latter part of July and the first of August, and was stopped about the third of March, 1904 having been carried on continually during that time.

To Mr. Watson:

Q.—You have spoken about the property that you have. Is there a judgment standing against you, held by the estate of the late H. J. Fife for about $1000?

A.—There is a judgment against me for about $1000, by the estate of Mrs. Hurrup?

A.—How many years has that been standing against you — five or six?

A.—About two.

Q.—Not more than that? Would that go back to 1901?

A.—1902.

Q.—Why have you not paid it?

A.—I let the judgment go by default. There was a dispute about it.

Q.—And the execution has been in the sheriff's hands against you?

A.—Yes.

Q.—What other executions are there?

A.—One for $112 or $115 by the Dickson Company.

Q.—You have not paid that?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—What other judgments?

A.—That is all.

Q.—Have the Peterborough Hardware Company a judgment against you?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—You owe the Peterborough Hardware Company?

A.—Over $600.

Q.—It has been standing for some years?

A.—It was in connection with the business.

Q.—That debt was contracted in 1902?

A.—In September, 1903.

Q.—That was at the commencement of the expenditure by you that you got that money from the hardware company?

A.—A month or so afterwards.

Q.—So that you borrowed the money with which to make the initial expenditures?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And there are those that you have been indebted to, have been for years?

A.—Yes.

Q.—So that when you started this you were not a man of means? You were practically without means?

A.—The judgment was a straight matter.

Q.—And your father knew of the judgment standing against you?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And your brother knew about it?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And you did nothing to pay that judgment? Would not pay it if you could help it?

A.—I intended to pay it in my own way.

Q.—And at your own sweet pleasure?

A.—It was my right.

Q.—And you did not ever intend to pay it until you wanted to?

A.—Until I was satisfied.

Q.—And that was the condition of affairs when those applications were being made? Now you had no bank account?

A.—I have never paid out any cheques.

Q.—Now would you attempt yourself to go and borrow money on your own credit?

A.—Yes, sir. I know I could borrow money on my own credit.

Q.—Then you were making these applications under the Veterans Act in order to carry out the original project you had away back in 1898 and 1899?

A.—That is right.

Q.—It was in pursuance of that original project formed in 1898 and 1899?

A.—The same property.

Q.—The same thing that was in your mind when you were dealing with Mr. Cochrane?

A.—The only property.

Q.—And you and Conroy set about and thought you would dicker in veterans' claims?

A.—I wanted to buy some veterans' claims.

Q.—So you went into this as a matter of speculation?

A.—I wanted to get the funds for that purpose.

Q.—That of course was all talked over with your father?

A.—I do not think I talked very much with him. I may have consulted him in the matter.

Q.—He went out to the Greys?

A.—He went to the son's house. There was some mix-up about Grey's application.

Q.—Did he see Grey about this scrip certificate?

A.—He paid the Grey one.

Q.—Your father paid the Grey one?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Your father paid the McKinley one?

A.—No.

Q.—Who saw McKinley?

A.—I do not know.

Q.—Do you recollect that he telephoned the agent of the telephone company to see McKinley and see if he had a scrip?

A.—I do not recollect my father doing it.

Q.—And you recollect that he saw McKinley?

A.—I do not think he ever saw him.

Q.—Do you know of him going up to Mr. Copeland's last winter?

A.—Yes.

Q.—To get the lot from him? To get an assignment from him?

A.—He was going up the country and I asked him to go to Copeland's.

Q.—And do you know that he saw Mr. Anderson and got him to intervene?

A.—No, sir. I saw Mr. Anderson myself. I took him up there.

Q.—And do you know of a letter your father wrote to Mr. Aubrey White in connection with these matters, which he said might be shown to the Minister and to the Dickson Company?

A.—I do not.

Q.—Then the expenditure ran into a large amount? The money was furnished by your father and by your brother?

A.—My brother was the one who made the arrangements.

Q.—And you know that your father was in it?

A.—I was on some notes.

Q.—What was the object of getting you on the notes?

A.—I do not know.

Q.—Did you keep any account of the moneys that came through your brother that your brother paid?

A.—I had nothing to do with the bank account at all. He did all that.

Q.—You took no part in that, and you asked no questions about that?

A.—No.

Q.—You had not time to follow that up?

A.—No.

Q.—And did your father ever refuse to go on any more paper?

A.—I do not know.

Q.—And you do not know how much they were getting from the bank from time to time?

A.—No.

Q.—And you do not know how much money they were getting from the other people from whom they borrowed? You heard about the borrowings?

A.—I have an idea of how much money it would take, but I did not go into details.

Q.—Did you know until this morning that they got money from Mr. Hamilton and the other parties?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Were you on the note to Mr. Hamilton?

A.—No.

Q.—Nor on the note to the lady that is referred to?

A.—No.

Q.—That was done by your father and your brother without consulting you?

A.—I may have known at the time that they were doing it.

Q.—All these matters were left entirely to their discretion?

A.—I explained that.

Q.—Then on the 13th day of August, 1903, at that time or before that time, had you received $200 from your brother?

A.—He gave me a check for $200.

Q.—At the time that you executed this transfer?

A.—I could not swear exactly whether it was that date or not.

Q.—About that time? He gave you a check for $200. Was that the reason that $200 was inserted there?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Then on the 26th of April this was re-assigned by him to you?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you give him $200 then?

A.—He charged it up to me in connection with the business.

Q.—Now, before the 26th of April over $5,000 had been paid by the Dickson Company upon the matter?

A.—Some time the beginning of April.

Q.—The 12th of April. And all the logs had been cut and removed by the Dickson Company some considerable time?

A.—They had not been taken away.

Q.—At all events you completed the cutting in January, I think?

A.—In March.

Q.—You had completed the cutting in January?

A.—The cutting of the logs.

Q.—Then when did you take them off the land and put them in the water?

A.—We hauled logs from January until about the time we quit, on March 3.

At that time the logs were on Gull and Catchacoma Lakes in the possession of the witness. They first went into the possession of the defendants some time in April. They went up and started marking the logs, and witness went up when they had started to move them and tried to stop them. That was in the latter part of April, just before he took out the injunction.

Q.—Now, then, did you ever ask to see any memoranda that your brother had about the banking account?

A.—I never did anything about the banking at all, and never saw any memos. that he had.

Q.—How do matters stand between you and your brother, now financially?

A.—My brother has nothing whatever to do with me now.

Q.—What have you to do with the bank account now?

A.—Nothing to do with it.

Q.—Have you paid over any money to your brother or your father in the last year?

A.—Boland has been released from everything.

Q.—Have you paid over any money during the last year?

A.—In connection with the money I received from the Dickson Company. He took what I endorsed over to him.

Q.—Is that all he has received?

A.—That is all.

Q.—He has got no money from you?

A.—No.

Q.—How much more money is he entitled to get out of this transaction? How much is he owed by you? Can you tell. You borrowed a lot of money according to his account. How much of that do you owe him? Do you owe your brother anything at all in respect of this matter?

A.—I am not between $3,000 and $4,000 on it.

Q.—I did not ask you about that. Do you owe your brother anything?

A.—No.

Q.—Have you paid him any money yourself in respect of it?

A.—That money that came from the Dickson Company.

Q.—That is the only money that he has ever received?

A.—That squared him up altogether.

Q.—Is the note outstanding to Mr. Hamilton yet?

A.—No, sir.

Q.—Who paid the Hamilton note? Has that note been paid?

A.—Yes. I think my father paid it.

Q.—Did you pay him?

A.—No.

Q.—Then who paid the note to the lady, Miss Dauber? Is that note outstanding?

A.—They have paid everything except those that I owe the Peterborough Hardware Company and a couple of outstanding accounts.

Q.—Has the note to Miss Dauber been paid?

A.—I do not know, but I think it has.

Q.—But who paid, your father?

A.—I suppose so. My brother may have paid him over the money.

Q.—Do you know that that check for $5,400 was deposited to a special account by your brother in a different bank?

A.—I do not know about the accounts.

Q.—You do not know what he did with that check?

A.—No.

Q.—You do not know what he did with that cheque?

A.—No.

Q.—You endorsed that cheque and just gave it over to him and then you do not know what has been done with the money since?

A.—No.

Q.—Then how much money is your brother out to-day in the transaction. Can you tell?

A.—I do not think he is anything out himself personally.

Q.—You do not think he is? Do you know?

A.—I could not swear.

Q.—How much is your father out in the transaction?

A.—I do not think he is anything out, he is on my paper.

Q.—You never paid him back anything?

A.—He is on my paper. I do not think there is anything else.

Q.—Where did the whole $11,000 come from? Your brother said that according to his recollections the total disbursements I think amount to about $11,000. Do you know anything about that?

A.—I kept outside of that. I do not know anything about that.

Q.—You have accounted for a return of about $5,500; where did the balance come from?

A.—I got it on my note.

Q.—How much money did you get on your note?

A.—I got it with my father's endorsement.

Q.—Where did you get it?

A.—There are a couple of notes of mine for something like $1,800.

Q.—Where were the notes taken up?

A.—In the bank.

Q.—In what bank, in whose account were they discounted? Your father's?

A.—Yes.

Q.—You discounted no notes yourself?

A.—No.

Q.—And what was your brother to get out of this?

A.—He was to be paid his expenses. That is all he was to get out of it.

Q.—Has he been paid anything for his expenses?

A.—I do not know.

Q.—Did you ever get a statement of expenses?

A.—He did all that, I did the outside part.

Q.—You have never seen any statement of expenditures?

A.—He has told me what they were. He charged $150 for his time in connection with the work.

Q.—Did he tell you that within the last couple of months?

A.—Five or six or seven months ago.

Q.—That was talked of after this action was brought?

A.—I do not know whether it was or not.

Q.—Will you swear that anyting was said before the action was brought?

A.—I do not know that anything was said, but it was always thought that he should get something.

FIRST EARL OF MINTO

PROSPEROUS VICEROY OF INDIA 100 YEARS AGO.

Recollections of the Service in the East of the Present Earl's Great-Grandfather—A Friend of Burke — Summary of His Services to India—Settled the Vellore Mutiny and Restored Order Throughout India.

The Earl of Minto's appointment as Viceroy of India has been made almost one hundred years after his ancestor, the first Earl of Minto, began his prosperous reign at Government House, Calcutta, writes Norman Howard in The London Daily Chronicle.

It was in 1806 that Lord Grenville wished to nominate Lord Minto (then President of the Board of Control for India) as Governor-General of that country. At first his request met with a decided refusal; but Lord Grenville again referred to the subject, telling the earl that "there was nobody else who could thoroughly answer the public wishes and those of the Government," and that "he alone could extricate the Ministry from a position of considerable embarrassment."

Under this pressure, Lord Minto consented to think the matter over, and to discuss it with his family. It meant no light sacrifice to give the wished-for answer; the idea that Lady Minto and her daughters should accompany him was never entertained, for it was felt that the Indian climate would be fatal to her. The Viceroyship, therefore, spelt separation from home and family for several years, and at a time when letters often took five or six months to reach their destination. But when once the duty was felt to be compelling, Lord Minto wrote: "I will not yield to the feelings which I cannot but experience, but will proceed as manfully and gallantly as I can."

The summer of 1806 was the last which the earl ever spent in his beautiful Roxburghshire home, Minto, and in the February after he started on the long journey eastward.

A Friend of Burke.

Edmund Burke was the leading influence in Lord Minto's political career. Their friendship was a close and tender one, and afterwards he was able to say: "I believe I was among those whom Burke loved best, and most trusted." Lord Minto was closely engaged in the trial of Warren Hastings, and in 1797 Burke wrote to him while he was busy with his charge against Sir Elijah Impey: "God bless you," Burke said, "and forward your good understanding. Stick to it. You have years before you, and if I were of your age and had your talents and manners, I should not despair of seeing India a happy country in a few years."

Burke died in July of that year. In 1807, just ten years later, Lord Minto landed in Calcutta—the Governor-General of the country whose interests had aroused some of the most passionate eloquence of the leader he had reverenced.

Four months was taken by the Modeste for the voyage from England to Madras; the log-book which Lord Minto kept during the slow-passing days was full of trifling details of interest to the sons and daughters who were to read it; while for his wife there were sentences showing how "all his thoughts centred in her." His third son, John, who became his private secretary, welcomed Lord Minto at Madras, where the first impressions of Indian life were received. From Calcutta, on July 21, 1807, he wrote to his wife: "When I found myself lost from my cobbler's stall in Arlington street, seated in full possession of this noble and magnificent hall, the crowds of servants and attendants bowing round me in all the forms of eastern prostration, I felt a little like Nell awaking in Lady Loverrule's bed, with the difference, however, that it is not at all like my notions of Paradise."

Political life was quiet at the time of Lord Minto's accession to power in the east, and he had the chance of forming his views carefully and leisurely, although he complained that the "quantity and quick succession of current business" engaged every moment to spare from ceremony and private interviews, allowing no opportunity for "reading back or looking forward, and acquiring general information."

"A declaration of war," he wrote to his son, "and an estimate for an addition to a barrack a thousand miles off, may come next to each other in the secretaries' bundle. . . . The secretary reads, or often only states shortly the substance of each paper, and the order is given on the spot." "Now, our secretaries are all modest men, who scarcely read above their breath; it is a constant strain to hear them; the business is often the heaviest and dullest kind, the voices monotonous, and, as one small concern succeeds another, the punkah vibrates gently over my eyes; and in this warm atmosphere the whole operation has been found in the course of five hours somewhat composing. It is often a vehement struggle to avoid a delectable oblivious wink."

Lord Minto found the morning and evening drives horribly formal and uncomfortable. The incessant salaams wearied him, and he thought of "sticking a wax hand" in his hat. He gradually freed himself from much of what he called this "troublesome nonsense," and, "Other times, other manners,"—the new Viceroy has not to fear quite such bothersome publicity and formality.

His Services to India.

The wisdom and success of Lord Minto's administration scarcely need recalling. His first tasks were to settle the Vellore Mutiny, to initiate a system of careful finance, and to establish order throughout India. Later on, missions were dispatched to Persia, Lahore, to make peaceful alliances with those States. The Persian Expedition was not a success, unfortunately, but the Lahore business ended in the Treaty of Umritsir—a bond of "perpetual amity" between that State and the British Government. A treaty was also concluded with the Amir of Scinde.

Among the territories which were added to the Empire during Lord Minto's governorship were the Amboynas, Moluoca Islands, Bourbon, the Mauritius, and Java, for which services he was thanked by Parliament. The expedition to Java was accompanied by the Governor-General in person. Not long after the return, on March 10, 1813, he wrote, "I am in perfect health, but have been less robust since my Java excursion than before. . . . My only concern is about the use of my legs. They have been so entirely confined to purposes of ornament, having touched nothing harder than a carpet or a mat, and carried their master no further than the length of a verandah, for so many years, that I have often serious doubts and anxieties about the craigs. If I cannot enjoy them, wherefore should I live?"

Through all the letters there is the quick flash of thoughts, from serious matters of State to the slight personal detail which he knew would be worth more than all else to the home-folk. There is, too, a constant sight of the home-longing which the English in India to-day hardly realise, with the rapidly-succeeding mails and the swift service of telegraph. "January 1, 1814, is the day at which my reckonings end. (The day of freedom from office, as he planned.) It cannot probably be the identical day, but it will be as few over or under as we can contrive."

Superseded.

Lord Liverpool made a "full and handsome acknowledgment of the services which Lord Minto rendered in connection with the conquests in which he shared, "as well as of the general merit of my administration in India," and this is reported to his wife. It was from her that he first heard of the question of Lord Moira's appointment to the post he was then holding. "It is comical enough," he adds, "that my resignation should have arrived just at the moment they were turning me out without leave."

The sudden supersession of Lord Minto is assigned to the necessity of finding a place for Lord Moira, who was a personal friend of the Regent. The outcry in Calcutta was strong. Lord Minto had won great popularity by his brilliant services, and it was acknowledged that he had, through all the years of his administration, worked without ceasing for the public good. But the Governor-General himself seems to have had few regrets, if any. "I seldom miss a night without dreaming of being at home," he declares. "The sympathy which his strong love of home excited among his brother exiles of Calcutta, was gracefully displayed," writes Lady Minto, "when, at the close of 1812, the bachelors of Calcutta gave the Governor-General a ball. As he entered the door, the opposite end of the room disclosed a view of Minto House, 'the burn, the green hills, all to the life, and on so large a scale as to reach from side to side of an immense room.' Mercifully, no prophetic instinct warned him that in the vision created by friendly regard he was alone to see the scene he loved so well."

But the glad home-coming was all too brief and broken, and the well-won quiet of private life was interrupted by death. It was at Stevenage, Hertfordshire, on June 21, 1814, that the ex-Viceroy passed away, while journeying to Minto House.

The second and third Earls of Minto were never associated with the Indian Administration; will the fourth Lord Minto fulfil the traditions of his house in that honorable place of power?

Forced Him to Sleep.

"He was terribly troubled with insomnia, but he is all over it."

"How did he get cured?"

"They raised his room rent, and he had to sleep more to get his money's worth."

ODDITIES OF ENGLISH.

Puzzles of Pronunciation That One Meets in England—Proper Names That Are Confusing.

Ordinary English as it is spelled and pronounced is certainly confusing to a degree to any foreigner, but it is still harder when it comes to proper names.

"If," said an English writer, "the amiable foreigner is driven to the verge of distraction by our vagaries in pronouncing words ending in 'ough,' and cannot for the life of him see why, if 'cough' spells 'kof,' 'though' should not be 'thof' and 'sought' 'sof,' what must he think of our phonetic eccentricities in the pronunciation of place names, which are such a sore puzzle even to ourselves?

'Why, for instance, in the name of all that's reasonable, should we have to say Amesbury when we write and mean Almondesbury, and, when we are in Lancashire, inquire the way to Oost'n when it is Ulverstone we want? These are mysteries which are not even revealed, one would think, unto babes, and which certainly make the upgrown man feel foolish.

"If you happen to be in Suffolk and want to find your way to Waldringfield, near Ipswich, you must avoid at any cost pronouncing the word as it is written. You will be looked at as a freak or a foreigner; but ask for Wunnerf'l and you will be sent on your way rejoicing. One may be prepared to find that Belvoir is pronounced Beaver, but who is to know that Aspatria, in Cumberland, is only recognized locally as Spethry? You may ask the native the nearest way to Aspatria till you are black in the face and he will stare blankly at you for your pains, but breathe the word Spethry and you will get your direction quickly enough.

"Little Urswick is a place unknown to thousands of Lancashire folk who are familiar enough with the village of that name, but call it Liloisick, and their faces will brighten at once with intelligence. Pontefract is not unrecognizable to the southerner even as Pomfret, but why should Keighley be known locally as Keethley and not as Keeley, which is the obvious rendering?

"But the North county has no monopoly of odd pronunciations. Go to Devonshire and ask for Brithembottom. The odds are you will be told there is no such place. Brimbottom they know right well, and that is the place you really want. Thurlescombe, by a similar or worse perversion, becomes Drisslecum, which may or may not be a tribute to the dampness of its climate. There is in Clouceshire a village called Churchdown, which for some inexplicable reason is always spoken of locally as Chosen. The good people of Churchdown appreciate the joke as much as anybody and tell you how, when the trains were asked to stop there, some one said, 'Make they Chosen people joyful.'

"Congresbury, in Somersetshire, is known far and wide as Coomsbury, and, shades of our Norman ancestors! Hurstmonceaux, in Sussex, has long degenerated on the lips of many to Horsemounces. St. Osyth is a name that ought not to present any lingual difficulty, but its favorite form in the district seems to be Toosy, and, while the educated man has long been reconciled to call Greenwich 'Grennidge,' there are many who still persist (and they are right, though it sounds strange to the ear) in pronouncing the name as it is spelled.

"Chelmondiston, in Suffolk, has been cut down to the more convenient Chimston, and Sandiacre, a small town in Derbyshire, is Senliker to those who know what they ought to say. Welsh names are a source of unfailing confusion to the Englishman, whose tongue refuses point blank to grapple with them, and yet some of them at least have been made simple enough, such as Rhudbaxton, in Pembrokeshire, which as Ribson is simplicity itself. In Hertfordshire the formidable Sawbridgeworth has been reduced to the handy compass of Sapser, but what shall we say of Woodmancote, which to the good people of Gloucestershire is often known as Uddenmuckat?"

The Rajah of Baroda.

The Rajah of Baroda has his wealth in precious stones and is said to equal if not exceed that of John D. Rockefeller. Sayaji Roo, for that is the dusky plutocrat's name, literally revels in a setting of jewels. Mrs. Roo totes about the most famous diamond necklace in the world. It is made up of 200 stones the size of a hazel nut. It is worth over $10,000,000, and if hubby should donate it to a college pension fund the family would hardly miss it, for the lady also has a collection of 500 perfect diamonds, the smallest of which is worth at least $2,000.

When the Roos take a notion they can walk on a floor of diamonds, pearls and rubies. In the treasure chamber of the palace there is a carpet four square yards in surface made up entirely of ropes of precious stones. In this tidbit of fancy work there are $4,000,000 worth of gems, and it took the weavers four years to get it into shape. But the rajah and his spouse are not jewel misers. He is a noble ruler, and his people are happy. He lives in regal splendor because he has the price. The corridors of the palace are lined with marble and onyx of incalculable value. In galleries and alcoves there are bronzes, paintings and statuary brought from all parts of the world and worth many millions of dollars.

Felon and Felony.

"Were you in the garden for the purpose of committing a felony?" asked the English judge of the small boy. "No, sir," said the boy. "Me and my cousin were after the gentleman's fowls and eggs." Forfeiture of lands and goods and "corruption of blood" (loss of hereditary standing) were formerly the penalties for felony. Before they got their technical sense, however, "felon" and "felony" (connected either with Latin "fallere," to deceive or "fel, gall, bitterness") connoted wickedness, anger, courage, or melancholy, as the case might be. "The admiral began to laugh for felony," says Caxton, meaning that he laughed, not feloniously, but recklessly. Also a boil or whitlow was a "felon" and cholera "felony."

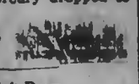
Nothing At All.

"He declares that where he was last summer the mercury dropped to zero one night."

"That's nothing."

"What's nothing?"

"Zero."



Name Wouldn't Draw.

"He is going to set up as a beauty doctor."

"Why not as an ugly doctor? Beauty doesn't need doctoring."

In His Line.

"The camel is not as much of an attraction as he was."

"No; it keeps him humping to get people to notice him."

He Is Loaded.

Hear the booming of the gun?
It's the Jap.
He is only having fun
With the map.
If you're looking for a scrap,
Go and find the gentle Jap;
He has one or two on tap
And will hand you out a slap
Or allure you to a trap,
Just for fun.

Quite Different.

"What is the matter with old Skinflint? Softening of the brain?"

"No, hardening of the heart."

Some Use.

"What is your favorite animal?"

"The dude. You can borrow money from him if he has it."

Mere Man.

Oh, plastic man with moments gay,
Important, brisk and made of clay,
You are a thing of ancient make
Whom woman early learned to take
And fashion just as she saw fit
And thinks you were the whole works—nit!

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

HERE IT IS AGAIN.

Look out!
Twist yourself and turn about.
Squeeze
Until you gasp and wheeze.
Crowd yourself into as small a space as you can.
Man,
You don't count
Nor amount
To anything
This spring.
You're a back number.
Don't cumber
The floor space
Or any other place
With your very ordinary self.
You're laid on the shelf.
This new style
Makes all the women smile
And rubber till their necks
Are wrecks.
They dote
And gloat
On the thought that they are occupying more floor space than a young load of hay.
Say,
Did you ever see such a sight in your life?
In case of strife
That woman couldn't get close enough to her son
To biff him one.
Here comes another
Mother
Who is as unapproachable as a brindle cow with a poke on.
When women don
Such an idiotic thing as a steel wire
Factory I desire
To say that it is men to the woods until
Such a time as women will Come to their senses and let us in on the ground floor
Once more.
The hoop skirt is in—
That it is a sin
Against any old kind of art
From my heart
I assert.
A has the hoop skirt!

Law at Fault.

"They arrested him for assaulting the umpire."

"Arrested him? Don't they pay a reward for a thing like that?"

Developed It.

"Snythers has a remarkable vocabulary."

"Yes, he wore shoes that were too tight for him one whole season."

The Difference.

The small boy with his first new boots
Walks round in pomp and pride;
The grown man in his first dress suit
Longs for a chance to cut and shoot
And from the world to hide.

Good a Reason as Any.

"The treasury department has classified frogs' legs as venison."

"Because they are dear?"

New Classification.

NATIVE WEALTH.

Sources of Revenue and Also Playgrounds for the People.

Canada has the largest pulpwood areas in the world.

Canada has set apart 12 million acres in forest reserves.

Ontario and Quebec derive half their revenue from their forest wealth.

Canada has 107,978 Indians. They decreased by 255 in 1904 over 1903.

Canada spends $300,000 a year on her Indians.

29,000 of the Indians are Protestants, 24,915 Roman Catholics, 11,269 pagans—outside of the far north.

The Indians own 37,830 horned stock and 32,625 horses.

Ranching and Irrigation.

Canada has 100 million acres of grazing land in the west.

Twenty five years ago the cattle trade of the west totalled 25 head.

200,000 animals are now being pastured in the Canadian west.

One-half of this number is cattle, and the rest sheep and horses.

522,000 head of cattle were sent to Great Britain in 1903, an increase of 103,000 over 1902.

Canada exported 11 millions' worth of cattle and sheep in 1904.

Canada has, all told, 5 1-2 million cattle; 1 1-2 million horses.

The first carload of cattle was shipped from the west in 1885.

Canada has 500 miles of irrigation canals in Alberta.

These are made up of 160 different canals and ditches.

The C. P. R. are building a 400-mile irrigation canal between Calgary and Medicine Hat.

This will cost $5,000,000.

It will reclaim 1 1-2 million acres of land and make available another 1 1-2 million acres for ranching.

This area when reclaimed will support a population of 500,000.

In addition, one million acres are being reclaimed around Lethbridge.

Education in Canada.

Canada has 20,021 public schools.

Canada's public schools are attended by 1,122,582 pupils.

Canada has 30,970 public school teachers.

Canada spends over 12 millions annually on public schools.

Canada has 17 universities and 53 colleges.

These 70 educational institutions are attended by 15,000 pupils.

Eighty percent. of all adults in Canada can write; 70 per cent. of all the people can read, or 85 per cent. of all over 5.

Seventy-six schools in Northwest Territories in 1886, 640 in 1902.

Illiterates in Canada, 1891, 1,750 per 1,000; 1901, 1,266.

Canada's Railways.

Canada has 20,378 miles of railway, steam and electric.

Canada's railways have cost over a billion dollars.

Canada has a greater railway mileage than Australia and New Zealand.

Canada's railway mileage per head of population is greater than that of any other country.

In actual railway mileage, Canada ranks eighth in the world.

Canada has nearly as much railway mileage as Great Britain.

Canada had only 3,000 miles of railways in 1867, at Confederation.

Canada is building 5,000 miles of railways.

Railway passengers carried, 1904, 23,600,000.

Freight carried, 1904, 48 1-2 million tons.

Railway gross earnings, 1904, 100 millions.

Working expenses, 1904, 74 millions; net earnings, 26 millions.

Seven thousand miles of railway north of Lake Superior; not a mile in 1867.

One-third of Canada's railway mileage is in the west.

Canadian Government railways are 1,519 miles long.

Five hundred and thirty-four miles of new railways built in Canada in 1904.

Canada has 767 miles of electric railways.

Canada's electric railways have cost $9 millions.

They carried in 1904, 181 million passengers—30 times the population of Canada.

Canada has spent over $9 millions on 72 miles of canals—over a million a mile.

Canada's canals are now free of tolls.

Canada ranks seventh in the list of maritime nations.

Canada has 7,049 vessel registered, with tonnage of 3 1-2 million tons.

Canada has nearly a thousand lighthouses, lightships, etc.

Canada has 1,033 steamboats under inspection.

Who would exchange the merry noise of children at play, with the cheerless hour after hour in the dull silence? But there are a great many who would like to people the silent house with the children that fate has refused them. Fate is often in this case only another word for ignorance. Many a glad mother defers her happiness from the day she first began the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It often happens that with the cure of female weakness and the establishing of the delicate womanly organs in sound health, the way is opened for the joy of motherhood. "Favorite Prescription" is a specific for the ailments allments peculiar to women. It cures them, gently and permanently.

No other medicine can do for women so much as "Favorite Prescription." Do not therefore let any other medicine be palmed off on you as "just as good."

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium, cocaine or other narcotic. It is strictly a temperance medicine.

"I can truly say your medicine is a friend of mine," writes Mrs. Arthur Brett, of Attleboro, Bristol Co., Mass., "I am a farmer of four children and suffered greatly at times of each of their births. When three months along with the last one I began to think of trying some medicine to help me, neither physician nor midwife could do me any good, neither could they tell me what was the matter with me. I felt there was something that could help me. I then thought I would write to Dr. Pierce. He advised me to take his 'Favorite Prescription.' I used it as he told me to and my baby was very weak, had heart trouble and would faint away two or three times a day. Our doctor could not help me and life was a drug. I would often say, oh, if I could only die, as one of these spells took hold of me. Two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' with a few vials of 'Pellets' cured me entirely. I had been of a delicate build, but since my confinement I have been very healthy. I am now the mother of a healthy baby girl, and can not thank you enough. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best medicine in the world, I believe, for I know now for myself, and can not tell it often FATAL RUNAWAYS.

One Farmer Crushed Between Wagon and Tree Stump.

Belleville, Oct. 16.—A fatal runaway accident occurred near Madoc Village Friday evening. A man named Thomas McKeown, a farmer, residing in Madoc Township, and son of John McKeown, township treasurer, was driving a spirited team of horses when they became frightened and ran away. McKeown was thrown violently to the ground and sustained fatal injuries.

John Maynard, who resided near Cloyne, was also the victim of a fatal runaway accident. He had dropped the reins of his horses to hand out a milk can from his wagon, when the horses suddenly took fright and ran away. The wagon collided with a stump, and Mr. Maynard, who had dropped through the wagon box, was crushed to death between the wagon and the stump. He was about 50 years of age.

Both Feet Cut Off.

Belleville, Oct. 15.—Wiley Hamilton lost both feet and sustained other injuries while running a planer in Gordons mill at Malone. His clothes caught in the belting and he was thrown against the planer. Both feet were cut off at the instep, and he was otherwise severely injured. The doctors think he will recover.

Killed By a Tombstone.

Berlin, Oct. 16.—A fatal accident occurred here Saturday morning. While trying to steady a tombstone a young man named Messett was crushed and died a few hours later. The dray was carrying two heavy stones. As the wagon went over a bump the stone fell over and crushed Messett against the other stone.

Got Under Cars.

London, Oct. 16.—Job Vainis, a middle-aged man, employed at Carling's brewery here, was struck and killed early Saturday morning at the C. P. R. crossing. The legs were severed.

Killed Beneath Lumber.

Berlin, Oct. 16.—Edward Dreva, aged 18, was killed by having a pile of lumber fall upon him in the yard of Kaufman's planing mills here Saturday. Deceased had taken out a plank to put under a car.

Grand Stand on Fire.

Bucyrus, Ohio, Oct. 16.—While the races at the County Fair Saturday afternoon were on, the grand stand was discovered to be on fire. A panic followed the first announcement. Spectators in the stand rushed for the exit, and soon blocked the only passage to safety. Excited women, children and men leaped over the front of the stand on to the track, 12 feet, and many were injured by the leap. Those who left the grand stand last were badly burned, as the big pine building went like tinder. In less than a half-hour the entire fair was wiped out.

Courtship's Worth $2 a Day.

Montreal, Oct. 16.—Sometime ago Jerome Internocia, an Italian lawyer, sued Senor Binelli, a compatriot here, for a large sum alleged to have been spent on the defendant's daughter while paying court to the young lady, who afterwards refused to marry Internocia. The court of review decided Saturday that plaintiff was entitled to $2 a day for the time he had been courting the lady.

Britain Maintains Treaty.

London, Oct. 16.—The Observer says it understands Great Britain has agreed to maintain the treaty of 1855, which guarantees the integrity of Scandinavia, so far as Norway is concerned, on condition that a monarchy be established. The paper adds that the candidature of Prince Charles of Denmark to the Norwegian throne has been virtually accepted by all parties.

Bribery Charges Before Council.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—This afternoon's special meeting of council, called in relation to the serious bribery charges set forth in affidavit form, may or may not develop into a sort of preliminary court of enquiry, before Judge Winchester, to whom statutory procedure requires that the work of investigation be carried, is called upon to act.

Sir Wm. Mulock's Farewell.

Ottawa, Oct 16.—A. B. Aylesworth, K. C., will be sworn in on Monday a member of the Privy Council and appointed Postmaster-General. The farewell dinner from Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Sir William Mulock will take place at the Rideau Club on Monday evening. The writ for an election in North York will be issued without delay.

Worrisome.

If it were not for the weather,
I should love the summer time.
When it's hot for days together
And the sun just seems to climb
Up a sky of molten metal
Then your blood begins to boil,
Sweat drops trickle down and settle
And your last clean collar spoil.

B. C. Rancher Suicides.

London, Oct. 14.—Cecil Smith, formerly a rancher in British Columbia, shot himself dead in his boarding-house off Oxford street, in consequence of losses in farming and the non-success of a patent in connection with bridles. He wrote pathetic farewell letters to his friends, including his wife.

Huge Waves Swept Across Boat's Decks

Gigantic Wave Kills and Wounds Campania Passengers.

FIVE DEAD AND 30 INJURED

Disaster Came Suddenly and Unexpectedly In Big Storm When Vessel Was In Mid-Ocean—Campania Was Buried So Deep That Water Submerged Passengers on Deck Above Steerage to Waists.

New York, Oct. 16.—Five lives are known to have been lost and more than 30 persons injured, some of them seriously, on the Cunard Line steamer Campania last Wednesday, when a gigantic wave rolled over the vessel and swept across a deck thick with steerage passengers. So sudden was the coming of the disaster and so great the confusion which attended and followed it that even the officers of the steamer themselves were unable Saturday, upon the vessel's arrival here, to estimate the full extent of the tragedy. It is possible that the five persons known to be missing from the steerage, may not constitute the full number of dead.

When the Campania reached quarantine Saturday ten of the injured passengers were still in the ship's hospital, some of them seriously hurt, and a score of others were nursing minor injuries.

The steamer was ploughing along under full head way last Wednesday afternoon. A heavy quartering sea was running, but the weather conditions were far from unpleasant and the big boat's decks were crowded with passengers. The steerage deck was covered with merrymakers and there was nothing to indicate the approaching disaster, when suddenly the big vessel lurched to port and scooped up an enormous sea.

Submerged to Their Waists.

The wave boarded the steamer about midships on the port side and swept clear across the steerage deck, completely filling the space between that deck and the deck above and carrying everything with it.

The steamer's side was buried so deep that the passengers on the deck above the steerage were submerged to their waists as the immense volume of water rolled aft and then surged forward. All the cabin passengers on the upper deck succeeded in clinging to supports while the water surged around them, and were saved, but the unfortunates on the steerage deck found themselves utterly helpless. The irresistible rush of waters, sweeping towards the forward part of the ship, carried everything before it. Nettings, heavy railings and other obstructions which had been arranged near the railings to prevent passengers being washed overboard, served their purpose only in part.

Strewn With Injured.

So great was the volume and force of the rushing waters that a door in the rail was smashed and through this opening five of the helpless ones who had been caught by the wave, were swept to their deaths. Others dashed against the rails and other like obstructions, escaped death, but many of them received severe injuries. One young woman had both legs broken at the thigh and several persons suffered broken arms and ribs, while more than a score were bruised and battered.

When the wave cleared the vessel the forward part of the deck was strewn with injured and for hours Dr. Verden, the ship's surgeon, aided by a number of physicians among the cabin passengers, was busy in attending to their hurts. In the meantime an inspection of the steerage was made by the ship's officers and it was learned that five of the passengers were missing. No further information regarding the result of the inspection was given out.

Furious Gale In Channel.

Dover, Eng., Oct. 16.—The Hamburg-American liner Pretoria, from Hamburg for New York, sailed at 10.45 p.m. yesterday. The arrival of the vessel here was delayed nine hours, owing to a furious gale in the channel.

ACCEPTS BRITAIN'S DENIAL.

German Gazette Exonerates French Government From Responsibility.

Berlin, Oct. 16.—The North German Gazette printed at the head of its columns Saturday morning, an important semi-official paragraph regarding The Matin's revelation. It exonerates the French Government fully of any connection with the so-called revelations and accepts freely the British Government's denial of the offered alliance.

The article continues:

"We can state that the British Government spontaneously sent here a communication of similar contents and it was received on the German side with the same loyalty with which it was given. An incident between Germany and Great Britain has not been created by the assertions of The Matin. Moreover, Great Britain's communication was marked confidential, and according to the wishes of the London Government, it cannot be made public."

The disclosures in France are so thoroughly believed here, however, that the powerful naval league with 600,000 members and all the apparatus of agitation is already moving for a new naval program that shall further increase Germany's defensive resources against Great Britain.

France Was In Danger.

Paris, Oct. 16.—Public opinion has been wrought up during the present week by the alleged revelations following the Franco-German controversy over Morocco and the open declaration of Prince Von Buelow favorable to a Russo-German rapprochement, creating feeling that France was the centre of dangerous enmities and coalitions.

The facts stand out that the Morocco controversy took Germany and France dangerously near the verge of war, and that Great Britain, while not officially promising military aid, stood ready to give France her loyal support.

Dies From Fall.

Belleville, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Hannah A. Porter, mother of E. Gus Porter, M. P. for West Hastings, died Friday at the family residence in Consecon, Prince Edward County, near this city. She was 73 years of age. A fall received some months ago was the immediate cause of Mrs. Porter's death.

Jap and Russ Are Friends Once More

Russo-Japanese War Has Its Official End.

EMPERORS SIGN THE TREATY

America Informs the Czar of the Mikado's Act, and France Performs a Like Service at Tokio — Japan Gets Quickly to Work and Order Is Issued For the Prompt Evacuation of Manchuria.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 16.—At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Spencer Eddy, the American charge de'affaires, officially informed the Foreign Office that the Emperor of Japan ratified the Russo-Japanese peace treaty Saturday.

The French Minister at Tokio, at the same hour, informed the Japanese Government that Emperor Nicholas had signed the treaty.

The treaty may be published to-day in The Official Messenger.

Withdrawing Troops.

Tokio, Oct. 16.—It is believed that the Government has sent an order to Manchurian headquarters to begin the evacuation of Japanese troops to-day.

It is expected that Japan will effect a complete withdrawal of her troops in six months.

Baron Hayashi, interviewed by a Jiji representative, says that the uprisings in Corea are not serious, the irregular mobs being without leaders. The peninsula is now practically a dependency of Japan, and adequate capital and wise foresight would certainly develop the natural resources of the country and make Corea the source of considerable wealth.

The news that Vice-Admiral Togo has worshipped at Ise Temple is creating a profound impression. It is believed that his act will furnish a lasting example in national religious education, and that ancestral worship will be given fresh stimulation, especially in the army and navy. Admiral Togo has shown his implicit faith in what he said in his report of the great naval battle when he attributed the Japanese victory to the protection of the spirits of the Imperial ancestors.

The Navy Department has announced the seizure of the American steamer Centennial, on Oct. 10, in Soya Strait. The Centennial is an iron schooner rigged steamer of 2,075 tons. She is owned by Chas. Nelson Co. of San Francisco. She sailed from San Francisco Sept. 13 for Vladivostock.

PANIC AT FUNERAL.

St. Petersburg's Tribute to Prince Troubetskoy—Charge Crowd.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 16.—The body of Prince Troubetskoy was conveyed to the Nikolai Station yesterday for removal to Moscow. A vast multitude and deputations of students followed the cortege. When the procession was nearing the station a squadron of gendarmes appeared, and almost at the same moment a revolver shot rang out from the crowd, causing a panic. The gendarmes drew their swords, charged, and dispersed the crowd, mourners and spectators leaving quietly in all directions. The gendarmes did not use their swords, and so far as can be ascertained no one was injured. Among the wreaths laid on the coffin was one of natural orchids from Emperor Nicholas.

Red flag demonstrations in the Nevsky Prospect yesterday afternoon drew out immense crowds of spectators, but a squadron of gendarmes and Cossacks drove the demonstrators away without resorting to force. There were no disturbances in the industrial quarter of the city.

A strike of printers has been declared in the Government of Saratoff, and no newspapers are being printed. A bomb was thrown yesterday, but there were no fatalities.

Bomb Throwers Shoot Three Policemen

Warsaw, Oct. 16.—A bomb was thrown yesterday at the villa of an English manufacturer. The cook and gardener were killed and the house was damaged. The bomb-throwers then fled, pursued by the police. When close pressed the fugitives turned, shot and killed three policemen, and then escaped.

Will Isolate Prisoners.

Vladivostock, Oct. 16.—Barracks are being constructed at Egersheld, a suburb, and arrangements are being made to receive prisoners there. It is desired to keep prisoners entirely isolated from the population. Special baths are being built and winter clothing for 60,000 men is to be brought here.

HUNGRY MEN'S DESPERATION.

Thousand Laborers Invade Market Place—Troops Sent For.

Seveille, Spain, Oct. 16.—Over a thousand farm laborers, made desperate by the existing famine, invaded the market place at Ecija, 48 miles from Seveille, Saturday, seized the entire stock of food and money, destroyed the market, and threw the town into a panic.

The authorities hastily applied for military relief.

Earl Minto's Departure.

London, Oct. 16.—It is stated that the Earl of Minto has now decided to leave for Marseilles on November 3, and the new viceroy will therefore not reach India until Nov. 17, rather more than a week after the Prince and Princess of Wales arrive at Bombay. Lt.-Col. J. R. Dunlop Smith of the Indian army has been appointed private secretary to Lord Minto and will accompany him to India.

With Intent to Kill.

Stratford, Oct. 16.—George Haynes, a non-unionist Grand Trunk workman, employed in the shops here, has been charged with assaulting his wife with intent to kill.

Termination Of Accident Was Fatal

Senator Fulford Dies of Injuries Received a Week Ago.

AN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Was One of Canada's Greatest Business Men—Family Settled In Ontario In the Eighteenth Century — Public Services and Beneficence In Brockville—Fortune of $5,000,000—Funeral on Wednesday.

Newton, Mass., Oct. 16.—Senator Fulford peacefully passed away at 3.23 yesterday afternoon. He was unconscious towards the end.

Senator Fulford's injuries, which were at first regarded as slight, developed into the paralysis of the vital organs, and for the past two days there was no hope of his recovery.

The accident occurred on Walnut-street in this city on Sunday afternoon

SENATOR FULFORD.

last, the automobile in which Senator Fulford was riding with William T. Hanson of Schenectady, N.Y., coming in collision with an electric car, The entire party, including the chauffeur, Louis Zeriax of Albany, N.Y., were thrown out. Zeriax died three days later, but Hanson escaped without serious injury. The body will be taken to Canada to-day.

The News at Brockville.

Brockville, Oct. 16.—The town is plunged in deep grief last night on receipt of the despatch announcing the passing away of Senator Fulford at Newton, Mass. Bulletins have been received periodically ever since his condition became serious, and not once was there anything encouraging. His death was expected, and a message came last evening, announcing that the end had come at 3 p. m. yesterday. As soon as the bulletins appeared, hundreds thronged the streets and the sad news was soon spread to every part of the town. Senator Fulford's death will be a great loss to the town, for since the completion of his magnificent home here he had been considering several projects for the public benefit in Brockville, and another season would probably have seen them carried out.

An Old Ontario Family.

The Fulford family is one of the oldest in all this county, and settled in Elizabethtown many years before the dawn of the nineteenth century. Of Norman descent, the name was originally spelled Fullofoude, afterwards being condensed to Fulford. Jonathan Fulford, Jr., was born at Waterbury, Conn., in 1771 and came to this country with his father in 1783, settling on lot 28 in the first concession of Elizabethtown, his father dying at the age of ninety years. The wife of Jonathan, Jr., was Nancy Brown, born 1780, and died 1855. Jonathan Fulford, Jr., had in his family several sons, one of whom was Abel. Abel's son Hiram married Martha Harris, and their family consisted of Mrs. McNish, Mrs. Hitchcock, William, James, John and George T. Of these William and James and now George T. have passed away. George T. was born in Brockville, August 8th, 1852, and on January 20th, 1880, married Mary Wilder White, daughter of Dr. Henry White of Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin. Besides the widow he leaves three children, Mrs. Arthur C. Hardy, Miss Fulford and Master George.

His Public Services.

Senator Fulford always took an interest in public affairs, and for twelve years was a member of the Town Council, ten of which he was chairman of the Finance Committee, and it is universally conceded that he was one of the most careful members that ever sat at the board. He also served as Water Commissioner. On January 29, 1900, he was made a Senator, and his extensive travel and world-wide business connection made him a very useful member of that body. He was also a member of several clubs in Europe, the United States and Canada, and an Oddfellow and a Freemason. He was a Methodist, and the beautiful altar and pulpit in Wall Street Church are examples of his beneficence.

Great Commercial Success.

Senator Fulford's phenomenal success in the commercial world, which he entered as a retail druggist, was the comment of more than one continent, and marked him as one of the keenest business men of the century. To his friends he was genial and kind, and the welfare and happiness of his family seemed his greatest care. His winters were spent abroad, and his summers on the St. Lawrence, where very often on his yacht he entertained not only his friends but distinguished guests from all parts of the world, and in this way he did much to bring the beauties of the Thousand Islands to the attention of people in all countries. The members of his family were with him at the end, and the remains will be brought here for interment, accompanied by his son-in-law, A. C. Hardy, Dr. Cornell and W. T. Hanson, who was with him at the time of the accident. The funeral will take place here Wednesday at 3 p. m.

Fortune is $5,000,000.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Senator Fulford's advice in business matters was frequently sought, and he was a director of the Toronto General Trusts corporation, the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., the Frost & Wood Co. and the James Smart Manufacturing Co. His attendance at the meetings of these boards, as well as his own business affairs, gave him a wide acquaintance with the leading men of Canada, many of whom evinced their concern for his welfare by inquiries since his accident. A press despatch from Brockville estimates the value of the late Senator's estate at $5,000,000. It is interesting to note that much of the care of his business lately has devolved upon his son-in-law, Mr. Arthur C. Hardy, who is a son of the late Hon. A. S. Hardy.

TRIBUTES TO IRVING.

Last Words of the Tragedian Those Spoken By Becket As He Dies, "Into Thy Hands, Oh Lord!"

London, Oct. 16.—Seldom has the death of a public man in England called out such a universal expression of sorrow as has followed the tragically sudden death of Sir Henry Irving at Bradford Friday night. Appreciations, histories of his career and stories of his many-sided activities, fill the newspapers. His last words on the stage as the curtain was rung down on the death of Becket, "Into thy hands, oh Lord, into thy hands," were practically the last he uttered, as he never spoke after his collapse in the hall of the hotel, where he died.

Flags are half-masted over the town hall and other public buildings at Bradford, and telegrams are pouring in from all parts of the country.

In view of the doctor's certificate, the coroner has decided that an inquest is not necessary. No definite funeral arrangements have been made, but the family is understood to desire to have them as simple as possible.

Royalty's Sympathy.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra, through Gen. Dwighton MacNaghten Probyn, keeper of the privy purse and extra equerry to the King yesterday sent a message of sympathy to the family of Sir Henry Irving, in which their Majesties say:

"He will indeed be a great loss to the profession of which he was such a distinguished member."

Messages of sympathy have been received from President Roosevelt and Director Jules Claretie on behalf of the Comedie Francaise.

In Westminster Abbey.

It is likely that Sir Henry Irving will be buried in Westminster Abbey, in the poets' corner where lie the bodies of Garrick, Mrs. Siddons and other theatrical celebrities.

A meeting will be held in London today, at which a proposition for a national memorial will take shape. It is understood to be extremely probable that Sir Charles Wyndham will propose the endowment of a national theatre in Sir Henry's name.

THE BARTON WOODS MURDER.

No Clue Yet to Identity — Detective Greer Begins Work.

Hamilton, Oct. 16.—The chances are that the victim of the Barton murder will have to be placed nameless into a grave. Blachford & Son say that they will not be able to keep the body longer than Tuesday. On account of the autopsy they were not able to embalm it. Many more attempts have made yesterday to identify the dead woman, but all were unsuccessful. The crime still attracts a great deal of interest, and the bush were it was committed was visited by thousands yesterday. About the only thing the police have been able to do is to get more information and better descriptions of the principals of the tragedy.

Detective Greer, who put Saturday afternoon in on the case, returned to Toronto Saturday night. It is supposed that he is making an effort to identify the victim by communicating with places outside of the city. Until that is accomplished, he has little hope of finding out who the murderer is.

John S. Gordon in Jail.

Buffalo, Oct. 16.—The Courier says: At the jail, with only a hard board for a bed, and subsisting on the ordinary jail fare, is John S. Gordon, brother of the Rev. Charles W. Gordon of Winnipeg, Man., who as Ralph Connor, the author of "Sky Pilot," "The Man From Glengarry," and several other novels, is known throughout the country. Gordon is a prisoner because he passed a draft drawn on his brother for $15 on a Buffalo saloon-keeper. The latter alleges the paper is worthless, while Gordon says his brother told him to draw on him whenever he needed money. The case was adjourned in the Police Court Saturday until Tuesday to give Gordon time to communicate with his brother.

Yellow Fever Spreads.

Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 16.—Six new cases and two deaths was the rather unfavorable yellow fever report for the 24 hours ending at 6 p. m. yesterday.

Natchez, Miss., Oct. 16.—Seven new cases of yellow fever were reported yesterday and six of these are white patients.

Eleven Villages Destroyed.

Elizabethpool, Russia, Oct. 16.—Hostilities have broken out between Tartars and Armenians in the surrounding districts and bands of them are firing on each other in villages. Two Armenian and nine Tartar villages have already been destroyed.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Port Burwell Breakwater," will be received at this office until Friday, November 3, 1905, inclusively, for the construction of a Breakwater at Port Burwell, in the County of Elgin, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the Resident Engineer, Confederation Life Building, Toronto, at the office of the Resident Engineer, London, Ont., on application to the Postmaster at Port Burwell, Ont., and at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

THE ANCIENT CAPITAL

PICTURESQUE QUEBEC A CITY FULL OF HUMAN INTEREST.

Topographical Nomenclature First Introduction to the Old-New World in Which the Visitor Finds Himself—Quaint Names Suit the Many Places Made Famous by Their Historical Associations—Magnificent Situation.

Speaking of England, the accomplished author of that admirable book for boys, "Tom Brown's School Days," says, "I only know two neighborhoods thoroughly, and in each, within reach of five miles, there's enough of interest and beauty to last any reasonable man his life." The latter of these two propositions is emphatically true of Quebec; and this for either of two reasons, namely, its historical associations and the magnificence of the surrounding scenery. Perhaps in the whole Dominion there is no place so full of interest as the City of Quebec and hence it is no traveler who comes to see our country ever thinks of going away without spending at least a few days in the Ancient Capital.

Should he come from the west, probably the first thing that strikes him after he has entered the lower Province is what may be called its topographical nomenclature, so different to that to which he has been accustomed; for, though he may have been familiar with many of those names when he was a school boy, he has never heard them used in ordinary everyday conversation. He knows very well, it may be, such names at Cat Lake and Jack Lake, but in the Province of Quebec, he can sail over Lake St. John and Lake St. Joseph; Cut Knife Creek and Smoky River may sound in his ears like the names of old friends, but in the east he hears people speaking of the Rivers St. Maurice and St. Charles; Sulphur Island and Goat Island he may have visited, but the French-Canadian tells him of the Magdalen Islands and the Island of Jesus. he finds a strange contrast between the appellatives Yellow Head, Kicking Horse and Rat Portage on the one hand, and St. Vincent, St. Louis and St. Croix on the other.

Moreover, besides names connected with the Christian religion, he finds others which perpetuate on this side the Atlantic the memory of many an illustrious old house in France and many a place famous in her history. Now if he is a thoughtful man he will probably muse within himself something after this fashion:

"Those old French settlers in Canada certainly seem to have been very religious men and deeply attached to their native country. At any rate, if religion and patriotism were not their two dominant thoughts, they seem to have been most in their minds after they came across the ocean, and found themselves in a strange land and amongst a heathen and savage people. How else can we account for their giving to mountains and valleys, lakes and streams, villages and towns, names woven into the very history of Christianity or identical with those of famous places and noble families in old France? We, of another race and of a later age, give no such names to places now, and are to often guided in our choice by the irreligious, or materialistic, or plutocratic spirit of the times in which we live."

The next thing that strikes the visitor to the ancient capital, especially if he comes by way of the St. Lawrence, is its commanding situation; the next, the strength of its fortifications. As he passes from bastion to bastion, and looks down upon the river, so far below, where the British ships lay at anchor in the summer of 1759, he cannot but be amazed at the military genius of the man who succeeded in taking such a seemingly impregnable fortress, and that, too, in spite of an army as brave as his own and commanded by a general no less gallant than himself. Perchance he gives a sigh to the memory of Wolfe and Montcalm; and when he sees the monument, one monument, which commemorates both of these great men, he thinks nothing could be more appropriate than the inscription there engraved: "Virtus mortem communem; famam historia; posteritas monumentum dedit."

It might be supposed that owing to the vast improvements effected in the fortifications of the city as military science became more and more developed, Quebec could not be taken to-day. But it should be borne in mind that the development of offensive weapons has kept pace pari passu with that of defensive weapons; and that, therefore, the taking of the citadel would now be an achievement no greater than that which was accomplished by Wolfe on the memorable 13th day of September, 1759. The truth, however, seems to be that Quebec had to be taken by stratagem rather than by force; and if ever taken again it must be by similar tactics. It is not likely indeed that such an attempt will ever be made; so far as can be seen Quebec must ever remain the Gibraltar of the western world.

To the present generation Quebec remains a monument, a somewhat pathetic monument, of the days of the old regime. No one endowed with any sensibility to the tragedy of human life, who realises that suffering must attend every step upward to a higher level than before, who knows that sacrifice is an essential condition of progress, but must feel a sort of sadness as he gazes upon the few remaining memorials of the past life of the old city, and as he looks down upon the broad expanse of the majestic stream below his thoughts go back to the days of the intrepid Cartier, and he wonders if the adventurous Commodore of St. Malo, as he entered the river in 1535, and sailed to old Hochelaga, ever dreamed of what picturesque villages and stately cities would, in the distant future, adorn the banks of this magnificent highway into the interior of British America. The brave explorer can never have imagined that Britain would one day reign supreme over the land he had discovered, as he reared the cross and crown on Hochelaga's heights. He no doubt believed he was planting a new France in the new world which would in days to come bless the continent with the religion of the land of the "fleur-de-lis and cross," her advanced civilization her arts and sciences, her energy and industry, her enterprise and valor. Oh, the irony of the muse of history. Still, however, notwithstanding British rule, Quebec affords striking evidences touching evidences, that Cartier's countrymen were its first settlers and its original rulers.

Since these old days many a change has taken place, and as a rule, each change has been an improvement on what had been before. Thus, the modern English architecture, and even the modern French architecture, present a remarkable contrast to the old dwellings that are still to be seen, whilst many of the civic buildings of the past days have been replaced by structures which would do credit to a city of ten times the population. No finer promenade can be found in the whole of Canada than the Dufferin Terrace, looking seawards, from which the scene that presents itself to view, possesses characteristics—here a beauty, there a sublimity — which are perhaps unrivalled, as they are certainly unsurpassed, by any other landscape on the continent.

Across the river lies the odd-looking, old-fashioned town of Point Levis. A little to the east, in the arms of the river, is the beautifully green Island of Orleans. To the left is the sinuous course of the River St. Charles and the broad, beautiful fertile valley of the St. Charles, dotted with villages and little white houses of the Canadian farmer. In the distance the Laurentian Mountains tower towards the sky, clear and distinct in the noonday sun. The works of nature here are truly on the grandest scale and possess unspeakable charms. What incentives there are for the artist's pencil. What splendid natural defences, and what battlegrounds quickly thinks the military man.

Within easy distance of the city are many places of note. It has been said that when one has seen the Saugenay River he has virtually seen a Norwegian fjord. Then, en route by river, one finds such picturesque places as Les Eboulement, Bay St. Paul, Murray Bay, Riviere du Loup, Cap l'Aigle, Tadousac, Ha! Ha! Bay, Chicoutimi and Roberval. There is also the grand and impressive scenery of the Laurentian range, through which the Quebec and Lake St. John Railroad has penetrated at a great altitude, on its way to the romantic Lake St. John, where the Saugenay has its source. Nearer Quebec there is Jeune Lorette, with its beautiful cascade and otherwise remarkable as the home of the Huron Indians. There are also delightful Lake St. Joseph, primitive but beautiful Lake Beauport; the Falls of Montmorenci, and Kent House, with its parks, menagerie and Natural Steps, and the picturesque Island of Orleans, a short distance by boat. Of course one would not pass by Ste. Anne du Beaupre) a shrine which has such a reputation as being the scene of wonderful works of healing, that it has drawn and continues to draw, millions of devout pilgrims and others from all parts of the continent.—Bryon Nicholson, in The Toronto Sunday World.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

Doubt Expressed Concerning the Recovery of Senator Fulford.

Newton, Mass., Oct. 14.—The condition of Senator George T. Fulford of Brockville, Ont., who was injured Sunday in an auto accident, in which his chauffeur received fatal injuries, was not encouraging last night. At the Newton Hospital, where the Senator lies, it was stated he was steadily losing ground, and that his condition was critical. The extent of Senator Fulford's injuries had not been definitely determined by the attending physicians, but it is believed that he is hurt internally. The Senator's recovery is considered doubtful.

Three Officials Dismissed.

London, Oct. 14.—Daniel McKenzie, William Noble and William O'Neil were notified last night of their dismissal. McKenzie was storekeeper for 12 years, Noble was painter, and O'Neil stoker on the insane asylum staff.

For Anaemia You Must Have Iron

And Anyone Can Use Iron, as it is Combined With Other Ingredients in

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Anaemia or bloodlessness is indicated by paleness of the lips, the gums and the eyelids, and is most frequently found in girls and young women.

Other symptoms are deficient appetite, impaired digestion, irritable temper, shortness of breath, dizziness, fainting, headache, easily fatigued, depression and despondency.

The blood is lacking in the life-sustaining power which is necessary to the proper working of the bodily organs and can only be restored by the use of iron as any qualified physician will tell you.

But iron alone cannot be taken into a weak stomach. In Dr. Chase's Nerve Food iron is combined with certain nerve restoratives in such a way as to be easily assimilated into the blood, and thus afford immediate and lasting benefit to the system.

And more than this, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, through its action on the nerves, sharpens the appetite and aids digestion so that help is also afforded in deriving the full nourishment from the food taken into the body.

On account of these two ways in which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the system, it is beyond doubt the most effective treatment of anaemia and similar wasting diseases that was ever compounded. Note your increase in weight while using it.

Mrs. M. A. McCree, Tory Hill, Ont., writes: "My system was all run down when I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was weak and very nervous and felt so tired and worn out that I could scarcely drag myself about the house. It seemed impossible for me to get rest or sleep at night and I felt that I was gradually growing weaker and more nervous and irritable. Since beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I feel altogether different. It has gradually strengthened my nerves and built up my system wonderfully. I sleep well now, and am being thoroughly restored to health and strength. I believe it is the best medicine to be had for the nerves."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous recipe book author, is on every box.

VICTORIA FALLS.

One of the Most Beautiful Spectacles in the World.

There is a fine description of Victoria Falls in the Zambesi River in E. F. Knight's "South Africa After the War." The author says: "The nature of the extraordinary volcanic fissure that created the falls cannot easily be realised without reference to a map, but at the point under consideration the mighty Zambesi flows, roughly, from north to south. At about half a mile above the falls the river is a mile and a half in breadth. Then it contracts, and the breadth at the falls themselves is a little over a mile, or, to be exact, 1,936 yards. And here, to one looking over the edge, the great river seems suddenly to come to an end, no continuation of its channel being visible. The Zambesi for its whole mile of breadth thunders down precipitously into a comparatively narrow, profound trench or canyon, which extends at right angles to the river's course from shore to shore. Beyond the falls one is faced by the perpendicular wall of the canyon. Below the madly whirling spray obscures the view of the bottom of the canyon, and it seems as if the whole mighty flood were falling into the centre of the earth through this awful chasm. But the river has its exit, a precipitous cleft, only ten yards in breadth, near the eastern end of the canyon, through which the whole of the contracted Zambesi rushes with incredible speed, fury and confusion, forming at this point what is called the Boiling Pot, surely one of this earth's most terrific scenes.

"I believe," the author adds, "that on that day I was gazing at the most perfectly beautiful spectacle of all this beautiful world. It was the lovely tenderness of the rich coloring, bathed in that translucent atmosphere of thin, pearly haze, rather than the awful majesty of the scene that impressed one. At our feet, far below, the raging flood thundered away down the canyon to the exit in the misty distance. On our left the line of the cataract, plunging into the swirling spray beneath, was clearly visible for some way out with its white avalanches and coruscating spray, and then gradually became less distinct in the thin haze until at last far off beyond Livingstone island it disappeared from our vision in the luminous pearl-like mist that formed the background to all the landscape.

"On our right, facing the cataract, loomed the 500 foot high wall of the canyon, topped by the lush green Rain forest with its ever dripping branches. And as we looked new wonders became gradually revealed to our wondering gaze. I began to perceive in nooks of the black precipices halfway down strange plants growing, as in happy confidence, their fragile rainbow hued blossoms ever shaking in the wind and driving spray, but safe and unharmed amid this eternal storm. And down the black cliff wall on my right I saw hundreds of tiny white streamlets pouring, formed by the returning spray from the Rain forest. And as I watched them I discovered a strange thing.

"These falling streams never reached the bottom of the chasm. They dropped into little cascades to about a third of the way down, and then, as if defying the laws of gravity, they literally turned round and came back again, mounting vertically. It was curious to see these cascades, after breaking into spray, appear to hesitate and falter and then begin to rise, first slowly, but soon rapidly, shooting upward in whirling foam columns and feathery fountains, being carried up by the fitful blasts of cold air that the dropping cataract forced out of the narrow chasm into which it thundered."

Kleptomaniac M. P.'s.

A mysterious outbreak of kleptomania has invaded the House of Commons. The origin of the disease has been traced to a case which happened two or three weeks ago, when six cakes of House of Commons soap were found bulging out of a legislator's coat pocket.

Since then the malady has spread with alarming persistency. One member of Parliament, who in a fit of mental abstraction took a pair of hair-brushes stamped with the royal arms, was taken before the sergeant-at-arms and gently admonished, but even then the disease was not exterminated.

Table napkins have been mysteriously spirited away by one overworked legislator, while another unconsciously took somebody else's check book.

Recently the kleptomaniacs have confined their attention to silk hats, and so many have disappeared that some members now think it necessary to put skullcaps in their pockets as a safeguard against going home bare-headed.

Every night now when the cry is raised of "Who goes home?" it is found that there are not enough hats to go around.—London Express.

A Carnegie Story.

Andrew Carnegie tells this as one of his experiences at Skibo: Soon after he had bought Skibo there was a circus exhibiting in the neighborhood of the castle, and one of the main attractions was an orang outang. One night the orang outang got out, fell over the cliff and was killed. In the morning two of the keepers looking over the grounds ran across the body of the dead orang outang. One of them scratched his head and said, "He ain't no 'llander, that's sure." The other said: "He ain't no lowlander. They aint got that much hair on 'em.' After awhile one of them proposed to the other as follows:

"I'll go up to the kirk and see the parson, and you go up to Mr. Carnegie and see if any of his American gentry are missing."

Octogenarian Peers.

Lord Field, who has but one senior in the House of Lords—Lord Gwydyr, who is 96—entered his 93rd year recently. Fifty-five years have elapsed since his lordship became a barrister at the Inner Temple, and from 1875 to 1890, when he retired, he was a member of the judicial bench. The next oldest peers are the Earl of Cranbrook, who will be 91 in October; Lord Masham, 91 in January next; Lord Brampton, 88 in September; the Duke of Rutland, 87 in December; the Duke of Grafton, who is just 84, and the Earl of Leicester, who will be 83 on Boxing Day.—London Daily Graphic.

Ontario's $7,000,000 Loan.

Toronto, Oct. 14.—Word has been received from Hon. Col. Matheson, who is in England negotiating for the renewal of the Temiskaming Railway loan, that he has arranged for the renewal of the loan by the Bank of Montreal.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENT.

To Brutal Murderer Or His Victim, Whose Body Was Found in Barton Woods.

Hamilton, Oct. 14.—The simple truth about the murder case yesterday is that there is not one new development. The police have not one good clue to the identity of either the victim or the murderer. Crown Attorney Washington yesterday applied to the Attorney-General's department for a Provincial officer, and he was notified last night that a detective would be on the job in the morning.

Trembled With Terror.

Daniel Cotter, proprietor of the hotel on the mountain, says that a man answering the description of the murderer walked into his place Wednesday night, and asked for a drink. When he was shown a paper containing the news of the tragedy, he trembled with terror and shoved it away from him. It does not seem probable, however, that the man who committed the crime would hang around the neighborhood.

The missing hat has not yet been located. It is described as being a red turban, with red pom poms.

Mrs. Wilson, who lives near the scene of the tragedy, says she saw a man walking away from that direction Monday shortly before noon. He carried a coat on his arm and held a parcel wrapped in a newspaper in one hand. Roy Dawson, a teamster, followed the same man to the Mountain View Hotel, where he disappeared.

THE FINES WERE BIG.

Otter Valley Church Scandal Probed By County Magistrate Hunt.

St. Thomas, Oct. 14.—County Magistrate Hunt at Port Burwell Thursday investigated the Otter Valley Baptist Church scandal, following a feud between the pastor, Rev. Wm. Walker, and his supporters, and an opposing faction headed by Deacon Thomas McCurdy.

The evidence showed that the fight had been rather furious in which blood flowed.

Magistrate Hunt expressed his regret at the disgraceful occurrence. "No one deplores it more than I do," said Mr. Walker.

Benjamin Grandsen, one of the principals in the church fight, was fined $30 and $16.50 costs, Deacon Thomas McCurdy was fined $20 and $16.30 costs, Deacon Thomas Harvey, was fined $10 and $16.30 costs, and George Walker, the pastor's son, was fined $5 without costs, the magistrate taking his age into account.

The trial was marked, to use Magistrate Hunt's own words, by "some of the tallest swearing he ever heard," and he asserts that "the evidence in whiskey cases was nothing compared to it."

Rough Rider Fined.

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—Ovide Lafleur of the Rough Riders' football team was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate O'Keefe yesterday for assaulting Charlie Flannery of St. Patrick's team in last Saturday's match.

DR. OSLER WITH HIS PUPILS.

Begins Work At Guy's and Speaks of Sir Thomas Browne.

London, Oct. 14.—(C.A.P.)—Thursday at Guy's Hospital was the first meeting of Dr. Osler with his pupils. The Physical Society dinner to Prof. Osler was followed by his address on "Some Reminiscences of Sir Thomas Browne." Sir Samuel Wilkes said the occasion was historical, a date of imperial significance, as Dr. Osler was the first representative of Great Britain whom Oxford had called from overseas to fill the physical chair. This was Dr. Osler's first lecture in London, as Regius Professor of Medicine at the University of Oxford.

Stricken With Paralysis

Mrs. W. R. Sutherland, St. Andrews, Man., writes: "I was stricken with paralysis, and lost power of the tongue and leg. For six the tongue and leg. For six months I obtained no relief either by doctor's prescriptions or other medicines. My husband got me Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which has revitalised my nerves and given me full power of the paralyzed parts. I am strong and well now, thanks to this great medicine."

Missing Girl Located.

Chatham, Oct. 14.—Mary Kate Millward, who has been missing for three days, was located yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Clark, in Harwich Township. The girl begged for her father and the police not to take her home, but to permit her to remain where she was. She said she was frightened of her stepmother. She said that just after her father's departure early Wednesday her stepmother had cruelly beaten her and refused to let her go to school. She left her and escaped by a downstairs window.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SWEDE-NORSE TREATY PASSES.

Adopts National Flag With Yellow Cross and Blue Ground.

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 14.—Both Houses of Parliament yesterday unanimously adopted the Government bill providing for the ratification of the Karlstad treaty. There was no debate in the Lower House, and the criticism in the Senate was confined to one or two speakers, who alleged that too much consideration had been shown for Norway by the Swedish delegates.

At last night's session Parliament was asked to approve of the new Swedish flag for use immediately after King Oscar notifies the powers of Sweden's recognition of Norway's independence. The flag will be a yellow cross on a blue ground, the same as existed prior to 1844, the union mark now showing in the upper left corner being eliminated.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, residing upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Kingston Election Counter-Petition—Conservatives File 176 Charges—Against Pense—Some Particulars.

Kingston, Oct. 16.—The charges in connection with the Liberals' counter-petition against Mr. McIntyre were sent to Toronto yesterday for filing, and will be served on Monday. They contain some sensations.

The Conservative Charges.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—The particulars in the Kingston election petition of Donald Malcolm McIntyre were filed at Osgoode Hall Saturday. There are 176 charges, mostly for giving money and valuable consideration to secure the election of the respondent, E. J. B. Pense.

Against John H. Harty, secretary of the Canadian Locomotive Words, is registered the charge that he "did on and before polling day, at the City of Kingston, advance and pay money to various persons unknown, to the intent that such money or some part thereof, should be expended in bribery at said election."

Hon. William Harty heads a list of twenty-five who are accused of subscribing money "for the purpose of being expended in bribery and corrupt and illegal hiring of horses." The money said to have been paid to numerous agents of the respondent.

One of the accused is William Asselstine, who acted as sworn agent of the respondent at subdivision 19, Rideau ward.

Against Richard H. Toye are seventeen charges of corruptly hiring teams.

Samuel S. Corbett, an undertaker, is charged with too much activity, in furnishing 32 men with inducements to vote; in 19 of which "drink and refreshments" was the seductive agent, while money is said to have done the trick in others.

One insurance agent, W. J. Fair, is charged with corrupting the political morals of Wah Long, a laundryman. Others charged number about fifty.

CABINET CHANGES.

Sir Mulock Out, and Mr. Aylesworth, K. C., Postmaster-General.

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—Sir William Mulock is now a member of the Judiciary of Canada. At Saturday's Cabinet meeting his resignation as Postmaster-General was accepted and he was appointed Chief Justice of the Exchequer Division of the Ontario High

HON. A. B. AYLESWORTH, K.C.

Court. Orders in Council were passed appointing Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., Postmaster-General, and Mr. P. E. Wilson of Nelson, B.C., a County Judge of Kootenay. Mr. Aylesworth will be sworn in as Postmaster-General to-day. He, in company with the other Ministers, will attend the dinner which Sir Wilfrid Laurier will give to-night in honor of Sir William. The employes of the Postoffice Department have embodied their regret at Sir William's retirement in an address which they will present to him to-day or on Tuesday. The existing vacancy in the Ontario Court of Appeal will probably be filled by the promotion of Mr. Justice R. M. Meredith, Mr. F. H. Chrysler, K.C., of Ottawa, will then get his place on the High Court.

CROWN ATTORNEY IS SUED.

Senator Merner Wants $10,000 For Alleged Slander.

Berlin, Oct 16.—County Crown Attorney Ward H. Bowlby, K. C., of Berlin, was Saturday morning served with a writ, issued on behalf of Senator Merner of Berlin, claiming $10,000 for alleged slander.

The slander is said to have been contained in words used by Bowlby to the effect that Senator Merner had taken poison with intent to kill.

Will Wait a Month.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The view prevails in officials quarters that a month may elapse before a decision is reached as to what steps shall be taken against Venesuela. Despite the denial of the Ministry of Marine, The Patrie reiterates the statement that a naval division consisting of the cruisers De Saix, Lavoisier and Chasseloup-Laubet is preparing for a demonstration in Venesuela waters.

Armenians Accused of Fraud.

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—G. A. C. David, Azesclea Armscogo, Denial Unatar and Nicola Yeman, Assyrians, garbed in priestly gown, were arrested yesterday, and will be accused of obtaining money under false pretences. They have been begging for the Armenian Church and are alleged to be fakirs. They had $400 when arrested.

Lake Temagami Islands.

At a meeting of the Cabinet recently definite arrangements were made regarding the disposition of the Islands of Lake Temagami, in the Temiskaming district. No more of the islands, of which there are many hundreds, will be sold, the Government's policy being to lease them for a term of twenty-one years at fixed rentals to be paid annually.

In cases where there is competition for the islands the parties offering the largest bonuses for the privilege of rental will get the islands they are after. Full details of the plan, with maps of the islands, will be published, so that all interested may have an equal chance to become lessees. Several of the larger islands will be retained for public park purposes for all time.

It was also decided that camping will not be allowed on the main shore of the lake, which is heavily wooded, owing to the danger of forest fires resulting from that practice.

KAISER'S DRASTIC ACTION

Sensational Story of International Intrigues—Figaro's Mention of the Name of Lord Lansdowne Makes the Matter of Alleged Anglo-French Alliance Against Germany Embarrassing.

Cologne, Oct. 14.—The Cologne Gazette prints another inspired despatch from Berlin apropos of the Figaro's additions to The Matin's story, which can only be interpreted as a plain hint to the British Government to explain its role in the matter. The despatch notes that, while The Matin's version only gave ground for the assumption that the suggested alliance of France and Great Britain against Germany had an official character, The Figaro's version confirms this assumption by giving the names of parties, and says that this makes the case against M. Delcasse all the stronger.

Embarrassing For Britain.

The mention of the name of Lord Lansdowne, the British Foreign Secretary, in connection with the matter sheds upon the story an embarrassing light for Great Britain, according to the despatch, which says: "It is exceedingly repugnant to us to regard British statesmen like Premier Balfour and Foreign Minister Lansdowne as capable of such a game, but if such revelations are repeated and remain uncontradicted one cannot avoid growing more and more sceptical about the matter. The question arises as to how it was possible that French statesmen, who were undoubtedly men to be taken seriously, could have believed there was an offer of a British alliance if no adequate basis existed for such an exceedingly serious matter."

Another Sensational Story.

Paris, Oct. 14.—The French Government continues silent concerning the alleged revelations of Great Britain's offer of naval and military aid to France if Germany assumed a belligerent attitude over Morocco. In the meantime the newspapers add new phases to the disclosures. The Figaro gives a detailed version even more sensational than the previous alleged disclosures of The Matin. It says that the previous report of Great Britain offering to mobilize her navy and land British troops in Germany is not correct, but that the actual occurrence was as follows:

The Figaro's Story.

Before the Moroccan crisis became acute the British Government made three distinct overtures to learn if France was disposed to conclude a treaty of defensive alliance. France declined to consider the question. Later when the Moroccan crisis became acute M. Paul Cambon, the French Ambassador to Great Britain, re-opened the question and obtained a verbal assurance from Foreign Secretary Lansdowne of Great Britain's effective concourse in the event of a conflagration. M. Carbon was thereupon able to announce to M. Delcasse (who was then Foreign Minister), that if a casus feoderis (case coming within a treaty) was desired Great Britain would reiterate her assurance in writing. The German Ambassador in London, Count Wolff-Metternich, learned of these assurances and informed Berlin. Emperor William decided on a counter move and made Italy the medium of its execution. He informed Italy that any treaty whereby Great Britain gave France military support relative to Morocco would constitute a casus belli,

An Indirect Ultimatum.

Figaro asserts that this amounted to an indirect ultimatum, and that the Italian Government communicated the situation to M. Barrere, the French Ambassador to Italy, who informed Paris June 4. Immediately thereafter M. Delcasse resigned (June 6) as a result of a violent scene in a Cabinet Council. During this council M. Delcasse is alleged to have said:

"I have a formal assurance of Great Britain's support."

Premier Rouvier is represented as answering: "And I have M. Barrere's telegram proving that this means war if we continue your policy. I refuse to endorse what you seem to treat so lightly."

The other Ministers are said to have upheld M. Rouvier, whereupon M. Delcasse resigned.

Why It Is Important.

The foregoing version is chiefly important in the allegation that Great Britain sought for and promised a military defensive alliance against Germany.

Later a semi-official note was issued, saying that the "published reports upon the incidents accompanying the resignation of Mr. Delcasse, and notably the details regarding the Cabinet Council preceding his resignation are inexact." The issuance of this denial steadied prices on the bourse, which showed uneasiness over the agitation.

Britain Assured Kaiser.

London, Oct. 14.—With reference to The Paris Matin's alleged disclosures, the Associated Press is authoritatively informed that the British Government does not intend to issue a formal statement on the subject, but the Associated Press is in a position to announce on high authority that the British Government has communicated to Germany a statement to the effect that Great Britain did not offer to assist France in the event of an attack by Germany, and that France did not ask for such assistance.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

HARD TO SATISFY.

Alas, the days of June have fled,
The days of which the poets write,
So rare that they are often red,
Save when a snowstorm makes them white.
Some moon eyed, crack brained youths may love 'em;
I'm glad there's only thirty of 'em.

The hammer drops—last call and out!
Now those who did not draw a bride
Should mope not with a schoolboy pout,
Because the world of love is wide,
And Mamie with the icy eye
May reconsider in July.

The firecracker month is here,
For which the world was longing—nit!
With grouchy, ancient ones I fear
That it will make a left hand hit.
They wish all things that boom and toot
Would go way off and shoot the chute.

When June was doing iceman stunts
We thought a little heat would please;
We now discover all at once
It's just a torture and a tease.
To nothing is a man resigned;
He always wants the other kind.

In winter he would like it hot;
In summer, then for cold he sighs
And reaches out for what is not
As though it really were a prize.
Man, though we do not like to score you,
We'd hate to mix your weather for you.

Let the Dead Past Stay Dead.

Let bygones be bygones. Don't make the mistake of telling your wife that you remember well the beautiful auburn tressed girl that used to make your heart go flippety-flop on the Fourth of July and at the county fair, where she would appear attired in a simple white muslin frock artlessly encircled by a brilliant green ribbon which she supposed brought out the flaming lights on her shining fleece and incidentally showed up to good advantage the freckles on her nose and the sunburn on her hands.

We say don't do it, for the wife of your heart might dreamily murmur, "How sad that you see the beautiful vision only in memory," and you are likely to spend the rest of the week figuring on what she meant or if she meant anything, and if she didn't why she didn't, because you will think it looks suspicious if she didn't, so you had better forget it.

Among Those Present.

"Does he cut much ice in public affairs?"

"None at all. Say, he is of about as much importance in a town meeting as the bridegroom at a June wedding."

Inseparable.

The law and the prophets
Once ruled o'er the land;
The law and the profits
Still walk hand in hand.

Natural to Them.

"He claims to have conversed with spirits."

"What language did they talk?"

"One of the dead languages, I presume."

More Subtle Revenge.

"It always seemed so silly to build a 'spite' fence."

"Yes, particularly when you can buy a phonograph for less money."

Where to Find Genius.

"Some consider him a greater poet than Shakespeare."

"What brand of soap does he write advertisements for."

Good Idea.

It would beyond a question
Save many precious lives
To boil our firecrackers
Before the Fourth arrives.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It keeps most of us so busy earning a living that we have no time to make any use of life.

Tiresome people are those who get the best of the argument and insist on indulging in their victory.

A man seldom proposes to a woman unless he feels dead sure that she will accept him.

Decorating the ceiling is one form of high art.

The man who feels his oats has not necessarily had oatmeal for breakfast.

Lazy folks wouldn't mind work if it were not so much trouble.

It takes heroic fortitude on the part of the summer girl to abstain from eating ice cream, but she sometimes does it for her complexion's sake.

It is no use trying to argue with a man who has neuralgia. He will not remember one word of your logic, but he will hate you ever after.

Picnics play their part in being the promoters of hot weather temper.

Rocking the boat will probably continue to be popular with certain people who know no other way to be jocular.

Fishing would be greater sport for the city angler if some kind friend had previously trained the fish to bite.

Many a man's pessimism is due to the fact that he lacks wisdom in ordering his breakfast.

A married man is apt to be pretty good on an extemporaneous story.

RURAL SCHOOL LIBRARIES.

Aid Given by Legislature Has Had Excellent Effects.

The growth of school libraries in rural sections, as shown by the reports received at the Education Department, has been a marked feature of educational development within the last year. Every rural school board that establishes a library under the provisions of the regulations, receives a grant equivalent to one-half the amount expended for the year, but not exceeding $10. The books must be selected from the catalogue issued by the Education Department, but the revised regulations allow selections also to be made from "a catalogue recommended by the inspector" and approved by the Minister of Education. The books are mainly works suitable for children.

The purchase by the trustees of books to the value of $20 secures the maximum grant, but many boards exceed the minimum required. The Minister of Education has just prepared a suitable record book for distribution among schools that establish libraries. Valuable information is given respecting the regulations, purchase and care of books, together with choice opinions from leading educationists respecting the value of school libraries.

The aid given by the Legislature for the establishment of school libraries has had an excellent effect in urging trustees to purchase books. For the quarter of a century or more that this assistance was lacking, the school libraries, aided in the time of Rev. Dr. Ryerson, languished, and in many cases lost their existence. The results plainly justify the wisdom of the present policy. In 1903 school boards in rural districts expended for books, $6,839; in 1904, $8,196, and in 1905, $11,-158, or an increase of nearly $3,000 over 1904.

Inspector Atkin (Elgin) takes the lead in the total number of libraries now established. He reports that every school in his inspectorate, 109 in number, is furnished with a school library.

This ranges on down to numbering 10 to 20 libraries. In the separate schools there are already established 22 libraries.

Of the new libraries established during the year, there are reported for Elgin 54, E. Lambton 27, N. Hastings 20, Lincoln 23, North York 22, Frontenac 21. Several others follow in close succession.

The Old Farm.

The old farm looks pretty well through the car window. The moss on the roof of the barn lends it a dignified appearance; the snake fence has weathered to a hoary grey; the stone dykes are clothed with ivy. Nature has been at work giving that touch of venerability which adds so much to the human interest of the spot. In fifty years an Ontario farm sees some history, says The Toronto Star. Even the rural landscape may be expected to show signs of the large emotions it has passed through.

What one feels as he passes through this smiling countryside of Old Ontario on an autumn day is that as a people we are beginning to enjoy the blessings of age — which is to say an increased attachment to the soil, a reverence for tradition, a tenderness toward family associations, a mellow memory of the past which enhances the joy of the present. In a word, we are sending our roots down into the good brown earth and are cherishing that fondness for the surroundings hallowed by childhood which makes for patriotism more even than self-interest. Let the West boast of its future, looking forward to the time when it will swing the Dominion. But the past is a treasure which belongs to the old Provinces, and which they would not part with for all the wheat in the world.

The old farm has been cleared now for half a century. The third generation is tilling its diligent acres. It is the home spot of perhaps a hundred men, women, and children. Its gentle constraint does more to keep the sons in Canada or to bring them back to it than tariffs and immigration policies. The tutelary deities never cease calling. The familiar spirits of wood and stream are always beckoning. The men may be scattered in all the corners of the globe, but the old farm is written on their hearts. It compels them in their softer moods with a sweet nostalgia.

The inner eyes see things on the old farm that a casual observer might overlook. Take, for instance, that ten-acre field, now in stubble, basking in the September sun. Bushels of wheat it has grown nobody can say how many. It has been working day and night, winter and summer, for fifty years, bearing its golden burden or getting ready for it. Even when it was supposed to be resting it was gathering energy for the new task. Good old ten acres! It was something more than wheat you gave the world—though wheat is not to be despised. It was through your good offices that the preached was enabled to take his course in theology, and the doctor attended college and learned how to heal the sick. Yes, the ten-acre field has done its duty nobly, in alleviating the bodily and spiritual ills of mankind. And there are other ten-acre fields on the old farm just as beneficent in their activities. These fields grow more than grain. Theirs is the divine alchemy that changes wheat into useful members of society.

One reason why it is harder to practice than preach is because a man cannot draw a salary for practicing.

Dignity may impress women and small boys, but it doesn't go far with the ice man and the landlord.

It is a wise man who, if he must have contempt for the court, has it below his breath.

A picnic party is usually successful in picking out a good brand of thunderstorm to serve with its hammocks and ice cream.

Durham Castle's Secret.

Durham Castle, built in the time of the Conqueror, was once a strong fortress protecting the Prince Bishop and his retinue from Scotch raiders, says The London Daily Mail. It is now the seat of a university. The walls of the Norman gallery having shown a tendency to bulge, workmen have been employed in bracing them together with iron girders. While so engaged they discovered a hiding-place in which were stored bullets and gunpowder, the latter being completely caked.

In 1640 the Scottish Covenanters, under Gen. David Leslie, defeated the Royal forces, under Lord Conway, at Newburn, near Newcastle. The morning after the defeat Lord Conway marched to Durham, and from thence to Northallerton, leaving all the Royal stores and magazines open to the enemy.

The Scots then invaded the County of Durham, and the inhabitants fled from the city. Not one shop was opened for four days after the fight; not one house in the place had either man, woman or child in it; not one piece of bread was to be obtained, for the King's army had eaten and drank all on their march into Yorkshire. The Bishop fled to his castle, and from thence to York and London, and on August 30 the Scots entered Durham.

It is believed by some that the Royalists in their hurry to carry out as far as possible Lord Strafford's order, found it inconvenient to carry off all the munitions of war, and decided to conceal the gunpowder and bullets that could not be removed. Others hold the opinion that the bullets and gunpowder were concealed by Cromwell's prisoners after the battle of Dunbar to explode at a convenient time to throw the garrison into a panic, and thus to effect their escape.

A Defect in the Hands.

A good story is told of an English lawyer who, having succeeded in making a litigant of every farmer in his county, having grown rich at their expense and thus established a valid claim to ther consideration, consented to sit for his portrait, which was to adorn the courtroom of the county town. The picture was duly painted by a London artist, and previously to being hung was submitted to a private view. "Most uncommonlike, to be sure," was the general verdict. But one old chap, regarding the canvas critically, dissented from the prevailing opinion as follows: "That be somewhat like his face, but it ain't the man. This man has got his hand in his own pocket, you see. Now, I have knowed him for five and thirty years, and all that time he's had his hand in somebody else's pocket. This chap ain't him."

Electric Railroads in Ireland.

The introduction of light railways in Ireland has, it is asserted, been productive of great benefit to thousands of farming cottiers by enabling them to get better prices for their poultry, eggs and pigs, while being put to less cost for transport to market. Possibly motor wagons, calling from farmhouse to farmhouse daily, may be destined to supersede light lines as feeders of trunk lines. As there would be no outlay for permanent way, working expenses would necessarily be much less.—London Graphic.

A Discussion On Plans For Immigration

At Salvation Army Annual Congress Held in Toronto.

The Local Officers Were in Attendance Great Meeting in Massey Hall.

—The representatives of the local corps of the Salvation Army, who attended the annual congress, which has just closed in Toronto, arrived home last evening and report having had a most successful gathering. Those who attended from this city were Staff-Capt. and Mrs. McAmmond, Adjt. Jennings, R. C. Braund, Junior Sergt.-Major, and Mrs. Stevenson, Sergt.-Major.

The greater part of the Congress was devoted to a conference between the 300 officers who were in attendance from all parts of the Dominion, with Commissioner Coombes, who is this year holding his first Congress since he assumed command of the Army in Canada, the Congress having been in progress last year at the time of his arrival in the country.

The great meeting at the Congress was that held on Sunday night in Massey Music Hall, when Commissioner Coombes gave his illustrated address on "The Shadow of the Cross." The immense structure was packed to the doors, and it is estimated that fully 1500 persons were turned away, while 5000 more were inside the meeting.

The Commissioner's address was very impressive, the effect having been heightened by the limelight views of incidents in the life of Christ.

The immigration schemes of the Army were discussed, at some length, by the officers, and plans were formulated for the future prosecution of the work.

CORONER'S JURY SAYS OF ASHER T. WILTSE: "ACCIDENTAL DEATH"

Havelock Man Met His Death by an Electric Shock--Conclusion of the Inquest Yesterday Afternoon--Jury Finds That Insulation Was Off Wires and Charged a Gasoline Fixture--The Verdict.

"We the jury assembled to inquire into the death of Asher T. Wiltse, after seeing and hearing the evidence produced, believe the deceased came to his death by a shock received from taking hold of a gasoline lamp charged by coming in contact with an electric wire on which the insulation had been worn off."

The above was the verdict rendered by the Coroner's jury at Havelock yesterday afternoon in connection with the death of Asher T. Wiltse, which occurred on Wednesday last.

The inquest yesterday was conducted by Dr. Gray, Coroner, and only five witnesses were examined.

The first witness was Dr. J. Holdcroft, President and Manager of the Havelock Electric Light Company, and stated that the company began operations beginning May, 1904. The plant was installed by a person claiming to be a qualified electrician, and since its installation there had been no trouble with the plant that he knew of. The custom of the company is to connect with houses when they have been notified that they have been wired, but witness admitted that to some extent it was the duty of the company to examine the wiring before making the connection, but in the case of concealed wiring only the parts which were visible are examined, and he submitted that the company was not responsible for faulty wiring. He could not say that he knew of any faulty wiring, by official notice, and he had not heard of any trouble at the C. P.R. round house.

Witness stated that the company had never found a crossed wire on the streets, and a man is employed to look after the system at all times, and to correct any defect he may find. Personally he had not inspected the wiring in the McMaster store.

Thomas Hubble was the next witness, and asserted that he could give no light on the cause of Wiltse's death. When he was going home about one or two minutes after six o'clock on Wednesday night he noticed two wires crossed opposite Dentist Danke's, and when he saw them again the next day they were all right. On Wednesday night a boy had called attention to the fact that the wires were crossed, and he noticed that they were burning. He did not know where the crossed wires led to.

Mr. J. W. Rose, the employee of the company who has charge of the outside work, and who inspects the wiring, was next called, and testified that he did not know whether the crossing of the wires would produce any perceptible effect on the house, and he could not say whether it would be more dangerous to a subscriber to have them crossed and burning. He had noticed the next day after the accident the place where the wires were crossed, and had pulled the insulation back a little to repair it.

He stated that if electric light wires across telephone wires the person using the latter may get a shock, but he could not swear to having heard anyone being killed in that way. If the wires were properly insulated it would not matter whether there were 50 or 1,000 volts passing through it, and no one would be injured by touching it. If the McMaster building were properly wired and the wire insulated one touching the wires would not get a shock. If 1,000 volts tried to enter a house, witness believed the fuse would be blown. In regard to the fuse block produced in court he would not swear that not more than 110 volts would not pass through it, and he could not swear whether all fuse blocks were absolute protection, though the underwriters demand them as protection. Witness added that the fuse block in McMaster's was not burned out when he saw it.

Dr. Young then gave his evidence, which was a report of the post mortem examination, and a copy of the report was published yesterday. His evidence was corroborated by Dr. Crawford.

This concluded the evidence, and the jury retired to consider it, afterwards bringing in the verdict as given above.

The jury was composed of Messrs. C. S. Joyce, Alex. Matheson, Harry Andrew, Herb. Williams, Jacob Deid, G. Sills, John Bateson, Thos. Wood, Thos. Hubble, Arnold Richards, John Tomson, Matthew Swain and J. R. Craig.

More Honours Are Coming This Way

Mr. W. Bunton Elected President of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association--Mr. W. McIlroy, Vice-President Annual Meeting Now in Progress in Portland, Maine.

Portland, Me., Oct. 16th. — The 150 members of the Canadian Ticket Agents Association, who arrived on Saturday night for their annual convention, the third to be held in the United States, were received by Mayor James F. Baxter, and former Mayor Charles F. Libby, President of the Portland street railway system, in the city council chamber today, the annual meeting following, sessions being held during the forenoon and afternoon. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President — W. Bunton, Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough.

Vice-Presidents — W. R. McIlroy, Canadian Pacific Railway, Peterborough; C. R. Coleman, Canadian Pacific Railway, Truro, N.S.; R. J. Craig, Canadian Pacific Railway, Cobourg.

Secretary-Treasurer — E. De La Hooke, Grand Trunk Railway, London, Ont.

Auditor — F. R. Hodges, Grand Trunk Railway, Clinton.

Executive Committee — W. Jackson, Clinton, J. P. Hanley, Kingston; C. E. Horning, London, Ont.; J. F. Dolan, Montreal; W. Maughan, Toronto.

The report of Secretary E. De La Hooke showed a total membership of 183. Resolutions of condolence were adopted on the death of Senator Fulford. The selection of the next place of meeting was left with the executive committee. An invitation was received to meet at Milwaukee, Wis.

Children Have Some Very Narrow Escapes

Three narrow escapes from what would undoubtedly have been serious if not fatal accidents were recorded yesterday. One of the motormen on the street railway reports to the Examiner that on three different occasions he almost ran down young children under the age of five years, who persisted in running across the tracks as the car approached.

Parents of youngsters who have been in the habit of playing around the tracks are warned that unless some means is taken of keeping them off the paths of the cars, an accident will be the result, and the fault will not be with the motorman.

The Examiner's informant stated that children frequently run across the tracks in front of the cars and there is a great danger of them being run over, for some day they will stumble and fall and they go so close to the cars that it will be impossible to stop them in time to prevent the child being run over.

Call To Citizens To Decorate On Saturday

Mr. A. Kingscote has addressed a letter to the Mayor asking that on Saturday, in honour of Trafalgar Day the flag be raised on the city buildings.

The Mayor will be glad to comply with the request, and has issued instructions in accordance with the request of the letter.

He also asks that all loyal citizens and British subjects display flags on Saturday in honour of the great British admiral and the hero of Trafalgar.

A Visitor In The City From Fort Frances

Mr. Geo. Stethem Returns to the City for a Short Time.

The Newer Parts of Ontario Are Flourishing—Fort Frances' Possibilities.

Mr. George Stethem, who for a number of years was a resident of Peterborough, where he conducted a business, and who is now living in Fort Frances, the prosperous capital of the Rainy River District, arrived in the city to-day, and will remain here for a few weeks. Mr. Stethem's many friends will regret to learn that he has been ill, but he is recovering, and expects that his visit here will result beneficially to him.

Like all the other residents of the newer parts of the country Mr. Stethem is enthusiastic in his recital of its progress.

Fort Frances is a town of about 1600 people, and has, according to his opinion, good prospects for a great future.

Since the Hudson Bay Company placed its property on the market the better parts of the town have been building up rapidly, and business, as a consequence, is improving.

The water power possibilities of the town constitute the chief advantage possessed by Fort Frances, and the people have good hopes that within a short time a prosperous manufacturing community will have been established around the water power.

The development of the mining region in the Rainy River District, will also add to the prosperity of the town. The prospects are that there will be some extensive pulp mills established there, as a direct result of the development of the water power.

Mr. Stethem will remain here for a few weeks.

All Saints' Guild To Elect Officers

Last night a meeting of the members of All Saints' Young Men's Guild was held, when plans for the coming season were discussed informally. There was a fair attendance of the young men of the church, and the prospects for this season are very bright.

It was decided to hold a meeting next Monday night, when the election of officers will take place. There is a gratifying enthusiasm manifested in the work of the Guild, and it is expected that next Monday night will see a large gathering of the young men.

A GOOD TIME TO INVEST

is when you can purchase attractive property at attractive prices, and get your real estate "on time". The tendency of prices for Real Estate is upward and those persons who thought they could buy property at reduced prices in the fall have been very much mistaken. With the manifest growth of the City we fail to see any reason why the price of choice property should depreciate. At present we have some of the very best properties in the City for sale and these shall not be offered at sacrificed prices, but at prices in keeping with the value of the properties. The prices range from $ 300. to $ 800. for choice sites and choice buildings. Also we have some very desirable homes from $ 1000. to $ 2000. Farms also we have for sale. Do not overlook the the fact that we buy and sell any listed stock on any Exchange and their representatives are J. R. HEINTZ & CO. of Buffalo, N. Y. Established in 1879.

Giant Colored Monstrosity,

A TENNESSEE NEGRO,

Died Last Week In Gallatin

Living Skeleton Was Almost Nine Feet High and Weighed 105 Pounds--Was a Victim of Acromegaly--Medical Profession, as Well as Laymen, Were Interested in the Freak--Description by Former Peterborough Boy.

Bud Rogan, the coloured monstrosity of this city, is dead.

of Gallatin, Tenn., is dead.

He was known far and near as the living skeleton, and thousands of people have viewed him with amazement.

Bud was a giant, yet a skeleton. His correct measurements were:

Height, 8 feet 9 inches (by far the tallest human of which medical men have record).

Wight, 105 pounds.

Reach (arms outstretched), 110 inches—five inches greater than his height.

From crotch to knee, 31 inches.

From knee to heel, 28 inches.

From knuckles to tip of middle finger, 7 inches.

Finger nails, size of a 25-cent piece.

Length of feet, 16 inches.

His body was of extra large frame, yet a person with an average size hand could span nuround any of his limbs.

The most peculiar thing about this human wonder was the fact that he did not have a muscle in his entire anatomy, nor did he have much flesh, his entire frame being figuratively speaking, skin and bones. He had what is technically termed acromegaly, a gradual "pining" away, or wasting of flesh, and for which there is no known remedy.

Bud began losing flesh about 20 years ago, and in an almost incredibly short period was reduced to skin and bones, in which condition he remained until his death a few days ago—his demise being from an unknown cause. Up to the age of 15 years he was a day labourer and could perform the work of two able-bodied men, but in every other respect he was not unlike any ordinary Negro. He was never sick a day, and never suffered any pain or unpleasantness when the strange malady overtook him—nor even afterward. At first the emaciation came so slowly that he paid little attention to it, although frequently reminded of it by his associates.

One night in the spring of 1885, after a hard day's work, he retired, feeling as well as usual, but about midnight he awoke, screaming with fright and saying he "felt his flesh crawling." From that time to the day of his death he never walked a step nor stood alone.

In this almost helpless condition Bud remained at home two years. He constructed a wagon, the material being carried to his bed. He then procured a pair of goats, and with this outfit set out to make a living, his widowed mother being quite old, a cripple, and very poor. Bud had his goats under perfect control, and could drive them anywhere, his favourite place being the depot, where he met all trains and received many hundreds of dollars in gifts from the curious travelling public.

Together with the above clipping from a Gallatin, Tenn., paper, it will be interesting to many to know that the Examiner is to-day in receipt of a letter from Mr. James G. Wilson, a former Peterborough boy, now residing in Gallatin, in which the writer speaks at some length of the death of the famous freak, giving much information concerning him. He, in addition, forwarded concurrently the photograph reproduced here by the Examiner. A special coffin, the writer states, was being prepared for Rogan, and an enormous crowd from surrounding towns flocked in to gaze for the last time upon the remains.

Mr. Wilson's friends in town will be pleased to learn of his success in Gallatin, he having risen rapidly. He is at present engaged in railroading, which business he entered after leaving here about sixteen years ago.

A Steam Fire Engine Useless Expenditure

This is the Opinion of Mr. D. W. Dumble.

Thinks Chemical Engine Will Meet All Ordinary Requirements.

Police Magistrate Dumble, when interviewed yesterday by a representative of the Examiner, expressed his opinion regarding the proposed purchase of a new fire engine. Mr. Dumble believes that a steam fire engine is not required. He says that it must not be forgotten that we have a water works system that affords as much pressure as any in the province. The hydrants are convenient to the George street merchants, and they supply a very strong stream. Mr. Dumble claims that a chemical engine could be put in, and it would be much more suitable to the requirements of the town than a steam engine. In case of a fire in a store the blaze could be effectively extinguished without the merchant's goods being drenched with water. The hydrants extend over a large section of the town, and Mr. Dumble argues that the more economical way would be to extend the hydrant system. The tanks which were in the town have been filled in, and there are no tanks apart from the stream running through the centre of the town.

Mr. Dumble believes that the system he advocates is much more reliable than the steam fire engine. He thinks the city should not look up $5000 or $6000, in a steam fire engine.

As for building a new fire hall, he says that he does not wonder at the firemen objecting to their present quarters. But the police station, the post office, and the town buildings, are all unworthy of the city. It must not be expected, though, that this condition of affairs will always exist, and, to erect a new fire hall, Mr. Dumble thinks, would be a move in the right direction.

"I don't think," he said, "that the people would vote this proposal down if they are assured of economy and judicious expenditure."

In conclusion, Mr. Dumble said that every city of any size in Canada has a chemical engine, and he believed that one should be added to the local fire system.

The Michigan Sugar Factories Are In Danger

Deputation Asks for Reduction on Sugar Beets.

Want to Get the Raw Material From Canada.

New York, Oct. 14.—To save many Michigan beet sugar factories from being shut down, a protest against the present sugar beet tariff was made before the United States general appraisers here yesterday. It was filed by the Marine Sugar Company of Marine City, Mich., and asked for a reduction of the tariff from its present rate of 25 per cent. ad valorem to 10 per cent. ad valorem.

The appraisers were told that under the bounty which Michigan formerly paid, more factories were built than the surrounding country could supply with sugar beets. Recently, it was stated, three such factories were dismantled, and the appraisers were asking to lower the duty in order that American factories might get beets from Canada.

The technical ground on which this protest was made declared that a sugar beet was not in reality a vegetable but merely raw material for use in manufacturing sugar. To allow the board to consider this point the case was adjourned until December 6.

Miss Margaret Webster is spending a few days with friends in Norwood.

Escaped an Operation.

"I had itching piles for six years and the doctors told me there was no cure for me unless through an operation. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me in one week. As that was six months ago and there has been no return of the old trouble I believe that the cure is a permanent one." — Mr. J. Mower, Rodon, Manitoba.

"Tim Kearns" In The Toils

Was Fined $2 and $3.75 Costs at Police Court

"Tim" Kearns never strikes the town without celebrating his advent by a sojourn in the police cells. He arrived in the city last Saturday and as usual, immediately became mixed up in a scrap. He was arrested by P. C's McGinty and Adams and locked up over Sunday. At the Police Court yesterday and was fined $2 and $2.75 costs. One of Tim's admirers put up the "stuff" at once. A previous charge against Kearns was withdrawn.

LONG ago we realized that the baking and roasting qualities of the oven of a range are of greatest importance to the range user. We brought our knowledge, gained by years of experience, to bear on this one point. The result was the Imperial Oxford Diffusive Oven Flue. With this exclusive feature, the Imperial Oxford stands to-day the most perfect baking and roasting range on the market.

After getting this most important feature of a range to such a point of perfection we naturally did not neglect any other improvement which could add to the working of the range. These improvements were incorporated in the because they added to the life of the range, simplified its operation or economized fuel.

Of these improvements the draw-out oven rack is one which will instantly appeal to the cook. The handle of this rack is outside the range—always cool enough to hold with the bare hand. By pulling this handle forward anything roasting in the oven may be drawn out onto the oven shelf to be basted, without touching the hot pan or reaching into the oven. The same applies to the testing of bread, cake or pies.

We would like you to see the Imperial Oxford Range. If your dealer doesn't handle it, write us for illustrated literature and the address of the nearest dealer who does. 15

London Fire Engine To Be Shipped Here

About the last of this week the Canadian Fire Engine Company, of London, will ship to this city one of their steam fire engines with a view of submitting it to the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the Council for approval. This engine is being sent purely on speculation, and the council may accept or reject it as they see fit.

A decision has not yet been reached as to whether a steam engine will be purchased or not, and it is probable that the committee composed of the representatives of the Board of Trade, Merchants' Association, Water Commissioners and the Council will be asked to inspect this engine while it is here and this may help them to a decision as to the best methods of improving the present equipment.

Will Commence The Survey Next Week

Acting under instructions from Hon. H. E. Emmerson, the Chief Engineer of the Trent Valley Canal is arranging an engineering party to prosecute the surveys of the upper waters of the Trent Canal, for the purpose of getting information on the proposed reservoir system supplying the canal.

Mr. D. Eason will have charge of the survey, and with him will be associated Messrs. L. Thornton and A. Sawers. The party will be composed of about ten men, and it is expected that work will be commenced early next week, and will be continued until cold weather.

Work will be resumed in the spring if the $6000 appropriated is not all appropriated this fall.

Rev. N. McQuade At Mark Street

In the absence yesterday of the pastor, Rev. J. G. Lewis, B. A., who was preaching anniversary sermons at Brighton, the Mark Street pulpit was occupied by Fred. Ashton in the morning and the Rev. Henry McQuade, of Bridgenorth, in the evening. The morning subject was taken from St. Luke's Gospel, 16th chapter, 25th verse. The main idea being brought out that "Our lives of to-day will contribute largely to our reflections in eternity, and will make or mar our bliss as the case may be. The preacher strongly appealed to the younger portion of the congregation to live lives that will bring pleasant memories in the future rather than sad ones. The choir rendered "Over the River Faces I See", in an effective manner. Mr. Miller and Mr. Speer taking the verses as a duet. The evening sermon was based upon Proverbs 11-30, the speaker emphasizing the need of more evangelistic spirit, rather than evangelical. A practical demonstration of the burning desire to be a soul-winner, rather than a theoretical demonstration. Messrs. Miller, Hooper, Ashton, and Speer, sang "Nearer My God to Thee", which was greatly appreciated.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks, of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sir Henry Irving, who died full of years and honour, is a proof that no matter what sphere in life a man is called upon to fill, so long as he acts from high and honourable motives, he can gain not only distinction, but an honourable place among honourable men.

Rockafeller expects "hard times" to strike the United States in 1907. It is hoped that the activity in the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the activity in connection with Canadian development operations will stave off the calamity from this country, or at least cause "hard times" to strike us more obliquely.

"To my own knowledge," said the head of a real estate firm in London, Eng., recently, there have been plots sold in London at a rate of more than 118 pounds per square foot." Think of it! An ordinary building site, 25 feet front, and 100 feet deep, would at that price be worth nearly a million and a half dollars, and an acre would be worth more than twenty-three millions.

Toronto, the Good, is becoming a title to provoke a smile. The latest assault upon the fitness of this title comes in the shape of a civic scandal, in which several aldermen are accused of accepting bribes to favour the interests of a private corporation. The astonishing part of the affair is that the total of the bribery fund divided amongst several aldermen was only $900. Honest men will take interest in the searching investigation which has been ordered.

There is no class so severe upon the British Columbian tax on commercial travellers, than your high protectionist. Yet this tax is quite of a piece with any legislation or legislative contrivance, that obstructs trade. The tax on commercial travellers is a barrier to inter-provincial trade, a protective ftariff, which is, as a tax an obstacle to international trade. Both are wrong in principle, and the question of their viciousness is a matter of degree, not kind.

Sir William Mulock's retirement from the Government, is the subject of a warm eulogy by Saturday Night upon the late Minister's capabilities—his resignation is described as "little short of a calamity," but the occasion is used to insinuate that Sir William's retirement is a desertion of Sir Wilfrid Lautier, "whose lust of power has become a master impulse." Saturday night may have inside sources of information, but it is the first to hint that there was any lack of cordial relations between Sir Wilfrid and Sir William. The "unhappy and unwholesome condition" of Sir Wilfrid and his Cabinet, is another discovery of Saturday Night, seen through the special spectacles it wears.

Under Sir Wilfrid's guidance Canadian institutions prosper. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the C.P.R. Company, in his address, the Hamilton Times remarks, at the annual meeting, said that the year just closed was the best in the history of the railway, and that the twelve months at hand promised still greater things. At Brantford on Saturday last Mr. C. M. Hays, Vice-President of the Grand Trunk, declared that the prospects for the expansion of trade in the Northwest was such that several transcontinental roads will be needed to do the transportation business for that country. Railway presidents and bank presidents agree that there is a great future in store for us.

"It is with pleasure that I certify to the wonderful success of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a cure for colds. It is the best and safest treatment for coughs and colds that we have ever been able to find."—Mrs. George Good, Tichborne, Addington County, Ont.

Deceased Was Very Highly Respected Man

Late H. J. Moreland Was Related Here.

A Brother-in-Law of Mr. M. J. McDonnell Died in Seattle.

Mr. M. J. McDonnell, principal of the Murray street Separate School, received the sad intelligence yesterday that his brother-in-law, Mr. H. J. Moreland, had passed away in South Washington. The late Mr. Moreland was married to Mr. McDonnell's sister, and had lived in Seattle for six years. Deceased at one time lived in Bridgenorth, and was quite well known to many in this county.

A Seattle paper, referring to his death, says:

"After months of illness and several temporary recoveries, Mr. H. J. Moreland died on Wednesday morning at Providence Hospital. Not long ago he attended a meeting of the Knights of Columbus, and expressed himself as full of hope of steady improvement. But, after a few days of heroic resistance he went to the hospital, where he underwent a serious operation, from which he did not rally. Mr. Moreland was a man of sterling character, and was known in the business world as an honest, conservative and industrious citizen. He was profoundly religious and was faithful in the practice and precepts of the church. He leaves a wife, and six children, of tender years.

"The announcement of the death at the meeting of the Knights of Columbus, cast a gloom over that body. Father Kauten spoke briefly of the noble character of the deceased brother, and an adjournment was taken, and most of those present went in a body to the family residence at 721 Wishing on street.

"The funeral will take place this morning at the Cathedral Chapel at nine o'clock, at which the Knights of Columbus will attend in a body, leaving the home at 8.45. May he rest in peace."

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HAIR

Its Great Profusion Was Always a Cause of Wonder.

Even at the age of 80 years Queen Victoria's hair was a marvel of luxuriance. The count physician following Prof. Unna's discovery, undoubtedly, treated Her Majesty's scalp with a germ-destroying preparation, that was not made public. It is now known, however, that the remedy for dandruff, the germ-destroying element, is embodied in Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation on the market that does destroy the dandruff germ. Without dandruff Hair will grow profusely, and falling hair will be stopped. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Explanation Of Kennedy's Prices For Prime Meats

Low Meat Prices Warranted by Low Prices of On-Foot Stock.

How and Why North West Ranching Affects Ontario Prices.

Cobalt is the latter-day synonym for profitable mining but "Co-boss" has been till recently a mine of wealth, to the farmer. The high prices which have prevailed for beef must have been a source of great prosperity to him.

The question is often asked, "Why after such a ruling of high prices through the season, H. P. Kennedy, can make so sharp a reduction in figures for prime beef and other meats. In the first place it may be remarked that there is no cutting of prices below the profit point—Mr. Kennedy is simply selling beef according to the purchase price, which represents a falling of about 50 per cent. in the matter of choice beef cattle.

In April and May the price of choice beef stock, live weight, was 51-2 to 6 cents and good cattle were selling on the Toronto and Montreal markets at 53-4 to 61-4 cents on foot. In contrast the same class of stock can now be bought as low as 33-4 and 4 cents.

Mr. Kennedy, on being seen, answered the natural question, "What is the cause of the decline?" The reason, for the high prices, he explained, was the scarcity of choice stall-fed cattle in the spring and early summer and prices were forced to a higher level than the English market warranted. At the present time, however, there is an over-supply of export cattle. The export market is not as low this year as it was a year ago, but the supply of North-west cattle, owing to the development of the ranching business, is 50 per cent. heavier than a year ago. These enterprising ranchers have preempted the available shipping space and Ontario exporters have found themselves cut out of shipping space for export cattle. This naturally tends to keep in this province, cattle available for profitable export, therefore, these have to be sold at the price they will bring on the home market.

Another important factor affecting prices is the fact that from 1899 to 1901, there were very heavy shipments of "stockers" and "feeders" to the United States — when the removal of the embargo admitted this class of cattle. This, of course, meant higher prices than our farmers could afford to profitably pay for feeders and stockers. Mr. Kennedy himself, during this period shipped from 15,000 to 20,000 head in a season and other shippers in proportion. This of course, produced a local scarcity. But during the last two or three years the level between American and Ontario prices has approached very closely. Therefore, there has been in the past two or three years, a rapid increase of young cattle in Ontario, with no outlet as formerly in the American market, nor owing to a scarcity of shipping space, on the old country market,—only upon the home market. Mr. Kennedy was in Montreal and Toronto this week and in these places the choicest steak was selling at 12 1-2 cents as against 18 cents in the spring and early summer.

These conditions will probably remain the same till farmers generally begin stall-feeding. So long as grass-fed stock is available the prices will be low and possibly lower,—as soon as farmers have to feed grain, prices will gradually advance. Naturally, present prices are below the profit point for farmers, but they cannot afford, the majority of them, to hold stock over winter and the only demand for feeders in some parts of the province is from Western Ontario farmers, who may have a shortage of cattle and an over-supply of feed.

But there are compensations for the farmer. While the price of cattle may be low, good prices prevail for nearly all kinds of grain produce, cheese, butter, poultry, etc., etc. Sheep and lambs especially command good figures. Lambs have not sold as high for several years as at the present time. Choice animals are selling at 5 1-2 cents live weight, as against 3 1-2 to 4 cents one year ago and three or four years ago as low as 2 1-2 to 3 cents live weight, and present prospects for lambs are in favour of higher prices. Farmers are also doing well with hogs, one of their most important sources of revenue having received the greater part of the year from 6 to 7 cents live weight, the present price being 6 to 6 1-2 cents, though the present outlook is for slightly lower prices.

Mr. Kennedy sells his meat in conformity with the movements of the market. He buys considerable stock for outside the local district, and supplies the people of the city at as low prices as are given in outside places.

Literary And Debating Club

The Literary and Debating Society of the Y. M. C. A. will open its season to-morrow evening at eight o'clock, in the Association parlours. The regular meeting night falling, as it does, on the evening before Thanksgiving Day, it was decided to open the season on the above mentioned date, and as this arrangement only allowed for a few days' preparation, there will be no regular debate for that night, but instead, the programme will consist of several set addresses on subjects of current interest, impromptu speeches, etc. The members will answer the roll call by quotation as was the custom last season.

Elsie Janis In "Little Duchess" At Lindsay

About Two Hundred From Peterborough Went Up By Special Train.

Production Was Greatly Enjoyed—Expectations Were More Than Realized.

The population of Lindsay was far a short time last night increased by about two hundred, who went up to witness the production in the Opera House there of "The Little Duchess," with Elsie Janis in the title roll, and all, it is safe to say, were more than delighted by the clever work of that dainty little bit of femininity.

The special train arranged for by Mr. R. H. Bradburn left Peterborough at 7.10 o'clock. The Opera House at Lindsay was comfortably filled.

"The Little Duchess," concerning which the dramatic critics have all generally expressed their favourable opinion, is handsomely staged, though it is not dependent in any sense upon elaborate effect in this respect. Miss Janis is certainly the possessor of a wonderful magnetic power which cannot fail to attract and win the admiration of her audience. She also displays great versatility, which is especially noticeable in the clever impersonations which have gained for her such a reputation recently. In her imitations she never fails to grasp and admirably portray the salient points of her victim. In some the effect is exasperatingly funny, while others are presented with a naivete which is most captivating. Robert Lett, as Gustave, the Bather Master, also made a decided hit, his funnyisms being throughout bright and fresh, and in no way descended into the "horse-play" variety of alleged humour, so much in evidence.

The choruses were of a uniformly pleasing character, the catchy music being well rendered in ensemble. The costumes were also most artistic and the stage grouping excellent.

Altogether the play was greatly enjoyed by the Peterborough contingent, who spoke, generally, in terms of highest satisfaction with regard to the result of their trip to Sougog-ville. The progressiveness of Mr. R. H. Bradburn in arranging for the excellent facilities afforded those from Peterborough who wished to attend is worthy of much commendation and promises well for the management of the new Opera House.

The B.A.C. Club Honours Members

A Banquet Tendered One of Their Members Last Night.

Last night the members of the B. A. C. Club enjoyed a pleasant reunion at Long's Palm Parlours, at which one of the members, who is about to enter into the matrimonial state, was the guest of honour. There was a good representation of the members present, and a very pleasant evening was spent. A dainty supper was served, and at its conclusion a short toast list was disposed of, the first to be honoured being that to "Absent Members," in response to which Mr. W. Cochrane referred appreciatively to the members of the club who had recently severed connection with it, Mr. S. S. Moore being the last to leave the city, and his absence was particularly noticeable.

The toast to "Our Guests" was proposed by Mr. E. M. Best and fittingly acknowledged. Felicitous remarks were made by Dr. Bagshaw, Mr. Geo Robertson, Mr. W. Richardson, Mr. R. B. Dobbin and others.

Art Culture Club Meeting

The next meeting of the Art Culture Club will be held on October 27, when one of the best programmes of the season is in prospect. Miss Datcher will present the paper on "Bach," while Rev. W. Major will deal with the subject of "Wordsworth." Miss Stephens will read the paper on "Carot." Altogether the evening promises to be a most enjoyable one.

St. John's Young People Held Its Annual Meeting

Election of Officers Took Place Last Night.

An Enjoyable Social Evening Was Spent—The Programe.

A most enjoyable evening was spent by the Anglican Young People's Association of St. John's church last night. It was the annual meeting and a large number were present. The first part of the evening was devoted to ga[illegible] but before the programme was commenced a committee was appointed to select the officers for the ensuing year and to report before the close of the programme.

President John Patti was in the chair, and in his opening remarks expressed great pleasure to see so many young people present. It spoke well for the year's prospects. The last year, he said, was a most successful one; the attendance was always large, and the interest the young people took in it was most encouraging. Miss Pratt, secretary-treasurer, then read her report, which was very gratifying.

During the evening the following musical programme was rendered:

Piano Solo—Miss English.
Vocal Solos—Miss Ruth Dawson and Miss Pedler.
Piano Solo—Mr. Jardine.
Mr. Thos. Arnot also rendered several fine selections on his gramaphone.

One of the chief features of St. John's Anglican Young People's Association is their orchestra, which this year will be in charge of Mr. Jardine.

After the programme was over the young ladies served a very dainty luncheon of coffee, sandwiches and cake, and before God Save the King was sung, the committee reported the following officers for the year 1905-06:

Hon. Pres., Rev. J. C. Davidson; President, Mr. J. A. Patti; 1st Vice-President, Miss Bertie Dawson; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. Stanley Caniff; Secretary - Treasurer, Mr. Thos. Dawson.

The next meeting will be held on October 30, and the subject will be announced later.

Pleasant Social Evening Spent

A very jolly time was spent by the young people of St. Andrew's church last night. It was the first social evening this season and its success was beyond all expectations. The entertainment was under the auspices of the Young People's Society. The Social Committee, of which Miss Lena Richardson is convener, had charge, and to their able management is due a large measure of credit.

The early part of the evening was spent in music and games, after which refreshments were served.

The attendance was large, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves until about 10 o'clock, when God Save the King was sung and a pleasant evening was brought to a close. The Young People's Guild has always been a beneficial and successful society, and the prospects for a good season are the very brightest.

Three Young Truants In Police Court

Boys Charged With Breaking Into Mr. Wm. Madill's House.

Appeared Before Police Magistrate Dumble This Morning—All Three Were Discharged.

At this morning session of the police court, three young lads were charged with breaking into the house of Mr. William Madill, 554 Aylmer street, on Tuesday, October 10.

Mr. Madill, in giving his evidence, stated that when he left his house on Tuesday afternoon, the front door was locked, but the latch was not sprung. The back door was also locked, and the windows were fastened. Upon his return the latch in the front door was sprung and not having the back door key with him, he was unable to enter the house. His son, Stanely Madill, entered by means of an up-stairs window, and drew back the latch in the front door. Mr. Madill found the house in good order upon his entrance, but noticed one or two things were disturbed, and a netting in one of the windows had been torn.

Several neighbours also gave evidence as to seeing three boys on Mr. Madill's premises, but were unable to identify any of the accused.

One of the prisoners, a boy of ten years of age, turned King's evidence, and blamed himself for the whole affair. He said that he was the only one who was in the house, although one of the others assisted him to raise the window. The boy said that he had entered the house in search of food, not having had anything to eat during the day. The boys had all been scheming school, and had used a barn in the vicinity as a rendezvous.

His Worship, in commenting upon the case, said that the boys were following the first footsteps of criminals. In the first place they had deceived their parents by playing truant, and they had been sleeping in a barn, instead of going home. He advised them to start life over again and said there was no reason why they should not become good respectable citizens. All the boys were discharged.

P. Simons & Co's Fall Display

Large Shipment of Up-to-Date Goods Arrived Yesterday.

Messrs. P. Simons & Co., the well-known George street Tailoring Establishment, yesterday received and have placed in stock a large and extensively varied stock of tweeds, fancy vesting and other of the materials which are essential features of the well-dressed gentlemen.

"Progressiveness" is the motto lived up to by the well-known and old established firm. This is amply evidenced since their removal to their present handsome new premises, which afford many added facilities in catering to the high class trade which the firm enjoys.

Particular mention may be made of overcoat materials just received by Mr. Simons. This branch of trade is somewhat of a specialty, and as in the case with their suits nothing is turned out which is not strictly "up-to-the-minute."

Be not deceived. There's nothing "just as good" as the Happy Thought Range. The Best Stove Co.

Fell Sixty-five Feet and Lived Two Hours

Particulars of Death of Mr. Daniel Shannon.

Many Injuries Sustained in the Fall—Was a Former Peterborough Man.

The Buffalo Courier, of a recent date, contained further particulars of the lamented death of Mr. Daniel Shannon, son of Mr. John Shannon, of this city, while the Times, of that city, publishes a half-tone illustration of the deceased. The Courier says:

While descending to the ground from work on a high structure at the steel plant at the noon hour on Saturday, Daniel Shannon, a married man, 28 years old, who lived at 145 N. Division street, fell and died from his injuries. Although he fell fully sixty-five feet, he lived for two hours at the Moses Taylor Hospital.

Shannon was a structural ironworker and bridgeman employed by the McClintic, Marshall Contruction Company, building an annex to the open hearth building at the Lackawana plant.

When the noon whistle blew, he, with the other men at work sixty-five feet overhead, began to descend to the ground for lunch. He was the last of the party to begin the descent.

In the centre of the work is a column of cross-cleats nailed there-to for the accommodation of the men going up and down. The other men descended by this column, and Shannon was the last of the long file.

Near the column is a rope, down which the men occasionally slide when in a hurry to reach the ground. Shannon either reached out for the rope and missed it, or else he lost his balance another way. At any rate he fell, and no one saw just how it happened.

In falling he struck on a structure about half the distance from the ground and rolled free of that and fell the remainder of the distance.

Workmen picked him up and he was hurried to the hospital. Both wrists were broken, the bones of the upper and lower jaw were broken, and his skull was fractured over the right eye. The surgeons worked over him for two hours, when he finally died.

Dr. Earl G. Danser, Medical Examiner, investigated the death. He says it is remarkable the man was not mangled more in a fall of such height.

The late Mr. Shannon left here about five years ago and has been living in Buffalo since that time. He was a member of the Iron Workers' Union; also a member of the I. O. Foresters.

He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and baby, three brothers, three sisters, and his father, Mr. John Shannon, 319 McDonel street. His brothers are Patrick, of Prescott; Richard, of Milton, N.D.; and Leo, at home. His sisters are Katie, of Toronto; Mary, of Peterborough, and Mrs. T. Cavanaugh, of Ennismore.

Will Be Wedded At S. A. Barracks

To-night at the Salvation Army Barracks an event of considerable interest will take place when two members of the local corps will be united in matrimony. The contracting parties will be Miss Lillian Fowler and Mr. Alf. Bateson. The ceremony known as a "Hallelujah Wedding" will be performed by Staff-Capt. McAmmond, the officer in charge, and will be in many respects an unique ceremony. At its conclusion congratulatory addresses will be given by Adjt. Jennings and others.

Doubtless this interesting function will be witnessed by a large number of persons.

Centennary Nelsoniana

The approach of Trafalgar Day, the one hundredth anniversary of the great naval battle of that name, brings many Nelson reminiscences to the surface.

An interesting story is told of a visit paid by Lord Nelson to Canada, and it illustrates, as all similar experience does, that Nelson had only to test the delights of the Canadian climate to be relieved of the prejudices which existed a hundred years ago, and have not yet entirely died out. Nelson's ship, the Albemarle, was ordered to Quebec in the summer of 1782. Nelson had the average Englishmen's conception of this country as a sub-Arctic region. "I want much to get off from this —— voyage," he wrote. "Mr. Adair"—(an eminent London surgeon, who a year before had treated him for paralysis of his limbs)—"has told me that if I was sent to a cold, damp climate it would make me worse than ever." The Albemarle reached Quebec on July 1, 1782, but sailed three days later for Boston Bay, returning September 17. One of Nelson's biographers writes:—

"The fears for his health that he had expressed before sailing from England had happily proved groundless, and a month's stay in port, which now followed, at the most delightful and invigorating of the Canadian seasons, wrought wonders for him. His letters to Locker state that the voyage agreed with him better than he expected; while from the St. Lawrence he wrote to his father: "Health, that greatest of blessings, is what I never truly enjoyed until I saw Fair Canada. The change it has wrought, I am convinced, is truly wonderful."

To Discuss The Winter Circuit

A Meeting Will be Held in Toronto on Saturday.

To-morrow afternoon the members of the local Turf Club will meet in the Ontario Bank Chambers, when the question of sending representatives to Toronto, in response to the following letter, will be discussed:

Belleville, October 13th.

Dear Sir, — It has been suggested by some of the clubs in the Association that we call a meeting of the members and any other clubs that care to join, at the Iroquois Hotel, Toronto, on October 21, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to consider the advisability of arranging and mapping out a winter circuit. This is intended to be a notice for that date in the event of "Dan Patch," starting at the exhibition grounds, as is apparently contemplated, and if you can notify your members and be present, we can, no doubt, arrange a successful circuit.

Yours truly,
W. CAMERON, Sec.,
Eastern Ontario Turf Association.

Annual Sports At The Grove Were Interesting

Old Country Was Strongly Represented at Lakefield Event.

Boys Won From Men in Tug-of-War Event—Fine Weather and Large Assembly.

The annual sports were held on October 13th, at The Grove, Lakefield, in fine weather, among a large assembly of friends and relatives. The Old Country was strongly represented by a contingent from Chius College, Cambridge, friends of Mr. H. M. Eisdell, assistant master, at The Grove, and a long and interesting programme was got through in a highly successful and expeditious manner.

The final event deserves special mention — a tug of war — men vs. boys, in which the former, in spite of the able assistance of the vicar, were pulled all around the field. Mr. Hilliard, who undertook the arduous duties of judging and encouraging the contestants, was in fine voice, and rendered yeoman service. The times were well up to the average, the results of the several races being appended below:

Big Side, high jump — G. Moore, A. Patterson, 3 feet 11 inches. Long jump, J. Patterson, W. Alysworth, 13 feet 7 inches.

Little Side, High jump, H. Patterson, R. V. Russell, 3 feet 3 inches. Long jump, H. Patterson, W. Ord, 11 feet 4 inches.

Three-legged race, J. Patterson & S. Suydam; N. Nelles & G. Lumsden.

Big side — 100 yards, W. Alysworth, J. Patterson, 13 seconds. Hurdles, G. Moore, J. Patterson, 15 seconds. 220 yards, W. Alysworth, J. Patterson, 37 seconds.

Little Side — 100 yards, W. Ord, —. Smith, 15 seconds. Hurdles, H. Rwikes, W. Ord, 16 seconds. 220 yards, W. Ord, R. V. Russell, 39 seconds.

Painful, Fatal Kidney Disease

CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE AND ACTIVE TREATMENT WITH

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Kidney disease — marked by backache, pains in the limbs, scanty, dark coloured, urine, puffiness about the eyes, dropsical swelling and gradual loss of flesh, is always to be dreaded both on account of the suffering it entails and because of its fatality.

The kidneys and liver share alike the responsibility of filtering poisons from the blood and it is therefore necessary to regulate both these organs in order to effect a cure of kidney disease.

This fact accounts for the extraordinary success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which is the only treatment obtainable having a direct and combined action on the liver and kidneys.

For years evidence has been piling up which goes to prove that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have positively cured obstinate and complicated cases of kidney disease which defied physicians and ordinary kidney medicines.

Nor is this to be wondered at when it is remembered that Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills are the result of the long and varied experience of the great American physician and author, Dr. A. W. Chase.

Mr. W. Shilson, cooper, with the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states: "I have been cured of backache and kidney disease by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In my occupation there is a great deal of leaning over, and this must have strained my back and kidneys.

"I always keep some of these Pills in the house and use them whenever feeling out of sorts. I do not have any more trouble with my back or kidneys, and give all credit for the change to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

Kidney Disease is not to be neglected. It is far too serious to be allowed to develop. You can prevent it by the experience of thousands of your fellow citizens, and obtain prompt relief as well as thorough and lasting cure by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

RUGBY.

The locals had a good turnout at their practice in the Brock street rink last night. About fifteen men were out in uniform. The light was excellent and the team indulged in a good practice. The rehearsal of signal play was the main feature of the workout. Another practice will be held in the rink at 8 o'clock this evening. All players are asked to be on hand as the team wants to get into good condition for next Saturday when the Argonauts—Toronto II, will play the first league game with the locals in the Riverside Park. The return game will be played in Toronto on Thanksgiving Day. The home team will probably have on their full team, and should give a good account of themselves. A large crowd is expected to be present. This match should be a "cracker-jack."

• • • •

The locals have a find in Regan, who played such a fine game on the wing line in the Victoria match. Regan is by no means a novice at the game, and has figured on the St. Michael's, Argonauts, and other Toronto teams. He is a very valuable acquisition to the Peterborough team.

• • • •

Malhern is the best full-back the home team has had since the time that Andy Smith saw a dentist in London, protested the Peterborough line against the onslaughts of its opponents.

• • • •

Gilbert is one of the gamest men on the wing line.

• • • •

The half-back division needs reorganizing. While Crowley played a fine game on Saturday, his right position is on the wing line. The halfbacks were not identified with enough "touch down" work in the Victoria match. Sure catches, good punters, lightning runners and good tacklers make the ideal half-backs. The line for the game on the 21st should be considerably better than that of last Saturday.

• • • •

Beckford, of the Hamilton Tigers, first team, is a husky young cub. Although he is only 18 years of age, he weighs 210 pounds. He played with Hamilton last tyear when that team won the intermediate championship.

SPRINTING

Alfred Shrubb, the greatest distance runner the world has ever produced, has been professionalized by the English A. A. A. He holds all the amateur records from one and a half to eleven miles.

BOXING AND WRESTLING.

Tom Jenkins, formerly world's champion heavyweight wrestler, was badly beaten by Ahmed Madrali, another of these terrible Turks, at London, England. The Turk got the first fall in less than twenty minutes. In the second bout Jenkins was so badly mauled that he had to quit. Tom's too old for the game now. It's sad to see a once famous white wrestler succumb to one of these "fearful heathens."

• • • •

There is not reason why some good smokers can't be put on this winter. When the Cordage Company gave their first athletic entertainment, a bumper house was there to witness the affair. The entertainments got into the hands of some Toronto fakirs, and the public became disgusted with the "fixed" bouts that were then put on. Take for instance, the Edwards-Barry bout of last winter. That was one of the worst gags ever sprung upon a sporting audience.

If good straight bouts are put on why first class boxers and expert mat artists there is money in it for somebody.

• • • •

Battling Nelson says he would rather take Joffrite and Hackney in the same ring than mix-up in a four-ball scrimmage. He styles the pugilistic artists murderers. What a funny impression man get from that American game.

TURF.

Dan Patch who arrived in Toronto from Lexington, Ky., last night, is a valuable piece of horseflesh, he is insured for $50,000, and Mr. W. W. Savage, his owner, says that half a million wouldn't buy him.

LACROSSE.

The expulsion, by President Allen, of the C.L.A. of the twelve Brantford players who took part in a Sunday game in Chicago, is in conformity with the rules. Some persons may think us Puritan's in Canada in regard to Sunday observance, but we draw the line at works of necessity as permissible on the Sabbath Day—such as repairing the Post Office in consideration of the convenience of the public, cooking food on Sunday and reporting sermons in churches. We get enough vicious practices from our American neighbours without adopting the wide open Sunday for sports and games. One day of rest in seven is as rational for the athlete as for the artizan.

Y.M.C.A. Athletic Meet.

A meeting for the Junior and Intermediate members of the Y.M.C.A. will be held at the Ovalion Saturday, October 21st, at 2.30, for the Gerrard, Intermediate and Hall Junior Trophies, age limit for Intermediate 18 15 and Junior 16.

Events.—100 yards dash; 220 yards dash; 440 yards run; 120 yards hurdle; running high jump; running broad jump.

The same events for Junior and Intermediate.

Mrs. E. W. Wallace, of Hastings, is visiting at the home of Mr. E. P. Cuffe.

BAD STOMACH MAKES BAD BLOOD.

You can't make sweet butter in a foul churn. Every farmer's wife knows this. Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat, and if foul, torpid or out of order, your whole system suffers from blood poisoning. You will have foul breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and a whole train of disagreeable symptoms. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is not a beverage composed of whisky or alcohol, being entirely free from intoxicants, is a great regulator and invigorator of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

"About a year ago I was ill with blood poisoning," writes Miss Evelina Lentz, of 69 Walter Street, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had what seemed to be a small cold sore on my lip. It became very angry in appearance and began to spread until it nearly covered my face. I was a frightful object and could not go outside the house because of my appearance. I used a blood medicine which did not give me any relief. Then I began to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I was greatly benefited with the first bottle and after taking the second bottle was completely cured. The erysipelatous eruption disappeared and my blood was cleansed. My complexion is clear and fine and I have felt better this year than I did for some time before. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is certainly a most remarkable medicine."

Don't accept a substitute for a medicine which performs such cures and which has a uniformly successful record of nearly forty years to its credit. It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to try by over-persuasion to palm off upon you in its stead some inferior article with no record to back it up. You know what you want; it is his business to meet that want.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 680,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away 40,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give every dollar's worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Constipation although a little ill, begets big ones if neglected. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cures constipation.

Improvements Being Made At Trent Bridge

Many Much Needed Repairs Are in Progress.

Latest Havelock Intelligence—Personal News.

Special to the Examiner

Havelock, October 16th. — Miss Mary Anderson of Norwood, was the guest of Miss Elgin Watson, on Sunday.

Mrs. Alex. Rose and son, William, are the guests of friends in Toronto.

Miss Maud Wager, was the hostess of a small evening party, held at her mother's residence last Thursday evening, when an enjoyable time was spent with games and in dancing.

Master Allie Rose spent Sunday in Toronto.

A large number from town took in the Norwood Fair last Wednesday. Although the weather was bad, it did not seem to make very much difference to the people going up. Mr. John Armstrong's horse carried off second prize as a driver.

Miss Ethel Clarke of Omemee, is the guest of Miss F. Locke, of town.

Mrs. M. J. Christie of Peterborough, is the guest of Miss Eva Lancaster of town.

Practice is now going on for the amateur minstrel show which is to be given in the near future, for the benefit of the Havelock baseball club.

Mr. and Mrs. George Asterhout, and daughter, Maria, of Peterborough, were the guests of Mrs. C. Fanning Sunday.

A number of improvements are being made to the Trent Bridge. The bridge, which is a wooden one, is being greatly strengthened.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. W. J. Patterson, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is recovering.

Miss I. Howe gave a small evening party to her friends on the occasion of Miss Lottie Chiles leaving to reside in Peterborough.

Mr. Ernest Bennett of town, is the guest of friends at the capital.

Mr. Fred Barlow of Toronto, was the guest of his parents for a couple of days last week.

Dr. J. Holdcroft returned from a short visit to friends at Niagara-on-the-Lake on Friday last.

Mr. James Rose is moving his family to Toronto Junction. Mr. Alexander Anderson is taking the house now left vacant by the former's departure.

What is expected to be a great success is the concert to be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, in the town hall next Friday evening for the purpose of raising funds for the installation of electric light into the church. They are thinking of putting in two arc lights, which will make the church almost like day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dell of Sault Ste. Marie are the guests of Mrs. Dell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Conkrite, of town.

Improvements At The Gannon's Narrows Bridge

As a Result of the Visit of Hon. H. R. Emmerson.

Many Visitors to the Harvey Fair—Lakehurst News of Interest.

Special to The Examiner.

Lakehurst, October 17.—Mr. Jas. Bradley, of Calgary, N. W. T., was in this locality renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Bradley some few years ago, taught school at Buckhorn and during that time made a host of friends there and also at Lakehurst. About seven years ago he went west and has been engaged in the Life Insurance business.

Mr. Peter Bell and his best girl attended Lakefield show on Tuesday of last week.

Miss Maggie Thompson went to Peterborough last Saturday. She intends spending a few months in town learning the dressmaking.

Mr. S. H. Pickup left last Saturday for his home in Millbrook. After spending a few days with his parents, he goes to Knox College, Toronto.

The Hon. H. R. Emmerson's trip over the Trent Valley Canal system recently, heralds a few improvements in different places. One of these is the erection of a cottage at Gannon's Narrows for the caretaker of the swing in the bridge at that place. We understand that Mr. John Smith has secured that appointment.

Miss Nettie Shearer and Miss Maud Eason, of Allandale, are visiting the former's brother, A. G. Shearer.

Mr. Harry Shearer had the misfortune to get a fork run through the calf of his leg at Hiscutt's threshing. The wound is progressing favourably and didn't hinder him taking his usual walk on Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidd, of Young's Point, came up on Friday to the fair and stayed over Sunday at Mr. Alex. Thompson's.

Some of the visitors at the fair were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Northey, Mr. and Mrs. John Northey, of Smith; Mr. Wilse Blewett and the Misses Lottie and Eliza Purser, Marguerite and Cora Eastwood of Buckhorn; Mr. Flood, Mr. and Mrs. Gannon, Mr. and Mrs. Crough, and Mr. and Mrs. Clancey, of Enniskmere; Messrs. R. R. Hall, T. E. Bradburn, George Elliott, Peterborough; Messrs. Wm. Read, Andy Braden and W. Cosh, of Bobcaygeon.

Mr. Wesley Fanning, horse buyer, of Lindsay, was at the fair and brought five head of horses; one from Dave Weir, two from R. Shaw and two from Jas. Crapp. Mr. Crapp got the fancy price of $375 for his team.

Miss Maggie Weir is home from Cordova, to spend a few days with her parents.

Mrs. James Freeman, and daughter, Hazel, of Havelock, are visiting this week with Mrs. Freeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Chikleigh, Messrs. Noble Perrin and Richard Tedford and the Misses V. Martin and Zetta Hamilton, of Cameron, spent a few days with relatives here. They returned home on Saturday.

Good tea must be grown under proper conditions

Low, damp or swampy lands in a warm, humid climate produce tea of rank, rapid growth, coarse in texture, woody fibred, rudely flavored—makes a cup heavy, murky in color, rough-tasting—it is poor tea.

But the Indian and Ceylon teas used to make the Red Rose brand are grown on the high lands of India and the mountain sides of Ceylon.

These teas are grown in clear dry sunshine, they mature slowly, the leaves of the Ceylon teas are tender, delicate, finely flavored, but not strong.

The Indian teas thus grown are full bodied, richly flavored, smooth in texture, strong.

Such Indian and Ceylon teas combined in Red Rose Tea produce a cup of a rich rosy brown, strong and smooth—all the richness and strength of Indian, all the delicacy and fragrance of Ceylon teas—that "rich, fruity flavor' which belongs alone to Red Rose Tea—more qualities of tea excellence than any Indian or brand of Ceylon alone can possess.

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

Their Praises Were Well Deserved

Prominent Insurance Men Stand With the Intercolonial Railway.

(From the Moncton Daily Transcript, October 9, 1905.)

The following words of appreciation from members of the staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, shows how greatly the visitors were impressed by the splendid train service of the Intercolonial Railway on the occasion of their recent trip to Quebec and St. John to attend the conference of the officials of this company.

Colonel John Tilton, of Ottawa, writes, expressing the great satisfaction of the various officials with the train service and particularly with the excellence of the dining car, the splendid menu and prompt attention. He encloses the following letter from Mr. F. O. Ayres, the fourth vice-president of the company:

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.
New York City.

Frank O. Ayres, fourth vice president.

Sept. 15th, 1905.

Colonel John Tilton, Ottawa, Can.

My Dear Colonel,—We cannot let the convention trip pass by this year without referring especially to the courteous treatment accorded to us over the Intercolonial Railway.

The accommodations on that line were equal to the best, and especially we were pleased with the dining car service.

If it comes in your way we wish you would say to the manager of that branch of the railway system, that we can say, without hesitation, that we have never received better service and attention than we did from their people in charge.

Yours truly,

(Sgd.) F. O. AYRES,
Fourth Vice-President.

"Absalom" Was The Subject

Rev. W. M. MacKay addressed the Popular Men's Meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday on the character of "Absalom." In a very interesting and impressive way Mr. MacKay told the story of the life of this Prince of Israel. He summed it up in five acts,—tracing throughout the bad influence of David's sin—of Absalom's exile and rebellion, and tragic death.

The speaker then drew very practical lessons from this life—showing the pitfalls that await young men and the sure punishment of sin. These were often discovered also when it was too late. Mr. MacKay was listened to with great attention, and the men will be glad to hear from him again.

Before the address Mr. W. Barry sang "The Lost Chord" in a manner which added much to the meeting.

IS AN ACKNOWLEDGED SCIENCE

The many volumes upon this subject in the Congressional Library, at Washington, D. C., substantiates this assertion.

PROF. J. H. D'ARVILLE

THE EMINENT SCIENTIST, CLAIRVOYANT AND PALMIST.

PARLORS, 29 QUEEN ST.

Convinces most skeptical; thousands benefited through his assistances; greatest living adviser on business transactions, courtship, marriage, domestic difficulties; accurate descriptions of surrounding conditions; tells everything — you hear the truth; business sacredly confidential.

Gives full names, dates, facts, figures and descriptions.

Mr. D'Arville is consulted by professional business and society people, who would scorn the idea of going to the average palmist or clairvoyant. Mr. D'Arville's knowledge and learning, his ability and honest dealings, his rare psychic gifts, travels in Eastern lands, and natural aptitude, make him THE ONE AMONG MANY.

Through his counsel there have business successes where there would have been failure; and calamities and mishaps have been warded off. He has also brought sunshine into homes of darkness, made sad hearts glad, and removed clouds of misery that threatened to overwhelm persons walking blindly along to the gates of woe. Those in trouble, those about to engage in business ventures, persons wishing to ascertain the trustworthiness of professed friends or seeking any information whatever that can enlighten them on coming events, may feel confident of faithful and inestimably valuable service. Every incident in one's life is plainly revealed to him.

Though Mr. D'Arville stands far above the average person in the profession his charges are moderate, and within the reach of all.

A Flying Tie Broke Ribs

Mr. Charles Davis Injured This Morning at Sawmill.

This morning, shortly after the Dickson Company's mill at Little Lake commenced operations for the day, an accident occurred by which Mr. Charles Davis, a sawyer, was rather seriously injured.

Mr. Davis was working at the saw on which railway ties were being sawn, when one of these heavy pieces of green timber flew and struck him on the side.

He was at once driven to his boarding house, the Hunter street Temperance Hotel, when the services of a physician were procured and it was found that the man had sustained some severe injuries, among them broken ribs.

It is expected that Mr. Davis will be laid up for some time, though no permanently serious results are likely to be experienced.

The Board Of Trade And The City Council

Probably Hold Joint Meeting Before Coming of Tariff Commission.

Regular Meeting of the Board on Tuesday Evening—Mr. J. S. Larke's Address.

In view of the visit to Peterborough next month of the Tariff Commission, it is probable that a special meeting of the Board of Trade will be arranged for in the near future, for the purpose of considering a definite line of action to be pursued.

President D. Hughes Charles when seen this morning, stated that the meeting would probably be held in conjunction with the City Council, though no definite date has as yet been decided upon.

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade will be held on Tuesday evening next, at which an address, as has been previously announced, will be delivered by Mr. J. S. Larke, Canadian Commercial Agent in Eastern Australia and New Zealand. The water system of the city will also, it is probable, be discussed informally.

GENERAL MANAGER NICHOLLS
WITH HIS OFFICE STAFF
VISITS LOCAL C. G. E. WORKS

Is Here on His Regular Tour of Inspection—Says the Visit Has No Special Significance—Is Well Satisfied With Present State of the Company's Business—Works Are Busy--Proposed Extension to the Works and Its Connection With His Visit --Those Who Comprise the Party.

To-day the local works of the Canadian General Electric Company are being visited by the General Manager, Mr. Frederic Nicholls, with a number of members of the staff, including Messrs. H. G. Nicholls, O. Oakley, J. A. Brenner and Geo. W. Watts, Toronto, and H. A. Miles, New York.

These gentlemen arrived in the city last night and spent this morning in visiting the works.

Mr. Frederic Nicholls, the general manager of the company, was seen by the Examiner this afternoon and stated that his visit to Peterborough was one of his periodical tours of inspection and had no special significance. Asked if it had anything to do with the proposed extension of the works, he said that it had not. He was unable to state definitely about when the addition would be made to the works; that would depend upon the state of business he remarked.

Asked as to the prospects of the Company, Mr. Nicholls said that at the present time the works here were busy, but he could not say as to the future. He had found that everything was progressing favourably, and there would be, as far as he knew, no immediate change in the works.

The fact that so many of the officials were here at the same time, was attributed by Mr. H. G. Nicholls as purely an accident. It just happened, he said, that they were all in such shape that they could visit Peterborough together to-day.

This morning the party drove to the works and spent the forenoon in the office, going over the books with the Superintendent and learning of the progress of the work since they were here before. This afternoon they went through the works.

Mr. Nicholls, through his official connection with one of the large Niagara Falls Power Company, has been able to turn a considerable quantity of orders to the local works, and the prospects are that some large contracts will be entered into in the near future, but nothing definite was was learned from the General Manager in reference to these probable contracts.

MAY BE POISONING
CASE REPORTED FROM HALIBURTON COUNTY

Daniel Sullivan is Dead and Some Suspicion is Felt That Death Was Not Due to Natural Causes—Lindsay Coroner is Investigating the Matter—The Facts in the Case.

The Lindsay Post of yesterday said:

As mentioned in a brief paragraph yesterday, Dr. Burrows, Coroner, was called to Kinmount yesterday by a communication from Dr. Frost, to make some inquiries into the death of a man named Daniel Sullivan, who lived about eight miles north of the village.

The facts as gleaned by the Coroner are briefly these: Sullivan drove in the village Sunday evening and secured from Dr. Frost a bottle of medicine containing among other ingredients a slight quantity of strychnine—about a grain in 64 doses. Before leaving the village he became intoxicated, and on his way home fell out of the buggy and was injured. His young son, who was driving, got him home. During the night he became ill and vomited, but insisted that he was all right, and so was left alone. Next morning he was found dead.

Dr. Frost was called in and found one of the ribs depressed—a result of the fall the previous evening. He certified that death had ensued from natural causes, and issued a burial permit. Neighbours then began talking to the effect that the medicine could not be found and that Sullivan's hound had been found dead—presumably poisoned—the same morning as his master.

Dr. Burrows returned this morning, but will go north again if a proper request for an investigation is made by the family or magistrate.

Locked In C. G. E. Gate-House,
PRISONER ESCAPES
Through a Door At The Rear

Lock Was Not Sufficient to Detain an Employee Named Barker, Who Was Discovered in Act of Departing With Valuable Tools--Supposed to Have Escaped From the City by C. P. R.--Escaped Prisoner Formerly From Port Hope.

The gate house of the C. G. E. Works was the scene of a somewhat peculiar and startling incident, at noon yesterday, when an employee of the works named Baker made a thrilling escape from captivity.

Baker, who is engaged in the machine shop, has been for some time suspected of thefts of various articles, and yesterday at twelve o'clock as he was leaving to go to dinner it was discovered that he had in his possession a box containing a considerable number of expensive drills and taps. These were promptly demanded by Mr. Peters, who is in charge of the gate, and Baker reluctantly handed over the articles and was placed in captivity in a small office in the building at the gate to await the arrival of the police who were telephoned for.

Several visits of inspection were paid to the room within the succeeding quarter of an hour, during one of which it was found that the prisoner had drawn a nail in the window, evidently in an attempt to escape.

A fourth visit, however, revealed a different condition of affairs. A door at the rear of the office had been unlocked and the bird had flown. In his haste the departed prisoner made left the key, which was one of many which he had in his possession, in the lock.

With a lead of about four minutes, Baker, evidently made a rapid flight. He is a young man originally from Port Hope, and boarded at a house a short distance from the works. A visit was paid to the house in the hope that he might be secured there, but he had again been too previous, having arrived a short time before and changed his clothes and again departed.

The police arrived shortly after the prisoner made his escape, and though a close watch was kept, it is said that Baker departed for parts unknown in the afternoon by C.P.R.

Fell From The Wharf And Was Drowned

Special to The Examiner.

Kingston, Oct. 19.—A young man named Rankin, while seeking to board the steamer India in last night's rain, fell off the wharf at the Government dry-dock and was drowned. He screamed as he fell, and sailors tried to rescue him, but he was dead when brought from the water. He was nineteen years of age, and belonged, it is thought, to Deseronto.

Survey Party Left To-day To Begin

Red Stone Lake Will be Scene of Initial Operations.

Much Baggage and Equipment Were Taken—Personnel of the Party.

A large party left to-day at noon to survey the bank lakes constituting the reservoir of the Trent Canal. The party will commence operations at Redstone Lake.

The party said be composed as follows:—Messrs. R. B. Rogers, Chief Engineer of the Trent Canal, D. Eason, (in charge,) A. Sawers and L. Thornton, Engineers; Fred Dumble, John Cameron, and Vic. Hamilton, Rodmen; and a number of axemen.

The party is taking an immense amount of luggage and provisions, several staunch canoes and other necessary equipment.

$6,000 was last year placed in the estimates for the purpose of prosecuting the survey, through the efforts of Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P. $6,000 has been appropriated for the rebuilding of the dams when the survey is concluded.

The Semi-ready sack suit has a snappy style that makes others look commonplace

Many tailors forget all about style when it comes to a sack suit---that is the reason for the slouchy ones you see.

Semi-ready tailoring takes particular care of the lines in sack suits---they are graceful and up-to-date.

They are tailored to retain their shape and stand constant wear.

We would like to show you some of this season's sack suits.

A GOOD TIME TO INVEST

is when you can purchase attractive property at attractive prices, and get your real estate "on time". The tendency of prices for Real Estate is upward and those persons who thought they could buy property at reduced prices in the fall have been very much mistaken. With the manifest growth of the City we fail to see any reason why the price of choice property should depreciate. At present we have some of the very best properties in the City for sale and these shall not be offered at sacrificed prices, but at prices in keeping with the value of the properties. The prices range from $ 200. to $ 8000. for choice sites and choice buildings. Also we have some very desirable homes fom $ 1000. to $ 3000. Farms also we have for sale. Do not overlook the the fact that we buy and sell any listed stock on any Exchange and thatour present Correspondents are J. R. HEINTZ & CO. of Buffalo, N. Y. Established in 1879.

Bishop O'Connor Visits Gravenhurst Parish

His Lordship Administered Sacrament of Confirmation--Pays an Official Visit to the Northern Part of the Diocese of Peterborough--The Bishop Preaches to the Children Who Were Confirmed--Congratulated the Zealous Pastor and the Congregation.

The last issue of the Catholic Register contains an article describing the visit of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor to Gravenhurst. The Register says:

On Saturday His Lordship the Rt. Rev. R. A. O'Connor, D.D., of Peterborough, came to Gravenhurst to administer the Sacrament of Confirmation. In the afternoon the children were assembled in the church, and were put to the test by His Lordship, to answer and give reasons for the faith that is in them. In the evening His Lordship said the prayers and gave the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. He also addressed the congregation on the importance of Confession, speaking in clear and forcible language, and explaining very vividly the nature of this subject.

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP O'CONNOR, Who Recently Visited Gravenhurst Parish.

On Sunday morning Mass was celebrated by His Lordship at 8.30, and it was a most consoling and edifying spectacle to witness many approaching the Holy Table. After the Mass His Lordship delivered a very instructive discourse on the Blessed Eucharist and Holy Communion. The parish priest, Father Collins, officiated at the 10.30 Mass, after which His Lordship administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to about thirty children. He briefly addressed the little ones on the nature of the sacrament they had received, and asked them to stand up and recite the Apostles' Creed, Lord's Prayer and Hail Mary. His Lordship then exacted from all who were confirmed a pledge of total abstinence from intoxicating liquors until they attain the age of twenty-one years. He advised the children to be truthful and honest on all occasions. "If you children lead sober lives, be truthful at all times, and always hold in high reverence God's holy name, you will assuredly grow up to be men and women of whom we can be justly proud in this world, and above all, you will merit the blessings of God Almighty in the world to come." He warned the children that they would encounter many difficulties in their struggle through life, but if they were true to the obligations contracted on this, the happiest day of their lives, they would, with the help of God, in the end be victorious. Then he addressed the parents. He said he knew they would watch over their little ones and remind them from time to time of the good resolutions they had made when receiving the Sacrament of Confirmation. "Above and beyond all, if you wish the children to be faithful, you must show them good example. You must do nothing to scandalize them," and further said they should thank God every day that He had given them good children, and he admonished them that they should do what they could to protect them, to educate them, both for the battles of this world and most especially with a view to their obtaining eternal happiness in the world to come.

In the evening Vespers were sung by His Lordship, and a beautiful sermon was given by him also. He began by congratulating the congregation and their good and zealous pastor, Father Collins, upon their earnest efforts made to repair and beautify their church, for the honour and worship of Almighty God. He exhorted them that if they continued in this good work that God would reward them in the end. He continued, saying, "We read in the sacred Scriptures that when Almighty God gave his commands to man He said, 'Thy Lord, thy God, shalt thou adore and serve.'"
